ISCET Associate Certified Electronics Technician

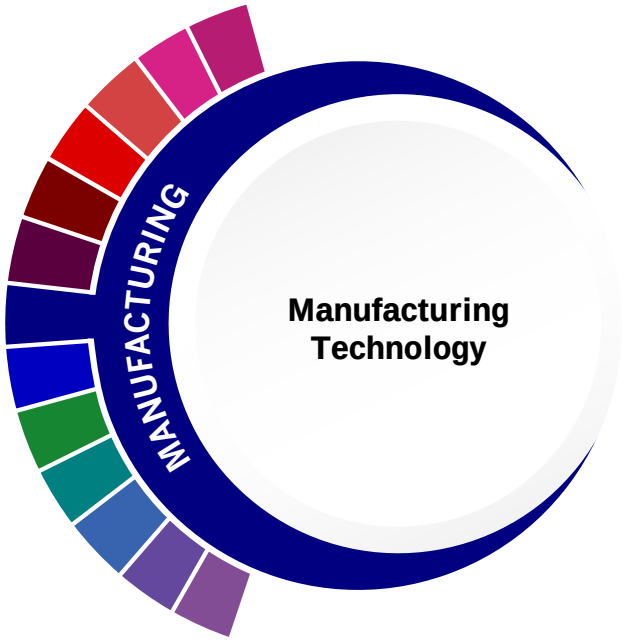
INDUSTRY-BASED CERTIFICATION DESCRIPTION

This certification is for the entry level technician whose primary work responsibilities are to provide support in the home to diagnose, adjust and/or replace, at board level, home serviceable equipment.

This technician would also have knowledge of system integration at a basic level to complete home equipment setup and ensure proper operation.

The technician should have the following skills and knowledge to be prepared for this exam: DC Theory, Basic Troubleshooting Skills, Customer Service Skills, Basic System Integration Skills, and at least six (6) months' work experience.

For additional information, please visit the following link: http://www.iscet.org/



CERTIFYING ENTITY

International Society of Certified Electronics Technicians

800-946-0201

http://www.iscet.org/

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Exam Name: Associate Certified Electronics Technician

Exam Webpage: http://www.iscet.org/

Number of Questions: please contact testing@iscet.org

Question Type: Multiple Choice

Exam Time: please contact testing@iscet.org

Exam Site: Online exam or given by Certification Administrators/Proctors offering ISCET examinations

Exam Price: $55

Candidate Requirements: Open to anyone interested in electronics, including a technician or student. This multiple choice test covers basic electronics, math, DC and AC circuits, transistors and troubleshooting.

Study Materials & Resources: http://store.nesda-iscet.org/stguprte.html