Questions and Answers:

Q: We expected Agriscience/Agriculture to be on Proc 24. However, it was not. Is this because the TEKS did not have changes? Or will it be added to a future proc?

A: The Agriculture, Food, and Natural Resources (AFNR) courses were not included in this review. They will be in a future Proclamation

Q: I have a schedule for Core Subject areas in the proc with all CTE TBD. Will there ever be expected CTE titles that will be included in this schedule, or will we only find out when the proclamations come out? Even if it is at the cluster level.

A: We do not have a schedule at this time but will be talking to the SBOE in the coming months about future reviews for CTE. We (Curriculum) will work with Instructional Materials and Implementation to share information as it becomes available.

Q: Are Breakouts now available?

A: We are still working on creating the breakouts for the CTE courses.

Q: Do you have a date by which they can be expected?

A: We will attempt to post the breakouts for the CTE courses that were adopted at the April 2022 SBOE meeting or earlier by the end of August. We will attempt to post the breakouts for the courses adopted in June 2022 by the end of September.

Q: you only need digital samples on the March 6th deadline and not print?

A: Correct. Publisher must submit digital samples. We do not accept print samples. The same is true for ESCs.

Q: To clarify can these be flip books, or do they have to be on the platform that they will be on for the final adoption?

A: Samples submitted for review shall be complete versions of the final product and must include all content intended to be in the final product, not just the content identified in the correlations. Samples of electronic products must be fully functional for review purposes and meet any other specifications identified in the proclamation. The original sample submission must remain unchanged through the entire review and adoption process, though updated samples can be added to the publisher's submission. These samples are copyrighted by the publisher and are not to be downloaded for use in classrooms or for any purpose other than public review.

Additional Information:

You can withdraw a Statement of Intent to Bid (SOITB) at any time, but you can't submit after the deadline. So, definitely submit one if you are even thinking of submitting materials.

For our seasoned publishers, we are no longer using the Excel correlation tool.

To clarify, you CANNOT make edits to the pre-adoption sample, but you can track changes that you intend to make in the final version.
