Level 3

Prerequisite skill: describe and compare the civil rights and equal rights movements of various groups in Texas in the 20th century and identify key leaders in these movements, including James L. Farmer Jr., Hector P. Garcia, Oveta Culp Hobby, Lyndon B. Johnson, the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC), Jane McCallum, and Lulu Belle Madison White

The student will be presented a job description and work profiles and/or resumes for two workers, from two different groups, with equivalent backgrounds and skills. The student will determine the job responsibilities for the position based on the job description. The student will compare the two applicants’ resumes and/or work profiles with the job offer that includes the salary offered to each applicant. One offer will be more than the other. The student will evaluate the fairness of the job offers.

Predetermined Criteria
1. The student will determine the job responsibilities for the position based on the job description.
2. The student will compare the two applicants’ resumes and/or work profiles with the job offer that includes the salary offered to each applicant.
3. The student will evaluate the fairness of the job offers.

Level 2

Prerequisite skill: identify the accomplishments of individuals and groups such as Jane Addams, Susan B. Anthony, Dwight Eisenhower, Martin Luther King, Jr., Rosa Parks, Cesar Chavez, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Ronald Reagan, Colin Powell, the Tuskegee Airmen, and the 442nd Regimental Combat Team who have made contributions to society in the areas of civil rights, women's rights, military actions, and politics

The student will complete a task and observe another person completing the same task. A pay stub for each worker will be presented with one of the workers earning a smaller amount. The student will identify the disparity in wages between the two workers. The student will choose a slogan to highlight the problem.

Predetermined Criteria
1. The student will complete a task and observe another person completing the same task.
2. The student will identify the disparity in wages between the two workers.
3. The student will choose a slogan to highlight the problem.

Process skill: express ideas orally based on research and experiences
Level 1

Prerequisite skill: compare the similarities and differences among the lives and activities of historical figures and other individuals who have influenced the community, state, and nation

The student will participate in a work activity and receive an immediate reward. This process will continue until a pattern of work/reward is established. The student will participate in the same work activity again, but the reward will be withheld. The student will anticipate the reward. The reward will be provided. The student will acknowledge the reward that was provided for his or her work.

Predetermined Criteria
1. The student will participate in a work activity and receive an immediate reward.
2. The student will anticipate the reward.
3. The student will acknowledge the reward that was provided for his or her work.

Essence Statement B

The following definitions clarify terms used in the United States History assessment tasks to ensure that the content of the tasks is understood. When appropriate, examples and nonexamples have been provided for further clarification. These are just examples and do not represent all the appropriate ways to test the skills in the STAAR Alternate assessment tasks.

Level 3: page 10

In the Level 3 assessment task, the student will select and research one decade. Using his or her research, the student will generate examples of American music, television shows and/or movies, literature, and a description of the selected decade. The student’s generated list should contain multiple examples in each category.

Examples of information are provided below for the 1950s and 2000s.

Note: The information below provides examples of American music, television shows, movies, and literature for two separate decades. Though it is presented in chart format, it is NOT intended to represent a preferred method of presentation (Predetermined Criteria 3 in the assessment task). The student has many ways to present his or her information. Examples of types of presentations are provided in a later part of this same document.

1950s
(January 1, 1950 – December 31, 1959)

| American Music | Rock ‘n Roll was popular with teenagers. Some of the rock ‘n roll artists of this decade and their songs were:
  |  - Buddy Holly – Peggy Sue (1957); That’ll Be the Day (1957)
  | Songs popular with adults were:
  |  - Nat King Cole – Mona Lisa (1950); Unforgettable (1952)
  |  - Patti Page – The Tennessee Waltz (1950); Mockingbird Hill (1951)
  | Other popular songs and artists included:
  |  - Bill Haley and His Comets (Rock Around the Clock, 1954)
  |  - Bobby Darin (Splish Splash, 1958)
  |  - Frankie Avalon (Venus, 1959)
  | On October 7, 1952 “Bob Horn’s Bandstand” had its first broadcast on a local Philadelphia, Pennsylvania station. It was later named “American Bandstand.” On July 9, 1956 “American Bandstand” airs with Dick Clark as the host.
  | Music was listened to by people carrying small transistor radios. |

| Television Shows | During the 1950s, television became the dominant mass media as more people bought television sets for their homes. People began to depend on the TV for news information. In 1954, black and white broadcasts became color broadcasts.
  |  - Television shows that were popular included:
  |    - sitcoms such as Lassie, Father Knows Best, The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet, and I Love Lucy
  |    - variety shows such as Disneyland and The Ed Sullivan Show
  |    - daytime programs called “soap operas” such as Guiding Light |
Movies
Popular movies during this time included:
- Walt Disney’s Alice in Wonderland (1951)
- Rebel Without a Cause (1955)
- Giant (1956)

Drive-in movies became popular for families and teens.

Literature
- Science fiction became more popular with the actual possibility of space travel. Ray Bradbury wrote The Martian Chronicles.
- Montage of a Dream Deferred, written by Langston Hughes, was published in 1951. It’s a book-length poem that focuses on descriptions of Harlem and its mostly black inhabitants.
- Other books and their authors included: The Caine Mutiny (1951) by Herman Wouk; The Old Man and the Sea (1952) by Ernest Hemingway; Atlas Shrugged (1957) by Ayn Rand

2000s
(January 1, 2000 – December 31, 2009)

American Music
Rap and Hip Hop continued to dominate the music scene of the 2000s decade. The best-selling artist of the decade was the American rapper, Eminem. Hip hop dominated popular music in the early 2000s. Popular artists were Eminem, The Black-Eyed Peas, and Jay-Z.

Teen pop was popular in the early 2000s and hit songs included:
- Britney Spears – Oops! I Did It Again (2000)

Some American Idol winners experienced musical success such as:
- Kelly Clarkson – Because of You (2005)
- Carrie Underwood – Mama’s Song (2009)

Lady Gaga was popular during the latter part of the decade. She revived the electronic influence of pop music with Just Dance (2008).

The 2000s saw a decrease in the popularity of radio. More listeners started using MP3 players. CD players had a steady decline in popularity throughout the 2000s. Cassette tapes became obsolete.

Television Shows
American television in the 2000s saw a steady decline in the number of sitcoms and an increase in reality shows, crime, and medical dramas with shows like:
- American Idol
- Dancing with the Stars
- Survivor
- CSI: Crime Scene Investigation
- House M.D.

Popular comedy-drama television programs included Ugly Betty and Glee.

Movies
Movies that were popular during this time included:
- The Lord of the Rings: The Return of the King (2003), an epic fantasy drama film based on the second and third volumes of J.R.R. Tolkien’s The Lord of the Rings
- Avatar (2009), an epic science fiction film which used extensive filming techniques and new kinds of cinematic technology
- Pirates of the Caribbean: At World’s End (2007), an American adventure fantasy swashbuckler. This was the third film in the Pirates of the Caribbean series, and was the most expensive film ever made at the time.
In this decade there was increased interest in genres such as fantasy and vampire fiction. Popular book series included:

- Twilight – a series of vampire-themed fantasy romance novels written by American author Stephenie Meyer

This decade saw the rise of digital media. There was a steady decline of printed books where e-readers had become available.

After the student’s research is complete, the student will generate a presentation about the decade for Predetermined Criteria 3. The presentation is a way for the student to share what he or she has learned about the decade with others.

- A presentation can be a poster, brochure, slide presentation, report, model, or any other produced work that the student generates. Presentations may include pictures, graphics, text, and audio recordings.

Level 2: page 10

Examples of stories, books or poems that reflect various cultures include:

- Dancing TeePees: Poems of American Indian Youth by Virginia Driving Hawk Sneve – the writings of young American Indian poets
- Cool Salsa: Bilingual Poems on Growing Up Latino in the United States, Lori Carson and Oscar Hijuelos – a poetry collection about Latino Americans and their lives in America
- Hotel on the Corner of Bitter and Sweet by Jamie Ford – a story about the friendship of a Chinese boy and a Japanese girl
- The House on Mango Street by Sandra Cisneros – a novel about a young Latina girl
- Finding My Voice by Marie G. Lee – a novel about a Korean-American girl in high school
- Shadow Catcher: The Life and Work of Edward S. Curtis by Laurie Lawlor – a biography filled with Curtis’s photographs of North American Indians that document the Indian culture in words and photographs
- Growing Up Amish by Richard Ammon – a non-fiction chapter book that focuses on the life of a girl and her Amish family

Level 1: page 11

Examples of music, art, or dance experiences from a specific culture include:

- African tradition of communicating through dance and music:
  - The student might experience dance using costumes and masks and/or music using percussion instruments such as drums, clap-stick, bells, rattles, and xylophones
- Native American art: The student might experience objects by exploring or participating in creating Native American art such as:
  - beaded jewelry
  - clay pottery
  - dream catchers
- rainsticks (ceremonial musical instruments used to invoke the rain spirits)
- Hopi Kachina Doll
- Native American rattles made from a twig, yarn, and beads

Cited texts and media selections are provided only as examples and do not imply TEA endorsement.
