[Consent agenda item #(2)]

Mr. Rowley informed the committee that the board’s consultant, The Boston Consulting Group, had interviewed all 15 board members, 45 school district officials and 18 education association or state government officials to help craft a design plan for creating a Long-Range Plan for Public Education.

J. Puckett and Tejus Kothari of BCG presented their proposal for a four-step, 13-month effort to create the plan. It included gathering facts and coordinating logistics, gathering stakeholder input, synthesizing the information gathered to determine priorities and draft a plan; and defining the board’s role in supporting the plan. The consultants suggested creating a 20-member advisory panel.
made up of four board members, who would be the board chair and the chairs of the three subcommittees, and 16 members from stakeholder groups that would help support this work.

After discussing other ways to configure the advisory panel, the board, without objection, agreed to create an 18 member advisory committee composed of five members of the board, one representative each from the Texas Education Agency, Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board and Texas Workforce Commission, and 10 stakeholders appointed by the remaining 10 board members. It was recommended that the board chair and chair of the Committee on School Initiatives be named as two of the five board members serving on the advisory panel.
