

Under TEC, §28.014, each school district must collaborate with at least one institution of higher education to create and offer college preparatory courses in Mathematics and English language arts.

College Preparatory Courses for CCMR Accountability Process

The College Preparatory Courses for CCMR Accountability process aimed to ensure that college preparatory courses (defined in Texas Education Code (TEC), §28.014) aligned with standards consistent with other indicators of college readiness aligned to our CCMR accountability system.

To be considered an approved provider of college preparatory courses that count toward the CCMR credit in the public-school accountability system, course providers participated in an application process.

The following College Preparatory Course Providers were approved for inclusion in the list of College Preparatory Courses for CCMR version 1.0 that is valid for 2026 – 2031 school years.

English Language Arts and Reading

The following College Preparatory Course Providers met approval criteria for English Language Arts and Reading:

- Amarillo College
- Brazosport College
- Hill College
- Education Service Center 1
- Education Service Center 20

Mathematics

Following the completion of the Texas Education Agency's (TEA) review process, no college preparatory course providers met approval criteria for Mathematics at this time.

Additional College Preparatory Courses for CCMR Providers

The agency will continue to add newly approved providers to the list each fall as additional evaluation data becomes available.
