HUDSON ISD 003902	7	2	Hudson High School will seek to promote healthy habits by installing vape detectors in bathrooms and locker rooms as an additional layer to keeping our students safe and healthy. By May 2023, student vaping incidents will decrease by 10% when reviewing discipline data from the 2022-2023 school year.	Safe and Healthy Students	Minimal measurable progress was made (0-25%).	There were 40 referrals at Hudson High School for vaping for the 2021-22 school year and 56 referrals for the 2022-23 school year. The installation of vape detectors allowed principals to easily catch individuals vaping in the restrooms and locker rooms by having instant notification and hall camera placement. The quick response allowed administrators to catch more students vaping during the 2022-23 school year. The vape detectors were more of a deterrent for vaping in the 2023-24 school year with new laws that came into place during the summer of 2023 that make possession or use of a vape a mandatory DAEP placement.

NEW DEAL ISD 152902	17	1	Objective: New Deal instructional staff will be trained in how to use IPAD technology as a teaching tool in the classroom. Using the iPad will allow the teacher to screencast lessons and student practice, giving the teacher an opportunity to circulate around the room more frequently, providing students and teachers with immediate feedback. Measurable outcome: Implementing aggressive monitoring and frequent feedback, New Deal students will show a 10% increase on all summative assessments at the end of the school year.	Well-Rounded Education	Some measurable progress was made (26%-49%).	Overall the progress was rooted in actually having more data points readily available. While summative test improvements didn't improve 10% in all areas staff definitely have more information and data. We did have improvement in reading and steady numbers in Math. Having these data points and Ipad tools improve the accuracy and timeliness of data. This has helped us and will definitely help going forward in a little longer trend,.
NEW DEAL ISD 152902	17	2	Objective: Improving IPAD technology in the classroom for instructional practice as well as a resource to the teacher. The IPADS facilitate multiple ways to utilize several instructional programs. Teachers are able to cast screen lessons, worksheets, and videos during class to increase student participation and support student learning. IPads, along with the application Goodnotes are used as a note taking resource for teachers to use during ARD meetings, professional development sessions or just general notes about their classroom. Teachers are able to write notes as they teach, save the notes and then drop into google classroom for intervention, accommodation for special education students or when students have been absent. Measurable Outcome: New Deal ISD will evaluate and monitor the use of this technology in the classroom. Feed back received through Staff Development, teacher surveys, and classroom observations/evaluations will be used to document a 10% increase in the use of effective technologies in the classroom. This will also be evident in the 10% increase on all summative assessments at the end of the school year.	Effective Use of Technology	Substantial progress was made (50-99%).	The use of the iPad technology has been utilized and has grown in many ways. This is evident in the continued use and discovering ever expanding potential uses in the classroom, both instructionally as well as in classroom management.

Note: The activities referenced in this document reflect the Objectives and Measurable Outcomes (OMOs) submitted by school districts to TEA during the 2022-2023 school year.

Since 2023, some state laws, rules, and regulations have been added that would render some of these Objectives, Outcomes, or activities no longer supplemental.

The LEA is responsible for ensuring that Title IV, Part A funds are not used to fulfill any state laws, rules, and/or regulations.

LEAs that redirected 100% of their Title IV, Part A funds via the Rural Education Achievement Program (REAP) and/or Funding Transferability are not required to provide this information, and thus are not included in this report. LEAs that were part of a Shared Services Arrangement are also not included in this report.
