Summary of Program

Provide an overview of the program to be implemented with grant funds. Include the overall mission and specific needs of the organization. Describe how the program will address the mission and needs.

The American Institutes for Research (AIR) proposes to operate the Texas State Disproportionality Project (TSDP) funded by the Texas Education Agency (TEA). Our team combines experts with decades of experience in supporting states and local education agencies (LEAs) around the issue of significant disproportionality (SD) for students with disabilities. Our experience, knowledge, and research prove that issues of SD are complex and require change in procedures and in culture from the state education agency (SEA) level to LEAs (Kozleski, Stepaniuk, Proffitt, in press; Artiles, Kozleski, Trent, Osher, & Ortiz, 2010). Issues of SD also require leaders to engage, disrupt, and commit to that change (DeMatthews, 2019). The mission of the TSDP will be to decrease rates of SD within Texas by leveraging existing TEA investments, aligning supports, and building the state's capacity to enhance long-term sustainability. Our proposed activities, while ambitious (sample timeline attached), will have far-reaching effects for Texas children. For our unique approach, we propose using grant funds to provide deep consultative services, customized professional development (PD) plans (Gee and Esteban-Guitart, 2019), and coaching to LEAs; training and coaching personnel at educational service centers (ESCs); and create interactive PD modules as a sustainable mechanism for implementation despite barriers (i.e., staff turnover). While AIR has the expertise and experience needed to provide direct services to all LEAs, research indicates that building the capacity of existing support systems, such as ESCs, ensures the sustainability necessary for true systems change. Aligned with current research, a major theme throughout all grant-funded activities is assisting LEAs in identifying the underlying causes of SD so they can appropriately select high-leverage Evidence-Based Practices (EBPs; i.e., multi-tiered systems of support, culturally responsive pedagogy, etc) aligned to those needs. This will be evident in our resources, PD, and coaching. We will also use grant funds to bring together four national experts: Dr. Aydin Bal, Dr. Elizabeth Kozleski, Dr. David Osher, and Dr. David DeMatthews. These leading experts will provide the project with the most current research and knowledge in supporting LEAs with SDs. Their impact will be evident throughout the project, from resource development to innovative approaches to LEA implementation. Given that TEA has established several paths to support LEAs in implementing IDEA obligations, this project proposes leveraging, aligning, and disseminating information through those investments. For example, we propose utilizing, housing, and disseminating resources through the TIER, Inclusion, and Child Find Networks, and our proposed model of TA aligns closely to that of the Effective Schools Framework and the Texas Instructional Leadership project. We also plan to leverage the knowledge, resources, and partnerships with other national TA centers funded by OSEP and ED, such as the National Center on Systemic Improvement (NCSI), PROGRESS Center-Promoting Progress for Students With Disabilities, IDEA Data Center (IDC), National Center for Culturally Responsive Educational Systems (previously funded), and the National Center on Safe Supportive Learning Environments. By aligning with state and national messaging around SD, we will ensure that Texas LEAs have the most cutting-edge research, tools, TA, coaching, and resources that are customized for their unique circumstances.

Qualifications and Experience for Key Personnel

Goals, Objectives, and Strategies

Describe the major goals/objectives of the proposed program. What activities/strategies will be implemented to meet those goals/objectives?

Our proposed project's logic model depicts project goals, inputs, activities, outputs, and outcomes. The project's activities will be guided by the iterative phases of our project Theory of Action, which reflects both substantive content and lessons from implementation science (Fixsen, 2016). Leveraging stakeholder involvement, TEA, project staff, the management plan, and project evaluation, we propose organizing the project in three tasks to accomplish our intended outcomes and goals: Task 1—Resource Development, Task 2—TtT for ESCs, and Task 3—TA to LEAs. In Task 1, we propose a resource scan to determine existing TEA investments, universal product/resource development to fill knowledge gaps, a communication and dissemination plan leveraging TEA investments, and development of intensive TA materials to include modules, TtT package, facilitation guide, and more. Task 2 activities will include recruiting ESCs; delivering PD and coaching to ESCs on root causes of disproportionality and aligned EBPs; change management and implementation phases; evidence-based practices in coaching (See coaching section of LOI); and use of proposed modules in asynchronous/synchronous professional learning, facilitation of a community of practice (CoP) for ESCs; and fidelity checks of ESCs. Task 3 includes recruiting LEAs, delivering PD and coaching to LEAs, a self-assessment, customized PD plans, facilitating CoPs for LEAs, and refining the TA model to sustain and scale implementation. Key project outputs will be (1) LEAs that have participated in training delivered by ESCs, (2) a suite of aligned resources/PD options, and (3) a comprehensive approach to training LEAs on PD materials. Our short-term goal will be to increase knowledge and skills around SD causes and EBPs in select ESCs and LEAs. Our intermediate goal is increased implementation of EBPs in LEAs to decrease SD. The long-term goal is a sustainable system of Texas personnel to provide high-quality TA to LEAs to decrease the number of LEAs with SD infractions.

Performance and Evaluation Measures

Describe the performance measures identified for this program which are related to student outcomes and are consistent with the purpose of the program. Include the tools used to measure performance, as well as the processes that will be used to ensure the effectiveness of project objectives and strategies.

The project will contract with an independent evaluator, Evergreen Evaluation and Consulting (EEC). EEC is a leading national evaluator in systems change and TA evaluation. EEC will provide an unbiased understanding of the impact of project activities and outcomes and supply TEA with accurate, high-quality data and will report formative and summative data frequently. Specific evaluation questions and performance targets guide each project goal for the three tasks. The proposed evaluation approach depicts project performance measures for each task, including detailed descriptions of the data sources, responsible data-collection parties, methods analyses, timelines for collection, and reporting to TEA and interested stakeholders. The formative evaluation will target the process components of performance measures to produce information about the implementation, fidelity, quality, and stakeholder satisfaction with project resources, tools, and TA services. These data will inform continuous improvement and midcourse corrections if necessary. The summative evaluation will measure impact by assessing the benefits of the project's knowledge development and dissemination of products, tools, and TA services to its target audiences; and the value of TA. It will culminate in a sustainable ecosystem of personnel with the capacity to identify root causes of SD and effectively intervene. Proposed measurement tools include stakeholder surveys, interview protocols, TA planning, fidelity checklists, self-assessment and rubrics, LEA SD data, and tracking tools (e.g., # of trainings/coaching instances; content; LEA audience; non-SD schools using resources). SAMPLE TA ASSESSMENT MEASURE: (1) survey ratings (supplemented with interviews) of quality and effectiveness of PD and coaching, and (2) measure of fidelity of implementation using ratings on an adapted Likert-scale instrument (e.g., Highly Qualified PD Observation Checklist; EBPD Components Rubric; Coaching Observation Checklist) with a goal of 90% or greater. OVERALL PROJECT MEASURES (SAMPLE): (1) In Year 1, 90% of targeted LEAs demonstrate changes in systems and procedures related to SD as evidenced by improvements in their pre-post LEA Self-Assessment and Rubric; (2) in Year 1, 100% of those LEAs demonstrating changes in systems and procedures score at the top two tiers of the best practices rubric; and (3) in Year 1, the number of targeted LEAs that demonstrate decreased SD infractions (target = % TBD at onset of TA).

Budget Narrative

Describe how the proposed budget will meet the needs and goals of the program, including for staffing, supplies and materials, contracts, travel, etc. If applicable, include a high-level snapshot of funds currently allocated to similar programs. Include a short narrative describing how adjustments will be made in the future to meet needs.

The proposed budget for the project is $1,686,842, based on receipt of this grant. This includes associated costs for AIR staff and national experts to develop and deliver PD resources, train both ESC and LEA leadership, and provide coaching. The total labor hours are described below and align to the three project Tasks.

MANAGEMENT ($210,167): Budget includes 240 labor hours for Dr. Benz, project director, and Dr. David Osher to supervise and lead project tasks as well as $160,000 for Evergreen Evaluation and Consulting, an external evaluator, to conduct a comprehensive, objective evaluation of the project and its impact on LEAs. Labor costs include time collaborating with TEA and ESC leaders, weekly AIR team meetings with all project staff, monitoring progress toward stated goals and deliverables, supervision of experts and evaluator, and bimonthly project reviews with AIR senior leaders to review the financial, contractual, and technical health of the project. Management hours include project oversight by David Osher while Dr. Allison Gandhi will ensure a quality review and alignment of materials. Dr. Osher is an internationally known scholar in the field of educational equity, school climate and disproportionality in school discipline. He will provide intellectual oversight to the project, and review content for accuracy and relevance. Dr. Gandhi has led numerous national centers and research studies in special education and inclusion and will ensure all products are of high quality and meet TEA's and AIR's rigorous guality standards. Dr. Christerralyn Brown will lead Task 1, Dr. Rob Mayo will lead Task 2, and Dr. Dia Jackson will lead Task 3. Dr. Brown is an expert in SD, data-based decision making, and culturally responsive pedagogy. Dr. Jackson, the lead of Task 3, has extensive practitioner and research experience, co-authoring "High-Leverage Practices for Special Educators" and is an expert in the areas of equity and PD on disproportionality. All staff will support both resource development and TA to ESCs and LEAs. Because this project has ambitious goals, we will employ seven other highly qualified AIR staff to assist in resource and module development and TA to LEAs. These staff are considered experts in the areas of equity and SD and maintain master's degrees or higher in their respective fields. Jordan Carter and Paul Giguere will serve as technology specialists. Résumés of all staff and experts will be provided upon request.

TASK 1—RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT ($797,675): Budget includes 4,870 labor hours to conduct a resource scan, develop products and module content, develop a communication and dissemination plan, and develop intensive TA materials. Labor hours include time for planning, development, and formatting and editing of all materials and resources. Costs also include $60,000 cumulatively for consultants supports of Dr. David DeMatthews, Dr. Aydin Bal, and Dr. Elizabeth Kozleski. As leading experts in the field of disproportionality, they will support resource and module development and ensure that materials reflect best practices, innovative solutions, and current research on addressing SD in schools. The resources created in this Task will serve as the foundation for training and coaching of ESCs and LEAs. All resources and materials will go through quality review and professional editing and formatting prior to being submitted to TEA for approval.

TASK 2—TtT FOR ESCs ($457,932): Budget includes 2,580 labor hours for AIR staff to deliver training and coaching and conduct CoPs to support implementation of training materials to ESCs. All materials are included in these costs. To support virtual delivery, the cost of virtual platforms, Storyline, Canvas Learning Management System (if TEA's Canvas LMS cannot be leveraged) and videoconference platforms (GoToMeeting, ZOOM) also are included. The budget includes up to $100,000 to be paid to ESCs for SD 1 LEAs that may require more in-depth services or ESC personnel, which is subject to project team's determination.

TASK 3—TA TO LEAs ($221,068): Budget includes 1,720 labor hours to deliver technical assistance to SD1 and nodesignation LEAs. LEAs will be the primary beneficiaries from Tasks 1 and 2. Costs also include local travel for Dr. Benz to any LEA within 100 miles, if needed, and time for AIR staff to revise existing modules based on feedback. This amount also includes facilitation of the CoPs for LEAs and plans for scaling and sustaining the proposed TA model.

Statutory/Program Requirements

1. Describe how the applicant would provide distance training and coaching.

Distance training and coaching will be provided virtually to meet the changing needs of schools during the 2020–21 school year and accommodate our unique approach to TA. Leveraging the use of the ESCs will allow us to respond to all LEAs that are seeking PD and training. Our virtual approach adds value by producing a model that promotes the inclusion of rural participants; addresses COVID-19 safety concerns; and ensures that ESC staff are utilized in providing customized TA to participating LEAs. Virtual coaching can be as powerful as a face-to-face approach (Kraft et al., 2018) and increases the likelihood that practitioners receive the customized support they need to implement EBPs and make systemic changes. ESCs will be provided training and coaching via distance learning by AIR staff and experts based on adult learning principles and their customized TA plans. Research indicates that selected EBP must match the needs of the LEA. As a result, we will train the ESCs on root causes of disproportionality as well as change management and implementation phases, evidencebased practices in coaching, and the use of proposed modules in synchronous/asynchronous PD. ESC staff also will be taught a structure for coaching. Research shows that coaches typically enter the role with a limited understanding of what to do, why, and how (Gallucci, Van Lare, Yoon, & Boatright, 2010). Therefore, AIR staff also will train ESC partners on an EBP coaching model, leveraging current PD occurring through the NCSI. NCSI's model of coaching is research-based and aligned to TEA initiatives, such as the Teaching Instructional Leadership project. Coaching frameworks, either virtual or face-to-face, that rely on ongoing cycles of alliance strategies and observing, modeling, and providing performance feedback hold promise for improving educators' practices. ESC staff will be trained on the aforementioned coaching model and will also receive ongoing coaching through our CoPs in Year 1. After LEAs are recruited, TA services will be provided on a fee-forservice basis using the following proposed sliding scale: (1) SD1 or no-designation will receive facilitated completion of comprehensive self-assessment that will be created in Task 1 and includes an examination of tiered academic and behavior practices (pre/post), access to proposed modules to identify and address root causes of SD, a facilitators guide, invited participation in an LEA CoP, and access to other tools created in Task 1 at NO COST; (2) SD2 LEAs will choose from a menu of services that could include: all of the materials in SD1, a customized PD plan, up to twice a month coaching, participation in an LEA CoP, direct access to project experts, and other tools created in Task 1 for a cost; and (3) SD3 LEAs can use up to 15% of Part B funds to access a menu of options which could include all of SD 1 and 2 offerings, up to weekly coaching, consultation to determine fund allocation, resources/tools tailored to the LEAs needs, and more.

2. Describe the applicant's current technology plan or provide a link where this technology plan can be found on-line.

AIR has vast technology capabilities that will enable us to provide deep consultative services, PD, and coaching; and to create interactive, professional learning modules as a sustainable mechanism for implementation. AIR's technology capabilities are grounded in both a Technology Solutions office and an Information Technology (IT) office. AIR's Technology Solutions office provides high-quality technical expertise and solutions by focusing on responsive service, flexible delivery, and a deep bench of qualified staff. AIR's Technology Solutions office has experience with building interactive modules, virtual CoPs, webinars, and interactive PDFs. See module examples here: http://www.healthysafechildren.org/learningmodule-series/mental-health-module-series; http://airhsdlearning.airws.org/leading-trauma-sensitive-schools/ story_html5.html; and http://airhsdlearning.airws.org/schoolclimate1/story_html5.html?lms=1. This project will have access to AIR's IT department and more than 40 employees dedicated to providing technology support. AIR's IT department provides technology support for a variety of platforms, such as Adobe Connect, Skype, Zoom, and GoToMeeting, to host virtual trainings and conferencing. The department's dedicated staff are available to address to technology challenges that arise during and after business hours.

3. Describe the applicant's experience in providing training and coaching in addressing issues of Significant Disproportionality.

AIR brings a sophisticated network of national experts and organizational capacity that many ESCs are unable to offer due to limited staff, reach, and resources. Similarly, AIR brings a deep understanding of Texas' contextual factors because of our work with TEA through multiple national centers and our Texas-based staff. Our ability to leverage national TA centers and leading experts places AIR in a unique position to offer TEA the most current and relevant information about supporting LEAs in addressing SD. Our diverse staff allow AIR to work with various Texas stakeholders. AIR's organizational experience, resources, and history of successfully managing national centers and disproportionality and equity projects make AIR wellsuited for TEA's SD project. The following are a sampling of projects AIR has led in the area of SD and equity: (1) Whole School Restorative Practices: The goal of this Education Innovation and Research Early-Phase grant was to evaluate the development of a culturally responsive restorative practice program implemented by the Austin Independent School District on students engagement and academic achievement while scaling up across five districts; (2) Bias and Privilege in Talent System in Connecticut: Through the Center on GTL, AIR provides training on equity and implicit bias to six Connecticut districts; (3) The Center for Educational Equity: AIR is a partner in a federally funded equity assistance center that leads education improvement projects and provides training and coaching for topics that include school and district diversity, accessing high-quality and culturally competent administrators and educators, and positive school climates; and (4) the National Center on Safe Supportive Learning Environments: AIR established a technical assistance center that provides support to federally funded grantees and subgrantees and the school climate field at large, including state and district administrators, teachers, school support staff, court staff, communities, and families. Through this project, AIR developed an educator's action planning quide on discipline disparities that will also be adapted and leveraged in this project. AIR has successfully managed more than a dozen national TA centers, including OSEP centers, since 1997. AIR manages or has managed the following centers that are dedicated to improving equity and access and outcomes for students with disabilities: PROGRESS Center, the National Center on Intensive Intervention, the National Center on Response to Intervention, the National Center on Student Progress Monitoring, and the National High School Center.

Indirect costs are not required to be budgeted in the grant application in order to be charged to the grant. Indirect costs are calculated and reimbursed based on actual expenditures when reported in the expenditure reporting system, regardless of the amount budgeted and approved in the grant application. Indirect costs claimed are part of the total grant award amount, not in addition to the grant award amount. Do not submit an amendment solely for the purpose of budgeting indirect costs.

To calculate the maximum indirect cost, please use the Maximum Indirect Costs Worksheet on the Grants Administration Division's Administering a Grant page.

2020-2021 Addressing Significant Disproportionality Authorized by: PL 108-446, IDEA, as amended, Part B, Section 611

Instructions: Request for Amendment

After the original application is approved and the grantee has received the Notice of Grant Award (NOGA), the grantee may need to make changes to the budget or the planned program. Most grantees are permitted to make some changes to the budget or program without notifying or getting approval from TEA. (Some grantees are required to notify and get approval from TEA for all changes to their budget or programs.) In other cases, however, the grantee is required to submit formal notice to TEA of the desire or intent to change the budget or program.

Refer to the Amendment Submission Guidance section of the Administering a Grant page of the TEA website. The guidance titled "When to Amend the Application" provides details on which grantees are and are not required to submit amendments and when amendments are required. Also refer to the General and Fiscal Guidelines, Amending the Application, for more detailed information about amendments.

Regardless of how a grantee amends the application to distribute funds among the class/object codes, the grantee is still responsible for carrying out the scope and objectives of the grant as described in the approved application.

TEA reserves the right to reject unnecessary amendments without reviewing and approving them.

Submitting an Amendment

An amendment must be submitted when the program plan or budget is altered for the reasons described in the "When to Amend the Application" guidance posted in the Amendment Submission Guidance section of the Administering a Grant page of the TEA website.

How to Submit an Amendment

An amendment may only be submitted by email to loiapplications@tea.texas.gov.
