Introductory Training on the PLDs
Grades K–1
2019-2020

Texas Education Agency
Student Assessment Division
The PLDs are the rubrics teachers use to determine students’ English language proficiency for ongoing formative assessment and the spring TELPAS administration.

Originally developed for TELPAS, the PLDs were incorporated into the Texas English language proficiency standards (ELPS) in the 2007-2008 school year to reinforce their use in instruction.
6 Sets of PLDs

• Listening  Grades K–12

• Speaking   Grades K–12

• Reading    Grades K–1
              Grades 2–12

• Writing    Grades K–1
              Grades 2–12
Key Features of Each Proficiency Level

• Beginning
  - Little or no English ability

• Intermediate
  - Limited ability, simple language structures, high-frequency vocabulary, routine contexts

• Advanced
  - Grade appropriate, with second language acquisition support

• Advanced High
  - Grade appropriate, with minimal second language acquisition support

These students:
- struggle to understand simple conversations and simple discussions even when the topics are familiar and the speaker uses linguistic supports (e.g., visuals, slower speech and other verbal cues, gestures).
- struggle to identify and distinguish individual words and phrases during social and instructional interactions that have not been intentionally modified for ELs.
- may not seek clarification in English when failing to comprehend the English they hear; frequently remain silent, watching others for cues.

These students:
- usually understand simple or routine directions, as well as short, simple conversations and short, simple discussions on familiar topics when topics are unfamiliar, require extensive linguistic supports and accommodations (e.g., visuals, slower speech and other verbal cues, simplified language, gestures, reteaching to preview or build topic-related vocabulary).
- often identify and distinguish key words and phrases necessary to understand the general meaning (gist) during social and basic instructional interactions that have not been intentionally modified for ELs.
- have the ability to seek clarification in English when failing to comprehend the English they hear by requiring/requesting the speaker to repeat, slow down, or rephrase to clarify the meaning of the English they hear.

These students:
- understand longer, elaborated directions, conversations, and discussions on familiar and some unfamiliar topics, but sometimes need processing time and sometimes depend on visuals, visual cues, and gestures to support understanding.
- understand most main points, most important details, and some impact information during social and basic instructional interactions that have not been intentionally modified for ELs.
- occasionally require/request the speaker to repeat, slow down, or rephrase to clarify the meaning of the English they hear.

These students:
- understand longer, elaborated directions, conversations, and discussions on familiar and unfamiliar topics with only occasional need for processing time and with little dependence on visuals, verbal cues, and gestures; some exceptions when complex academic or highly specialized language is used.
- understand main points, important details, and impact information at a level nearly comparable to native English-speaking peers during social and instructional interactions.
- rarely require/request the speaker to repeat, slow down, or rephrase to clarify the meaning of the English they hear.
Reflect on how well the student understands the English he or she hears during activities such as:

- Reacting to oral presentations
- Responding to text read aloud
- Following directions
- Cooperative group work
- Informal interactions with peers
- Large-group and small-group instructional interactions
- One-on-one interviews
- Individual student conferences
What Might a Beginning Listener Understand?

I have some exciting news for you today. We are going to go on a field trip next week. On Thursday morning we will load the buses and be gone the whole day. In your take-home folders there is a note about the field trip for your parents to sign. Please remember to bring the signed note in your take-home folder back to school. You have to bring the note signed by your parents back to school or you will not be able to go with us.

Today in science we are going to study some more about spiders. Then we will observe a few spiders in this glass vivarium for one week. One reason we will observe the spiders is to learn some important things about them. For example, we want to know what spiders eat and how they get their food. We also want to know if other animals eat spiders. Let’s go sit on the carpet and read a story about how spiders catch their food and protect themselves from getting eaten.

Sample 1: The student and teacher are talking about pets.

Teacher: Would you like to have a duck as a pet?
Student nods.
Teacher: Tell me about it. Why?
Student: Because to feed him.
Teacher: You could feed him. Would you take care of him?
Student: Feed…feed the…feed him with the bread.
Teacher: Bread. What kind of bread? You’d have to make it in really small pieces, right?
(Student nods)
Teacher: What else would you do with a duck as a pet?
Student: You give him a drink.
Teacher: You give him drink. What do you think ducks drink?
Student: Um, water.
Teacher: Water, ok. Why else do you think a duck would be a good pet? Do you think it would be fun for your friends to go visit him at your house?
Student: A spider could…good friend. A spider.
Teacher: You’d want to have a spider as a pet?
Student: (Nods) Or a snake.
Sample 2: He is asked to talk about his mom.
Teacher: Something that reminds you of your mom. Think of something different.
Student: Towels.
Teacher: What?
Student: Towel.
Teacher: Why would you choose that?
Student: Because...she like...Because she like a wash.
Teacher: Because your mom likes to wash?
(Student nods)
Teacher: Do you help her with that, too?
(Student nods)
Sample 3: He explains a story using picture cards. The story is about breaking a piñata at a birthday party.

Teacher: Who’s hanging it up there?
Student: The… the mom.
Teacher: Looks like the mom. Why is it the mom? Why don’t the children put it up there?
Student: Because ch...Because children fall his head going hurt it. (lifts his hands up to his head)
Teacher: The kids are too small to be doing that. And then what’s happening here?
Student: The kid will break it.
Teacher: What is she putting around her eyes?
Student: Uh...uh...(looks at other kids) um.
Teacher: A blindfold.
Student: A blindfold.
Teacher: And why is she doing that?
Student: Because, because, because he don’t want to see it.
Teacher: Why?
Student: Because. Because he will cheating.
Teacher: Yeah, because if you can see... (shrugs)
Student: I did, I did that.
Teacher: Did they blindfold you, too?
Student: Yeah.
Teacher: Were you able to see anything?
Student: Nope... It's too dark.
Teacher: It's too dark. And then what happened?
Student: They broked it and then all the candy fell out.
Teacher: Where's the candy?
Student: On the floor.
Teacher: Can you point to it?
(Student points to it and teacher nods)
Teacher: And what do you usually do when that happens?
Student: You eat them.
Teacher: Should all the kids run together?
Student: No. Need to walk.
Teacher: Why?
Student: Because, because they're going, because they're going to fall because the rock.
Sample 1: The student talks about a time she got angry about something her sister did.

Student: My sister and me are twins.
Teacher: Really, wow! What is it like to have a twin sister?
Student: I have twin sister. Um, I am, I am bigger and she is smaller and we are twins.
Teacher: So what kind of things do you do?
Student: Huh?
Teacher: What kind of things do you do?
Student: I play with her.
Teacher: Uh huh, like what?
Student: Some thing, like a ball. And we go swimming…each other.
Teacher: You go swimming at your, at your home? Or do you go to a pool?
Student: I go to the pool.
Teacher: So are you writing and drawing about a time that you were grumpy?
Student: (Nods head “yes.”)
Teacher: Tell me about that. What happened?
Sample 1 (continued): The student talks about a time she got angry about something her sister did.

Student: Um, she, I was giving her to play with it to don’t broke it outside and she broke it and I was grumpy.

Teacher: Oh, what did she break?

Student: My necklace. Outside, and I was grumpy.

Teacher: Oh, yeah. OK, so after she broke it what happened?

Student: And I tell my mom and she brought me another one.

Teacher: Did you feel better then?

Student: (Nods head “yes.”) And I was mad at my sister.

Teacher: Did your sister do anything after?

Student: No. I don’t, I don’t even give her to play.
Sample 2: She is speaking about a story that was read aloud in class.

Teacher: What do you notice?

Student: The cat is scaring with the man. Cat is, the ca, the cat is scared.

Teacher: How can you tell the cat is scary?

Student: Because the man, man is being scary.

Teacher: The man does look like that. Can you tell me what the cat’s doing that shows you he is scary?

Student: Umm…

Teacher: Or he’s scared?

Student: Yeah. He’s scared of the man.
Sample 3: She talks about the time she saw a fire.

Student: Um, one day I was going to Chuck E. Cheese and I, I come in my house. I saw fire in another place and um, I saw fire, firemans and they were, they were taking outs the gir.., the babies. And I saw saw, I saw, I saw fireman, and…

Teacher: What was he doing?

Student: He was putting a wa, water in the fire.
Sample 4: She speaks in a group discussion about a book.

Teacher: Can you think of an idea why he might be upset?

Student: Because um, the, the, the…

Other student: The lady.

Student: Yeah, lady. The man is...no, the grump, grumpy is mad at the lady because she give her a food. That’s why he’s so angry.
Sample 1: The student is asked to feel an object in a bag and describe it. The object is a clothespin.

Teacher: Tell us what it feels like.
Student: It’s a hanger. It hangs clothes.
Teacher: Ohhhhh. How did you know that?
Student: I knew, I just know cuz I’m feeling it.
Teacher: You’re feeling it.
Student: And it’s hard.
Teacher: Ok, it’s hard. What else does it feel like?
Student: And it, it claps the clothes on it, it dries…
Sample 2: He describes what happened when he and his family went to the beach.

Teacher: That sounds really nice.
Student: Cuz I been there.
Teacher: You’ve been to the beach?
(Student nods)
Teacher: Do you like it?
Student: Yeah, it was funner... You could see crabs. And my brother, my big one, he um, he got bit. He got snatched by the crab in his foot.
Teacher: Ohhhhh.
Student: (giggles) It hurted. And we put him in the cup and it stinked and we had to put him somewhere but he died already.
Teacher: Would you still want a beach near your house when you grow up?
Student: Yeah.
Teacher: Even if that happened?
Student: Yeah, I would.
Sample 3: He tells his teacher about going fishing with his dad and brother.

Student: Miss, yesterday, we were at fishing, and after that, we went to..., we caught a lot of fish, me and my big, my brother, his fishing rod wasn’t working.

Teacher: His fishing rod wasn’t working?

Student: Yeah.

Teacher: And then?

Student: After that, we caught a lot of fish, me and my little brother. He caught a lot, he caught a big fish and I caught a catfish, and another one, and my big brother...
Sample 4: He responds to a question about birthday parties.

Teacher: So have you had a lot of parties? Birthday parties?

Student: (nods) Yeah.

Teacher: How about you? Have you gone to other people’s birthday parties?

Student: (nods) Uh huh. Always.

Teacher: You always go?

Student: Uh huh.

Teacher: Do you like them?

Student: Yeah, I been to my cousin, Isa, she was little, and we played games, played basketball, and baby thing for they could play too, and they had um, a bouncer, only for big kids, and they had a little one too.

These students:
- Beginning
  - Have little or no proficiency in grade-appropriate stories read aloud in English, unless the stories are:
    - Read in short “chunks”
    - Controlled to include the little English they know, such as words that are high-frequency, concrete, and recently practiced
    - Accompanied by ample visual supports such as illustrations, gestures, pantomime, and objects and by linguistic supports such as careful pronunciation and slower speech.
- Intermediate
  - Learn to recognize and understand environmental print in English (e.g., signs, labeled items, names of peers, logos).
- Advanced
  - Have difficulty decoding most grade-appropriate English text because they:
    - Understand the meaning of very few words in English.
    - Struggle significantly with sounds in spoken English words and with sound-symbol relationships due to differences between their primary language and English.
- Advanced High
  - Demonstrate comprehension of most main points and most supporting ideas in grade-appropriate stories read aloud in English, although they may still depend on visual and linguistic supports to gain or confirm meaning.

  - Learn to recognize and understand environmental print in English (e.g., signs, labeled items, names of peers, logos).
- Advanced
  - Have difficulty decoding grade-appropriate English text because they:
    - Understand the meaning of only those English words they hear frequently.
    - Struggle with some sounds in English words and sound-symbol relationships due to differences between their primary language and English.
- Advanced High
  - Demonstrate comprehension of most main points and most supporting ideas in grade-appropriate stories read aloud in English, although they may still depend on visual and linguistic supports to gain or confirm meaning.

The last descriptor applies only to students who are at the developmental stage of decoding written text (i.e., they have “cracked the code” necessary for learning to read).
Reflect on how well the student understands the English used during activities such as:

- Paired reading
- Sing-alongs and read-alongs, including chants and poems
- Shared reading with big books, charts, overhead transparencies, other displays
- Guided reading with leveled readers
- Reading subject-area texts and related materials
- Independent reading
- Cooperative group work
- Reading response journals

These students:
- are unable to use English to explain self-generated writing (e.g., stories they have created or other personal expressions), including emergent forms of writing (pictures, letter-like forms, mock words, scribbling, etc.)
- know too little English to participate meaningfully in grade-appropriate shared writing activities using the English language
- cannot express themselves meaningfully in self-generated, connected written text in English beyond the level of high-frequency, concrete words, phrases, or short sentences that have been recently practiced/memorized
- may demonstrate title or no awareness of English print conventions

These students:
- know enough English to explain briefly and simply self-generated writing, including emergent forms of writing, as long as the topic is highly familiar and concrete and requires very high-frequency English
- can participate meaningfully in grade-appropriate shared writing activities using the English language only when the writing topic is highly familiar and concrete and requires very high-frequency English
- express themselves meaningfully in self-generated, connected written text in English when their writing is limited to short sentences featuring simple, concrete English used frequently in class
- frequently exhibit features of their primary language when writing in English (e.g., primary language words, spelling patterns, word order, literal translating)

These students:
- use predominantly grade-appropriate English to explain, in some detail, their self-generated writing, including emergent forms of writing
- can participate meaningfully, with second language acquisition support, in most grade-appropriate shared writing activities using the English language
- although second language acquisition support is needed, they have an emerging ability to express themselves in self-generated, connected written text in English in a grade-appropriate manner
- occasionally exhibit second language acquisition errors when writing in English

These students:
- use English at a level of complexity and detail nearly comparable to that of native English-speaking peers when explaining self-generated writing, including emergent forms of writing
- can participate meaningfully in most grade-appropriate shared writing activities using the English language
- although minimal second language acquisition support may be needed, express themselves in self-generated, connected written text in English in a manner nearly comparable to that of their native English-speaking peers

These descriptors apply only to students who are at the developmental stage of generating original written text using a standard writing system.
Reflect on how well the students write in English during activities such as:

- Journal writing for personal reflections
- Shared writing for literacy and content area development
- Language experience dictation
- Organization of thoughts and ideas through prewriting strategies
- Publishing and presenting
- Making lists for specific purposes
- Labeling pictures, objects, and items from projects
- Cooperative group work
- First drafts
Writing in Content Areas
Sample ELPS Student Expectations

Narrate, describe, and explain with increasing specificity and detail to fulfill content area writing needs as more English is acquired (c)(5)(G)

In science, this expectation can be addressed through writing assignments in which students, for example, observe, describe, and compare physical properties.

Write using newly acquired basic vocabulary and content based grade-level vocabulary (c)(5)(B)

In math, this expectation can be addressed by having students, for example, write about the shapes they are studying and name items at home that are the same shapes.
