COLLEGE, CAREER OR MILITARY READINESS

64% of 2019 Texas high school graduates were considered college, career or military ready, a slight uptick from the year prior. While some students show readiness in multiple categories, a majority score at a readiness criterion on the Texas Success Initiative Assessment or the SAT/ACT.

While there were also year-over-year increases in the percentage of students taking dual credit classes, the largest percentage increase in readiness came from industry based certifications.
