Organization Information

Organization Name: Littera Education Inc.

Organization Description:

Littera is built on a simple but powerful idea: all students deserve high-quality tutoring support to help them achieve their academic potential. We are focused on enabling K12 districts to provide high-quality 1-on-1 and small group tutoring tightly connected to the district's strategy for addressing student learning needs.

Littera Provides:

● An online platform to easily manage tutoring programs (virtual or in-person), automating much of the manual work associated with scheduling, tutor assignments, tutor/student matching, attendance tracking, and gathering student and tutor feedback.
● A teacher dashboard so that classroom teachers can be connected to what their students are experiencing in tutoring sessions - and if desired, can also assign specific learning objectives to be covered in tutoring.
● Easy access to data for program managers and stakeholders to quickly understand how programs are being delivered, and to also connect back to district analytical tools to understand program impact on student learning.
● High quality virtual tutors who can be deployed flexibly but deliberately to address specific program specifications and learning needs.
● Integration to brand new K-6 literacy tutoring curriculum and tutor training created by Teachers College Readers and Writers Project, specifically designed to be delivered in high-impact tutoring models through Littera.

By connecting Littera's platform and tutoring services to the district's existing infrastructure and instructional approaches, tutoring becomes part of the daily learning environment, not something separate and apart from school with little connection to core instruction.

Tutor Types

Please list the types of tutors your organization has available (e.g., college students, retired teachers, etc.).

Our current tutors range from certified teachers and teachers-in-training to college students and retired teachers interested in helping students achieve their academic goals.

We consult with districts and customize the tutor teams to align with specific district program requirements. Unlike other tutoring options, Littera's platform can also facilitate the use of district tutors in situations where all of some of the tutoring is designed to be implemented with district teachers, paraprofessionals, or other local members of the community.
