

Region 10 2021 Parent Involvement Survey

We want to hear from you! The Texas Education Agency (TEA) and Region 10 Education Service Center are conducting the annual survey of parents of children receiving special education services to learn more about how school districts are involving families in their child's education.

Your responses are important! Your responses provide critical information to school districts to help them improve family-school partnerships in special education. The information you provide will assist educators and policymakers in guiding important improvements to special education services for children in your district and throughout Texas.

Learn more about the survey! At the end of the survey, you will have the opportunity to sign up to receive a notification when this year's survey results are ready. Whether or not you would like to receive these results, your responses to this survey and your child's identity will remain confidential.
