|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| ELPS 2.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | use visual, contextual, and linguistic support to enhance and confirm understanding of increasingly complex and elaborated spoken language                                                                                                                                                                                                       | U6: p. 54                   |
| ELPS 2.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | listen to and derive meaning from a variety of media such as audio tape, video, DVD, and CD-ROM to build and reinforce concept and language attainment                                                                                                                                                                                           |                             |
| ELPS 2.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | understand the general meaning, main point, and important details of spoken language ranging from situations in which topics, language, and contexts are familiar to unfamiliar                                                                                                                                                                  |                             |
| ELPS 2.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | understand implicit ideas and information in increasingly complex spoken language commensurate with grade-level learning expectations                                                                                                                                                                                                            | U6: p. 143                  |
| ELPS 2.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | demonstrate listening comprehension of increasingly complex spoken English by following directions, retelling or summarizing spoken messages, responding to questions and requests, collaborating with peers, and taking note                                                                                                                    |                             |
| (3) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/speaking. The ELL speaks in a variety of modes for a variety of purposes with an awareness of different language registers (formal/informal) using vocabulary with increasing fluency and accuracy in language arts and all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in speaking. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student's level of English language proficiency. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                             |
| ELPS 3.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | practice producing sounds of newly acquired vocabulary such as long and short vowels, silent letters, and consonant clusters to pronounce English words in a manner that is increasingly comprehensible                                                                                                                                          |                             |
| ELPS 3.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | expand and internalize initial English vocabulary by learning and using high-frequency English words necessary for identifying and describing people, places, and objects, by retelling simple stories and basic information represented or supported by pictures, and by learning and using routine language needed for classroom communication |                             |
| ELPS 3.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | speak using a variety of grammatical structures, sentence lengths, sentence types, and connecting words with increasing accuracy and ease as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                                                            |                             |
| ELPS 3.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | speak using grade-level content area vocabulary in context to internalize new English words and build academic language proficiency                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                             |
| ELPS 3.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | share information in cooperative learning interactions                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | U6: p. 143                  |
| ELPS 3.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | ask and give information ranging from using a very limited bank of high-frequency, high-need, concrete vocabulary, including key words and expressions needed for basic communication in academic and social contexts, to using abstract and content-based vocabulary during extended speaking assignments                                       |                             |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 2

| Skills 6                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide                                                                                                                                        |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ELPS 3.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | express opinions, ideas, and feelings ranging from communicating single words and short phrases to participating in extended discussions on a variety of social and grade-appropriate academic topics                                                                                       | U6: p. 99                                                                                                                                                          |
| ELPS 3.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | narrate, describe, and explain with increasing specificity and detail as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                                                                           | U6: p. 117, U6: p. 247                                                                                                                                             |
| ELPS 3.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | adapt spoken language appropriately for formal and informal purposes                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 3.J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | respond orally to information presented in a wide variety of print, electronic, audio, and visual media to build and reinforce concept and language attainment                                                                                                                              | U6: p. 197                                                                                                                                                         |
| (4) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/reading. The ELL reads a variety of texts for a variety of purposes with an increasing level of comprehension in all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in reading. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. For kindergarten and grade 1, certain of these student expectations apply to text read aloud for students not yet at the stage of decoding written text. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 4.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | learn relationships between sounds and letters of the English language and decode (sound out) words using a combination of skills such as recognizing sound-letter relationships and identifying cognates, affixes, roots, and base words                                                   | U6: p. 128                                                                                                                                                         |
| ELPS 4.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | recognize directionality of English reading such as left to right and top to bottom                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 4.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | develop basic sight vocabulary, derive meaning of environmental print, and comprehend English vocabulary and language structures used routinely in written classroom materials                                                                                                              | U6: p. 197                                                                                                                                                         |
| ELPS 4.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | use prereading supports such as graphic organizers, illustrations, and pretaught topic-related vocabulary and other prereading activities to enhance comprehension of written text                                                                                                          | U6: p. 14, U6: p. 69                                                                                                                                               |
| ELPS 4.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | read linguistically accommodated content area material with a decreasing need for linguistic accommodations as more English is learned                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 4.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | use visual and contextual support and support from peers and teachers to read grade-appropriate content area text, enhance and confirm understanding, and develop vocabulary, grasp of language structures, and background knowledge needed to comprehend increasingly challenging language | U6: p. 169                                                                                                                                                         |
| ELPS 4.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | demonstrate comprehension of increasingly complex English by participating in shared reading, retelling or summarizing material, responding to questions, and taking notes commensurate with content area and grade level needs                                                             | U6: p. 30, U6: p. 54, U6: p. 76, U6: p. 86, U6: p. 155, U6: p. 179, U6: p. 189, U6: p. 199, U6: p. 218, U6: p. 235, U6: p. 258, U6: p. 275, U6: p. 320, U6: p. 328 |
| ELPS 4.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | read silently with increasing ease and comprehension for longer periods                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                    |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 2

| Skills 6                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide                                                                                                                  |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ELPS 4.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | demonstrate English comprehension and expand reading skills by employing basic reading skills such as demonstrating understanding of supporting ideas and details in text and graphic sources, summarizing text, and distinguishing main ideas from details commensurate with content area needs     | U6: p. 54, U6: p. 76, U6: p. 155, U6: p. 179, U6: p. 199, U6: p. 218, U6: p. 235, U6: p. 258, U6: p. 275, U6: p. 320, U6: p. 328, U6: p. 336 |
| ELPS 4.J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | demonstrate English comprehension and expand reading skills by employing inferential skills such as predicting, making connections between ideas, drawing inferences and conclusions from text and graphic sources, and finding supporting text evidence commensurate with content area needs        | U6: p. 320                                                                                                                                   |
| ELPS 4.K                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | demonstrate English comprehension and expand reading skills by employing analytical skills such as evaluating written information and performing critical analyses commensurate with content area and grade-level needs                                                                              |                                                                                                                                              |
| (5) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/writing. The ELL writes in a variety of forms with increasing accuracy to effectively address a specific purpose and audience in all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in writing. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. For kindergarten and grade 1, certain of these student expectations do not apply until the student has reached the stage of generating original written text using a standard writing system. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                              |
| ELPS 5.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | learn relationships between sounds and letters of the English language to represent sounds when writing in English                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                              |
| ELPS 5.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | write using newly acquired basic vocabulary and content-based grade-level vocabulary                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | U6: p. 108                                                                                                                                   |
| ELPS 5.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | spell familiar English words with increasing accuracy, and employ English spelling patterns and rules with increasing accuracy as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                              |
| ELPS 5.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | edit writing for standard grammar and usage, including subject-verb agreement, pronoun agreement, and appropriate verb tenses commensurate with grade-level expectations as more English is acquired                                                                                                 | U6: p. 267                                                                                                                                   |
| ELPS 5.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | employ increasingly complex grammatical structures in content area writing commensurate with grade level expectations such as (i) using correct verbs, tenses, and pronouns/antecedents; (ii) using possessive case (apostrophe -s) correctly; and, (iii) using negatives and contractions correctly |                                                                                                                                              |
| ELPS 5.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | write using a variety of grade-appropriate sentence lengths, patterns, and connecting words to combine phrases, clauses, and sentences in increasingly accurate ways as more English is acquired                                                                                                     | U6: p. 90, U6: p. 313, U6: p. 346                                                                                                            |
| ELPS 5.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | narrate, describe, and explain with increasing specificity and detail to fulfill content area writing needs as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                                              | U6: p. 117, U6: p. 200, U6: p. 209, U6: p. 247, U6: p. 259                                                                                   |

Credits

Every effort has been taken to trace and acknowledge copyrights. The editors tender their apologies for any accidental infringement where copyright has proved untraceable. They would be pleased to insert the appropriate acknowledgment in any subsequent edition of this publication. Trademarks and trade names are shown in this publication for illustrative purposes only and are the property of their respective owners. The references to trademarks and trade names given herein do not affect their validity.

All photographs are used under license from Shutterstock, Inc. unless otherwise noted.

Illustrators and Image Sources

Cover: Amplify Education, Inc.; 11: Staff; 26: Staff; 28: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 36: Staff; 38: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 52: Staff; 53 (1A-1): Jed Henry; 54 (1A-2): Signing of the Constitution, by Howard Chandler Christy. Courtesy of Architect of the Capitol; Shutter; 54 (1A-3): Shutterstock; 55 (1A-4): Erika Baird; 55 (1A-5): Jacob Wyatt; 56 (1A-6): Simini Blocker; 56 (1A-7): Erika Baird; 56 (1A-8): Library of Congress, Prints and Photographs, LC-USZ62-75535; 57 (1A-9): original by J. Cartwright and J. Hassell; 65: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 76: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 85 (2A-1): Left: original by Gilbert Stuart, Center: original by John Trumbull, Right: original by Rembrandt Peale; 86 (2A-2): Erika Baird; 86 (2A-5): Erika Baird; 87 (2A-6): Simini Blocker; 87 (2A-7): Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, LC-DIG-pga-01891; 95: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 108: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 122: Staff; 124: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 138: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 150: Staff; 152: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 164: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 179: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 189: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 200: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 205: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 211: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 217: Staff; 218: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 230: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 235: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 247: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 251: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 258: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 267: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 278: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 286: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 297: Staff; 323: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 329: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 334: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 339: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 342: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; 381: Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, NYWT&S Collection, LC-DIG-ds-00032a; TR 1.1: Shutterstock; TR 1.2: Shutterstock; TR 1.3: Shutterstock; TR 1.4: Shutterstock; TR 2.2: Staff; TR 4.2: Staff; TR 4.3: Staff; TR 6.2: Shutterstock; TR 11.1: Staff; 26.1: Shutterstock; 29.1: Shutterstock; 503: Staff; 504: Staff; 505: Staff;

Regarding the Shutterstock items listed above, please note: "No person or entity shall falsely represent, expressly or by way of reasonable implication, that the content herein was created by that person or entity, or any person other than the copyright holder(s) of that content."

Grade 2 | Skills 6 | Teacher Guide

ISBN 9798894040448

9 798894 040448

Note to reviewers: This is a mock-up of images to go into the ELAR Grade 3 Teacher Guides. If approved, we will place these images into the Teacher Guides alongside the associated passage.

The Preamble to the United States Constitution

When the United States of America became a country, it was important to establish rules and laws for citizens and leaders to follow. The document that included those rules and laws became known as the Constitution, which was written in 1787. It includes information on how the government should be set up, what laws should be followed, and rules about how everyone in the country should be treated fairly.

The Constitution begins with some important words, and those words are known as the Preamble. A preamble is a statement that introduces something. So the Preamble to the Constitution is the introduction to the Constitution.

The words to the Preamble are: "We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

The Pledge of Allegiance

The Pledge of Allegiance is an oath, or vow, that people in the United States recite before important events. It is a way for American citizens to say they are proud to be a part of the country and agree to work together for freedom and fairness.

The words to the Pledge of Allegiance are: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

The United States Flag

The U.S. flag serves as a powerful symbol of patriotism and unity in the United States. It features fifty stars on a field of blue, each representing one of the states that together make up our nation, and thirteen alternating red and white stripes, representing the original colonies that declared independence. The flag evokes feelings of pride and respect, reminding us of the freedoms and rights that we cherish as Americans. When people sing the national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," they usually face the flag. Also displayed proudly during national holidays, in schools, and at public buildings, the flag stands as a reminder of the nation's history, its sacrifices, and the enduring spirit of its people.

Tommy's Big Dream

Tommy is a third grader who loves America and has a big dream to start his own business someday. His favorite class is social studies, where he learns about "free enterprise." This means people in America can open businesses. Some of those business owners sell their own creations, which makes Tommy excited.

Every summer, Tommy runs a lemonade stand. He loves making lemonade and talking to his customers. Tommy feels proud when people enjoy his lemonade. His mom explains that this small stand is a business, where he can make money by selling something he made.

Tommy admires local shopkeepers who sell books, toys, or treats. They work hard and love making their customers happy. He wants to be like them, using creativity and hard work to succeed.

One day, he shares his dream with his teacher, who says, "In America, you can do anything you set your mind to." This makes Tommy feel proud to live in a place where dreams can come true with hard work.

Concord Hymn and the “Shot Heard Round the World”

One of the first battles in the American Revolution was the Battle of Lexington and Concord in Massachusetts in 1775. As British soldiers were marching to Concord to take away colonists’ weapons, they were stopped by colonists in Lexington who decided to begin fighting back against British rule.

No one knows who fired the first shot in that battle, but it became known as “the shot heard round the world” because of a famous poem by Ralph Waldo Emerson. Emerson wrote the poem to be sung in 1837 to dedicate a monument for the fallen soldiers of the battle.

Read Emerson’s poem below, then answer the following questions.

Concord Hymn

Ralph Waldo Emerson

By the rude bridge that arched the flood,
Their flag to April’s breeze unfurled,
Here once the embattled farmers stood
And fired the shot heard round the world.

The foe long since in silence slept;
Alike the conqueror silent sleeps;
And Time the ruined bridge has swept
Down the dark stream which seaward creeps.

On this green bank, by this soft stream,
We set today a votive stone;
That memory may their deed redeem,
When, like our sires, our sons are gone.

Spirit, that made those heroes dare
To die, and leave their children free,
Bid Time and Nature gently spare
The shaft we raise to them and thee.

The Declaration of Independence

The Declaration of Independence is a document created by a group of men who later became known as the Founding Fathers. The Declaration explains why the thirteen American colonies no longer wanted to live under the rule of the British government and instead wanted to be in charge of themselves and start a new country—in other words, they were declaring independence.

While the Declaration of Independence does not include rules and laws for how the country should be set up, like the Constitution does, it is a symbol of American independence. Many of the phrases used in the Declaration still have importance today.

One such important section of the Declaration says the following: “We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.”

Father and Son in the White House

George H. W. Bush and George W. Bush were a father and son who both became presidents of the United States. They also shared a special connection to Texas.

George H. W. Bush, the father, was the 41st president. He moved to Texas in 1948 to work in the oil business and quickly grew to love the state's spirit and warm people. His son, George W. Bush, the 43rd president, grew up in Texas and was the governor there for two terms before becoming president.

Both men embraced many Texan values such as hard work, kindness, dedication to country, and bravery, bringing these ideals to the White House. Each of them played an important role in shaping our country's history, guided by the lessons they learned in the Lone Star State.

Note: This passage does not have an associated image

1

Grade 3

Skills 1 | Teacher Guide

Grade 3

---

Skills 1

---

Teacher Guide

© 2026 Amplify Education, Inc. and its licensors
www.amplify.com

© 2015 The Core Knowledge Foundation and its licensors
www.coreknowledge.org

ISBN 979-8-89180-861-4

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons
Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike
4.0 International License.

You are free:
to Share—to copy, distribute, and transmit the work
to Remix—to adapt the work

Under the following conditions:

Attribution—You must attribute any adaptations of the work in the following manner:
This work is based on original works of Amplify Education, Inc. (amplify.com) and the Core Knowledge Foundation (coreknowledge.org) made available under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License.

<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>

Noncommercial—You may not use this work for commercial purposes. Contact help@amplify.com for questions and permissions.

Share Alike—If you alter, transform, or build upon this work, you may distribute the resulting work only under the same or similar license to this one by including the attribution language above.

Trademarks and trade names are shown in this book strictly for illustrative and educational purposes and are the property of their respective owners. References herein should not be regarded as affecting the validity of said trademarks and trade names.

Printed in the USA
01 XXX 2024

Contents

Introduction

1

Lesson 1 Basic Code: Short and Long Vowels

13

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                       | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                           |                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Short and Long Vowel Sounds</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Short and Long Vowel Sounds</li> <li>Review Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Inflectional Endings with Verbs: -s and -es</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Pat’s Bike” with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Unit 1 Dictation Pretest</li> </ul> |

Lesson 2 Basic Code: Consonant Blends

26

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                         | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                               |                                                                                                                      |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Consonant Blends</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with Consonant Blends</li> <li>Read Closed One-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -s, -es</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “Pat’s Bike”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with Consonant Blends</li> </ul> |

Lesson 3 Basic Code: Words with Double-Letter Consonants

39

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                              | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Blend and Segment Double-Letter Consonant Words</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with Double Consonants</li> <li>Read Closed Two-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed and -ing</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Jazz Music”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /f/ &gt; ‘ff’, /l/ &gt; ‘ll’, /s/ &gt; ‘ss’, /z/ &gt; ‘zz’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 4 Review: Words with Double-Letter Consonants and the Suffixes -ed, -ing

51

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                           | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                          |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Blend Words with Double-Letter Consonants</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with Double-Letter Consonants and -ed, -ing</li> <li>Read Closed Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “Jazz Music”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with Double-Letter Consonants and -ed, -ing</li> </ul> |

Lesson 5 Review: Mixed Review

65

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                            | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                  |                                                                                                      |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Give Me a Word</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review: Vowel Sounds, Blends, and Consonant Sound Spellings</li> <li>• Read Closed Two-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Inflectional Endings</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read “Baking Cupcakes” Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 6 Review: Silent Letter Combinations: ‘wr’ and ‘kn’

77

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                      | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                             |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Add Ending Sounds to Create New Words</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Words with Silent Letter Combinations: ‘wr’ &gt; /r/, ‘kn’ &gt; /n/</li> <li>• Read Closed Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read “Knoll the Knight” with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Spell multisyllabic words with silent letter combinations ‘wr’ &gt; /r/, ‘kn’ &gt; /n/</li> </ul> |

Lesson 7 Review: Silent Letter Combinations: ‘mb’ and ‘bt’

90

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                      | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Add Sounds to Make New Words</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Silent Letter Combinations: ‘mb’ and ‘bt’</li> <li>• Read Closed Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reread “Knoll the Knight”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Spell Words with Silent Letter Combinations ‘mb’ and ‘bt’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 8 Review: Spellings for /k/ and /ch/

104

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                      | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                             |                                                                                                                                               |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review /ch/ and /k/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review /ch/ &gt; ‘ch’ and ‘tch’, /k/ &gt; ‘ch’</li> <li>• Read Closed Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read “Lake Day”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Spell Words with ‘ch’ and ‘tch’ &gt; /ch/, ‘ch’ &gt; /k/</li> </ul> |

Lesson 9 Review: Digraphs: ‘sh’ and ‘qu’

116

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                    | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                             |                                                                                                                                    |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /sh/ and /qu/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Digraphs: ‘sh,’ ‘qu’</li> <li>Read Open One-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “Lake Day”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with ‘sh’ &gt; /sh/, ‘qu’ &gt; /qu/</li> </ul> |

Lesson 10 Review: Mixed Review

129

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                          |                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                          | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                    |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Sound Review</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Give Me a Word</li> <li>Read Words with Open Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Inflectional Endings</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Fall Colors” Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 11 Review: Digraphs ‘th’ (Voiced and Unvoiced) and ‘ng’

141

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                 | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                             |                                                                                                                   |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Digraphs: /th/, /th/, /ng/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with ‘th’ &gt; /th/ and /th/ and ‘ng’ &gt; /ng/</li> <li>Read Open Two-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Inflectional Endings: Verbs</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Topher Sings” with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with ‘th’ and ‘ng’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 12 Review: Digraphs ‘ph’ and ‘gh’ > /f/

155

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                          | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                 |                                                                                                                   |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review; Digraphs ‘ph’ and ‘gh’ &gt; /f/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with ‘ph’ and ‘gh’ &gt; /f/</li> <li>Read Open Two-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Inflectional Endings</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “Topher Sings”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with ‘ph’ and ‘gh’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 13 Review: Digraphs ‘ck’ > /k/, ‘wh’ > /w/, ‘gh’ > /g/

168

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                             | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                   |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /k/, /w/, /g/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /k/ &gt; ‘ck’, /w/ &gt; ‘wh’, /g/ &gt; ‘gh’</li> <li>Read Open Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Inflected Endings: –er and –est</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Serena Williams”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with Digraphs ‘ck’, ‘wh’, and ‘gh’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 14 Review: Consonant Blends with Digraphs: ‘thr’, ‘shr’, ‘str’, ‘spl’

181

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                   |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Add Sounds to Create New Words</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with Consonant Blends and Digraphs</li> <li>Read Open Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Inflectional Endings: –er and –est</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “Serena Williams”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with Consonant Blends and Digraphs</li> </ul> |

Lesson 15 Review: Mixed Review

195

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                          | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                    |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Sound Building</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Digraphs</li> <li>Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Inflectional Endings</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Whooping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers” Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 16 Review: Abbreviations: Titles with Names

208

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                      | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Add Sounds to Make New Words</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Abbreviations: Titles with Names</li> <li>Read Open Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Derivational Endings: –y</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Abbreviations of Titles with Names</li> </ul> |

Lesson 17 Review: Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States*222

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                               | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                             |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Add Sounds to Make New Words</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States</li> <li>• Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Root Words and Derivational Endings: -y</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reread “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Spell Abbreviations of Streets in Addresses and States</li> </ul> |

Lesson 18 Review: Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months of the Year*236

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Consonant Blends</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months of the Year</li> <li>• Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Root Words and Derivational Endings: -er</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read “Scientists”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Spell Abbreviations of Days of the Week and Months of the Year</li> </ul> |

Lesson 19 Review: Abbreviations: Measurements*248

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                  | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                 |                                                                                                                          |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Consonant Blends</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read Abbreviations: Measurements</li> <li>• Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Root Words and Derivational Endings: -less</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reread “Scientists”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Spell Abbreviations of Measurements</li> </ul> |

Lesson 20 Review: Mixed Review*261

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                               | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Sound Review</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Abbreviations</li> <li>• Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Root Words and Suffixes</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read “Blanket Detective” Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Unit 1 Dictation Posttest</li> </ul> |

Introduction

---

WELCOME

Dear Third Grade Teacher,

Welcome! This program has been carefully researched and crafted to help you make every student in your classroom a reader.

Some key aspects of the program are listed here:

- This program provides comprehensive review of and expansion on foundational reading skills, such as phonological awareness, phonics and word recognition, fluency, morphology, reading comprehension, as well as encoding and spelling.
- This program includes explicit, systematic phonics instruction in which students are taught the letter-sound correspondences needed to independently decode words.
- This program begins by reviewing the most common spelling for a sound (the basic code spelling). Later it teaches spelling alternatives for sounds that can be spelled several different ways. Complexity is added bit by bit as students gain confidence and automatize their reading and writing skills.
- This program uses a phonics approach that adheres to the science of reading by teaching students to read by blending through the word. It does not teach multiple cueing strategies, use of pictures as a primary resource in decoding, or part-word guessing.

The remainder of this introduction will provide you with an overview of the various materials included in the Grade 3 Skills program, general unit and lesson features, and detailed information about this first unit of instruction and how you will determine whether your students have the prerequisite skills needed to be successful in the Grade 3 Skills program. For more information on the program's research background, scope and sequence, and to access other resources, please visit the program's digital components site.

---

SKILLS STRAND COMPONENTS

Teacher Components

- Teacher Guide (one per unit)

Digital Teacher Components

- Teacher Resources (Appendices)
- Adjusted Pathways
- Assessment Guidance, Assessment Trackers, and Data Analysis Guidance
- Corrective Feedback Planning Tool
- Caregiver Letters
- General English Learners

Student Components

- Activity Books (one copy per student): includes reading passages for students to annotate

---

COMPONENT DESCRIPTIONS

Teacher Components

Teacher Guide

Each Teacher Guide includes daily lessons with detailed directions. Each lesson may be conducted in a single 30-minute session or as two 15-minute sessions (divided into Parts 1 and 2) depending on teacher preference. The Teacher Guide will indicate suggested pacing and grouping for activities. Instruction and exercises should be presented in the order listed in the Lesson at a Glance chart.

Part 1:

Phonological Awareness: Each lesson begins with a Warm-Up activity in which students hear and say the focus sounds of the lesson. Warm-Ups provide students opportunities to reinforce their phonological awareness skills while previewing and combining phonological awareness with the phonics skill they will study for the duration of the lesson. Students may also practice adding, deleting, and substituting sounds orally in words. Phonological Awareness reinforces and spirals from the G1 and G2 Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Standards.

Phonics—Decoding: After the oral Warm-Up activity, each lesson moves into a review of how the focus sounds are read and spelled. The phonics activities are separated into two parts: decoding and syllabication. In the decoding activities, students review identifying and reading words with focus sound-spellings. In the syllabication activities, students review identifying specific syllable types in words. Units 1, 2, and 3 of the Skills program focus on the six main syllable types: closed, open, VCe, vowel team, r-controlled, and final stable syllables. Unit 4 focuses on using the syllable division patterns VCCV, VCV, and VCCCV to divide words. Decoding and syllabication activities align with the G3 Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Standards.

Morphology: Each morphology activity focuses on a specific affix or root. Students learn to identify, read, define, spell, and use words with each word part. Morphology and word study activities align with the G3 Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Standards.

Part 2:

Reading: Students read a passage (located in the Student Activity Books) that provides practice with the lesson’s phonics, syllabication, and morphology skills. Each week follows the same cycle:

- Day 1: The Teacher Demonstration focuses on accuracy, expression, and rate. Students answer oral discussion questions as a group, and the teacher may note correct responses in the Discussion Questions Observation Record as formative assessment.
- Day 2: Students reread the Day 1 passage with a partner, annotating the passage to indicate their understanding of the phonics, syllabication, and morphology skills reviewed in the lesson. The teacher may monitor partner reading in the Anecdotal Reading Record as formative assessment.
- Day 3: The Teacher Demonstration focuses on accuracy, expression, and rate. Students answer comprehension questions in their Activity Books.
- Day 4: Students reread the Day 3 passage with a partner, annotating the passage to indicate their understanding of the phonics, syllabication, and morphology skills reviewed in the lesson. The teacher may monitor partner reading in the Anecdotal Reading Record as formative assessment.
- Day 5: Students independently read a new passage and answer comprehension questions in their Activity Books.

Decoding and reading comprehension activities align with the G3 Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Standards.

Phonics—Encoding: Each lesson ends with a short dictation activity that provides students practice in spelling words with the same sound-spelling reviewed in the Phonics activity. Students spell words in isolation and in sentences in their dictation journal. The Lesson 1 encoding activity is a dictation pretest that assesses students’ understanding of the phonics skills that will be addressed in the unit. In the final lesson of the unit, students will spell the same dictated words from the pretest to show mastery of the sound-spellings covered in the unit. Encoding activities align with the G3 Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Standards.

This program provides ample opportunities for students to spell words from teacher dictation. Each encoding activity has nine words for students to spell in isolation and two full sentences for students to spell in context. Students also have the opportunity to spell words in their own sentences.

Students will also create a dictation journal.

- For the dictation journal, you can either have students use a journal they use for other writing activities or you may wish to create or designate a small dictation journal for each student. Stapling ten pieces of paper together is all you will need for each journal.

Additional Support (optional additional opportunities to reinforce skills)

Writing Extension

In the Additional Support section, students are provided with optional additional opportunities to reinforce skills. For each passage, students are given a prompt and asked to respond using 3-5 complete sentences, using citations from the passage. This is a great opportunity for students to practice their cursive writing, and for the teachers to check students' letter formation, letter and word spacing, line quality, slant, and letter connections.

Tricky Words Review

In this program, we focus on teaching students Tricky Words that are used in the passages associated with each lesson. Students practice decoding and spelling Tricky Words in isolation, in the context of phrases and passages, and in their dictation journals. Tricky Word lists for each unit and lesson are available in Appendix D of the Grade 3 Skills Teacher Resources, on the digital components site. The lists include correlations of where Tricky Words appear in other research-based lists (e.g., Dolch, Fry, and Zeno). In addition, the background and approach on how we teach Tricky Words can also be accessed on the digital components site.

Digital Teacher Components

Teacher Resources (Appendices)

To learn more about the program's research and background, teachers can access the Grade 3 Teacher Resources, which includes the following appendices:

- Appendix A: Overview of the Grade 3 Skills Program
- Appendix B: Grade 3 Skills Scope and Sequence
- Appendix C: Using Chunking to Decode Multisyllabic Words
- Appendix D: Tricky Words (High-Frequency Irregular Words)

Adjusted Pathways and Pacing Guides

The Grade 3 adjusted pathway provides several pacing guides for various instructional calendar days (90, 165, 180, and 210 days) and provides recommendations to adjust the pacing guides for any other number of instructional days.

Assessment Guidance, Assessment Trackers, and Data Analysis Guidance

The Assessment Guidance provides an overview of all summative and formative assessments administered in this program, as well as guidelines for best practices on how to use them. Assessment Trackers are provided for each unit's pretest and posttest, as well as for weekly dictation spelling assessments. The Data Analysis Guidance explains how to use the Assessment Trackers to gather and analyze student data to better plan instruction for the unit and monitor student progress.

Corrective Feedback Planning Tool

The Corrective Feedback Planning Tool helps teachers identify and anticipate common errors in each of the skill focus areas and provide in-the-moment corrective feedback. Sample suggested sentence frames are provided for each skill focus area, as well as a sample filled out template, with each applicable skill category for Grade 3 Skills.

Caregiver Letters

Four Caregiver Letters (one for each unit) are available in English and Spanish on the digital component site. Each letter gives an overview of the unit, what students will learn and read, and several examples of activities caregivers can do at home, to support student learning.

General English Learners Resources

A General English Learner (GEL) is a student whose language variety is different from the one used in education. Language variety is another term for dialect; each language variety follows complex, rule-governed phonological, morphological, syntactic, semantic, and lexical systems. There are many different variations of the English language, which may be spoken by students in the classroom. The one used in mainstream print media, business, and education is General American English (GAE; also often referred to as “Standard” or “Mainstream” English). Our goal is for students to decode and encode their oral system into a written system, and by helping students extend their oral language knowledge to include GAE they will be better prepared to learn the written system of GAE.

Your students’ language varieties may have affected the way in which they speak, read, and write. Please refer to the General English Learners resource, available online on the program’s digital component site, for information on how a student’s performance can be influenced by language variety and for appropriate instructional supports.

Student Components

Activity Books

The student Activity Book pages are organized by lesson; the Teacher Guide provides direction within each lesson as to when and how each activity page should be used. Some pages are designed to be completed as a group with teacher assistance, while other pages are intended to be completed independently or in pairs. In addition to practice exercises for reinforcement of skills, the Activity Books also include assessment pages, homework, and passages to read and annotate in class. Students may take the activity pages home if they do not have enough time to complete them during class.

For any activity pages that are completed as homework, make time at the beginning of the next lesson to go over student responses and provide feedback. Allow students time to make corrections to their own work as appropriate.

Passages: There are three passages for each week. Students will read the texts with the teacher, with a partner, or independently based on the reading activity for the day. Students will annotate the passages to demonstrate their understanding of the phonics, syllabication, and morphology instruction in the lesson. In Grade 3, students are making the transition to becoming fully independent readers, who are prepared to confidently tackle natural text in any grade level-appropriate book. Students are taught to segment more difficult words using the code knowledge they have learned in order to read challenging, unfamiliar words.

Each unit has 12–15 passages (three passages per week) for students to read. The first and second passages are read at least twice. The first passage of the week begins as a teacher demonstration, during which you model reading accurately and with appropriate rate and expression. You may choose to have students perform a choral read during the whole-group demonstration. On the second day, students reread the passage with a partner, practicing the fluency skills they saw modeled the day before. Partner reading may follow any routines, including taking turns reading the entire story, echo reading, or choral reading. On the third day, students independently read a new passage and answer comprehension questions. They reread the passage on the fourth day with partners and clear up any misunderstandings or misreadings. On the last day of the week, students read a new passage independently and answer comprehension questions.

During reading time, it is important to circulate and listen to students read. Use the provided Anecdotal Reading Record located in the Teacher Resources section at the end of this Teacher Guide to note students' progress. You can make multiple copies of the blank record to have on hand when listening to students read aloud. You should strive to hear every student read aloud at least once or twice each week.

Vocabulary supports have been added to the lessons, providing opportunities for you to review domain-specific vocabulary, idioms or expressions, and text features with students before they read independently or with partners. You may also want to take time to prepare definitions of words before students read each passage or create a routine in which students look up unfamiliar words using a classroom resource.

Comprehension is the goal of learning to read. To this end, comprehension discussion questions are included in the Teacher Guide. The discussion questions are labeled Literal, Inferential, or Evaluative. Literal questions can be answered by citing a specific text reference. Inferential questions require understanding and interpretation of text. Evaluative questions require students to access prior knowledge, synthesize, and hypothesize an answer. In addition, activity pages with written comprehension questions are also included with the passages.

UNIT AND LESSON FEATURES

Within each Teacher Guide, you will find the following elements in the order listed:

- A Table of Contents that provides a quick overview of the time allocation, skills, and activities included in each lesson and the unit as a whole.
- Individual Lessons for the unit:
  - Each lesson begins with a list of the Primary Focus Objectives. These objectives are tagged with the corresponding Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Standards. The objectives are repeated in subsequent parts of the lesson in association with the specific instructional activity with which they are associated.
  - A list of the Formative Assessment opportunities within the lesson. These assessments are linked to the Primary Focus Objectives and are also tagged with the corresponding Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Standards. Not every Primary Focus Objective is evaluated in every lesson. Rather, specific objectives are evaluated in different lessons. Over the course of the entire unit, the Primary Focus Objectives are assessed on multiple occasions so you have a clear sense of individual student progress with regard to unit skills before the end of the unit.
  - A Lesson at a Glance chart listing the lesson’s instructional activities, the materials needed, and the amount of time allotted to each activity.
  - An Advance Preparation section that prompts you to select and/or prepare lesson materials prior to the lesson. Whenever a lesson activity suggests that you write something on the board/chart paper, this information is included in Advance Preparation. Universal Access preparation prompts are also included to ensure that you are ready to adapt specific activities as needed for English Language Learners or students who need additional support.
  - Throughout each lesson, Support and Challenge sidebars provide further guidance to assist you in differentiating instruction. ELL Access sidebars provide specific tips for working with English Language Learners.
  - Foundational Skills Additional Support activities are suggested at the end of each lesson for more practice and follow-up reinforcement of skills outside the 30-minute instructional block devoted to the program. These activities can be used with any students needing more help, including students with special needs and English Language Learners.
    - Additional Support activities include:
      - Writing prompts based on each of the passages that students read. The prompts are rooted in the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills standards for G3;
      - Routines for students to share their writing and provide feedback to each other; and
      - Phonics activity pages that provide additional practice on the phonics skills taught or reviewed in the lesson.
      - High Frequency Irregular Words (Tricky Words) instruction and review

- Teacher Resource Activity Pages found in the Teacher Resources section at the end of the Teacher Guide should be copied as desired for students to work on.
- Dictation Pretest and Posttest assessment(s) are included in the first and final lessons of the unit. The words in these assessments are the same so you may monitor student progress and mastery of specific sound-spellings.
- Teacher Resources, consisting of assorted forms and documents for monitoring student progress, as well as an answer key for the unit Activity Book, completes each Teacher Guide.

---

UNIT 1 CONTENT

In Unit 1, students will review: (1) a number of spellings from Grade 2 with an emphasis on blends, digraphs, and alternative sound-spellings; (2) words with closed and open syllables; and (3) words with common inflectional and derivational endings.

---

VOWEL SPELLINGS

Vowel sounds are made with an open mouth and unobstructed flow of air. There are nineteen vowel sounds in English, and ten are quickly reviewed in Unit 1.

The single-letter spellings for the “short” vowel sounds:

- ‘o’ > /o/ (hop)
- ‘e’ > /e/ (pet)
- ‘a’ > /a/ (hat)
- ‘i’ > /i/ (it)
- ‘u’ > /u/ (but)

The basic spellings for the “long” vowel sounds:

- /oe/ > ‘o’ (go) and ‘o_e’ (hope)
- /ee/ > ‘e’ (be) and ‘ee’ (see)
- /ae/ > ‘a_e’ (cake)
- /ie/ > ‘i’ (hi) and ‘i_e’ (hike)
- /ue/ > ‘u_e’ (cube)

In this unit, students are not asked to read and spell words with vowel digraph spellings such as ‘aw’, ‘oe’, and ‘ai’. They also are not asked to cope with tricky spellings for vowel sounds, like the letter ‘a’ which routinely stands for /a/ (cat), /æ/ (table), /o/ (lava), and schwa /ə/ (about). Instruction on alternative vowel sounds will continue in the remaining units.

---

CONSONANT SPELLINGS

In Unit 1, the following spellings for consonant sounds are quickly reviewed:

- 't' > /t/ (top), 'tt' > /t/ (sitting), 'ed' > /t/ (asked), and 'bt' > /t/ (doubt)
- 'd' > /d/ (dot), 'dd' > /d/ (add), and 'ed' > /d/ (filled)
- 'p' > /p/ (pot) and 'pp' > /p/ (napping)
- 'b' > /b/ (bat) and 'bb' > /b/ (rubbing)
- 'c' > /k/ (cat), 'k' > /k/ (kid), 'cc' > /k/ (hiccup), 'ck' > /k/ (black), and 'ch' > /k/ (school)
- 'g' > /g/ (gift), 'gg' > /g/ (egg), and 'gh' > /g/ (ghost)
- 'ch' > /ch/ (chin) and 'tch' > /ch/ (itch)
- 'j' > /g/ (jump)
- 'f' > /f/ (fit), 'ff' > /f/ (stuff), 'ph' > /f/ (phone), and 'gh' > /f/ (rough)
- 'v' > /v/ (vet)
- 's' > /s/ (sun) and 'ss' > /s/ (dress)
- 'z' > /z/ (zip), 'zz' > /z/ (buzz), and 's' > /z/ (dogs)
- 'th' > /th/ (thin) as a spelling for (unvoiced) /th/
- 'th' > /th/ (them) as a spelling for (voiced) /th/
- 'm' > /m/ (mad), 'mm' > /m/ (swimming), 'mb' > /m/ (comb)
- 'n' > /n/ (nut), 'nn' > /n/ (running), and 'kn' > /n/ (knock)
- 'ng' > /ng/ (sing) and 'n' > /ng/ (pink)
- 'sh' > /sh/ (shop)
- 'h' > /h/ (hot)
- 'w' > /w/ (wet) and 'wh' > /w/ (when)
- 'l' > /l/ (lip) and 'll' > /l/ (bell)
- 'r' > /r/ (red), 'rr' > /r/ (ferret), and 'wr' > /r/ (wrist)
- 'y' > /y/ (yes)

- 'x' > /x/ (tax) as a spelling for the sound combination /x/ (/k/ + /s/)
- 'qu' > /qu/ (quit) as a spelling for the sound combination /qu/ (/k/ + /w/)

Students also review consonant blends with two and three letters:

- 'bl', 'cl', 'fl', 'gl', 'pl', 'sl', 'br', 'cr', 'dr', 'fr', 'gr', 'pr', 'tr', 'sc', 'sk', 'sm', 'sn', 'sp', 'st', 'sw', 'tw', 'ld', 'nt', 'ft', 'lk', and 'nd'
- 'scr', and 'spl', 'thr', 'shr', 'spr', 'str', and 'tch'

The above list includes the basic code spelling for each consonant sound as well as some common spelling alternatives. When a sound can be spelled more than one way, it has spelling alternatives. For example, the sound /k/ can be spelled several different ways: cat, kit, soccer, rock, and school are the spellings reviewed in Unit 1.

The consonant list for Unit 1 also illustrates another kind of complexity in the English writing system: the existence of tricky spellings. When a spelling can represent more than one sound, it is a tricky spelling. For example, notice the tricky spelling 's' can stand for /s/ as in cats or /z/ as in dogs. Tricky spellings often cause problems for students when they are reading. When they come upon an unfamiliar printed word with an 's' in it, they may need to try pronouncing the 's' as /s/ and then as /z/ in order to correctly identify the word. The list of consonant spellings also includes digraph (two-letter) and trigraph (three-letter) spellings, such as: (1) 'sh' in shop; (2) 'ng' in sing; (3) 'qu' in quick; and (4) 'tch' as a spelling for /ch/ as in itch.

In digraph spellings, two different letters stand for one sound. You may choose to teach students the terms digraph and trigraph. An alternative, which works for both digraphs and trigraphs, is to characterize the letters as a "letter team," where two or more letters work together to stand for one sound. Whatever terms you use, it is extremely important for students to understand that a letter can stand for a single sound all by itself or it can work with other letters to stand for a single sound. For example, when discussing the word rinse, you are encouraged to talk about how the 's' and the 'e' work together as a letter team to stand for the /s/ sound, just like the letters 't' and 'h' work together to stand for the /th/ sound in the word with.

The consonant sounds are listed in a particular order to help students learn more about the sounds. Many of the consonants have unvoiced and voiced pairs such as /s/ and /z/, /f/ and /v/. When comparing these sounds, students will notice their vocal box vibrates when saying voiced consonants, while it does not with unvoiced consonants. The voiced and voiceless pairs sometimes "share" spellings. For example, 's' is a spelling for the voiceless /s/ in cats and the voiced /z/ in dogs. Having a deep understanding about the sounds of English can help you explain sounds and spellings to students.

An understanding of the sounds of the language and the similarities among them can also help you understand students' spelling. Sometimes even the strangest-looking "invented" spellings make sense if you understand which sounds are similar to other sounds. Students often misspell a word by choosing a spelling for a sound that is similar to the sound they are trying to spell. For example, a student who writes chump for jump has confused sounds made with the same mouth position. The 'ch' spelling can therefore be seen as closer to the correct spelling than we might initially assume.

For more information on the program’s approach to how phonics is taught with the basic and advanced code, please visit the program’s digital components site.

---

SYLLABICATION

One-, two- and multisyllable words are reviewed in Unit 1 lessons. Students identify the smaller words that make up compound words. They identify the first two of six major syllable sounds: closed (short vowel) and open (long vowel). Closed syllables are defined as being “closed up” by a vowel, such as in the word pat. Open syllables are defined as being “left open” without a consonant, such as in the word go.

For more information on the program’s approach to using chunking to decode multisyllable words, please visit the program’s digital components site and look for Appendix C in the Teacher Resources.

---

MORPHOLOGY

Unit 1 focuses on inflectional endings -s, -es, -ed, -ing, -er (comparative), and -est and the derivational endings -y, -er (noun), and -less. Students review how the endings change the meaning and/or part of speech of the root word. They practice reading the words and using them in sentences. Students will identify spelling changes such as dropping the final ‘e’, doubling the final consonant, or changing ‘y’ to ‘i’ before adding ‘es’, ‘er’, or ‘ed’.

---

WRITING

Encoding

Students practice spelling and writing words and sentences with all of the target sound-spellings, morphemes, and syllable types covered in Unit 1. Dictation words include short and long vowel sounds, consonant blends, double letter consonants, silent letter combinations, consonant digraphs, and consonant blends with digraphs. Students practice spelling multisyllabic words with the inflectional endings -s, -es, -ed, -ing, -er, and -est and the derivational endings -y, -er, and -less. In addition, students practice spelling abbreviations for titles with names, streets in addresses, states, days of the week, months of the year, and measurements.

Reading Comprehension Questions and Writing Extension

All twelve reading passages include comprehension questions. Students get alternating opportunities to respond to these orally or as a written exercise in their Activity Books. Each reading passage also includes an optional writing prompt that allows students to write for 10 minutes.

These are great opportunities for students to practice their cursive writing, and for teachers to check students’ letter formation, letter and word spacing, line quality, slant, and letter connections. In all instances that involve student writing, be sure that students write their responses legibly in cursive with complete words, thoughts, and answers, leaving appropriate spaces between words. Provide modeling when necessary.

---

HIGH-FREQUENCY IRREGULAR WORDS (TRICKY WORDS)

Appendix D of the Grade 3 Skills Teacher Resources on the digital components site includes a list of high-frequency irregular words used in the Unit 1 passages. The list also indicates each word's correlation to other research-based lists (e.g., Dolch, Fry, and Zeno). Each Tricky Words lesson in the Additional Support section includes one to seven words from this list. Additional words from the Unit 1 Tricky Words list can be included or swapped out with the words in the lesson, if time allows and if students need practice with different words. Note that some lessons may not include any Tricky Word instruction.

---

ASSESSMENT

Dictation Pretest and Posttest

Unit 1 has an encoding pretest and a posttest. Both assessments use the same words so you can monitor students' mastery of the sound-spellings addressed in the unit.

Formative Assessments and Additional Support

Throughout this unit, formative assessments are clearly marked for monitoring individual student performance and progress in key skills. Quick "Checks for Understanding" to evaluate classroom performance as a whole are also designated in various lessons.

Careful attention to this information, collected on a daily basis, will enable you to quickly determine which students may benefit from reteaching and/or more practice in particular skills using the Additional Support activities found at the end of each lesson.

---

TEACHER RESOURCES

In this section at the end of the Teacher Guide, you will find forms and charts which may be useful, including the following:

- Sample Anecdotal Reading Record
- Anecdotal Reading Record—Unit 1
- Sample Discussion Questions Observation Record
- Discussion Questions Observation Record—Unit 1
- Additional Support Activity Pages
- Activity Book Answer Key
- Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Correlation Chart
- English Language Proficiency Standards Correlation Chart

BASIC CODE

Short and Long Vowels

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally review short and long vowel sounds. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will identify and decode words with short and long vowel sounds.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify syllables in compound words. TEKS 3.2.A.iii

Morphology

Students will add inflectional endings –s and –es to root words.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Pat’s Bike” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in the

- text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will take the dictation pretest for Unit 1.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iii; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 1.1

Compound Words

- TEKS 3.2.A.iii

Observation

Discussion Questions Observation Record

- TEKS 3.4

Activity Page 1.4

Unit 1 Dictation Pretest

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iii; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|---------------------|
| PART 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                     |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                     |
| Review Short and Long Vowel Sounds                                                             | 3 min.  |                     |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                     |
| Review Short and Long Vowel Sounds                                                             | 3 min.  |                     |
| Review Syllables                                                                               | 3 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 1.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                     |
| Root Words and Inflectional Endings with Verbs: –s and –es                                     | 6 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 1.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                     |
| PART 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                     |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                     |
| Read “Pat’s Bike” with Accuracy                                                                | 10 min. | ☐ Activity Page 1.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                     |
| Unit 1 Dictation Pretest                                                                       | 5 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 1.4 |

final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Note to Teacher

- If you do not already have a chart with guidelines for active listening posted in the classroom, use the list below to create one. Refer to the chart frequently when students begin small group or partner work or before a class discussion.

Active Listening Guidelines

- Look at the speaker and listen carefully.
- Ask questions that are relevant or follow along with the topic.
- Answer questions using details and descriptions.
- When the speaker is finished sharing, wait to be recognized before you ask questions.

Phonics—Decoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their pronunciation of certain sounds as they decode words, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Letter Sounds document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Reading

- Prepare the Unit 1 Discussion Questions Observation Record found in the Teacher Resources for use with students as they read aloud. Over the course of each week, be sure to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer literal, inferential, and evaluative questions and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- The encoding activity in Lesson 1 is also the Unit 1 pretest. Students will spell words with sound-spellings that are reviewed in this unit to provide a snapshot of their mastery of individual phonics skills. In Lesson 20, students will spell the same words again in the posttest to show growth and mastery of the sound-spellings reviewed in Unit 1.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: toolbox, sunset, and bike.

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Ask yes/no questions about the words in the activity (e.g., “Is the vowel sound in mat the same as the vowel sound in mate?”).

Intermediate

After asking each question, provide students with specific sentence frames: The vowel sound in [word] is long. The vowel sound in [word] is short.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Encourage each student to expand and/or build on other students’ responses; for example, by comparing and contrasting (e.g., “The vowel sound in cap is short, but the vowel sound in cape is long.”).

ELPS 1.C

Lesson 1: Basic Code: Short and Long Vowels, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review short and long vowel sounds. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW SHORT AND LONG VOWEL SOUNDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that vowels can make different sounds.
- Introduce the terms long and short using the following examples. Say each word, emphasizing the long or short vowel sound. Have students repeat the word back to you.

| Short | Long |
|-------|------|
| cap   | cape |
| pet   | Pete |
| sit   | site |

- Say the following words, instructing students to raise one hand when they hear a short vowel sound or two hands when they hear a long vowel sound: rid, cut, pine, mat, code, ride, cute, cod, pin, and fate.

Lesson 1: Basic Code: Short and Long Vowels, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and decode words with short and long vowel sounds.

TEKS 3.2.A.i

TEKS 3.2.A.iii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations.

REVIEW SHORT AND LONG VOWEL SOUNDS (3 MIN.)

- Write the following words on the board: pin, mat, cod, cut, and rid.
- Point to the word pin and read it aloud.
- Ask, “What is the vowel sound?” (/i/) “Is it short or long?” (short)
- Have a volunteer turn pin into a word with the long vowel sound /ie/. Read the new word aloud with the students. (pine)
- Say, “Adding a final ‘e’ to the end of the word changed the vowel sound from short to long.”
- Repeat the routine with the other words on the board. (mat/mate; cod/code; cut/cute; rid/ride)

REVIEW SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Say, “A compound word is a word that is made up of two smaller words.”
- Say the following words: backpack, bathtub, firefly, and goldfish.
- Ask, “What do these words have in common?” (They are compound words. Each word is made up of two smaller words.)
- Write the word backpack on the board. Mark the syllable break: back•pack.
- Ask, “How many syllables are in backpack?” (two)
- Point to the words back and pack, and have the students read each word aloud with you. Then, read the compound word aloud together.
- Repeat the routine with the other compound words.
- Direct students to Activity Page 1.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Monitor students’ responses to determine whether they can correctly divide a compound word into smaller words.

Challenge

Challenge students to generate additional compound words and share them with a partner. Have the partner identify the syllables. Then have partners switch roles.

Activity Page 1.1

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Remind students that in English, verb forms have different endings. Point out the verbs used in the lesson: dig/digs, rush/rushes, watch/watches.

Intermediate

Have students practice using the verbs by providing sentence frames. For example:
He _____ in the sand.
I _____ in the sand.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Ask volunteers to share the words for digs, rushes, and watches in their home language.

ELPS 1.C

Lesson 1: Basic Code: Short and Long Vowels, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add inflectional endings –s and –es to root words. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS WITH VERBS: –S, –ES (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that a suffix is a word part added to the end of a verb to make a different word. On the board, write the examples: –s, –es.
- Say, “We add –s or –es to a verb to make the subject and the verb agree.”
- Write dig on the board. Read the word aloud. Say, “This is a word for an action that is happening right now: I dig in the garden. We dig in the garden. They dig in the garden.”
- Say, “I can add the suffix –s to the end of the word to show that someone else is doing the action right now.”
- Add –s to change it to digs.
- Use the word in sentences, noting he, she, and the dog: “She digs in a garden. He digs in a garden. The dog digs in a garden.”
- Say, “When I change who is doing the action from I, you, we, or they to someone or something else, I may need to add the suffix –s or –es to the verb: I dig in the garden. He digs in the garden. Both dig and digs are present tense verbs, meaning that the action is happening now. Let’s try another one.”
- Write rush on the board. Say the word. Add the suffix –s.
- Ask, “If I want to show that someone else is doing this action in the present, should I write the word like this?” (no)
- Cross out –s and replace it with –es. Say, “rushes.” Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, “If I want to say that someone else rushes, I need to change the suffix to –es because rush ends in –sh and I am saying two syllables: rush • es.”

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Use the word in a sentence: “He rushes.”
- Repeat the process with watch.
- Remind students that words that end in -ss, -sh, -ch, -x, or -zz need the ‘e’ before the ‘s’.
- Direct students to Activity Page 1.2 and review the instructions. Have students work on the activity page independently. If they don’t complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 1.2

---

Challenge

Ask volunteers to read some or part of the story aloud. After they read, point out any adjustments the student made to read with accuracy.

Activity Page 1.3

Support

Before reading “Pat’s Bike,” show the images you prepared in advance.

Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Encourage students to follow along as you read the story aloud, annotating words that are unfamiliar to them.

Have students share unfamiliar words and discuss them as a group.

Lesson 1: Basic Code: Short and Long Vowels, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Pat’s Bike” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.4

READ “PAT’S BIKE” WITH ACCURACY (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 1.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: scans, zips
  - phrases: “gazes at the sunset”
- Have students follow along as you read “Pat’s Bike.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., studies and inflates).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A.iii Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “Pat’s Bike”

1. Literal. What is wrong with Pat’s bike?
  - » The tire is flat and the rim is bent.
2. Literal. Who helps Pat with her bike?
  - » Felix helps Pat fix her bike.
3. Literal. What does Felix bring to fix Pat’s bike?
  - » Felix brings a pump and a toolbox.
4. Literal. What does Pat do after Felix fixes her bike?
  - » Pat and Felix ride to the lake and eat snacks.
5. Inferential. What does Pat learn?
  - » It is important to learn how to fix things; it is important to help people.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Ask students yes/no questions using simple phrases to summarize the story: Does Pat like her bike? Does Pat’s bike break? Does Felix fix Pat’s bike?

Intermediate

Provide students with a specific sentence frame for summarizing and use temporal words: When Pat’s bike breaks, she feels _____.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to expand or build on other students’ responses.

ELPS 4.G; ELPS 4.I

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you think I read this sentence with appropriate expression.” Read the sentence in a monotone voice: “Oh, no! The tire is flat and the rim is bent,” says Pat.” (thumbs-down)

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

- Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students’ performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.
- Turn and Talk: Write the inferential question on the board. Say, “Talking with a partner is one way to bring more perspectives and information to our discussion. Let’s take a moment to think about how we would answer this question.”
- After providing some wait time, choose a volunteer to act as your partner. Model (a) asking your partner the question, (b) asking any clarifying questions, and (c) repeating back to your partner what was shared. Then have your partner follow the same three steps. After both of you have shared, show the class that giving the thumbs-up sign signals when both partners have shared.

- Model sharing your partner’s answer with the group. Say, “Notice that I did not share my own answer. I shared my partner’s answer.” Ask your partner, “Did what I shared match what you shared with me?” Wait for a response and make changes, if necessary.
- Say, “Now it’s your turn.” Guide students through the three steps as they complete the activity with a partner. Remind students to signal with a thumbs-up when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- Call on one student to share their partner’s thinking with the group. Ask the other partner if what was shared by the partner matches what they shared. Provide specific corrective feedback, or point out examples of how the response demonstrated how to do a Turn and Talk share.

Lesson 1: Basic Code: Short and Long Vowels, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will take the dictation pretest for Unit 1.

 TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iii; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

UNIT 1 DICTATION PRETEST (5 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 1.4. Review the instructions together.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with different sound spellings that they will learn about in Unit 1.
- Say the word blast. Repeat it. Have students write it on Activity Page 1.4.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

Activity Page 1.4

 TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (ii) spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants.

- |             |             |             |
|-------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1. blast    | 4. shipping | 7. trophies |
| 2. clipped  | 5. crumbs   | 8. selfless |
| 3. wrenches | 6. quicker  | 9. funny    |

- Then tell students that you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                |
|--------------------------------|
| 1. Mr. Smith uses a stopwatch. |
| 2. My stomach aches.           |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

~~~~~
End Lesson
~~~~~

Lesson 1: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 1.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 1.3.
- Have them reread “Pat’s Bike.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 1.1.
- Tell students that they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences. Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.

- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: kind, also, thank, most, learn, begin and someone.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word kind and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘i’ is pronounced /ie/ and the ‘n’ and ‘d’ are blended together to say /n/ /d/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /k/ for this letter. We say /ie/ for this letter. We blend and say /n/ /d/ for these two letters. Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /k/ /ie/ /n/ /d/, kind. Say, “Kind! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘That was very kind of you’ or ‘She is very kind.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say kind. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

2

BASIC CODE

Consonant Blends

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally review words with consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read words with consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify and read words with closed syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will add inflectional endings –s and –es to root words.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Pat’s Bike” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Pat’s Bike” Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B.iv Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Review Consonant Blends                                                                        | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Read Words with Consonant Blends                                                               | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Read Closed One-Syllable Words                                                                 | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 2.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                            |
| Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -s, -es                                                   | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 2.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Reread “Pat’s Bike”                                                                            | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Spell Words with Consonant Blends                                                              | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Prepare one copy of the blank Unit 1 Anecdotal Reading Record for every student in your class. Label each record with a student's name. Place all of these records in alphabetical order on a dedicated clipboard with a pen so they are ready for use when students read aloud.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity, such as toolbox, sunset, and bike.

Lesson 2: Basic Code: Consonant Blends, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review words with consonant blends.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW CONSONANT BLENDS (3 MIN.)

- Explain to students that today they will blend words with consonant blends.
- Say, “I will say some segmented sounds. You will blend the sounds to say a word.”
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /f/ /l/ /a/ /g/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (flag)
- Write the word flag on the board.
- Point out the consonant blend ‘fl’ at the beginning of the word. Remind students that consonant blends can appear at the end of words too.
- Repeat with the following words: snug, splint, twin, throb, screen, club, plum, brim, glum, grab, bend, and belt.

Lesson 2: Basic Code: Consonant Blends, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

-  Students will identify and read words with consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.A.i
-  Students will identify and read words with closed syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH CONSONANT BLENDS (3 MIN.)

- Write print on the board.
- Ask a student to read the word, first in a segmented fashion and then blended.

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Insert 's' to create sprint.
- As you make this change, say, "If that is print, what is this?" (sprint)
- Continue this process with the remaining words, calling on individual students to blend and read words.
- Complete the chaining for the various consonant blends.

1. print > sprint > splint > split > slit > sit > silt > silk > milk > mill > pill > spill
2. bray > gray > pray > tray > stray > stay > slay > lay > clay > play > splay > spray
3. clump > plump > plum > glum > glom > glob > slob > slab > slap > flap > clap > clasp

Support

Use rhyming to help students who struggle with short vowel sounds. Have students work with partners to say words that rhyme with the following words: sap, let, and sit.

READ CLOSED ONE-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Write the word bat on the board. Circle the 'a'.
- Say, "This vowel makes the short 'a' sound /a/." Have students repeat the sound.
- Point out that the vowel 'a' is followed by a consonant. Explain that we call this kind of syllable a "closed" syllable because the vowel is "closed up" by a consonant.
- Say, "Let's blend and read this word together." (/b/ /a/ t/, bat)
- Ask, "How many syllables does bat have? What kind of syllable is this?" (one; closed)
- Repeat with the following words: bit, mud, pot, and fell.
- Direct students to Activity Page 2.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 2.1

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has a closed syllable: red." (thumbs-up)

Lesson 2: Basic Code: Consonant Blends, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add inflectional endings –s and –es to root words.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS: –S, –ES (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that regular nouns are made plural by adding –s or –es.
- Write pig on the board. Say the word. Point out that it is a noun.
- Use the word in a sentence: “The pig eats.”
- Say, “If I want to say that there is more than one pig, I add the suffix –s to the word.”
- Remind students that the tricky spelling ‘s’ can stand for /s/ as in cats or /z/ as in dogs. Tell them that when they come upon an unfamiliar word with an ‘s’ in it, they may need to try pronouncing the ‘s’ as /s/ and then as /z/ in order to correctly read the word.
- Add –s to pigs. Read the new word aloud with the students. Say, “The ‘s’ in this word is pronounced /z/. Pigs.”
- Use the word in a sentence: “The pigs eat together.”
- Write fox on the board. Say the word. Add the suffix –s. Underline the ‘x’.
- Say, “The word fox ends in an ‘x’. We know that nouns that end in –ss, –sh, –ch, –x, or –zz need the ‘e’ before the ‘s’ or the suffix –es.” Write the letter combinations on the board as you say them.
- Say, “If I want to show that there is more than one fox, I need to replace the –s with –es.”
- Cross out –s and replace it with –es. Read the new word aloud with the students.
- Use the word in a sentence: “The foxes run.”
- Repeat the process with boss.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Challenge

Have students generate a list of five nouns that end in ‘y’. Ask them to trade lists with a partner. Have students write the plural version of the nouns on their list.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Remind students that in English, when a singular noun becomes plural, the ending of the word usually changes. Point out the nouns used in the lesson: pig, fox, and pony. Ask whether the words show one or more than one of each kind of animal. (one, singular)

Intermediate

Have students practice using the singular nouns from the lesson (pig, fox, pony) by providing sentence frames. For example, The _____ rolls in the mud.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Ask volunteers to share the singular form of the nouns pig, fox, and pony in their home language.

ELPS 1.C

- Remind students that words that end in -ss, -sh, -ch, -x, or -zz need the 'e' before the 's'.
- Write pony on the board. Say the word.
- Say, "This noun ends with the letter 'y'. We know that when a noun ends with the letter 'y', we need to change the y to i and add -es to make the plural form."
- Cross out the 'y' and replace it with 'i' and add '-es'. Read the new word aloud with the students.
- Use the word in a sentence: "Three ponies are by the barn."
- Say, "Remember, when a noun ends with a 'y', to make the plural form we change the 'y' to an 'i' and add -es."
- Repeat with puppy.
- Direct students to Activity Page 2.2 and review the instructions. Have students work on the activity page independently. If they don't complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 2.2

---

Lesson 2: Basic Code: Consonant Blends, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Pat’s Bike” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “PAT’S BIKE” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 1.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Pat’s Bike” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Pat’s Bike.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline three words that have consonant blends, such as past;
  - circle three words that end in -s or -es, such as wishes; and
  - highlight three words that have one closed syllable, such as Pat.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Challenge

Have students use a different color to identify multisyllabic words that contain closed syllables.

Activity Page 1.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with consonant blends.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Observation: “Pat’s Bike” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Pat’s Bike,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Unit 1 Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 2: Basic Code: Consonant Blends, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with consonant blends.

TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH CONSONANT BLENDS (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journals.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words that have consonant blends.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to figure out how to spell the words.
- Give the example split. Ask, “What sounds does it contain?” (/s/ /p/ /l/ /i/ /t/)
- Write split on the board.
- Say the word twin. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journals.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |         |         |              |
|---------|---------|--------------|
| 1. twin | 4. pink | 7. drumstick |
| 2. snug | 5. bend | 8. splint    |
| 3. club | 6. plum | 9. smiles    |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journals.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

TEKS 3.2.B.iv Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

1. The frog is in a trap.
2. Fill the glass to the brim.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 2: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 2.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are finished writing, ask pairs to share and check each other's work.

SHARING

- On chart paper, copy the "Response Starters for Writing About Text" table as shown below.

- Say, “Yesterday you wrote a response to the prompt about ‘Pat’s Bike.’ The prompt asked you to think and write about a time when you helped a friend or when a friend helped you. Today you will share your writing. We will practice using a Response Starter to give each other constructive, or helpful, feedback about the writing prompt response.”
- Display the Response Starters table below, leaving only the first Response Starter uncovered. Read the first Response Starter aloud. Say, “As I listen to someone share their writing, I am going to be listening for a word or short phrase that helps me understand something about this response to the prompt. Listen as I read a sample writing response.”
- Say, “One time, my friend Sam lost his book. He was very upset and was looking everywhere. I helped him look for it. We found Sam’s book under his desk. He thanked me for helping him find it.”
- Say, “This writing response says that Sam was looking everywhere for his book. That helps me understand that the book was very important to Sam. Now I will use the Response Starter to give feedback.” Point to each word of the Response Starter as you read it, filling in the blanks as you read. Say, “When you used the words looking everywhere, it helped me understand that the book was very important to Sam.”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn to practice using the Response Starter to give each other feedback.” Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Pat’s Bike” on Activity Page TR 1.1. Listeners should use the sentence starter to provide constructive feedback. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on one student to share their writing response with the group. Then have the student call on a listener to comment, using the Response Starter to provide constructive feedback. Provide as much support as necessary to help the student who is responding to successfully use the Response Starter. As time allows, call on two or three more volunteers to share their writing response and ask for feedback.
- Keep this table for all lessons that include writing about text. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note a) where they used evidence correctly, b) where their word choice was impactful, and c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say kind and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, kinnd. Write the letters to spell kind on the board.
- Point to the word kind and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /ie/ sound is spelled with ‘i’ and the blended /n/ /d/ sounds are spelled with ‘n’ and ‘d.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /k/ for this letter. We say /ie/ for this letter. We blend and say /n/ /d/ for these two letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /k/ /ie/ /n/ /d/, kind. Say, “Kind! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words also, thank, most, learn, begin and someone. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.

- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

BASIC CODE

Words with Double-Letter Consonants

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally review words with double-letter consonants. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read words with double-letter consonants. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify and read closed two-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will add inflectional endings -ed and -ing to root words.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Jazz Music” fluently and answer questions about key details in

- the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with double-letter consonants.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 3.2

Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

- TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                        |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                                  |
| Blend and Segment Double-Letter Consonant Words                                                | 3 min.  |                                                  |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Read Words with Double Consonants                                                              | 3 min.  |                                                  |
| Read Closed Two-Syllable Words                                                                 | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 3.1       |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                                  |
| Root Words and Inflectional Endings:–ed and –ing                                           | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 3.2       |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                                  |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                                  |
| Read “Jazz Music”                                                                              | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 3.3, 3.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Spell Words with /f/ > ‘ff’, /l/ > ‘ll’, /s/ > ‘ss’,/z/ > ‘zz’                             | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal       |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

---

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: role, stunning, velvet, adapt, impact.

Lesson 3: Basic Code: Words with Double-Letter Consonants, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review words with double-letter consonants.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i

BLEND AND SEGMENT DOUBLE-LETTER CONSONANT WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Explain to students that today they will blend words with double-letter consonants.
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds, and that they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say, “Listen to these two sounds: /a/ /d/.” Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (add)
- Repeat with the following words: egg, fuzz, glass, hill, miss, kitten.

Lesson 3: Basic Code: Words with Double-Letter Consonants, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

 Students will identify and read words with double-letter consonants. TEKS 3.2.A.i

 Students will identify and read closed two-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH DOUBLE CONSONANTS (3 MIN.)

- Write the words egg, fuzz, glass, hill, miss, kitten on the board.
- Ask, “What do you notice about the word egg?” (It has two consonants.)

Support

Ask students to say the short vowel sounds with a partner. Then ask students to take turns saying words with short vowel sounds.

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Say, “Notice that when we say the words, we only say the consonant sound once, for the double-letter team. For example, we do not say /e/ /g/ /g/ (exaggerate the /g/ sound). We just say /e/ /g/.” Point to the word and read it aloud with the students.
- Repeat the routine with the other words from the Warm-Up.

READ CLOSED TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

NOTE: Students may have previously learned that double-consonant spellings are kept together as a unit when dividing syllables. Beginning in Grade 3, we move to the traditional convention of dividing between the double consonants.

- Remind students that they learned about closed-syllable words in Lesson 2.
- Write the word cat on the board.
- Point out that the word has a short vowel sound. Circle the ‘a’ and say the short vowel sound /a/. Have students repeat it. Read the word aloud with the students.
- Ask, “How many syllables does cat have?” (one)
- Point out that the vowel (‘a’) is followed by a consonant (‘t’). Remind students that this kind of syllable is a “closed” syllable because the vowel is “closed up” by the consonant.
- Write the word rabbit on the board.
- Circle the ‘a’ and ‘i’. Point out that the word has two short vowel sounds, /a/ and /i/.
- Point to the double ‘b’. Say, “I see a double consonant here. The letters work together to make a single /b/ sound.”
- Use a slash to mark the division between the syllables: rab•bit.
- Point to the first syllable. Ask, “What kind of syllable is this?” (closed)
- Point to the second syllable. Ask, “What kind of syllable is this?” (closed)
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat with the following words: cotton, button, goblet, happen.
- Direct students to Activity Page 3.1 and review the instructions.

Activity Page 3.1

Challenge

Have students generate a list of three root words.

Have them add the suffixes -ed and -ing to the words. Then ask them to write sentences with the six words they have created.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Ask students to raise their right hand if they hear a word about something happening in the past and their left hand if they hear a word about something happening now. Say aloud the following words from the lesson: enjoyed, ended, calling, filled, fishing.

Intermediate

Have students practice using the words by providing sentence frames. For example, Yesterday, he _____ the zoo. (enjoyed)

Advanced/

Advanced High

Ask volunteers to ask a question using one of the words. For example, Has the movie ended yet?

ELPS 1.C

- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has two closed syllables: laptop." (thumbs-up)

Lesson 3: Basic Code: Words with Double-Letter Consonants, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add inflectional endings -ed and -ing to root words.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS: -ED AND -ING (6 MIN.)

- Say, "A suffix is a word part that is added to the end of a word to change its meaning. Here are two common suffixes."
- Write -ed and -ing on the board.
- Review how to create words with inflectional endings. Write the root word cook on the board. Say, "Let's add -ed to cook to make the word cooked. When we add -ed, we show that cook happened in the past."
- Add -ed to cook. Say, "Yesterday, I cooked for my friends."
- Say, "Now, let's add -ing to cook to make the word cooking. When we add -ing, we show that cook is happening in the present."

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Add -ing to cook. Say, “Today, I am cooking for my family.”
- Write the word jump on the board. Ask, “What can we add to jump to show that it happened in the past?” (-ed)
- Add -ed to jump. Read the new word aloud with the students. Say, “Last week my cat jumped onto my friend’s head.”
- Ask, “What can we add to jump to show that it is happening now?”
- Add -ing to jump. Read the new word aloud with the students. Say, “I am happy that no one is jumping on their desk right now.”
- Repeat adding -ed and -ing to the following words: fish, fill, end, call. Note that -ed has a ‘t’ sound when it is added to cook, jump, and fish, but it has a ‘d’ sound when added to fill, end, and call.

Note: Students will categorize words that end in -ed by the sound they make in the next lesson.

- Direct students to Activity Page 3.2 and review the instructions. Have students work on the activity page independently. If they don’t complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 3.2

---

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Provide options for individual reading. Pair strong and struggling readers. Ask them first to read the first paragraph together, alternating between sentences. Then ask them to read the rest of the text independently.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to share their responses to the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.1

Activity Pages 3.3, 3.4

Lesson 3: Basic Code: Words with Double-Letter Consonants, Part 2*Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Jazz Music” fluently and answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ “JAZZ MUSIC” (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 3.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: impact, adapt, buzz
  - phrases: “buzzes with life,” “smooth like velvet,” “in a nutshell,” “on the spot,” “dizzying beats”
- Have students follow along as you read “Jazz Music.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., communities and attracted).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read.
- Then have them turn to Activity Page 3.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don’t complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their responses to the comprehension questions.

Support

Before reading “Jazz Music,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Lesson 3: Basic Code: Words with Double-Letter Consonants, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with double-letter consonants.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /F/ > ‘FF’, /L/ > ‘LL’, /S/ > ‘SS’, /Z/ > ‘ZZ’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain to students that they will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words that have double consonants. Point out that these words contain closed syllables.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to figure out how to spell the words.
- Give the example jazz. Ask, “What sounds does it contain?” (/j/ /a/ /z/)
- Write jazz on the board.
- Say the word less. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

Support

Emphasize to students that each double-letter combination produces only a single sound and the letters are not pronounced twice.

- |         |          |            |
|---------|----------|------------|
| 1. less | 4. shell | 7. fizzy   |
| 2. pull | 5. whiff | 8. cuff    |
| 3. roll | 6. chess | 9. compass |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. The rabbit was on the hill.
2. I will miss you.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 3: Foundational Skills Remediation

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 3.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 3.3 “Jazz Music.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 3.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write in complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: want, many, even, together, these, find and world.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word want and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘a’ is pronounced /aw/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /w/ for this letter. We say /aw/ for this letter. We blend and say /n/ /t/ for these letters. Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /w/ /aw/ /n/ /t/, want. Say, “Want! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘They want to keep jazz music going.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say want. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.

- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

REVIEW

Words with Double-Letter Consonants and the Suffixes -ed, -ing

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will review words with double-letter consonants. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read words with double-letter consonants and the suffixes -ed and -ing. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.vi
- Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with closed syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will read and define words with inflectional endings -ed and -ing. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

- Students will reread “Jazz Music” fluently with a partner. TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with double-letter consonants. TEKS 3.2.B.vii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Jazz Music” Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Blend Words with Double-Letter Consonants                                                      | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Read Words with Double-Letter Consonants and -ed, -ing                                  | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 4.1 |
| Read Closed Multisyllabic Words                                                                | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing                                          | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 4.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Reread “Jazz Music”                                                                            | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 3.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Spell Words with Double-Letter Consonants and -ed, -ing                                 | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

stable syllables; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire text.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping voices together to read the text.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: trumpet, piano, drums, velvet. You may also want to show a map of the United States with New Orleans, Louisiana marked.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with Double-Letter Consonants and the Suffixes -ed, -ing, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review words with double-letter consonants.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i

BLEND WORDS WITH DOUBLE-LETTER CONSONANTS (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that today they will continue to blend words with double-letter consonants.
- Explain that you will say some segmented sounds and then blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /d/ /i/ /l/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (dill)
- Repeat with the following words: ball, cliff, jazz, kiss, shell, will.
- Write the words on the board. Point out that the double-letter consonants make a single consonant sound.
- Ask, “When I see the word jazz, should I say /j/ /a/ /z/ /z/ (make two distinct /z/ sounds)?” (no)
- Say, “No, the letters ‘zz’ at the end of jazz make a single /z/ sound.”

Lesson 4: Review: Words with Double-Letter Consonants and the Suffixes -ed, -ing, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read words with double-letter consonants and the suffixes -ed and -ing. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.vi

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with closed syllables.

 TEKS 3.2.A.ii

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ WORDS WITH DOUBLE-LETTER CONSONANTS AND -ED, -ING (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that they will review the suffixes -ed and -ing today.
- Write the following words on the board: batted, jogged, and hopped.
- Write the following sounds in columns on the board: /ed/, /d/, and /t/.
- Explain to students that the suffix -ed can make the /ed/, /d/, or /t/ sound depending on the consonant that comes before it.
- Have a volunteer read the word batted aloud and underline the root word. (bat)
- Ask students what sound the -ed makes at the end of the word. (/ed/)
- Write the word batted beneath the /ed/ heading on the board.
- Repeat the routine with the other words on the board. (jogged: /d/; hopped: /t/)
- Write the words running and swimming on the board.
- Have a volunteer read the word running aloud and underline the root word. (run) Point out that we don't say two /n/ sounds because there are two 'n's in the word. The doubled 'n's work together to make a single /n/ sound.
- Direct students to Activity Page 4.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

READ CLOSED MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students of what they have learned about closed-syllable words. Write the word tennis on the board.
- Point out that each of the syllables has a short vowel sound. Circle the 'e' and 'i' and say the short vowel sounds. Have students repeat them.
- Point out that the vowels in each syllable are followed by a consonant. Remind students that this kind of syllable is a "closed" syllable because the vowel is "closed up" by the consonant.
- Read the word aloud with students.
- Write the word muffin on the board.
- Circle the 'u' and 'i'. Point out that the word has two short vowel sounds, /u/ and /i/.

Challenge

Ask students to share the forms of verbs that have irregular forms for the past tense and regular forms with doubled consonants for the form with -ing: run, win, sat. (ran/running; won/winning; sat/sitting)

Activity Page 4.1

Support

Ask students to read and clap the words to figure out how to divide each word into syllables.

- Say the sounds and have students repeat them.
- Point to the double 'f'. Say: "I see a double consonant here. Where do I divide between the syllables?" (between the double 'f's)
- With a slash, mark the division between the syllables: muf•fin.
- Point to the first syllable. Ask, "What kind of syllable is this?" (closed)
- Point to the second syllable. Ask, "What kind of syllable is this?" (closed)
- Read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat with the following words: blossom, classic, ribbon, and puppet.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with Double-Letter Consonants and the Suffixes -ed, -ing, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will read and define words with inflectional endings -ed and -ing. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS: -ED, -ING (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that they have learned about the suffixes -ed and -ing. Review that the suffix -ed shows that the action took place in the past and the suffix -ing can show that the action is taking place now.

Note: You may wish to point out to students that the -ing ending may also signify different parts of speech, such as nouns (e.g., She looks at the painting.) and adjectives (e.g., That was a boring book.). However, this and the following lessons on inflectional endings will focus on when the action is taking place (e.g., She is swimming in the pool.).

- Say, "We're going to take a look at how root words that end with a closed syllable change when we add the -ed and -ing suffixes. Some words stay the same, and for others, we double the last consonant."
- Explain that for most words in which the last three letters have a consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC) pattern (such as hum), we have to double the final consonant before adding a suffix like -ed or -ing.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Simplify the activity page by providing fewer word choices based on students' levels of proficiency.

Intermediate

Have students work with a proficient reader who acts as a mentor.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Students can work on the activity independently.

ELPS 1.F

- Write the word hum on the board, and read the word aloud with the students. Label the 'h' with a C. Label the 'u' with a V. Label the 'm' with a C.
- Write the words hummed and humming on the board and read them aloud with the students. Circle the second 'm' in both words.
- Then point to the word hummed. Ask, "What suffix do you see in this word?" (-ed) Circle the -ed.
- Ask, "If we use the suffix -ed, when did the action take place?" (in the past)
- Point to the word humming. Ask, "What suffix do you see in this word?" (-ing) Underline the -ing.
- Ask, "If we use the suffix -ing, when is the action taking place?" (now)
- Repeat the routine with the word stop, labeling the 't' with a C, the 'o' with a V, and the 'p' with a C.
- Write the words stopped and stopping on the board, and read the words aloud with the students. Then, have students identify the doubled consonant 'p'.
- Ask, "Which word would we use to describe an action happening now?" (stopping)
- Ask, "Which word would we use to describe an action that happened in the past?" (stopped)
- Repeat the routine with the following words: plan, trim, and grab.
- Say, "We've been working with one-syllable words with the CVC pattern, and adding the suffixes -ed and -ing. Let's take a look at adding the suffixes to two-syllable words that end with a closed syllable."
- Point out that words in which the first syllable is stressed (listen, happen) are an exception to the CVC rule for doubling consonants. In these cases, we do not double the final consonant before adding the ending: listening/listened; happening/happened.
- Say, "We have reviewed words that already have double-letter consonants before a suffix is added, such as stuff. Do you think we should add another 'f' to stuff when we add the suffix -ing?"
- Write stuffing (with 3 'f's) on the board.
- Say, "No, if a word already has two consonants, we don't need to add another one when we add a suffix."
- Point out that we also don't double the letters 'x', 'y', or 'z' before adding suffixes, e.g., boxing, paying.

- Direct students to Activity Page 4.2 and review the instructions. Have students work on the activity page independently. If they don't complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

---

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word describes an action taking place now: looked." (thumbs-down)

---

Lesson 4: Review: Words with Double-Letter Consonants and the Suffixes -ed, -ing, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Jazz Music” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “JAZZ MUSIC” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s text with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the text.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 3.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Jazz Music” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Jazz Music.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline at least three words with double-letter consonants, such as jazz.
  - circle at least three words with the suffixes -ed and -ing, such as connected.
  - highlight at least three multisyllabic words in which all syllables are closed, such as subject.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Support

Have students first look for single-syllable words with short vowel sounds before they try to identify words with two closed syllables.

Activity Page 3.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with double-letter consonants.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Observation: “Jazz Music” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Jazz Music,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with Double-Letter Consonants and the Suffixes -ed, -ing, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with double-letter consonants.

TEKS 3.2.B.vii

SPELL WORDS WITH DOUBLE-LETTER CONSONANTS AND -ED, -ING (5 MIN.)

- Direct students to take out their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words that have double-letter consonants. Point out that these words contain closed syllables.
- Remind students that the suffix -ed can make the /ed/, /d/, or /t/ sound.
- Give the example batted. Ask, “What sounds does batted contain?” (/b/ /a/ /t/ /ed/)
- Write batted on the board.
- Ask, “What is the root word in batted?” (bat)
- Remind them that most words that end in the CVC pattern (consonant-vowel-consonant) need to have the final consonant doubled before adding the suffix.
- Say, “So I know that since bat is a CVC word, I will double the ‘t’ to spell batted.”
- Say the word shipped. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants.

- |            |             |            |
|------------|-------------|------------|
| 1. shipped | 4. shopping | 7. getting |
| 2. rubbing | 5. plugging | 8. grinned |
| 3. spotted | 6. trapped  | 9. winning |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                      |
|----------------------|
| 1. I am skipping.    |
| 2. I spotted a ship. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

Lesson 4: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 4.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are finished, ask pairs to share and check their work.

SHARING

- Say, “Yesterday, you wrote a response to the prompt about ‘Jazz Music.’ The prompt asked you to identify the central idea of the text and to use at least two details from the passage that support this central idea. Today, you will share your writing. We will practice using another Response Starter to give each other constructive, or helpful, feedback about the writing prompt response.”
- Display the Response Starters table below, uncovering the second Response Starter. Read the Response Starter aloud. Say, “As we listen to a response, we are going to be listening for a central idea of ‘Jazz Music’ and details from the passage to support this central idea.”
- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Jazz Music” on Activity Page TR 3.1. Listeners should use either of the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide as much support as necessary to help the student who is responding to successfully use the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on one student to share their writing response with the group. Then have the student call on a listener to comment, using the Response Starter to provide constructive feedback. As time allows, call on two or three more volunteers to share their writing response and ask for feedback.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say want and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, wawnnt. Write the letters to spell want on the board.
- Point to the word want and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /aw/ sound is spelled with ‘a.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /w/ for this letter. We say /aw/ for this letter. We blend and say /n/ /t/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /w/ /aw/ /n/ /t/, want. Say, “Want! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words many, even, together, these, find and world. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.

- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

---

ENRICHMENT PASSAGE

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 5.2 for each student.
- Tell students they will be reading a short passage with some of the sound spellings they have recently learned.
- Direct students to the passage “The Preamble to the United States Constitution.” Tell students that they may read the passage either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the passage again and
  - underline three words with ed, such as included;
  - put a box around three words with -s, such as rules;
  - and highlight one word with double letter consonants, such as follow.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions independently. If they do not complete the activity page in class, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, review student responses and engage students in a discussion when the opportunity arises. Encourage students to build on each other’s responses with the following sentence starters:
  - I agree with _____ because. . .
  - I have an additional perspective about. . .
  - That is a great point because. . .
  - Another example is. . .

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will review identifying words with long and short vowels and consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read words with long and short vowels, consonant blends, and double-letter consonants. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.vi
- Students will identify closed syllables in two-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will add inflectional endings to root words. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

- Students will read and annotate “Baking Cupcakes” independently and answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will review spelling and writing words with long and short vowels, consonant blends, and double-letter consonants. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iii; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Dictation Journal

Phonics/Encoding Dictation

- TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.2.A.iii Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                        |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                                  |
| Give Me a Word                                                                                 | 3 min.  |                                                  |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Review: Vowel Sounds, Blends, and Consonant Sound Spellings                                    | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 5.1, 5.2 |
| Read Closed Two-Syllable Words                                                                 | 3 min.  |                                                  |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                                  |
| Review Inflectional Endings                                                                    | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 5.3       |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                                  |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                                  |
| Read “Baking Cupcakes” Independently                                                           | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 5.4, 5.5 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Encoding Review                                                                                | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal       |

---

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Gather pennies (or other small objects) for each pair of students. Tear out Activity Page 5.1 and cut out one set of Shop for Spellings Word Cards for each pair of students.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity, such as flour, sugar, butter, eggs, milk, whisk, and spatula.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review identifying words with long and short vowels and consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.A.i

GIVE ME A WORD (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that they are going to review words with blends and vowel sounds they have learned about this week.
- Write flag on the board. Say the word. Underline and point out the fl blend.
- Ask, “What is another word that begins with this blend?” (flow, flight, flock, flip, and so on)
- Point to the word flag again. Repeat the word.
- Ask, “What vowel sound does this word have? Is it long or short?” (/a/; short)
- Ask, “What is another word with the short /a/ vowel sound?” (map, trap, flap, sap, and so on)
- Repeat the routine with tray, splint, and stripe.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read words with long and short vowels, consonant blends, and double-letter consonants. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.vi

Students will identify closed syllables in two-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

REVIEW: VOWEL SOUNDS, BLENDS, AND CONSONANT SOUND SPELLINGS (3 MIN.)

- Organize students into pairs and distribute one set of pennies and Shop for Spellings Word Cards you have precut from Activity Page 5.1 for each pair of students. Then direct students to Activity Page 5.2.
- Review the instructions and game board for the Shop for Spellings game as a class. Answer questions.
- Circulate as students play the game.

READ CLOSED TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Write the following first syllable of a word on the board: com-. Say it aloud.
- Say, "A lot of words begin with this closed syllable. Let's solve some riddles to complete words that begin with com-."
- Say the first riddle and have students think of a second closed syllable to make a word that begins with com-. (compass)

|                                                   |                                                                              |
|---------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| a tool that always shows what direction North is  | a type of text that uses pictures and word bubbles to tell a story           |
| to force or pressure strongly                     | to carry out an action or to dedicate                                        |
| describes something that is made up of many parts | a bright object in space that develops a tail as it orbits closer to the sun |

- Add the second syllable to com- on the board. Ask a volunteer to read the complete word aloud. (compass)
- Repeat the routine with the remaining riddles. (e.g., com•ic, com•pel, com•mit, com•plex, com•et)

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has two closed syllables: bucket." (thumbs-up)

Activity Pages 5.1, 5.2

Challenge

Have partners continue the Closed Two-Syllable Words activity by taking turns providing each other with a first syllable and having their partner complete the word with a closed syllable, for example: gob- (goblet), cot- (cotton), din- (dinner), ten- (tennis), sud- (sudden), pil- (pilgrim).

Support

Write Today he . . . and Yesterday he . . . on the board, and work with students to categorize the following verbs correctly: crushed, fetches, studies, talked to complete each sentence.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Use props to help students further understand the concepts of singular and plural. For example, point to a book and explain that book is singular. Then point to a stack of books and explain that books is plural.

Intermediate

Have students explain in their own words the difference between singular and plural.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Ask volunteers to generate a short list of singular nouns to make plurals both in English and in their home language.

ELPS 1.C

Activity Page 5.3

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add inflectional endings to root words.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS (6 MIN.)

- Tell students they are going to review the suffixes they learned about this week.
- Write berry on the board. Read the word. Demonstrate changing the y to i and adding -es.
- Ask, “What does this ending tell us about how many berries there are?” (There are more than one.) Read the new word aloud with the students.
- Write walk on the board. Read the word. Demonstrate adding -ed.
- Ask, “What does this ending tell us about when the action took place?” (It took place in the past.) Read the new word aloud with the students.
- Write wrap on the board. Read the word. Demonstrate adding -ing to wrap.
- Point out that because wrap ends in a CVC pattern, you will double the ‘p’ before adding the suffix. Read the new word aloud with the students.
- Ask, “What can this ending tell us about when the action took place?” (It might change the meaning of the word to mean the action is happening right now.)
- Direct students to Activity Page 5.3 and review the instructions. Have students work on the activity page in pairs. If they don’t complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read and annotate “Baking Cupcakes” independently and answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

READ “BAKING CUPCAKES” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

Note: “Baking Cupcakes” is a procedural text that is organized in steps and includes some domain-specific terminology, including degrees and its symbol.

Tell students that they will be reading “Baking Cupcakes” independently. Direct students to Activity Page 5.4.

- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: assist, rim, snazzy
  - phrases: “like velvet”
  - domain-specific language:  $350^{\circ}$  (degrees); whisk, spatula (cooking tools); cup, teaspoon (units of measure);  $1/4$  cup,  $1/2$  cup,  $3/4$  cup (fractional units of measure)
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., adult and ingredients).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.

Support

Before reading “Baking Cupcakes,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Support

Have students focus on one annotation at a time. For example, first have them read and underline words with double-letter spellings. On the next read, have them put a box around compound words, and so on.

Activity Pages 5.4, 5.5

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have students write the words from the passage on their own paper using columns to categorize the skills (e.g., Words with double-letter spellings; Compound words).

Intermediate

Have students work with a partner to annotate the text.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students work independently to annotate the text and then share their work with a partner.

ELPS 4.A

- Then have them read the text again and
  - underline at least three words with double-letter spellings, such as butter,
  - put a box around at least three compound words, such as cupcakes,
  - circle at least three words with -ed and -ing, such as baking and filled,
  - highlight at least three one-syllable words with closed syllables, such as rim.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 5.5 independently. If they don't complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their annotation decisions.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will review spelling and writing words with long and short vowels, consonant blends, and double-letter consonants.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iii; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain to students that they will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with long and short vowels, consonant blends, and words with double consonants and suffixes.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to figure out how to spell the words.
- Give the example of clap. Ask, "What sounds does it contain?" (/k/ /l/ /a/ /p/).

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants.

- Write clap on the board.
- Say, I see the pattern CVC (consonant-vowel-consonant) in clap.
- Ask, “When we see the pattern CVC at the end of the word, what do we usually need to do before adding a suffix like -ing?” (double the consonant t)
- Write clapping on the board. Point out the double consonant.
- Remind students that the suffix -ed can make the /ed/, /d/, and /t/ sounds.
- Say the word bluff. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |              |             |             |
|--------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1. bluff     | 4. swimming | 7. flies    |
| 2. rubbed    | 5. crabs    | 8. clipping |
| 3. sandboxes | 6. filled   | 9. drops    |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                          |
|--------------------------|
| 1. The rabbit hopped.    |
| 2. He bangs on the drum. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Dictation Journals: Phonics/Encoding Dictation

Collect students’ dictation journals to review and monitor student progress.

Lesson 5: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 5.1 for each student.
- Direct students back to Activity Page 5.4.
- Have them reread “Baking Cupcakes.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 5.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- When students are done writing, display the Response Starters table below, showing only the first two Response Starters. Have a volunteer read the Response Starters aloud.
- Tell students that they will share their responses either in pairs or small groups.
- After sharing their response, a student should call on a listener to comment. Remind the student who is responding to use one of the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide feedback on how the listeners used the Response Starter.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lessons 1 and 3 (kind, also, thank, most, learn, begin, someone, want, many, even, together, these, find, world). Write the following new words on index cards: sure, ready, put, and done.
- Use the cards with the new words. Say, "Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you've been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect."
- Display and point to the word sure and say, "This word is tricky because the 's' is pronounced /sh/."
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, "Let's sound out this word. My turn first."
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, "In this word, we say /sh/ for this letter. We say /er/ for these letters, and we do not say this letter." Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /sh/ /er/, sure. Say, "Sure! It's a word we use all the time, like when we say 'The cupcakes are sure to make them smile!'"
- Say, "Now it's your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word." Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, "We say sure. What's the word?" Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, "It is helpful to remember another word that has the /sh/ sound spelled 's.'" Write sugar on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining word(s), mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lessons 1 and 3. Say, "Now we're going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let's play a game. We're going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let's see how fast we can go. My turn first."
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, "Do you think you can go faster than I did?"
- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.
- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.

- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.
- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the unit.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

1. Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

2. Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1-10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.
- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student’s set of cards.

6

REVIEW

Silent Letter Combinations: 'wr' and 'kn'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally add final sounds to make new words. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read words with silent letter combinations. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read closed syllables in multisyllabic words.

- TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will add inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Knoll the Knight” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral literal recall questions about key

- details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with silent letter combinations

- /r/ > 'wr', /n/ > 'kn'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 6.1    Review Silent Letter Combinations: 'wr' > /r/, 'kn' >

- /n/ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Observation    Discussion Questions Observation Record TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants;

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Add Ending Sounds to Create New Words                                                          | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Review Words with Silent Letter Combinations: 'wr' > /r/, 'kn' > /n/                           | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.1 |
| Read Closed Multisyllabic Words                                                                | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Inflected Endings: -ed , -ing                                     | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Read "Knoll the Knight" with Accuracy                                                          | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Spell multisyllabic words with silent letter combinations 'wr' > /r/ and 'kn' > /n/            | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Discussion Questions Observation Record that you prepared in Lesson 1. Remember to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question over the course of the week. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer literal, inferential, and evaluative questions and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity, such as knight, gem, tomb, forest, and reins.

Lesson 6: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: 'wr' and 'kn', Part 1

Warm-Up

Challenge

Have students identify how adding phonemes can change word meanings. For example, adding /z/ or /s/ to a noun creates a plural noun.

Primary Focus: Students will orally add final sounds to make new words.

TEKS 3.2.A.i

ADD ENDING SOUNDS TO CREATE NEW WORDS (3 MIN.)

Note: This activity should be done orally.

- Remind students that adding one sound to a word can change its meaning.
- Say the word bell. Demonstrate how to make a new word by adding a sound to the end of the word.
- Say, "If I add /t/ to the end of bell, I can make the word belt. If I added the sound /z/ instead, I could make the word bells."
- Continue the routine with the remaining examples. Have students create new words by adding sounds to the end of each word.

| Example | Possible New Words    |
|---------|-----------------------|
| bell    | bells, belt    |
| hat     | hats, hatch    |
| write   | writer, writes |
| know    | known, knows   |

Lesson 6: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: 'wr' and 'kn', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

TEKS 3.2.A.i Students will identify and read words with silent letter combinations.

Students will identify and read closed syllables in multisyllabic words.

TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

REVIEW WORDS WITH SILENT LETTER COMBINATIONS: 'WR' > /R/, 'KN' > /N/ (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that today you are going to focus on some tricky spellings for consonant sounds found mostly at the beginning of words.
- Write the spelling 'kn' on the board.
- Say, "Let's talk about this spelling in the word 'know.'"
- Write the word know on the board.
- Say, "We don't usually hear words that are said /k/ /n/, do we? The spelling 'kn' makes the sound /n/. The 'k' is silent."
- Write the spelling 'wr' on the board.
- Say, "Let's talk about this spelling in the word 'write.'"
- Write the word write on the board.
- Say, "We don't say this word /w/ /r/ /ie/ /t/, do we? The 'wr' makes the sound /r/ because the 'w' is silent."
- Say, "These are tricky spellings. When we read, we can remember not to say the /k/ in words with 'kn' and the /w/ in words with 'wr'. When we spell words with these silent letter combinations, we just have to learn the words and remember them."
- Write the following words on the board: knock, knife, knot, knob, knitter, kneepad, wrap, wren, wrong, wrist, wrinkle, and wrapper.
- Underline the silent letter in each word. Then read each word aloud, and ask students to read the word aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 6.1 and review the instructions. If time permits, divide students into groups to complete the activity page in class. If necessary, students may complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

READ CLOSED MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, "We have learned that syllables that have a vowel closed up by a consonant are called closed syllables. The vowel in a closed syllable makes a short vowel sound."

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Ask students to pronounce the sounds made by the letters 'r' and 'n'. Then ask them to pronounce the sounds made by the letter combinations 'wr' and 'kn'.

Intermediate

Ask students to pronounce the sounds made by the letters 'r', 'n', 'k', and 'w'. Then ask them to pronounce the sounds made by the letter combinations 'wr' and 'kn'.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Ask students to pronounce the sounds made by the letter combinations 'wr' and 'kn' and identify one example of a word that uses each letter combination. Ask them whether they know of other examples of silent letters in English or their home language.

ELPS 3.A

Activity Page 6.1

Challenge

Challenge students to generate additional multisyllabic words with closed syllables and share them with a partner. Have the partner identify the closed syllables. Then have partners switch roles.

- Write the word wristband on the board.
- Underline the first syllable of wristband.
- Say, “This is a closed syllable because the vowel ‘i’ is closed up by the consonant blend ‘st’. The ‘i’ makes the short /i/ sound.” Read the word aloud with students.
- Write the word kneepad on the board.
- Underline the second syllable of kneepad.
- Say, “This is a closed syllable because the ‘a’ is closed up by the ‘d’. The ‘a’ makes the short /a/ sound.” Read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the activity by having individual students underline the closed syllables in the following words before reading them aloud: backpack, knitted, lesson, muffin, nutshell, written, sudden, and zigzag. (All of the syllables are closed.)

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “The word kneepad has two closed syllables.” (thumbs-down; the vowel sound in knee is not closed by a consonant and does not have a short vowel sound)

Lesson 6: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: ‘wr’ and ‘kn’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTED ENDINGS: -ED, -ING (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that they have learned about the suffixes -ed and -ing.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Say, “The suffix -ed shows that the action took place in the past, and the suffix -ing can show that an action is taking place now.”
- Tell students that the spelling of some words change when adding the suffixes -ed and -ing.
- Write the word change on the board and say it aloud.
- Say, “For words that end in ‘e’, we have to drop the final ‘e’ before we add -ed or -ing.”
- Then write the words changed and changing. Have students read each word aloud.
- Write the word try on the board.
- Say, “For words that end in ‘y’, we have to change the ‘y’ to ‘i’ before we add -ed. But we don’t have to make that change before we add -ing.”
- Write the words tried and trying on the board. Have students read each word aloud.
- Write the word stop on the board.
- Say, “Remember that most words that end in the CVC pattern (consonant-vowel-consonant) need to have the final consonant doubled before adding the suffix.”
- Annotate the word stop with ‘C’ above the ‘t’, ‘V’ above the ‘o’, and ‘C’ above the ‘p’.
- Then write the words stopped and stopping. Have students read each word aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 6.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 6.2

Support

Before reading “Knoll the Knight,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Lesson 6: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: ‘wr’ and ‘kn’, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Knoll the Knight” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral literal recall questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ “KNOLL THE KNIGHT” WITH ACCURACY

Activity Page 6.3

- Direct students to Activity Page 6.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: rare, tomb, enchanted, numb, wreck
  - phrases: “pride growing in his chest,” “in debt,” “in his honor”
- Have students follow along as you read “Knoll the Knight.”
- Read the story once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., traveling and protecting).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the story once more with the whole class as a choral read.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “Knoll the Knight”

1. Literal. Where is the rare gem hidden?
  - » The rare gem is hidden in a tomb in the enchanted forest.
2. Literal. What did Knoll bring with him on his journey?
  - » He brought a bag, a map, a knife, and his horse.
3. Literal. How did Knoll defeat the dragon?
  - » Knoll swung his knife at the dragon. The dragon ran away.
4. Literal. How did finding the gem make Knoll feel?
  - » Knoll felt proud.
5. Inferential. Why did the king choose to write to Knoll about finding the rare gem?
  - » The king chose to write to Knoll because Knoll was known as a brave and trusted knight.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you think I read this sentence at an appropriate rate, or speed.” Read the sentence too slowly: “He had never gone on such an adventure before.” (thumbs-down)

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

- Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students’ performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.
- Turn and Talk: Write the inferential question on the board and say, “Talking with a partner is one way to bring more perspectives and information to our discussion. Let’s take a moment to think about how we would answer this question.”

- After providing some wait time, pair up students and have them take turns asking and answering the question. Remind students to ask any questions they may have about their partner’s answer and then repeat back to their partner what was shared. Circulate and give feedback as partners are sharing and responding.
- Remind students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- Call on students and ask them to share one idea their partner shared with them. Ask the other partner if what was shared by the partner matches what they shared. Provide specific corrective feedback, or point out examples of how the response demonstrated how to do a Turn and Talk share.

Lesson 6: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: ‘wr’ and ‘kn’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with silent letter combinations /r/ > ‘wr’, /n/ > ‘kn’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

Challenge

Challenge students to identify which of the spelling words are compound words. (kneepad, wristband, knockout)

SPELL MULTISYLLABIC WORDS WITH SILENT LETTER COMBINATIONS ‘WR’ > /R/ AND ‘KN’ > /N/ (5 MIN.)

- Direct students to take out their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling multisyllabic words with silent letter combinations ‘wr’ > /r/ and ‘kn’ > /n/ that you say aloud.
- Say, “Remember that the /r/ sound in wrinkled is spelled with the tricky silent letter combination ‘wr’.”
- Say the word wrinkled. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- |              |             |             |
|--------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1. wrinkled  | 4. knuckle  | 7. wrung    |
| 2. know      | 5. kneepad  | 8. wrapping |
| 3. wristband | 6. knockout | 9. written  |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                |
|--------------------------------|
| 1. She writes about knitting.  |
| 2. He wrapped his cut knuckle. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

~~~~~
End Lesson
~~~~~

Lesson 6: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 6.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 6.3
- Have them reread “Knoll the Knight.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 6.1.
- Tell students that they will use text evidence to write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.

- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

---

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: read, away, known, easy, almost, work and light.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word read and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘ea’ can be pronounced /ee/ like in read, or the ‘ea’ can be pronounced /e/ like the word in today’s passage.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /r/ for this letter. We say /e/ for these letters. We say /d/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /r/ /e/ /d/, read. Say, “Read! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘Knoll read the note.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say read. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.

- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

7

REVIEW

Silent Letter Combinations: ‘mb’ and ‘bt’

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will orally create new words by adding phonemes to existing words.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with the silent letter

✚ combinations ‘mb’ and ‘bt’. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with closed syllables.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will add the inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words to change

✚ their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Knoll the Knight” fluently with a partner.

✚ TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with silent letter combinations

✚ /m/ > ‘mb’ and /t/ > ‘bt’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Knoll the Knight” Anecdotal Reading Record

✚ TEKS 3.4

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Add Sounds to Make New Words                                                                   | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Review Silent Letter Combinations: 'mb' and 'bt'                                               | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Read Closed Multisyllabic Words                                                                | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 7.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Inflected Endings: -ed , -ing                                     | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 7.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Reread "Knoll the Knight"                                                                      | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Spell Words with Silent Letter Combinations 'mb' and 'bt'                                      | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity, such as knight, gem, tomb, forest, and reins.

Lesson 7: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: 'mb' and 'bt', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally create new words by adding phonemes to existing words. TEKS 3.2.A.i

ADD SOUNDS TO MAKE NEW WORDS (3 MIN.)

Note: This activity should be done orally.

- Remind students that adding one sound to a word can change its meaning.
- Say, "In the last lesson, we practiced adding a sound to the end of a word to make a new word. We can also add sounds to the beginning or middle of a word."
- Say the word fee.
- Say, "I can add the /r/ sound to the middle of fee to make the word free. I could add the sound /l/ to the end of the word fee instead to make feel."
- Say the word out.
- Say, "I can add the sound /sh/ to the beginning of out to make the word shout. I could add the sound /d/ to the beginning of the word out instead to make the word doubt."
- Continue the routine with the remaining words. Ask students to create new words for the rest of the examples.

| Example | Possible New Words |
|---------|--------------------|
| fee     | free, feel         |
| out     | shout, doubt       |
| new     | newt, news         |
| hum     | thumb, hump        |

Support

If students have trouble thinking of sounds to add to the beginning of words, suggest that they go down the alphabet adding sounds until they find a letter sound that makes sense with the word provided (e.g., ~~æ~~out, bout, eout, doubt).

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Ask students to pronounce the sound made by the letter 'b' (/b/). Then ask them to pronounce the sounds made by the letter combinations 'bt' and 'mb' (/t/ and /m/).

Intermediate

Ask students to pronounce the sounds made by the letters 'b', 'm', and 't' (/b/, /m/, /t/). Then ask them to pronounce the sounds made by the letter combinations 'bt' and 'mb' (/t/ and /m/).

Advanced/
Advanced High

Ask students to pronounce the sounds made by the letter combinations 'bt' and 'mb' and identify one example of a word that uses each letter combination. (/t/ and /m/) Ask them whether they know of other examples of silent letters in English or in their home language.

ELPS 3.A

Lesson 7: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: 'mb' and 'bt', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with the silent letter combinations 'mb' and 'bt'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with closed syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW SILENT LETTER COMBINATIONS: 'MB' AND 'BT' (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that today you are going to focus on silent letter combinations found mostly in the middle and at the end of words.
- Write the words knock and wring on the board. Have students read the words aloud.
- Say, "In the previous lesson we studied words that have silent letters at the beginning of words, such as the 'k' in knock and the 'w' in wring." Underline the silent letters in each word as you point them out for students.
- Write the spelling 'mb' on the board.
- Say, "Let's look at this spelling in a word."
- Write the word comb on the board.
- Say, "We don't usually hear words that end in /m/ /b/, as in /k/ /oe/ /m/ /b/, do we? The spelling 'mb' makes the sound /m/. The letter 'b' is silent." Point to the word and have students read it aloud with you.
- Write the spelling 'bt' on the board.
- Say, "Now let's look at this spelling in a word."
- Write the word doubt on the board.
- Say, "We don't usually hear words with the sounds /b/ /t/ together, as in /d/ /ou/ /b/ /t/, do we? The spelling 'bt' makes the sound /t/. The letter 'b' is silent." Point to the word and have students read the word aloud with you.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Say, “These are tricky spellings. When we read, we should remember not to say the /b/ in words with ‘mb’ or ‘bt’. When we read or spell words with these silent letter combinations, we just have to learn the words and remember them.”
- Write the following words on the board: climb, debt, lamb, numb, and subtle.
- Underline the silent letter in each word. Then read each word aloud and ask students to read it aloud.

READ CLOSED MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Syllables that have a vowel ‘closed up’ by a consonant are called closed syllables. The vowel in a closed syllable makes a short vowel sound.”
- Write the word knapsack on the board.
- Underline the first syllable of knapsack.
- Say, “This is a closed syllable because the vowel ‘a’ is closed up by the consonant ‘p’. The ‘a’ has a short vowel sound.”
- Underline the second syllable of knapsack.
- Say, “This is also a closed syllable because the ‘a’ is closed up by the consonant digraph ‘ck’. The ‘a’ has a short vowel sound.” Say the word aloud, emphasizing its syllables, knap•sack.
- Write the word numbly on the board.
- Underline the first syllable of numbly.
- Say, “This is a closed syllable with a short vowel sound. The vowel ‘u’ is closed up by the consonant digraph ‘mb’.”
- Point out that the second syllable in numbly is not a closed syllable. Point to each syllable as you say the word aloud, and then have students read the word aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 7.1 and review the instructions.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 7.1

Check for Understanding

- Turn and Talk: Say, “Talking with a partner is one way to bring more information to our learning. We will take turns deciding whether a multisyllabic word contains any closed syllables. For example, I might say a multisyllabic word like cabinet. My partner would decide if the word contains any closed syllables and identify them.”
- Model the steps with a volunteer, including checking each other’s work before moving on, by explaining why each syllable identified is a closed syllable. (It is closed in by a consonant and makes the short vowel sound.) Wrap up by showing the signal that you are both done.
- Pair up students. Say, “Think of a multisyllabic word. Turn to your partner and share it with them. Then have your partner identify any closed syllables in the word.”
- Remind students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- Call on students to share a word provided by their partner and identify the closed syllables, noting the word and closed syllables on the board. Provide corrective feedback as necessary.

Lesson 7: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: ‘mb’ and ‘bt’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add the inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words to change their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTED ENDINGS: -ED, -ING (6 MIN.)

- Write the suffix -ed on the board.
- Say, “We have learned that adding -ed to the end of a verb changes its meaning to show that an action happened in the past.”

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Support

Circulate as students work on Activity Page 7.2 and help students decode the root words as needed. Students who struggle to identify the correct spelling may benefit from further instruction.

- Write the suffix -ing on the board.
- Say, “We have also learned that adding -ing to the end of a verb can change its meaning to show that an action is happening now.”
- Explain that students will practice adding these suffixes to root words. Write the word decide on the board. Read the word aloud with the students.
- Ask, “How would we say that this action happened in the past?” (decided)
- Write two spellings of the word on the board: decideed and decided.
- Ask, “Which is the correct spelling?” (decided)
- Ask, “How would we say that this action is happening now?” (deciding)
- Write two spellings of the word on the board: deciding and decideing.
- Ask, “Which is the correct spelling?” (deciding)
- Explain that for verbs that end in ‘e’, you must drop the final ‘e’ before adding -ed and -ing.
- Direct students to Activity Page 7.2. Read the root words aloud with the whole group, and then review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 7.2

---

Lesson 7: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: 'mb' and 'bt', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Knoll the Knight” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “KNOLL THE KNIGHT” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 6.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Knoll the Knight” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Knoll the Knight.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
  - Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
  - Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline three words with silent letter ‘mb’ and ‘bt’ spelling patterns, such as tomb;
  - circle three words with -ing and -ed endings, such as finding and nodded; and
  - highlight three multisyllabic words with closed syllables, such as trusted.

Activity Page 6.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with silent letter combinations.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Observation: “Knoll the Knight” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Knoll the Knight,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 7: Review: Silent Letter Combinations: ‘mb’ and ‘bt’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with silent letter combinations /m/ > ‘mb’ and /t/ > ‘bt’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH SILENT LETTER COMBINATIONS ‘MB’ AND ‘BT’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words that use the ‘mb’ and ‘bt’ patterns.
- Remind them that these words have silent letters.
- Give the example debt. Ask, “What sounds does this word contain?” (/d/ /e/ /t/)
- Write debt on the board. Underline the letters ‘bt’ as you read the word.
- Say the word climber. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |             |             |             |
|-------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1. climber  | 4. doubting | 7. doubtful |
| 2. plumbing | 5. debts    | 8. crumb    |
| 3. lambskin | 6. thumb    | 9. numbing  |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. She was combing the lamb's fur.
2. He climbed on a limb.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

Lesson 7: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 7.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done writing, ask pairs to share and check their work.

SHARING

- Say, “Yesterday, you wrote a response to the prompt about ‘Knoll the Knight.’ The prompt reminded us that one theme, or central message, of the story is that Knoll has to work hard to achieve great things. Your writing prompt asked you to use details from your own life to describe when you have had to keep working hard at something that was difficult. Today, you will share your writing and practice using another Response Starter to give each other constructive, or helpful, feedback about the writing prompt response.”
- Display the Response Starters table below, uncovering the third Response Starter.
- Read the Response Starter aloud. Say, “As we listen to a response, we are going to be listening for an idea that stands out to us and thinking about why it stands out. Listen as I read a sample response.”
- Say, “I had to keep working hard when I learned to ride a bike. At first, I couldn’t make it go. My friend told me to push down on the front pedal. Then I had to learn how to use the brakes! I stopped too fast and fell down. My first few rides were very shaky because I didn’t know how to steer the bike very well. I fell down many times when I was learning to ride. I tried over and over. I finally learned to ride a bike because I kept trying! Now I fly down hills and along paved trails with my friends and don’t even have to think about the pedals, brakes, or handlebars.”
- Point to the Response Starter and say, “Let me use this Response Starter to provide feedback. ‘The idea that stood out to me was that you never gave up because you wrote that you fell down many times.’”

- Say, “Now it’s your turn to practice giving feedback using a Response Starter.” Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Knoll the Knight” on Activity Page TR 6.1. Listeners should try to use the third sentence starter to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide as much support as necessary to help the students who are responding to successfully use the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on one student to share their writing response with the group. Then have the student call on a listener to comment, using the Response Starter to provide constructive feedback. Provide as much support as necessary to help the student who is responding to successfully use the Response Starter. As time allows, call on two or three more volunteers to share their writing response and ask for feedback.
- Keep this table for all lessons that include writing about text. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note a) where they used evidence correctly, b) where their word choice was impactful, and c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say read and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, rrred. Write the letters to spell read on the board.
- Point to the word read and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /e/ sound is spelled with ‘ea.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.

- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /r/ for this letter. We say /e/ for these letters. We say /d/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /r/ /e/ /d/, read. Say, “Read! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words away, known, easy, almost, work and light. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

8

REVIEW

Spellings for /k/
and /ch/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will review words with /ch/ and /k/ > 'ch'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will identify and read words with /ch/ > 'ch' and 'tch' and /k/ > 'ch'.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read closed syllables in multisyllabic words.

- TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will add the inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words to change

- their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read "Lake Day" fluently and will answer questions about key details

- in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with 'ch' and 'tch' > /ch/ and

- 'ch' > /k/. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 8.2

Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                                 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Review /ch/ and /k/                                                                            | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Review /ch/ > 'ch' and 'tch', /k/ > 'ch'                                                       | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Read Closed Multisyllabic Words                                                                | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 8.1       |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                                  |
| Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing                                          | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 8.2       |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                                  |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Read "Lake Day"                                                                                | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 8.3, 8.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Spell Words with 'ch' and 'tch' > /ch/, 'ch' > /k/                                             | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal       |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their pronunciation of certain sounds as they decode words, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Letter Sounds and Language Varieties' Influence on Decoding documents, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Reading

- Students will answer comprehension questions in groups. You may wish to assign groups according to students' levels in advance.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: porch, shade, quilt, equipment, rushed, unique, chatted, and success.

Lesson 8: Review: Spellings for /k/ and /ch/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review words with /ch/ and /k/ > 'ch'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW /CH/ AND /K/ (3 MIN.)

- Say the word change aloud.
- Ask a student to repeat the word.
- Write the word change on the board and underline the 'ch'.
- Say, "The letters 'ch' make the /ch/ sound in change."
- Explain that you can change the /n/ sound to /r/ to create charge. Have students pronounce the word charge. Write charge on the board.
- Continue this process with the remaining words.

1. charge > chart > char > charm
2. itch > ditch > pitch > patch

- Write the word school on the board and underline the 'ch'.
- Say, "Sometimes the spelling 'ch' makes the /k/ sound, as in school."
- Repeat the routine with the following words: scheme, scholar, and schedule.

Lesson 8: Review: Spellings for /k/ and /ch/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read words with /ch/ > 'ch' and 'tch' and /k/ > 'ch'.

TEKS 3.2.A.i

TEKS 3.2.A.ii Students will identify and read closed syllables in multisyllabic words. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

REVIEW /CH/ > 'CH' AND 'TCH', /K/ > 'CH' (3 MIN.)

- Write hip on the board. Ask a student to read the word aloud.
- Add the letter 'c' to create chip.
- As you make this change, say, "If that word is hip, what is this word?" Have students read each new word aloud.
- Continue this process with the remaining words.
- Complete the chaining for the various consonant blends.

1. chip > chop > chap > chaps > chats > chat > chant > can't > cat > cap
2. much > munch > lunch > bunch > bun > Ben > wren > wrench > bench

- Write on the board: ch /ch/, tch /ch/, ch /k/.
- Say, "The letter combination 'ch' usually spells the sound /ch/."
- Write champ, rich, and bunch on the board under the 'ch' /ch/. Underline the 'ch' as you read each word while pointing out where in the word the 'ch' spelling of /ch/ occurs, at the beginning of the word or at the end.
- Point to the 'tch'. Say, "This letter combination, 'tch', can also spell the sound /ch/. The 'tch' spelling of /ch/ happens only at the end of the word or base word."
- Write catch, scratch, and sketch on the board under the 'tch' /ch/.
- Say, "The /ch/ sound is spelled 'tch' when it is at the end of the word and comes after a single vowel. Let's read these words together."
- Circle the vowel and underline the 'tch' as the students read catch, scratch, and sketch aloud.
- Say, "Sometimes the spelling 'ch' makes the /k/ sound, as in school."
- Write ache, anchor, stomach, and chorus on the board under the 'ch' /k/.
- Say, "Let's read these words together." Underline the 'ch' spelling of /k/ as the class reads the words aloud. Note that the 'ch' of /k/ can be at the beginning, middle, or end of the word.
- Say, "Words with /ch/ spelled 'tch' and /k/ spelled 'ch' can be tricky. They must be learned and remembered. Let's read these words to practice."
- Write rich, catch, and school again and call on different students to read each word. Underline the 'ch' or 'tch' if a student has difficulty.

READ CLOSED MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that syllables that have a vowel “closed up” by a consonant are called closed syllables. Point out that the vowel in a closed syllable makes a short vowel sound.
- Write the word sandwich on the board.
- Underline the first syllable of sandwich.
- Say, “This is a closed syllable because the vowel ‘a’ is closed up by the consonant blend ‘nd’. The ‘a’ makes the short /a/ sound.”
- Underline the second syllable of sandwich.
- Explain that this is also a closed syllable because the ‘i’ is closed up by the ‘ch’ and makes the /i/ sound. Say the word aloud, emphasizing its syllables, sand•wich. Have students read it aloud.
- Write the word backache on the board.
- Underline the first syllable of backache.
- Explain that this is a closed syllable with a short vowel sound /a/. Emphasize that the second syllable is not a closed syllable. Say the word aloud, emphasizing its syllables, back•ache. Have students read it aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 8.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree with the following statement, and give a thumbs-down if you disagree: ‘The word public has two closed syllables.’” (thumbs-up) As needed, explain that both vowels in the syllables -pub and -lic are “closed up” by consonants.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Have students say a word that begins with a /k/ such as kit. Then have them say skit. Explain that the ‘ch’ in school makes the /k/ sound. Have them say the word school.

Intermediate

Have students say the following words: skate, score, and school. Ask, “What sound does the ‘ch’ make in school?” (/k/)

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students come up with examples of one word that uses ‘ch’ to make the /ch/ sound and one word that uses ‘ch’ to make the /k/ sound.

ELPS 3.A

Activity Page 8.1

Lesson 8: Review: Spellings for /k/ and /ch/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add the inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words to change their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS: -ED, -ING (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that when we spell words that end in the CVC (consonant-vowel-consonant) pattern, we usually double the final consonant before adding -ing and -ed.
- Write the word bat on the board.
- Have students read the word aloud.
- Annotate the word with a C above 'b', V above 'a', and C above 't'. Explain that 'C' stands for consonant and 'V' stands for vowel.
- Then add the suffix -ted to create batted. Explain that the 't' needs to be doubled at the end of bat when the suffix -ed is added.
- Ask students to read the word with the suffix added aloud. Review briefly that the suffix -ed signals that something happened in the past.
- Repeat the routine by adding the -ing suffix to create batting. Review briefly that the suffix -ing can signal that something is happening now.
- Continue using the words in the table.
- When you reach the word hope, write the word on the board and annotate it with V above 'o', C above 'p', and V above 'e'.
- Say, "This word ends in an 'e'. In this case, we need to drop the final 'e' before adding a suffix."
- Model crossing out the 'e' and adding -ed. Rewrite the word beneath as hoped. Read the word aloud with students. Repeat the model with hoping.
- Remind students that the word yell already ends in double consonants, so no spelling changes need to be made when adding the suffixes.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

| Root Word | -ed | -ing |
|-----------|------------|-------------|
| bat       | batted     | batting     |
| dip       | dipped     | dipping     |
| hop       | hopped     | hopping     |
| hope      | hoped      | hoping      |
| hug       | hugged     | hugging     |
| swap      | swapped    | swapping    |
| trim      | trimmed    | trimming    |
| yell      | yelled     | yelling     |

- Direct students to Activity Page 8.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Support

Explain to students that some irregular verbs do not use the suffix -ed, even if they fall into the CVC pattern. Use the example run. Explain that to say this action is happening now, we say running. However, to say the action happened in the past, we say ran (not runned).

Activity Page 8.2

Read aloud the words in the table to make sure students can decode them.

Support

Before reading “Lake Day,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Activity Pages 8.3, 8.4

Lesson 8: Review: Spellings for /k/ and /ch/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Lake Day” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ “LAKE DAY” (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 8.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: porch, unique, spotted, stash
  - phrases: “taking in the fresh air,” “snagged a nice spot”
  - domain-specific language: conch shell, catfish
- Have students follow along as you read “Lake Day.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., equipment and umbrella).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently.
- Then have them turn to Activity Page 8.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don’t complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their responses to the comprehension questions.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Beginning

Provide options for individual reading. Pair students complete comprehension questions on the activity page, pair strong and struggling readers. Ask them first to read the first paragraph together, alternating between sentences. Then ask them to read the rest of the text independently. Have a strong reader work with a struggling reader to complete the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns, and work together to complete the comprehension questions.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to share their responses to the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.1

Lesson 8: Review: Spellings for /k/ and /ch/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with 'ch' and 'tch'

> /ch/ and 'ch' > /k/. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH 'CH' AND 'TCH' > /CH/, 'CH' > /K/ (5 MIN.)

- Direct students to their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with 'ch' and 'tch' that you say aloud. Note that both 'ch' and 'tch' can spell the /ch/ sound.
- Say, "Remember that 'ch' can sometimes make the /ch/ sound but can also make the /k/ sound."
- Say the word chart, emphasizing the /ch/, and write it on the board. Then say the word anchor, emphasizing the /k/, and write it on the board.
- Say the word sandwich. Repeat it. Have students write it on Activity Page 8.4.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |              |                 |               |
|--------------|-----------------|---------------|
| 1. sandwich  | 4. butterscotch | 7. watchtower |
| 2. character | 5. headache     | 8. chicken    |
| 3. echo      | 6. chasing      | 9. chipped    |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to write in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                           |
|-------------------------------------------|
| 1. The chatter gave me a headache.        |
| 2. Bring your lunchbox to the schoolyard. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 8: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 8.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 8.3
- Have them reread “Lake Day.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 8.1.
- Tell students they will use text evidence to write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: ball, could, family, should, air and along.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word ball and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘a’ is pronounced /aw/ and the ‘ll’ is pronounced /l/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /b/ for this letter. We say /aw/ for this letter. We say /l/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /b/ /aw/ /l/, ball. Say, “Ball! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say “Mom pitched the ball.””
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say ball. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

9

REVIEW

Digraphs: 'sh'
and 'qu'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will review words with /sh/ and /qu/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read words with 'sh' and 'qu'. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify and read words with open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will add the inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words to change their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Lake Day” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with digraphs 'sh' > /sh/,

- 'qu' > /qu/. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Lake Day” Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Review /sh/ and /qu/                                                                           | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Review Digraphs: 'sh', 'qu'                                                                    | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 9.1 |
| Read Open One-Syllable Words                                                                   | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed , -ing                                  | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 9.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Reread "Lake Day"                                                                              | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 8.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Spell Words with 'sh' > /sh/, 'qu' > /qu/                                                      | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their pronunciation of certain sounds as they decode words, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Decoding document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Morphology

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their oral reading fluency, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: porch, shade, quilt, equipment, rushed, unique, chatted, success.

Lesson 9: Review: Digraphs: 'sh' and 'qu', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review words with /sh/ and /qu/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW /SH/ AND /QU/ (3 MIN.)

Note: The sound /qu/ is really a sound combination consisting of /k/ + /w/.

- Tell students that they are going to review the /sh/ and /qu/ sounds.
- Say the word sign aloud. Have students repeat it. Then say the word shine aloud. Have students repeat the word shine.
- Say, "I can hear the difference between /s/ in sign and /sh/ in shine."
- Using the minimal pairs below, have students raise their right hand when they hear a word with /s/ or their left hand when they hear a word with /sh/.

|          |           |            |
|----------|-----------|------------|
| shy/sigh | Cass/cash | sock/shock |
| gush/Gus | sip/ship  | Russ/rush  |

- Say the word kick aloud. Have students repeat it. Then say the word quick aloud. Have students repeat the word quick.
- Say, "The sounds /k/ and /qu/ are very similar, but I can hear a difference between the /k/ at the beginning of the word kick and the /qu/ at the beginning of the word quick."
- Repeat the minimal pairs exercise with the following words.

|            |             |            |
|------------|-------------|------------|
| queen/keen | court/quart | quail/kale |
| kit/quit   | quake/cake  | kite/quite |

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 9: Review: Digraphs: 'sh' and 'qu', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- Students will identify and read words with 'sh' and 'qu'. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify and read words with open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Support

If students struggle to develop new words, begin with a simple chaining activity. For example, demonstrate how fish can become dish or swish, while squid can become squish, and so on.

REVIEW DIGRAPHS: 'SH', 'QU' (3 MIN.)

- Recreate the chart below on the board. Add the words shine and quick from the Warm-Up to the chart, having students read each word aloud.
- Ask students for examples of other words that have the /sh/ sound (e.g., fish, cash, shop, wishful, shy, cash, shock, gush, ship, rush). Write three student examples in the left column. Have students read each word aloud.
- Ask students for examples of other words that have the /qu/ sound (e.g., quack, queen, quest, squid, quick, quart, quit, quake, quite). Write three student examples in the right column. Have students read each word aloud.

| /sh/  | /qu/  |
|-------|-------|
| shine | quick |
|       |       |
|       |       |
|       |       |

- Point out to students that some words with the spelling 'qu', such as unique, do not make the /qu/ sound. Explain that these words are rare and must be learned and remembered.
- Direct students to Activity Page 9.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Activity Page 9.1

READ OPEN ONE-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Write the word shy on the board. Say the word and have students read it aloud.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (one)
- Say, “We have learned that closed syllables have a short vowel sound that is ‘closed up’ by a consonant. Is the ‘y’ closed up by a consonant?” (no)
- Circle the ‘y’ at the end of shy.
- Say, “The vowel at the end of the word shy is not closed up by a consonant. It has been “left open,” so we call this kind of syllable an open syllable. Open syllables have long vowel sounds.”
- Read each of the following words aloud with the students. Then, have students raise their right hand when they hear a word with a closed syllable or their left hand when they hear a word with an open syllable.

|                       |                      |                       |
|-----------------------|----------------------|-----------------------|
| go ( open )    | we ( open )   | not ( closed ) |
| mat ( closed ) | so ( open )   | I ( open )     |
| cry ( open )   | it ( closed ) | yet ( closed ) |

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Is yes an open syllable?” (thumbs-down) “Is no an open syllable?” (thumbs-up)

Lesson 9: Review: Digraphs: ‘sh’ and ‘qu’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add the inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words to change their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Support

Before beginning the activity page, help students recognize patterns in the use of the -ing suffix. Say, “When we want to describe something that is happening now, we use am, is, and are followed by a verb with the -ing ending.” Write the first sentence of the passage on the board: Mo and his family are planning a party. Circle the word are and underline the ending of planning. Tell students to look for instances of am, is, and are followed by a -ing word in the text. Have them circle am, is, and are when they encounter examples.

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS: -ED, -ING (6 MIN.)

Activity Page 9.2

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Identify for students whether each sentence is happening now or has already happened.

Ask, “Which ending is used when an action is happening now?” (-ing)

“Which ending is used when an action has already happened?” (-ed)

Intermediate

Identify whether each sentence is happening now or has already happened for students.

Ask, “Which ending is used for this sentence?”

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students identify whether each sentence is happening now or has already happened. Ask, “Which ending is used for this tense?” Have students write a simple sentence using each ending.

ELPS 3.C

- Direct students to Activity Page 9.2.
- Read each sentence in the story aloud with your students. Ask, “Does this describe something happening now or something that already happened?”
- Ask a different volunteer to add -ing or -ed to each root word. Then discuss with the class whether you should drop the final ‘e’ or double the final consonant before adding the suffix.
- When students have completed the story together, ask one volunteer to read the completed paragraph aloud.

Lesson 9: Review: Digraphs: 'sh' and 'qu', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Lake Day” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “LAKE DAY” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 8.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Lake Day” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Lake Day.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
  - Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
  - Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline at least three words with the digraphs ‘sh’ and ‘qu’;
  - circle at least three words with -ing and -ed endings; and
  - highlight at least three one-syllable words with open syllables.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Support

Before reading “Lake Day,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Activity Page 8.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with the digraphs ‘sh’ and ‘qu’.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Observation: “Lake Day” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Lake Day,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 9: Review: Digraphs: ‘sh’ and ‘qu’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with digraphs

‘sh’ > /sh/, ‘qu’ > /qu/. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH ‘SH’ > /SH/, ‘QU’ > /QU/ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with ‘sh’ and ‘qu’ spelling patterns.
- Remind students that the ‘qu’ digraph makes the /qu/ (/k/ + /w/) sounds.
- Say the word squeak. Model segmenting the sounds in the word as you spell it on the board.
- Say the word sunshine. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |             |             |             |
|-------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1. sunshine | 4. request  | 7. squinted |
| 2. wishful  | 5. quitting | 8. finish   |
| 3. quilted  | 6. shifted  | 9. quacking |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. She is shutting the sheep in the shed.
2. This quick quiz has a few questions.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 9: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 9.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- Instruct students to make a list of all the 'sh' > /sh/ words they can think of in two minutes.

- Have students compare to see who has the most words, the word with the most syllables, and unique words. Have students add words to their lists based on their peers' answers.
- Repeat the routine with 'qu' > /qu/ words.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about "Lake Day" on Activity Page TR 8.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say ball and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, bawlll. Write the letters to spell ball on the board.
- Point to the word ball and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /aw/ sound is spelled with ‘a.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /b/ for this letter. We say /aw/ for this letter. We say /l/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /b/ /aw/ /l/, ball. Say, “Ball! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words could, family, should, air and along. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.

- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will review identifying the sounds they have practiced this week.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will review identifying and reading words with silent letter combinations.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will review identifying and reading words with open syllables.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review adding the inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words to ✚ change their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read and annotate “Fall Colors” independently and will answer

✚ questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

Students will review spelling and writing multisyllabic words with silent letter

✚ combinations. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Dictation Journal    Phonics/Encoding Dictation

✚ TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                          |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|----------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                                    |
| Sound Review                                                                                   | 3 min.  |                                                    |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Give Me a Word                                                                                 | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 10.1        |
| Read Words with Open Syllables                                                                 | 3 min.  |                                                    |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                                    |
| Review Inflectional Endings                                                                    | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 10.2        |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                                    |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                                    |
| Read “Fall Colors” Independently                                                               | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 10.3, 10.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Encoding Review                                                                                | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal         |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

---

Universal Access

- Gather pictures of fall leaves to represent the words in the Reading activity.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review identifying the sounds they have practiced this week. TEKS 3.2.A.i

SOUND REVIEW (3 MIN.)

- Tell students they are going to play a game.
- Say, “I will say a word, and you will decide whether the word contains /sh/ or /s/. If the word contains /sh/, you should point to the ceiling. If the word contains /s/, you should point to the floor.”
- Say saw. Then ask the students to point in the correct direction. (floor)
- Repeat with the following words: show (ceiling), fist (floor), fished (ceiling), Sue (floor), shoe (ceiling).
- Then repeat the routine with /qu/ and /k/ words, with students pointing to the ceiling for /qu/ and the floor for /k/: scare (floor), square (ceiling), kid (floor), squid (ceiling), quirk (floor and ceiling), Kirk (floor).
- If time permits, repeat with /k/ and /ch/ words: chin, kin, cheese, keys, chop, and cop.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will review identifying and reading words with silent letter combinations. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will review identifying and reading words with open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

GIVE ME A WORD (3 MIN.)

- Explain that you are going to say a riddle and then students will guess the word. Each word will have a silent letter combination they studied this week.
- Say, “I turn this to open the door.” (knob)
- Write knob on the board and underline the silent letter combination ‘kn’. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat the routine with the following riddles.

This is the opposite of right. (wrong)
If I owe money, I have this. (debt)
I use this to cut food on my plate. (knife)
I use this to get the tangles out of my hair. (comb)
I use this to make a present pretty. (wrapping)
If I am unsure, I have this. (doubt)
I do this when I go up a steep mountain. (climb)

- Direct students to Activity Page 10.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words aloud to a partner. If not, ask students to complete the activity at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

READ WORDS WITH OPEN SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Write the word be on the board. Say the word and have students read it aloud.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (one)
- Ask, “Is the syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (open; it ends with a long vowel)
- Repeat the routine with the following words: hi, he, see, no, so, try, and my.

Activity Page 10.1

Challenge

On the board, write the silent letter combinations students have studied this week: ‘wr’, ‘kn’, ‘mb’, and ‘bt’. Then challenge students to come up with their own riddle for each combination. In pairs, have students share their riddles, and have partners say the answers.

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Review doubling the final consonant before adding -ing and -ed. Demonstrate with stop and plan, writing each version of the word on the board. Have volunteers approach the board and point out the double consonants.

Intermediate

Have students practice using stopped in a sentence, by asking questions such as, "Why did the car stop?" (The car stopped because the light was red.)

Advanced/
Advanced High

Ask volunteers to share sentences with stopped/stopping or planned/planning.

ELPS 1.C

Support

If students struggle with the activity page, have them work in pairs. Encourage them to explain their work to each other.

Activity Page 10.2

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review adding the inflectional endings -ing and -ed to root words to change their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS (6 MIN.)

- Say, "We're going to review adding the endings -ing and -ed to root words."
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.2 and review the instructions. Circulate as students work.
- Have students explain their work to you.
- If students need more time, they may complete the activity page at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down On the board, write trimmed and say the word trimmed. If necessary, use the word in a sentence. Ask students to give a thumbs-up if they agree the word is spelled correctly and a thumbs-down if they disagree. (thumbs-down; trimmed)

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read and annotate “Fall Colors” independently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

READ “FALL COLORS” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

- Tell students they will be reading “Fall Colors.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: lush, unique, succumb, impact
  - phrases: “rich shades,” “equally unique and charming,” “subtle beauty”
  - domain-specific language: pigments
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., temperature and opportunity).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and
  - underline at least three words with ‘ch’, ‘sh’, ‘qu’, ‘mb’, and ‘bt’ such as each, shade, quiz, climb, and doubt;
  - circle at least three words that double the final consonant before –ed or –ing, such as dropping; and
  - choose
    - at least three words with open syllables, such as we, to highlight in yellow; and
    - at least three words with closed syllables, such as red, to highlight in blue.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

Support

Before reading “Fall Colors,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Have students focus on one annotation at a time. For example, first have them read and underline words with ‘ch’, ‘sh’, ‘qu’, ‘mb’, and ‘bt’. On the next read, have them annotate words that double the final consonant and so on.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have students write the words from the passage on their own paper using columns to categorize the skills (e.g., Words with ‘ch’, ‘sh’, ‘qu’, ‘mb’, and ‘bt’; Words with closed syllables).

Intermediate

Have students work with a partner to annotate the text.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students work independently to annotate the text and then share their work with a partner.

ELPS 4.A

- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 10.4 independently. If they don't complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their annotation decisions.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will review spelling and writing multisyllabic words with silent letter combinations. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with silent letter combinations. Remind students about the silent letter combinations they have studied this week.
- Ask, “What sound does ‘mb’ make? (/m/) What is the silent letter in ‘mb’?” (‘b’)
- Ask, “What sound does ‘bt’ make? (/t/) What is the silent letter in ‘bt’?” (‘b’)
- Ask, “What sound does ‘kn’ make? (/n/) What is the silent letter in ‘kn’?” (‘k’)
- Ask, “What sound does wr make? (/r/) What is the silent letter in ‘wr’?” (‘w’)
- Say the word debt. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |              |             |             |
|--------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1. debt      | 4. chipping | 7. echoes   |
| 2. wrapped   | 5. crumbs   | 8. shipping |
| 3. stretches | 6. knocked  | 9. squints  |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. His wrist and thumb hurt.
2. Do you know who wrote this?

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Dictation Journals: Phonics/Encoding Dictation

Collect students’ dictation journals to review and monitor student progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 10: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 10.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.3.
- Have them reread “Fall Colors.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 10.1.
- Students will use text evidence to write and draw for approximately 10 minutes in response to the text. Students should try to write 3–5 complete sentences.

- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Fall Colors” on Activity Page TR 10.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lessons 6 and 8 (read, away, known, easy, work, almost, ball, could, family, should, air, along). Write the following new words on index cards: listen, while, become, fall, beautiful, another, and show.
- Use the cards with the new words. Say, “Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

- Display and point to the word listen and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘st’ is pronounced /s/ and the ‘e’ is pronounced /ə/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /l/ for this letter. We say /i/ for this letter. We say /s/ for these letters. We say /ə/ for this letter, and we say /n/ for this letter. Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /l/ /i/ /s/ /ə/ /n/, listen. Say, “Listen! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘Listen up! There might be a quiz!’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say listen. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, “It is helpful to remember another word that has the /s/ sound spelled ‘st.’” Write fasten on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining word(s), mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lessons 6 and 8. Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let’s play a game. We’re going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let’s see how fast we can go. My turn first.”
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, “Do you think you can go faster than I did?”
- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.
- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.
- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.

- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the unit.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

(1) Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

(2) Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1-10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.
- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student’s set of cards.

REVIEW

Digraphs 'th' (Voiced and Unvoiced) and 'ng'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will review words with /ng/ and distinguish between words with /th/ (unvoiced) and /th/ (voiced). TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will identify and read words with the digraphs 'th' > /th/ and /th/ and

'ng' > /ng/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review adding inflectional endings to verbs.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read "Topher Sings" orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with digraphs 'th' > /th/,

'ng' > /ng/. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 11.1 Open Two-Syllable Words TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Observation Discussion Questions Observation Record TEKS 3.4

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|----------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                      |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                      |
| Review Digraphs: /th/, / th /, /ng/                                                     | 3 min.  |                      |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                      |
| Read Words with ‘th’ > /th/ and / th / and ‘ng’ > /ng/                                  | 3 min.  |                      |
| Read Open Two-Syllable Words                                                                   | 3 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 11.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                      |
| Review Inflectional Endings: Verbs                                                             | 6 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 11.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                      |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                      |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                      |
| Read “Topher Sings” with Accuracy                                                              | 10 min. | ☐ Activity Page 11.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                      |
| Spell Words with ‘th’ and ‘ng’                                                                 | 5 min.  | ☐ dictation journal  |

knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their pronunciation of certain sounds as they decode words, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Decoding document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Discussion Questions Observation Record that you prepared in Lesson 1. Remember to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question over the course of the week. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer literal, inferential, and evaluative questions and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: health clinic, vocal cords, and gargled.

Lesson 11: Review: Digraphs 'th' (Voiced and Unvoiced) and 'ng', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review words with /ng/ and distinguish between words with /th/ (unvoiced) and /th/ (voiced). TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW DIGRAPHS: /TH/, /TH/, /NG/ (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that when two letters are used to spell one sound, it is called a digraph.
- Explain that 'ng' is a digraph. Write 'ng' on the board.
- Say the following 'ng' words. Ask students to repeat each word.

| 'ng' |
|------|
| sing |
| sang |
| song |

- Say sing. Repeat the word, saying it slowly so that students can hear the /ng/ sound. Have students repeat the word.
- Repeat with sang and song.
- Explain that 'th' is a digraph. Write 'th' on the board.
- Say, "The spelling 'th' can make different sounds. When we say them, the 'th' makes a buzzing sound, which we call a voiced sound because our voices help make it."
- Say, "If I put my hand here on my throat, I can feel the buzzing of the /th/ sound." Demonstrate with them.
- Have students put a hand on their throat and make the voiced /th/. Do it together a couple of times. Ask students if they can feel the voiced /th/ sound. (yes)
- Say, "The other sound 'th' makes doesn't use our voices, so we call it the unvoiced /th/ sound. The word thin is an example of the unvoiced /th/ sound."

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Many English Language Learners struggle with creating the 'ng' sound. Help students by explaining that the sound is created at the back of the mouth, with the tongue touching the roof of the mouth. Demonstrate with the word ring and have students repeat.

ELPS 2.E

- Say, "If I put my hand here on my throat, I do not feel the buzzing of the /th/ sound. Demonstrate with thin."
- Have students put a hand on their throat and make the unvoiced /th/ sound. Do it together a couple of times. Ask students if they can feel the unvoiced /th/ sound. (no)
- Have students repeat the /th/ and /th/ sounds several times after you so they can feel the difference. Have them place their hand on their throat to feel the buzzing of the /th/ sound.
- Tell students that you are going to say words. Ask them to raise one hand if they hear /th/ (thin) or two hands if they hear /th/ (them).

| /th/ ( thin ) | / th / ( them ) |
|----------------------|-------------------------------|
| thank                | then                          |
| throng               | there                         |
| thread               | the                           |

Lesson 11: Review: Digraphs 'th' (Voiced and Unvoiced) and 'ng', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read words with the digraphs 'th' > /th/ and /th/ and

🗺️ 'ng' > /ng/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

🗺️ Students will identify and read words with open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH 'TH' > /TH/ AND /TH/ AND 'NG' > /NG/ (3 MIN.)

- Write the word song on the board and point to the 'ng'.
- Explain that the letter 'n' by itself stands for the /n/ sound, and the letter 'g' by itself stands for the /g/ or /j/ sound, but the letters 'n' and 'g' written together stand for a completely different sound, /ng/.

🗺️ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables

- Practice saying the sound with students by saying the following words and having students repeat them: sing, sang, ring.
- Say, “Now we’re going to learn more about ‘th.’” Write the word them on the board, and point to the ‘th’.
- Continue to help students distinguish between the voiced digraph ‘th’ > /th/ and the unvoiced digraph ‘th’ > /th/.
- Have students place a hand on their throat and say them. Ask, “Do you feel any vibration, or buzz, on your hand?” (yes)
- Explain that there is a buzz because in them the /th/ is a voiced sound.
- Next, have students repeat this process, but with thin.
- Help students understand there is no buzz because this ‘th’ sound is unvoiced. Air passes through the mouth, but there is no vibration in the throat, so it is an unvoiced sound.
- Write the on the board.
- Ask a student to read the word, first in a segmented fashion and then blended.
- Insert ‘n’ to create then.
- As you make this change, say, “If that is the, what is this?”
- Continue this process with the remaining words.
- Complete the chaining for words with ‘ng’ and ‘th’. Remind students about the /ng/ sound before doing chain number two.

1. the > then > thin > think > thank > than > that
2. sling > sing > ring > rung > lung > flung > fling

Challenge

Challenge pairs to create a list of ‘th’ words. Have them annotate the words as /th/ or /th/.

READ OPEN TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that open syllables end in a vowel that is not “closed up” by a consonant. Open syllables make long vowel sounds.
- Write the word prolong on the board.
- Using a slash, divide the word into its syllables: pro•long.
- Say and underline the first syllable.

- Ask, “Is the first syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (open; it ends with a long vowel sound that is not closed up by a consonant.)
- Say the word emphasizing each syllable. Have students read it aloud after you.
- Repeat the routine with the following words: menu, pony, total, solo, and baby.
- Direct students to Activity Page 11.1 and review the instructions.
- Write broken on the board. Model underlining the open syllable: bro-.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree that the first syllable of the following word is an open syllable or give a thumbs-down if you disagree: donut.” (thumbs-up)

Lesson 11: Review: Digraphs ‘th’ (Voiced and Unvoiced) and ‘ng’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review adding inflectional endings to verbs.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS: VERBS (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that we often add suffixes to the end of verbs to show when the action is taking place and who is doing the action.
- Write chase on the board. Read the word aloud.
- Say, “This is a word for an action that is happening right now: I chase the dog. We chase the dog. They chase the dog.”

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Ask, “What suffix should I add to the end of the word to show that someone else is doing the action right now? For example, what suffix should I add to show that Sam is doing the action?” (–s)
- Add –s to make chases. Read the new word aloud with the students. Say, “Sam chases the dog.”
- Use the word in sentences, noting he, she, my brother, and Jack: She chases the dog. He chases the dog. My brother chases the dog. Jack chases the dog.
- Say, “Remember, when I change who is doing the action from I, you, we, or they to someone or something else, I may need to add the suffix –s or –es to the verb.”
- Remind students that words that end in –ss, –sh, –ch, –x, or –zz need the ‘e’ before the ‘s’. Examples include dresses, washes, munches, taxes, and fizzes.
- Write stretch on the board. Say the word. Point out that the word ends in ‘ch’.
- Model adding –es. Say the word stretches and have students read the word aloud.
- Use the word in a sentence: Henry stretches.
- Ask, “What ending could we add to show that this is something Henry did yesterday?” (–ed; stretched) Use the word in a sentence: Henry stretched his legs yesterday.
- Say, “Remember that when a verb ends with a ‘y’, we add a suffix. But first we change the ‘y’ to an ‘i.’”
- Write cry on the board.
- Say, “I cry. They cry. You cry.”
- Ask, “How do I write this word to show that a baby is doing the action?” (cries)
- Write the word. Read the word aloud with the students. Then say the following sentence: The baby cries.
- How do I write it to show that the baby did the action in the past?” (cried)
- Write the word. Then say the following sentence: The baby cried.
- Direct students to Activity Page 11.2 and review the instructions.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 11.2

Lesson 11: Review: Digraphs ‘th’ (Voiced and Unvoiced) and ‘ng’, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Topher Sings” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ “TOPHER SINGS” WITH ACCURACY (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 11.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: throbbled/throbbing, restored, values, strain
  - phrases: “belts his high-pitched songs,” “dashes in,” “from this day forth”
  - domain-specific language: vocal cords, lungs
- Have students follow along as you read “Topher Sings.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., medicine and activities).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read.

Activity Page 11.3

Support

Before reading “Topher Sings”, show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Encourage students to follow along as you read the story aloud, annotating words that are unfamiliar to them. Have students share unfamiliar words and discuss them as a group.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Ask students yes/no questions using simple phrases to summarize the story: Does Topher like to sing? Does Topher get sick? Is Topher unable to sing? Does Topher do what the doctor says? Is Topher able to sing again?

Intermediate

Provide students with a specific sentence frame for summarizing and use temporal words: After Topher gets _____, he _____.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Encourage students to expand or build on other students' responses and learned phrases.

ELPS 4.G; ELPS 4.I

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for "Topher Sings"

1. Literal. What does Topher love to do?
  - » Topher loves to sing.
2. Literal. What happened a few days ago?
  - » Topher woke up sick and could not sing.
3. Literal. What does the doctor tell Topher?
  - » The doctor says that Topher should rest his vocal cords by not singing. She says to take cough drops.
4. Literal. What happens on the third day of Topher resting?
  - » Topher is able to sing again.
5. Inferential. Reread this sentence from the story: He couldn't even laugh off the sadness. What is the author suggesting?
  - » The author is saying that Topher was very sad about not being able to use his voice or sing, and he couldn't even laugh without it.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you think I read this sentence at the appropriate rate." Read a sentence much too slowly: "He belts his high-pitched songs, filling his home with music all day long." (thumbs-down)

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

- Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students' performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.
- Turn and Talk: Write the inferential question on the board and say, "Remember that talking with a partner is one way to bring more perspectives and information to our discussion. Let's take a moment to think about how we would answer this question."

- After providing some wait time, pair up students and have them take turns asking and answering the question. Remind students to ask any questions they may have about their partner's answer and then repeat back to their partner what was shared. Circulate and give feedback as partners are sharing and responding.
- Remind students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- Call on students and ask them to share one idea their partner shared with them. Ask the other partner if what was shared by the partner matches what they shared.

Lesson 11: Review: Digraphs 'th' (Voiced and Unvoiced) and 'ng', Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with digraphs

 'th' > /th/, 'ng' > /ng/. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH 'TH' AND 'NG' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with 'th' and 'ng.'
- Remind students that the letter 'n' by itself stands for the /n/ sound, and the letter 'g' by itself stands for the /g/ or /j/ sound, but the letters n and g written together stand for a completely different sound, /ng/.
- Remind them that /th/ can be voiced (then) or unvoiced (thin) but is spelled the same way.
- Say the word three. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |             |           |             |
|-------------|-----------|-------------|
| 1. three    | 4. rang   | 7. banged   |
| 2. them     | 5. thick  | 8. thrifty  |
| 3. thriving | 6. longer | 9. bringing |

 TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. The string is long.
2. What do the kings think?

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 11: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 11.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 11.3.
- Have them reread “Topher Sings.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 11.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.

- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: again, too, couldn't, enough, follow, around, and laugh.
- Say, "Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you've been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That's what makes them tricky."
- Display and point to the word again and say, "This word is tricky because the first 'a' is pronounced /ə/ and the 'ai' is pronounced /e/ or /i/."
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, "Let's sound out this word. My turn first."
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, "In this word, we say /ə/ for this letter. We say /g/ for this letter. We say /e/ for these letters. And we say /n/ for this letter." Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /ə/ /g/ /e/ /n/, again. Say, "Again! It's a word we use all the time, like when we say 'Topher is able to sing again.'"
- Say, "Now it's your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word." Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, "We say again. What's the word?"
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, "Now we're going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?" Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, "Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you've been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect."

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

REVIEW

Digraphs 'ph' and 'gh' > /f/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will review words with /f/ > 'ph' and 'gh' and digraphs from previous lessons. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will identify and read words with 'ph' and 'gh' that make the /f/ sound. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will add inflectional endings to nouns and verbs. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read "Topher Sings" fluently with a partner. TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with digraphs 'ph' or 'gh' > /f/. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

"Topher Sings" Anecdotal Reading Record
TEKS 3.4

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|----------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                      |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                      |
| Review: Digraphs 'ph' and 'gh' > /f/                                                           | 3 min.  |                      |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                      |
| Read Words with 'ph' and 'gh' > /f/                                                            | 3 min.  |                      |
| Read Open Two-Syllable Words                                                                   | 3 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 12.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                      |
| Review Inflectional Endings                                                                    | 6 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 12.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                      |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                      |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                      |
| Reread "Topher Sings"                                                                          | 10 min. | ☐ Activity Page 11.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                      |
| Spell Words with 'ph' and 'gh'                                                                 | 5 min.  | ☐ dictation journal  |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their pronunciation of certain sounds as they decode words, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Decoding document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: health clinic, vocal cords, and gargled.

Lesson 12: Review: Digraphs 'ph' and 'gh' &gt; /f/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review words with /f/ > 'ph' and 'gh' and digraphs from previous lessons. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW: DIGRAPHS 'PH' AND 'GH' > /F/ (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that the /f/ sound is spelled three ways: 'f', 'ph', and 'gh'.
- Create a three-column chart on the board with the sound-spellings as column headings.
- Tell students they are going to review words spelled with 'ph' and 'gh'. Underline the spellings.
- Say the word phone, emphasizing the /f/ sound, and write it on the board in the 'ph' column. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: photo, graph, and trophy. Write each word beneath the 'ph' heading.
- Say the word cough, emphasizing the /f/ sound. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: tough, rough, enough, and laugh. Write each word in the 'gh' column.
- Circle the 'ou' in cough. Explain to students that there are many ways we say words with 'ough' in English, but in this case, the 'ou' makes the /aw/ sound. Have a volunteer circle the 'ou' in tough, rough, and enough.
- Ask, "What sound does the 'ou' in tough, rough, and enough make?" (/u/)
- Circle the 'au' in laugh. Explain to students that there are several ways we say words with 'augh' in English, but in this case, the 'au' makes the /a/ sound.
- Tell students that the spellings for /f/ sounds must be learned and remembered.

Note: Students will learn more sounds for the 'ough' and 'augh' quadgraphs in Unit 2.

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills
Foundational Literacy Skills

Emphasize that in English some letters work together to form new sounds. Explain that the 'p' and 'h' in 'ph' and the 'g' and 'h' in 'gh' work together to form a new sound: /f/. Write the word photo on the board and model saying the word incorrectly: /p/ /h/ /oe/ /t/ /oe/. Then demonstrate correcting your pronunciation: /f/ /oe/ /t/ /oe/.

ELPS 2.E

Lesson 12: Review: Digraphs 'ph' and 'gh' > /f/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Support

Vowel digraphs for words with tricky spellings such as 'gh' and 'ph' often need to be learned and remembered because general rules for decoding don't apply. It may be helpful for students to keep a list in their notebook and add to it throughout the unit as they encounter new words with /f/ > 'gh' or 'ph'. You may also choose to keep a list of these words posted in the classroom for students to reference.

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read words with 'ph' and 'gh' that make the /f/ sound.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i

 Students will identify and read words with open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH 'PH' AND 'GH' > /F/ (3 MIN.)

- Create a two-column chart on the board with the headings 'ph' and 'gh'.
- Say the word "tough" and have students repeat it.
- Write the word into the correct column.
- Ask a volunteer to approach the board and underline the spelling of the /f/ sound in the word. (gh) Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: tough, rough, laugh, enough, phone, photo, graph, and trophy.
- If time allows, have students generate their own 'ph' and 'gh' words and add those to the chart.

READ OPEN TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Ask, "What is an open syllable?" (a syllable that ends with a vowel that makes a long vowel sound)
- Write the word photo on the board. Point out the 'ph'.
- Using a slash, divide the word into its syllables: pho•to.
- Ask, "Is the first syllable open? How do you know?" (open; It ends with a long vowel.) Read the first syllable.
- Ask, "Is the second syllable open? How do you know?" (open; It ends with a long vowel.) Read the second syllable. Then read the word emphasizing each syllable and have students read the word aloud.

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Repeat the routine with the following words: phone, trophy, phobic, even, item, moment, and frequent.
- Direct students to Activity Page 12.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words aloud with a partner. If not, ask students to complete the activity at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree that the following word begins with a closed syllable, or give a thumbs-down if you disagree: savor." (thumbs-down)

Lesson 12: Review: Digraphs 'ph' and 'gh' > /f/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add inflectional endings to nouns and verbs.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS (6 MIN.)

- Ask a volunteer to write a singular noun on the board, such as truck. Read the word aloud with the students.
- Ask, "How do we write this word if there is more than one truck?" (trucks)
- Add the word ending. Read the word aloud together.
- Ask a volunteer to write a verb on the board, such as dance. Read the word aloud with the students.
- Ask, "How do we write this word to show the action happened in the past?" (danced)

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Add the word ending. Read the word aloud together.
- Direct students to Activity Page 12.2 and review the instructions. Circulate as students work.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If students need more time, ask them to complete the activity page at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 12.2

---

Lesson 12: Review: Digraphs 'ph' and 'gh' &gt; /f/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Topher Sings” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “TOPHER SINGS” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 11.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Topher Sings” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Topher Sings.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline three words with /f/ > ‘ph’ or ‘gh’, such as Topher and rough;

Activity Page 11.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with /f/ > ‘ph’ or ‘gh’.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

- circle three plural nouns, such as classes; and
- highlight three multisyllabic words with open syllables, such as o•pen, and put a box around the open syllable (o).

Observation: Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Topher Sings,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Challenge

Challenge students to create a chart of the words with inflectional endings, organizing the words by nouns and verbs.

Lesson 12: Review: Digraphs ‘ph’ and ‘gh’ > /f/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with digraphs ‘ph’ or ‘gh’ > /f/. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH ‘PH’ AND ‘GH’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with ‘ph’ and ‘gh’.
- Remind students that in some words the /f/ sound is spelled ‘ph’ or ‘gh’.
- Say the word biography. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |              |           |              |
|--------------|-----------|--------------|
| 1. biography | 4. enough | 7. paragraph |
| 2. dolphin   | 5. phone  | 8. coughed   |
| 3. laughing  | 6. photo  | 9. phobic    |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. On the phone, I told Mom I got a trophy.
2. The elephant has rough skin.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Think about the way the word nephew is spelled. Give a thumbs-up if you think the /f/ sound is spelled with an 'f'" (thumbs-down)

Lesson 12: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 12.1 for each student.
- Read the following words, one at a time: homophone, cough, push, orphan, tough, wrong, elephant, enough, saddle, alphabet, digraph, coconut, laugh, and nephew.
- After each word, ask students to write it in the appropriate column of Activity Page TR 12.1. If the word does not contain the /f/ sound, students should not write it.
- When students are done writing, ask pairs to share and check their work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Topher Sings” on Activity Page TR 11.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say again and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, æægen. Write the letters to spell again on the board.
- Point to the word again and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /ə/ sound is spelled with ‘a’ and the /e/ sound is spelled with ‘ai.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /ə/ for this letter. We say /g/ for this letter. We say /e/ for these letters. And we say /n/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /ə/ /g/ /e/ /n/, again. Say, “Again! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words too, couldn’t, enough, follow, around, and laugh. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

13

REVIEW

Digraphs 'ck' > /k/,
'wh' > /w/, 'gh' > /g/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will review words with /k/, /w/, and /g/ to prepare for review of digraphs

✦ 'ck', 'wh', and 'gh'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will identify and read words with /k/ > 'ck', /w/ > 'wh', /g/ > 'gh'.

✦ TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with open syllables.

✦ TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will add the inflectional endings -er and -est to root words to change

✦ their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read "Serena Williams" fluently and will answer questions about key

✦ details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with digraphs /k/ > 'ck',

✦ /w/ > 'wh', /g/ > 'gh'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 13.2 Comparative and Superlative Adjectives

✦ TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

✦ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes,

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                   |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|-----------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                             |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                             |
| Review /k/, /w/, /g/                                                                           | 3 min.  |                             |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                             |
| Read Words with /k/ > 'ck', /w/ > 'wh', /g/ > 'gh'                                             | 3 min.  |                             |
| Read Open Multisyllabic Words                                                                  | 3 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 13.1        |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                             |
| Root Words and Inflected Endings: -er and -est                                                 | 6 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 13.2        |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                             |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                             |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                             |
| Read "Serena Williams"                                                                         | 10 min. | ☐ Activity Pages 13.3, 13.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                             |
| Spell Words with Digraphs 'ck', 'wh', and 'gh'                                                 | 5 min.  | ☐ dictation journal         |

including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

---

ADVANCE PREPARATION*Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures of Serena and Venus Williams to support the Reading activity.

Lesson 13: Review: Digraphs 'ck' > /k/, 'wh' > /w/,
'gh' > /g/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review words with /k/, /w/, and /g/ to prepare for review of digraphs 'ck', 'wh', and 'gh'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW /K/, /W/, /G/ (3 MIN.)

- Say kangaroo and have students repeat it.
- Say, "Kangaroo begins with the /k/ sound."
- Write kangaroo on the board. Segment the sounds and then blend them. Have students repeat after you.
- Say, "Wall begins with the /w/ sound."
- Write wall on the board. Segment the sounds and then blend them. Have students repeat after you.
- Say, "Gate begins with the /g/ sound."
- Write gate on the board. Segment the sounds and then blend them. Have students repeat after you.
- Leave the words on the board to use later in the lesson.

Lesson 13: Review: Digraphs 'ck' > /k/, 'wh' > /w/,
'gh' > /g/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read words with /k/ > 'ck', /w/ > 'wh', /g/ > 'gh'.

TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with open syllables.

TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ WORDS WITH /K/ > 'CK', /W/ > 'WH', /G/ > 'GH' (3 MIN.)

Support

If students struggle in sounding out any of the sample words, try this routine. On the board, write the word, such as solo. Cover the second syllable with your finger (-lo) and ask them to read just the first syllable (so-). Then cover the first syllable (so-) and ask them to read the second syllable (-lo). Reveal the entire word and ask them to blend and read both syllables.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Show students pictures or objects in the classroom that represent some of the words students hear during the lesson. For example, you might point out a black sign or a white paper. When generating your own sample words with the targeted sound spellings, focus on those that are familiar to students.

ELPS 2.E

- Point to the word kangaroo that you wrote on the board during the Warm-Up activity. Say the sound /k/ and have students repeat it.
- Say, “Here is another way to spell the /k/ sound.”
- Write ‘ck’ on the board. Then say the word black.
- Write black on the board beneath the ‘ck’ heading.
- Circle the ‘ck’ in black and the ‘k’ in kangaroo.
- Say, “Both of these words have the /k/ sound, but I see different spellings.”
- Say, “When a word ends in the /k/ sound, we usually write /k/ as ‘ck.’”
- Write additional words beneath the ‘ck’ heading and have students read them aloud: tack, sick, and check.
- Point to the word wall that you wrote on the board during the Warm-Up activity. Say the sound /w/ and have students repeat it.
- Say, “We usually spell the /w/ sound ‘w,’ but here is another way to spell it: ‘wh.’”
- Write ‘wh’ on the board. Then say the word white. Write white beneath the ‘wh’ heading, and have students read the word aloud.
- Circle the ‘wh’.
- Ask, “What sound does this make?” (/w/)
- Write where and wheel under white. Underline each instance of ‘wh’. Have students read each word aloud.
- Point out that /w/ > ‘wh’ usually appears at the beginning of a word.
- Repeat the routine for /g/ using the following words: ghost, ghoul, and Ghana.
- Point out that /g/ > ‘gh’ usually appears at the beginning of a word. Point out that they have also learned words in which ‘gh’ makes the /f/ sound, such as elephant and laugh.

READ OPEN MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that an open syllable ends with a vowel and makes a long vowel sound.
- Write silent on the board.
- Using a slash, divide the words into its syllables: si•lent.
- Ask, “Which syllable is open?” (the first; it ends with a long /ie/ sound) Point to each syllable as you read the word aloud, and then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, “How many syllables are in silent?” (two)
- Repeat the routine with the following words: zero, tempo, solo, minus, and robot.
- Direct students to Activity Page 13.1 and review the instructions. Complete the first two items with students. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 13.1

Lesson 13: Review: Digraphs ‘ck’ > /k/, ‘wh’ > /w/, ‘gh’ > /g/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will add the inflectional endings -er and -est to root words to change their meanings. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTED ENDINGS: -ER AND -EST (6 MIN.)

- Say, “An adjective is a part of speech describing a noun.”
- Write long nap and short nap on the board. Underline long and short. Ask, “Are these adjectives? Why?” (yes; They are words that describe the noun nap.)

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Challenge

---

Have students create sentences using the superlative and comparative adjectives on the board. Ask them to share their sentences with a partner.

- Draw lines from the adjectives to the noun, emphasizing that the adjectives describe the noun.
- Write shorter on the board. Underline -er.
- Say, "Comparative adjectives describe how two things or groups of things are different. Shorter is a comparative adjective. Comparative adjectives usually end in -er."
- Write longest on the board. Underline -est.
- Say, "Superlative adjectives describe how one thing in a group of three or more things is different from all of the others. Longest is a superlative adjective. Superlative adjectives usually end in -est."
- Display three pencils of different sizes.
- Hold up the shortest pencil. Say, "This pencil is shorter than the other two."
- Point to the word shorter on the board.
- Hold up the longest pencil. Say, "This pencil is the longest."
- Point to the word longest on the board.
- Write cool on the board. Say, "Cool is an adjective."
- Demonstrate adding -er to cool. Say, "Cooler is a comparative adjective. It describes how two things are different."
- Write the following sentence on the board and read it aloud: Tuesday was cooler than Monday.
- Demonstrate adding -est to cool. Say, "Coolest is a superlative adjective. It describes how one thing in a group of three or more is different from all the others."
- Write the following sentence on the board and read it aloud: Sunday was the coolest day of the week.
- Direct students to Activity Page 13.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 13.2

---

---

Check for Understanding

---

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree with the following statement or give a thumbs-down if you disagree: ‘The word coldest is a superlative adjective.’” (thumbs-up)

---

Support

Before reading “Serena Williams,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Challenge

Have students work in pairs. Each student should write a question about the text. Have students trade questions, and then write responses.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Provide options for individual reading. Pair strong and struggling readers. Ask them first to read the first paragraph together, alternating between sentences. Then ask them to read the rest of the text independently.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns. Encourage students to work together to annotate the text.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to annotate the text.

ELPS 4.1

Part 2

Lesson 13: Review: Digraphs ‘ck’ > /k/, ‘wh’ > /w/, ‘gh’ > /g/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Serena Williams” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ “SERENA WILLIAMS” (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 13.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: whopping, strive, drive, vital, splendid
  - phrases: “split his time,” “no stranger to defeat,” “shrugs off”
  - domain-specific language: serves, backhands, U.S. Open, matches, solo player, doubles player
- Have students follow along as you read “Serena Williams.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., deny and admiration).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently.
- Then have students turn to Activity Page 13.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don’t complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their responses to the comprehension questions.

Lesson 13: Review: Digraphs 'ck' > /k/, 'wh' > /w/, 'gh' > /g/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write multisyllabic words with digraphs

/k/ > 'ck', /w/ > 'wh', /g/ > 'gh'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH DIGRAPHS 'CK', 'WH', AND 'GH' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with 'ph', 'ck', and 'gh'.
- Remind students that some words with the /k/ sound are spelled 'ck', especially when the sound is at the end of the word. Point out that some words with the /w/ sound are spelled 'wh', and some words with the /g/ sound are spelled 'gh'.
- Say the word clock. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |           |              |          |
|-----------|--------------|----------|
| 1. clock  | 4. trickster | 7. which |
| 2. locker | 5. whisker   | 8. whiz  |
| 3. lucky  | 6. whistle   | 9. white |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs, r-controlled syllables; and final syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. Some snacks are in my backpack.
2. Why are you whispering?

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 13: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 13.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 13.3.
- Have them reread “Serena Williams.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 13.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: both, though, open, every, young, those, and old.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word though and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘th’ is pronounced with the voiced /th/, and the ‘ough’ is pronounced /oe/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /th/ for these letters. We say /oe/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /th/ /oe/, though. Say, “Though! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘Even though Serena is faster and stronger than most players on the tennis court, she is no stranger to defeat.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say though. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

REVIEW

Consonant Blends with Digraphs: 'thr', 'shr', 'str', 'spl'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally add sounds to words to make new words. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will identify and read words with consonant blends with digraphs.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with open syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify words that use inflectional endings -er and -est.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Serena Williams” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with consonant blends with digraphs.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Serena Williams” Anecdotal Reading Record
TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|----------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                      |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                      |
| Add Sounds to Create New Words                                                                 | 3 min.  |                      |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                      |
| Read Words with Consonant Blends and Digraphs                                                  | 3 min.  |                      |
| Read Open Multisyllabic Words                                                                  | 3 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 14.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                      |
| Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -er and -est                                | 6 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 14.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                      |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                      |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                      |
| Reread “Serena Williams”                                                                       | 10 min. | ☐ Activity Page 13.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                      |
| Spell Words with Consonant Blends and Digraphs                                                 | 5 min.  | ☐ dictation journal  |

how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their pronunciation of certain sounds as they decode words, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Decoding document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire text.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the text.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures of Serena and Venus Williams to support the Reading activity.

Lesson 14: Review: Consonant Blends with Digraphs: 'thr', 'shr', 'str', 'spl', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally add sounds to words to make new words.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i

ADD SOUNDS TO CREATE NEW WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that first you will say a word and then they will repeat it.
- Say, "After we say the word, I will give you a clue to a new word. You will make the new word by adding a sound to the word we said. Raise your hand when you think you know the new word."
- Give an example: pill. Have students repeat the word. Say, "Here's a hint to a new word: It is something that happens when a glass of water is knocked over. Add a sound to pill. What is the new word?" (spill)
- Continue with the following words in the list.

|          | Hint                                                  |               |
|----------|-------------------------------------------------------|---------------|
| 1. spat  | the sound a water balloon makes when it hits concrete | splat  |
| 2. shed  | to tear up paper                                      | shred  |
| 3. sting | something you use to tie                              | string |

Lesson 14: Review: Consonant Blends with Digraphs: 'thr', 'shr', 'str', 'spl', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read words with consonant blends with digraphs.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with open syllables.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Support students by using gestures to act out the meaning of the new words with added phonemes. For example, demonstrate shredding a piece of paper or tying a string.

ELPS 2.E

READ WORDS WITH CONSONANT BLENDS AND DIGRAPHS (3 MIN.)

- Write thrill, splat, shred, and string on the board to begin columns.
- Point to thrill. Underline 'thr'. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, "This is a blend of consonants. The 't' and 'h' work together to make the /th/ sound. Then the /r/ comes in." Have students repeat /th/ /r/.
- Say, "These sounds blended together say 'thr'!" Demonstrate saying thr-ill and thrill.
- Ask, "What other words start with this blend?" (examples: three, throw, threw)
- Write students' suggestions on the board under the word thrill. Correct any misconceptions. Read each word together and underline the thr-.
- Point to splat. Underline 'spl'. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, "The 's' makes the /s/ sound, the 'p' makes the /p/ sound, and the 'l' makes the /l/ sound." Have students repeat /s/ /p/ /l/.
- Say, "These sounds blended together say 'spl'!" Demonstrate saying spl-at and splat.
- Ask, "What other words start with this blend?" (examples: splatter, splint, splash)
- Write students' suggestions on the board under splat. Correct any misconceptions. Read each word together and underline the spl-.
- Point to shred. Underline 'shr'. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, "This is a blend of consonants. The 's' and 'h' work together to make the /sh/ sound. Then the /r/ comes in." Have students repeat /sh/ /r/.
- Say, "These sounds blended together say 'shr'!" Demonstrate saying shr-ed and shred.
- Ask, "What other words start with this blend?" (examples: shrink, shrimp, shrug)
- Write students' suggestions on the board under the word shred. Correct any misconceptions. Read each word together and underline the shr-.
- Point to string. Underline 'str'. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, "This is a blend of the consonants 's', 't', and 'r': /s/ /t/ /r/. These sounds together say 'str'. Str-ing. String."

Support

If students struggle with identifying the consonant blend in the sample words, create a chart to organize the words by consonant blend and write them on the board. Work with students to organize the words in the chart and say each word together again.

- Ask, “What other words start with this blend?” (examples: street, strip, stripe)
- Write students’ suggestions on the board under the word string. Correct any misconceptions. Read each word together and underline the str–.
- Explain that you are going to say some words. When students hear the ‘thr’ sound, they should raise their left hand. When they hear the ‘shr’ sound, they should raise their right hand.
- Say the following words: thrive, throwback, shriek, shrine, threat, and shrivel.
- Explain that you are going to say other words. When students hear the ‘spl’ sound, they should raise their left hand; and when they hear the ‘str’ sound, they should raise their right hand.
- Say the following words: strict, splash, stray, strength, splint, and splendid.

READ OPEN MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that an open syllable ends with a vowel and makes a long vowel sound.
- Write apron on the board.
- Using a slash, divide the word into its syllables: a•pron.
- Ask, “How many syllables are in this word?” (two)
- Ask, “Which syllable is open?” (the first; It ends with a vowel and has a long vowel sound.) Point to each syllable as you read the word aloud, and then have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat the routine with the following words: open, relax, museum, sofa, and silent.
- Direct students to Activity Page 14.1 and review the instructions. Read the list of words aloud as the students follow along. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 14.1

Lesson 14: Review: Consonant Blends with Digraphs:

'thr', 'shr', 'str', 'spl', Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify words that use inflectional endings -er and -est. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS: -ER AND -EST (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that an adjective is a part of speech that describes a noun.
- Ask volunteers for examples of adjectives. (nice, red, shiny)
- Say, "Remember, a comparative adjective describes how two things or groups of things are different and usually ends in -er."
- Ask volunteers for examples of comparative adjectives. (taller, smarter, harder)
- Point out that when a word ends in 'y', we change the 'y' to 'i' before adding the ending -er. Write shiny on the board. Below it, write the word again and change the 'y' to 'i' to make the comparative adjective shinier. Remind students that they have learned this same rule for the endings -ed and -es.
- Say, "Remember, a superlative adjective describes how one thing in a group of three or more is different from all of the others and usually ends in -est."
- Write the adjective old on the board. Ask students to turn the adjective into a comparative and a superlative adjective. (older, oldest)
- Say, "Marc, Caleb, and Jonas are brothers."
- Then write the following sentence on the board: Marc is ____ than Caleb, but Jonas is the ____.
- Ask students to work with a partner to complete the sentence with the correct adjectives. Then have a volunteer pair approach the board and complete the sentence with the correct adjectives. (Mark is older than Caleb, but Jonas is the oldest.) Have students read the completed sentence aloud.

Challenge

Provide students with three objects. Then ask them to write a couple of sentences about the objects that include at least one comparative and one superlative adjective.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Activity Page 14.2

---

- Write the adjective small on the board. Ask students to turn the adjective into a comparative adjective and a superlative adjective. (smaller, smallest)
- Say, “There are three animals in the forest: a fox, a mouse, and a mountain lion.”
- Then write the following sentence on the board: The fox is ____ than the mountain lion, but the mouse is the ____.
- Have pairs complete the sentence with the correct adjectives. Then have a volunteer pair approach the board and complete the sentence with the correct adjectives. (The fox is smaller than the mountain lion, but the mouse is the smallest.) Have students read the completed sentence aloud.
- Point out that the same spelling rule for words that end in ‘y’ applies to the suffix -est. Below the words shiny and shinier on the board, write shiniest. Have students read all three words aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 14.2 and review the instructions. Read the words aloud, having students follow along.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

---

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree that the adjectives in the following sentence are used correctly, and give a thumbs-down if you disagree: ‘At the party, Ana was sillier than Avi, but Noa was the silliest.’” (thumbs-up)

---

Lesson 14: Review: Consonant Blends with Digraphs:

'thr', 'shr', 'str', 'spl', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Serena Williams” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “SERENA WILLIAMS” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s text with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the text.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 13.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Serena Williams” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Serena Williams.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
  - underline three words with ‘thr’, ‘str’, ‘spl’, and ‘shr’, such as thrilling and strive, splendid, and shriek;
  - circle three comparative and superlative adjectives with -er, such as stronger, and -est, such as quickest; and
  - highlight three two-syllable words in which both syllables are open, such as solo.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Challenge

Have students first create a list of the ‘thr’, ‘shr’, ‘str’, and ‘spl’ words used in the passage. Then challenge them to write a short story that uses all of the words.

Activity Page 13.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with consonant blends.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Check for Understanding

Turn and Talk: Say, “Turn and talk to a partner about the comparative and superlative adjectives used in the passage.” Ask the students to explain to each other why the writer chose to use these adjectives. Circulate as students talk, making sure they understand that the comparative adjectives compare two things and the superlative adjectives compare three or more things. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share examples of comparative and superlative adjectives with the group.

Observation: “Serena Williams” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Serena Williams,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 14: Review: Consonant Blends with Digraphs: ‘thr’, ‘shr’, ‘str’, ‘spl’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with consonant blends with digraphs. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH CONSONANT BLENDS AND DIGRAPHS (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with ‘thr’, ‘shr’, ‘str’, and ‘spl’.
- Remind students that these words have consonant blends and digraphs. Say, “For example, remember that in ‘thr’ words, the ‘t’ and ‘h’ work together to make the /th/ sound. Then the /r/ comes in.”

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Say the word strongest. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |              |              |              |
|--------------|--------------|--------------|
| 1. strongest | 4. thriving  | 7. shrub     |
| 2. throwback | 5. shrugging | 8. splendid  |
| 3. splatter  | 6. stronger  | 9. splashing |

- Tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                                |
|------------------------------------------------|
| 1. Stress makes her head throb.                |
| 2. The pumpkin struck the ground with a splat. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 14: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 14.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Read the words aloud, having students follow along. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done writing, ask pairs to share and check their work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Serena Williams” on Activity Page TR 13.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say though and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, thoe. Write the letters to spell though on the board.
- Point to the word though and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /th/ sound is spelled with ‘th’ and the /oe/ sound is spelled with ‘ough.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /th/ for these letters. We say /oe/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /th/ /oe/, though. Say, “Though! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words both, open, every, young, those, and old. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.

- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will review the sounds for digraphs they studied this week. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will review identifying and reading words with the digraphs they practiced this week. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify and read words with closed and open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will use adjectives with inflectional endings in sentences. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

- Students will read and annotate “Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers” independently and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will review spelling and writing multisyllabic words with consonant blends and digraphs. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Dictation Journal      Phonics/Encoding Dictation

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|-----------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                             |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                             |
| Sound Building                                                                                 | 3 min.      |                             |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                             |
| Review Digraphs                                                                                | 3 min.      |                             |
| Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables                                                      | 3 min.      | ☐ Activity Page 15.1        |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                             |
| Review Inflectional Endings                                                                    | 6 min.      | ☐ Activity Page 15.2        |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                             |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                             |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                             |
| Read “Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers” Independently                                        | 10 min.     | ☐ Activity Pages 15.3, 15.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                             |
| Encoding Review                                                                                | 5 min.      | ☐ dictation journal         |

---

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Warm-Up

- Gather blocks for the Sound Building game.

Morphology

- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: kickball, trophy, confidence, and stress.

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review the sounds for digraphs they studied this week. TEKS 3.2.A.i

SOUND BUILDING (3 MIN.)

- Tell students they are going to play a game called “Sound Building.”
- Explain that you will say a word and they will say the consonant blend or digraph at the beginning or the end of the word.
- Ask, “What is the digraph at the beginning of shrug?” (/sh/)
- If students struggle to identify the digraph, repeat the word with the digraph drawn out: shhhhhhrug.
- Ask, “What sound blends with the digraph /sh/?” (/r/)
- As students provide correct digraphs and blends, give them a block. Students take turns placing the blocks to create a collective structure throughout the game.
- Repeat the routine with the following words:

/f/ > ‘ph’ and ‘gh’: photo, cough, laugh

/k/ > ‘ck’: click, cluck, truck

/w/ > ‘wh’: while, when, whale

/g/ > ‘gh’: ghost, ghoul, ghastly

‘thr’: threw, thrown, threat

‘shr’: shriek, shrine, shred

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will review identifying and reading words with the digraphs they practiced this week. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with closed and open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW DIGRAPHS (3 MIN.)

- Explain that you are going to say a riddle and then students will guess the word. Each word will have a digraph or blend they studied this week ('ph' and 'gh' > /f/, 'ng' > /ng/, 'ck' > /k/, 'wh' > /w/, 'thr', 'shr', 'str', or 'spl').
- Say, "A team gets this for winning a big game." (trophy)
- Write trophy on the board and underline the digraph 'ph'. Have students say the word aloud.
- Repeat the routine with the following riddles.

I call my sister's son this. (nephew)

I look at this to tell the time. (clock)

In soccer, you do this to the ball. (kick)

Cats have these on their faces. (whiskers)

This is the opposite of weak. (strong)

This is what happens when you jump in a pool. (splash)

This number comes after two. (three)

READ WORDS WITH CLOSED AND OPEN SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Write the following words on the board: solo, relax, humankind, sunset, when. Point to and read each word aloud.
- Explain that you are going to say a sound and syllable requirement. Then students will read aloud a word on the board that meets the requirement.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Challenge

For each sound and syllable requirement, challenge students to come up with additional words, not listed on the board. For example, for the first clue ("Give me a word with two open syllables"), students might say "ego."

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Talk to students about the word trophy. Hold up a trophy or an image of a trophy. First segment the word, asking students to repeat. Blend the word, asking students to repeat.

Then write the word on the board, dividing it by syllables. Put your hand over the second syllable. Say the first syllable, pointing out that it is an open syllable because it ends in a long vowel sound. Put your hand over the first syllable and pronounce the second syllable. Point out that it is an open syllable because it ends in a long vowel sound. Then say the word again and have students read it aloud.

ELPS 3.A; ELPS 3.E

- Say, “Give me a word with two open syllables.” (solo)
- Repeat with the following sound and syllable requirements.

Give me a word with two closed syllables. (sunset)

Give me a word with one open syllable. (relax)

Give me a closed one syllable word. (when)

Give me a three syllable word with one open syllable. (humankind)

Activity Page 15.1

- Direct students to Activity Page 15.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will use adjectives with inflectional endings in sentences.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Support

Identify adjectives on the activity page that students are struggling with and write the comparative and superlative versions on the board. Work with students to create sentences with each.

REVIEW INFLECTIONAL ENDINGS (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that a comparative adjective compares or describes how two things or groups of things are different and usually ends in -er.
- Ask a volunteer to say a sentence with quicker. (The train is quicker than the bus.)
- Remind students that a superlative adjective describes how one thing in a group of three or more is different from all of the others and usually ends in -est.
- Remind students that for adjectives that end in ‘y’, they must change the ‘y’ to ‘i’ before adding -er or -est.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Ask a volunteer to say a sentence with youngest. (I am the youngest of three sisters.)
- Write the following sentences on the board: Tina is funnier than the other actors. She is the _____ actor in the play. Read the sentences aloud with the students.
- Ask a volunteer to circle the comparative adjective in the sentences. (funnier)
- Then ask a volunteer to complete the sentence with a superlative adjective. (funniest) Read the completed sentences aloud with the students.
- Direct students to Activity Page 15.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 15.2

Check for Understanding

Turn and Talk: Point to the adjective “funnier” on the board. Ask students to discuss the spelling of the adjective. Ask, “Is the correct spelling ‘funnier’ or ‘funnyer’?” Circulate as students discuss, making sure they recognize that the y is replaced with i before the suffix is added. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner’s thinking with the group.

Support

Before reading “Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Have students focus on one annotation at a time.

For example, first have them read and underline words with digraphs and consonant blends. On the next read, have them circle comparative adjectives, and so on.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have students write the words from the passage on their own paper using columns to categorize the skills (e.g., words with comparative adjectives; words with consonant blends, words with open syllables).

Intermediate

Have students work with a partner to annotate the text.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students work independently to annotate the text and then share their work with a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Part 2

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read and annotate “Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers” independently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

READ “WHOPPING ELEPHANTS VS. TINY TIGERS” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

- Tell students they will be reading “Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 15.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: buzzing, climax, ghastly, whizzed
  - phrases: “shrugged off any doubt,” “splendid triumph”
  - domain-specific language: playoff game, inning, home plate
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., confidence and whispered).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and have them
  - underline three words with ‘ph’, ‘gh’, ‘ck’, and ‘wh’ they learned about this week, such as elephants and ghost;
  - put a box around three words with shr-, thr-, str-, and spl-, such as Shri and thrilled;

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

- circle three comparative adjectives and superlative adjectives, such as fastest and harder; and
- highlight three multisyllabic words with open syllables, such as final and tiny.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 15.4 independently. If they don't complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Pages
15.3, 15.4

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their annotation decisions.

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will review spelling and writing multisyllabic words with consonant blends and digraphs. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with 'thr', 'shr', 'str', and 'spl'.
- Remind students that these words have consonant blends. Say, "For example, remember that in 'shr' words, the 's' and 'h' work together to make the /sh/ sound. Then the /r/ comes in."
- Say 'shr', shr-ed, and shred, having students repeat after you.
- Tell students that they will also be spelling words with 'wh' and 'ck'.
- Say the /w/ sound. Remind students that the sound can be spelled 'wh'. Say the /k/ sound. Remind students that the sound can be spelled 'ck'.
- Tell students that they will also be spelling words with 'ph' and 'gh'.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Say the /f/ sound. Remind students that the sound can be spelled 'ph' and 'gh'.
- Tell students that they will also be spelling words with 'ng'.
- Remind students that the letter 'n' by itself stands for the /n/ sound, and the letter 'g' by itself stands for the /g/ sound, but the letters 'n' and 'g' written together stand for a completely different sound, /ng/.
- Say the word whisks. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |             |              |             |
|-------------|--------------|-------------|
| 1. whisks   | 4. throbbing | 7. trophies |
| 2. clocked  | 5. shrinks   | 8. laughing |
| 3. thrashes | 6. quicker   | 9. longest  |

- Tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                       |
|---------------------------------------|
| 1. Dolphins swam along with the boat. |
| 2. Is the gum sticky enough?          |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Dictation Journals: Phonics/Encoding Dictation

Collect students' dictation journals to review and monitor student progress.

Lesson 15: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 15.1 for each student. Direct students to Activity Page 15.3.
- Have them reread “Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 15.1. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers” on Activity Page TR 15.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lessons 11 and 13 (again, too, couldn't, enough, follow, around, laugh, both, though, open, every, young, those, old). Write the following new words on index cards: ghost, against, behind, great, were, would, and any.
- Use the cards with the new words. Say, "Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you've been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect."
- Display and point to the word ghost and say, "This word is tricky because the 'gh' is pronounced /g/ and the 'o' is pronounced /oe/."
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, "Let's sound out this word. My turn first."
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, "In this word, we say /g/ for these letters. We say /oe/ for this letter. We blend and say /s/ /t/ for these letters. Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /g/ /oe/ /s/ /t/, ghost. Say, "Ghost! It's a word we use all the time, like when we say 'Whitney became as pale as a ghost.'"
- Say, "Now it's your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word." Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, "We say ghost. What's the word?" Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, "It is helpful to remember another word that has the /gh/ sound spelled 'g.'" Write ghastly on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lessons 11 and 13. Say, "Now we're going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let's play a game. We're going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let's see how fast we can go. My turn first."
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, "Do you think you can go faster than I did?"
- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.

- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.
- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.
- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the unit.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

(1) Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

(2) Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1-10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.
- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student’s set of cards.

16

REVIEW

Abbreviations: Titles with Names

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally add sounds to words to make new words. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read abbreviations of titles with names. TEKS 3.2.A.iii

Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with open syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will read, define, and spell words with the derivational ending -y.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write abbreviations of titles with names. TEKS 3.2.B.iii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 16.1 TEKS 3.2.A.iii

Observation TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B.iii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                             |
| Add Sounds to Make New Words                                                                   | 3 min.      |                                             |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Abbreviations: Titles with Names                                                               | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 16.1 |
| Read Open Multisyllabic Words                                                                  | 3 min.      |                                             |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                             |
| Root Words and Derivational Endings: -y                                                        | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 16.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                             |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                             |
| Read “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” with Accuracy                                           | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 16.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Spell Abbreviations of Titles with Names                                                       | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal  |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- If desired, prepare a chart that lists the full words and abbreviations of titles that come before or after names for today and future reference. You may also choose to write on the board during the lesson.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Discussion Questions Observation Record that you prepared in Lesson 1. Remember to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question over the course of the week. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer literal, inferential, and evaluative questions and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity, such as letter, mailman, human, mailbox, and sunny.

Lesson 16: Review: Abbreviations: Titles with Names, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally add sounds to words to make new words.

TEKS 3.2.A.i

ADD SOUNDS TO MAKE NEW WORDS (3 MIN.)

Note: This activity should be done orally.

- Remind students that adding one sound to a word can change its meaning.
- Say, “Sounds can be added to the beginning, middle, or end of a word.”
- Tell them they will practice adding phonemes to words to make new words.
- Say the word fog.
- Ask, “How could I add the sound /r/ to the word fog to create a new word?” (frog)
- Continue with the remaining words in the list. As students offer their responses, remember that changes in spelling are acceptable, because the focus of the activity is adding sounds to make new words.

| Example | Sound to add | New Word |
|---------|--------------|----------|
| fog     | /r/          | frog     |
| met     | /l/          | melt     |
| rain    | /b/          | brain    |
| see     | /l/          | seal     |
| tray    | /n/          | train    |

Challenge

Have pairs brainstorm more examples and new words.

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 16: Review: Abbreviations: Titles with Names, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- Students will identify and read abbreviations of titles with names. TEKS 3.2.A.iii
- Students will identify and read multisyllabic words with open syllables.
- TEKS 3.2.A.ii

ABBREVIATIONS: TITLES WITH NAMES (3 MIN.)

- Explain that an abbreviation is a short way to write a full word. Abbreviations usually begin with a capital letter and end with a period.
- Tell students that titles that come before names, such as Doctor and Missus, are often abbreviated.
- On the board, display a chart that lists full titles along with their abbreviations.

| Full Word | Abbreviation           |
|-----------|------------------------|
| Mister    | Mr.                    |
| Missus    | Mrs.                   |
| Miss      | Miss (not abbreviated) |
| Doctor    | Dr.                    |

Challenge

Explain to students that there are other titles that come before names that are also abbreviated.

Have students identify the full title for the following abbreviations: “Prof.,” “Gov.,” and “Gen.” (Professor, Governor, General)

- Read each title aloud, and complete each example on the chart by adding a familiar name, such as Dr. Chen, Mr. Jones, or Mrs. Patel after the abbreviation. Have students repeat each example.
- Point out that the title Miss is not abbreviated and often appears in full before a name, such as Miss Anderson. This title is most often used to address girls or younger, unmarried women.
- Explain that titles that come after names, such as Junior or Senior, are also abbreviated.
- Add and complete two more rows of the chart.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

| Full Word | Abbreviation |
|-----------|--------------|
| Junior    | Jr.          |
| Senior    | Sr.          |

- Read each title aloud, and complete each example by adding a name, such as Kyle Smith, Jr. and David Lee, Sr. Have students repeat each example.
- Direct students to Activity Page 16.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 16.1

READ OPEN MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

Note: Students have learned about closed and open syllables. They may encounter an additional syllable type—the schwa—as they analyze vowel sounds in multisyllabic words.

- Say, “We have learned that open syllables have the long vowel sound; for example, in the word go, the ‘o’ is left “open.” In multisyllabic words, some vowel sounds that follow the rules for open syllables may actually be schwa sounds, depending on where the stress falls within the word. When there is less emphasis on a syllable, we say that it is unstressed. If the syllable is unstressed, the vowel sound in the open syllable may be pronounced as a schwa /ə/ sound. When we read multisyllabic words, we may need to adjust the vowel sound to the schwa sound.”
- Write the word tomato on the board. Explain that the word tomato is pronounced tə•mae•toe, not toe•mae•toe.
- As needed, provide other examples of common open and closed multisyllabic words with a schwa sound. For example
  - enemy: en•ə•mee, not en•ee•mee;
  - common: com•mən, not com•mon; and
  - telephone: tel•ə•foen, not tel•ee•foen.
- Students will continue to learn about the schwa in Unit 4.
- Remind students that an open syllable is one that ends in a vowel and makes a long vowel sound.

- Write the word photograph on the board. Mark the syllables: pho•to•graph and emphasize that the first syllable is stressed.
- Say the first syllable. Ask, “Is the first syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (open; It ends with a long vowel sound.)
- Point out that the ‘o’ in the second syllable to looks like it should follow the rules for open syllables, but as an unstressed syllable it makes the schwa sound.
- Ask students to identify the syllable type of graph and explain how they know. (closed; the ‘a’ is closed up by the consonant team ‘ph’ > /f/) Read the word emphasizing each syllable. Have students read it aloud.
- Repeat the routine, focusing on the open syllables of the following words: vi•o•lin (vi, o), re•lax•ing (re), si•lent•ly (si, ly), and so•lo•ist (so, lo).

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has two open syllables: polo.” (thumbs-up)

Lesson 16: Review: Abbreviations: Titles with Names, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will read, define, and spell words with the derivational ending -y. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Support

Review the rules of doubling a consonant or dropping an ‘e’ before adding a suffix, as needed.

ROOT WORDS AND DERIVATIONAL ENDINGS: -Y (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that they have learned about suffixes that do not change the part of speech of the root word. These are called inflectional endings. Some examples include the word endings -ed and -ing. Ask, “What part of speech are the words learn, learning, and learned?” (verbs)

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Explain that students are now going to practice using suffixes that change the part of speech of the root word. These are called derivational endings.
- List examples on the board: -y, -less, and -er.
- Explain that -y and -less change nouns to adjectives, and -er changes verbs to nouns.
- Tell students that they will focus on the ending -y today.
- Write the example word dirty on the board. Read the word aloud and then have students read the word aloud. Ask a volunteer to define the word. (not clean; filthy) Then have another volunteer identify the root word. (dirt)
- Repeat with the words cheery, lengthy, leaky, sunny, and noisy.
- Direct students to Activity Page 16.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 16.2

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Remind students of the basic parts of speech in English. A noun is a person, place, thing, or idea. A verb is an action word. An adjective is a word that describes a noun. An adverb is a word that describes a verb, adjective, or other adverb.

Intermediate

Provide sample sentences and have students identify which word is a noun and which is an adjective.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Prompt students to give examples of nouns and adjectives to ensure mastery.

ELPS 1.F

Lesson 16: Review: Abbreviations: Titles with Names, Part 2

Reading

Support

Before reading “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Activity Page 16.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Review questions and ask them in a yes/no format rather than an open-ended format.

Intermediate

Allow students to work with a partner to answer the discussion questions.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Provide minimal support as students work independently to answer the discussion questions.

ELPS 4.G

Primary Focus: Students will read “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ “A LETTER FOR MR. AND MRS. LOPEZ” WITH ACCURACY
(10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 16.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: habit, cheery
  - phrases: “bumpy day,” “speedy exit”
- Have students follow along as you read “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., attitude and carelessly).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez”

1. Literal. What are Mr. and Mrs. Lopez waiting for?
  - » Mr. and Mrs. Lopez are waiting for a letter from their son.
2. Literal. Who received Mr. and Mrs. Lopez's letter?
  - » Dr. Davis received the letter.
3. Literal. How do Mr. and Mrs. Lopez try to figure out what happened?
  - » They call Mr. Jacobs to ask if he knows where the letter might have gone.
4. Evaluative. Why does Mr. Jacobs think he might have left the letter at Dr. Davis's house?
  - » He has had trouble with similar addresses in the past.
5. Inferential. Why did Mr. Jacobs make a speedy exit after picking up the letter from Dr. Davis?
  - » Mr. Jacobs felt embarrassed about his mistake.

Check for Understanding

- Think-Pair-Share: Say, “Sometimes we learn new information or think about things in a different way when we share with others. Today, we will practice how to use Think-Pair-Share by sharing our responses to the discussion questions about the passage we just read with a partner. Then we will share our answers with the whole group. Let me show you what I mean.”
- Choose a student to be your partner. Say, “The first question is ‘What are Mr. and Mrs. Lopez waiting for?’ First, we think about the answer. We might look back at the passage for help if we don’t remember.” Model thinking about the answer and maybe scanning the passage. Say, “Hmm. I remember now.”
- Model pairing and sharing. Say, “Then we pair up to share our answers. I will give the ready signal to my partner when I am ready, and I’ll wait for my partner to give me the signal so that I know that they are ready to share too.”
- When your partner gives you the signal, model sharing your answers with each other. Ask any clarifying questions you may have. Adjust your answer, if needed. Say, “Finally, if the teacher calls on me, I am ready to share my answer with the whole group.”

- Say, “Now it’s your turn. I will ask the question. You will answer the question in your head, and then you will give the ready signal to your partner to show that you are ready. When both partners give the signal, take turns answering the question. Ready for the next question? The next question is ‘Who received Mr. and Mrs. Lopez’s letter?’”
- Give students time to think about the answers, give the signal, and share their answers with their partner. Encourage students to ask clarifying questions and make changes to their answers if necessary. Remind students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- As students conclude their conversations, call on a volunteer to share their answer. Ask the student if they made any changes to their answer after the partners shared with each other. If so, ask what changes were made and why.
- Continue with the rest of the questions, providing specific feedback regarding the Think-Pair-Share process.

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students’ performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.

Lesson 16: Review: Abbreviations: Titles with Names, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write abbreviations of titles with names.

 TEKS 3.2.B.iii

SPELL ABBREVIATIONS OF TITLES WITH NAMES (5 MIN.)

- Explain to students that they will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling titles. First they will write the full word, and then they will write the abbreviation.

 TEKS 3.2.B.iii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations.

- Give the example Missus.
- Remind them that the spellings for abbreviations are usually similar to the full words, but abbreviations should be learned and remembered. Remind students that the title Miss is not abbreviated and is not followed by a period.
- Write Missus and the abbreviation Mrs. on the board.
- Say the word Missus. Repeat it. Have students write both the full word and the abbreviation in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining full words and abbreviations.

- |                 |                |
|-----------------|----------------|
| 1. Missus: Mrs. | 4. Senior: Sr. |
| 2. Doctor: Dr.  | 5. Mister: Mr. |
| 3. Junior: Jr.  | 6. Miss: Miss  |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to write in their dictation journal. Students will decide whether to spell the full word or to write the abbreviation in each sentence.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                             |
|-----------------------------|
| 1. Mrs. Green teaches art.  |
| 2. I went to see Dr. Smith. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 16: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 16.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 16.3.
- Have them reread “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 16.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: call, been, meant, told, always, know, and sometimes.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word know and say, “This word is tricky because the first ‘kn’ is pronounced /n/ and the ‘ow’ is pronounced /oe/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”

- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /n/ for these letters. We say /oe/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /n/ /oe/, know. Say, “Know! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘We know it was a mistake.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say know. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

17

REVIEW

Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally add sounds to words to make new words. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will identify and read abbreviations of streets in addresses and states.

- TEKS 3.2.A.iii
- Students will identify and read words with closed and open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify words with the derivational ending -y.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write abbreviations of streets in addresses and states.

- TEKS 3.2.B.iii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” Anecdotal Reading

- Record TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                   |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|---------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                             |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                             |
| Add Sounds to Make New Words                                                                   | 3 min.  |                                             |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                             |
| Read Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States                                            | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 17.1 |
| Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables                                                      | 3 min.  |                                             |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                             |
| Root Words and Derivational Endings: -y                                                        | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 17.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                             |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                             |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                             |
| Reread “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez”                                                       | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 16.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                             |
| Spell Abbreviations of Streets in Addresses and States                                         | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal  |

apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B.iii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- If desired, prepare a chart that lists the full words and abbreviations used in addresses.

|                  |             |            |               |                 |
|------------------|-------------|------------|---------------|-----------------|
| Avenue: Ave.     | Street: St. | Lane: Ln.  | Circle: Cir.  | Place: Pl.      |
| Boulevard: Blvd. | Road: Rd.   | Drive: Dr. | Terrace: Ter. | Court: Ct.      |
| North: N.        | South: S.   | East: E.   | West: W.      | Apartment: Apt. |

- Prepare a list of postal abbreviations for all 50 states for students who need additional support.

|                   |                 |                    |                   |                    |
|-------------------|-----------------|--------------------|-------------------|--------------------|
| Alabama: AL       | Alaska: AK      | Arizona: AZ        | Arkansas: AR      | California: CA     |
| Colorado: CO      | Connecticut: CT | Delaware: DE       | Florida: FL       | Georgia: GA        |
| Hawaii: HI        | Idaho: ID       | Illinois: IL       | Indiana: IN       | Iowa: IA           |
| Kansas: KS        | Kentucky: KY    | Louisiana: LA      | Maine: ME         | Maryland: MD       |
| Massachusetts: MA | Michigan: MI    | Minnesota: MN      | Mississippi: MS   | Missouri: MO       |
| Montana: MT       | Nebraska: NE    | Nevada: NV         | New Hampshire: NH | New Jersey: NJ     |
| New Mexico: NM    | New York: NY    | North Carolina: NC | North Dakota: ND  | Ohio: OH           |
| Oklahoma: OK      | Oregon: OR      | Pennsylvania: PA   | Rhode Island: RI  | South Carolina: SC |
| South Dakota: SD  | Tennessee: TN   | Texas: TX          | Utah: UT          | Vermont: VT        |
| Virginia: VA      | Washington: WA  | West Virginia: WV  | Wisconsin: WI     | Wyoming: WY        |

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:

- Have students take turns reading the entire story.
- Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
- Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity, such as letter, mailman, human, mailbox, and sunny.

Lesson 17: Review: Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally add sounds to words to make new words.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i

ADD SOUNDS TO MAKE NEW WORDS (3 MIN.)

Note: This activity should be done orally.

- Remind students that adding one sound to a word can change its meaning.
- Say, “Sounds can be added to the beginning, middle, or end of a word.”
- Tell them they will practice adding phonemes to words to make new words.
- Say the word mill.
- Ask, “How could I add the sound /k/ to the word mill to create a new word?” (milk)
- Continue with the remaining words in the list. As students offer their responses, remember that changes in spelling are acceptable, because the focus of the activity is adding sounds to make new words.

| Example | Sound to Add | New Word       |
|---------|--------------|----------------|
| mill    | /k/          | milk           |
| cram    | /s/          | scram or crams |
| sing    | /t/          | sting          |
| rain    | /b/          | brain          |
| ache    | /f/          | fake           |

 TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 17: Review: Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read abbreviations of streets in addresses and states.

 TEKS 3.2.A.iii

 Students will identify and read words with closed and open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ ABBREVIATIONS: STREETS IN ADDRESSES AND STATES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that an abbreviation is a short way to write a full word.
- Say, “Abbreviations usually begin with a capital letter and end with a period.”
- Tell students that certain words in addresses are usually abbreviated. Display the chart you prepared or write the following examples on the board: Rd. for Road, St. for Street, Ave. for Avenue, and Ln. for Lane.
- Explain that names of countries are also usually abbreviated in addresses. Display the following examples: U.S. for United States and U.K. for United Kingdom.
- Tell students that names of states are abbreviated in addresses as well, but they do not end in a period. Display a chart or write the following examples on the board: TX for Texas, CA for California, FL for Florida, and NY for New York.
- On the board, write example addresses using abbreviations.

|                                     |                                               |                                           |
|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| 15243 Main St.Houston, TX 77001 | 200 Bluebird Rd.Orlando, FL 32804U.S. | 641 Robin Ln.London, WC1B 3DGU.K. |
|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|

- Read each example address aloud, and have students read each one aloud.
- Explain that the abbreviations US and UK sometimes appear without periods, especially when they are used in text. This is often a matter of preference.

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Support

Have students prepare a two-column table for the information provided above. Ask them to write the full names in the first column and the abbreviations in the second column. Students can use the table as a reference during the lesson.

- Direct students to Activity Page 17.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

READ WORDS WITH CLOSED AND OPEN SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that an open syllable is one that ends in a vowel and makes a long vowel sound, and a closed syllable is one in which one vowel is followed by one or more consonants. A closed syllable makes a short vowel sound.
- Write the word volcano on the board. Mark the syllables: vol•ca•no.
- Ask, “Is the first syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (closed; It has a short vowel sound followed by a consonant.) Read the first syllable.
- Ask, “Is the second syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (open; It ends with a long vowel sound.) Read the second syllable.
- Say the third syllable. Ask, “Is the third syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (open; It ends with a long vowel sound.) Read the third syllable. Then read the word, emphasizing each syllable. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat the routine with the following words: sofa, deny, leafy, rodent, and razor.

Lesson 17: Review: Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify words with the derivational ending –y.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND DERIVATIONAL ENDINGS: –Y (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that –y is a derivational ending that changes a word from one part of speech to another; for example, a noun into an adjective.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Sometimes additional spelling changes are needed, such as dropping the final 'e' to make noisy from noise.

- Write the noun rain on the board. Read the word aloud and have students read it aloud.
- Give students a sample sentence using the noun rain: The rain made our shoes wet.
- Model adding -y to create the adjective rainy. Read the word aloud and have students read it aloud. Use the word in a sentence: We use umbrellas on rainy days.
- Repeat with the words wind/windy, cloud/cloudy, and mess/messy.
- Direct students to Activity Page 17.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word is an adjective made by adding a -y to a noun: bossy." (thumbs-up)

Challenge

Instead of providing students with example sentences using the root words and adjectives made by adding -y, have student pairs come up with examples.

Activity Page 17.2

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Simplify the activity page by providing shorter sentences or phrases based on students' level of proficiency.

Intermediate

Have students work with a proficient reader who acts as a mentor.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Students can work on the activity independently.

ELPS 1.F

Lesson 17: Review: Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” fluently with a partner. TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “A LETTER FOR MR. AND MRS. LOPEZ” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 16.3. Tell students that today they will reread “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline three words that are abbreviations, such as Mr.;

Activity Page 16.3

Support

Have students first look for single-syllable words that end in long vowel sounds before they try to identify multisyllabic words with open syllables.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

- circle three words with the derivational ending -y, such as goofy; and
- highlight three multisyllabic words with at least one open syllable, such as Lopez.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Interacting in Meaningful Ways

Beginning

Have students repeat and write the vocabulary words from the passage.

Intermediate

Have students use the vocabulary words to create sentences orally.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students create and write sentences using the vocabulary words.

ELPS 3.J; ELPS 4.C

Check for Understanding

Circulate as partner pairs are working to review and monitor their annotations.

Observation: “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 17: Review: Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write abbreviations of streets in addresses and states. TEKS 3.2.B.iii

SPELL ABBREVIATIONS OF STREETS IN ADDRESSES AND STATES (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling abbreviations of streets in addresses and states. First they will write the full word, and then they will write the abbreviation.
- Give the example Street.
- Remind them that the spellings for abbreviations are usually similar to the full words, but abbreviations should be learned and remembered.

TEKS 3.2.B.iii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations.

- Write Street and the abbreviation St. on the board.
- Say the word Road. Repeat it. Have students write both the full word and the abbreviation in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining full words and abbreviations.

- |                        |                         |                   |
|------------------------|-------------------------|-------------------|
| 1. Road: Rd.           | 4. Florida: FL          | 7. New York: NY   |
| 2. Texas: TX           | 5. United Kingdom: U.K. | 8. California: CA |
| 3. United States: U.S. | 6. Avenue: Ave.         | 9. Lane: Ln.      |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to write in their dictation journal. Students will write each sentence with the complete state or street name. Then they will write its abbreviation at the end of the sentence. Model for students by writing on the board: I lived on Main Street. (St.)
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                                        |
|--------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. Bob wants to go to Dallas, Texas. (TX)              |
| 2. The address of the school is 126 Spring Road. (Rd.) |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 17: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 17.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done writing, ask pairs to share and check their work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez” on Activity Page TR 16.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say know and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, nnnoe. Write the letters to spell know on the board.
- Point to the word know and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /n/ sound is spelled with ‘kn’ and the /oe/ sound is spelled with ‘ow.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /n/ for these letters. We say /oe/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /n/ /oe/, know. Say, “Know! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words call, been, meant, told, always, and sometimes. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.

- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

18

REVIEW

Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months of the Year

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally review words with consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read abbreviations of days of the week and months of the year. TEKS 3.2.A.iii
- Students will identify and read closed and open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will read words with the ending -er and identify their part of speech. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

- Students will read “Scientists” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write abbreviations for the days of the week and months of the year. TEKS 3.2.B.iii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

- Activity Page 18.2 Creating Nouns and Adjectives with the Ending *-er
TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                          |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|----------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                                    |
| Review Consonant Blends                                                                        | 3 min.  |                                                    |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Read Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months of the Year                                    | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 18.1        |
| Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables                                                      | 3 min.  |                                                    |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                                    |
| Root Words and Derivational Endings: -er                                                | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 18.2        |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                                    |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                                    |
| Read “Scientists”                                                                              | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 18.3, 18.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Spell Abbreviations of Days of the Week and Months of the Year                                 | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal         |

apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B.iii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- If desired, prepare a chart that lists the full words and abbreviations for days of the week and months of the year for today and later reference. You may also choose to write these on the board.

|                |                |                 |                  |
|----------------|----------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Monday: Mon.   | Tuesday: Tues. | Wednesday: Wed. | Thursday: Thurs. |
| Friday: Fri.   | Saturday: Sat. | Sunday: Sun.    | January: Jan.    |
| February: Feb. | March: Mar.    | April: Apr.     | May: May         |
| June: Jun.     | July: Jul.     | August: Aug.    | September: Sept. |
| October: Oct.  | November: Nov. | December: Dec.  |                  |

Reading

- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: scientist, detective, schedule, and artifact.
- Before the Warm-Up, provide English Language Learners with a list of common consonant clusters, such as bl-, cl-, fl-, sl-, br-, st-, spr-, str-, -nt, -ft, -nk, and -ng.

Lesson 18: Review: Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months of the Year, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review words with consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW CONSONANT BLENDS (3 MIN.)

- Explain that today students will chain words with consonant blends. Remind students that a consonant blend is made of two or three consonants in a row in a word.
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds, and that they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the word ring, and have students repeat it.
- Ask students what sound you would need to add to create the word bring. (/b/)
- Say the word bring, and have students repeat it.
- Continue this process with the remaining words.
- Complete the chaining for the various consonant blends.

bring > bling > cling > fling > sling > slink > stink > sting > spring > string > thing > think

Support

As you complete the chain, remind students that consonant blends are made up of two or three letters, but since they stand for one sound, they will count as one change when chaining (for example, 'bl', 'dr', 'str').

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Provide students with a list of common consonant blends. Encourage them to listen for and note the consonant blends they hear in each word.

ELPS 2.B; ELPS 2.E

Lesson 18: Review: Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months of the Year, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will identify and read abbreviations of days of the week and months of the year. TEKS 3.2.A.iii

Students will identify and read closed and open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ ABBREVIATIONS: DAYS OF THE WEEK AND MONTHS OF THE YEAR (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that an abbreviation is a short way to write a full word. Abbreviations usually begin with a capital letter and end with a period.
- Tell students that the months of the year that have four letters or more and the days of the week are often abbreviated when writing dates. Display a chart or write the full words and their abbreviations on the board.
- Read each abbreviation aloud. Have students read the abbreviation and say the full word for the day of the week or the month of the year.
- Direct students to Activity Page 18.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 18.1

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Write the abbreviation Thurs. on the board. Ask students to give a thumbs-up if they agree or a thumbs-down if they disagree that Thurs. is the correct abbreviation for Tuesday. (thumbs-down)

READ WORDS WITH CLOSED AND OPEN SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students what they've learned about closed and open syllables.
- Say, "We've learned that an open syllable is one that ends in a vowel and has a long vowel sound. A closed syllable is one in which one vowel is followed by one or more consonants. A closed syllable makes a short vowel sound."
- Write the word music on the board. Mark the syllables like this: mu•sic.
- Ask, "Is the first syllable open or closed? How do you know?" (open; It ends with a vowel and makes a long vowel sound.)
- Read the first syllable.

- Ask, “Is the second syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (closed; It is “closed up” by a consonant sound.)
- Read the second syllable. Then read the word, emphasizing each syllable. Have students read it aloud.
- Say, “Remember, closed syllables usually have the short vowel sound. Most open syllables make the long vowel sound. But when we read multisyllabic words, we may need to adjust the vowel sound to the schwa sound based on which syllable is unstressed. Let’s try to read some of these words together.”
- Repeat the routine with the following words: April, computer, dinosaur, July, October, open, and splendid.

Lesson 18: Review: Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months of the Year, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will read words with the ending -er and identify their part of speech. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND DERIVATIONAL ENDINGS: -ER (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that they have already learned about adding -er to the end of a root word to make a comparative adjective, such as shorter and happier. In that case, -er is an inflectional ending that changes the meaning but not the part of speech of the root word (for example, short > shorter).
- Tell students that today they will be using -er as a derivational suffix. That is a suffix that changes the part of speech of the root word. In this case, adding -er turns a verb into a noun that means “a person who does something.”
- Write the verb teach on the board. Read the word aloud and then have students read it aloud.
- Model adding the ending -er to make the word teacher. Read the word aloud and have students read it aloud. Have a volunteer define the word. (a person who teaches)

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Activity Page 18.2

---

Challenge

---

Tell students that the suffix -or also turns a verb into a noun that means “a person who does something.” Have small groups work together to come up with a short oral list of examples and their roots (e.g., visit > visitor, govern > governor, and inspect > inspector).

- Repeat with the words work/worker, bake/baker, and win/winner.
- Explain that the suffix -ist is like the suffix -er. Adding it to a root word also creates a word that means “a person who does something.” However, the suffix -ist is usually used with root words that are nouns.
- Write the word artist on the board. Read the word aloud and have students read it aloud.
- Say, “An artist is a person who makes art.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 18.2 and review the instructions. Model the activity by completing the first question in each section on the board as a class.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 18: Review: Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months of the Year, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Scientists” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

READ “SCIENTISTS” (10 MIN.)

Note: “Scientists” is a nonfiction text that includes a schedule formatted as a table and some domain-specific terminology, including hypothesis.

- Direct students to Activity Page 18.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, domain-specific language, and text features for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: observing, limitless, conduct, progress, record
  - phrases: “critical thinkers”
  - domain-specific language and text features: hypothesis, ounces (oz.), pounds (lb.), artifacts
  - text features: daily schedule on the table
- Have students follow along as you read “Scientists.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., detectives and discoveries).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently.”
- Then have them turn to Activity Page 18.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don’t complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.

Activity Pages
18.3, 18.4

Support

Before reading “Scientists,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

As students answer the comprehension questions, remind them to scan the passage to look for details as needed.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Provide options for individual reading. Pair strong and struggling readers. Ask them first to read the first paragraph together, alternating between sentences. Then ask them to read the rest of the text independently.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns. Encourage students to work together to annotate the text.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to annotate the text.

ELPS 4.1

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Question-Pair-Share: Have partners ask each other questions to summarize the content of the passage. Remind students to be sure to cite specifics from the passage to support their answer. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their question and their partner's answer with the group.

Lesson 18: Review: Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months of the Year, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write abbreviations for the days of the week and months of the year. TEKS 3.2.B.iii

SPELL ABBREVIATIONS OF DAYS OF THE WEEK AND MONTHS OF THE YEAR (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling days of the week and months of the year. First they will write the full word, and then they will write the abbreviation.
- Give the example Friday.
- Remind them that the spellings for abbreviations are usually similar to the full words, but abbreviations should be learned and remembered.
- Write Friday and the abbreviation Fri. on the board.
- Say the word March. Repeat it. Have students write both the full word and the abbreviation in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining full words and abbreviations.

TEKS 3.2.B.iii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations.

- |                     |                     |                   |
|---------------------|---------------------|-------------------|
| 1. March: Mar.      | 4. Wednesday: Wed.  | 7. Monday: Mon.   |
| 2. Thursday: Thurs. | 5. September: Sept. | 8. February: Feb. |
| 3. Sunday: Sun.     | 6. April: Apr.      | 9. December: Dec. |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to write in their dictation journal. Students will write each sentence. Then they will write an abbreviation for the day or month in each sentence. Model for students by writing on the board: The test is on Friday. (Fri.)
- As you read each sentence aloud, pause to provide students enough time to write.

- |                                             |
|---------------------------------------------|
| 1. The party will be on November 19. (Nov.) |
| 2. I have dance class on Tuesday. (Tues.)   |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

~~~~~
End Lesson
~~~~~

Lesson 18: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 18.1 for each student.
- Direct students back to Activity Page 18.3. Have them reread “Scientists.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 18.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.

- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

---

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: use, answer, example, come, group, does, and idea.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word come and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘o’ is pronounced /ə/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /k/ for this letter. We say /ə/ for this letter. We say /m/ for this letter, and we do not say anything for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /k/ /ə/ /m/, come. Say, “Come! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘Please come up with an idea.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say come. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.

- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

19

REVIEW

Abbreviations: Measurements

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will review words with consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read abbreviations for measurements. TEKS 3.2.A.iii
- Students will identify and read closed and open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will read and use words with the ending -less.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Scientists” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write abbreviations for units of measure. TEKS 3.2.B.iii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Scientists” Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (iii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B.iii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations;

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                             |
| Review Consonant Blends                                                                        | 3 min.      |                                             |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Read Abbreviations: Measurements                                                               | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 19.1 |
| Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables                                                      | 3 min.      |                                             |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                             |
| Root Words and Derivational Endings: -less                                              | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 19.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                             |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                             |
| Reread “Scientists”                                                                            | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 18.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Spell Abbreviations of Measurements                                                            | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal  |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- If desired, prepare a chart that lists the full words and abbreviations for measurements. You may also choose to write on the board during the lesson.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 1 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire text.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the text.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: scientist, detective, schedule, and artifact.

Lesson 19: Review: Abbreviations: Measurements, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review words with consonant blends. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW CONSONANT BLENDS (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that they will chain words with consonant blends. Remind students that a consonant blend is made of two or three consonants in a row in a word.
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds, and that they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the word drink, and have students repeat it.
- Ask students what change you would need to make to change the word to brink. (change the /d/ to /b/)
- Say the word brink, and have students repeat it.
- Continue this process with the remaining words.
- Complete the chaining for the various consonant blends.

brink > blink > clink > link > pink > rink > mink > milk > mill > mile > tile > trial

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that you can turn the word slat into the word splat by changing one sound.” (thumbs-up)

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 19: Review: Abbreviations: Measurements, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- ✚ Students will identify and read abbreviations for measurements. TEKS 3.2.A.iii
- ✚ Students will identify and read closed and open syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ ABBREVIATIONS: MEASUREMENTS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that an abbreviation is a short way to write a full word. Abbreviations usually begin with a capital letter and end with a period.
- Tell students that units of measure are often abbreviated when writing measurements. Display a chart or write the full words and their abbreviations on the board:

| Full Word | Abbreviation |
|-----------|--------------|
| foot      | ft.          |
| inch      | in.          |
| second    | sec.         |
| minute    | min.         |
| hour      | hr.          |
| ounce     | oz.          |
| pound     | lb.          |

- Read each unit of measure and abbreviation aloud. Have students repeat both.
- Clarify that these abbreviations are used for both the singular and the plural of each word. Write the example “The pool was 4 ft. deep.” on the board. Read the sentence aloud and underline the abbreviation. Point out that ft. stands for feet, the plural of foot.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Direct students to Activity Page 19.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 19.1

READ WORDS WITH CLOSED AND OPEN SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Say, “We’ve learned that an open syllable is one that ends in a vowel and has a long vowel sound. A closed syllable is one in which one vowel is followed by one or more consonants. A closed syllable makes a short vowel sound.”
- Write the word item on the board. Mark the syllables: i•tem.
- Ask, “Is the first syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (open; It ends with a long vowel.) Read the first syllable.
- Ask, “Is the second syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (closed; It has a consonant after a short vowel.) Read the second syllable, making sure to change the short vowel sound to the schwa sound. Then read the word, emphasizing each syllable. Have students read it aloud.
- Repeat the routine with the following words: moment, fifty, stopwatch, tiny, and volcano.

Support

If students are unfamiliar with the terms for units of measure, explain that foot and inch are units of distance, minute and hour are units of time, and ounce and pound are units of weight.

Lesson 19: Review: Abbreviations: Measurements, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will read and use words with the ending -less.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND DERIVATIONAL ENDINGS: -LESS (6 MIN.)

- Write the suffix -less on the board.
- Tell students that today they will be using another derivational suffix: -less.
- Say, “Adding -less turns a noun into an adjective that means ‘without something.’”

Support

If students complete the activity page in class, have them work in pairs or small groups. Circulate to provide additional support as needed.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Challenge

---

Have students extend the paragraph on the activity page by writing two more sentences that include words with the suffix -less.

Activity Page 19.2

---

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

---

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Simplify the activity page by providing shorter sentences or phrases based on students' level of proficiency.

Intermediate

Have students work with a proficient reader who acts as a mentor.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Students can work with partners on the activity.

ELPS 1.F

- Write the noun time on the board. Read the word aloud and have students read it aloud.
- Model adding the ending -less to make the word timeless. Read the word aloud and have students read it aloud. Have a volunteer define the word. (without a specific time)
- Repeat with the words help/helpless, limit/limitless, price/priceless, speech/speechless, self/selfless, and pain/painless.
- Direct students to Activity Page 19.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 19: Review: Abbreviations: Measurements, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Scientists” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “SCIENTISTS” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s passage with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the text.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 18.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Scientists” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Scientists.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline three words that are abbreviations, such as Mon.;
  - circle three words with the suffix -less, such as limitless; and
  - highlight three multisyllabic words that have a mix of open and closed syllables, such as scientists.

Activity Page 18.3

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Challenge

As students underline words that are abbreviations, have them write out the full term in the margin.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Before students read the passage, show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Intermediate

Guide students to review the images you prepared in advance as needed to read any unfamiliar words.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Remind students to look for the new sound/spellings they have learned in this unit to help them read any unfamiliar words.

ELPS 1.D; ELPS 4.A

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Turn and Talk: Have students choose one word with the suffix -less that they circled and have pairs share their ideas of how the word choice in the passage helps build their understanding of the content. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner's thinking with the group.

Observation: "Scientists" Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read "Scientists," make notes about the student's reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 19: Review: Abbreviations: Measurements, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write abbreviations for units of measure.

TEKS 3.2.B.iii

SPELL ABBREVIATIONS OF MEASUREMENTS (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling units of measure and their abbreviations. First they will write the full word, and then they will write the abbreviation.
- Give the example ounce.
- Remind them that the spellings for abbreviations are usually similar to the full words, but abbreviations should be learned and remembered.

TEKS 3.2.B.iii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations.

- Write ounce and the abbreviation oz. on the board.
- Say the word foot. Repeat it. Tell students to write both the full word and the abbreviation in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining full words and abbreviations.

- |                |              |
|----------------|--------------|
| 1. foot/ft.    | 4. hour/hr.  |
| 2. minute/min. | 5. pound/lb. |
| 3. second/sec. | 6. inch/in.  |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to write in their dictation journal. Students will write each sentence. Then they will write an abbreviation for the unit of measure in each sentence. Model for students by writing on the board: The cup holds 12 ounces of water. (oz.)
- As you read each sentence aloud, pause to provide students enough time to write.

- |                                               |
|-----------------------------------------------|
| 1. We bought one pound of butter. (lb.)       |
| 2. The beetle measured two inches long. (in.) |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 19: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 19.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity. As needed, pair students with a proficient reader who acts as a mentor. Circulate to provide additional support.
- When students are done, ask pairs to share and check their work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Scientists” on Activity Page TR 18.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say come and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, kəəmmm. Write the letters to spell come on the board.
- Point to the word come and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /ə/ sound is spelled ‘o.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /k/ for this letter. We say /ə/ for this letter. We say /m/ for this letter, and we do not say this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /k/ /ə/ /m/, come. Say, “Come! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words use, answer, example, group, does, and idea. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.

- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will review the sound-spellings from this unit. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will replace words with abbreviations. TEKS 3.2.A.iii
- Students will identify and read closed and open syllables in words with different sound-spelling patterns. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review adding inflectional and derivational endings to words.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read and annotate “Blanket Detective” independently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

Students will complete the dictation posttest for Unit 1.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iii; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 20.5 Unit 1 Dictation Posttest

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iii; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                   |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|-----------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                             |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                             |
| Sound Review                                                                                   | 3 min.  |                             |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                             |
| Review Abbreviations                                                                           | 3 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 20.1        |
| Read Words with Closed and Open Syllables                                                      | 3 min.  |                             |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                             |
| Review Root Words and Suffixes                                                                 | 6 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 20.2        |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                             |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                             |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                             |
| Read “Blanket Detective” Independently                                                         | 10 min. | ☐ Activity Pages 20.3, 20.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                             |
| Unit 1 Dictation Posttest                                                                      | 5 min.  | ☐ Activity Page 20.5        |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Warm-Up

- Prepare word cards for the phonics charades games. Make sure to include words that use the sound-spellings taught in this unit and are easy for students to act out. You may choose to use the examples from the lesson or create your own.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: detective, foggy, blanket, attic, and laundromat.

Lesson 20: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review the sound-spellings from this unit. TEKS 3.2.A.i

SOUND REVIEW (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that today they will be playing phonics charades to review the sound-spellings they have learned in this unit.
- Review the rules of charades. Explain that volunteers will take turns acting out a word while the rest of the class guesses what it is.
- Gather the cards you prepared before the lesson. Preview one and write the target sound-spelling on the board.
- Point to the sound-spelling. Say, “The word you are trying to guess has this sound-spelling.”
- Show the card to a volunteer to act out, and have the other students guess the word.
- Repeat with the other cards.

|                            |                                    |                          |
|----------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1. /sh/ as ‘sh’shop    | 4. /d/ as ‘dd’add              | 7. /ng/ as ‘ng’sing  |
| 2. /r/ as ‘wr’write    | 5. consonant blend ‘shr’shrink | 8. /f/ as ‘ph’phone  |
| 3. /ch/ as ‘ch’chicken | 6. /w/ as ‘wh’whisper          | 9. /qu/ as ‘qu’queen |

Lesson 20: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Primary Focus: Students will replace words with abbreviations. TEKS 3.2.A.iii

Students will identify and read closed and open syllables in words with different sound-spelling patterns. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

REVIEW ABBREVIATIONS (3 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 20.1 and review the instructions.
- Read aloud the party invitation, and have volunteers identify the words that should be replaced with abbreviations.
- Write the abbreviations on the board as students record them on the activity page.

|          |        |         |
|----------|--------|---------|
| 1. Sat.  | 3. St. | 5. min. |
| 2. Sept. | 4. TX  | 6. Mrs. |

- If students do not finish the activity page in class, have them complete it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

READ WORDS WITH CLOSED AND OPEN SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that they will be reviewing words with open and closed syllables.
- Write the following list of words on the board. Read each word aloud and then have students read it aloud.
- Say, "Remember that we may need to adjust the vowel sound to the schwa sound when we read unstressed syllables in multisyllabic words." (e.g., photograph)

|             |               |             |              |
|-------------|---------------|-------------|--------------|
| 1. quiet    | 3. photograph | 5. doubtful | 7. messy     |
| 2. knapsack | 4. ghostly    | 6. watchful | 8. shredding |

- Give students a sound-spelling and syllable requirement, and have them choose the correct option from the list.
- Ask, "Which of these words has an open first syllable that has the sound /f/ with the spelling 'ph'?" (photograph)
- Repeat with the rest of the words.

Activity Page 20.1

Challenge

Give students a sound-spelling and syllable requirement, and have them come up with an example word.

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Review, or reteach, any sound-spellings from the unit, such as digraph /qu/ > 'qu' or silent letter combination 'kn,' as needed.

ELPS 1.F, ELPS 2.B

Support

Remind students that the suffix -er has two meanings. It can be used to form a comparative adjective, or it can be used to turn a verb into a noun meaning "a person who does something."

Activity Page 20.2

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has a closed first syllable that uses the consonant cluster spl-: splashy." (thumbs-up)

Lesson 20: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review adding inflectional and derivational endings to words. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW ROOT WORDS AND SUFFIXES (6 MIN.)

- Assigns groups for each of the following suffixes: -er, -est, -y, and -less.
- Write the following root words on the board:

|          |          |          |         |
|----------|----------|----------|---------|
| 1. cloud | 3. teach | 5. clean | 7. mess |
| 2. near  | 4. frost | 6. fear  | 8. run  |

- Read the first word aloud, and then have students read it aloud.
- Ask the student groups to raise their hands if their suffix can be added to the root word to form a new word. Have volunteers say the new word or words. (cloudy, cloudless)
- Have the whole class identify the part of speech for each new word. (adjective)
- Direct students to Activity Page 20.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Lesson 20: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read and annotate “Blanket Detective” independently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.iii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

READ “BLANKET DETECTIVE” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

- Tell students they will be reading “Blanket Detective” independently. Direct students to Activity Page 20.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: priceless, lengthy, laundromat, speechless, selfless
  - phrases: “tone was shaky,” “endless thanks”
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., weighs and responded).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and
  - underline three words that are abbreviations, such as Mr.;
  - circle three words with the suffix -er or -less, such as listener;
  - put a box around three words with the derivational suffix -y, such as windy; and
  - highlight three multisyllabic words with only closed syllables, such as blanket.

Activity Pages
20.3, 20.4

Support

Before reading “Blanket Detective,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Have students focus on one annotation at a time. For example, first have them read and underline words that are abbreviations. On the next read, have them circle the words with the suffixes -er or -less, and so on.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iii) decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have students write short phrases or draw their answers to the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Encourage students to reread the passage as needed when answering the comprehension questions.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Encourage students to use new vocabulary and details from the passage when answering the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.G

Activity Page 20.5

- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 20.4 independently. If they don't complete it in class, have them work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their annotation decisions.

Lesson 20: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will complete the dictation posttest for Unit 1.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iii; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

UNIT 1 DICTATION POSTTEST (5 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 20.5. Review the instructions together.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with different sound-spellings that they learned about in Unit 1.
- Say the word blast. Repeat it. Have students write it on Activity Page 20.5.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |             |             |             |
|-------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1. blast    | 4. shipping | 7. trophies |
| 2. clipped  | 5. crumbs   | 8. selfless |
| 3. wrenches | 6. quicker  | 9. funny    |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell on the activity page.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (ii) spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants.

- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. Mr. Smith uses a stopwatch.
2. My stomach aches.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 20: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 20.1 for each student.
- Direct students back to Activity Page 20.3.
- Have them reread “Blanket Detective.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 20.1. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.

- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Blanket Detective” on Activity Page TR 20.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lessons 16 and 18 (call, been, meant, told, always, know, sometimes, use, answer, example, come, group, does, idea). Write the following new words on index cards: please, anywhere, describe, don't, and probably.
- Use the cards with the new words. Say, “Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Display and point to the word please and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘ea’ is pronounced /ee/ and the ‘s’ is pronounced /z/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we blend and say /p/ /l/ for these letters. We say /ee/ for these letters. We say /z/ for this letter, and we do not say anything for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /p/ /l/ /ee/ /z/, please. Say, “Please! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘Can you please help me?’”

- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say please. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, “It is helpful to remember another word that has the /z/ sound spelled ‘s.’” Write easy on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining word(s), mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lessons 16 and 18. Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let’s play a game. We’re going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let’s see how fast we can go. My turn first.”
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, “Do you think you can go faster than I did?”
- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.
- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.
- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.
- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the year.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

(1) Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

(2) Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1-10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.
- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student's set of cards.

Teacher Resources

|         |          |
|---------|----------|
| Grade 3 | Skills 1 |
|---------|----------|

Teacher Guide

Teacher Resources

|                                                          |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Sample Anecdotal Reading Record                          | 275 |
| Anecdotal Reading Record—Unit 1                          | 276 |
| Sample Discussion Questions Observation Record           | 277 |
| Discussion Questions Observation Record—Unit 1           | 278 |
| Additional Support Activity Pages                        | 279 |
| Activity Book Answer Key                                 | 302 |
| Additional Support Activity Page Answer Key              | 325 |
| Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Correlation Chart   | 331 |
| English Language Proficiency Standards Correlation Chart | 337 |

SAMPLE ANECDOTAL READING RECORD

Below is an example of a completed Anecdotal Reading Record. A blank Anecdotal Reading Record is found on the next page. You will need to make a copy of the blank Anecdotal Reading Record for each student. As you listen to each student read, make notes about his or her reading ability in his or her respective Reading Record.

Name: T. Ellis

Lesson 2: (Pat's Bike)

T. said "sank" for "snack." T. said "sank" for "snack" again further down the page but paused to correct himself.

Lesson 4: (Jazz Music)

T. said an extra /z/ at the end of "jazz" in the first few instances of the word. By paragraph 3, he paused on the word and recognized that it sounded incorrect to his ears. He correctly blended the double 'zz' as a single /z/ sound.

Lesson 7: (Knoll the Knight)

T. struggled with the 'kn' spelling in most cases. He read words with -ed as making the /ed/ sound in every case, including incorrectly in "grabbed."

Recommendation: Reteach the 'kn' spelling of the /n/ sound.

Lesson 9: (Lake Day)

T. dropped the 'ed' in "snagged" and "planned." He read "cash" for "catch." He self-corrected when he misread the 'ed' in "escaped."

Recommendation: Encourage T. to systematically finger track all text from left to right and take his time reading.

Lesson 12: (Topher Sings)

T. said "Toper" for "Topher." He transposed words in the second sentence. He omitted a few words, including "so" in the next-to-last paragraph. He seemed to be racing through the text. He did not acknowledge the exclamation point after "doctor."

Recommendation: Encourage T. to take his time reading. Additional practice reading sentences with varied punctuation may be helpful.

ANECDOTAL READING RECORD—UNIT 1

Name:

Lesson:

Lesson:

Lesson:

Lesson:

Lesson:

SAMPLE DISCUSSION QUESTIONS OBSERVATION RECORD

Below is an example of a completed Discussion Questions Observation Record. A blank copy for you to photocopy and fill in is found on the next page. Throughout the unit, as you ask students comprehension questions after reading, record each student's response using the legend below. Be sure to note whether or not the student answered in a complete sentence and whether or not he/she answered the question correctly. Also denote what type of question (literal, inferential, evaluative) the student was answering. At the end of the unit, tabulate the student's performance in the subtotal column. Pay particular attention to the types of questions that may be problematic for certain students.

Discussion Questions Observation Record

CS ✓ - Answered in a complete sentence

CS ✗ - Did not answer in a complete sentence

L ✓ - Answered a literal question correctly

L ✗ - Answered a literal question incorrectly

I ✓ - Answered an inferential question correctly

I ✗ - Answered an inferential question incorrectly

E ✓ - Answered an evaluative question correctly

E ✗ - Answered an evaluative question incorrectly

| Student    | Lesson: 1   | Lesson: 6   | Lesson: 11  | Lesson: 16  | Subtotal      |
|------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|---------------|
| B. Allen   | CS ✓L ✓ |             |             | CS ✓E ✗ | CS 2/21/2 |
| S. Bishop  | CS ✓L ✓ |             | CS ✓L ✓ |             | CS 2/22/2 |
| L. Bronson |             | CS ✓L ✓ |             | CS ✗I ✗ | CS 1/21/2 |
| J. Chen    |             |             | CS ✓I ✗ | CS ✓L ✓ | CS 2/21/2 |
| T. Ellis   | CS ✓L ✗ | CS ✓L ✓ |             |             | CS 2/21/2 |
| B. Finn    |             | CS ✗L ✗ |             | CS ✓I ✗ | CS 1/20/2 |
| J. Joyce   | CS ✓L ✓ |             |             | CS ✓E ✗ | CS 2/21/2 |
| R. Little  | CS ✓L ✓ |             |             | CS ✗E ✓ | CS 1/22/2 |
| K. Miller  | CS ✓I ✗ | CS ✓L ✓ |             |             | CS 2/21/2 |
| M. Moore   |             | CS ✗I ✗ | CS ✓L ✓ |             | CS 1/21/2 |
| P. Nuñez   | CS ✓L ✓ |             |             | CS ✓E ✓ | CS 2/22/2 |
| G. O'Neill |             | CS ✓I ✗ | CS ✗L ✓ |             | CS 1/21/2 |
| K. Powell  |             |             | CS ✓I ✗ | CS ✓L ✓ | CS 2/21/2 |
| T. Smith   |             | CS ✗I ✗ | CS ✓L ✓ |             | CS 1/21/2 |
| W. Stein   | CS ✗L ✓ |             |             | CS ✓E ✗ | CS 1/22/2 |

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS OBSERVATION RECORD—UNIT 1

- CS✓ - Answered in a complete sentence
- CS✗ - Did not answer in a complete sentence
- L✓ - Answered a literal question correctly
- L✗ - Answered a literal question incorrectly
- I✓ - Answered an inferential question correctly
- I✗ - Answered an inferential question incorrectly
- E✓ - Answered an evaluative question correctly
- E✗ - Answered an evaluative question incorrectly

| Student | Lesson: | Lesson: | Lesson: | Lesson: | Subtotal |
|----------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|-----------------|
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |
|                |                |                |                |                |                 |

Additional Support Activity Pages

---

|         |          |
|---------|----------|
| Grade 3 | Skills 1 |
|---------|----------|

---

Teacher Guide

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 1.1

Reread "Pat's Bike." Think about a time when you helped a friend or a time when a friend helped you. Tell about what happened on the lines below.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 2.1

Word Sort

Read each of the words in the box. Then sort them by consonant blend.

|        |       |       |      |
|--------|-------|-------|------|
| spruce | flat  | sprig | bent |
| flip   | stamp | flag  | step |
| spree  | stand | lent  | sent |

| fl- | spr- | st- | -nt |
|-------------------|--------------------|-------------------|-------------------|
|                   |                    |                   |                   |
|                   |                    |                   |                   |
|                   |                    |                   |                   |

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 3.1

Reread “Jazz Music.” Identify the central idea of the text. Use at least two details from the passage that support this central idea.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 4.1

Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

Word Bank

|       |        |      |        |
|-------|--------|------|--------|
| smell | drum   | chop | mop    |
| jet   | spritz | grin | listen |

Part I

Read each word in the word bank. Add the -ed ending to each word in the word bank. Read the new words.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

7. _____

8. _____

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

Part II

Add the -ing ending to each word in the word bank. Read the new words.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

7. _____

8. _____

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 5.1

Reread "Baking Cupcakes." Using evidence from the passage, summarize how to make cupcakes. Remember, when you summarize, you tell only the most important points.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 5.2

Read the passage. Underline three words with ed (as in included). Put a box around three words with -s (as in rules). Highlight one word with double letter consonants.

The Preamble to the United States Constitution

When the United States of America became a country, it was important to establish rules and laws for citizens and leaders to follow. The document that included those rules and laws became known as the Constitution, which was written in 1787. It includes information on how the government should be set up, what laws should be followed, and rules about how everyone in the country should be treated fairly.

The Constitution begins with some important words, and those words are known as the Preamble. A preamble is a statement that introduces something. So the Preamble to the Constitution is the introduction to the Constitution.

The words to the Preamble are: “We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.”

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

Comprehension Questions:

1. Who does the Preamble say is speaking? What part of the Preamble tells you so?

---

---

2. What are some things the writers of the Preamble say they are writing the Constitution to do? If you need help, look at some of the words that are capitalized.

---

---

3. The word domestic means “of the home,” and tranquility means “peace.” What do you think “domestic tranquility” means?

---

---

4. The word posterity means people in the future, or descendants of someone. If the writers of the Constitution say that each of the things they are listing are for their posterity, what does that mean?

---

---

5. Why do you think it was important for the writers of the Constitution to include the Preamble?

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 6.1

Reread “Knoll the Knight.” One theme, or central message, of the story is that Knoll has to work hard to achieve great things. Use details from your own life to describe when you have had to keep working hard at something that was difficult.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 7.1

Silent Letters: b

Read each sentence. Then, circle the silent b's in the sentences.

1. The climbers doubted their ropes would hold.
2. Bees store their honey in a honeycomb.
3. The crumbs were from the banana bread.
4. He broke out into a subtle smile.
5. The tomb was covered in cobwebs.
6. The plumber worked to pay off her debts.
7. Our limbs went numb with fear.
8. The subject of this reading is lambs.

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 8.1

Reread “Lake Day.” The setting is where and when a story happens. The plot is what happens in the story. Use details from the passage to describe how the setting influences the plot of the “Lake Day.”

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 9.1

Digraphs: 'sh,' 'qu'

List as many words with /sh/ > 'sh' as you can in the allotted time.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

List as many words with /qu/ > 'qu' as you can in the allotted time.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 10.1

Reread “Fall Colors” focusing on the final paragraph of the text. Then answer the question, explaining why the color you have chosen is your favorite fall color. Draw a picture using your favorite fall color.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 11.1

Reread “Topher Sings.” What is one message from the story? Use details from the passage to explain your thinking.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 12.1

Digraphs 'ph' and 'gh' > /f/

Words with 'ph'

Words with 'gh'

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

TR 13.1

DATE: _____

Reread “Serena Williams.” What is the central idea of the passage? Use details from the passage to support your answer.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 14.1

Sort Words with Consonant Blends

Read each word in the word bank. Sort the words from the word bank into the correct column of the chart. Read each column of the sorted words.

Word Bank

|         |          |          |           |
|---------|----------|----------|-----------|
| stripe  | straight | shroud   | stripped  |
| through | shriek   | split    | thrifty   |
| shrinks | shrill   | throat   | splashed  |
| thrown  | splice   | splatter | structure |

| 'thr' | 'shr' | 'str' | 'spl' |
|-------|-------|-------|-------|
|       |       |       |       |
|       |       |       |       |
|       |       |       |       |
|       |       |       |       |

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 15.1

Reread "Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers." Think of a time when you tried hard to compete in a sport or game. Use details from your life to describe how your experience compared to the players in the passage.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 16.1

Reread "A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez." Use details from the passage to retell what happens in the passage. Make sure to present events in the same order as they appear in the story.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

Abbreviations in Addresses

Word Bank

|             |            |             |             |           |
|-------------|------------|-------------|-------------|-----------|
| Ln.  | TX  | U.S. | St.  | CA |
| Ave. | Rd. | FL   | U.K. | NY |

Use the word bank to complete each address by adding the abbreviation for the word in parentheses.

- 400 Lincoln _____
Bismark, ND 58507 (Road)
- 8829 Cardinal Ln.
Jacksonville, _____ 32201 (Florida)
- 998 Great Lakes Rd.
Lansing, MI 48864
_____ (United States)
- 521 Second _____
Atlanta, GA 30306 (Street)
- 42 Green Ave.
Fresno, _____ 93701 (California)
- 1255 Sunny _____
Boston, MA 02115 (Lane)
- 400 Foster St.
Austin, _____ 78701 (Texas)

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 17.1
CONTINUED

8. 1200 Danbury Ln.
London, W8 6AG
_____ (United Kingdom)
9. 900 S. Finch _____
Chicago, IL 60608 (Avenue)
10. 8 W. Winter St.
Albany, _____ 12084 (New York)

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 19.1

Using Abbreviations for Measurements

Complete the paragraph by writing the correct abbreviation for each unit of measurement.

Kendra liked helping her grandmother bake. They made gingersnap cookies. Kendra gathered the ingredients. She began with one _____ of butter. (pound) Next, she needed the dry ingredients. They were in the back of the cabinet. She used a step stool to reach. Kendra was just under 4 _____ tall. (feet) Last, she grabbed a glass measuring cup. She carefully poured 8 _____ of molasses into it. (ounces) Finally, Kendra and her grandmother mixed the ingredients together. They rolled the sticky dough into 1-_____ balls. (inch) They baked the cookies for 12 _____. (minutes)

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 20.1

Reread “Blanket Detective.” Describe what happens at the end of the story. Using details from the passage, describe how Mr. Chen and Dr. Jackson feel at the end of the story and why they feel the way that they do.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

ACTIVITY BOOK ANSWER KEY

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

1.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Compound Words

Read each of the compound words below. Then draw a slash to separate each compound word into two words. Write each new word on the lines below. Read the new words.

1. cupcake cup/cake

cup _____
cake _____

2. pigpen pig/pen

pig _____ pen _____

3. footprint foot/print

foot _____
print _____

4. doorbell door/bell

door _____
bell _____

5. starfish star/fish

star _____
fish _____

6. sunlight sun/light

sun _____ light _____

7. popcorn pop/corn

pop _____
corn _____

8. snowball snow/ball

snow _____
ball _____

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

1.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Verbs with -s and -es

Read each word and sentence. Add the suffix -s or -es to the verb to complete the sentence. Change the word's spelling as needed. Read the new sentence.

Example: watch. Joanna watches.

1. eat

She eats oatmeal every day.

2. mix

Jon mixes green and then yellow paint to make blue.

3. draw

Emma draws a rainbow in art class.

4. reach

Allison reaches for the top shelf.

5. flap; take

The bird flaps its wings once and takes off.

6. jump

Becky jumps higher than her brothers.

7. wish

Luke wishes for a bike.

8. fish

He fishes for trout every year with his grandpa.

9. smile

The baby smiles at his mother.

10. catch; throw

The baseball player catches the ball and throws it to the pitcher.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

1.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with consonant blends.
- Circle words with the endings -s and -es.
- Highlight one-syllable words with closed syllables.

Pat's Bike

Pat loves to ride her bike. It is one of her favorite hobbies. She likes to feel the wind on her skin as she zips past backyards, ballparks, and bookstores. Her bike is her most loved item. It is red with a cute bell and a big basket.

One afternoon, Pat decides to take a sunset ride to the lake with her classmate Felix. She grabs her backpack and packs a mat and cupcakes to snack on. They strap on their helmets, hop on their bikes, and begin to pedal.

Not long into the ride, Pat's bike begins to shake. She hits the brakes to stop and scans the bike. "Oh, no! The tire is flat, and the rim is bent," says Pat.

Pat twists, pulls, and pushes on the bike. She cannot fix it. Sad and upset, Pat sits by a sandbox and wishes she knew how to fix the bike herself.

Felix asks Pat if she needs help. "Yes, my bike is in bad shape," says Pat. "Can you help?"

Felix studies the bike. "Yes, I can help. I will be back in no time," he says. Soon, Felix is back with a pump and a toolbox. He inflates the tire and sets the rim back into place with a tool.

"Thank you!" Pat says and hops back on her bike. They ride to the lake and set out the mat and snacks. Pat gazes at the sunset and decides that she wants to learn to fix bikes. She also thanks her kind classmate, Felix. She decides to be more like him—someone who likes to help.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

1.4 ACTIVITY PAGE

Unit 1 Dictation Pretest

Write each word that your teacher dictates.

1. blast
2. clipped
3. wrenches
4. shipping
5. crumbs
6. quicker
7. trophies
8. selfless
9. funny

Write the entire sentence that your teacher dictates.

1. Mr. Smith uses a stopwatch.
_____
_____
_____
2. My stomach aches.
_____
_____
_____

Choose a word from the list above and use it to write your own sentence.

_____
_____
_____

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

2.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Short Vowel Sounds

Read each word. Circle the words that have short vowel sounds.

1. let
2. feet
3. glad
4. rot
5. plate
6. cute
7. hope
8. cup
9. snap
10. tape
11. trip
12. kite

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

2.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Plural Nouns with -s and -es

Read each word. Make each word plural by adding a suffix. Change the word's spelling as needed. Read the new word.

1. baby babies
2. fence fences
3. bench benches
4. berry berries
5. whale whales
6. party parties
7. wish wishes
8. cake cakes
9. story stories
10. dog dogs

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

3.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Closed Two-Syllable Words

Read each of the words below. Circle the words that have two short vowel sounds.

1. summit
2. puppet
3. mistake
4. plastic
5. tablet
6. pony
7. sunset
8. tennis
9. mascot
10. pancake

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

3.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

Word Bank

|       |      |       |      |
|-------|------|-------|------|
| relax | call | paint | sail |
| play  | land | stuff | wait |

Part I

Read each word in the word bank. Add the suffix -ed to make a verb that shows that the action happened in the past. Read the new word.

1. relaxed
2. called
3. painted
4. sailed
5. played
6. landed
7. stuffed
8. waited

Part II

Read each word in the word bank. Add the suffix -ing to make a verb that shows that the action is happening now. Read the new word.

1. relaxing
2. calling
3. painting
4. sailing
5. playing
6. landing
7. stuffing
8. waiting

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

3.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with double consonants.
- Circle words with the endings -ed and -ing.
- Highlight multisyllable words with closed syllables.

Jazz Music

Have you ever listened to jazz music? Let's discuss the subject. Jazz is a fun kind of music that buzzes with life. In jazz, the trumpet, piano, and drums often play big roles. These instruments can mix together to make stunning music that is smooth like velvet.

One fun fact about jazz is that the musicians often make up parts of the songs on the spot. It's all about being playful and expressing yourself in the moment. Jazz has also helped shape many other types of music, like rock and roll and pop.

Jazz began in the 1900s in New Orleans, Louisiana. Black Americans, like Louis Armstrong, helped give life to this lively style of music. Jazz music was one of the ways Black communities were able to share their experiences and tell their stories. Like a magnet, jazz music connected music lovers from all over the world. Starting in the 1920s, the jazz sound filled music halls and attracted the public with its dizzying beats. No one wanted to miss the buzz!

Today, jazz music is still going strong. Jazz artists are finding ways to adapt the sound and make it even better. They want to keep pushing the limits on what jazz can be. They want to keep jazz music going.

In a nutshell, jazz has had a lasting impact. It has shifted the way people all over the world listen to and think about music. So the next time you want to listen to music, try some jazz! Sit back, press play, and relax. You may just find yourself tapping your feet, nodding your head, and moving to the beat.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

3.4 ACTIVITY PAGE

"Jazz Music" Comprehension Questions

1. What are two words or phrases that the passage uses to describe jazz music?
Accept any two of the following: fun, buzzes with life, stunning, smooth, like a magnet, dizzying beats, has had a lasting impact
2. What are some musical instruments that are important in jazz?
The trumpet, piano, and drums often play a big role in jazz.
3. How did jazz influence the Black community?
It has given Black people a way to tell stories and share parts of their lives.

4. Why do you think music lovers all over the world are connected by jazz music? Use evidence from the text in your answer.

Sample Response: People like to talk about jazz because it is fun, it has dizzying beats, and the musicians express themselves.

5. What are jazz artists today trying to do?

Accept any of the following: They are trying to make jazz better; they are pushing the limits of jazz; they are trying to keep jazz going.

6. Does this passage make you more interested or less interested in listening to jazz? Explain why by using a detail from the text.

Sample Response: I am more interested in hearing jazz because I want to hear people make up music as they go along.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

4.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Words with Double Letters and -ed, -ing

Part I

Read each of the words with suffixes below. Underline each root word.

- grinned
- dropping
- battting
- clipping
- hugged
- plugging
- flapped
- pattted
- rubbbed
- trapped

Part II

Read each word in the table. Sort these words that show that something happened in the past into categories based on whether the suffix makes the /ed/, /d/, or /t/ sound. Read the words you sorted.

|         |         |         |
|---------|---------|---------|
| pinned  | batted  | blocked |
| skipped | grilled | melted  |
| asked   | landed  | saved   |

| /ed/   | /d/     | /t/     |
|--------|---------|---------|
| batted | pinned  | skipped |
| landed | saved   | blocked |
| melted | grilled | asked   |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

4.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

Word Bank

|         |          |           |          |         |
|---------|----------|-----------|----------|---------|
| grabbed | admitted | stopping  | hugged   | dripped |
| stopped | dripping | admitting | grabbing | hugging |

Part I

Read each word in the word bank. Write each word from the word bank that shows the action is happening now. Read each word again.

- grabbing
- admitting
- stopping
- hugging
- dripping

Part II

Read each word in the word bank. Write each word from the word bank that shows the action happened in the past. Read each word again.

1. grabbed
2. admitted
3. stopped
4. hugged
5. dripped

Part III

Read each word. Add the suffixes -ed and -ing to each of the following words. Double the final consonants if needed. Read the new words.

|        | -ed | -ing |
|--------|------------|-------------|
| slip   | slipped    | slipping    |
| happen | happened   | happening   |
| regret | regretted  | regretting  |
| blink  | blinked    | blinking    |

Read the sentences. Circle the correct word to correctly complete each sentence. Read the new sentences.

10. Lee is (walking/walked) her dog.
11. Last night, I (called/call) him.
12. The rain (gushes/gushes) down the street.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

5.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Inflectional Ending Review

Read each word. Add -s or -es to make each word plural. Change the word's spelling as needed. Read the new word.

1. baby babies
2. brush brushes
3. fly flies

Read each word. Add -ed to each word to show that the action happened in the past. Change the word's spelling as needed. Read the new word.

4. skip skipped
5. want wanted
6. jump jumped

Read each word. Add -ing to each word to show that the action is happening now. Change the word's spelling as needed. Read the new word.

7. plan planning
8. miss missing
9. chop chopping

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

5.4 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with double consonants.
- Draw a box around compound words.
- Circle words with the endings -ed and -ing.
- Highlight one-syllable words with closed syllables.

Baking Cupcakes

Baking is a fun task that anyone can do. You can bake all kinds of pastries, like cakes, cupcakes, and muffins. Plus, it fills your home with a yummy smell. Let's bake some homemade cupcakes!

Step 1: Ask an adult to assist you.

Set the oven to 350°.

Step 2: Grab all the ingredients.

You will need 1 cup of flour,  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup of sugar,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of butter, 2 eggs,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of milk, 2 teaspoons of vanilla extract, 1 teaspoon of baking powder, and a bit of salt. Make sure to also grab frosting, a whisk, a spatula, baking cups, a cupcake pan, and a cooling rack.

Step 3: Make the batter.

As the oven gets hot, mix the flour, sugar, butter, eggs, milk, vanilla, baking powder, and salt. Mix them well with the whisk until you have made a batter that is soft and fluffy, like velvet.

Step 4: Line the cupcake pan with baking cups.

Fill the baking cups with the batter. Make sure the cups are not filled to the rim. A little more than halfway full is fine.

Step 5: Bake the cupcakes.

With the help of an adult, put the pan in the hot oven, and let the cupcakes bake for 15 to 20 minutes. When the tops have browned, do a test to see if they are ready. Slide a toothpick in and out of the cupcake. If the toothpick comes out with no batter on it, your cupcakes have fully baked and are now done.

With the help of an adult, take the cupcakes out of the oven. Remove the cupcakes from the pan, and let them chill on a cooling rack for a bit.

Step 6: Add frosting.

When your cupcakes have chilled, add frosting to the tops of the cupcakes with the spatula. Make them fun! You can frost each cupcake however you like! You can even add snazzy toppings, like sprinkles.

Step 7: Taste your cupcakes.

Now it's time to dig in and taste the cupcakes you created! Share your cupcakes with others. The cupcakes are sure to make them smile.

NAME: _____ 5.5 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

“Baking Cupcakes” Comprehension Questions

- Why do you think turning on the oven is the first step?
It is the first step because the oven may take a while to heat up.
- What are three ingredients in the batter?
Accept any combination of the following: Flour, sugar, butter, eggs, milk, vanilla, baking powder.
- Why should you not fill the baking cups to the rim?
If they are filled to the rim, they may spill over.
- How do you test if the cupcakes are ready to come out of the oven?
You slide a toothpick in and out of the cupcake. If the toothpick has no batter on it, the cupcakes are ready.
- What tool should you use to put frosting on the tops of the cupcakes?
You should use a spatula.
- Which step of baking cupcakes do you think you would enjoy the most? Why?
I would enjoy Step 6 the most because I like to decorate things.

NAME: _____ 6.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

Review Silent Letter Combinations: ‘wr’ > /r/, ‘kn’ > /n/

Read each sentence. Complete each sentence by circling the letters that spell the missing word. Read each sentence with the correct word.

- She used an iron to get the _____ out of her shirt.

|      |      |
|------|------|
| wrin | kles |
| rin  |      |
- The students put their books in a _____.

|      |      |
|------|------|
| nap  | sack |
| knap |      |
- Someone is _____ at the door.

|       |     |
|-------|-----|
| nock  | ing |
| knock |     |
- The worm _____ on the ground.

|      |      |
|------|------|
| wrig | gles |
| rig  |      |
- I hope your weekend was _____.

|       |     |
|-------|-----|
| wrest | ful |
| rest  |     |

- My hands have _____.

|       |     |
|-------|-----|
| nuck  | les |
| knuck |     |
- _____ how to spell is an important skill.

|      |     |
|------|-----|
| Now  | ing |
| Know |     |
- What _____ are you taking?

|     |     |
|-----|-----|
| no  | tes |
| kno |     |
- Skateboarders should wear _____.

|      |      |
|------|------|
| knee | pads |
| nee  |      |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

6.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

Read each word. Write the root word next to each word with an -ed or -ing ending. Read each root word.

1. biked bike
2. called call
3. giving give
4. hiding hide
5. hopped hop
6. knotting knot
7. mined mine
8. jumped jump
9. trimmed trim
10. wrinkling wrinkle

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

6.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with 'mb' and 'bt' spellings.
- Circle words with the endings -ed and -ing.
- Highlight words with closed syllables.

Knoll the Knight

Knoll was known as the bravest and most trusted knight in the kingdom.

One day, the king wrote to Knoll, "I need your help finding a rare gem. It is hidden in a tomb deep in the enchanted forest."

Knoll read the note and nodded, feeling a mix of excitement and doubt. He had never gone on such an adventure before. He packed his bag and map, grabbed his knife, and set off on his horse.

The ride into the enchanted forest was not easy. Knoll had to climb steep hills and cross flowing rivers. His knees became sore and his legs went numb from riding. His wrists and thumbs hurt from holding on to the horse's reins. Knoll was a wreck. But he kept going, set on completing his task.

After days of traveling, Knoll finally arrived at the tomb. There, Knoll found a huge dragon protecting the entrance. Letting go of his fear and doubt, Knoll grabbed his knife and prepared to take on the dragon. He swung the knife, almost hitting the dragon. Then, the dragon pulled back and ran away.

With the dragon gone, Knoll entered the tomb. There, glowing in the dim light, was the gem. It was dazzling! Knoll wrapped the gem in a cloth, tucked it safely in his bag, and returned to the kingdom.

He had found the gem, and the king was thrilled! "I am in debt to you for your hard work," the king said to Knoll. The kingdom celebrated Knoll by singing and dancing in his honor. Knoll felt pride growing in his chest. As he looked at the sparkling gem, he grinned. He was ready for his next adventure.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

7.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Read Closed Multisyllabic Words

Read each word. Underline the closed syllable or syllables in each word. Circle the words that have at least two closed syllables. Read each word again.

1. wristband
2. hotdog
3. kneepad
4. numbed
5. puppet
6. lesson
7. rodent
8. radio
9. debtfree
10. suffix

NAME: _____ 7.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

Word Bank

|         |         |         |        |
|---------|---------|---------|--------|
| compare | refuse  | decide  | admire |
| invite  | deglaze | compete | accuse |

Part I

Read each word in the word bank. Add the suffix -ed to each word in the word bank to show that the action happened in the past. Change the word's spelling as needed. Read the new word.

1. compared
2. refused
3. decided
4. admired
5. invited
6. deglazed
7. competed
8. accused

Part II

Read each word in the word bank. Add the suffix -ing to each word in the word bank to show that the action is happening now. Change the word's spelling as needed. Read the new word.

1. comparing
2. refusing
3. deciding
4. admiring
5. inviting
6. deglazing
7. competing
8. accusing

NAME: _____ 8.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Read Closed Multisyllabic Words

Read each word. Underline the closed syllable or syllables in each word. Read each word again.

1. wit•ness
2. sketch•y
3. back•lash
4. ech•o
5. sun•fish
6. jam•packed
7. hop•scotch
8. watch•ful
9. sun•tan
10. fan•tas•tic

NAME: _____ 8.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Inflectional Endings -ed and -ing

|     |      |         |        |      |
|-----|------|---------|--------|------|
| fan | swap | inspire | charge | pat  |
| zip | plan | hike    | chime  | joke |

Part I

Read each word in the word bank. Sort the words in the word bank according to whether they double their final consonant or drop the final 'e' when adding the suffix -ed or -ing.

| Double Final Consonant | Drop e  |
|------------------------|---------|
| fan                    | inspire |
| plan                   | charge  |
| pat                    | joke    |
| swap                   | chime   |
| zip                    | hike    |

Part II

Read the root words. Add -ed and -ing to each root word to create a new word. Change the spelling of the word as needed. Read the new words.

| Root Word | -ed      | -ing      |
|-----------|----------|-----------|
| fan       | fanned   | fanning   |
| swap      | swapped  | swapping  |
| inspire   | inspired | inspiring |
| charge    | charged  | charging  |
| pat       | patted   | patting   |
| zip       | zipped   | zipping   |
| plan      | planned  | planning  |
| hike      | hiked    | hiking    |
| chime     | chimed   | chiming   |
| joke      | joked    | joking    |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

8.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with 'sh' and 'qu'.
- Circle words with the endings -ed and -ing.
- Highlight words with one open syllable.

Lake Day

The Jones family was all set for an exciting day at the lake. They sat on the porch, chatting about what they should bring. "We need an umbrella for shade, a big quilt to sit on, and a bunch of snacks for lunch," said Mom. Dad added, "And let's not forget the fishing equipment. I want to catch a big fish!"

The next day, they woke up, packed their bags, and drove off. The sun was shining as they reached the lake. They snagged a nice spot by the water and laid out their quilt and umbrella. The kids, Shane and Rachel, rushed to the water, splashing and giggling. Mom and Dad watched from the quilt, taking in the fresh air.

A bit later, Shane spotted a shell along the shore. This shell was quite unique. It was a shiny conch shell. He picked it up and put it in his backpack. He planned to stash it with his other shells at home.

Dad left the quilt and shade to go fish for a bit. But he did not have much luck, as a few catfish escaped. He gave up just in time for lunch.

After lunch, Rachel and Mom played a quick game of catch. Mom pitched the ball and Rachel did her best to catch it. The ball often landed in the sand, but they just kept grinning, joking, and having the best time.

As the sun was setting, they began to pack up. They had so much fun at the lake. Driving home, the family chatted about the best parts of the day. The lake trip was a success. The Jones family could not wait for their next lake day.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

8.4 ACTIVITY PAGE

"Lake Day" Comprehension Questions

1. What did the Jones family talk about when they were on the porch?

The family members talked about what they would bring to the lake.

2. What did the family members lay out by the lake?

They laid out a quilt and an umbrella.

3. How many fish did Dad catch?

Dad did not catch any fish.

4. What would you do if you went with the Jones family to the lake? Choose one of their activities, and explain why you chose it.
Answers will vary. Students should choose one of the activities mentioned in the text and explain why it appeals to them.
 _____
 _____

5. What did Rachel and her mom play?
They played a game of catch.
 _____
 _____

6. Why do you think the Jones family's trip to the lake is called "a success"?
Sample answer: The trip was a success because the family members enjoyed it.
 _____
 _____

NAME: _____ 91 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Review Digraphs: 'sh,' 'qu'

Read each word. Circle the 'sh' or 'qu' digraph in each of the following words. Read each word again.

- freshen
- quaint
- quitting
- refresh
- quicken
- shiny
- squished
- sunshine
- dishes

NAME: _____ 92 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

Read the story. Then, complete the story by adding the inflectional ending -ed or -ing to the root word to fill in each blank. Read the story again.

Mo and his family are (plan) planning a party. Many people are (come) coming, and the family has to get ready. Yesterday, Mo trim trimmed the lawn. He (notice) noticed the steps were dirty, so Mo (brush) brushed them off. Mo's sister is in charge of (put) putting balloons by the door. Mo's brother is (write) writing the invitations. Earlier this morning, Mo (swap) swapped out the decorations. He (pin) pinned streamers to the ceiling. It is (take) taking the whole day to prepare! Suddenly, Mo realizes that he is (forget) forgetting something. "Papa," he asks, "what is this party for?"

NAME: _____ 101 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Sort Words by Digraph

Read each word in the word bank. Write each word on the chart below to show which digraph is in the word. Read the words in each column.

Word Bank

|        |       |       |
|--------|-------|-------|
| shy    | shock | catch |
| brunch | ache  | quick |
| quite  | quiet | ship  |

|       |       |        |
|-------|-------|--------|
| 'sh'  | 'qu'  | 'ch'   |
| shy   | quick | brunch |
| shock | quiet | ache   |
| ship  | quite | catch  |

Review: Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

Read each sentence. Complete the sentences by adding the inflectional ending -ed or -ing to the root word to fill in each blank. Read each sentence again.

- I invited (invite) Kai to my house.
- The dog is chasing (chase) the cat out of the yard.
- She zipped (zip) her bag and slipped (slip) on her shoes.
- He is humming (hum) a sad song.
- Mom and Dad are joking (joke) and smiling (smile).
- I swapped (swap) books with Celia.
- Who is winning (win) the game?
- She saved (save) the bug by putting (put) it outside.

Read "Fall Colors" once. Then reread the passage and mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with 'ch', 'sh', 'qu', 'mb', and 'bt'.
- Circle words that have a double consonant before the ending -ed or -ing.
- Highlight at least three words with open syllables in yellow.
- Highlight at least three words with closed syllables in blue.

Fall Colors

Each fall we watch the leaves switch from lush, green colors to rich shades of red, orange, and yellow. This color switch makes the fall season equally unique and charming! Observing the colors change from one color to another is, without a doubt, a beautiful sight. Have you ever questioned why the change in colors happens? Although not all places experience a fall season in which the leaves change colors, the science is fascinating. I'll teach you all about it! Listen up. There might be a quiz at the end.

This color switch happens because of what's inside the leaves. It's quite interesting! Plants catch sunlight and turn it into energy. This energy gives leaves their lush, green shade. During the fall, the days get shorter. This means there is less sunlight for the leaves to catch. As they succumb to this change, the leaves quit making their green color. The other colors, or pigments, hidden inside the leaves quickly start to show.

The colors we see in the fall depend on the pigments inside the leaves. Some leaves switch to a golden yellow shade, while others turn cherry red or burnt orange. The temperature can also impact the leaves' colors. Chilly nights and sunny days can make sharper red and orange shades.

As fall ends, the trees begin to prepare for the winter. They do this by quietly dropping, or shedding, their leaves. The fallen leaves break down and help the ground become better for growing other plants.

So the next time you see leaves switching color in the fall, think about all that is happening on the inside. Also think about stopping to sketch or climb a tree, jumping into a pile of crunchy leaves, or just taking in the charming colors and chilly breeze. It's an opportunity to appreciate the subtle beauty of nature.

Now here's the quiz question: What's your favorite fall color?

"Fall Colors" Comprehension Questions

- With less sunlight, what do leaves stop doing?
They stop making their green color.
- What do the colors we see in the fall depend on?
They depend on the pigments inside of the leaves.
- How does the temperature impact the leaves' colors?
Chilly nights and sunny days can make sharper red and orange shades.

4. How do trees prepare for winter?

They drop, or shed, their leaves.

5. How does the writer likely feel about the fall season? How do you know?

The writer likes the fall season very much because they describe it as unique and charming.

6. Describe one interesting thing you learned from the passage.

It is interesting that fallen leaves break down to help the ground become better for growing other plants.

NAME: _____

11.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Open Two-Syllable Words

Read each word. Underline the open syllable of each word. If both syllables are open, underline the entire word. Read each word again.

1. broken
2. cargo
3. human
4. humid
5. zebra
6. total
7. lazy
8. bonus
9. hero
10. ivy

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

11.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Verbs with Inflectional Endings

Read each sentence. Underline the correct verb to complete each sentence. Read each sentence again.

1. Max (flies/flys) the kite.
2. Serena (washes/washes) the car.
3. Last night, I (joke/joked) with Mom.
4. Today, David (helps/help) his dad.
5. Yesterday, he (tried/tries) to do his work.
6. She (flashes/flashs) the light.
7. He (works/workes) until noon.
8. The bird (sings/singes).

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

11.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with 'ph' and 'gh'.
- Circle words with the endings -es and -s.
- Highlight words with open syllables and draw a box around the open syllable.

Topher Sings

Topher loves to sing. He takes singing classes with voice coaches. Topher has a habit of singing while doing just about anything. He belts his high-pitched songs, filling his home with music all day long. There is never a quiet moment around Topher.

A few days ago, Topher woke up with a fever and a rough cough. His throat also throbbled. He tried to sing, but not even a tiny hum came out. He sat there silent for the first time in a long time.

He tried everything to help his rough cough and throbbing throat. He sipped warm broth, gargled salt water, and tried to relax. But nothing helped. He missed singing his songs. He couldn't even laugh off the sadness.

But this morning, Topher has had enough of his rough cough and throbbing throat. Plus, his home has become too quiet. He misses the way his songs ring out.

"That's it! Today I will see the doctor!" he cries out.

Topher's nephew Phillip rushes Topher to the health clinic.

The doctor on duty dashes in and checks his throat and lungs. "You need to rest your vocal cords" she advises. "No singing or talking for three more days. And go get some cough drops from the pharmacy."

"That's too long!" Topher cries. "This is going to be so tough."

Finally, Topher agrees to follow the doctor's orders. He takes his medicine and tries to rest his vocal cords. He eats his lunches in silence and washes the dishes. He spends the next three days doing silent activities, like reading in libraries and taking photos of nature. He also spends time catching butterflies and picking strawberries.

On the third day, with his vocal cords restored, Topher is able to sing again. He can now sing as he wishes! He opens his mouth and sings. His voice rings out stronger than ever. Music and songs fill his home once more.

Topher values his health and voice more than ever. From this day forth, he promises to take better care of himself and not strain his voice by singing too much.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

12.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Sort 'ph' and 'gh' Words

Read each word in the word bank. Write each word on the chart below to show which digraph is in the word. Read the words in each column.

Word Bank

|        |        |          |       |
|--------|--------|----------|-------|
| orphan | tough  | elephant | laugh |
| cough  | enough | alphabet | graph |

| 'ph'     | 'gh'   |
|----------|--------|
| orphan   | cough  |
| elephant | tough  |
| alphabet | enough |
| graph    | laugh  |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

12.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Review Inflectional Endings

Read each word. Complete the charts below by adding an inflectional ending to each noun or verb. Change the spelling of the word as needed. Read the new words.

Nouns with Inflectional Endings

| Singular | Plural  |
|----------|---------|
| class    | classes |
| city     | cities  |
| story    | stories |
| wish     | wishes  |

Verbs with Inflectional Endings

|       | Present tense(-s/-es) | Present tense(-ing with is) | Past tense(-ed) |
|-------|---------------------------|---------------------------------|---------------------|
| buzz  | buzzes                    | buzzing                         | buzzed              |
| erase | erases                    | erasing                         | erased              |
| reply | replies                   | replying                        | replied             |
| tap   | taps                      | tapping                         | tapped              |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

13.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Complete Words

Add 'gh', 'wh', or 'ck' to complete the following words. Read each completed word.

- _____ gh _____ ost
- lo _____ ck _____
- _____ wh _____ ip
- pa _____ ck _____
- _____ gh _____ oul
- qui _____ ck _____
- _____ wh _____ ile
- _____ wh _____ iz

Comparative and Superlative Adjectives

Read each sentence. Circle the correct adjective in each sentence. Read each new sentence.

1. In the group, Anne is the (louder/loudest) singer.
2. The black rock is (smoother/smoothest) than the white one.
3. He is the (shorter/shortest) kid in the third grade.
4. The (colder/coldest) day of the year was the first of December.
5. In the fairy tale, the witch is (wiser/wisest) than the troll.
6. The forest is (quieter/quietest) at night than at dawn.
7. Emi is the (faster/fastest) player on the team.
8. Mr. Chang is the (older/oldest) teacher at the school.

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with 'thr', 'str', 'spl', and 'shr'.
- Circle words with the endings -er and -est.
- Highlight words with two syllables in which both syllables are open.

Serena Williams

Serena Williams is a Black American woman and tennis player. She is one of the strongest and best athletes of our time. With a whopping number of wins, she is truly a major leader in her sport. She has one of the quickest serves and the strongest backhands. Serena is also a role model. Many young players strive to be like her.

Serena has an older sister, Venus, who is also a top tennis player. Serena and Venus' father split his time training both of them. While he trained them, he helped both Venus and Serena to become stronger and better players. In order to be the best, Serena began to push herself to work harder every day. She never quit, even when she was hurt or stressed.

Serena has had an impressive career because of her talent and drive. Her first big win was at the 1999 U.S. Open. At just 17 years old, she was the youngest player to ever win this title. This vital win is where her success began. With more strong whacks of the tennis ball, Serena went on to win many more matches and titles. She almost made it look easy!

Serena is not just a talented solo player, she is also a strong doubles player. She and Venus make an amazing team and unit. Together, they have whacked the tennis ball to victory in 22 matches!

Even though Serena is faster and stronger than most players on the tennis court, she is no stranger to defeat. When she has lost, she never lets it get her down for too long. She shrugs off the disappointment and grows from her mistakes.

Off the tennis court, Serena is a mother and wife. Serena also has other interests. She is a lover of fashion and gives back to help those in need.

No one can deny that watching Serena Williams play is a splendid and thrilling experience! Many tennis fans watch her with admiration while letting out shrieks of excitement. She is surely one of the greatest tennis players of all time and a very interesting human being.

“Serena Williams” Comprehension Questions

1. Who is Serena Williams?
Serena Williams is one of the best professional tennis players of her time.
2. Who was her first coach?
Her first coach was her father.
3. Why was winning the 1999 U.S. Open a special achievement?
She became the youngest player to win the U.S. Open.

4. What are Serena Williams's personal interests?

She loves fashion and gives to people in need.

_____

_____

5. Based on the information in the passage, what type of person is Serena Williams?

Serena Williams is dedicated, hard-working, and generous.

_____

_____

6. What is special about her career as a doubles player?

She plays doubles with her sister, Venus.

_____

_____

NAME: _____

14.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Words with Open Syllables

Read each word. Divide each word into syllables. Circle the words with at least one open syllable. For each word with an open syllable, underline the open syllable or syllables. Read each word again.

1. r a n d o m

2. h o r i z o n

3. m i n u s

4. s p l a s h y

5. w e t t e s t

6. t i n y

7. c a n d l e

8. o l d e r

9. s o f a

10. a c o r n

NAME: _____

14.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Words that end in -er and -est

Read each word. Underline the words that are adjectives. Then put a "C" by the comparative adjectives and an "S" by the superlative adjectives. Read each of the adjectives again.

1. crest _____

2. tastiest S

3. unrest _____

4. shower _____

5. lonelier C

6. poster _____

7. prettiest S

8. healthiest S

9. cozier C

10. spookiest S

NAME: _____

15.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Complete Words

Read each sentence. Add 'wh', 'ck', 'thr', or 'shr' to complete the words so that the sentence makes sense. Read each sentence again.

1. I wear boots _____ wh _____ en it rains.

2. Please cli _____ ck _____ this button.

3. _____ wh _____ ere are the cups?

4. I love to eat _____ shr _____ imp.

5. That shirt will _____ shr _____ ink if it gets wet.

6. The ro _____ ck _____ is smooth and flat.

7. Bea tied the _____ thr _____ ee ribbons.

8. Let's go _____ thr _____ ough the tunnel.

Use Superlative Adjectives to Complete Sentences

Read each sentence. Complete the sentences with a superlative adjective. Read each sentence again.

- Tuesday was hotter than Monday and Sunday. It was the hottest day of the week.
- The green dress is fancier than the blue one and the white one. It is the fanciest dress in the store.
- Blake's backpack is larger than Ronen's backpack and Cybil's backpack. It is the largest backpack in the class.
- The cactus is healthier than the fern and the fig tree. It is the healthiest plant in the yard.
- The black bunny is fuzzier than the white bunny and the brown bunny. It is the fuzziest bunny in the cage.
- The red bird is louder than the black bird and the blue bird. It is the loudest bird in the garden.
- The gray blanket is softer than the brown blanket and the blue blanket. It is the softest blanket in the pile.
- The green sauce is spicier than the red sauce and the brown sauce. It is the spiciest sauce on the table.

Read "Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers" once. Reread the passage and mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with 'ph,' 'th,' 'ck,' and 'wh'.
- Draw a box around words with 'shr,' 'thr,' 'str,' and 'spl'.
- Circle comparative and superlative adjectives.
- Highlight words with one or more open syllables.

Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers

Shri loved to play kickball with her team, the Whopping Elephants. She was the fastest runner on her team and had one of the strongest kicks.

The Whopping Elephants had made it to the final playoff game of the season. "I'm so thrilled about our last game against the Tiny Tigers on Saturday!" Shri said to her teammates Whitney and Seng.

"We are for sure winning that trophy!" Whitney responded.

"I hope so," said Seng. "The Tiny Tigers are a tough team to beat. They won't make it easy!" Shri and Whitney agreed. But they shrugged off any doubt.

On the day of the game, the players and coaches were buzzing and eager to begin. This game was going to be the climax of their kickball season. Which team would win it all?

The game began, and Shri's team was doing well. The Whopping Elephants were in the lead and running faster, kicking harder, and playing better than they had all season. But the Tiny Tigers quickly started to catch up. Theo, the Tiny Tigers's toughest player, seemed unstoppable. He played a bit too rough. He was also a braver and smarter player than anyone had expected.

As they watched the Tiny Tigers score time after time, Shri, Whitney, and Seng went silent. Whitney became as pale as a ghost. Had they made a ghastly mistake about how well the Tiny Tigers could play? The Whopping Elephants began to feel a bit of stress. Their confidence was shrinking.

It was the last inning, and the score was tied six to six. It was Shri's last chance to kick. "This is it. We have no more tries left," she whispered to herself. She walked behind home plate and got ready to kick. She took three deep breaths and ran up to the ball. Whoosh! With her strongest kick ever, she sent the ball flying past all the shrubs and bushes!

Shri whizzed past all three bases as fast as she could. It was the fastest she had ever run. She made it back to home plate just in time. The final score was now seven to six. The Whopping Elephants had won the game! What a splendid triumph! The team let out cries of happiness. "We won!" shrieked a thrilled Whitney.

Theo and the Tiny Tigers accepted the loss. "You guys were the hardest team we've played in a while! Keep it up," Seng said.

The Whopping Elephants named Shri their kickball hero and handed her the playoff trophy. The Whopping Elephants celebrated their win over spaghetti and french fries! What a great day!

"Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers" Comprehension Questions

- What team do Shri, Whitney, and Seng play for?
They play for the Whopping Elephants.
- How do the Tiny Tigers feel at the beginning of the game?
They feel confident that they will win the game.
- Who is Theo?
Theo is the Tiny Tigers' toughest player.

4. Does the game unfold as the Whopping Elephants expect it to?

The game is harder than they expected. The Tiny Tigers are a very good team.

_____

5. What happens in the last inning?

Shri kicks the winning run.

_____

6. How does the winning team celebrate?

They get a trophy and eat spaghetti and fries.

_____

NAME: _____

16.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Abbreviations: Titles with Names

Word Bank

|      |     |      |
|------|-----|------|
| Mr.  | Jr. | Mrs. |
| Miss | Dr. | Sr.  |

Read each abbreviation and title in the word bank. Then, read each sentence. Complete each sentence by adding the correct word or abbreviation for the title in parentheses. Remember, not all titles with names are abbreviated. Read each sentence again.

- _____ Miss _____ Diaz helped the students. (Miss)
- _____ Dr. _____ Brown put a cast on the patient's broken arm. (Doctor)
- My favorite baseball player is Jackson Smith, _____ Jr. _____ (Junior)
- The new principal is _____ Mrs. _____ Johnson. (Missus)
- Sam Davis, _____ Sr. _____, wrote the article. (Senior)
- _____ Mr. _____ Wilson made sandwiches for the class. (Mister)

NAME: _____

16.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Root Words and Derivational Endings: -y

Read each word. Make each of these nouns into an adjective by adding the ending -y. Remember to change the root word's spelling as needed, such as by dropping the final 'e' or doubling the final consonant, before adding the ending. Read the new words.

- bump _____ bumpy
- mess _____ messy
- scare _____ scary
- sleep _____ sleepy
- crunch _____ crunchy
- spice _____ spicy
- wind _____ windy
- dust _____ dusty
- gloom _____ gloomy
- fun _____ funny

NAME: _____

16.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline abbreviated words.
- Circle words with the ending -y.
- Highlight words with at least one open syllable.

A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez

Carlos Lopez Sr. and his wife had been waiting for a letter from their son, Carlos Lopez Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Lopez were excited to read his funny stories.

The mailman, Mr. Jacobs, was a goofy and sometimes clumsy human. He had a bad habit of mixing up the mail. Last week on a sunny day, Mr. Jacobs delivered the mail with his usual cheery attitude. He picked up the letter meant for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez and read the address written on the envelope. It was addressed to "456 Pine St." But, since Mr. Jacobs was in a bit of a hurry, he carelessly placed it in the mailbox labeled "654 Pine Ln." That was Dr. Davis's house.

Dr. Davis, who was a busy lady, did not see the mix-up right away. She placed the letter from Carlos Lopez Jr. on her dusty table and went on with her day.

A few days later, Mr. and Mrs. Lopez began to worry. Why had the letter from Carlos Lopez Jr. not arrived? They gave Mr. Jacobs a call. Mr. Jacobs wondered if he had placed it in Dr. Davis's mailbox. He always struggled with the addresses that are similar. "This is a tricky mess. I will fix this right away," said Mr. Jacobs.

Mr. Jacobs went to see Dr. Davis and told her the story over some tasty tea. Dr. Davis, who was known to be a bit cranky, was not fussy at all. She said, "I am sorry. I did not see the mix-up. Here is the letter." Mr. Jacobs felt sorry when he realized he had made a mistake.

"Thank you, Dr. Davis," Mr. Jacobs said as he took the letter and made a speedy exit.

Then, Mr. Jacobs went back and handed the letter to Mr. and Mrs. Lopez. They were so happy. "Thank you, Mr. Jacobs! We know it was a mistake," they told the mailman.

"I will try to be more careful. I do not want to make anyone else worry again," he swore.

With that, Mr. Jacobs went on his way. Mr. and Mrs. Lopez sat down to read their letter. They read the funny stories from their son. It was a happy end to a bumpy day.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

17.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Abbreviations: Streets in Addresses and States

Word Bank

|      |     |      |      |    |
|------|-----|------|------|----|
| Ln.  | TX  | U.S. | St.  | CA |
| Ave. | Rd. | FL   | U.K. | NY |

Read each abbreviation in the word bank. Then read each word in the list below. Use the word bank to match each term with its abbreviation. Read each word and its abbreviation again.

- Avenue Ave.
- Texas TX
- United States U.S.
- New York NY
- California CA
- Street St.
- Lane Ln.
- United Kingdom U.K.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

17.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Derivational Endings: -y

Read each sentence. Circle the bold words that are nouns and underline the bold words that are adjectives. Read the sentences again.

- Mari found a piece of fuzz. It came off the fuzzy teddy bear.
- The chef used a lot of spices. The pasta tastes spicy.
- Ice covered the frosty window. Then the sun melted the frost.
- Lee bit into a juicy apple. Juice got on his hands.
- The bookshelf was dusty. The librarian wiped the dust off with a rag.
- A leak dripped into a bucket. A plumber came to fix the leaky pipe.
- Roses are a thorny flower. The florist trimmed the thorns.
- Sam added extra cheese to the pizza. She likes cheesy pizza.
- Stepping on leaves makes a loud crunch. Paul loves stepping on crunchy leaves.
- It is noisy in the gym. The basketball players make a lot of noise when they practice.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

18.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Abbreviations: Days of the Week and Months

Word Bank

|      |      |       |      |      |
|------|------|-------|------|------|
| Wed. | Aug. | Sat.  | Nov. | Fri. |
| Jan. | Sun. | Tues. | Oct. | Mar. |

Read each abbreviation in the word bank. Then, read each word below. Use the word bank to match each term with its abbreviation. Read each word and its abbreviation.

- Friday Fri.
- January Jan.
- November Nov.
- Wednesday Wed.
- March Mar.
- Sunday Sun.
- Saturday Sat.
- August Aug.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

Creating Nouns and Adjectives with the Ending -er

Read each word. Add -er to each root word and write the new word on the first line. Change the word's spelling as needed. Then identify the part of speech of the new word by writing N for noun or A for adjective on the second line. Read each new word.

Inflectional and Derivational Ending -er

1. tall taller A
2. work worker N
3. cheap cheaper A
4. sing singer N
5. plain plainer A
6. think thinker N
7. help helper N
8. kind kinder A

9. ride rider N
10. wide wider A
11. make maker N
12. young younger A

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

- Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.
When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:
- Underline abbreviated words.
  - Circle words with the ending -less.
  - Highlight words that have both closed and open syllables.

Scientists

Scientists are critical thinkers and problem solvers who work to learn more about the world. They are like detectives. They make discoveries by asking countless questions, observing, and testing. A scientist's week is full of limitless work. Here is a typical weekly schedule that a scientist might make for themselves:

| Week of Jan.15: |                                                                                                       |
|-----------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Mon.            | Think of a question. Ask "Why is the sky blue?" or "How can we protect people from new germs?" |
| Tues.           | Come up with an idea, or hypothesis , to answer this question. Plan a way to test it.          |
| Wed.            | Try not to feel helpless if the test does not go as planned. Keep at it!                       |
| Thurs.          | Find a new way to solve the problem and test a new hypothesis .                                |
| Fri.            | Hopefully see some progress.                                                                          |
| Sat. and Sun.   | Rest to start fresh on Mon.                                                                    |

In their work, scientists use a lot of words to describe size. When taking notes, they often use abbreviations. For example, they may use "5 ft." or "10 in." to record how many feet or inches a plant has grown. They may use "20 oz." or "15 lb." to record how many ounces or pounds their artifacts or samples weigh. They also use "5 min." or "2 hr." to record how many minutes or hours a test takes.

Scientists become smarter and wiser with each test they conduct. They are tireless in their attempts to learn more in order to solve a problem. At times, they may feel puzzled or even hopeless. But they are fearless. They are not quitters and do not give up. They keep trying until they find the answer.

The work of a scientist never stops as they work to make discoveries. These discoveries are often priceless because they can improve our world. The list of things to learn and improve is endless.

So, if you are an explorer who likes to ask "why" or "how", think about being a scientist. You can be part of the tireless and selfless group of thinkers who work to make the world a bit better every day.

NAME: _____ 18.4 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

“Scientists” Comprehension Questions

- What are two words or phrases that the passage uses to describe scientists?
Accept any two of the following: critical thinkers, problem solvers, tireless, fearless
- What kind of information might a scientist record?
Accept any of the following: how many feet or inches a plant has grown, how many ounces or pounds their artifacts or samples weigh, how many minutes or hours a test takes
- How might scientists feel if their tests do not go as planned?
Scientists may feel helpless, puzzled, or hopeless.

- How does conducting tests help scientists?
Conducting tests make scientists smarter and wiser.
- Why don't scientists give up?
They want to find the answer to problems to improve our world.
- Based on the passage, what do you think is the most important trait scientists have? Explain your choice using a detail from the text.
Sample answer: I think that being tireless is the most important trait scientists have because they keep trying to make helpful discoveries.

NAME: _____ 19.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Abbreviations: Measurements

Word Bank

|       |      |        |
|-------|------|--------|
| hr.   | lb.  | in.    |
| ounce | foot | minute |

Read each abbreviation in the word bank. Use the word bank to complete the chart below. Read each full word and its abbreviation.

| Full Word | Abbreviation |
|-----------|--------------|
| foot      | ft.          |
| inch      | in.          |
| minute    | min.         |
| hour      | hr.          |
| ounce     | oz.          |
| pound     | lb.          |

NAME: _____ 19.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Adjectives with the Ending -less

Word Bank

|            |          |           |
|------------|----------|-----------|
| flawless   | hopeless | soundless |
| weightless | tireless | endless   |

Read each word in the word bank. Then, read the paragraph below. Use words from the word bank to complete the paragraph. Read the paragraph again.

It was the bottom of the ninth inning. Alex's baseball team was losing by two runs. The players felt hopeless. They had two outs already. It was Alex's turn to bat. The pitcher threw a flawless fastball right down the middle. Alex swung with all his might. A loud crack echoed across the soundless ballfield. The baseball soared like it was weightless. The ball flew over the fence for a home run. The tireless runners sprinted around the bases. Alex's foot hit home plate for the winning run. The team broke into endless cheers.

NAME: _____ 20.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

Review Abbreviations

Read the party invitation below. Revise the party invitation by replacing words with abbreviations. Write the abbreviations below the words that could be shortened. Read the party invitation again.

What: Lisa Garcia's 8th Birthday

When: Saturday Sat., September Sept. 15, 12:00 p.m.

Where: The Community Aquatic Center

204 Maple Street St.

Dallas, Texas TX 75001

Note: We can use the pool for 90 minutes. min.

Reply to: Missus Mrs. Garcia (123) 456-7890

NAME: _____ 20.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

Review Suffixes -er, -est, -y, and -less

Read the paragraph below. Complete the paragraph by adding the suffixes -er, -est, -y, or -less to the words in parentheses. Change the word's spelling if needed. Read the completed paragraph.

Ben needed new shoes. He grew a bit (tall) taller over the summer. His feet grew (big) bigger than they were last year. He wanted some (flash) flashy boots. A character on a (trend) trendy TV show wore them. Instead, his mom bought him a (plain) plainer pair of sneakers. They were much (cheap) cheaper. Plus, she was a (plan) planner. She said that a (time) timeless style would be better in the long run. The TV show was canceled the next week. Now, everyone thought the boots were (taste) tasteless. Ben was glad he listened to his mom. He thought she was the (smart) smartest adult he knew.

NAME: _____ 20.3 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

Read "Blanket Detective" once. Read the passage again and mark up the text as follows:

- Underline abbreviated words.
- Circle words with the endings -er and -less.
- Draw a box around words that end in -y.
- Highlight multisyllabic words that only have closed syllables.

Blanket Detective

Mr. Chen is a funny man and a good listener. He is also a detective and a writer. One windy and foggy morning, he was busy in his cozy home when he got a call from Dr. Jackson. Her tone was shaky. "I lost the priceless blanket that my grandmother made for me when I was a kid," she said with a helpless cry. "Can you please help me?"

"Sure, can you please describe the missing blanket?" asked the fearless detective.

"It's fluffy and red. It's about 6 ft. long and 4 ft. wide. It probably weighs about 2 lb." responded Dr. Jackson.

"Don't worry, Dr. Jackson. I will find your lovely blanket," said Mr. Chen after taking lengthy notes.

The next day, Mr. Chen began his hunt for the red, fluffy blanket. He went to Dr. Jackson's home and checked under the bed, behind the sofa, and even in the shadowy attic. But he was unlucky. He did not find it anywhere.

The next day was a sunny day, so Mr. Chen hung up posters for the missing blanket all over town. The poster read:

"MISSING BLANKET, FLUFFY AND RED.

6 FT. LONG AND 4 FT. WIDE.

WEIGHS 2 LB.

LAST SEEN ON TUES. OCT. 27TH, NEAR 43 WALNUT ST."

He left his phone number on the poster and waited for someone to call or text. Just as Mr. Chen was starting to feel hopeless, his phone buzzed with a text. The text read:

"Hi, I'm Mrs. Sanchez, a laundromat worker on Franklin Ave. I found a red, fluffy blanket last Fri. in a washer. It matches the blanket from the poster."

"I'll be right there," Mr. Chen responded. The missing blanket had been left behind as a harmless mistake.

Mr. Chen picked up the blanket from Mrs. Sanchez at the laundromat. He returned to Dr. Jackson's home and gave her the blanket. She was speechless. Her most loved blanket was back! She gave Mr. Chen endless thanks. Mr. Chen left feeling tired but happy. He knew he was not just a detective, but also a selfless helper.

NAME: _____ 20.4 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

“Blanket Detective” Comprehension Questions

1. What did Dr. Jackson lose?
Dr. Jackson lost her blanket.
_____
_____
2. Why does Dr. Jackson call Mr. Chen for help?
Dr. Jackson calls Mr. Chen because he is a detective.
_____
_____
3. Where does Mr. Chen look first?
Mr. Chen looks at Dr. Jackson’s home first.
_____
_____

4. How does Mr. Chen find the missing item?
Mr. Chen puts up posters in the town, and a laundromat worker recognizes the blanket.
_____
5. How did Dr. Jackson lose her item?
She left it behind at the laundromat by mistake.
_____
6. Would you like to be a detective? Use a detail from the story to explain why or why not?
Sample answer: Yes, I would like to be a detective. I would like to help people like Mr. Chen helped Dr. Jackson.
_____

NAME: _____ 20.5 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

Unit 1 Dictation Posttest

Write each word that your teacher dictates.

1. blast
2. clipped
3. wrenches
4. shipping
5. crumbs
6. quicker
7. trophies
8. selfless
9. funny

Write the entire sentence that your teacher dictates.

1. Mr. Smith uses a stopwatch.
_____
_____
2. My stomach aches.
_____
_____

Choose a word from the list above and use it to write your own sentence.

_____
_____
_____

ADDITIONAL SUPPORT ACTIVITY PAGE ANSWER KEY

NAME: _____ TR 1.1
 DATE: _____

Reread "Pat's Bike." Think about a time when you helped a friend or a time when a friend helped you. Tell about what happened on the lines below.

One time, my friend Sam lost his book. He was very upset. I helped him look for it. We found Sam's book under his desk. He thanked me for helping him find it.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Skills 1

280

NAME: _____ TR 2.1
 DATE: _____

Word Sort

Read each of the words in the box. Then sort them by consonant blend.

|        |       |       |      |
|--------|-------|-------|------|
| spruce | flat  | sprig | bent |
| flip   | stamp | flag  | step |
| spree  | stand | lent  | sent |

|            |             |            |            |
|------------|-------------|------------|------------|
| fl- | spr- | st- | -nt |
| flag       | sprig       | stamp      | lent       |
| flip       | spree       | stand      | bent       |
| flat       | spruce      | step       | sent       |

Teacher Resources

281

NAME: _____ TR 3.1
 DATE: _____

Reread "Jazz Music." Identify the central idea of the text. Use at least two details from the passage that support this central idea.

Sample response: Jazz is a lively kind of music. It has an important history. The text says that jazz "buzzes with life" and "It has shifted the way people all over the world listen to and think about music."

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Skills 1

282

NAME: _____ TR 4.1
 DATE: _____

Root Words and Inflectional Endings: -ed, -ing

Word Bank

|       |        |      |        |
|-------|--------|------|--------|
| smell | drum   | chop | mop    |
| jet   | spritz | grin | listen |

Part I

Read each word in the word bank. Add the -ed ending to each word in the word bank. Read the new words.

1. smelled
2. drummed
3. chopped
4. mopped
5. jettted
6. spritzed
7. grinned
8. listened

Teacher Resources

283

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 4.1 CONTINUED

Part II

Add the -ing ending to each word in the word bank. Read the new words.

1. smelling
2. drumming
3. chopping
4. mopping
5. jetting
6. spritzing
7. grinning
8. listening

284

Skills 1

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 5.1

Reread "Baking Cupcakes." Using evidence from the passage, summarize how to make cupcakes. Remember, when you summarize, you tell only the most important points.

Sample response: First, you turn on the oven and get the ingredients. Then you make the batter. Next you put the batter in the cupcake pan, and then you bake the cupcakes. After they are cool, you add frosting. Finally, it is time to eat them.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Teacher Resources

285

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 5.2

Read the passage. Underline three words with ed (as in included). Put a box around three words with -s (as in rules). Highlight one word with double letter consonants.

The Preamble to the United States Constitution

When the United States of America became a country, it was important to establish rules and laws for citizens and leaders to follow. The document that included those rules and laws became known as the Constitution, which was written in 1787. It includes information on how the government should be set up, what laws should be followed, and rules about how everyone in the country should be treated fairly.

The Constitution begins with some important words, and those words are known as the Preamble. A preamble is a statement that introduces something. So the Preamble to the Constitution is the introduction to the Constitution.

The words to the Preamble are: "We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

286

Skills 1

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 5.2 CONTINUED

Comprehension Questions:

1. Who does the Preamble say is speaking? What part of the Preamble tells you so?
It says that the people of the United States are speaking. The first sentence of the Preamble tells us that the people are speaking.
2. What are some things the writers of the Preamble say they are writing the Constitution to do? If you need help, look at some of the words that are capitalized.
Students may say that the people want to form a better union, establish justice, ensure domestic tranquility or peace at home, defend the country, help people's well-being or welfare, or keep freedom.
3. The word domestic means "of the home," and tranquility means "peace." What do you think "domestic tranquility" means?
"Domestic tranquility" means peace at home or in the country.
4. The word posterity means people in the future, or descendants of someone. If the writers of the Constitution say that each of the things they are listing are for their posterity, what does that mean?
It means they want these same things for future generations, like their children and grandchildren.
5. Why do you think it was important for the writers of the Constitution to include the Preamble?
The Preamble is important because it explains why the authors wrote the Constitution and what they hoped it would do for the country.

Teacher Resources

287

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 6.1

Reread "Knoll the Knight." One theme, or central message, of the story is that Knoll has to work hard to achieve great things. Use details from your own life to describe when you have had to keep working hard at something that was difficult.

Sample response: I had to keep working hard at something that was difficult when I learned to ride a bike. I kept falling off over and over again, but I kept trying. Eventually, I succeeded.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 7.1

Silent Letters: b

Read each sentence. Then, circle the silent b's in the sentences.

1. The climbers doubted their ropes would hold.
2. Bees store their honey in a honeycomb.
3. The crumbs were from the banana bread.
4. He broke out into a subbtle smile.
5. The tomb was covered in cobwebs.
6. The plumber worked to pay off her debbts.
7. Our limbs went numb with fear.
8. The subject of this reading is lambs.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 8.1

Reread "Lake Day." The setting is where and when a story happens. The plot is what happens in the story. Use details from the passage to describe how the setting influences the plot of the "Lake Day."

Sample response: The setting is a sunny day at the lake. The plot is about what the Jones family does at the lake. In this setting, the family members can do activities like relax on a quilt, fish, and play catch.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 9.1

Digraphs: 'sh,' 'qu'

List as many words with /sh/ > 'sh' as you can in the allotted time.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

List as many words with /qu/ > 'qu' as you can in the allotted time.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____ TR 10.1
 DATE: _____

Reread "Fall Colors" focusing on the final paragraph of the text. Then answer the question, explaining why the color you have chosen is your favorite fall color. Draw a picture using your favorite fall color.

Sample response: Gold is my favorite fall color. When I walk to school, I pass by a tree with big, beautiful golden leaves. The sun shines through the leaves, making the tree look like it is lit up.

_____
 _____
 _____

Drawings will vary but should show colorful fall color.

NAME: _____ TR 11.1
 DATE: _____

Reread "Topher Sings." What is one message from the story? Use details from the passage to explain your thinking.

Sample response: One message from the story is that it is important to take care of the things that matter to you. Topher loves singing more than anything else. If he wants to keep singing, he needs to take care of his vocal cords. He can sing, but he should not sing too much. At the end of the story, Topher decides to take better care of himself so that he can continue to sing.

_____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____

NAME: _____ TR 12.1
 DATE: _____

Digraphs 'ph' and 'gh' > /f/

Words with 'ph'

Words with 'gh'

|                  |               |
|------------------|---------------|
| homophone | cough  |
| orphan    | tough  |
| elephant  | enough |
| alphabet  | laugh  |
| nephew    | _____         |
| digraph   | _____         |

NAME: _____ TR 13.1
 DATE: _____

Reread "Serena Williams." What is the central idea of the passage? Use details from the passage to support your answer.

The central idea of "Serena Williams" is that she has achieved many great things. The passage outlines her accomplishments as a professional single and doubles tennis player. It is also about her personal life and interests.

_____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____
 _____

NAME: _____ TR 14.1
 DATE: _____

Sort Words with Consonant Blends

Read each word in the word bank. Sort the words from the word bank into the correct column of the chart. Read each column of the sorted words.

Word Bank

|         |          |          |           |
|---------|----------|----------|-----------|
| stripe  | straight | shroud   | stripped  |
| through | shriek   | split    | thrifty   |
| shrinks | shrill   | throat   | splashed  |
| thrown  | splice   | splatter | structure |

| 'thr'   | 'shr'   | 'str'     | 'spl'    |
|---------|---------|-----------|----------|
| through | shriek  | stripped  | split    |
| thrown  | shroud  | stripe    | splashed |
| thrifty | shrill  | straight  | splatter |
| throat  | shrinks | structure | splice   |

294

Skills 1

NAME: _____ TR 15.1
 DATE: _____

Reread "Whopping Elephants vs. Tiny Tigers." Think of a time when you tried hard to compete in a sport or game. Use details from your life to describe how your experience compared to the players in the passage.

Sample response: When I played on a soccer team last year, I had to work really hard to pay attention to where my teammates were on the field. I also had to remember to share the ball and not try to score every goal myself. It was hard work, but it felt so great when we won a game.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Teacher Resources

295

NAME: _____ TR 16.1
 DATE: _____

Reread "A Letter for Mr. and Mrs. Lopez." Use details from the passage to retell what happens in the passage. Make sure to present events in the same order as they appear in the story.

Mr. and Mrs. Lopez are waiting for a letter from their son. The mailman, Mr. Jacobs, delivers the letter to Dr. Davis by mistake.

After a few days, Mr. and Mrs. Lopez call Mr. Jacobs to find out what happened to the letter. He realizes his mistake. Mr. Jacobs gets the letter back from Dr. Davis. He brings it to Mr. and Mrs.

Lopez. Mr. and Mrs. Lopez read the letter.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

296

Skills 1

NAME: _____ TR 17.1
 DATE: _____

Abbreviations in Addresses

Word Bank

|      |     |      |      |    |
|------|-----|------|------|----|
| Ln.  | TX  | U.S. | St.  | CA |
| Ave. | Rd. | FL   | U.K. | NY |

Use the word bank to complete each address by adding the abbreviation for the word in parentheses.

- 400 Lincoln _____ Rd. _____
Bismark, ND 58507 (Road)
- 8829 Cardinal Ln.
Jacksonville, _____ FL _____ 32201 (Florida)
- 998 Great Lakes Rd.
Lansing, MI 48864
_____ U.S. _____ (United States)
- 521 Second _____ St. _____
Atlanta, GA 30306 (Street)
- 42 Green Ave.
Fresno, _____ CA _____ 93701 (California)
- 1255 Sunny _____ Ln. _____
Boston, MA 02115 (Lane)
- 400 Foster St.
Austin, _____ TX _____ 78701 (Texas)

Teacher Resources

297

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 17.1
CONTINUED

8. 1200 Danbury Ln.
London, W8 6AG
_____ U.K. _____ (United Kingdom)
9. 900 S. Finch _____ Ave. _____
Chicago, IL 60608 (Avenue)
10. 8 W. Winter St.
Albany, _____ NY _____ 12084 (New York)

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 18.1

Reread "Scientists." Identify the central idea of the text. Use details from the passage to identify two details from the text that support the central idea.

Sample response: The central idea of the text is that scientists are hardworking problem solvers. The text says they "are not quitters and do not give up." It also says that they make "priceless" discoveries that "improve our world."

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 19.1

Using Abbreviations for Measurements

Complete the paragraph by writing the correct abbreviation for each unit of measurement.

Kendra liked helping her grandmother bake. They made gingersnap cookies. Kendra gathered the ingredients. She began with one _____ lb. _____ of butter. (pound) Next, she needed the dry ingredients. They were in the back of the cabinet. She used a step stool to reach. Kendra was just under 4 _____ ft. _____ tall. (feet) Last, she grabbed a glass measuring cup. She carefully poured 8 _____ oz. _____ of molasses into it. (ounces) Finally, Kendra and her grandmother mixed the ingredients together. They rolled the sticky dough into 1- _____ in. _____ balls. (inch) They baked the cookies for 12 _____ min. _____ (minutes)

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 20.1

Reread "Blanket Detective." Describe what happens at the end of the story. Using details from the passage, describe how Mr. Chen and Dr. Jackson feel at the end of the story and why they feel the way that they do.

Sample response: At the end of the story, Mr. Chen returns the lost blanket to Dr. Jackson. Dr. Jackson feels thankful because the blanket means a lot to her. She is glad to have it back. Mr. Chen feels tired but happy. He feels tired because finding the blanket was hard work. He feels happy because he helped Dr. Jackson.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

Unit 1

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| (1) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, discussion, and thinking—oral language. The student develops oral language through listening, speaking, and discussion. The student is expected to:                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| TEKS 3.1.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments                                                                                           | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 20, U1: p. 77, U1: p. 84, U1: p. 141, U1: p. 149, U1: p. 208, U1: p. 216                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| TEKS 3.1.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | follow, restate, and give oral instructions that involve a series of related sequences of action                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| TEKS 3.1.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | speak coherently about the topic under discussion, employing eye contact, speaking rate, volume, enunciation, and the conventions of language to communicate ideas effectively        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| TEKS 3.1.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols                                                                                                 | U1: p. 26, U1: p. 33, U1: p. 51, U1: p. 59, U1: p. 90, U1: p. 98, U1: p. 116, U1: p. 123, U1: p. 155, U1: p. 162, U1: p. 181, U1: p. 189, U1: p. 222, U1: p. 230, U1: p. 248, U1: p. 255                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| TEKS 3.1.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | develop social communication such as conversing politely in all situations                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| (2) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking—beginning reading and writing. The student develops word structure knowledge through phonological awareness, print concepts, phonics, and morphology to communicate, decode, and spell. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| (A) demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| TEKS 3.2.A.i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en                                                                                         | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 16, U1: p. 26, U1: p. 29, U1: p. 39, U1: p. 42, U1: p. 51, U1: p. 54, U1: p. 65, U1: p. 68, U1: p. 77, U1: p. 80, U1: p. 90, U1: p. 93, U1: p. 94, U1: p. 104, U1: p. 107, U1: p. 116, U1: p. 119, U1: p. 120, U1: p. 129, U1: p. 132, U1: p. 141, U1: p. 144, U1: p. 145, U1: p. 155, U1: p. 158, U1: p. 159, U1: p. 168, U1: p. 171, U1: p. 181, U1: p. 184, U1: p. 195, U1: p. 198, U1: p. 199, U1: p. 208, U1: p. 211, U1: p. 222, U1: p. 226, U1: p. 236, U1: p. 239, U1: p. 248, U1: p. 251, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 264                                                                                                                                              |
| TEKS 3.2.A.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables, vowel teams; including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables | U1: p. 26, U1: p. 29, U1: p. 33, U1: p. 39, U1: p. 42, U1: p. 46, U1: p. 51, U1: p. 54, U1: p. 59, U1: p. 65, U1: p. 68, U1: p. 71, U1: p. 77, U1: p. 80, U1: p. 84, U1: p. 90, U1: p. 94, U1: p. 98, U1: p. 104, U1: p. 107, U1: p. 112, U1: p. 116, U1: p. 120, U1: p. 123, U1: p. 129, U1: p. 132, U1: p. 135, U1: p. 141, U1: p. 145, U1: p. 149, U1: p. 155, U1: p. 159, U1: p. 162, U1: p. 168, U1: p. 171, U1: p. 176, U1: p. 181, U1: p. 184, U1: p. 189, U1: p. 195, U1: p. 199, U1: p. 202, U1: p. 208, U1: p. 212, U1: p. 216, U1: p. 222, U1: p. 227, U1: p. 230, U1: p. 236, U1: p. 239, U1: p. 243, U1: p. 248, U1: p. 252, U1: p. 255, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 264, U1: p. 267 |
| TEKS 3.2.A.iii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations                                                                                                                              | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 16, U1: p. 20, U1: p. 65, U1: p. 71, U1: p. 208, U1: p. 212, U1: p. 216, U1: p. 222, U1: p. 227, U1: p. 230, U1: p. 236, U1: p. 239, U1: p. 243, U1: p. 248, U1: p. 252, U1: p. 255, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 264, U1: p. 267                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| TEKS 3.2.A.iv                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | decoding words using knowledge of syllable division patterns such as VCCV, VCV, and VCCCV with accent shifts                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| TEKS 3.2.A.v                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | decoding words using knowledge of prefixes                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

Unit 1

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TEKS 3.2.A.vi                                                                                                                                                                                                    | decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants                               | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 18, U1: p. 26, U1: p. 31, U1: p. 33, U1: p. 39, U1: p. 44, U1: p. 46, U1: p. 51, U1: p. 54, U1: p. 56, U1: p. 59, U1: p. 65, U1: p. 68, U1: p. 70, U1: p. 71, U1: p. 77, U1: p. 82, U1: p. 84, U1: p. 90, U1: p. 96, U1: p. 98, U1: p. 104, U1: p. 110, U1: p. 112, U1: p. 116, U1: p. 121, U1: p. 123, U1: p. 129, U1: p. 134, U1: p. 135, U1: p. 141, U1: p. 147, U1: p. 149, U1: p. 155, U1: p. 160, U1: p. 162, U1: p. 168, U1: p. 173, U1: p. 176, U1: p. 181, U1: p. 187, U1: p. 189, U1: p. 195, U1: p. 200, U1: p. 202, U1: p. 208, U1: p. 214, U1: p. 216, U1: p. 222, U1: p. 228, U1: p. 230, U1: p. 236, U1: p. 241, U1: p. 243, U1: p. 248, U1: p. 253, U1: p. 255, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 266, U1: p. 267 |
| TEKS 3.2.A.vii                                                                                                                                                                                                   | identifying and reading high-frequency words from a research-based list                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| (B) demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by:                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| TEKS 3.2.B.i                                                                                                                                                                                                     | spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables, open syllables, VCe syllables, vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs, r-controlled syllables, and final stable syllables | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 22, U1: p. 39, U1: p. 47, U1: p. 65, U1: p. 72, U1: p. 77, U1: p. 86, U1: p. 90, U1: p. 99, U1: p. 104, U1: p. 113, U1: p. 116, U1: p. 124, U1: p. 129, U1: p. 136, U1: p. 141, U1: p. 151, U1: p. 155, U1: p. 163, U1: p. 168, U1: p. 177, U1: p. 181, U1: p. 190, U1: p. 195, U1: p. 203, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 268                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| TEKS 3.2.B.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                    | spelling homophones                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| TEKS 3.2.B.iii                                                                                                                                                                                                   | spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations                                                                                                                              | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 22, U1: p. 65, U1: p. 72, U1: p. 208, U1: p. 218, U1: p. 222, U1: p. 231, U1: p. 236, U1: p. 244, U1: p. 248, U1: p. 256, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 268                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| TEKS 3.2.B.iv                                                                                                                                                                                                    | spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns                                                                                                                    | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 22, U1: p. 26, U1: p. 34, U1: p. 39, U1: p. 47, U1: p. 65, U1: p. 72, U1: p. 77, U1: p. 86, U1: p. 90, U1: p. 99, U1: p. 104, U1: p. 113, U1: p. 116, U1: p. 124, U1: p. 129, U1: p. 136, U1: p. 141, U1: p. 151, U1: p. 155, U1: p. 163, U1: p. 168, U1: p. 177, U1: p. 181, U1: p. 190, U1: p. 195, U1: p. 203, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 268                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| TEKS 3.2.B.v                                                                                                                                                                                                     | spelling words using knowledge of syllable division such as VCCV, VCV, and VCCCV                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| TEKS 3.2.B.vi                                                                                                                                                                                                    | spelling words using knowledge of prefixes                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| TEKS 3.2.B.vii                                                                                                                                                                                                   | spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants                               | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 18, U1: p. 22, U1: p. 26, U1: p. 31, U1: p. 39, U1: p. 44, U1: p. 51, U1: p. 56, U1: p. 60, U1: p. 65, U1: p. 70, U1: p. 72, U1: p. 77, U1: p. 82, U1: p. 90, U1: p. 96, U1: p. 104, U1: p. 110, U1: p. 116, U1: p. 121, U1: p. 129, U1: p. 134, U1: p. 141, U1: p. 147, U1: p. 155, U1: p. 160, U1: p. 168, U1: p. 173, U1: p. 181, U1: p. 187, U1: p. 195, U1: p. 200, U1: p. 208, U1: p. 214, U1: p. 222, U1: p. 228, U1: p. 236, U1: p. 241, U1: p. 248, U1: p. 253, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 266, U1: p. 268                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| TEKS 3.2.C                                                                                                                                                                                                       | alphabetize a series of words to the third letter                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| TEKS 3.2.D                                                                                                                                                                                                       | write complete words, thoughts, and answers legibly in cursive leaving appropriate spaces between words.                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| (3) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking—vocabulary. The student uses newly acquired vocabulary expressively. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| TEKS 3.3.A                                                                                                                                                                                                       | use print or digital resources to determine meaning, syllabication, and pronunciation                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

| Unit 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                           | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TEKS 3.3.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | use context within and beyond a sentence to determine the meaning of unfamiliar words and multiple-meaning words                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.3.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non- , dis- , in- (not, non), pre- , -ness , -y , and -ful | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 18, U1: p. 26, U1: p. 31, U1: p. 39, U1: p. 44, U1: p. 51, U1: p. 56, U1: p. 65, U1: p. 70, U1: p. 77, U1: p. 82, U1: p. 90, U1: p. 96, U1: p. 104, U1: p. 110, U1: p. 116, U1: p. 121, U1: p. 129, U1: p. 134, U1: p. 141, U1: p. 147, U1: p. 155, U1: p. 160, U1: p. 168, U1: p. 173, U1: p. 181, U1: p. 187, U1: p. 195, U1: p. 200, U1: p. 208, U1: p. 214, U1: p. 222, U1: p. 228, U1: p. 236, U1: p. 241, U1: p. 248, U1: p. 253, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 266 |
| TEKS 3.3.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | identify, use, and explain the meaning of antonyms, synonyms, idioms, homophones, and homographs in a text                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| (4) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking—fluency. The student reads grade-level text with fluency and comprehension. The student is expected to use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text. |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.4                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text                                                                                                       | U1: p. 13, U1: p. 20, U1: p. 26, U1: p. 33, U1: p. 39, U1: p. 46, U1: p. 51, U1: p. 59, U1: p. 77, U1: p. 84, U1: p. 90, U1: p. 98, U1: p. 104, U1: p. 112, U1: p. 116, U1: p. 123, U1: p. 141, U1: p. 149, U1: p. 155, U1: p. 162, U1: p. 168, U1: p. 176, U1: p. 181, U1: p. 189, U1: p. 208, U1: p. 216, U1: p. 222, U1: p. 230, U1: p. 248, U1: p. 255                                                                                                                       |
| (5) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking—self-sustained reading. The student reads grade-appropriate texts independently. The student is expected to self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.         |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.5                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time                                                                                                                    | U1: p. 65, U1: p. 71, U1: p. 129, U1: p. 135, U1: p. 195, U1: p. 202, U1: p. 236, U1: p. 243, U1: p. 261, U1: p. 267                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| (6) Comprehension skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts. The student uses metacognitive skills to both develop and deepen comprehension of increasingly complex texts. The student is expected to:                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.6.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | establish purpose for reading assigned and self-selected texts                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.6.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | generate questions about text before, during, and after reading to deepen understanding and gain information                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.6.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | make and correct or confirm predictions using text features, characteristics of genre, and structures                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.6.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | create mental images to deepen understanding                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.6.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | make connections to personal experiences, ideas in other texts, and society                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.6.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | make inferences and use evidence to support understanding                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.6.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | evaluate details read to determine key ideas                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.6.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | synthesize information to create new understanding                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.6.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | monitor comprehension and make adjustments such as re-reading, using background knowledge, asking questions, and annotating when understanding breaks down                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| (7) Response skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts. The student responds to an increasingly challenging variety of sources that are read, heard, or viewed. The student is expected to:                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.7.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | describe personal connections to a variety of sources including self-selected texts                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

| Unit 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                        | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| TEKS 3.7.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | write a response to a literary or informational text that demonstrates an understanding of a text                                                      |                                    |
| TEKS 3.7.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | use text evidence to support an appropriate response                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.7.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | retell and paraphrase texts in ways that maintain meaning and logical order                                                                            |                                    |
| TEKS 3.7.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | interact with sources in meaningful ways such as notetaking, annotating, freewriting, or illustrating                                                  |                                    |
| TEKS 3.7.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | respond using newly acquired vocabulary as appropriate                                                                                                 |                                    |
| TEKS 3.7.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | discuss specific ideas in the text that are important to the meaning                                                                                   |                                    |
| (8) Multiple genres: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts—literary elements. The student recognizes and analyzes literary elements within and across increasingly complex traditional, contemporary, classical, and diverse literary texts. The student is expected to:                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                        |                                    |
| TEKS 3.8.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | infer the theme of a work, distinguishing theme from topic                                                                                             |                                    |
| TEKS 3.8.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | explain the relationships among the major and minor characters                                                                                         |                                    |
| TEKS 3.8.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | analyze plot elements, including the sequence of events, the conflict, and the resolution                                                              |                                    |
| TEKS 3.8.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | explain the influence of the setting on the plot                                                                                                       |                                    |
| (9) Multiple genres: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts—genres. The student recognizes and analyzes genre-specific characteristics, structures, and purposes within and across increasingly complex traditional, contemporary, classical, and diverse texts. The student is expected to:                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                        |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | demonstrate knowledge of distinguishing characteristics of well-known children’s literature such as folktales, fables, fairy tales, legends, and myths |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | explain rhyme scheme, sound devices, and structural elements such as stanzas in a variety of poems                                                     |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | discuss the elements in drama such as characters, dialogue, setting, and acts                                                                          |                                    |
| (D) recognize characteristics and structures of informational text, including:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                        |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.D.i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | the central idea with supporting evidence                                                                                                              |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.D.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | features such as sections, tables, graphs, timelines, bullets, numbers, bold and italicized font to support understanding                              |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.D.iii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | organizational patterns such as cause and effect and problem and solution                                                                              |                                    |
| (E) recognize characteristics and structures of argumentative text by:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                        |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.E.i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | identifying the claim                                                                                                                                  |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.E.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | distinguishing facts from opinion                                                                                                                      |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.E.iii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | identifying the intended audience or reader                                                                                                            |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | recognize characteristics of multimodal and digital texts                                                                                              |                                    |
| (10) Author’s purpose and craft: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts. The student uses critical inquiry to analyze the authors’ choices and how they influence and communicate meaning within a variety of texts. The student analyzes and applies author’s craft purposefully in order to develop his or her own products and performances. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                        |                                    |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

| Unit 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                   | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| TEKS 3.10.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | explain the author's purpose and message within a text                                                                                                            |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | explain how the use of text structure contributes to the author's purpose                                                                                         |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | explain the author's use of print and graphic features to achieve specific purposes                                                                               |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | describe how the author's use of imagery, literal and figurative language such as simile, and sound devices such as onomatopoeia achieves specific purposes       |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | identify the use of literary devices, including first- or third-person point of view                                                                              |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | discuss how the author's use of language contributes to voice                                                                                                     |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | identify and explain the use of hyperbole                                                                                                                         |                                    |
| (11) Composition: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts—writing process. The student uses the writing process recursively to compose multiple texts that are legible and uses appropriate conventions. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | plan a first draft by selecting a genre for a particular topic, purpose, and audience using a range of strategies such as brainstorming, freewriting, and mapping |                                    |
| (B) develop drafts into a focused, structured, and coherent piece of writing by:                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.B.i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | organizing with purposeful structure including an introduction and conclusion                                                                                     |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.B.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | developing an engaging idea with relevant details                                                                                                                 |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | revise drafts to improve sentence structure and word choice by adding, deleting, combining, and rearranging ideas for coherence and clarity                       |                                    |
| (D) edit drafts using standard English conventions, including:                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | edit drafts using standard English conventions                                                                                                                    |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | complete simple and compound sentences with subject-verb agreement                                                                                                |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | past, present, and future verb tense                                                                                                                              |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.iii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | singular, plural, common, and proper nouns                                                                                                                        |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.iv                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | adjectives, including their comparative and superlative forms                                                                                                     |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.v                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | adverbs that convey time and adverbs that convey manner                                                                                                           |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.vi                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | prepositions and prepositional phrases                                                                                                                            |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.vii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | pronouns, including subjective, objective, and possessive cases                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.viii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | coordinating conjunctions to form compound subjects, predicates, and sentences                                                                                    |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.ix                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | capitalization of official titles of people, holidays, and geographical names and places                                                                          |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.x                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | punctuation marks including apostrophes in contractions and possessives and commas in compound sentences and items in a series                                    |                                    |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

Unit 1

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                 |  |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|
| TEKS 3.11.D.xi                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | correct spelling of words with grade-appropriate orthographic patterns and rules and high-frequency words                                                       |  |
| TEKS 3.11.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | publish written work for appropriate audiences                                                                                                                  |  |
| (12) Composition: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts—genres. The student uses genre characteristics and craft to compose multiple texts that are meaningful. The student is expected to:               |                                                                                                                                                                 |  |
| TEKS 3.12.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | compose literary texts, including personal narratives and poetry, using genre characteristics and craft                                                         |  |
| TEKS 3.12.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | compose informational texts, including brief compositions that convey information about a topic, using a clear central idea and genre characteristics and craft |  |
| TEKS 3.12.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | compose argumentative texts, including opinion essays, using genre characteristics and craft                                                                    |  |
| TEKS 3.12.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | compose correspondence such as thank you notes or letters                                                                                                       |  |
| (13) Inquiry and research: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts. The student engages in both short-term and sustained recursive inquiry processes for a variety of purposes. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                 |  |
| TEKS 3.13.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | generate questions on a topic for formal and informal inquiry                                                                                                   |  |
| TEKS 3.13.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | develop and follow a research plan with adult assistance                                                                                                        |  |
| TEKS 3.13.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | identify and gather relevant information from a variety of sources                                                                                              |  |
| TEKS 3.13.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | identify primary and secondary sources                                                                                                                          |  |
| TEKS 3.13.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | demonstrate understanding of information gathered                                                                                                               |  |
| TEKS 3.13.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | recognize the difference between paraphrasing and plagiarism when using source materials                                                                        |  |
| TEKS 3.13.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | create a works cited page                                                                                                                                       |  |
| TEKS 3.13.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | use an appropriate mode of delivery, whether written, oral, or multimodal, to present results                                                                   |  |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 3

Unit 1

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

(1) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/learning strategies. The ELL uses language learning strategies to develop an awareness of his or her own learning processes in all content areas. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. The student is expected to:

|          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                   |
|----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ELPS 1.A | use prior knowledge and experiences to understand meanings in English                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                   |
| ELPS 1.B | monitor oral and written language production and employ self-corrective techniques or other resources                                                                                                                          |                                                                   |
| ELPS 1.C | use strategic learning techniques such as concept mapping, drawing, memorizing, comparing, contrasting, and reviewing to acquire basic and grade-level vocabulary                                                              | U1: p. 16, U1: p. 18, U1: p. 31, U1: p. 44, U1: p. 70, U1: p. 134 |
| ELPS 1.D | speak using learning strategies such as requesting assistance, employing non-verbal cues, and using synonyms and circumlocution (conveying ideas by defining or describing when exact English words are not known)             | U1: p. 256                                                        |
| ELPS 1.E | internalize new basic and academic language by using and reusing it in meaningful ways in speaking and writing activities that build concept and language attainment                                                           |                                                                   |
| ELPS 1.F | use accessible language and learn new and essential language in the process                                                                                                                                                    | U1: p. 57, U1: p. 215, U1: p. 229, U1: p. 254, U1: p. 266         |
| ELPS 1.G | demonstrate an increasing ability to distinguish between formal and informal English and an increasing knowledge of when to use each one commensurate with grade-level learning expectations                                   |                                                                   |
| ELPS 1.H | develop and expand repertoire of learning strategies such as reasoning inductively or deductively, looking for patterns in language, and analyzing sayings and expressions commensurate with grade-level learning expectations |                                                                   |

(2) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/listening. The ELL listens to a variety of speakers including teachers, peers, and electronic media to gain an increasing level of comprehension of newly acquired language in all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in listening. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. The student is expected to:

|          |                                                                                                                                                   |                        |
|----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| ELPS 2.A | distinguish sounds and intonation patterns of English with increasing ease                                                                        |                        |
| ELPS 2.B | recognize elements of the English sound system in newly acquired vocabulary such as long and short vowels, silent letters, and consonant clusters | U1: p. 239, U1: p. 266 |
| ELPS 2.C | learn new language structures, expressions, and basic and academic vocabulary heard during classroom instruction and interactions                 |                        |
| ELPS 2.D | monitor understanding of spoken language during classroom instruction and interactions and seek clarification as needed                           |                        |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 3

| Unit 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide                         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|
| ELPS 2.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | use visual, contextual, and linguistic support to enhance and confirm understanding of increasingly complex and elaborated spoken language                                                                                                                                                                                                       | U1: p. 145, U1: p. 158, U1: p. 172, U1: p. 184, U1: p. 239 |
| ELPS 2.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | listen to and derive meaning from a variety of media such as audio tape, video, DVD, and CD ROM to build and reinforce concept and language attainment                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                            |
| ELPS 2.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | understand the general meaning, main points, and important details of spoken language ranging from situations in which topics, language, and contexts are familiar to unfamiliar                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                            |
| ELPS 2.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | understand implicit ideas and information in increasingly complex spoken language commensurate with grade-level learning expectations                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                            |
| ELPS 2.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | demonstrate listening comprehension of increasingly complex spoken English by following directions, retelling or summarizing spoken messages, responding to questions and requests, collaborating with peers, and taking notes commensurate with content and grade-level needs                                                                   |                                                            |
| (3) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/speaking. The ELL speaks in a variety of modes for a variety of purposes with an awareness of different language registers (formal/informal) using vocabulary with increasing fluency and accuracy in language arts and all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in speaking. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                            |
| ELPS 3.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | practice producing sounds of newly acquired vocabulary such as long and short vowels, silent letters, and consonant clusters to pronounce English words in a manner that is increasingly comprehensible                                                                                                                                          | U1: p. 81, U1: p. 94, U1: p. 109, U1: p. 199               |
| ELPS 3.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | expand and internalize initial English vocabulary by learning and using high-frequency English words necessary for identifying and describing people, places, and objects, by retelling simple stories and basic information represented or supported by pictures, and by learning and using routine language needed for classroom communication |                                                            |
| ELPS 3.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | speak using a variety of grammatical structures, sentence lengths, sentence types, and connecting words with increasing accuracy and ease as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                                                            | U1: p. 122                                                 |
| ELPS 3.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | speak using grade-level content area vocabulary in context to internalize new English words and build academic language proficiency                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                            |
| ELPS 3.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | share information in cooperative learning interactions                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                            |
| ELPS 3.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | ask and give information ranging from using a very limited bank of high-frequency, high-need, concrete vocabulary, including key words and expressions needed for basic communication in academic and social contexts, to using abstract and content-based vocabulary during extended speaking assignments                                       |                                                            |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 3

| Unit 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide                                                                                        |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ELPS 3.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | express opinions, ideas, and feelings ranging from communicating single words and short phrases to participating in extended discussions on a variety of social and grade-appropriate academic topics                                                                                            |                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 3.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | narrate, describe, and explain with increasing specificity and detail as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 3.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | adapt spoken language appropriately for formal and informal purposes                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 3.J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | respond orally to information presented in a wide variety of print, electronic, audio, and visual media to build and reinforce concept and language attainment                                                                                                                                   | U1: p. 231                                                                                                         |
| (4) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/reading. The ELL reads a variety of texts for a variety of purposes with an increasing level of comprehension in all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in reading. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. For Kindergarten and grade 1, certain of these student expectations apply to text read aloud for students not yet at the stage of decoding written text. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 4.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | learn relationships between sounds and letters of the English language and decode (sound out) words using a combination of skills such as recognizing sound-letter relationships and identifying cognates, affixes, roots, and base words                                                        | U1: p. 33, U1: p. 59, U1: p. 72, U1: p. 98, U1: p. 123, U1: p. 135, U1: p. 162, U1: p. 189, U1: p. 202, U1: p. 256 |
| ELPS 4.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | recognize directionality of English reading such as left to right and top to bottom                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 4.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | develop basic sight vocabulary, derive meaning of environmental print, and comprehend English vocabulary and language structures used routinely in written classroom materials                                                                                                                   | U1: p. 231                                                                                                         |
| ELPS 4.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | use prereading supports such as graphic organizers, illustrations, and pretaught topic-related vocabulary and other prereading activities to enhance comprehension of written text                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 4.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | read linguistically accommodated content area material with a decreasing need for linguistic accommodations as more English is learned                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 4.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | use visual and contextual support and support from peers and teachers to read grade-appropriate content area text, enhance and confirm understanding, and develop vocabulary, grasp of language structures, and background knowledge needed to comprehend increasingly challenging language      |                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 4.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | demonstrate comprehension of increasingly complex English by participating in shared reading, retelling or summarizing material, responding to questions, and taking notes commensurate with content area and grade level needs                                                                  | U1: p. 21, U1: p. 150, U1: p. 216, U1: p. 268                                                                      |
| ELPS 4.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | read silently with increasing ease and comprehension for longer periods                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                    |
| ELPS 4.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | demonstrate English comprehension and expand reading skills by employing basic reading skills such as demonstrating understanding of supporting ideas and details in text and graphic sources, summarizing text, and distinguishing main ideas from details commensurate with content area needs | U1: p. 21, U1: p. 46, U1: p. 113, U1: p. 150, U1: p. 176, U1: p. 244                                               |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 3

Unit 1

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |  |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|
| ELPS 4.J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | demonstrate English comprehension and expand reading skills by employing inferential skills such as predicting, making connections between ideas, drawing inferences and conclusions from text and graphic sources, and finding supporting text evidence commensurate with content area needs        |  |
| ELPS 4.K                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | demonstrate English comprehension and expand reading skills by employing analytical skills such as evaluating written information and performing critical analyses commensurate with content area and grade-level needs                                                                              |  |
| (5) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/writing. The ELL writes in a variety of forms with increasing accuracy to effectively address a specific purpose and audience in all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in writing. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. For Kindergarten and grade 1, certain of these student expectations do not apply until the student has reached the stage of generating original written text using a standard writing system. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |  |
| ELPS 5.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | learn relationships between sounds and letters of the English language to represent sounds when writing in English                                                                                                                                                                                   |  |
| ELPS 5.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | write using newly acquired basic vocabulary and content-based grade-level vocabulary                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |  |
| ELPS 5.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | spell familiar English words with increasing accuracy, and employ English spelling patterns and rules with increasing accuracy as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                           |  |
| ELPS 5.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | edit writing for standard grammar and usage, including subject-verb agreement, pronoun agreement, and appropriate verb tenses commensurate with grade-level expectations as more English is acquired                                                                                                 |  |
| ELPS 5.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | employ increasingly complex grammatical structures in content area writing commensurate with grade level expectations such as (i) using correct verbs, tenses, and pronouns/antecedents; (ii) using possessive case (apostrophe -s) correctly; and, (iii) using negatives and contractions correctly |  |
| ELPS 5.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | write using a variety of grade-appropriate sentence lengths, patterns, and connecting words to combine phrases, clauses, and sentences in increasingly accurate ways as more English is acquired                                                                                                     |  |
| ELPS 5.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | narrate, describe, and explain with increasing specificity and detail to fulfill content area writing needs as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                                              |  |

Credits

Every effort has been taken to trace and acknowledge copyrights. The editors tender their apologies for any accidental infringement where copyright has proved untraceable. They would be pleased to insert the appropriate acknowledgment in any subsequent edition of this publication. Trademarks and trade names are shown in this publication for illustrative purposes only and are the property of their respective owners. The references to trademarks and trade names given herein do not affect their validity.

All photographs are used under license from Shutterstock, Inc. unless otherwise noted.

Grade 3 | Skills 1 | Teacher Guide

ISBN 9798891808614

9 798891 808614

2

Grade 3

Skills 2 | Teacher Guide

Grade 3

---

Skills 2

---

Teacher Guide

© 2026 Amplify Education, Inc. and its licensors
www.amplify.com

© 2015 The Core Knowledge Foundation and its licensors
www.coreknowledge.org

ISBN: 979-8-89180-862-1

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons
Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike
4.0 International License.

You are free:
to Share—to copy, distribute, and transmit the work
to Remix—to adapt the work

Under the following conditions:

Attribution—You must attribute any adaptations of the work in the following manner:

This work is based on original works of Amplify Education, Inc. (amplify.com) and the Core Knowledge Foundation (coreknowledge.org) made available under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License.

<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>

Noncommercial—You may not use this work for commercial purposes. Contact help@amplify.com for questions and permissions.

Share Alike—If you alter, transform, or build upon this work, you may distribute the resulting work only under the same or similar license to this one by including the attribution language above.

Trademarks and trade names are shown in this book strictly for illustrative and educational purposes and are the property of their respective owners. References herein should not be regarded as affecting the validity of said trademarks and trade names.

Printed in the USA
01 XXX 2024

Contents

Introduction 1

Lesson 1 Review: Words with /ae/ › ‘a_e’ 7

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                              | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                              |                                                                                                             |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /ae/ › ‘a_e’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ae/ › ‘a_e’</li> <li>Read One-Syllable VCe Words: /ae/ › ‘a_e’</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Derivational Endings: -or</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Fame on Stage” with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Unit 2 Dictation Pretest</li> </ul> |

Lesson 2 Review: Words with /ie/ › ‘i_e’ 20

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                               | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                  |                                                                                                                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /ie/ › ‘i_e’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ie/ › ‘i_e’</li> <li>Read One-Syllable VCe Words: /ie/ › ‘i_e’</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Derivational Endings: -ful</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “Fame on Stage”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /ie/ › ‘i_e’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 3 Review: Words with /oe/ › ‘o_e’ 32

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                  | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                   |                                                                                                                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /oe/ › ‘o_e’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /oe/ › ‘o_e’</li> <li>Read Two-Syllable VCe Words: /oe/ › ‘o_e’</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: un-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “The Role of Code”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /oe/ › ‘o_e’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 4 Review: Words with /ue/ › ‘u_e’ 44

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                  | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                     |                                                                                                                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /ue/ › ‘u_e’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ue/ › ‘u_e’</li> <li>Read Two-Syllable VCe Words: /ue/ › ‘u_e’</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: re-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “The Role of Code”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /ue/ › ‘u_e’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 5 Review: Mixed Review

56

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                        | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                    |                                                                                                      |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Give Me A Word</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Words with VCe Spelling Patterns</li> <li>• Read One- and Two-Syllable VCe Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Derivational Endings and Affixes</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read “Hope the Sculptor” Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 6 Review: Words with Hard and Soft ‘c’

68

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                            |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Hard and Soft ‘c’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read Words with Hard and Soft ‘c’</li> <li>• Read Two-Syllable VCe Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Root Words and Prefixes: un-, re-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read “How to Sketch a Giraffe” with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Spell Words with /k/ &gt; ‘c’ and /s/ &gt; ‘ce,’ ‘ci’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 7 Review: Words with Hard and Soft ‘g’

80

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                     | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                            |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Hard and Soft ‘g’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read Words with Hard and Soft ‘g’</li> <li>• Read Multisyllabic VCe Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Root Words and Prefixes: dis-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reread “How to Sketch a Giraffe”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Spell Words with /g/ &gt; ‘g’ and /j/ &gt; ‘ge,’ ‘gi’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 8 Review: Words That End in /v/ and /j/

92

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                     | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                              |                                                                                                                          |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Review Words That End in /v/ and /j/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read Words That End in /v/ and /j/</li> <li>• Read Multisyllabic VCe Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Root Words and Prefixes: pre-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Read “Dinosaurs”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Spell Words That End in /v/ and /j/</li> </ul> |

Lesson 9 Review: Long Vowel Teams

104

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                              |                                                                                                                          |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Common Vowel Teams: /ae/ &gt; 'ai', 'ay'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with Common Vowel Teams: /ae/ &gt; 'ai', 'ay'</li> <li>Read One-Syllable Words with Vowel Teams</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: dis-, pre-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Dinosaurs"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /ae/ &gt; 'ai', 'ay'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 10 Review: Mixed Review

116

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                              | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                           |                                                                                                    |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Let's Listen</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review</li> <li>Read One-Syllable Words with Vowel Teams</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Prefixes</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Eve's Race" Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 11 Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ee/

131

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                   | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /ee/ &gt; 'ee', 'ea', 'ie'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with Common Long Vowel Teams: /ee/ &gt; 'ee', 'ea', 'ie'</li> <li>Read Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: non-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Kailanie's Bees" with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /ee/ &gt; 'ee', 'ea', 'ie'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 12 Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ie/

142

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                   | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                    |                                                                                                                           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /ie/ &gt; 'igh', 'ie'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with Common Long Vowel Teams: /ie/ &gt; 'igh', 'ie'</li> <li>Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: mis-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Kailanie's Bees"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /ie/ &gt; 'igh', 'ie'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 13 Review: Long Vowel Teams for /oe/

153

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                              | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                            |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Common Vowel Teams: /oe/ &gt; 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', 'ough'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with Common Vowel Teams: /oe/ &gt; 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', 'ough'</li> <li>Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: im-, in-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Boat Races: Fun on the Water"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /oe/ &gt; 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', and 'ough'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 14 Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ue/

163

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                    | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                          |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /ue/ &gt; 'ew', 'ue'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with Common Long Vowel Teams: /ue/ &gt; 'ew', 'ue'</li> <li>Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Suffixes: -ness</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Boat Races: Fun on the Water"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /ue/ &gt; 'ew', 'ue'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 15 Review: Mixed Review

175

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                           | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                         |                                                                                                    |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Four Corners</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Long Vowel Teams</li> <li>Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Prefixes and Suffixes: non-, mis-, im-, in-, -ness</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Snow Day" Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 16 Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/

188

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                   | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Blend Words with /aw/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review the Vowel Team /aw/ &gt; 'au', 'aw', and 'al'</li> <li>Multisyllabic Words with Vowel Team Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: sub-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Chalk Art" with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /aw/ &gt; 'au', 'aw', 'al'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 17 Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/

201

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                  | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                              |                                                                                                                              |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /aw/ &gt; 'ough', 'augh'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /aw/ &gt; 'ough', 'augh'</li> <li>Multisyllabic Words with Vowel Team Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Suffixes: -ly</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Chalk Art"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /aw/ &gt; 'ough', 'augh'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 18 Review: Vowel Teams for /oo/

213

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                             | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /oo/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Vowel Teams /oo/ &gt; 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', 'ough'</li> <li>Read Multisyllabic Words with Vowel Team Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Prefixes and Suffixes: sub-, -ly</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /oo/ &gt; 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', and 'ough'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 19 Review: Vowel Team /oo/

225

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                             | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /oo/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Vowel Team /oo/ &gt; 'oo'</li> <li>Read Compound Words with Vowel Team Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Prefixes and Suffixes: sub-, -ly</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /oo/ &gt; 'oo'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 20 Review: Mixed Review

238

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                    | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Sound Race</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Vowel Teams</li> <li>Review Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Prefixes and Suffixes: sub-, -ly</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "To the Moon" Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 21 Review: Diphthongs

251

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                      | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                      |                                                                                                                          |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /oi/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /oi/ &gt; 'oi', 'oy'</li> <li>Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Identify and Use the Suffix -ous</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Coins" with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /oi/ &gt; 'oi', 'oy'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 22 Review: Words with /ou/ 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough'

263

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                      | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                          |                                                                                                                                  |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /ou/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ou/ &gt; 'ou', 'ow', 'ough'</li> <li>Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Identify and Use the Suffix -ous</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Coins"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /ou/ &gt; 'ow', 'ou', 'ough'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 23 Review: Words with /ae/ > 'eigh'

275

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                      | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                 |                                                                                                                      |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /ae/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ae/ &gt; 'eigh'</li> <li>Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Identify and Use the Suffix -ous</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Zoila's Sleigh"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /ae/ &gt; 'eigh'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 24 Review: Mixed Review

284

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                      | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                   |                                                                                                    |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /oi/, /ou/, and /ae/ Sound Spellings</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /oi/, /ou/, and /ae/ Sound Spellings</li> <li>Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Identify and Use the Suffix -ous</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Zoila's Sleigh"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 25 Review: Foundational Skills Review

297

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                           | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                         |                                                                                                              |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Phonics—Decoding (9 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Word Baseball</li><li>• Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words</li></ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Review Prefixes and Suffixes</li></ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Read “Giovanni’s Safety Lesson” Independently</li></ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Unit 2 Dictation Posttest</li></ul> |

Teacher Resources

309

Introduction

UNIT 2 CONTENT

In Unit 2, students will review: (1) a number of spellings from Grade 2 with an emphasis on separated digraphs, vowel teams, and alternative sound-spellings; (2) words with VCe and vowel team syllables; and (3) words with common derivational endings, prefixes, and suffixes.

VOWEL SPELLINGS

In Unit 2, students are introduced to multiple-letter spellings for vowel sounds. They review separated digraphs and vowel teams.

The two-letter separated digraph spellings:

- /ae/ > 'a_e' (cape)
- /ie/ > 'i_e' (kite)
- /oe/ > 'o_e' (note)
- /ue/ > 'u_e' (cube)

The multiple-letter spellings for vowel teams:

- /ae/ > 'ai' (aim) and 'ay' (away) and 'eigh' (eight)
- /ee/ > 'ee' (bee), 'ea' (beach), and 'ie' (brief)
- /ie/ > 'igh' (night) and 'ie' (pie)
- /oe/ > 'oa' (coach), 'oe' (doe), 'ow' (crow), and 'ough' (dough)
- /ue/ > 'ew' (few) and 'ue' (cue)
- /aw/ > 'au' (pause), 'aw' (dawn), 'al' (small), 'augh' (taught), and 'ough' (bought)
- /oo/ > 'oo' (moon), 'ue' (clue), 'u_e' (tune), and 'ough' (through)
- /oo/ > 'oo' (book)
- /oy/ > 'oi' (join) and 'oy' (enjoy)
- /ou/ > 'ow' (crown), 'ou' (round), and 'ough' (bough)

The vowel sound-spelling list for Unit 2 includes digraphs, trigraphs, and quadgraphs. The terms digraph, trigraph, and quadgraph can be used to emphasize that groups of two, three, and four letters can stand together to make a single vowel sound. The term separated digraph refers to a digraph in which a consonant appears between two vowels that make one sound (i.e., VCe). The unit also uses the term vowel team, where two or more letters work together to stand for one vowel sound. Whatever terms you use, it is extremely important for students to understand that a letter can stand for a single sound all by itself, or it can work with other letters to stand for a single sound. For example, when discussing the word haunt, you are encouraged to talk about how the 'a' and the 'u' work together as a vowel team to stand for the /aw/ sound.

The vowel sound-spelling list for Unit 2 extends students' understanding of tricky spellings. When a spelling can represent more than one sound, it is a tricky spelling. For example, the tricky spelling 'oo' can stand for /oo/ as in moon or /oo/ as in book. Tricky spellings often cause problems for students when they are reading. When they come upon an unfamiliar printed word with an 'oo' in it, they may need to try pronouncing the 'oo' as /oo/ and then as /oo/ in order to correctly identify the word.

In this unit, students are not asked to read and spell words with r-controlled sound-spellings such as 'ar', 'eer', and 'our'. They also are not asked to cope with tricky spellings for vowels that make the schwa sound (about, equal). Instruction on alternative vowel sounds will continue in the remaining units.

---

CONSONANT SPELLINGS

In Unit 2, the following spellings for consonant sounds are quickly reviewed:

- 'c' > /k/ (camp)
- 'c' > /s/ (race)
- 'g' > /g/ (flag)
- 'g' > /j/ (page)
- 've' > /v/ (brave)
- 'ge' > /j/ (age)
- 'dge' > /j/ (bridge)

In Unit 2, students review both the hard and soft 'c' with words such as cake (/k/) and cent (/s/). They also review both the hard and soft 'g' with words such as cage (/j/) and glass (/g/). They review words that end in /v/ and /j/, such as love, huge, and ridge.

The consonant list for Unit 2 also deepens students' knowledge of tricky spellings. For example, notice the tricky spelling 'c' can stand for /s/ as in race or /k/ as in camp. When students come upon an unfamiliar printed word with an 'c' in it, they may need to try pronouncing the 'c' as /s/ and then as /k/ in order to correctly identify the word. The list of consonant spellings also includes digraph (two-letter) and trigraph (three-letter) spellings: (1) 've' as a spelling for /v/ in have; (2) 'ge' as a spelling for /j/ in large; (3) 'dge' as a spelling for /j/ in budge.

An understanding of the sounds of the language and the similarities among them can also help you understand students' spelling. Sometimes even the strangest-looking "invented" spellings make sense if you understand which sounds are similar to other sounds. Students often misspell a word by choosing a spelling for a sound that is similar to the sound they are trying to spell. For example, a student who writes chump for jump has confused sounds made with the same mouth position. The 'ch' spelling can therefore be seen as closer to the correct spelling than we might initially assume.

For more information on the program's approach to how phonics is taught with the basic and advanced code, please visit the program's digital components site.

---

SYLLABICATION

One-, two-, and multisyllabic words are reviewed in Unit 2 lessons. Students identify two of six major syllable types: VCe and vowel team. VCe syllables have one vowel followed by a consonant and then a silent 'e', such as in the words shine and grapevine. Vowel team syllables have one vowel followed by one or more vowels or consonants that work together to make a single vowel sound, such as in the words through and layout.

For more information on the program's approach to using chunking to decode multisyllabic words, please visit the program's digital components site and look for Appendix C in the Teacher Resources.

---

MORPHOLOGY

Unit 2 focuses on the derivational endings -or, -ful; the prefixes un-, re-, dis-, pre-, non-, mis-, im-, in-, sub-; and the suffixes -ness, -ly, and -ous. Students review how the endings change the meaning and/or part of speech of the root word. They practice reading the words and using them in sentences. Students will identify spelling changes such as dropping 'e' before adding the suffixes -or or -ous, or dropping 'y' before adding -ious.

---

WRITING

Encoding

Students practice spelling and writing words and sentences with all of the target sound-spellings, morphemes, and syllable types covered in Unit 2. Dictation words include separated digraphs and vowel teams, soft and hard 'c' and 'g', and various /j/ spellings. In addition, students practice spelling multisyllabic words with the derivational endings -or and -ful; the prefixes un-, re-, dis-, pre-, non-, mis-, im-, in-, and sub-; and the suffixes -ness, -ly, and -ous.

Reading Comprehension Questions and Writing Extension

All fifteen reading passages include comprehension questions. Students get alternating opportunities to respond to these orally or as a written exercise in their activity book. Each reading passage also includes an optional writing prompt that allows students to write for 10 minutes.

These are great opportunities for students to practice their cursive writing, and for teachers to check students' letter formation, letter and word spacing, line quality, slant, and letter connections. In all instances that involve student writing, be sure that students write their responses legibly in cursive with complete words, thoughts, and answers, leaving appropriate spaces between words. Provide modeling when necessary.

---

HIGH-FREQUENCY IRREGULAR WORDS (TRICKY WORDS)

Appendix D of the Grade 3 Skills Teacher Resources on the digital components site includes a list of high-frequency irregular words used in the Unit 2 passages. The list also indicates each word's correlation to other research-based lists (e.g., Dolch, Fry, and Zeno). Each Tricky Words lesson in the Additional Support section includes one to seven words from this list. Additional words from the Unit 2 Tricky Words list can be included or swapped out with the words in the lesson, if time allows and if students need practice with different words. Note that some lessons may not include any Tricky Word instruction.

---

ASSESSMENT

Dictation Pretest and Posttest

Unit 2 has an encoding pretest and a posttest. Both assessments use the same words so you can monitor students' mastery of the sound-spellings addressed in the unit.

Formative Assessments and Additional Support

Throughout this unit, formative assessments are clearly marked for monitoring individual student performance and progress in key skills. Quick "Checks for Understanding" to evaluate classroom performance as a whole are also designated in various lessons.

Careful attention to this information, collected on a daily basis, will enable you to quickly determine which students may benefit from reteaching and/or more practice in particular skills using the Additional Support activities found at the end of each lesson.

---

TEACHER RESOURCES

In this section at the end of the Teacher Guide, you will find forms and charts which may be useful, including the following:

- Anecdotal Reading Record—Unit 2
- Discussion Questions Observation Record—Unit 2
- Additional Support Activity Pages
- Activity Book Answer Key
- Additional Support Activity Page Answer Key
- Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Correlation Chart
- English Language Proficiency Standards Correlation Chart

REVIEW

Words with /ae/ > 'a_e'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /ae/ > 'a_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read VCe words with /ae/ > 'a_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- Students will read one-syllable words with /ae/ > 'a_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the suffix -or.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Fame on Stage” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in

- the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will take the dictation pretest for Unit 2. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 1.1

Words with /ae/ &gt; 'a_e'

- TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Observation

Discussion Questions Observation Record

- TEKS 3.4

Activity Page 1.4

Unit 2 Dictation Pretest

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Review Words with /ae/ > 'a_e'                                                                 | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Read Words with /ae/ > 'a_e'                                                                   | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.1 |
| Read One-Syllable VCe Words: /ae/ > 'a_e'                                                      | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Derivational Endings: -or                                                | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Read "Fame on Stage" with Accuracy                                                             | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Unit 2 Dictation Pretest                                                                       | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.4 |

 y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Prepare the Unit 2 Discussion Questions Observation Record found in the program's digital components site for use with students as they read aloud. Over the course of each week, be sure to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer questions about the characters, setting, and main event and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- The encoding activity in Lesson 1 is also the Unit 2 pretest. Students will spell words with sound-spellings that are reviewed in this unit to provide a snapshot of their mastery of individual phonics skills. In Lesson 20, students will spell the same words again in the posttest to show growth and mastery of the sound-spellings reviewed in Unit 2.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: audition, performance, and spectators.

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ae/ &gt; 'a_e', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /ae/ > 'a_e'.

 TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW WORDS WITH /AE/ > 'A_E' (3 MIN.)

- Explain that today students will blend words with /ae/ > 'a_e'.
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds, and they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /r/ /ae/ /t/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (rate)
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: bake, lane, gaze, mistake, grape, shake, plate, gave.

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ae/ &gt; 'a_e', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

 Students will read VCe words with /ae/ > 'a_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

 Students will read one-syllable words with /ae/ > 'a_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH /AE/ > 'A_E' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "You've learned that digraphs are two letters that work together to make one sound. Sometimes digraphs are separated from each other. In the word cake, the 'a' and the 'e' are actually a digraph. We call this a separated digraph because they are separated by the 'k'. Separated digraphs usually make a long vowel sound, like the /ae/ sound in cake."
- Write 'a_e' on the board.

 TEKS 3.2.A.ii Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Ask, “What are some words that have this spelling?” Record two or three ‘a_e’ words on the board.
- Write bake on the board.
- Ask a student to read the word, first in a segmented fashion and then blended.
- Write brake on the board next to bake.
- As you write the new word on the board, point to the ‘r’ and ask, “If that is bake, what is this?”
- Continue this process with the remaining words.

1. bake > brake > rake > fake > flake > flame > lame > lake > late > slate > state
2. paper > caper > taper > tape > cape > ape > Abe > able > fable > table

- Direct students to Activity Page 1.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Monitor students’ performance as they move from one word to the next, especially with regard to the /a/ and /ae/ sounds.

READ ONE-SYLLABLE VCE WORDS: /AE/ > ‘A_E’ (3 MIN.)

- Point to bake again. Read it aloud and then have students read it aloud. Underline ‘a’ and ‘e’, and draw a V shape under the word to connect the underlined letters.
- Remind students that the separated digraph ‘a_e’ makes the /ae/ sound.
- Ask, “How many syllables does bake have?” (one)
- Emphasize the long /ae/ vowel sound.

Activity Page 1.1

Challenge

Challenge students in pairs to create their own chain starting with the target spelling pattern, such as crate. Remind students that when they chain they change, add, or take away a letter with each new word.

Support

Remind students that an open syllable ends with a vowel and makes the long vowel sound. Say words with long and short vowel sounds (go, got, hip, hi, we, web), and have students raise a hand when they hear a long vowel sound.

- Tell students that it is a VCe syllable. Say, “VCe stands for Vowel + Consonant + silent ‘e.’ In the word bake, the vowel ‘a’ is followed by the consonant ‘k,’ which is followed by the silent ‘e.’”
- Repeat the routine with other one-syllable words from the Warm-Up, such as rake, fake, lame, and lake.

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ae/ > ‘a_e’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the suffix -or. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND DERIVATIONAL ENDINGS: -OR (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that some suffixes change the part of speech of the root word. Remind them that these suffixes are called derived or derivational endings.
- List examples on the board: -y, -less, and -er.
- Remind students that the suffixes -y and -less change nouns to adjectives; for example, cloud can become cloudy or cloudless. The suffix -er can change verbs to nouns; for example, run can become runner.
- Introduce -or. Explain that -or is another example of a suffix that changes the part of speech of the root word.
- Write inventor on the board. Read the word aloud, and then have students read it aloud.
- Ask, “What is the root word?” (invent)
- Ask, “What is the suffix?” (-or)
- Explain that -or means “someone who.” Say, “An inventor is someone who invents.”

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Write actor on the board. Mark the suffix. Ask a student to identify the root word. (act)
- Ask, “What is an actor?” (someone who acts)
- Repeat with protector, governor, and decorator. Point out the spelling change in decorator.
- Say, “When a word ends in ‘e’, we drop the ‘e’ before adding the suffix -or.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 1.2. Review the instructions and the first item.
- Have students work with a partner to discuss how the affix -or changed the meaning of the word sculpt. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Remind students, or reteach, the basic parts of speech in English.

- A noun is a person, place, thing, or idea.
- A verb is an action word.
- An adjective is a word that describes a noun.
- An adverb is a word that describes a verb, adjective, or other adverb.

Intermediate

Provide sample sentences and have students identify which word is a noun and which is a verb.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Prompt students to give examples of nouns and verbs.

ELPS 1.F

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ae/ &gt; 'a_e', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Fame on Stage” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.4

READ “FAME ON STAGE” WITH ACCURACY (10 MIN.)

Note: This passage contains many idioms, phrases that have a meaning that is very different from the individual words in the phrase.

- Direct students to Activity Page 1.3.
- Ask, “Have you ever heard the expression ‘It’s raining cats and dogs’? That’s an idiom. Cats and dogs cannot actually rain down from the clouds. It means that it’s raining a lot! This kind of expression is called an idiom.”
- Point out the idiom “land the part” in the passage.
- Say, “This story has many idioms. For example, ‘to land the part’ means to get a part in a play after trying out for it. We will review some of these idioms before we begin reading.”
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. Point out that the phrases are idioms. You may want to include the following:
  - words: audition (as verb and noun), advisor
  - phrases: “make a name for himself” (become known for doing something well), “performance of a lifetime” (a performance that is so good that it is memorable), “made each line come to life” (made the words he was saying seem like they were really happening), “wave of happiness” (suddenly very happy), “on cloud nine” (extremely happy and excited), “long ride ahead of him.”
- Have students follow along as you read “Fame on Stage.”

Activity Page 1.3

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., confidence and spectators).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the story once more with the whole class as a choral read.

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “Fame on Stage”

1. Literal. What is Mike’s dream in life?
  - » Mike wants to become a famous actor.
2. Literal. Who is Mrs. Tate?
  - » Mrs. Tate is a play director who asks Mike to audition for a play.
3. Literal. Why did Mike want to impress the director?
  - » Mike wanted to land a part in the director’s play. He wanted to become a famous actor.
4. Literal. How did the director react to Mike’s audition?
  - » The director applauded Mike and offered him a role in the play.
5. Inferential. Based on the story, what do you think the phrase “he was on cloud nine” means?
  - » When a person is “on cloud nine,” they are very happy.

Challenge

Ask volunteers to read some or part of the story aloud. After they read, point out any adjustments the student made to read with accuracy.

Support

Before reading “Fame on Stage,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you show each image.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you think I read this sentence with appropriate expression, and give a thumbs-down if you think I didn’t read it with appropriate expression.” Read the sentence in a monotone voice: “Mike felt a wave of happiness wash over him.” (thumbs-down)

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Ask students yes/no questions using simple phrases to summarize the story: Is Mike a famous actor? Does Mike want to become a famous actor? Does Jade help Mike before the audition? Is Mike happy after the audition? Does Mike become a famous actor after the audition?

Intermediate

Provide students with a specific sentence frame for summarizing and use temporal words: Before Mike goes to his audition, he prepares by _____.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Encourage students to expand/or build on other students' responses and learned phrases.

ELPS 4.G; ELPS 4.I

Activity Page 1.4

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

- Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students' performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.
- Turn and Talk: For the inferential question, have students share their thoughts with one another. Remind students to be sure to cite specifics from the passage to support their answer. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner's thinking with the group.

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ae/ > 'a_e', Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will take the dictation pretest for Unit 2.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

UNIT 2 DICTATION PRETEST (5 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 1.4. Review the instructions together.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with different sound spellings that they will learn about in Unit 2.
- Say the word cautious. Repeat it. Have students write it on Activity Page 1.4.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |               |                |                |
|---------------|----------------|----------------|
| 1. cautious   | 4. undoubtedly | 7. preannounce |
| 2. invaluable | 5. rejoin      | 8. joyfully    |
| 3. powerful   | 6. disengage   | 9. weightless  |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. Her daughter and niece might be at the poolside.
2. May I borrow some large gloves?

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

~ End Lesson ~

Lesson 1: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 1.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 1.3.
- Have them reread "Fame on Stage."
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 1.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following word on an index card: audition. Gather five or six Tricky Word cards from Unit 1 to include in this review.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word audition and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘au’ is pronounced /aw/, and the ‘tion’ is pronounced /shən/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /aw/ for these letters. We say /d/ for this letter. We say /i/ for this letter. We say /shən/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /aw/ /d/ /i/ /shən/, audition. Say, “Audition! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say, ‘We would like for you to audition for a part in our next play.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say audition. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

2

REVIEW

Words with /ie/ > 'i_e'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /ie/ > 'i_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read VCe words with /ie/ > 'i_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- Students will read one-syllable words with /ie/ > 'i_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the suffix -ful.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Fame on Stage” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /ie/ > 'i_e'.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Fame on Stage” Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A.ii Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Review Words with /ie/ > 'i_e'                                                                 | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Read Words with /ie/ > 'i_e'                                                                   | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 2.1 |
| Read One-Syllable VCe Words: /ie/ > 'i_e'                                                      | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                            |
| Root Words and Derivational Endings: -ful                                               | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 2.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Reread "Fame on Stage"                                                                         | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Spell Words with /ie/ > 'i_e'                                                                  | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Prepare one copy of the blank Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record for every student in your class. Label each record with a student's name. Place all of these records in alphabetical order on a dedicated clipboard with a pen so they are ready for use when students read aloud.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: audition, performance, and spectators.

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /ie/ &gt; 'i_e', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /ie/ > 'i_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW WORDS WITH /IE/ > 'I_E' (3 MIN.)

- Explain that today students will blend words with /ie/ > 'i_e'.
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds, and they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /f/ /ie/ /v/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (five)
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: dine, bite, fine, hide, kite, shine, slide, unlike, and inside.

Support

Use rhyming to help students who struggle with long vowel sounds. Have students work with partners to say words that rhyme with pie.

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /ie/ &gt; 'i_e', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- Students will read VCe words with /ie/ > 'i_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii*
- Students will read one-syllable words with /ie/ > 'i_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii*

READ WORDS WITH /IE/ > 'I_E' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "Remember that a vowel digraph is when two letters work together to make one sound, like 'ie' in the word pie."
- Write pine on the board. Read it aloud and then have students read it aloud.
- Underline 'i' and 'e'.

TEKS 3.2.A.ii Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Say, “This word has two letters, ‘i’ and ‘e’, that work together to make one sound, /ie/. The vowels ‘i’ and ‘e’ are separated by the consonant, ‘n’. Remember that we sometimes call this a separated digraph because the vowels are separated by a consonant.”
- Point to the vowels and the consonant. Draw a V shape under the word to connect the underlined letters ‘i_e’ on the board.
- Write ‘i_e’ on the board.
- Ask, “What vowel sound would you make if you saw this spelling?” (/ie/ as in pie)
- Ask, “What are some words that have this spelling?” Record two or three ‘i_e’ words on the board.
- Write dime on the board.
- Ask a student to read the word, first in a segmented fashion and then blended.
- Write time on the board next to dime.
- As you write the new word on the board, underline the ‘t’ and ask, “If that is dime, what is this?”
- Continue this process with the remaining words.

1. dime > time > tire > fire > fine > five > file > pile > mile > smile
2. fried > cried > tried > tries > ties > lies > pies > spies > spied

Activity Page 2.1

- Direct students to Activity Page 2.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

READ ONE-SYLLABLE VCE WORDS: /IE/ > ‘I_E’ (3 MIN.)

- Point to dime again. Read it aloud and then have students read it aloud. Underline ‘i’ and ‘e’, and draw a V shape under the word to connect the underlined letters.
- Remind students that the separated digraph ‘i_e’ makes the /ie/ sound.
- Ask, “How many syllables does dime have?” (one)

- Remind students that it is a VCe (Vowel + Consonant + 'e') syllable. Say, "The vowel 'i' is followed by the consonant 'm' that is followed by the silent 'e.'"
- Repeat the routine with other one-syllable words from the Warm-Up, such as dine, bite, fine, and hide.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has one syllable: inside." (thumbs-down)

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /ie/ > 'i_e', Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the suffix -ful. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND DERIVATIONAL ENDINGS: -FUL (6 MIN.)

- Introduce -ful. Explain that -ful is another example of a suffix that changes the part of speech of the root word.
- Write hopeful on the board. Read it aloud, and then have students read it aloud.
- Ask, "What is the root word?" (hope)
- Mark the root word.
- Ask, "What is the suffix?" (-ful)
- Mark the suffix.
- Explain that -ful means "full of." Say, "If you are hopeful, you are full of hope."
- Point out that adding -ful creates an adjective.

Challenge

Challenge students to write a short paragraph using at least three adjectives with -ful. Students may wish to work with partners.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Activity Page 2.2

---

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

---

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Review the definition and function of an adjective in English. Remind students that an adjective is a word that describes a noun. Point to objects in the classroom, and have students say words that describe them. Examples: sharp pencil, black computer, and clean desk.

Intermediate

Provide sentence frames and have students use adjectives to complete them. Examples: The dog is _____. The food is _____.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students say sentences about people they know, using adjectives. Examples: My coach is kind. My brother is silly.

ELPS 1.F

- Ask students to use hopeful in a sentence. (Example: Ahmed is hopeful the team will win.)
- Repeat the routine with playful, restful, and thankful.
- Write beauty on the board. Read it aloud, and then have students read it aloud.
- Say, “Let’s change this word to an adjective. Let’s add -ful.”
- Demonstrate crossing out the ‘y’ and replacing it with an ‘i’. Add -ful.
- Ask, “In your own words, what does beautiful mean? (full of beauty)”
- Direct students to Activity Page 2.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /ie/ &gt; 'i_e', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Fame on Stage” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “FAME ON STAGE” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 1.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Fame on Stage” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Fame on Stage.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline three words with ‘i_e’, such as like.
  - circle three words that end in -ful, such as fearful.

Activity Page 1.3

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Challenge

Have students identify other sound spellings they learned about in Unit 1 in the text, such as quite, and mark them in the text.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with 'i_e'.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Observation: "Fame on Stage" Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read "Fame on Stage," make notes about the student's reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /ie/ > 'i_e', Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /ie/ > 'i_e'.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

SPELL WORDS WITH /IE/ > 'I_E' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /ie/ > 'i_e'.
- Remind them that sometimes the /ie/ sound is spelled with the separated digraph 'i_e'.
- Write inside on the board.
- Say the word inside. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

|             |             |           |
|-------------|-------------|-----------|
| 1. inside   | 4. sunshine | 7. dine   |
| 2. lifelike | 5. wife     | 8. spine  |
| 3. spiteful | 6. driveway | 9. unlike |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants.

- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. This is quite a long ride.
2. You can glide on the slide.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 2: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 2.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done writing, ask pairs to share and check their work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Fame on Stage” on Activity Page TR 1.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.

- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say audition and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, awdiishən. Write the letters to spell audition on the board.
- Point to the word audition and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /aw/ sound is spelled with ‘au’, and the /shən/ sound is spelled with ‘tion.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /aw/ for these letters. We say /d/ for this letter. We say /i/ for this letter. We say /shən/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /aw/ /d/ /i/ /shən/, audition. Say, “Audition! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the Tricky Words from Unit 1 that you reviewed in Lesson 1. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.

- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

3

REVIEW

Words with /oe/ > 'o_e'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- ✚ Students will blend and identify words with /oe/ > 'o_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- ✚ Students will read words with /oe/ > 'o_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- ✚ Students will read words with the VCe syllable pattern. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix un-.

- ✚ TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “The Role of Code” fluently and answer questions about key

- ✚ details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- ✚ Students will spell and write words with /oe/ > 'o_e'. TEKS 3.2.B.i

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 3.2

Words with un- and -ful

- ✚ TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

- ✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B.i Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                                 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Review Words with /oe/ > 'o_e'                                                                 | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Read Words with /oe/ > 'o_e'                                                                   | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 3.1       |
| Read Two-Syllable VCe Words: /oe/ > 'o_e'                                                      | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                                  |
| Root Words and Prefixes: un-                                                            | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 3.2       |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                                  |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Read "The Role of Code"                                                                        | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 3.3, 3.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Spell Words with /oe/ > 'o_e'                                                                  | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal       |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

---

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: coder, game console, and apps.

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /oe/ &gt; 'o_e', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /oe/ > 'o_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW WORDS WITH /OE/ > 'O_E' (3 MIN.)

- Explain that today students will blend words with /oe/ > 'o_e'.
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds, and they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /d/ /oe/ /t/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (dote)
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: code, globe, hope, mope, robe, rode, and slope.

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /oe/ &gt; 'o_e', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- Students will read words with /oe/ > 'o_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii*
- Students will read words with the VCe syllable pattern. TEKS 3.2.A.ii*

READ WORDS WITH /OE/ > 'O_E' (3 MIN.)

- Point out that students may remember one spelling for the /oe/ sound, the separated digraph 'o_e'. Write 'o_e' on the board.
- Ask, "What sound would you say if you saw this spelling?" (/oe/ as in close)
- Ask, "What are some words that have this spelling at the end?" Record two or three 'o_e' words on the board.

TEKS 3.2.A.ii Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Write close on the board.
- Ask a student to read the word, first in a segmented fashion and then blended.
- Write clone on the board next to close.
- As you write the new word on the board, underline the 'n' and ask, "If that is close, what is this?"
- Continue this process with the remaining words.

1. close > clone > lone > cone > tone > stone > stove > stole
2. toe > foe > woe > roe > rose > pose > hose > hole

Activity Page 3.1

- Direct students to Activity Page 3.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and have them read the words aloud with a partner. If not, ask students to complete the page at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

READ TWO-SYLLABLE VCE WORDS: /OE/ > 'O_E' (3 MIN.)

- Review one-syllable VCe words. Point to close again. Read it aloud and then have students read it aloud. Underline 'o' and 'e', and draw a V shape under the word to connect the underlined letters.
- Remind students that the separated digraph 'o_e' makes the /oe/ sound.
- Ask, "How many syllables does this word have?" (one)
- Remind students that it is a VCe (Vowel + Consonant + 'e') syllable. Say, "The vowel 'o' is followed by the consonant 's' that is followed by the silent 'e'."
- Write decode on the board and mark the syllables in de•code with a slash.
- Underline the 'e' in the first syllable. Say, "This vowel is part of an open syllable." Pronounce the syllable /dee/.
- Underline the 'o' and the 'e' and draw a V shape under the second syllable to connect the vowels. Point to the syllable and say, "This is a VCe syllable." Pronounce the syllable /koed/.

- Point to each syllable as you read the word aloud: first, syllable by syllable, and then, as a whole word. /dee/ /koed/. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, “How many syllables are in decode?” (two)
- Ask, “Is the first syllable a closed or open syllable? How do you know?” (open; It ends with a vowel and makes the long vowel sound.)
- Ask, “What kind of syllable is the second syllable?” (VCe)
- Repeat the routine with the following two-syllable words: behave, backbone, daytime, hometown, and hopeful.

Support

Encourage students to clap to highlight the syllables. Demonstrate with de•code. Have students clap the syllables in the other words.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has two syllables: hometown.” (thumbs-up)

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /oe/ > ‘o_e’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix un-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: UN- (6 MIN.)

- Explain to students that a prefix is a word part added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word.
- Write the following words on the board: redo, disagree, and unhappy. Mark the prefixes.
- Say, “Common prefixes include re-, dis-, and un-. Let’s focus on the prefix un-.”
- Point to unhappy on the board.

Challenge

Ask students to scan a page in a text they recently read. Have them identify and record words with prefixes in the text. Then have them write the meanings of the words.

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Review the difference between prefixes and suffixes. Ask students to give a thumbs-up or thumbs-down as you read the following statements: "Both prefixes and suffixes change the meaning of words (thumbs-up); a prefix goes at the beginning of a word (thumbs-up); a suffix goes at the end of the word (thumbs-up)."

Intermediate

Ask students to complete the following sentence frame: A prefix goes at the _____ of a word (beginning); a suffix goes at the _____ of a word (end).

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students say in their own words how prefixes and suffixes are different.

ELPS 1.F

Activity Page 3.2

- Emphasize that a prefix changes the meaning of the word.
- Say, "The prefix un- means 'not', 'opposite of', or 'to do the opposite of'. So, unhappy means 'not happy.'"
- Explain that for words with prefixes, the spelling of the root word does not change when the prefix is added.
- Write untrue on the board.
- Say, "Let's figure out the meaning of this word by breaking it into its parts. I'm going to draw a line between the prefix and the base word. Where should I draw the line?" (after the prefix un-)
- Ask, "What is the base word?" (true) "What does true mean?" (something that is a fact)
- Ask, "What does untrue mean?" (something that is not a fact)
- Repeat the routine with the following words: unwind, unwell, unlucky, and unlock.
- Write truthful on the board and underline the suffix -ful.
- Say, "We have learned that we can add the suffix -ful to a word to make an adjective. Truthful is an adjective that means full of truth, or tells the truth.
- Add the prefix un- to truthful on the board.
- Say, "We can add the prefix un- to the adjective truthful. This makes the new adjective mean 'not' full of truth, or does not tell the truth. You will notice that the spelling of the base word truth did not change when we added either -ful or -un to it."
- Direct students to Activity Page 3.2 and review the instructions. Have students work on the activity page independently. If they don't complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /oe/ &gt; 'o_e', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “The Role of Code” fluently and answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

READ “THE ROLE OF CODE” (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 3.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - Words: compose, decode, dispute, debate
  - phrases: “our huge globe”
  - domain-specific language: execute, reset, programmer, game console
- Have students follow along as you read “The Role of Code.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., device and accomplish).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently.
- Then have them turn to Activity Page 3.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don’t complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Pages 3.3, 3.4

Challenge

Have students write a brief summary of the text. Remind them that a summary should only include the main points.

Support

Before reading “The Role of Code,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you show each image.

TEKS 3.2.A.ii Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables;
TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have a strong reader work with a struggling reader to complete the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns, and work together to complete the comprehension questions.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to share their responses to the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.1

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /oe/ > 'o_e', Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /oe/ > 'o_e'. TEKS 3.2.B.i

SPELL WORDS WITH /OE/ > 'O_E' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /oe/ > 'o_e'.
- Remind them that sometimes the /oe/ sound is spelled with the separated digraph 'o_e'.
- Write alone on the board.
- Say the word alone. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |             |            |              |
|-------------|------------|--------------|
| 1. alone    | 4. hopeful | 7. unbroken  |
| 2. ringtone | 5. pole    | 8. postpone  |
| 3. backbone | 6. spoke   | 9. sandstone |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                            |
|----------------------------|
| 1. He rode down the slope. |
| 2. Are you close to home?  |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

TEKS 3.2.B.i Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

---

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

Lesson 3: Review: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 3.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 3.3.
- Have them reread “The Role of Code.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 3.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: through, language, different, door, and something.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word through and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘ough’ is pronounced /oo/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”

- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we blend and say /th/ /r/ for these letters. We say /oo/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /th/ /r/ /oo/, through. Say, “Through! It’s a word we hear all the time, like when we say ‘Through code we can unlock a door without a key.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say through. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

4

REVIEW

Words with /ue/ > 'u_e'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /ue/ > 'u_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read VCe words with /ue/ > 'u_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- Students will read two-syllable words with /ue/ > 'u_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix re-.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “The Role of Code” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /ue/ > 'u_e'. TEKS 3.2.B.i

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“The Role of Code” Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B.i Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Review Words with /ue/ > 'u_e'                                                                 | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Read Words with /ue/ > 'u_e'                                                                   | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Read Two-Syllable VCe Words: /ue/ > 'u_e'                                                      | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 4.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                            |
| Root Words and Prefixes: re-                                                            | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 4.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Reread "The Role of Code"                                                                      | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 3.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Spell Words with /ue/ > 'u_e'                                                                  | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire passage.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the passage.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: coder, game console, and apps.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /ue/ &gt; 'u_e', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /ue/ > 'u_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW WORDS WITH /UE/ > 'U_E' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "Today we will blend words with /ue/ > 'u_e'."
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds, and they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /f/ /ue/ /m/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (fume)
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: fuse, huge, muse, mule, cube, cute, defuse, and dispute.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /ue/ &gt; 'u_e', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- TEKS 3.2.A.ii Students will read VCe words with /ue/ > 'u_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- TEKS 3.2.A.ii Students will read two-syllable words with /ue/ > 'u_e'. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH /UE/ > 'U_E' (3 MIN.)

- Point out that students may remember one spelling for the /ue/ sound, the separated digraph 'u_e'.
- Write 'u_e' on the board.
- Ask, "If you saw this spelling, what sound would you make?" (/oo/ as in tune or /ue/ as in fuse)

TEKS 3.2.A.ii Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Support

If students struggle with the /ue/ sound, have them use rhyming to generate words with the sound.

- Say, “The ‘u_e’ spelling sometimes makes the /ue/ sound as in cube or huge and sometimes makes an /oo/ sound as in June or flute.”
- Say, “Today, we are going to focus on words that have the /ue/ sound.”
- Ask students to provide two or three words that have the ‘u_e’ spelling and make the /ue/ sound, correcting any examples that make the /oo/ sound. Record correct answers on the board.
- Write use on the board.
- Ask a student to read the word, first in a segmented fashion and then blended.
- Write fuse on the board next to use.
- As you write the new word on the board, underline the ‘f’ and ask, “If that is use, what is this?”
- Continue this process with the remaining words.

use > fuse > muse > amuse > accuse > acute > cute > mute > mule

READ TWO-SYLLABLE VCE WORDS: /UE/ > ‘U_E’ (3 MIN.)

- Write volume on the board.
- Ask a volunteer to approach the board to underline the ‘o’, ‘u’, and ‘e’, and draw a V shape under the word, connecting the ‘u’ and ‘e’.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Mark the syllables in vol•ume with a slash.
- Cover the second syllable.
- Ask, “What kind of syllable is this?” (closed) Ask students to read it (vol-).
- Cover the first syllable.
- Ask, “What kind of syllable is this?” (VCE)
- Say, “Yes, it is a VCE, or Vowel (‘u’) + Consonant (‘m’) + ‘e’ syllable.” Ask students to read it (ume-).
- Have students read the word aloud with you: first, syllable by syllable, and then, as a whole word.
- Repeat the routine with the following two-syllable words: compute, defuse, excuse, immune, and useful.

- Direct students to Activity Page 4.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has two syllables: fortune." (thumbs-up)

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /ue/ > 'u_e', Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix re-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: RE- (6 MIN.)

- Say, "Remember, a prefix is a word part added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word."
- Say, "Let's focus on the prefix re-."
- Write do on the board. Then add the prefix re-.
- Say, "The prefix re- means 'again' or 'back.' So, redo means 'to do again.'"
- Point out that the spelling of do did not change when you added the prefix.
- Write remake on the board.
- Say, "Let's figure out the meaning of this word by breaking it into its parts. I'm going to draw a line between the prefix and the base word. Where should I draw the line?" (after the prefix re-)

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Language

---

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Demonstrate the meaning of the prefix re-. Write a word in sloppy print on the board. Erase it. Say, "I'm going to redo this. I'm going to rewrite the word." Then neatly rewrite the word.

Intermediate

Ask students to act out a word with the prefix re-. For example, a student may open a box, close it, and then reopen it, or open it again.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students say a sentence using a word with re-.

ELPS 1.E

Challenge

---

Have students work in pairs to generate a list of verbs. Then have them determine whether they can use the prefix re- to form new words.

- Ask, "What is the base word?" (make) "What does make mean?" (to create)
- Ask, "What does remake mean?" (to create again)
- Repeat the routine with the following words: repaint, rename, repay, replay, and rethink.
- Direct students to Activity Page 4.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /ue/ &gt; 'u_e', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “The Role of Code” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “THE ROLE OF CODE” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s passage with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the passage.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 3.3. Tell students that today they will reread “The Role of Code” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “The Role of Code.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- Tell students that after they finish reading, they should work together to:
  - underline three words with the spelling pattern ‘u_e’, such as computer.
  - circle three words with the prefix re-, such as remind.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Support

Have students work on one annotation at a time. For example, first have them look for ‘u_e’ spellings. Then have them look for words with prefixes.

Activity Page 3.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with separated digraphs.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Observation: “The Role of Code” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “The Role of Code,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /ue/ > ‘u_e’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /ue/ > ‘u_e’. TEKS 3.2.B.i

SPELL WORDS WITH /UE/ > ‘U_E’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /ue/ > ‘u_e’.
- Remind them that sometimes the /ue/ sound is spelled with the separated digraph ‘u_e’.
- Write perfume on the board.
- Say the word perfume. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |            |            |            |
|------------|------------|------------|
| 1. perfume | 4. volume  | 7. defuse  |
| 2. unmute  | 5. useful  | 8. dispute |
| 3. reused  | 6. compute | 9. excuse  |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                 |
|---------------------------------|
| 1. The mule refuses to move.    |
| 2. There is a cube in the game. |

TEKS 3.2.B.i Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 4: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 4.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done, ask pairs to share and check their work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “The Role of Code” on Activity Page TR 3.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.

- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say through and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, throoooo. Write the letters to spell through on the board.
- Point to the word through and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /oo/ sound is spelled with ‘ough!’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we blend and say /th/ /r/ for these letters. We say /oo/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /th/ /r/ /oo/, through. Say, “Through! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words language, different, door, and something. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

5

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will review identifying and blending words with VCe sound-spellings.

 TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

 Students will review reading words with VCe sound-spellings. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

 Students will review one- and two-syllable words with VCe syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review identifying and using words with prefixes and suffixes.

 TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read and annotate “Hope the Sculptor” independently and answer questions about key details in the text.

 TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with VCe spellings: ‘a_e’, ‘i_e’, ‘o_e’, ‘u_e’.

 TEKS 3.2.B.i

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Dictation Journal

Phonics/Encoding Dictation

 TEKS 3.2.B.i

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B.i Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                        |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                                  |
| Give Me a Word                                                                                 | 3 min.  |                                                  |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Review Words with VCe Spelling Patterns                                                        | 3 min.  |                                                  |
| Read One- and Two-Syllable VCe Words                                                           | 3 min.  |                                                  |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                                  |
| Review Derivational Endings and Affixes                                                        | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 5.1, 5.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                                  |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                                  |
| Read “Hope the Sculptor” Independently                                                         | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 5.3, 5.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Encoding Review                                                                                | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal       |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Create a VCe sound-spelling chart on the board prior to beginning the activity.

| /ae/ > 'a_e' | /ie/ > 'i_e' | /oe/ > 'o_e' | /ue/ > 'u_e' |
|--------------|--------------|--------------|--------------|
|              |              |              |              |
|              |              |              |              |

Morphology

- Consider having students cut out the Word Cards on Activity Page 5.1 prior to beginning the activity.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: sculpture, chisel, and mallet.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review identifying and blending words with VCe sound-spellings. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

GIVE ME A WORD (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Let’s talk about the VCe spelling patterns that we have been reviewing.”
- Write ‘a_e’ on the board.
- Ask, “What is a word with this spelling?” (cake, made, tame)
- Record correct responses in a list on the board. Students may provide a word with another spelling that makes the /ae/ sound, such as eight or steak. Write such words on another part of the board, underline the spelling that makes the /ae/ sound, and explain why they do not belong on the ‘a_e’ list. If students provide a word with a different vowel sound, such as moon or fight, help students identify the vowel sound to understand why that word does not belong on the board.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- ✚ Students will review reading words with VCe sound-spellings. TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- ✚ Students will review one- and two-syllable words with VCe syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW WORDS WITH VCe SPELLING PATTERNS

- Display the four-column VCe sound-spelling chart you made in advance.
- Say, “I’m going to say words that use the VCe spelling pattern.”
- Say the word inside.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.ii Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Support

If students struggle to identify the VCe spelling pattern of a word, write the word on the board. Then underline the VCe vowels and draw a V shape under the word.

- Have students repeat the word.
- Ask, “Which column should I write this word in?” (/ie/ > ‘i_e’) Write the word in the correct column and read the word aloud with the students.
- Repeat the routine with the following words: grape, globe, mute, dote, twine, hometown, shade, bite, smile, upgrade, huge, and reuse.

READ ONE- AND TWO-SYLLABLE VCE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Let’s review one- and two-syllable words we learned this week. I’m going to give you a sound and a number of syllables. You’re going to give me a word.”
- Say, “Give me a one syllable word with /ue/ as in ‘u_e.’” (cute, use, cube, fume)
- Record correct examples on the board. Read the words aloud with students. For two syllable words, mark the syllables with a slash.
- Repeat with the following requirements:
  - “Give me a one syllable word with /ie/ as in ‘i_e.’” (fine, kite, pine, ride)
  - “Give me a two syllable word with /ae/ as in ‘a_e.’” (pancake, became, landscape, upgrade)
  - “Give me a two syllable word with /oe/ as in ‘o_e.’” (lonely, decode, limestone, ringtone)

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Review the meaning of the prefix un- with a demonstration. Begin drawing a picture of a smiling face, but do not complete it. Say, “This drawing is unfinished. It is not done.”

Intermediate

Ask students to act out a word with the prefix un-. For example, a student may make an unhappy face.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students say a sentence using a word with un-.

ELPS 1.E

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review identifying and using words with prefixes and suffixes. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW DERIVATIONAL ENDINGS AND AFFIXES (6 MIN.)

- Say, “Let’s review the prefixes and suffixes we learned this week.”
- Write retell on the board.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Underline re-.
- Ask, “Is this a prefix or a suffix?” (prefix)
- Ask, “What does it mean?” (again or back)
- Ask, “What does the word retell mean?” (to tell again)
- Repeat with the following words: unexplored (prefix; not; not explored); fearful (suffix; full of; full of fear); creator (suffix; someone who; someone who creates).
- Direct students to Activity Pages 5.1 and 5.2 and review the instructions. Allow students time to cut out the word cards on Activity Page 5.1. Then have them work independently to use the cards to create new words and complete Activity Page 5.2. If they don’t complete the work in class, instruct them to work on it at home. Note students will need to take their word cards home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree that a prefix goes at the beginning of a base word to form a new word.” (thumbs-up)

Challenge

Have students create their own additional word cards with affixes and base words. Students should trade cards with a partner to create new words.

Activity Pages 5.1, 5.2

Support

Pair students and have them work together to complete the activity pages as needed.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read and annotate “Hope the Sculptor” independently and answer questions about key details in the text.

 TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

READ “HOPE THE SCULPTOR” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

Activity Pages
5.3, 5.4

- Tell students they will be reading “Hope the Sculptor” independently. Direct students to Activity Page 5.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: limestone, unfit, lone
  - phrases: “works of art,” “haze of panic,” “smile began to grow on her face”
  - domain-specific language: chisel, mallet
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words: masterful, unusual.
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and:
  - underline three words with VCe spellings, such as stone.
  - circle three words with the prefixes un- and re-, such as unwise and reshape.

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

- draw a box around three words with the suffixes -ful and -or, such as skillful and sculptor.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 5.4 independently. If they don't complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their annotation decisions.

Support

Before reading "Hope the Sculptor," show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Have students focus on one annotation at a time. For example, first have them read and underline words with VCe spellings. On the next read, have them circle words with prefixes, and so on.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Assist students in creating columns on their own paper for each category (e.g., Words with VCe, Words with Prefixes, and Words with Suffixes). Provide them with or help them identify one example word from the passage for each category. Then have them find one additional example on their own or with a partner by focusing on one paragraph at a time.

Intermediate

Have students work with a partner to annotate the text.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students work independently to annotate the text and then share their work with a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with VCe spellings: 'a_e', 'i_e', 'o_e', 'u_e'. TEKS 3.2.B.i

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling some words with VCe spellings.
- Remind students that sometimes the /ae/, /ie/, /oe/, and /ue/ sound is spelled with a separated digraph.
- Write became on the board.
- Say the word became. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |               |              |             |
|---------------|--------------|-------------|
| 1. became     | 4. unlike    | 7. grateful |
| 2. instructor | 5. rewrite   | 8. unopened |
| 3. hopeful    | 6. unexcused | 9. reuse    |

TEKS 3.2.B.i Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. I am grateful for this useful globe.
2. Draw a cube in your notes.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Dictation Journals: Phonics/Encoding Dictation

Collect students’ dictation journals to review and monitor student progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 5: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 5.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 5.3.
- Have them reread “Hope the Sculptor.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 5.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.

- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to describe and support that moment, idea, or claim and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Hope the Sculptor” on Activity Page TR 5.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lessons 1 and 3 (weather, Palais Garnier, crepe, Eiffel, Louvre, croissant, whose, center, measure, area, quiche) and any other Tricky Words reviewed this week. Write the following new words on index cards: didn't, thought, and months.
- Use the cards with the new words. Say, “Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

- Display and point to the word thought and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘ough’ is pronounced /aw/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /th/ for these letters. We say /aw/ for these letters. We say /t/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /th/ /aw/ /t/, thought. Say, “Thought! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘Hope thought about her advisor’s words for awhile.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say thought. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, “It is helpful to remember another word that has the /aw/ sound spelled ‘ough.’” Write bought on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining word(s), mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lessons 1 and 3. Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let’s play a game. We’re going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let’s see how fast we can go. My turn first.”
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, “Do you think you can go faster than I did?”
- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.
- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.
- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.
- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.

- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the unit.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

(1) Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

(2) Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1–10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.
- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student’s set of cards.

6

REVIEW

Words with Hard and Soft 'c'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally review words with hard and soft 'c'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with hard and soft 'c'. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will read two-syllable words with the VCe syllable pattern.
- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will read and identify the meaning of words with the prefixes un- and re-.
- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

- Students will read "How to Sketch a Giraffe" orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer questions about key details in the text.
- TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /k/ > 'c' and /s/ > 'ce', 'ci'.
- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 6.1

Words with Hard and Soft 'c'

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Observation

Discussion Questions Observation Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes. TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments;

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Review Hard and Soft 'c'                                                                       | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Read Words with Hard and Soft 'c'                                                              | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.1 |
| Read Two-Syllable VCe Words                                                                    | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Prefixes: un- , re-                                               | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Read "How to Sketch a Giraffe" with Accuracy                                                   | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Spell Words with /k/ > 'c' and /s/ > 'ce', 'ci'                                                | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

 TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Discussion Questions Observation Record that you prepared in Lesson 1. Remember to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question over the course of the week. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer literal, inferential, and evaluative questions and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity, such as giraffe, pencil, circle, ossicones, and landscape.

Language

Learning How English Works

Remind students that using the letter 'c' alone is not the only way the sounds /k/ and /s/ are spelled in English. The sound /k/ can be spelled 'ck', 'cc', and 'ch'. Give students the example rock. The sound /s/ can be spelled 'ss', 'c', 'sc', 'st', 'ce', and 'se'. Give students the example of science. Students will continue to practice these tricky spellings in future units.

ELPS 4.A

Lesson 6: Review: Words with Hard and Soft 'c', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review words with hard and soft 'c'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW HARD AND SOFT 'C' (3 MIN.)

- Explain that you are going to say some words. When students hear the hard 'c' sound /k/, they should raise their left hand, and when they hear the soft 'c' sound /s/, they should raise their right hand.
- Say the word can. (hard 'c')
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say the word face. (soft 'c')
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: corn, twice, placemat, and copy.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has a hard 'c': coral." (thumbs-up)

Lesson 6: Review: Words with Hard and Soft 'c', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with hard and soft 'c'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will read two-syllable words with the VCe syllable pattern.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ WORDS WITH HARD AND SOFT 'C' (3 MIN.)

- Write the following sentence on the board: Put the cake in the center of the counter, by the fancy plate. Read the sentence aloud.
- Point out that there are two /s/ sounds in the sentence. Circle 'ce' in center and 'cy' in fancy.
- Remind students that when an 'i', 'y', or 'e' follows a 'c', it is soft and makes the sound /s/. Write 'i', 'y', and 'e' on the board.
- Point to center. Say, "The 'c' at the beginning of this word makes the /s/ sound."
- Have students read the word aloud: first, sound by sound, and then, as a whole word.
- Ask, "How does the spelling show that the 'c' makes a /s/ sound, not a /k/ sound?" (The 'e' that follows the 'c' means the 'c' will make the /s/ sound.)
- Repeat with the word fancy.
- Point out that there are two /k/ sounds in the sentence. Underline 'ca' in cake and 'co' in counter.
- Remind students that when many other letters follow a 'c', including the vowels 'a', 'o', and 'u', it is hard and makes the sound /k/. Write 'a', 'o', and 'u' on the board.
- Point to cake. Say, "The 'c' at the beginning of this word makes a /k/ sound."
- Have students read the word aloud: first, sound by sound, and then, as a whole word.
- Ask, "How does the spelling show that the 'c' makes a /k/ sound, not a /s/ sound?" (The 'a' means the 'c' will make the /k/ sound.)
- Repeat with the word counter.
- Write and read aloud the following sentence: "This piece of coal is circular."
- Have student volunteers identify the /k/ and /s/ sounds and explain how the spelling shows the sound the 'c' should make in each word.
- Direct students to Activity Page 6.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 6.1

READ TWO-SYLLABLE VCE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Write the following words on the board: advice, pancake, campsite, excite, costume, city, decode, and recite.
- Point to advice.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Have students identify the syllables. (ad•vice) Mark the syllables with a slash.
- Ask, “Is the first syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (closed; It has a vowel followed by a consonant.)
- Point to the second syllable. Underline ‘i’ and ‘e’, and draw a V shape under the word.
- Say, “This is a VCe syllable. The vowel ‘i’ is followed by the consonant ‘c’ and that is followed by the vowel ‘e’; the ‘i_e’ makes the /ie/ sound.” Have students read the word aloud with you: first, syllable by syllable, and then, as a whole word.
- Point to pancake.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Have students identify the syllables. (pan•cake) Mark the syllables with a slash.
- Ask, “Is the first syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (closed; It has a vowel followed by a consonant.)
- Ask, “What kind of syllable is the second syllable?” (VCe)
- Have students read the word aloud with you.
- Repeat the routine with the other two-syllable VCe words.

Lesson 6: Review: Words with Hard and Soft ‘c’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will read and identify the meaning of words with the prefixes un- and re-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Support

Remind students that not all words that begin with un- and re- have prefixes.

Give the examples uncle and rely.

Challenge

Have students turn to a partner and brainstorm one additional word that uses the prefix un- and one that uses the prefix re-. Then call on volunteers to share their words with the class.

Activity Page 6.2

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: UN-, RE- (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word. Each prefix is one syllable.
- Explain to students that we can read words with prefixes by segmenting and blending the sounds and using the syllable chunking method.
- Write and read aloud the word refill. Have students repeat the word.
- Say, “I see the prefix re- /r/ /ee/. I am going to segment the rest of the word: /f/ /i/ /l/. Now I can blend the entire word: re•fill.”
- Tell students the prefix re- means “again” or “back,” so the word refill means “to fill again.”
- Remind students that when we add a prefix to a root word, we do not have to change the root word’s spelling.
- Repeat with the words retell and reopen, having students define each word.
- Say, “Now we are going to read words with another prefix: un-.”
- Write and read aloud the word unclear. Have students read the word aloud. Model segmenting and blending the word.
- Explain that the prefix un- means “not” or “opposite of,” so the word unclear means “not clear.”
- Repeat with the words unreal and unable, having students define each word.
- Explain that some words have multiple prefixes.
- Write and read aloud the word unreviewed. Have students repeat the word.
- Ask, “Which prefixes does this word have?” (un- and re-).
- Say, “Based on the meanings of the prefixes un- and re- the word unreviewed means “not looked at again.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 6.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 6: Review: Words with Hard and Soft 'c', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “How to Sketch a Giraffe” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

READ “HOW TO SKETCH A GIRAFFE” WITH ACCURACY (10 MIN.)

Note: “How to Sketch a Giraffe” is a procedural text that is organized in steps.

- Direct students to Activity Page 6.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: rearrange, defined, landscape, discard, harsh
  - phrases: “spruce up and refine”
  - domain-specific language: ossicones
- Have students follow along as you read “How to Sketch a Giraffe”.
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the text again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words, such as prevent and necessary.
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the text once more with the whole class as a choral read.

Activity Page 6.3

Support

Remind students to use the sound-spelling skills they reviewed in this lesson to help them sound out any unfamiliar words.

Before reading “How to Sketch a Giraffe,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Review questions and ask them in a yes/no format rather than an open-ended format.

Intermediate

Allow students to work with a partner to answer the discussion questions.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Provide minimal support as students work independently to answer the discussion questions.

ELPS 4.G

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “How to Sketch a Giraffe”

1. Literal. What supplies do you need to sketch a giraffe?
  - » You need a pencil, an eraser, and a piece of paper to sketch a giraffe.
2. Literal. What shapes should you draw to make the different parts of a giraffe’s head?
  - » You should draw a circle to make a giraffe’s head, two smaller circles for the eyes, a curved line for a mouth, and two short lines for its hornlike bones.
3. Literal. What shapes should you draw to make the different parts of a giraffe’s body?
  - » You should draw a large oval to make the main part of the body. You should add a line for the neck and four lines to make the giraffe’s legs.
4. Literal. What should you do if you make a mistake while sketching?
  - » You should use your eraser to undo mistakes and redraw any parts you want to fix.
5. Inferential. Why might you choose to add a landscape to your sketch of a giraffe?
  - » Adding a landscape makes the sketch more complete or more realistic.

Check for Understanding

Think-Pair-Share: Give students time to think about their answers. Then, have students turn and talk to a partner to share their responses to the discussion questions. Remind them to be sure to cite specifics from the passage to support their answer. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner’s thinking with the group.

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students’ performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.

Lesson 6: Review: Words with Hard and Soft 'c', Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /k/ > 'c' and /s/ > 'ce', 'ci'.

 TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /K/ > 'C' AND /S/ > 'CE', 'CI' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /k/ > 'c' and /s/ > 'ce', 'ci' that you say aloud.
- Say the word cart. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |              |         |             |
|--------------|---------|-------------|
| 1. cart      | 4. cake | 7. placemat |
| 2. cell      | 5. city | 8. replace  |
| 3. uncertain | 6. face | 9. copy     |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                              |
|------------------------------|
| 1. They set up the campsite. |
| 2. He blinked twice.         |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

 TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 6: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 6.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 6.3.
- Have them reread “How to Sketch a Giraffe.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 6.1.
- Tell students they will draw and write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: surface, live, certain, piece, eyes, and close.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”

- Display and point to the word piece and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘ie’ is pronounced /ee/ and the ‘c’ is pronounced /s/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /p/ for this letter. We say /ee/ for these letters. We say /s/ for this letter. And we do not say anything for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /p/ /ee/ /s/, piece. Say, “Piece! It’s a word we hear all the time, like when we say ‘Grab a pencil and a piece of paper.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say piece. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

7

REVIEW

Words with Hard and Soft ‘g’

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally review words with hard and soft ‘g’. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with hard and soft ‘g’. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will read multisyllabic words with the VCe syllable pattern.
- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix dis-.
- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

- Students will reread “How to Sketch a Giraffe” fluently with a partner.
- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /g/ > ‘g’ and /j/ > ‘ge’, ‘gi’.
- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

- Observation “How to Sketch a Giraffe” Anecdotal Reading Record
- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Review Hard and Soft 'g'                                                                       | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Read Words with Hard and Soft 'g'                                                              | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Read Multisyllabic VCe Words                                                                   | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 7.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                            |
| Root Words and Prefixes: dis-                                                           | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 7.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Reread "How to Sketch a Giraffe"                                                               | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Spell Words with /g/ > 'g' and /j/ > 'ge', 'gi'                                                | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire passage.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the passage.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity, such as giraffe, pencil, circle, ossicones, and landscape.

Lesson 7: Review: Words with Hard and Soft 'g', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review words with hard and soft 'g'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW HARD AND SOFT 'G' (3 MIN.)

- Explain that you are going to say some words. When students hear the hard 'g' sound /g/, they should raise their left hand, and when they hear the soft 'g' sound /j/, they should raise their right hand.
- Say the word gap. (hard 'g')
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say the word forge. (soft 'g')
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: cage, goodbye, glasses, and hugeness

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has a hard 'g': huge." (thumbs-down)

Lesson 7: Review: Words with Hard and Soft 'g', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Primary Focus: Students will read words with hard and soft 'g'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will read multisyllabic words with the VCe syllable pattern.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language
Learning How English Works

Remind students that using the letter 'g' alone is not the only way the sounds /g/ and /j/ are spelled in English. The sound /g/ can be spelled 'gg', 'gu', 'gh', and 'gue'. Give students the example league. The sound /j/ can be spelled 'g', 'dge', 'dg', 'ge', and 'd'. Give students the example lodge. Students will continue to practice these tricky spellings in future units.

ELPS 4.A

READ WORDS WITH HARD AND SOFT 'G' (3 MIN.)

- Write the following sentence on the board: We glimpsed gentle giraffes and big gorillas at the zoo. Read the sentence aloud.
- Point out that there are three /g/ sounds in the sentence. Circle 'g' in big, gorillas and 'gl' in glimpsed.
- Remind students that a 'g' often makes the /g/ sound, including in the initial position (golf, gift), final position (bag, nutmeg), and in the initial consonant clusters gl- and gr- (glow, grandma). Write golf, gift, bag, nutmeg, glow, and grandma on the board.
- Point to glimpsed. Say, "The 'g' at the beginning of this word makes the /g/ sound."
- Have students read the word aloud in a segmented fashion, then blended.
- Ask, "How does the spelling show that the 'g' makes the /g/ sound, not the /j/ sound?" (The 'g' is part of the initial consonant cluster gl-, which means the 'g' will make the /g/ sound.)
- Repeat with the words gorilla and big.
- Point out that there are two /j/ sounds in the sentence. Underline 'ge' in gentle and 'gi' in giraffes.
- Remind students that 'g' in the initial position can make the /j/ sound in words that begin with ge-, gi-, and gy- (gem, ginger, gym). The letter 'g' also sounds like /j/ in words with separated vowel digraphs (postage, cage). Write gem, ginger, gym, postage, and cage on the board.
- Point to gentle. Say, "The 'g' at the beginning of this word makes a /j/ sound." Have students read the word aloud in a segmented fashion, then blended.
- Ask, "How does the spelling show that the 'g' makes a /j/ sound, not a /g/ sound?" (The 'e' following the 'g' means the 'g' will make the /j/ sound.)
- Repeat with the word giraffes.
- Write and read aloud the following sentence: "The gerbil gathers grain in its cage."
- Have student volunteers identify the /g/ and /j/ sounds and explain how the spelling shows the sound the 'g' should make in each word.

READ MULTISYLLABIC VCE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Write the following words on the board: gemstone, migrate, precise, unlace, pinecone, gravestone, consume, and generate.
- Point to gemstone.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Have students identify the syllables. (gem•stone) Mark the syllables with a slash.
- Point to the first syllable.
- Ask, “Is the first syllable open or closed? How do you know?” (closed; The vowel is followed by a consonant.)
- Cover the first syllable.
- Point to the second syllable. Ask, “What kind of syllable is the second syllable?” (VCe)
- Underline ‘o’ and ‘e’, and draw a V shape under the word. Remind students that the separated digraph ‘o_e’ makes the /oe/ sound.
- Have students read the word aloud with you: first, syllable by syllable, and then, as a whole word.
- Repeat the routine with the other multisyllabic VCe words.
- Direct students to Activity Page 7.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Support

Remind students that they can underline the vowels to help determine how many syllables there are (i.e., each syllable has one vowel sound).

Activity Page 7.1

Lesson 7: Review: Words with Hard and Soft ‘g’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix dis-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: DIS- (6 MIN.)

Challenge

Have students or small groups use words with the prefix dis- in sentences.

- Remind students that prefixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word. Each prefix is one syllable.
- Tell students that they have already learned about the prefix un-, which means “not” or “opposite of.” Explain that today they will focus on another prefix that has the same meaning: dis-.
- Remind students that we can read words with prefixes by segmenting and blending the sounds and using the syllable chunking method.
- Write and read aloud the word dislike. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, “I see the prefix dis- /d/ /i/ /s/. I am going to segment the rest of the word: /l/ /ie/ /k/. Now I can blend the entire word: dis•like.”
- Say, “Let’s identify the meaning of this word by breaking it into its parts. I’m going to draw a line between the prefix and the root word. Where should I draw the line?” (after the prefix dis-).
- Ask, “What is the root word?” (like) “What does the word like mean?” (to enjoy)
- Say, “If we add the prefix dis- at the beginning of like, how does the meaning of the word change? (Its meaning changes to “to not enjoy.”)
- Ask, “If we add the prefix dis- to the word like, how does the spelling of like change?” (The spelling does not change when we add the prefix.)
- Repeat with the words disobey, disappear, disagree, disloyal, and disrespect, having students read and define each word. Define root words for students when needed.
- Direct students to Activity Page 7.2 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 7.2

Lesson 7: Review: Words with Hard and Soft 'g', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “How to Sketch a Giraffe” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “HOW TO SKETCH A GIRAFFE” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s text with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the text.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 6.3. Tell students that today they will reread “How to Sketch a Giraffe” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “How to Sketch a Giraffe.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- After students read the passage, have them work together on the following:
  - Underline three words that have a hard ‘g’, such as grab.
  - Draw a box around three words that have a soft ‘g’, such as image.
  - Circle three words that use the prefix dis-, such as disappear.
  - Highlight three multisyllabic words that have VCe syllables, such as unwise.

Activity Page 6.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with the prefix dis-.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as igh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their annotations to review and monitor their choices.

Observation: “How to Sketch a Giraffe” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “How to Sketch a Giraffe,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 7: Review: Words with Hard and Soft ‘g’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /g/ > ‘g’ and /j/ > ‘ge’, ‘gi’.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /G/ > ‘G’ AND /J/ > ‘GE’, ‘GI’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /g/ > ‘g’ and /j/ > ‘ge’, ‘gi’ that you say aloud.
- Say the word gap. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |         |              |             |
|---------|--------------|-------------|
| 1. gap  | 4. age       | 7. giraffe  |
| 2. wage | 5. disengage | 8. gentle   |
| 3. huge | 6. glasses   | 9. disagree |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. The campers watched a giant bear go into the water.
2. Greg used a small shovel to dislodge the gemstone.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 7: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 7.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done writing, ask pairs to share their responses with a partner and check each other’s work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “How to Sketch a Giraffe” on Activity Page TR 6.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.

- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say piece and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, peeesss. Write the letters to spell piece on the board.
- Point to the word piece and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /ee/ sound is spelled ‘ie’ and the /s/ sound is spelled ‘c.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /p/ for this letter. We say /ee/ for these letters. We say /s/ for this letter. We do not say anything for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /p/ /ee/ /s/, piece. Say, “Piece! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words surface, live, certain, eyes, and close. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.

- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

8

REVIEW

Words That End in /v/ and /j/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally review words that end with /v/ and /j/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words that end with /v/ > 've' and /j/ > 'ge' and 'dge'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will read multisyllabic words with the VCe syllable pattern.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will read and identify the meaning of words with the prefix pre-.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read "Dinosaurs" fluently and will answer questions about key details

- in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words that end in /v/ and /j/. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 8.2

Root Words and Prefixes: pre-

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                                 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Review Words That End in /v/ and /j/                                                           | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Read Words That End in /v/ and /j/                                                             | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Read Multisyllabic VCe Words                                                                   | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 8.1       |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                                  |
| Root Words and Prefixes: pre-                                                           | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 8.2       |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                                  |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Read “Dinosaurs”                                                                               | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 8.3, 8.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Spell Words That End in /v/ and /j/                                                            | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal       |

---

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: dinosaur, mountain ridge, bay, and fossil.

Lesson 8: Review: Words That End in /v/ and /j/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review words that end with /v/ and /j/.

TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW WORDS THAT END IN /V/ AND /J/ (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that first you will say a word and then they will repeat it.
- Say, “After we say the word, I will give you a clue to a new word. You will make the new word by replacing a sound in the first word with a different sound. Raise your hand when you think you know the new word.”
- Give an example: dive. Have students repeat the word.
- Say, “Here’s a hint to a new word: a white bird. Replace a sound in dive with a different sound. What is the new word?” (dove)
- Continue with the words in the list.

Hint

|          |                            |              |
|----------|----------------------------|--------------|
| 1. dove  | to feel affection          | love  |
| 2. age   | a sheet of paper in a book | page  |
| 3. brave | to want something          | crave |
| 4. live  | to offer as a present      | give  |
| 5. wedge | a type of trimmed bush     | hedge |
| 6. pave  | a hand motion of greeting  | wave  |
| 7. badge | to move an object a little | budge |
| 8. shove | to remove hair             | shave |

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 8: Review: Words That End in /v/ and /j/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- Students will read words that end with /v/ > 've' and /j/ > 'ge' and 'dge'. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will read multisyllabic words with the VCe syllable pattern.
- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS THAT END IN /V/ AND /J/ (3 MIN.)

- Explain that some letters can be pronounced more than one way. Remind students that the letter 'g' is one example. It can be pronounced /g/ or /j/.
- Write stag on the board. Have students read it aloud.
- Say, "Stag is a name for a male deer." Ask, "What sound does the 'g' make in stag?" (/g/)
- Write an e at the end of stag, making the word stage. Have students read it aloud.
- Ask, "What sound does the 'g' make in stage?" (/j/) "Is that the same sound as the 'g' in stag?" (no)
- Circle the 'e'. Say, "The letter 'g' usually makes the /j/ sound when it is followed by an 'e'"
- Repeat with the words hug and huge.
- Explain that sometimes a sound can be made by various spellings. For example, /j/ can also be spelled 'dge', 'dg', 'ge', and 'd'. Write the examples lodge, barge, and educate on the board. Read each word aloud and circle the spellings that make the /j/ sound.
- Tell students that other sound-spellings are more straightforward. Explain that /v/ can be spelled 'v' or 've'. The spelling 've' is often found at the end of words.
- Write drive on the board. Have students read it aloud.
- Ask, "What sound does the 'v' make in drive?" (/v/)

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Point to the 'e'. Ask, "Does the letter 'e' make a sound when it follows a 'v' at the end of a word? (no) Circle the 've'.
- Repeat with the word hive and valve.

READ MULTISYLLABIC VCE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Write the following words on the board: microwave, upstage, revive, crocodile, became, beehive, bathrobe, campsite, teenage.
- Point to microwave.
- Ask, "How many syllables does this word have?" (three)
- Have students identify the syllables. (mi•cro•wave) Mark the syllables with a slash.
- Point to the first syllable.
- Ask, "Is the first syllable open or closed? How do you know?" (open; It ends with a vowel and has a long vowel sound.) Have students read it aloud.
- Point to the second syllable.
- Ask, "Is the second syllable open or closed? How do you know?" (open; It ends with a vowel and has a long vowel sound.) Have students read it aloud.
- Cover the first two syllables.
- Point to the third syllable. Underline 'a' and 'e', and draw a V shape under the word. Remind students that the separated digraph 'a_e' makes the /ae/ sound. Ask, "What kind of syllable is this?" (VCe) Have students read it aloud.
- Point to each syllable as you read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the routine with other multisyllabic VCe words.
- Direct students to Activity Page 8.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Support

As needed, review other spelling clues that indicate the letter 'g' is pronounced /j/, such as in words with separated vowel digraphs, such as cage.

Activity Page 8.1

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has two VCe syllables: beehive.” (thumbs-down)

Lesson 8: Review: Words That End in /v/ and /j/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will read and identify the meaning of words with the prefix pre-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: PRE- (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word. Each prefix is one syllable.
- Write and read aloud the word preplan. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Say, “I see the prefix pre- /p/ /r/ /ee/. I am going to segment the rest of the word: /p/ /l/ /a/ /n/. Now I can blend the entire word: pre•plan.”
- Tell students the prefix pre- means “before,” so the word preplan means “to plan before.”
- Ask, “How does the spelling of a root word change when we add the prefix pre-?” (The spelling does not change when we add the prefix.)
- Repeat with the words preview, preschool, and preorder, having students read and define each word.
- Direct students to Activity Page 8.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the word bank on the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.

Challenge

Have students pairs or small groups brainstorm more words that use the prefix pre-.

Activity Page 8.2

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

---

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Simplify the activity page by providing shorter definitions or images based on students' level of proficiency.

Intermediate

Have students work with a proficient reader who acts as a mentor.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students work on the activity independently.

ELPS 1.F

Lesson 8: Review: Words That End in /v/ and /j/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Dinosaurs” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

READ “DINOSAURS” (10 MIN.)

Note: “Dinosaurs” is a nonfiction text and includes some domain-specific vocabulary such as Ice Age.

- Direct students to Activity Page 8.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: maintain (to state a belief), massive, decayed, preserve
  - phrases: “array of trees and grasses,” “take a dive into books”
  - domain-specific language: herbivores, carnivores, extinct, environment, fossils
- Have students follow along as you read “Dinosaurs.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., disappearance and asteroid).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently.
- Then have them turn to Activity Page 8.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don’t complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Pages
8.3, 8.4

Support

Before reading “Dinosaurs,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have a strong reader work with a struggling reader to complete the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns, and work together to complete the comprehension questions.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Have students read independently, and then work with a partner to share their responses to the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.1

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their responses to the comprehension questions.

Lesson 8: Review: Words That End in /v/ and /j/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words that end in /v/ and /j/.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS THAT END IN /V/ AND /J/ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words that end in /v/ and /j/ that you say aloud.
- Say the word brave. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |              |               |               |
|--------------|---------------|---------------|
| 1. brave     | 4. resolve    | 7. bandage    |
| 2. crave     | 5. beehive    | 8. prepackage |
| 3. prejudice | 6. prearrange | 9. revive     |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                      |
|--------------------------------------|
| 1. Dad has large gloves.             |
| 2. The kids will behave at the park. |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

Support

Remind students that words that end with /v/ or /j/ very rarely end with 'v' or 'j' alone.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 8: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 8.1 for each student. Direct students to Activity Page 8.3.
- Have them reread "Dinosaurs."
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 8.1.
- Tell students they will use text evidence to write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: answers, earth, move, and mountain.
- Say, "Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you've been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That's what makes them tricky."

- Display and point to the word move and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘o’ is pronounced /oo/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /m/ for this letter. We say /oo/ for this letter. We say /v/ for this letter. And we do not say anything for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /m/ /oo/ /v/, move. Say, “Move! It’s a word we hear all the time, like when we say ‘How did dinosaurs live and move?’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say move. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

9

REVIEW

Long Vowel Teams

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will orally review /ae/ words spelled with vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'.

📌 TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

📌 Students will read /ae/ words spelled with vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will read one-syllable words with vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'.

📌 TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes dis- and

📌 pre-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Dinosaurs” fluently with a partner.

📌 TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /ae/ > 'ai' and 'ay'.

📌 TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Dinosaurs” Anecdotal Reading Record

📌 TEKS 3.4

- 📌 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Review Common Vowel Teams: /ae/ > 'ai', 'ay'                                                   | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Read Words with Common Vowel Teams: /ae/ > 'ai', 'ay'                                          | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 9.1 |
| Read One-Syllable Words with Vowel Teams                                                       | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                            |
| Root Words and Prefixes: dis- , pre-                                             | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 9.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Reread "Dinosaurs"                                                                             | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 8.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Spell Words with /ae/ > 'ai', 'ay'                                                             | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire passage.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the passage.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: dinosaur, mountain ridge, bay, and fossil.

Lesson 9: Review: Long Vowel Teams, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review /ae/ words spelled with vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW COMMON VOWEL TEAMS: /AE/ > 'AI', 'AY' (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that first you will say a word with the /ae/ sound and then they will repeat it.
- Say, "After we say the /ae/ word, you will make a new /ae/ word by either changing a sound in the word or by adding a sound to the word. Raise your hand when you think of a new word."
- Give an example: stay. Have students repeat the word.
- Ask, "What new /ae/ word can you create by changing one sound in stay?" (stray)
- Continue with the words in the list.

| Words | Possible New Words |
|-------|--------------------|
| stray | spray       |
| pain  | paint       |
| gray  | grain       |
| rain  | train       |
| way   | wait        |
| may   | mail        |
| clay  | claim       |
| paid  | played      |

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word has the long vowel sound /ae/: brake." (thumbs-up)

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 9: Review: Long Vowel Teams, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- ✦ Students will read /ae/ words spelled with vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- ✦ Students will read one-syllable words with vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'.
TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH COMMON VOWEL TEAMS: /AE/ > 'AI', 'AY' (3 MIN.)

- Write the vowel team 'ai' on the board. Say, "A vowel team is made when two vowels work together to make one sound. For example, when vowels 'a' and 'i' appear next to each other as 'ai', they make the sound /ae/."
- Write the vowel team 'ay' on the board. Explain that the vowel team 'ay' also makes the sound /ae/.
- Write bay on the board.
- Ask a student to read the word, first in a segmented fashion and then blended.
- Insert 'r' to create bray.
- As you make this change, say, "If that is bay, what is this?"
- Continue this process with the remaining words.
- Complete the chaining for the 'ai' and 'ay' spellings of /ae/.

1. bay > bray > brain > grain > train > trail > frail > rail > raid > maid > laid
2. raise > praise > pray > say > stay > stray > tray > ray > lay > play > plain

- Direct students to Activity Page 9.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

- ✦ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Support

Acknowledge that /ae/ is also spelled as the separated digraph 'a_e', but tell students that this activity does not use words with that spelling.

Activity Page 9.1

READ ONE-SYLLABLE WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAMS (3 MIN.)

- Write the following words on the board: aim, way, nail, bait, tray, clay, wait, and play.
- Point to aim. Read it aloud and then have students read it aloud.
- Emphasize the long /ae/ vowel sound.
- Ask, “How many syllables does aim have?” (one)
- Circle ‘ai’ and have students repeat the sound /ae/.
- Say, “In the word aim, the sound /ae/ is made by the letters ‘ai’. This is a vowel team syllable because the letters work together to make a single vowel sound.”
- Point to the word way. Read it aloud and then have students read it aloud.
- Emphasize the long /ae/ vowel sound.
- Ask, “How many syllables does way have?” (one)
- Circle ‘ay’ and have students repeat the sound /ae/.
- Ask, “Since the letters ‘ay’ work together to make a single vowel sound, what kind of syllable is this?” (vowel team syllable)
- Repeat the routine with other words that use the vowel teams ‘ai’ or ‘ay’.

Challenge

Ask students to come up with different one-syllable words with the ‘ai’ and ‘ay’ vowel teams to add to the list.

Lesson 9: Review: Long Vowel Teams, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes dis- and pre-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: DIS-, PRE- (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word. Each prefix is one syllable.
- Review that the prefix dis- means “not” or “opposite of” and the prefix pre- means “before.”

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Foundational Skills

---

Foundational Literacy Skills

Students may struggle with choosing the correct vowel team while completing the activity page. Pair students with a mentor to check and self-correct their work.

ELPS 1.B

Activity Page 9.2

---

- Say, “Often several prefixes can be added to a root word to form a new word. We need to think about the meaning we want to create when choosing the right prefix to add.”
- Write the root word order on the board.
- Ask, “What part of speech is the word order? (noun or verb)”
- Ask, “Which prefix should we add to make a word that means “to order before?” (pre-)”
- Add the prefix pre- to form the word preorder. Read the word aloud with the students.
- Ask, “What part of speech is the word preorder? (verb)”
- Write the root word order on the board again.
- Ask, “Now which prefix should we add to make a word that means “without order?” (dis-)”
- Add the prefix dis- to form the word disorder. Read the word aloud with the students.
- Ask, “What part of speech is the word disorder? (noun)”
- Ask, “How did we change the spelling of the root word order when we added prefixes?” (We did not have to change the spelling of the root word.)
- Direct students to Activity Page 9.2 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 9: Review: Long Vowel Teams, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Dinosaurs” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “DINOSAURS” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s text with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the text.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 8.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Dinosaurs” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Dinosaurs.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Tell students that after they finish reading, they should work together to:
  - draw a box around at least three words with syllables that have the vowel team ‘ai’, such as claimed;
  - underline at least three words with syllables that have the vowel team ‘ay’, such as today
  - circle at least three words with the prefixes dis- and pre-, such as disappear and prework.

Activity Page 8.3

Support

Have students first look for words with the vowel team ‘ai’ before they identify words with the vowel team ‘ay’.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with the prefixes dis- and pre-.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Check for Understanding

Think-Pair-Share: Give students one minute to think about the passage annotations they made and why they made them. Then have partners explain their annotations to each other. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share one of their partner's annotations and their thinking with the group.

Observation: "Dinosaurs" Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read "Dinosaurs," make notes about the student's reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 9: Review: Long Vowel Teams, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /ae/ > 'ai' and 'ay'.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /AE/ > 'AI', 'AY' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /ae/ > 'ai', 'ay' that you say aloud.
- Say the word spray. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |            |            |            |
|------------|------------|------------|
| 1. spray   | 4. prepaid | 7. relay   |
| 2. rain    | 5. sprain  | 8. essay   |
| 3. display | 6. doorway | 9. claimed |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. He waited a long time to play.
2. I hoped the spider would go away.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

~~~~~ End Lesson ~~~~~

Lesson 9: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 9.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done, ask pairs to share and check each other’s work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Dinosaurs” on Activity Page TR 8.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.

- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say move and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, moooooov. Write the letters to spell move on the board.
- Point to the word move and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /oo/ sound is spelled ‘o.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /m/ for this letter. We say /oo/ for this letter. We say /v/ for this letter. We do not say anything for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /m/ /oo/ /v/, move. Say, “Move! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words answers, earth, and mountain. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

10

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will orally review words with hard and soft 'c' and 'g,' words that end in /v/ and /j/, and words with the vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

Students will review reading words with hard and soft 'c' and 'g,' words that end in /v/ and /j/, and words with the vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will review reading one-syllable words with vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'.
TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review identifying the meaning of and using words with prefixes.
TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will independently read "Eve's Race" and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with spelling patterns they learned this week.
TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Dictation Journal

Phonics/Encoding Dictation

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|-------------|--|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Let's Listen | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Review | 3 min. | |
| Read One-Syllable Words with Vowel Teams | 3 min. | |
| Morphology | | |
| Review Prefixes | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 10.1 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Read "Eve's Race" Independently | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 10.2, 10.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Encoding Review | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Before the lesson, display signs or cards around the classroom with the following categories:
 - hard 'c'
 - soft 'c'
 - hard 'g'
 - soft 'g'/words that end in /j/
 - words that end in /v/
 - vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: race, subway, traffic, and sideline.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review words with hard and soft 'c' and 'g', words that end in /v/ and /j/, and words with the vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i

LET'S LISTEN (3 MIN.)

- Divide students into four groups: vowel teams 'ai' or 'ay', words that end in /v/ or /j/, words with soft 'c' or 'g', words with hard 'c' or 'g'.
- Say, "I am going to say some words. Raise your hand when you hear a word in your category. Some words may fit more than one category."
- Say the word sway. (vowel teams 'ai' or 'ay')
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: frail, dissolve, package, imagine, decide, garage, and costume.

Challenge

Extend the game by having student volunteers come up with more words that fit one or more of the categories.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will review reading words with hard and soft 'c' and 'g', words that end in /v/ and /j/, and words with the vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will review reading one-syllable words with vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW (3 MIN.)

- Direct students' attention to the signs or cards you placed around the classroom before the lesson began. Review the following sound-spellings that students have practiced: hard 'c', soft 'c', hard 'g', soft 'g' /words that end in /j/, words that end in /v/, and vowel teams 'ai' and 'ay'.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Say, “I am going to display some words. We will read a word together. Then you will walk calmly to the part of the classroom that matches the word.”
- Write the word page on the board, and read it aloud. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, “What sound can you identify in this word? (soft ‘g’/words that end in /j/)
- Have students move to the “soft ‘g’/words that end in /j/” part of the classroom.
- Repeat with the following words: mailbox, fancy, above, coconut, gemstone, stage, and play.

READ ONE-SYLLABLE WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAMS (3 MIN.)

- Write the following words on the board: brain, ray, fail, mail, gray, stain, sway, and pay.
- Point to brain. Read it aloud and then have students read it aloud.
- Emphasize the long /ae/ vowel sound.
- Ask, “How many syllables does brain have?” (one)
- Circle ‘ai’ and have students repeat the sound /ae/.
- Say, “In the word brain, the sound /ae/ is made by the letters ‘ai’. This is a vowel team syllable because the letters work together to make a single vowel sound.
- Point to ray. Read it aloud and then have students read it aloud.
- Emphasize the long /ae/ vowel sound.
- Ask, “How many syllables does ray have?” (one)
- Circle ‘ay’ and have students repeat the sound /ae/.
- Ask, “Since the letters ‘ay’ work together to make a single vowel sound, what kind of syllable is this?” (vowel team syllable)
- Repeat the routine with the other words that use the vowel teams ‘ai’ or ‘ay’.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following word is a one-syllable word that has the vowel team ‘ay’: relay.” (thumbs-down; It has two syllables.)

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review identifying the meaning of and using words with prefixes. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW PREFIXES (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word. Each prefix is one syllable.
- Also remind students that adding prefixes to root words does not change the spelling of the root word.
- Say, “This week we learned about the prefixes un-, re-, dis-, pre-.”
- Have a student volunteer identify the meaning of the prefix pre-. (before)
- Ask, “If the prefix pre- means ‘before,’ then what does the word pretest mean?” (to test before)
- Have a student volunteer identify the meaning of the prefix re-. (again or back)
- Ask, “If the prefix re- means ‘again’ or ‘back,’ then what does the word replay mean?” (to play again)
- Have a student volunteer identify the meaning of the prefix un-. (not or opposite of)
- Ask, “If the prefix un- means ‘not’ or ‘opposite of,’ then what does the word unsure mean?” (not sure)

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Simplify the activity page by giving students just the root words and appropriate prefix and having them form the new word.

Intermediate

Have students work on the activity page with a proficient reader who acts as a mentor.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students work on the activity page independently.

ELPS 1.F

Support

Remind students to consider the context of each sentence when choosing prefixes to add to root words on the activity page.

Activity Page 10.1

- Have a student volunteer identify the meaning of the prefix dis-. (not)
- Ask, “If the prefix dis- means ‘not,’ then what does the word disloyal mean?” (not loyal)
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will independently read “Eve’s Race” and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.5

READ “EVE’S RACE” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

- Tell students they will be reading “Eve’s Race.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.2.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
 - words: giddy, pace, incident, priceless, vowed
 - phrases: “dodge traffic,” “brave the hot sun”
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words: City Circuit, managed.
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and
 - underline three words with soft ‘c’ or ‘g’, such as huge;
 - put a box around three words that end in /v/ or /j/, such as Eve;
 - circle three words with prefixes, such as preset;
 - highlight three words with vowel team syllables, such as aim.

Activity Pages
10.2, 10.3

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

Challenge

Have students use a different color to highlight words with vowel team syllables that have different spellings.

Support

Before reading “Eve’s Race,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have students write the words from the passage on their own paper. Create columns for students to categorize the skills (e.g., Words with Hard ‘c’ or ‘g’, Words That End in /v/ or /j/, Words with Prefixes, and Words with Vowel Team Syllables).

Intermediate

Have students work with a partner to annotate the text.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students work independently to annotate the text and then share their work with a partner.

ELPS 4.A

- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 10.3 independently. If they don’t complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their annotation decisions.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with spelling patterns they learned this week. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with spelling patterns they learned this week.
- Say, “I will say each word aloud. Then you will write it in your dictation journal.”
- Say the word drove. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|--------------|-----------------|---------------|
| 1. drove | 4. unreflective | 7. prepay |
| 2. priceless | 5. revive | 8. unafraid |
| 3. playful | 6. disengage | 9. recyclable |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. The package will arrive on Friday.
2. Sage always aims to have her phone prepaid.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Dictation Journals: Phonics/Encoding Dictation

Collect students’ dictation journals to review and monitor student progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 10: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 10.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.2.
- Have them reread “Eve’s Race.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 10.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.

- Students should:
 - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
 - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Eve’s Race” on Activity Page TR 10.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lessons 6 and 8 (surface, live, certain, piece, eyes, close, answers, earth, move, mountain). Write the following new words on index cards: giddy, circuit, whistle, toward, walk and distance.
- Use the cards with the new words. Say, “Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

- Display and point to the word walk and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘al’ is pronounced /aw/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /w/ for this letter. We say /aw/ for these letters. We say /k/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /w/ /aw/ /k/, walk. Say, “Walk! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘You should be able to walk the rest of the race today.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say walk. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, “It is helpful to remember another word that has the /aw/ sound spelled ‘al’.” Write chalk on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining word(s), mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lessons 6 and 8. Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let’s play a game. We’re going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let’s see how fast we can go. My turn first.”
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, “Do you think you can go faster than I did?”
- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.
- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.
- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.

- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the unit.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

(1) Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

(2) Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1–10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.
- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student’s set of cards.

ENRICHMENT PASSAGE

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 10.2 for each student.
- Tell students they will be reading a short passage with some of the sound spellings they have recently learned.
- Direct students to the short passage “The Pledge of Allegiance.” Tell students that they may read the passage either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the passage again and
 - underline three words with soft ‘c’ or ‘g’, such as allegiance;
 - put a box around three words with hard ‘c’ or ‘g’, such as flag;
 - and highlight one word with the ay or ai vowel team.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions independently. If they do not complete the activity page in class, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, review student responses and engage students in a discussion when the opportunity arises. Encourage students to build on each other’s responses with the following sentence starters:
 - I agree with _____ because. . .
 - I have an additional perspective about. . .
 - That is a great point because. . .
 - Another example is. . .

REVIEW

Long Vowel Teams for /ee/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /ee/ > 'ee', 'ea', and 'ie'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /ee/ > 'ee', 'ea', and 'ie'. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify and read two-syllable words with vowel team syllables.
- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix non-.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Kailanie’s Bees” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer literal recall questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /ee/ > 'ee', 'ea', and 'ie'.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 11.1

Vowel Team Syllables: two-syllable words

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Observation

Discussion Questions Observation Record

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by: (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllable; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments;

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|----------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /ee/ > 'ee', 'ea', 'ie' | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Read Words with Common Long Vowel Teams: /ee/ > 'ee', 'ea', 'ie' | 3 min. | |
| Read Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables | 3 min. | ☐ Activity Page 11.1 |
| Morphology | | |
| Root Words and Prefixes: non- | 6 min. | ☐ Activity Page 11.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Read “Kailanie’s Bees” with Accuracy | 10 min. | ☐ Activity Page 11.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /ee/ > 'ee', 'ea', 'ie' | 5 min. | ☐ dictation journal |

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Discussion Questions Observation Record that you prepared in Lesson 1. Remember to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question over the course of the week. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer literal, inferential, and evaluative questions and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: beekeeper, bees, hive, creek, and season.

Lesson 11: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ee/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /ee/ > 'ee', 'ea', and 'ie'.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW COMMON LONG VOWEL
TEAMS: /EE/ > 'EE', 'EA', 'IE' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "Today we will blend more words with long vowel sounds, including some long vowel teams."
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds and they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /f/ /ee/ /t/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (feet)
- Write the spelling 'ee' on the board.
- Write the word feet on the board beneath the 'ee' heading.
- Underline the vowel team 'ee' in feet. Remind students that this vowel team makes a long /ee/ sound.
- Add headings for 'ie' and 'ea'. Explain that these spellings can also make the /ee/ sound.
- Write field and bean on the board under their heading, and say the words aloud. Point out the 'ie' and 'ea' spellings.
- Repeat with the following words: creek, meet, seed, bead, appear, shield, and brief.
- Keep the 'ee', 'ie', and 'ea' headings on the board for the next activity.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 11: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ee/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with /ee/ > 'ee', 'ea', and 'ie'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read two-syllable words with vowel team syllables.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH COMMON LONG VOWEL TEAMS: /EE/ > 'EE', 'EA', 'IE' (3 MIN.)

- Say the word season, emphasizing the /ee/ sound.
- Write season on the board beneath the 'ea' heading. Underline the 'ea' spelling. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say the word fifteen, emphasizing the /ee/ sound.
- Write fifteen on the board beneath the 'ee' heading. Underline the 'ee' spelling. Have students read the word aloud.
- Continue the routine with agree, achieve, freedom, and reason.
- Remind students that the long vowel sound in these words is /ee/.

Note: You may wish to point out to students that the spellings 'ea' and 'ie' sometimes makes the short /e/ sound (as in bread and friend). Students will become more familiar with vowel teams that don't make the expected sounds as they practice decoding words.

READ TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that a vowel team syllable is any syllable in which two or more letters work together to make a single vowel sound.
- Point to the word achieve on the board and read it aloud again, separating its syllables: "a•chieve." Point out each syllable in the word.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Activity Page 11.1

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Have students do a simple chaining activity to learn how to pronounce 'ee'. Write the word bet and have them say it aloud. Then add the one letter to form the word beat. Help students to correctly pronounce the new word.

Intermediate

Emphasize that 'ie' does not always make the /ee/ sound. Ask them to pronounce the word quiet. Then have them say the word brief. Ask, "Which word makes the /ee/ sound?" (brief)

Advanced/

Advanced High

Emphasize that 'ea' does not always make the /ee/ sound. Ask them to pronounce the word deaf and help students pronounce it. Then write the word beat. Ask, "Which word makes the /ee/ sound?" (beat)

ELPS 3.A

- Point to the underlined letters in the second syllable of achieve. Say, "The letters 'ie' in achieve are a vowel team that make the /ee/ sound." Read the word aloud with the students.
- Repeat with the remaining two-syllable words on the board.
- Direct students to Activity Page 11.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words aloud with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 11: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ee/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix non-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: NON- (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that adding prefixes to words can change their meaning. Review the prefixes un- and dis-. Both of these prefixes have negative meanings. The prefixes un- and dis- mean "not" or "the opposite of."
- Say, "Another negative prefix with this meaning is non-."
- Write the word fiction on the board.
- Ask, "What does this word mean?" (A story that is made up. Something that is not true.)
- Add non- to the word to create nonfiction.
- Say, "This word means something that is not fiction. It is something that is true and not made up."
- Point out that adding the prefix does not change the spelling of the root word fiction.

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Direct students to Activity Page 11.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Ask students to indicate whether the following prefixes are negative, or mean “not” or “the opposite of”: un- (thumbs-up), re- (thumbs-down), pre- (thumbs-down), dis- (thumbs-up), non- (thumbs-up).

Activity Page 11.2

Challenge

Before they complete the activity page, ask students to name other words that begin with non-.

Lesson 11: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ee/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Kailanie’s Bees” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer literal recall questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

READ “KAILANIE’S BEES” WITH ACCURACY (10 MIN.)

Activity Page 11.3

Support

Before reading “Kailanie’s Bees,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

- Direct students to Activity Page 11.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
 - words: grief, achieve, nectar, mismatched
 - phrases: “feels at peace,” “shield the bees,” “take flight”
- Have students follow along as you read: “Kailanie’s Bees.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., react and flightless).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as igh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllable; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “Kailanie’s Bees”

1. Literal. Where do Kailanie’s bees live?
 - » Kailanie’s bees live in creekside hives.
2. Literal. What problem does Kailanie face one morning?
 - » Kailanie’s bees were not flying around.
3. Inferential. What caused the problem?
 - » Bees need flowers for food. There were no blooming flowers in the fall, so the bees did not have enough food.
4. Literal. What steps did Kailanie take to solve the problem?
 - » Kailanie read books about bees, asked an expert for help, and planted more flowers in pots.
5. Literal. How did Kailanie feel at the end of the story?
 - » Kailanie felt relieved and hopeful.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you think I read these sentences at an appropriate rate or a thumbs-down if you think the rate is not appropriate.” Read the sentences too fast or too slow: “Kailanie wakes from her nightly dreams with high hopes for another delightful day with her bees.” (thumbs-down)

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students’ performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.

- Turn and Talk: For the inferential question, have students share their thoughts with one another. Remind students to be sure to cite specifics from the passage to support their answer. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner’s thinking with the group.

Lesson 11: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ee/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /ee/ > 'ee', 'ea', and 'ie'.

 TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /EE/ > 'EE', 'EA', 'IE' (5 MIN.)

- Tell students that they will be spelling words with vowel teams that make the /ee/ sound that you say aloud.
- Say the word beneath. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|-------------|------------|--------------|
| 1. beneath | 4. relief | 7. disappear |
| 2. disagree | 5. fifteen | 8. retrieve |
| 3. unreal | 6. reason | 9. increase |

- Then tell students that you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- | |
|--|
| 1. The beach is empty between seasons. |
| 2. I am working to achieve my dreams. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

 TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate the room to monitor student spelling. Work individually with students who need extra instruction.

End Lesson

Lesson 11: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 11.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 11.3.
- Have them reread “Kailanie’s Bees.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 11.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
 - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
 - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

12

REVIEW

Long Vowel Teams for /ie/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /ie/ > 'igh' and 'ie'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /ie/ > 'igh' and 'ie'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read two-syllable words with vowel team syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix mis-.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Kailanie’s Bees” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /ie/ > 'igh' and 'ie'.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Kailanie’s Bees” Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllable; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|---|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /ie/ > 'igh', 'ie' | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Read Words with Common Long Vowel Teams: /ie/ > 'igh', 'ie' | 3 min. | |
| Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 12.1 |
| Morphology | | |
| Root Words and Prefixes: mis- | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 12.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Reread "Kailanie's Bees" | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 11.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /ie/ > 'igh', 'ie' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
 - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
 - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
 - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Phonics—Decoding

- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: beekeeper, bees, hive, creek, and season.

Lesson 12: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ie/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /ie/ > 'igh' and 'ie'.

TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW COMMON LONG VOWEL TEAMS:
/IE/ > 'IGH', 'IE' (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that 'i' can make the /ie/ sound. Write find on the board, mark the 'i' while saying the word aloud. Have students read the word aloud.
- Write bright and tied on the board and say the words aloud. Point out the 'igh' and 'ie' spellings.
- Say, "Today we will blend more words with long vowel sounds, including some long vowel teams."
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds and they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /b/ /ie/ /k/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (bike)
- Write the sound-spelling 'i_e' on the board. Remind students that they learned this sound-spelling earlier in Unit 2.
- Write bike beneath 'i_e' on the board. Draw a V shape connecting the 'i' and the 'e'. Have students read the word aloud.
- Add headings for 'igh' and 'ie'. Explain that these spellings can also make the /ie/ sound.
- Repeat with the following words: high, pie, cries, tight, right, midnight, and tries.
- Keep the headings on the board for the next activity.

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 12: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ie/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with /ie/ > 'igh' and 'ie'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read two-syllable words with vowel team syllables.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Remind students that the letter combination 'gh' can be difficult to decode in the English language.

Pronounce the words ghost, night, and enough.

Emphasize that in 'igh' letter combinations, 'gh' does not make a sound.

ELPS 3.A

Challenge

Ask, "What other words do you know that make the /ie/ sound?"

READ WORDS WITH COMMON LONG VOWEL TEAMS: /IE/ > 'IGH', 'IE' (3 MIN.)

- Write thigh on the board beneath the 'igh' heading. Underline the 'igh' spelling.
- Read the word thigh aloud, emphasizing the /ie/ sound. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Write tie on the board beneath the 'ie' heading. Underline the 'ie' spelling.
- Read the word tie aloud, emphasizing the /ie/ sound. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Continue the routine with skies, flight, fried, bright, might, and supplies.
- Remind students that the long vowel sound in these words is /ie/.

TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that a vowel team syllable is any syllable in which two or more letters work together to make a single vowel sound.
- Write tighter on the board beneath the 'igh' heading. Point to the word tighter on the board and read it aloud, separating its syllables: "tight•er." Point out each syllable in the word.
- Underline the 'igh' the first syllable of tighter. Say, "This is a vowel team that makes the /ie/ sound." Read the word aloud with the students.
- Repeat with the following words, underlining the vowel team that makes the /ie/ sound: nightlight, applied, untie, nightly, retried.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Direct students to Activity Page 12.1. Explain to students that you will read aloud syllables students will use to create words to fill in the blanks in the sentences. Read aloud each first syllable from the word bank. Then read aloud each second syllable from the word bank. Finally, complete the first sentence as a class.
- If time allows, continue to complete the activity page as a class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Think-Pair-Share: Give students time to think about how to break a word into its syllables. Then pair students and ask them to discuss their thinking with their partner. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner's thinking with the group.

Lesson 12: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ie/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix mis-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: MIS- (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that adding prefixes to words can change their meaning. Review the prefixes un-, dis-, and non-. These negative prefixes usually mean “not” or “the opposite of.”
- Introduce the negative prefix mis-. Tell students that mis- means “badly or wrongly.”
- Write the word mislead on the board.
- Ask, “Which part of this word is the prefix?” (mis-) Underline the prefix.

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Activity Page 12.2

- Say, “The verb lead means ‘to guide.’ The prefix mis- means ‘badly or wrongly.’ What does the word mislead mean?” (to wrongly or badly guide)
- Write the words use and fit on the board. Read them aloud. Then have students read the words aloud.
- Ask a student volunteer to add mis- to each word to create a new word. Point out that the spelling of the root words does not change when the prefix is added.
- Work with students to determine the meaning of misuse and mislead.
- Direct students to Activity Page 12.2, and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word with a prefix from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 12: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ie/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Kailanie’s Bees” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “KAILANIE’S BEES” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 11.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Kailanie’s Bees” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Kailanie’s Bees.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
 - put a box around three words with vowel team syllables ‘igh’ or ‘ie’ that make the /ie/ sound, such as cried and high; and
 - circle three words with the prefix mis-, such as mistake.

Activity Page 11.3

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Observation: “Kailanie’s Bees” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Kailanie’s Bees,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 12: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ie/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /ie/ > ‘igh’ and ‘ie’.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /IE/ > ‘IGH’, ‘IE’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /ie/ sounds that you say aloud.
- Say the word flightless. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|---------------|------------|------------|
| 1. flightless | 4. applied | 7. mighty |
| 2. untie | 5. sighing | 8. dries |
| 3. twilight | 6. lighten | 9. refried |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- | |
|--|
| 1. The skies are not usually bright at midnight. |
| 2. She retried with the right supplies. |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate the room to monitor student spelling. Work individually with students who need extra instruction.

End Lesson

Lesson 12: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 12.1 for each student.
- Explain to students that you will read words aloud, and they will identify whether each word is spelled with the vowel team 'igh' or 'ie'. They will record their answer on Activity Page TR 12.1.
- Read the following words aloud: daylight, spies, cried, tonight, knighthood, tied, sightsee, and might.
- When students are done, ask pairs to share and check each other's work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about "Kailanie's Bees" on Activity Page TR 11.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.

- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

REVIEW

Long Vowel Teams for /oe/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /oe/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /oe/ > 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', and 'ough'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read two-syllable words with vowel-team syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes im- and in-.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Boat Races: Fun on the Water” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /oe/ > 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', and 'ough'.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 13.2

Root Words and Prefixes: im-, in-

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|--|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Common Vowel Teams: /oe/ > 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', 'ough' | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Read Words with Common Vowel Teams: /oe/ > 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', 'ough' | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 13.1 |
| Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables | 3 min. | |
| Morphology | | |
| Root Words and Prefixes: im- , in- | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 13.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Read "Boat Races: Fun on the Water" | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 13.3, 13.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /oe/ > 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', and 'ough' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: finish line, crew, and oar.

Lesson 13: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /oe/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /oe/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW COMMON VOWEL TEAMS:
/OE/ > 'OA', 'OE', 'OW', 'OUGH' (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that 'o' can make the /oe/ sound. Write no on the board, mark the "o" while saying the word aloud. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, "Today we will blend more words with long vowel teams."
- Tell students that you will say some segmented sounds and they will blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /b/ /oe/ /t/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (boat)
- Write 'oa' on the board, and then write boat under the heading. Point out the 'oa' spelling. Have students read the word aloud.
- Add headings for 'oe', 'ow', and 'ough'. Explain that these spellings can also make the /oe/ sound.
- Repeat with the following words: coach, coast, toe, doe, crow, window, though and although.
- Keep the headings on the board for the next activity.

Check for Understanding

Turn and Talk: Pair students and have them work together to decide which of these words have the /oe/ sound as you say the words aloud: coat, booth, snow, house, and tiptoe. (coat, snow, tiptoe) Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on partners to share their thinking with the group.

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 13: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /oe/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with /oe/ > 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', and 'ough'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read two-syllable words with vowel-team syllables.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH COMMON VOWEL TEAMS: /OE/ > 'OA', 'OE', 'OW', 'OUGH' (3 MIN.)

- Write road on the board beneath the 'oa' heading. Underline the 'oa' spelling.
- Read the word road aloud, emphasizing the /oe/ sound. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Write Joe on the board beneath the 'oe' heading. Underline the 'oe' spelling.
- Read the word Joe aloud, emphasizing the /oe/ sound. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Continue the routine with elbow, dough, roast, foam, loaf, and snow.
- Remind students that the long vowel sound in these words is /oe/.
- Direct students to Activity Page 13.1 and read the instructions aloud. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words aloud with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that a vowel team syllable is any syllable in which two or more letters work together to make a single vowel sound.
- Write the word window on the board. Mark the syllables in win•dow with a slash.
- Say, "The first syllable in this word is /win/. The second syllable is /dow/."

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Activity Page 13.1

Support

Say, “Sometimes the letters ‘ow’ do not make the /oe/ sound. The word power uses the ‘ow’ letter combination, but it does not have a long ‘o’ sound.”

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Simplify the activity page by providing the list of incorrect im- and in- words. Work with them to correct the words.

Intermediate

Have students work with a proficient reader who acts as a mentor.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students work on the activity independently.

ELPS 1.F

Activity Page 13.2

- Underline the letters ‘ow.’
- Point to the underlined letters in the second syllable of window.
- Say, “This is a vowel team that makes the /oe/ sound.”
- Read the word aloud, emphasizing its syllables: win•dow. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat these steps with the following words, making sure to underline and point out the vowel teams: toenail, although, below, railroad, and oboe.

Lesson 13: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /oe/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes im- and in-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: IM-, IN- (6 MIN.)

- Write the words incomplete and impossible on the board.
- Ask, “Which part of these words is the prefix?” (the beginning)
- Underline in- and im- in the words on the board.
- Say, “In- and im- are examples of negative prefixes.”
- Ask, “What other negative prefixes have we learned?” (un-, dis-, non-, mis-)
- Say, “Like those other negative prefixes, in- and im- usually mean ‘not’ or ‘the opposite of.’”
- Ask, “If in- and im- mean “not” or “the opposite of,” what do you think the words incomplete and impossible mean?” (Incomplete means “not complete;” impossible means “not possible.”)
- Direct students to Activity Page 13.2. Have students work on the activity page in class with a partner. Circulate as students work, helping students identify and define words as needed.
- If needed, ask students to complete the activity page at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Lesson 13: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /oe/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Boat Races: Fun on the Water” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

READ “BOAT RACES: FUN ON THE WATER” (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 13.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
 - words: foes, spew, venues, cues, strokes
 - phrases: “an invisible road,” “cast long shadows,” “straight as an arrow”
- Have students follow along as you read “Boat Races: Fun on the Water.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., popular and imperfect).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently.
- Then have them turn to Activity Page 13.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don’t complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Pages
13.3, 13.4

Support

Before reading “Boat Races: Fun on the Water,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Provide options for individual reading. Pair strong and struggling readers. Ask them first to read the first paragraph together, alternating between sentences. Then ask them to read the rest of the text independently.

Have a strong reader work with a struggling reader to complete the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns, and work together to complete the comprehension questions.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to share their responses to the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.1

Lesson 13: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /oe/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /oe/ > 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', and 'ough'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /OE/ > 'OA', 'OE', 'OW', AND 'OUGH' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /oe/ sounds that you say aloud.
- Say the word tiptoe. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

| | | |
|-------------|--------------|-----------|
| 1. tiptoe | 4. approach | 7. arrow |
| 2. soap | 5. borrow | 8. unload |
| 3. although | 6. snowflake | 9. oboe |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. The railroad follows the coastline.
2. Joe, don't swallow that dough!

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

Check for Understanding

Circulate the room to monitor student spelling. Work individually with students who need extra instruction.

End Lesson

Lesson 13: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 13.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 13.3.
- Have them reread “Boat Races: Fun on the Water.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 13.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
 - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
 - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: money, goes, ocean, carefully, and important.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”

- Display and point to the word goes and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘oe’ is pronounced /oe/ and the ‘s’ is pronounced /z/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /g/ for this letter. We say /oe/ for these letters. We say /z/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /g/ /oe/ /z/, goes. Say, “Goes! It’s a word we hear all the time, like when we say ‘The steamboat throws out water as it goes along.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say goes. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

REVIEW

Long Vowel Teams for /ue/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /ue/ > 'ew' and 'ue'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /ue/ > 'ew' and 'ue'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the suffix -ness.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Boat Races: Fun on the Water” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /ue/ > 'ew'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Boat Races: Fun on the Water” Anecdotal

Reading Record

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|---|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /ue/ > 'ew', 'ue' | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Read Words with Common Long Vowel Teams: /ue/ > 'ew', 'ue' | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 14.1 |
| Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables | 3 min. | |
| Morphology | | |
| Root Words and Suffixes: -ness | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 14.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Reread "Boat Races: Fun on the Water" | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 13.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /ue/ > 'ew', 'ue' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
 - Have students take turns reading the entire passage.
 - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
 - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the passage.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: finish line, crew, and oar.

Lesson 14: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ue/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /ue/ > 'ew' and 'ue'.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW COMMON LONG VOWEL TEAMS:
/UE/ > 'EW', 'UE' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "Today we will blend more words with long vowel teams."
- Say, "I will say some segmented sounds, and you will blend the sounds to say a word."
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /c/ /ue/ /t/. Ask students to blend the sounds in and say the word. (cute)
- Write the sound-spelling 'u_e' on the board. Remind students that they learned this sound-spelling earlier in Unit 2. Write cute on the board beneath the 'u_e' heading. Draw a V shape connecting the 'u' and the 'e'.
- Add headings for 'ew' and 'ue'. Explain that these spellings can also make the /ue/ sound.
- Repeat with the following words, underlining the sound spellings for each word: few, hue, value, spew, view, and fuel.
- Keep the headings on the board for the next activity.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Ask, "Does the word pewter make the /ue/ sound?" (thumbs-up)

 TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 14: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ue/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with /ue/ > 'ew' and 'ue'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH COMMON LONG VOWEL TEAMS: /UE/ > 'EW', 'UE' (3 MIN.)

- Say the word nephew, emphasizing the /ue/ sound.
- Write nephew on the board beneath the 'ew' heading. Underline the 'ew' spelling. Have students read it aloud.
- Say the word rescue, emphasizing the /ue/ sound.
- Write rescue on the board beneath the 'ue' heading. Underline the 'ue' spelling. Have students read it aloud.
- Write the following words on the board, under their heading, and have students read them aloud with you: barbecue, fewest, continue, and review.
- Remind students that the long vowel sound in these words is /ue/.
- Direct students to Activity Page 14.1 and read the instructions aloud. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words aloud with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that a vowel team syllable is any syllable in which two or more letters work together to make a single vowel sound.
- Read the word nephew aloud again, emphasizing its syllables: "neph•ew."

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Activity Page 14.1

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Review the definition and function of nouns and adjectives in English. Remind students that a noun is a word that describes a person, place, thing, feeling, or idea.

Tell students that an adjective is a word that describes a noun. Ask, "Is new an adjective or noun?" (adjective) Ask, "Is newness an adjective or noun? Here's an example sentence: 'The toy's newness made Sam be extra careful with it.'" (noun)

Intermediate

Provide sentence frames and have students use new/newness to complete them. Examples: It is a _____ toy. The _____ of the toy made it more fun to play with.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students say sentences using new and newness.

ELPS 1.F

- Draw a slash to break the word into syllables.
- Say, "The first syllable in this word is neph-. The second syllable is -ew."
- Underline the letters 'ew'.
- Point to the underlined letters in the second syllable of nephew.
- Say, "This is a vowel team that makes the /ue/ sound." Have students read the word aloud.
- Place a slash between the syllables and underline the /ue/ vowel team for the following words: barbecue, rescue, fewest, continue, and review. Then have students reread each word.

Lesson 14: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ue/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the suffix -ness. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND SUFFIXES: -NESS (6 MIN.)

- Write the words brightness and darkness on the board.
- Underline the ending of each word.
- Say, "The affix -ness comes at the end of a word. Is it a prefix or suffix?" (suffix)
- Say, "We add -ness to an adjective to make a noun that describes that adjective and shows a quality or condition."
- Say, "Night is dark. Darkness is a quality of nighttime. Day is bright. Brightness is a quality of daytime."
- Write the word kindness on the board.
- Underline the suffix -ness.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Ask, “If we say, ‘The students show kindness,’ what do we mean?” (The students show the act of being kind.)
- Write the word happiness on the board.
- Ask, “What is the root word of happiness? (happy)”
- Say, “When we add -ness to a root word that ends in ‘y’, we change the ‘y’ to an ‘i’ before we add the suffix.”
- Ask, “If we say, ‘The puppy brings her happiness,’ what do we mean?” (The puppy makes her feel happy.)
- Write the following words on the board: fairness, goodness, and laziness.
- Have students read the words aloud, explain their meaning, and identify the root words.
- Direct students to Activity Page 14.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word with an affix from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Challenge

Ask, “What is another example of a word that changes ‘y’ to ‘i’ when adding -ness?” (answers could include emptiness, loneliness, readiness, heaviness, etc.)

Activity Page 14.2

Lesson 14: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ue/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Boat Races: Fun on the Water” fluently with a partner. TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “BOAT RACES: FUN ON THE WATER” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s passage with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the passage.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 13.3. Tell them that today they will reread “Boat Races: Fun on the Water” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about the passage.
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
 - underline three words with the vowel team ‘ue’, such as venue;
 - draw a box around three words with the vowel team ‘ew’, such as few; and
 - circle three words that end in the suffix -ness, such as happiness.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Observation: “Boat Races: Fun on the Water”
Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Boat Races: Fun on the Water,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 14: Review: Long Vowel Teams for /ue/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /ue/ > ‘ew’.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /UE/ > ‘EW’, ‘UE’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with the /ue/ sound that you say aloud.
- Say the word barbecue. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|-------------|--------------|-----------|
| 1. barbecue | 4. viewpoint | 7. pewter |
| 2. preview | 5. venue | 8. spew |
| 3. fewest | 6. hue | 9. nephew |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

1. Some kids argue about the value of a curfew.
2. We should continue to review.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate the room to monitor student spelling. Work individually with students who need extra instruction.

End Lesson

Lesson 14: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 14.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done, ask pairs to share and check each other’s work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Boat Races: Fun on the Water” on Activity Page TR 13.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.

- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing about Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say goes and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, goez. Write the letters to spell goes on the board.
- Point to the word goes and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /oe/ sound is spelled ‘oe’ and the /z/ sound is spelled ‘s.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. We say /g/ for this letter. We say /oe/ for these letters. We say /z/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /g/ /oe/ /z/, goes. Say, “Goes! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words money, ocean, carefully, and important. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.

- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will review and blend words with long vowel sounds. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will review reading words with long vowels. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will review reading words with vowel team syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review using words with prefixes and suffixes.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will independently read “Snow Day” and will answer questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words they learned this week.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Dictation Journal

Phonics/Encoding Dictation

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|-----------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Four Corners | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Review Long Vowel Teams | 3 min. | ☐ Activity Page 15.1 |
| Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables | 3 min. | |
| Morphology | | |
| Review Prefixes and Suffixes: non- , mis- , im- , in- , -ness | 6 min. | ☐ Activity Page 15.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Read “Snow Day” Independently | 10 min. | ☐ Activity Pages 15.3, 15.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Encoding Review | 5 min. | ☐ dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Warm-Up

- Students will review what they learned this week by playing a Four Corners game. Prepare ahead of time by making labels for the four vowel sounds: /ee/, /ie/, /oe/, and /ue/. Assign the one label to each corner of the room.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: daylight, snow, board games, and oboe.

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will review and blend words with long vowel sounds.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i

FOUR CORNERS (3 MIN.)

- Say, “We are going to play a game to practice long vowel sounds.”
- Point to each corner of the room. Say, “I will read a list of words. Listen for the sounds /ee/, /ie/, /oe/, or /ue/. I will repeat the word a second time. Then calmly walk to the corner labeled with that sound.”
- Begin the activity by reading the word tonight. Repeat the word.
- Tell students to choose the corner that corresponds to that vowel sound.
- Confirm that tonight makes the /ie/ sound.
- Repeat the exercise with the following words: few, meet, although, pies, dream, road, and view.

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

 Students will review reading words with long vowels. TEKS 3.2.A.i

 Students will review reading words with vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW LONG VOWEL TEAMS (3 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 15.1.
- Read the directions aloud.

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Activity Page 15.1

- Pair students and have them complete the activity. Have them take turns reading the words aloud to each other.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate the room as students complete the activity page. Monitor student understanding and offer support to students who struggle with any of the vowel teams.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learn How English Works

Beginning

Present students with two words from the week. Choose a one-syllable word and a two-syllable word—for example, cue and kindness. Ask, “Which word has two syllables?” (kindness)

Intermediate

Present students with three words from the week. Choose a one-syllable word, a two-syllable word, and a three-syllable word—for example, cue, kindness, and nonfiction. Ask, “How many syllables does each word have?” (1, 2, 3)

Advanced/ Advanced High

Ask students to think of words that have one, two, and three syllables.

ELPS 2.A

TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Review separating words into syllables by writing the word teacher on the board.
- Draw a slash to show how to divide the syllables and then pronounce the word, emphasizing its syllables: “teach•er.” Have students read the word aloud.
- Write the following words on the board: curfew, kindness, oboe, elbow, midnight, misfit, freedom, and nonfat.
- Have a different volunteer divide the syllables of each word.
- Have all students read each word aloud.

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review using words with prefixes and suffixes.

TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Support

Students in the -ness group may need extra help defining their suffix.

Say, “The prefix -ness is used to show a quality or condition that is described by the root word. Provide the group with an example. Say, “Happiness means the quality of being happy. It means that they are happy. Weakness means the condition of being weak. It means that they are weak.”

Activity Page 15.2

REVIEW PREFIXES AND SUFFIXES: NON-, MIS-, IM-, IN-, -NESS (6 MIN.)

- Say, “We are going to review affixes we learned this week.”
- Assign students to five groups.
- Designate each group with one of the following affixes: non-, mis-, im-, in-, and -ness.
- Say, “Work together to come up with a definition for your affix. Then think of three examples of words that use that affix.”
- Allow students time to work in groups and then have each group share their definition and examples with the class.
- As students share, write examples on the board.
- Direct students to Activity Page 15.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will independently read “Snow Day” and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

READ “SNOW DAY” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

- Tell students they will be reading “Snow Day” independently. Direct students to Activity Page 15.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
 - words: mishandling, harshly, missteps, oboe
 - phrases: “sense of togetherness,” “snapped at him,” “felt their moods lighten”
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., misspoken and inconsiderate).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and
 - underline three words with vowel teams that make the /ee/ or /ie/ sounds, such as Jaylee and right;
 - put a box around three words with vowel teams that make the /oe/ or /ue/ sounds, such as Tahoe and argue; and

Activity Pages
15.3, 15.4

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

Support

Before reading “Snow Day,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

- circle three words with prefixes non-, mis-, im-, in-, or -ness, such as nonsense and impossible.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 15.4 independently. If they don't complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 15: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words they learned this week.

 TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with vowel teams that make long vowel sounds that you say aloud.
- Say the word misfeed. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|------------|--------------|---------------|
| 1. misfeed | 4. unload | 7. preview |
| 2. misread | 5. refuel | 8. ingrown |
| 3. refried | 6. disbelief | 9. brightness |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

 TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

1. Have you seen the view from the coastline?
2. Please get charcoal for the barbecue tonight.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate the room to monitor student spelling. Work individually with students who need extra instruction.

Dictation Journals: Phonics/Encoding Dictation

Collect students' dictation journals to review and monitor student progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 15: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 15.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 15.3

- Have them reread “Snow Day.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 15.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
 - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
 - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Snow Day” on Activity Page TR 15.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lesson 13 (money, goes, ocean, carefully, important). Write the following new word on an index card: school. Create or gather three to five additional Tricky Word cards to review at this time.
- Use the cards with the new words. Say, “Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Display and point to the word school and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘sch’ is pronounced /sk/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /sk/ for these letters. We say /oo/ for these letters. We say /l/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /sk/ /oo/ /l/, school. Say, “School! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘They knew going to school that day would be impossible.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say school. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, “It is helpful to remember another word that has the /sk/ sound spelled ‘sch.’” Write schedule on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing any remaining new word(s), mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lesson 13. Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let’s play a game. We’re going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let’s see how fast we can go. My turn first.”
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, “Do you think you can go faster than I did?”

- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.
- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.
- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.
- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the unit.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

(1) Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

(2) Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1-10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.

- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student's set of cards.

ENRICHMENT PASSAGE

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 15.2 for each student.
- Tell students they will be reading a short passage with some of the sound spellings and syllable types they have recently learned.
- Direct students to the passage “The United States Flag.” Tell students that they may read the passage either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the passage again and
 - underline three words with the long e sound—spelled ea, ie, ee—such as field;
 - put a box around two words with ue or ay;
 - and highlight one vowel team two-syllable word, such as features.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions independently. If they do not complete the activity page in class, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, review student responses and engage students in a discussion when the opportunity arises. Encourage students to build on each other's responses with the following sentence starters:
 - I agree with _____ because. . .
 - I have an additional perspective about. . .
 - That is a great point because. . .
 - Another example is. . .

16

REVIEW

Vowel Teams for /aw/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /aw/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with the vowel teams 'au', 'aw', and 'al' > /aw/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix sub-.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read "Chalk Art" orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer literal recall questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /aw/ > 'au', 'aw', 'al'.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 16.1

Read /aw/ > 'au', 'aw', and 'al'

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Observation

Discussion Questions Observation Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|---|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Blend Words with /aw/ | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Review the Vowel Team /aw/ > 'au,'aw', and 'al' | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 16.1 |
| Multisyllabic Words with Vowel Team Syllables | 3 min. | |
| Morphology | | |
| Root Words and Prefixes: sub- | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 16.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Read "Chalk Art" with Accuracy | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 16.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /aw/ > 'au,'aw', 'al' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their pronunciation of certain sounds as they decode words, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Decoding document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Reading

- Ensure that you have the Unit 2 Discussion Questions Observation Record that you prepared in Lesson 1. Remember to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question over the course of the week. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer literal, inferential, and evaluative questions and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: cautious, awning, gawk, and optical illusion.

Lesson 16: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /aw/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

BLEND WORDS WITH /AW/ (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that today they will review the sound /aw/ as in dawn.
- Have students say the /aw/ sound several times, stretching it out.
- Explain that you will say some segmented sounds and then blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /r/ /aw/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (raw)
- Repeat with the words cause and chalk.
- Say, “It can be hard to hear the difference between the /aw/ sound as in cause and the /a/ sound as in candy.”
- Explain that you are going to say some words. When students hear the /aw/ sound, they should raise their left hand. When they hear the /a/ sound, they should raise their right hand.
- Say the word sand.
- Write the word on the board. Have students repeat the word while they raise their right hand.
- Say the word fault.
- Write the word on the board. Have students repeat the word while they raise their left hand.
- Repeat with the following words: walk (left hand), lap (right), hall (left), fast (right), and awesome (left).

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills
Foundational Literacy Skills

Make sure students feel the difference in articulation between /aw/ and /a/. Practice saying the sounds together. Have students feel their mouths as they say the two sounds. Talk about what their mouths are doing and how it feels different. Have students look in a mirror to see the difference as they say the sounds /aw/ and /a/. Students can also look at each other’s mouths as they say the two sounds. Talk about how their mouths look different when they say the sounds /aw/ and /a/.

ELPS 2.A; ELPS 2.B;

ELPS 2.C; ELPS 3.A

Challenge

Ask students to think of other words with /aw/ and /a/. Have individual students say the word pairs to the class and ask which word has the /aw/ sound.

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 16: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- ✦ Students will read words with the vowel teams 'au', 'aw', and 'al' > /aw/. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.
- ✦ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW THE VOWEL TEAM /AW/ > 'AU', 'AW', AND 'AL' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "The sound /aw/ can be spelled in different ways."
- Write the vowel teams 'au', 'aw', and 'al' on the board. Point to each and say the sound /aw/. Have students repeat the sound.
- Write the /aw/ words from the Warm-Up under the appropriate heading: dawn, raw, cause, chalk, fault, walk, hall, awesome. Read each word aloud and then have the students read aloud the words, emphasizing the /aw/ sound.
- Point out that 'au' is usually at the beginning or in the middle of a word and 'aw' is often in the middle or at the end of a word.
- Direct students to Activity Page 16.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 16.1

MULTISYLLABIC WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that a vowel team syllable is any syllable in which two or more letters work together to make a single vowel sound.
- Write the word jawbone on the board.
- Ask, "How many syllables does this word have?" (two)
- Ask, "Where should I draw a line to split this word into its syllables?" (between the 'w' and the 'b')

- ✦ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Draw a slash to break the word into syllables: jaw•bone.
- Point out the vowel team in the first syllable. Have a volunteer identify the sound that it makes (/aw/).
- Say, “In this syllable, I see the ‘a’ and the ‘w’ working together to make the /aw/ sound. Note that since the ‘w’ is part of a vowel team, it does not act as a consonant.”
- Point again to the first syllable. Ask, “What kind of syllable is this?” (vowel team syllable) Have students read it aloud.
- Cover the first syllable.
- Point to the second syllable. Underline ‘o’ and ‘e’, and draw a V shape under the word.
- Ask, “What kind of syllable is the second syllable?” (VCe) Have students read it aloud.
- Uncover both syllables, point to the word and have students read it aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: flawless, auto, quality, hallway, caution, and walkway, asking students to read each word aloud and to identify the vowel team syllables and the letters that make up each vowel team. (flawless: ‘aw’; auto: ‘au’; quality: ‘au’; hallway: ‘al’; caution: ‘au’; walkway: ‘al’)

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the letter ‘w’ is part of a vowel team in the word walkway.” (thumbs-down)

Support

Review different syllable types students have learned, including open, closed, and VCe.

Lesson 16: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix sub-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: SUB- (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word. Each prefix is one syllable. Note that prefixes do not change the spelling of the root word.
- Explain that we can read words with prefixes by segmenting and blending the sounds and using the syllable chunking method.
- Write and read aloud the word subway. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, “I see the prefix sub-: /s/ /u/ /b/. I am going to segment the rest of the word: /w/ /ae/. Now I can blend the entire word: sub•way.”
- Say, “Let’s identify the meaning of this word by breaking it into its parts. I’m going to draw a line between the prefix and the root word. Where should I draw the line?” (after the prefix sub-).
- Say, “The prefix sub- often means “under,” “below,” or “beneath.” In this case, the word way means “a travel route,” as with the question Which way is the library? If we put these word parts together, the meaning of subway is “an underground way to travel.”
- Write and read aloud the word submarine. Have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, “Where should I draw the line to split the word submarine into its prefix and root?” (after the prefix sub-).
- Ask, “If the word marine refers to the ocean or sea, then what does the word submarine mean?” (under the sea)
- Repeat with the words subset, subzero, subtitle, substandard, and subcategory, having students read and define each word. Provide support for root word meanings as needed.
- Direct students to Activity Page 16.2 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the completed sentences with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Support

It might be helpful to define the following root words to help students understand how the affix changes their meaning: set and standard.

Activity Page 16.2

Lesson 16: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Chalk Art” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer literal recall questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

READ “CHALK ART” WITH ACCURACY (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 16.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
 - words: subgroup, sought-after, flawless, subdivide
 - phrases: “pause and gawk,” “dot the landscape,” “bring it to life”
 - domain-specific language: optical illusion, murals
- Have students follow along as you read “Chalk Art.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., festival and canvas).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read.

Activity Page 16.3

Support

Before reading “Chalk Art,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

As students pronounce unfamiliar words, remind them that the /aw/ sound can be spelled ‘au’, ‘aw’, and ‘al’.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Ask students yes/no questions: “Do artists sometimes make chalk art outside for others to see? Do artists make chalk art of many different things? Does chalk art last forever?”

Intermediate

Provide students with specific sentence starters: Chalk artists make chalk art _____.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to expand/or build on other students’ responses and learned phrases.

ELPS 4.G; ELPS 4.I

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “Chalk Art”

1. Literal. Where do chalk artists make their art?
 - » Possible response: Chalk artists make art on walls, chalkboards, and walkways. They make art in diners, grocery stores, and coffee shops.
2. Literal. What are some of the things chalk artists draw?
 - » Possible response: They draw portraits, submarines, seesaws, beanstalks, autumn scenes, and more.
3. Literal. What should chalk artists consider when they choose a place to make their art?
 - » Possible response: They should pick a spot with an audience.
4. Literal. Why does chalk art not last forever?
 - » Possible response: Rain and foot traffic can quickly wear away the chalk. The sun can make it fade too.
5. Evaluative. Have you ever seen or made chalk art? Tell about the experience. If you haven’t made or seen chalk art, tell about a different kind of art.
 - » Responses will vary.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you think I read these sentences at an appropriate rate or a thumbs-down if you think the rate is not appropriate.” Read the sentences too fast or too slow: “Some cities hold lively chalk art festivals. The city rapidly becomes like a huge art canvas.” (thumbs-down)

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

- Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students' performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.
- Turn and Talk: For the evaluative question, have students share their thoughts with one another. Remind students to be sure to cite specifics from the passage to support their answer. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner's thinking with the group.

Lesson 16: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /aw/ > 'au', 'aw', 'al'.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /AW/ > 'AU', 'AW', 'AL' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /aw/ > 'au', 'aw', 'al' that you say aloud.
- Say the word walk. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|------------|------------|------------|
| 1. walk | 4. smaller | 7. because |
| 2. haunted | 5. raw | 8. wall |
| 3. draw | 6. awesome | 9. pause |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

1. These pretzels are so salty.
2. The sun rises at dawn.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 16: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 16.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 16.3.
- Have them reread “Chalk Art.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 16.1.
- Tell students they will write and sketch for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
 - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
 - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: thoughtfully, grocery, eventually, cautious, and building.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word cautious and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘au’ is pronounced /aw/ and the ‘tious’ is pronounced /shəs/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /k/ for this letter. We say /aw/ for these letters. We say /shəs/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /k/ /aw/ /shəs/, cautious. Say, “Cautious! It’s a word we hear all the time, like when we say ‘If they want to draw in the subway or on a sidewalk, they must be cautious.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say cautious. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

REVIEW

Vowel Teams for /aw/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will identify words with the /aw/ sound. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with the quadgraphs 'ough' and 'augh'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the suffix -ly.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread "Chalk Art" fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /aw/ > 'augh' and 'ough'.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

Observation: "Chalk Art" Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|---|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Words with /aw/ > 'ough', 'augh' | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Read Words with /aw/ > 'ough', 'augh' | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 17.1 |
| Multisyllabic Words with Vowel Team Syllables | 3 min. | |
| Morphology | | |
| Root Words and Suffixes: -ly | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 17.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Reread "Chalk Art" | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 16.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /aw/ > 'ough', 'augh' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Prepare a T-chart with words with spellings 'ough' and 'augh'.

| 'ough' | 'augh' |
|---------|----------|
| brought | caught |
| sought | taught |
| thought | haughty |
| ought | daughter |

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
 - Have students take turns reading the entire passage.
 - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
 - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the passage.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: cautious, awning, gawk, and optical illusion.

Lesson 17: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 1

Warm-Up

 Primary Focus: Students will identify words with the /aw/ sound. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW WORDS WITH /AW/ > 'OUGH', 'AUGH' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "Today we will review other ways to spell the sound /aw/."
- Tell students that first you will say some words and then they will repeat them.
- Say the word caught, stretching out the /aw/ sound. Have students repeat the word.
- Write the word caught on the board. Circle 'augh' and tell students these letters together make the /aw/ sound. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say the word bought, stretching out the /aw/ sound. Have students repeat the word.
- Write the word bought on the board. Circle 'ough' and tell students these letters together also make the /aw/ sound. Have students read the word aloud.
- Write the following words on the board: taught, thought, sought, daughter.
- Point to each word, read it aloud, and have students read it aloud. Then have students identify the letters in each word that make the /aw/ sound and circle the spelling.
- Point to the words with the 'ough' spelling. Say, "All of these words end in the /t/ sound. But 'ough' is not always followed by a 't'."
- Write the word cough on the board. Say the word, emphasizing the final /f/ sound, and have students read it aloud.
- Ask, "What sound follows the /aw/ in this word?" (/f/)
- Remind students that they learned about the /f/ > 'gh' in Unit 1.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 17: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with the quadgraphs 'ough' and 'augh'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH /AW/ > 'OUGH', 'AUGH' (3 MIN.)

- Review the different spellings of /aw/ > 'au,' 'aw,' and 'al' that students have already learned. Write an example word for each: haunt, jaw, baseball. Read each example aloud and have students also read each one aloud.
- Display the T-chart you prepared in advance with words spelled with 'ough' and 'augh'.
- Read each example word, and have students read it aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 17.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

MULTISYLLABIC WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that a vowel team syllable is any syllable in which two or more letters work together to make a single vowel sound. This includes the quadgraphs ough and augh.
- Write the word thoughtful on the board.
- Ask, "How many syllables does this word have?" (two)
- Ask, "Where should I split this word into its syllables?" (between the second 't' and the 'f')

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Activity Page 17.1

Support

Explain that there is no reliable way of telling which spelling of /aw/ is correct and that the words will need to be practiced and remembered.

- Mark the syllables in thought•ful with a slash.
- Ask, “Which syllable has a vowel team? How do you know” (the first syllable; the letters ‘ough’ make a vowel team /aw/).
- Underline ‘ough’, and have students repeat the sound /aw/. Read the word aloud with students: first, syllable by syllable, and then, as a whole word.
- Repeat with the words daughter, distraught, thoughtless, naughtiness, thoughtfully.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the vowel team is in the second syllable of the word retaught.” (thumbs-up)

Lesson 17: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the suffix -ly. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND SUFFIXES: -LY (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that suffixes are word parts added to the end of a root word. Suffixes change the meaning of the word. Some suffixes change both the meaning and the part of speech of the word.
- Write the suffix -ly on the board.
- Say, “The suffix -ly changes adjectives into adverbs.”
- On the board, write the following sentence: She talks quietly. Underline the adverb.
- Say, “An adverb is a word that describes a verb. It describes how something is done.”

Challenge

Explain that adverbs often appear before or after the word they describe in a sentence. Have pairs or small groups come up with one example in which the adverb appears before the word it describes and one example in which the adverb appears after the word it describes.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Language

Interacting in Meaningful Ways

Beginning

Have students work in small groups to create a sentence that includes an adverb.

Intermediate

Have students work with a partner to create a sentence that includes an adverb.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students work independently to create a sentence that includes an adverb.

ELPS 1.F; ELPS 5.F

Activity Page 17.2

- Read the sentence aloud with the students. Say, “The adverb quietly tells us that she talks with a soft or quiet voice. Adverbs can also describe adjectives.”
- On the board, write the following sentence: The weather is unusually cold today. Read the sentence aloud, and then have students read it aloud.
- Ask, “Which words tell how the weather is today?” (unusually cold)
- Say, “The adverb unusually describes the adjective cold.”
- Ask, “What adjective is the root word of unusually?” (unusual)
- Say, “The suffix -ly was added to the adjective unusual to create an adverb that means ‘in an unusual way.’”
- Say, “I am going to write some other adjectives, and we are going to work together to turn them into adverbs.”
- Write the following words on the board: easy, brave, quiet, calm, mighty.
- Model how to add the suffix -ly to easy, noting the spelling changes; for example easy becomes easily, and mighty becomes mightily (change the ‘y’ to ‘i’). Then define the meaning of the new word.
- Repeat with the rest of the adjectives, having student volunteers explain how to turn each adjective into an adverb and share the meaning of the new words.
- Direct students to Activity Page 17.2 and review the instructions.
- Complete the first item together. Point out that an adverb may come immediately before or after the word it describes. Sometimes it is not right next to the word at all.
- Have students pick one word with -ly from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 17: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Chalk Art” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “CHALK ART” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s text with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the text.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 16.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Chalk Art” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Chalk Art.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
 - draw a box around three words with the vowel teams ‘ough’ or ‘augh’, such as taught and thought
 - circle three words that have the suffix -ly, such as lovely and carefully.

Activity Page 16.3

Challenge

Have students also draw boxes around vowel team syllables that make the /aw/ sound that are spelled ‘aw,’ ‘au,’ or ‘al’.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with vowel team syllables.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Observation: “Chalk Art” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Chalk Art,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 17: Review: Vowel Teams for /aw/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /aw/ > ‘ough’ and ‘augh’.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /AW/ > ‘OUGH’, ‘AUGH’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /aw/ > ‘ough’, ‘augh’ that you say aloud.
- Say the word taught. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|------------|-----------------|---------------|
| 1. taught | 4. thoughtfully | 7. caught |
| 2. ought | 5. daughter | 8. retaught |
| 3. naughty | 6. cough | 9. distraught |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- | |
|--------------------------------|
| 1. My friend bought me a gift. |
| 2. The gift was thoughtful. |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 17: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 17.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done writing, ask pairs to share and check one another's work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share their sketch and the response they wrote about “Chalk Art” on Activity Page TR 16.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.

- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say cautious and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, kawshəsh. Write the letters to spell cautious on the board.
- Point to the word cautious and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /aw/ sound is spelled ‘au’ and the /shəs/ sound is spelled ‘tious’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “In this word, we say /k/ for this letter. We say /aw/ for these letters. We say /shəs/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /c/ /aw/ /shəs/, cautious. Say, “Cautious! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words thoughtfully, grocery, eventually, and building. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.

- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

REVIEW

Vowel Teams for /oo/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /oo/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /oo/ spelled 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', and 'ough'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the affixes sub- and -ly.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /oo/ > 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', and 'ough'.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 18.2

Prefixes and Suffixes: sub-, -ly

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as igh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|--|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Words with /oo/ | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Review Vowel Teams /oo/ > 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', 'ough' | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 18.1 |
| Read Multisyllabic Words with Vowel Team Syllables | 3 min. | |
| Morphology | | |
| Prefixes and Suffixes: sub- , -ly | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 18.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Read "Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon" | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 18.3, 18.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /oo/ > 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', and 'ough' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: suburbs, baboon, and primate.

Lesson 18: Review: Vowel Teams for /oo/, Part 1

Warm-Up

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Make sure students feel the difference in articulation between /oo/ and /ue/. Practice saying the sounds together.

Have students feel their mouths as they say the two sounds. Talk about what their mouths are doing and how it feels different. Have students look in a mirror to see the difference as they say the sounds /oo/ and /ue/. Students can also look at each other's mouths as they say the two sounds.

Talk about how their mouths look different when they say the sounds /oo/ and /ue/.

ELPS 2.A; ELPS 2.B;

ELPS 2.C; ELPS 3.A

Challenge

Ask students to think of other words with /oo/ and /ue/. Have individual students say the word pairs to the class and ask which word has the /oo/ sound.

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /oo/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW WORDS WITH /OO/ (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that today they will review the sound /oo/ as in blue.
- Have students say the /oo/ sound several times, stretching it out.
- Explain that you will say some segmented sounds and then blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /b/ /oo/ /t/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (boot)
- Repeat with the words spoon, bloom, balloon, clue, rude, avenue, through.
- Say, "It can be hard to hear the difference between the /oo/ sound and the /ue/ sound as in cube."
- Explain that you are going to say some words. When students hear the /oo/ sound, they should raise their right hand, and when they hear the /ue/ sound, they should raise their left hand.
- Say the word moon. (/oo/)
- Write the word on the board. Have students repeat the word while they raise their right hand.
- Repeat with the following pairs:

| /oo/ | /ue/ |
|-------|------|
| ooze | use |
| fool | fuel |
| coo | cue |
| who | hue |
| flute | mute |

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 18: Review: Vowel Teams for /oo/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with /oo/ spelled 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', and 'ough'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW VOWEL TEAMS /OO/ > 'OO', 'UE', 'U_E', 'OUGH' (3 MIN.)

- Say, “The sound /oo/ can be spelled a few different ways.”
- Write the vowel teams 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', and 'ough' on the board. Point to each and say the sound /oo/. Have students repeat the sound.
- Write the /oo/ words from the Warm-Up on the board: blue, boot, spoon, bloom, balloon, clue, rude, avenue, through.
- Point to the word blue. Underline the 'ue.' Point to it and say, “We have learned that this spelling often makes the /ue/ sound, like in cue and hue. Today, we are going to talk about another sound for this spelling, /oo/.”
- Read blue aloud, emphasizing the /oo/ sound. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, “Which letters make the /oo/ sound in the word blue?” ('ue')
- Rewrite the word beneath the 'ue' heading on the board. Underline the 'ue' spelling.
- Repeat with the rest of the words.
- Direct students to Activity Page 18.1 and review the instructions. Read the words chorally with students.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Support

Students may confuse the vowel team 'ough' as /oo/ (through) with 'ough' as /aw/ (brought) or /aw/ + /f/ (cough). Explain that 'ough' can be pronounced many ways, such as in enough, thorough, drought, and through. It may help students to keep a running list of words they come across with the quadgraph spelling and add to it as they encounter new sounds or example words.

Activity Page 18.1

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the vowel team ‘ough’ is pronounced the same way in the words through and bought.”
(thumbs-down)

READ MULTISYLLABIC WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that a vowel team syllable is any syllable with one vowel followed by one or more letters that work together to make a single vowel sound. Both ‘oo’ and ‘ue’ are vowel teams that make the /oo/ sound.
- Write the word doodle on the board.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Ask, “Where should I split this word into syllables?” (between the second ‘o’ and the second ‘d’)
- Draw a slash to break the word into syllables: doo•dle.
- Point to the first syllable. Ask, “What kind of syllable is this?” (vowel team syllable)
- Read the word aloud with students: first, syllable by syllable, and then, as a whole word.
- Write the word untrue.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Have a volunteer come up to the board and draw slashes to split untrue into syllables. (un•true)
- Ask, “Which syllable has a vowel team? How do you know?” (the second syllable; the letters ‘ue’ work together to make the sound /oo/.)
- Point to the word and have students read it aloud.
- Repeat with the words kangaroo and bluebird asking students to identify the vowel team syllables and the letters that make up each vowel team.

Lesson 18: Review: Vowel Teams for /oo/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the affixes sub- and -ly. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

PREFIXES AND SUFFIXES: SUB-, -LY (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes and suffixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word. Each prefix is one syllable.
- Explain that we can read words with prefixes and suffixes by using the syllable chunking method.
- Say, “This week we have reviewed the prefix sub- and the suffix -ly.”
- Remind students that the prefix sub- means “under,” “below,” or “beneath” and that the suffix -ly changes adjectives into adverbs that usually describe verbs and adjectives. An adverb tells how something is done. An adverb can also be a characteristic of something.
- On the board, write the word slowly. Have students read the word aloud with you.
- Say, “I see the root word slow and the suffix -ly.”
- Say, “Let’s identify the meaning of this word by breaking it into its parts. I’m going to draw a line between the prefix and the root word. Where should I draw the line?” (after the root word slow and before the suffix -ly)
- Ask, “What is the meaning of the word slow?” (not fast)
- Say, “If the suffix -ly turns adjectives into adverbs, then what does slowly mean?” (in a way that is not fast)
- Repeat with the word excitedly.
- Remind students that adding the suffix -ly does not change the spelling of the root word unless the root word ends in ‘y’, as in happy. In this case, we must change the ‘y’ to ‘i’ before adding the suffix: happily.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Support

It might be helpful to define the following root words to help students understand how the affix changes their meaning: heading, committee, and region.

- Write the word patient on the board. Ask students to turn the adjective into an adverb by adding -ly. (patiently). Write patiently on the board. Have students read it aloud.
- Repeat with the word fortunate.
- Say, "Now, let's review the prefix sub-."
- On the board, write the word subgroup. Have students read the word aloud with you.
- Say, "I see the prefix sub- and the root word group."
- Draw a line between the suffix and the root word.
- Ask, "What is the meaning of the word group?" (a bunch or collection of something)
- Say, "If the prefix sub- means 'under,' 'below,' or 'beneath,' then what does subgroup mean?" (a group that is beneath or below another group)
- Say, "For example, pets are a one group of animals. All pets belong in this group. Dogs are a subgroup of pets, a smaller group of pets. Only dogs are in this subgroup."
- Write the word subheading on the board. Read it aloud, and then have students read it aloud. Say, "If the prefix sub- means 'under,' 'below,' or 'beneath,' then what does subheading mean? (A heading that is beneath or below the main heading.)
- Remind students that adding the prefix sub- to a root word does not change the spelling of the root word.
- Write the word committee on the board and ask a student to add the prefix sub- to create a word that means "a smaller committee below or within a larger committee." (subcommittee). Write subcommittee on the board. Have students read it aloud.
- Repeat with the word subregion.
- Direct students to Activity Page 18.2 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 18.2

Lesson 18: Review: Vowel Teams for /oo/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ “BROOKLYN AND THE BABY BABOON” (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 18.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
 - words: suburbs, assume, subtypes, pursued, promptly
 - phrases: “breakthrough moment,” “lost her footing,” “hardly contain herself”
 - domain-specific language: primates, baboons
- Have students follow along as you read “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., relief and reunited).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently
- Then have them turn to Activity Page 18.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don’t complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Activity Pages
18.3, 18.4

Support

Before reading “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Have students reread or scan the text to look for key ideas and details as they answer the comprehension questions.

Beginning

Have a strong reader work with a struggling reader to complete the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns, and work together to complete the comprehension questions.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to share their responses to the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.1

Check for Understanding

Turn and Talk: Have student pairs discuss and compare their answers to the comprehension questions. Remind students to be sure to cite specifics from the passage to support their answers. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner's thinking with the group.

Lesson 18: Review: Vowel Teams for /oo/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /oo/ > 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', and 'ough'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /oo/ > 'OO', 'UE', 'U_E', AND 'OUGH' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /oo/ > 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', and 'ough' that you say aloud.
- Say the word avenue. Repeat it. Have students write in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

| | | |
|---------------|-------------|-----------|
| 1. avenue | 4. moonbeam | 7. crude |
| 2. doodle | 5. blue | 8. spooky |
| 3. throughout | 6. clueless | 9. gloomy |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

1. Walk through that door to go outside.
2. The library books are overdue.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

~~~~~~
End Lesson
~~~~~

Lesson 18: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 18.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 18.3 “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 18.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
 - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
 - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: only and contain. Create or gather three to five additional Tricky Word cards to review.

- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word only and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘o’ is pronounced /oe/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /oe/ for this letter. We say /n/ for this letter. We say /l/ for this letter. We say /ee/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /oe/ /n/ /l/ /ee/, only. Say, “Only! It’s a word we hear all the time, like when we say ‘She loved not only reading about animals but also helping them!’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say only. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

REVIEW

Vowel Team /oo/

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /oo/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will identify and read words with /oo/ spelled 'oo'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix sub- and the suffix -ly. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /oo/ > 'oo'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon” Anecdotal
Reading Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as igh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|---|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Words with /oo/ | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Review Vowel Team /oo/ > 'oo' | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 19.1 |
| Read Compound Words with Vowel Team Syllables | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 19.2 |
| Morphology | | |
| Prefixes and Suffixes: sub- , -ly | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 19.3 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Reread "Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon" | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 18.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /oo/ > 'oo' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
 - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
 - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
 - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: suburbs, baboon, and primate.

Lesson 19: Review: Vowel Team /oo/, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /oo/. TEKS 3.2.A.i

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Make sure students feel the difference in articulation between /oo/ and /oo/. Practice saying the sounds together.

Have students feel their mouths as they say the two sounds. Talk about what their mouths are doing and how it feels different. Have students look in a mirror to see the difference as they say the sounds /oo/ and /oo/. Students can also look at each other's mouths as they say the two sounds.

Talk about how their mouths look different when they say the sounds /oo/ and /oo/.

ELPS 2.A; ELPS 2.B;

ELPS 2.C; ELPS 3.A

Challenge

Ask students to think of other words with /oo/ and /oo/. Have individual students say the word pairs to the class and ask which word has the /oo/ sound.

REVIEW WORDS WITH /OO/ (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that today they will review the sound /oo/ as in cook.
- Have students say the /oo/ sound several times, stretching it out.
- Explain that you will say some segmented sounds and then blend the sounds to say a word.
- Say the following sounds as students listen: /b/ /oo/ /k/. Ask students to blend the sounds and say the word. (book)
- Write the word on the board, and have students read it aloud.
- Repeat with the words look, rookie, football, and wooden. Add each word to the list on the board.
- Say, "We already learned that the 'oo' vowel team can make the /oo/ sound, as in moon. It can also make a different sound, /oo/, as in these words."
- Say each word aloud again, underlining the 'oo' in each and emphasizing the /oo/ sound.
- Say, "It can be hard to hear the difference between the /oo/ sound and the /oo/ sound."
- Explain that you are going to say some words. When students hear the /oo/ sound, they should raise their right hand, and when they hear the /oo/ sound, they should raise their left hand.
- Say the word nook. (/oo/)
- Write the word on the board. Have students read the word aloud. Then have them raise the correct hand.

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

- Repeat with the following words:

| /oo/ | /oo/ |
|-------------|-------------|
| nook | noon |
| good | food |
| shook | soon |
| brook | booth |

Lesson 19: Review: Vowel Team /oo/, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- ✚ Students will identify and read words with /oo/ spelled ‘oo’. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with vowel team syllables.

- ✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW VOWEL TEAM /OO/ > ‘OO’ (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that they will continue to practice identifying words with the /oo/ sound and words with the /oo/ sound.
- Direct students to Activity Page 19.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

READ COMPOUND WORDS WITH VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLES (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that a vowel team syllable is any syllable with one vowel followed by one or more letters that work together to make a single vowel sound, such as ‘oo’ working together to make the /oo/ sound.
- Say, “We are going to read compound words and identify the vowel team syllable in each one.”

- ✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Activity Page 19.1

- Write the word footlights on the board.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Ask, “Which smaller words do you see in the compound word footlights?” (foot, lights)
- Draw a slash to divide the word into syllables: foot•lights.
- Point out the vowel team ‘oo’ in the first syllable. Have a volunteer identify the sound that it makes. (/oo/)
- Point again to the first syllable. Ask, “What kind of syllable is this?” (vowel team syllable) Have students read it aloud.
- Point to the second syllable. Have a volunteer identify the vowel team ‘igh’.
- Ask, “What sound does the vowel team ‘igh’ make?” (/ie/) “What kind of syllable is this?” (vowel team syllable) Have students read it aloud.
- Point to the word and have students read it aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 19.2, and review the instructions. Read each word aloud, and have students draw a line to break each compound word into smaller words. If time allows, have students complete the rest of the activity page in class and read the words with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 19.2

Support

Remind students that a compound word is a word that is made up of two smaller words. Provide the following examples: nightlight, cupcake, and handshake.

Check for Understanding

Turn and Talk: Have partners compare and self-correct their work. Remind students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.

Lesson 19: Review: Vowel Team /oo/, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefix sub- and the suffix -ly.

 TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

PREFIXES AND SUFFIXES: SUB-, -LY (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes and suffixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word. Each prefix is one syllable.
- Explain that we can read words with prefixes and suffixes by using the syllable chunking method.
- Say, “This week we have reviewed the prefix sub- and the suffix -ly.”
- Remind students that the prefix sub- means “under,” “below,” or “beneath,” and the suffix -ly changes adjectives into adverbs that describe verbs and adjectives. An adverb tells how something is done. It also can tell a characteristic of something.
- Write on the board and read aloud the word urban. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, “This word means something having to do with a city.”
- Ask, “Who can make this word mean something that has to do with an area near the edge of a city?”
- Have a student come to the board to add the suffix sub- to the word urban to make suburban.
- Ask, “How could we use the word suburban in a sentence?” (Suburban areas can be quieter than big cities.)

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Activity Page 19.3

Support

As needed, review the meaning of the prefixes non-, mis-, dis-, un-, and re-.

- Write on the board and read aloud the word impulsive. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, “This word means to do something without thinking very carefully first. I want to change this adjective into an adverb that describes acting without thinking very carefully first.”
- Ask, “What suffix should I add to the word impulsive to make it into an adverb?” (-ly) “What is the new word?” (impulsively)
- Ask, “How would we use the word impulsively in a sentence?” (Example: Without thinking ahead, Doug impulsively grabbed a bag of spicy snack mix while he waited in the checkout line.)
- Repeat with the words subdivide, fortunately, subclassify, and mightily.
- Point out that when we add -ly to a word that already ends in ‘y’, we must change the ‘y’ to ‘i’ before adding the suffix.
- Direct students to Activity Page 19.3 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the affix or affixes changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 19: Review: Vowel Team /oo/, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon” fluently with a partner. TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “BROOKLYN AND THE BABY BABOON” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 18.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
 - draw a box around three words with the vowel team ‘oo’, such as in bedroom and books, and
 - circle three words with the affixes sub- and -ly, such as in submarines and quickly.

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Activity Page 18.3

Challenge

Have students identify the sound each ‘oo’ vowel team makes by highlighting the words in one color if it makes the /oo/ sound and another color if it makes the /oo/ sound.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with the affixes sub- and -ly.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Check for Understanding

Think-Pair-Share: Give students one minute to find and think about their annotations in the passage. Then have student pairs compare annotations with another pair. Tell students to signal when both sets of partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on partners to share one example from each category with the group.

Observation: “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon”
Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 19: Review: Vowel Team /oo/, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /oo/ > ‘oo’.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /OO/ > ‘OO’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /oo/ > ‘oo’ that you say aloud.
- Say the word shook. Repeat it. Have students write in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|-----------|-------------|-------------|
| 1. shook | 4. crooked | 7. cookbook |
| 2. rookie | 5. football | 8. wooden |
| 3. nook | 6. look | 9. bookcase |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. The coat is on the hook.
2. The teacher waved goodbye.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

~~~~~
End Lesson
~~~~~

Lesson 19: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 19.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done, ask pairs to share and check each other’s work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon” on Activity Page TR 18.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.

- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say only and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, oenlee. Write the letters to spell only on the board.
- Point to the word only and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /oe/ sound is spelled ‘o.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “We say /oe/ for this letter. We say /n/ for this letter. We say /l/ for this letter. We say /ee/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /oe/ /n/ /l/ /ee/, only. Say, “Only! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the word contain and the Tricky Words that you reviewed in Lesson 18. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

20

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will orally review words with vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will review reading words with vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will review reading words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review words with the affixes sub- and -ly.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will independently read “To the Moon” and will answer questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /aw/, /oo/, and /oo/.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Dictation Journal

Phonics/Encoding Dictation

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|-------------|--|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Sound Race | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page TR 20.1 |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Review Vowel Teams | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 20.1 |
| Review Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 20.2 |
| Morphology | | |
| Review Prefixes and Suffixes: sub- , -ly | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 20.3 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Read “To the Moon” Independently | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 20.4, 20.5 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Encoding Review | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Warm-Up

- Make a copy of Activity Page TR 20.1 and cut out vowel teams word cards to distribute to student pairs or small groups.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity, such as: astronaut, launch, spacecraft, footprints, and soil.

Lesson 20: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will orally review words with vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.A.i

SOUND RACE (3 MIN.)

- Distribute the vowel team cards from Activity Page TR 20.1 that you prepared in advance.
- Have students divide into small groups or pairs. Distribute a vowel team card to each group or pair.
- Tell students that they are going to review words with vowel teams they have learned about this week.
- Give each group or pair two minutes to write on their own paper all the words they can think of with this sound spelling.
- When time has elapsed, have each group share their list with the class.

Support

Review the sounds each vowel team can make: /aw/ > 'au' (as in fault), 'aw' (as in paw), 'al' (as in walk), 'ough' (as in bought), 'augh' (as in caught); /oo/ > 'oo' (as in moon), 'ue' (as in avenue), 'ough' (as in through), 'u_e' (as in rude); and /oo/ > 'oo' (as in book).

Lesson 20: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Primary Focus: Students will review reading words with vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will review reading words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW VOWEL TEAMS (3 MIN.)

- Tell students they will continue to review words with vowel teams that make the /aw/, /oo/, and /oo/ sounds.
- Direct students to Activity Page 20.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words aloud with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Activity Page 20.1

- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students complete Activity Page 20.1 to review and monitor their progress.

REVIEW CLOSED, OPEN, VCE, AND VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, "We have already learned about several different syllable types: open, closed, VCe, and vowel team."
- Write the following words on the board: bluebell, notebook, flawless, thoughtful, and naughty.
- Point to bluebell.
- Ask, "How many syllables does this word have?" (two)
- Have students identify the syllables. (blue•bell)
- Point to the first syllable. Say, "What kind of syllable is this? How do you know?" (vowel team; The letters 'ue' work together to make the /oo/ sound.) Have students read it aloud.
- Cover the first syllable.
- Ask, "What kind of syllable is the second syllable? How do you know?" (closed; It has a short vowel sound followed by a consonant.) Have students read it aloud.
- Point to the word and have students read it aloud.
- Point to notebook.
- Ask, "How many syllables does this word have?" (two)
- Have students identify the syllables. (note•book)
- Point to the first syllable. Say, "What kind of syllable is this? How do you know?" (VCe; The digraph o_e is separated by a consonant.) Have students read it aloud.

- Cover the first syllable.
- Ask, “What kind of syllable is the second syllable? How do you know?” (vowel team; The letters ‘oo’ work together to make the /oo/ sound.) Have students read it aloud.
- Point to the word and have students read it aloud.
- Repeat the routine with the remaining words.
- Direct students to Activity Page 20.2 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 20.2

Challenge

Challenge students to list as many words as they can that use the prefix sub- or the suffix -ly.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Review the meaning of the prefix sub- with a demonstration. Mime ocean waves with one arm and a submarine traveling underwater with the other. Say, “A submarine travels underwater.”

Intermediate

Ask students to act out a word with the prefix sub- or the suffix -ly. For example, a student may ask classmates to stand together in a subgroup of students who like cats more than dogs.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students say a sentence using a word with the prefix sub- or the suffix -ly.

ELPS 1.E

Lesson 20: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review words with the affixes sub- and -ly.

TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW PREFIXES AND SUFFIXES: SUB-, -LY (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes and suffixes are word parts added to the beginning or end of a root word to change the meaning of the word.
- Say, “The prefix sub- means “under,” “below,” or “beneath,” and the suffix -ly turns adjectives into adverbs.”
- Write and read aloud the following sentence on the board: “Water freezes quickly in subzero temperatures.”
- Ask, “What word with the prefix sub- do you see?” (subzero)
- Ask, “If the prefix sub- means “under,” “below,” or “beneath,” then what does subzero mean? (the temperature is below zero)

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Remind students that adding the prefix sub- to a word does not change the root word's spelling.
- Ask, "What word with the suffix -ly do you see?" (quickly)
- Ask, "If the suffix -ly turns adjectives into adverbs, then what does quickly mean?" (in a quick way)
- Tell students that adding -ly to quick did not change the word's spelling. Remind them that when we add -ly to a word that ends in 'y', we must change the 'y' to 'i' before adding the suffix.
- Direct students to Activity Page 20.3 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to choose the appropriate suffix and form a new word. Have them discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 20.3

Lesson 20: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will independently read “To the Moon” and will answer questions about key details in the text.

 TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

READ “TO THE MOON” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

- Tell students that they will be reading “To the Moon” independently. Direct students to Activity Page 20.4.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
 - words: balk, submerged, distraught, flaws, gawked
 - phrases: “undue harm,” “launch day dawned,” “left only their footprints”
 - domain-specific language: zero gravity, altitude, subzero, subfreezing
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., conditions and hesitate).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and
 - underline three words with vowel teams that make the /aw/ sound, such as launch;

Activity Pages
20.4, 20.5

 TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

Support

Before reading “To the Moon,” show the images you prepared in advance.

Have students repeat the word after you while showing each image.

If students struggle to identify the sound each vowel team makes, have them say the word aloud and match the sound to an example word, such as awful for /aw/, book for /oo/, and moon for /oo/.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have students write short phrases, draw their answers, or highlight sections of the text to answer the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Encourage students to reread the passage as needed when answering the comprehension questions.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to use new vocabulary and details from the passage when answering the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.G

- put a box around three words with vowel teams that make the /oo/ sound, such as moon;
 - circle three words with the affixes sub- and -ly, such as suburban and intensely; and
 - highlight three words with vowel team syllables that make the /oo/ sound, such as Sunnybrook.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 20.5 independently. If they don't complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
 - If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, and ask them to explain their annotation decisions.

Lesson 20: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /aw/, /oo/, and /oo/.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling some words with vowel teams that make the sounds /aw/, /oo/, or /oo/ that you say aloud.
- Remind students that they have learned about different sounds that can be spelled with 'oo' or 'ough'.
- Say the word subgroup. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|---------------|---------------|--------------|
| 1. subgroup | 4. undue | 7. prebook |
| 2. throughout | 5. rethought | 8. gloomily |
| 3. awful | 6. distraught | 9. saltiness |

- Then tell students that you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- | |
|-------------------------------|
| 1. I like to draw and doodle. |
| 2. The football game was fun. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Dictation Journals: Phonics/Encoding Dictation

Collect students' dictation journals to review and monitor student progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 20: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 20.2 for each student.
- Direct students back to Activity Page 20.4 "To the Moon."

- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 20.2.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
 - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
 - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “To the Moon” on Activity Page TR 20.2. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lessons 16 and 18 (thoughtfully, grocery, eventually, cautious, buildings, only, contain). Write the following new words on index cards: special, situations, temperatures, and system.

- Use the cards with the new words. Say, “Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Display and point to the word system and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘y’ is pronounced /i/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /s/ for this letter. We say /i/ for this letter. We say /s/ for this letter. We say /t/ for this letter. We say /ə/ for this letter. We say /m/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds /s/ /i/ /s/ /t/ /ə/ /m/, system. Say, “System! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘They cautiously checked the control system for flaws.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say system. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, “It is helpful to remember another word that has the /i/ sound spelled ‘y.’” Write gym on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining word(s), mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lessons 16 and 18. Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let’s play a game. We’re going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let’s see how fast we can go. My turn first.”
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, “Do you think you can go faster than I did?”
- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.
- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.

- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.
- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the unit.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

(1) Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

(2) Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1-10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.
- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student’s set of cards.

REVIEW

Diphthongs

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will blend and identify words with /oi/ spelled 'oi' and 'oy'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /oi/ spelled 'oi' and 'oy'. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify and read words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use of words with the suffix -ous.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Coins” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in the

- text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /oy/ > 'oi' and 'oy'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 21.1 Words with 'oi' and 'oy'

- TEKS 3.2.A.i

Observation Discussion Questions Observation Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|---|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Words with /oi/ | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Read Words with /oi/ > 'oi', 'oy' | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 21.1 |
| Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words | 3 min. | |
| Morphology | | |
| Identify and Use the Suffix -ous | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 21.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Read "Coins" with Accuracy | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 21.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /oi/ > 'oi', 'oy' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- For the syllabication activity, create a chart with the following column headings: Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team. You will use this chart in Lesson 21 and Lesson 22.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Discussion Questions Observation Record that you prepared in Lesson 1. Remember to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question over the course of the week. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer literal, inferential, and evaluative questions and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: bough, mint (for coins), alloy, pound (British), symbol, and parking meter.

Review: Diphthongs, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will blend and identify words with /oi/ spelled 'oi' and 'oy'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW WORDS WITH /OI/ (3 MIN.)

- Introduce the /oi/ sound.
- Say the following words: boy, toy, joyful, coin, oil, and boiling.
- Say, "The two letters that make the vowel team in these words glide together a little more than other vowel teams we've reviewed in the last few lessons."
- Write the words above on the board: boy, toy, joyful, coin, oil, and boiling.
- Explain that the gliding sound is called a diphthong.
- Say boy aloud in a segmented and then blended fashion, exaggerating the gliding sound with 'oooyyeee.' As you exaggerate the sound, slide a finger beneath the letters so that students can associate the sound with print.
- Have students read the word aloud with you, encouraging them to also exaggerate the diphthong.
- Repeat with the other words.

Lesson 21: Review: Diphthongs, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with /oi/ spelled 'oi' and 'oy'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ WORDS WITH /OI/ > 'OI', 'OY' (3 MIN.)

- Point to the words on the board from the Warm-Up.
- Say, “The gliding /oi/ diphthong is spelled two ways. Look at the words on the board. How is it spelled?” (‘oi’ and ‘oy’)
- Mark ‘oy’ in boy. Say, “Most of the time, ‘oy’ appears at the end of a syllable or word, as it does in boy.”
- Have a student approach the board and mark ‘oy’ in another word on the board, such as toy. Say the word aloud and have students read it aloud.
- Mark ‘oi’ in coin. Say, “Most of the time, ‘oi’ appears in the middle of a word or syllable, as it does in coin.”
- Have a student approach the board and mark ‘oi’ in another word on the board, such as boiling. Say the word aloud and have students read it aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 21.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 21.1

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “The /oi/ sound can be spelled two different ways: ‘oi’ and ‘oy’.

Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree.” (thumbs-up)

READ CLOSED, OPEN, VCE, AND VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Direct students’ attention to the chart you prepared in advance on the board. Point to the column headings: Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team.
- Say, “In the activity we’re about to do, you will help me identify the syllable type or types for each word. Some of the words will have more than one syllable, so we may write a word in more than one column on the chart.”
- Write the word comet on the board.

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Remind students about or reteach the difference between open and closed syllables.

- In a closed syllable, a vowel is followed by (or closed by) one or more consonants.
- In a closed syllable, the vowel makes a short vowel sound, like basket or mitten.
- In an open syllable, a vowel is followed by nothing.
- In an open syllable, the vowel makes a long vowel sound, like go or hi.

Intermediate

Provide the following one-syllable words and have students indicate which are open and closed: be, ship, ten, and my.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Prompt students to give examples of open and closed syllables.

ELPS 1.F

- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Underline the vowel in the first syllable. Say, “The vowel is between two consonants.”
- Mark the syllables in com•et with a slash. Ask, “What type is the first syllable?” (closed) Have students read the first syllable aloud.
- Underline the vowel in the second syllable.
- Ask, “What type is the second syllable?” (closed) Have students read the second syllable aloud.
- Write the word in the Closed column on the chart.
- Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words, marking syllable types as you work: ego (open; open), pony (open; open), came (VCe), complex (closed; closed), decoy (open; vowel team), boil (vowel team), inside (closed; VCe).
- If the word has more than one syllable type, write it in more than one column.

Lesson 21: Review: Diphthongs, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use of words with the suffix -ous. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

IDENTIFY AND USE THE SUFFIX -OUS (6 MIN.)

- Introduce the suffix -ous. Explain that -ous is another example of a suffix that changes the part of speech of the root word.
- Say, “The suffix -ous changes a noun to an adjective.”
- Write dangerous on the board. Read the word aloud with students.
- Ask, “What is the root word?” (danger)

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Say, “The word danger is a noun.”
- Point to dangerous. Ask, “What is the suffix?” (-ous)
- Say, “The suffix -ous means ‘full of’ or ‘having a lot of.’ Something that is dangerous is full of danger.”
- Say, “The word dangerous is an adjective.”
- Ask a volunteer to say a sentence using the word dangerous.
- Point out that the ‘ou’ in -ous makes the /u/ sound. Point out that it is different from the sound spelling /ou/ > ‘ou’.
- Repeat the routine with hazardous, poisonous, perilous, and zealous.
- Direct students to Activity Page 21.2. Review the instructions, and complete the first item as a class.
- Have students work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Support

Provide additional practice with words that have more than one syllable type. Say and write words with both open and closed syllables item (open/closed), even (open/closed), moment (open/closed), and have students mark each type of syllable by circling the open syllables and underlining the closed syllables.

Activity Page 21.2

Challenge

Have students work in pairs to create their own list of words with the suffix -ous. Have them use the words in sentences.

Challenge

Ask volunteers to read some or part of the text aloud. After they read, point out any adjustments the student made to read with accuracy.

Activity Page 21.3

Support

Before reading “Coins,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Part 2

Lesson 21: Review: Diphthongs, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Coins” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer oral comprehension questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ “COINS” WITH ACCURACY (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 21.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
 - words: sprout, mounds, public figures, drought, rejoice;
 - phrases: “money doesn’t grow on trees”
 - domain-specific language: mint, alloys, press, currency
- Have students follow along as you read “Coins.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the text again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., majestic and symbolize).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the text once more with the whole class as a choral read.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “Coins”

1. Literal. Where are coins made?
 - » Coins are made in factories called mints.
2. Literal. What are alloys?
 - » Alloys are mixtures of metals.
3. Literal. What kinds of pictures can be found on coins?
 - » Possible response: Coins may have pictures of former public figures, buildings, animals, mountainous views, or symbols.
4. Literal. What are some common uses of coins?
 - » Possible response: Coins are used to provide change and to put in parking meters, vending machines, or piggy banks.
5. Inferential. Why might coins come in different sizes and colors?
 - » Possible response: Coins are worth different amounts, and the different sizes and colors help people recognize types of coins more easily.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Ask students yes/no questions using simple phrases to summarize the text: Do we use coins for money? (yes) Are coins made of paper? (No, they are made of metal.) Are all coins the same size? (no)

Intermediate

Provide students with a specific sentence frame for summarizing and use temporal words: Before we can use _____, they must be made in a _____. (coins; mint)

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to expand/or build on other students' responses and phrases.

ELPS 4.G; ELPS 4.I

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say: “Give a thumbs-up if you think I read this sentence with appropriate expression.” Read the following sentence in a monotone voice: “Many people are curious about these round objects because the world of coins is astounding!” (thumbs-down)

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students' performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.

- Turn and Talk: For the inferential question, have students share their thoughts with one another. Remind students to be sure to cite specifics from the passage to support their answer. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner's thinking with the group.

Lesson 21: Review: Diphthongs, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /oy/ > 'oi' and 'oy'.

 TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /OI/ > 'OI', 'OY' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /oi/ > 'oi', 'oy'.
- Say, "Remember, the gliding /oi/ diphthong is spelled two ways."
- Say, "Most of the time, 'oy' appears at the end of a syllable or word. Most of the time, 'oi' appears in the middle of a word or syllable."
- Say the word joyous. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|--------------|----------|----------|
| 1. joyous | 4. foil | 7. royal |
| 2. poisonous | 5. avoid | 8. moist |
| 3. decoy | 6. point | 9. loyal |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- | |
|--|
| 1. She enjoys playing with her toys. |
| 2. I will rejoin the voyage next fall. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

 TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

~~~~~
End Lesson
~~~~~

Lesson 21: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 21.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 21.3.
- Have them reread "Coins."
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 21.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
 - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
 - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: doesn't, designs and mountainous.
- Say, "Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you've been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That's what makes them tricky."

- Display and point to the word designs and say, “This word is tricky because each ‘s’ is pronounced /z/, the ‘i’ is pronounced /ie/, and the ‘gn’ is pronounced /n/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /d/ for this letter. We say /ə/ for this letter. We say /z/ for this letter. We say /ie/ for this letter. We say /n/ for these letters. We say /z/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /d/ /ə/ /z/ /ie/ /n/ /z/, designs. Say, “Designs! It’s a word we hear all the time, like when we say ‘Coins can have interesting designs on them.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say designs. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.

REVIEW

Words with /ou/ 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will identify words with the /ou/ sound. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with the sound /ou/ spelled with vowel teams 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough'. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will identify and read words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will identify the meaning of and use of words with the suffix -ous.
TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

- Students will reread "Coins" fluently with a partner.
TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /ou/ > 'ow', 'ou', 'ough'.
TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

"Coins" Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants;

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|---|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Words with /ou/ | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Read Words with /ou/ > 'ou', 'ow', 'ough' | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 22.1 |
| Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 22.2 |
| Morphology | | |
| Identify and Use the Suffix -ous | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 22.3 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Reread "Coins" | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 21.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /ou/ > 'ow', 'ou', 'ough' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Students will work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their pronunciation of certain sounds as they decode words, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Decoding document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
 - Have students take turns reading the entire passage.
 - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
 - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the passage.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: bough, mint (for coins), alloy, pound (British), symbol, and parking meter.

Review: Words with /ou/ 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough', Part 1

Warm-up

Primary Focus: Students will identify words with the /ou/ sound. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW WORDS WITH /OU/ (3 MIN.)

- Introduce the /ou/ sound.
- Say the following words, having students repeat each after you: shout, our, cow, shower, pout, power, mouse, crown, bough, and towel.
- Explain that the /ou/ sound is not the same as the /oi/ sound students have practiced in the previous lesson.
- Say, "I'm going to say words. When you hear a word with the /oi/ sound, raise your right hand. When you hear a word with the /ou/ sound, raise your left hand."
- Conduct the activity with the following words: employee (right hand), proud (left), oyster (right), announced (left), mouse (left), unspoiled (right), meow (left), and drought (left).

Support

Provide students with a few more /oi/ and /ou/ words: mouth, join, joy, and sound. Have students turn to a partner and decide if the vowel sounds in each of the words sound like /ow/ in now or /oi/ in boy. Then have each pair share their answers with the class.

Lesson 22: Review: Words with /ou/ 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with the sound /ou/ spelled with vowel teams 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team

syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ WORDS WITH /OU/ > 'OU', 'OW', 'OUGH' (3 MIN.)

- Create a T-chart on the board with the headings 'ou' and 'ow'.
- Say the word shout. Then write the word in the 'ou' column of the chart, circling the /ou/ sound-spelling. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the other words from the Warm-Up, writing each in the correct column: our, cow, shower, pout, power, mouse, crown, bough, and towel.
- Say, "The /ou/ sound is usually spelled 'ou' when it comes at the beginning or in the middle of the word."
- Emphasize this by pointing to our and pout. Have students read these words aloud.
- Say, "The /ou/ sound is usually spelled 'ow' when it comes at the end of the word or in the middle of the word before 'er', 'el', and 'n'."
- Emphasize this by pointing to cow, shower, towel, and crown. Have students read these words aloud.
- Say, "Remember, 'ow' can also make the /oe/ sound, as in pillow. The 'ow' spelling is tricky. When you see it in a word, you may need to try saying the word with each sound to decide which is right."
- Say, "The /ou/ sound can also be spelled 'ough'." Point to bough. Have students read the word aloud.
- Say, "We have learned that 'ough' can make many sounds. The sound /ou/ is one of them."
- Direct students to Activity Page 22.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Note: You may wish to point out to students that the spelling 'ou' sometimes makes the /oo/ sound (as in soup) and the short /u/ sound (as in cousin). Students will become more familiar with vowel teams that don't make the expected sounds as they practice decoding words.

READ CLOSED, OPEN, VCE, AND VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Refer students to the chart you began in Lesson 21.

Activity Page 22.1

- Write the word rebound on the board.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Underline the vowel in the first syllable.
- Mark the syllables in re•bound with a slash. Ask, “What type is the first syllable?” (open) Have students read the first syllable aloud.
- Underline the vowel team in the second syllable.
- Ask, “What type is the second syllable?” (vowel team) Have students read the second syllable aloud.
- Write the word in the Open and Vowel Team columns on the chart.
- Have students read the word aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 22.2 and review the instructions.
- As a class, work together to identify the syllable types in spaceship.
- Have students work on the activity page in class. Circulate as they work.
- If needed, ask students to complete it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 22.2

Challenge

Challenge students to come up with words that have three or more syllables and at least two syllable types, such as windowpane. Have small groups share and discuss their words.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “The word decode has an open syllable and a VCe syllable. Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree.” (thumbs-up)

Lesson 22: Review: Words with /ou/ ‘ou’, ‘ow’, and ‘ough’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use of words with the suffix -ous. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

IDENTIFY AND USE THE SUFFIX -OUS (6 MIN.)

- Say, “Remember that -ous is another example of a suffix that changes the part of speech of a root word.”
- Ask students to complete this sentence. “If you add the suffix -ous to a noun, the word becomes an ____.” (adjective)
- Write fame on the board. Read the word aloud with the students.
- Say, “This word is a noun. Let’s turn it into an adjective by adding -ous.”
- Add -ous to fame. Ask, “Should I write it like this?” (no)
- Demonstrate dropping the ‘e’ to add -ous.
- Say the word famous and have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, “In your own words, what does famous mean?” (having a lot of fame; lots of people know about you)
- Ask a volunteer to use the word in a sentence.
- Write envy on the board. Read the word aloud with the students. Discuss the meaning of the word.
- Say, “This word is a noun. Let’s turn it into an adjective by adding -ous.”
- Add -ous to envy. Ask, “Should I write it like this?” (no)
- Demonstrate replacing the ‘y’ with ‘i’ and adding -ous.
- Say the word envious and have students read it aloud.
- Ask, “In your own words, what does envious mean?” (full of envy; jealous)
- Direct students to Activity Page 22.3. Read and briefly define the nouns, and then review the instructions.
- Complete the first item as a class. Have students work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Remind students about VCe syllables.

- In a VCe syllable, a vowel is followed by one consonant and then the silent ‘e’.
- In a VCe syllable, the first vowel makes a long vowel sound.

Intermediate

Provide the following one-syllable words and have students indicate which are VCe syllables: huge (yes), hug (no), lint (no), and line (yes).

Advanced/ Advanced High

Prompt students to give examples of VCe syllables.

ELPS 1.F

Challenge

Challenge students to write a sentence using both envious and famous. Have students share their sentences with the class.

Activity Page 22.3

Challenge

Have students annotate the different syllable types using the following marks:

'C' for closed syllables, 'O' for open syllables, 'V' for vowel team syllables, and 'VCe' for Vowel-Consonant-e syllables.

Activity Page 21.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough'.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Lesson 22: Review: Words with /ou/, 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread "Coins" fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD "COINS" (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today's passage with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the passage.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 21.3. Tell students that today they will reread "Coins" with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about "Coins."
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
 - underline three words with 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough', such as about, brown, or bough;
 - circle three words that end in -ous, such as wondrous; and

TEKS 3.1.D Students will work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols;
TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Read grade-level text with fluency and comprehension.

- highlight three words that have more than one syllable type, such as numerous.

Observation: “Coins” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Coins,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 22: Review: Words with /ou/ ‘ou’, ‘ow’, and ‘ough’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /ou/ > ‘ow’, ‘ou’, ‘ough’.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /OU/ > ‘OW’, ‘OU’, ‘OUGH’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain to students that they will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /ou/ > ‘ow’, ‘ou’, and ‘ough’.
- Say, “Remember, the /ou/ sound is usually spelled ‘ou’ when it comes at the beginning or in the middle of the word.”
- Say, “Remember, the /ou/ sound is usually spelled ‘ow’ when it comes at the end of the word or in the middle of the word before ‘er’, ‘el’, and ‘n’”
- Say, “Remember, the /ou/ sound can also be spelled ‘ough’”
- Say the word doubtful. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|-------------|--------------|------------|
| 1. doubtful | 4. household | 7. drought |
| 2. fountain | 5. plow | 8. towel |
| 3. bough | 6. shower | 9. owl |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. The cowboy rides on the mountainside.
2. The unhappy clown is frowning.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 22: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 22.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done writing, ask pairs to share and check each other’s work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Coins” on Activity Page TR 21.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.

- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say designs and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, dəziənz. Write the letters to spell designs on the board.
- Point to the word designs and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because each /z/ sound is spelled ‘s’, the /ie/ sound is spelled ‘i’, and the /n/ sound is spelled ‘gn.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “We say /d/ for this letter. We say /ə/ for this letter. We say /z/ for this letter. We say /ie/ for this letter. We say /n/ for these letters. We say /z/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /d/ /ə/ /z/ /ie/ /n/ /z/, designs. Say, “Designs! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words doesn’t and mountainous. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.

- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

REVIEW

Words with /ae/ > 'eigh'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will identify words with the /ae/ sound. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with the quadgraph 'eigh'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team

- syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use of words with the suffix -ous.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read "Zoila's Sleigh" fluently and answer questions about key details

- in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /ae/ > 'eigh'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 23.3

Define Words

- TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

| | Time | Materials |
|--|---------|--|
| Part 1 (15 min.) | | |
| Warm-Up | | |
| Review Words with /ae/ | 3 min. | |
| Phonics—Decoding | | |
| Read Words with /ae/ > 'eigh' | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 23.1 |
| Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words | 3 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 23.2 |
| Morphology | | |
| Identify and Use the Suffix -ous | 6 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 23.3 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. | | |
| Part 2 (15 min.) | | |
| Reading | | |
| Read "Zoila's Sleigh" | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 23.4, 23.5 |
| Phonics—Encoding | | |
| Spell Words with /ae/ > 'eigh' | 5 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

Consider having students cut the word cards on Activity Page 23.2 before the activity begins.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: sleigh (dogsled type), drought, snowplow, harnesses, and freight.

Review: Words with /ae/ > 'eigh', Part 1

Warm-up

Primary Focus: Students will identify words with the /ae/ sound. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW WORDS WITH /AE/ (3 MIN.)

- Remind students what they have learned about words with the /ae/ sound.
- Say the following words, having students repeat each after you: fame, paint, day, same, faint, and say.
- Say, "These are all words with the /ae/ sound. Let's say more words with the /ae/ sound."
- Say the following words, having students repeat each after you: eight, sleigh, weight, neighbor, and freight.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "The following words all have the /ae/ sound: eighth, nay, crane. Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree." (thumbs-up)

Lesson 23: Review: Words with /ae/ > 'eigh', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Primary Focus: Students will read words with the quadgraph 'eigh'. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will identify and read words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team

syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ WORDS WITH /AE/ > 'EIGH' (3 MIN.)

- Create a chart on the board with the following headings: 'a_e', 'ai', 'ay', 'eigh'.
- Say the word fame again. Then write the word in the 'a_e' column of the chart, marking the VCe spelling. Have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with other words from the Warm-Up, writing each in the correct column and marking the sound spelling: fame, paint, day, same, faint, and say. Have students read each word.
- Point to the 'eigh' heading of the chart. Say, "The /ae/ sound is also sometimes spelled with 'eigh'. This spelling does not happen very often. We need to remember how to spell words with 'eigh'."
- Say the 'eigh' words from the Warm-Up, writing each in the correct column and marking the sound spelling: eight, sleigh, weight, neighbor, and freight. Have students read each word.
- Direct students to Activity Page 23.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class and read the words aloud with a partner. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

READ CLOSED, OPEN, VCE, AND VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Assign students to partners or small groups.
- Direct students to Activity Page 23.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students work together to complete the activity. Circulate as students work, assuring they are sorting words correctly.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Challenge

After students have sorted their word cards, challenge them to come up with sentences using the words. Have students share their sentences with the class.

Activity Page 23.1

Activity Page 23.2

Support

Provide students with a few words with the suffix -ous. Then have students turn to a partner and say a sentence with the word. Have pairs discuss if it is the correct usage of the word.

Activity Page 23.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Ask students to raise their hand when they hear a word with the suffix -ous: curious (yes), cloudiness, anxious (yes), delicious (yes), heavyweight, obvious (yes), rushing, nervous (yes).

Intermediate

Have students practice using the words by providing sentence frames. For example, The boy was _____ about what was in the box. (curious)

Advanced/

Advanced High Ask a question using one of the words and have a volunteer answer. For example, "What are you curious about?"

ELPS 1.C

Lesson 23: Review: Words with /ae/ > 'eigh', Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use of words with the suffix -ous. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

IDENTIFY AND USE THE SUFFIX -OUS (6 MIN.)

- Write the following words on the board: jealous, previous, and tedious.
- Ask, "What do these words have in common?" (They end with -ous.)
- Say, "These words are like other words we have learned about that have the suffix -ous. They are adjectives."
- Circle the -ous in each of the words.
- Say, "These words have root words that may not be familiar to us. Some come from Latin, Greek, and other languages."
- Write serious on the board. Say, "This word is an example. It comes from the Latin word serius. Like the Latin word, if something is serious, it is important or needs careful thought or attention. In English we use the ending -ous with this word as we do with other adjectives that have that ending sound. In words like anxious, fabulous, and generous, the root words may not sound familiar to us at all."
- Direct students to Activity Page 23.3 and review the instructions. Complete anxious and outrageous as a class.
- Have students choose either anxious or outrageous and work with a partner to discuss how the affix changed the meaning of the root word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Lesson 23: Review: Words with /ae/ > 'eigh', Part 2

Reading

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have a strong reader work with a struggling reader to complete the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns, and work together to complete the comprehension questions.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to share their responses to the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.1

Support

Before reading Zoila's "Sleigh", show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Activity

Pages 23.4, 23.5

Primary Focus: Students will read "Zoila's Sleigh" and answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ "ZOILA'S SLEIGH" (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 23.4.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
 - words: drought, hoisted, power (verb), courteous, boisterous
 - phrases: "outweighed her love," "serious amount," "precious freight"
- Have students follow along as you read "Zoila's Sleigh."
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., spontaneous and fabulous).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently.
- After students have read the passage, have them turn to Activity Page 23.5 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don't complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their responses to the comprehension questions.

Lesson 23: Review: Words with /ae/ > 'eigh', Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /ae/ > 'eigh'.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /AE/ > 'EIGH' (5 MIN.)

- Explain to students that they will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /ae/ > 'eigh'.
- Say, "Remember, the /ae/ sound is sometimes spelled with 'eigh'. This spelling does not happen very often. We need to remember how to spell words with 'eigh.'"
- Say the word eight. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- | | | |
|-------------|-------------|---------------|
| 1. eight | 4. sleigh | 7. weightless |
| 2. freight | 5. weigh | 8. eighty |
| 3. neighbor | 6. eighteen | 9. weighty |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. I love my neighborhood.
2. You should wear a lightweight jacket today.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

~~~~~ End Lesson ~~~~~

Lesson 23: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 23.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 23.4.
- Have them reread “Zoila’s Sleigh.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 23.1.
- Tell students they will use text evidence to write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences. Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

24

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will review words with vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will review reading words with vowel teams and quadgraphs. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will review identifying and reading words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review identifying the meaning of and use of words with the

- suffix -ous. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Zoila’s Sleigh” fluently with a partner.

- TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /oi/ > ‘oy’ and ‘oi’, /ou/ > ‘ou’, ‘ow’, ‘ough’,

- and /ae/ > ‘eigh’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Zoila’s Sleigh” Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Read grade-level text independently; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                             |
| Review Words with /oi/, /ou/, and /ae/Sound Spellings                                      | 3 min.      |                                             |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Review Words with /oi/, /ou/, /ae/                                                             | 3 min.      |                                             |
| Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel TeamSyllable Words                                       | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 24.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                             |
| Identify and Use the Suffix -ous                                                        | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 24.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                             |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                             |
| Reread “Zoila’s Sleigh”                                                                        | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 23.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                             |
| Encoding Review                                                                                | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal  |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 2 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: sleigh (dogsled type), drought, snowplow, harnesses, and freight.

Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Primary Focus: Students will review words with vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.A.i

REVIEW WORDS WITH /OI/, /OU/, AND /AE/ SOUND-SPELLINGS (3 MIN.)

- Say, "This week we learned about spelling the /oi/ sound."
- Write /oi/ on the board. Say and write each of the following words on the board underneath the /oi/ heading: appoint, boiling, destroy, enjoy, rejoin.
- Point to each word on the board and have students read it aloud.
- Say, "This week we also learned about spelling the /ou/ sound."
- Write /ou/ on the board. Say and write each of the following words on the board underneath the /ou/ heading: shout, our, cow, shower, bough, drought.
- Point to each word on the board and have students read it aloud.
- Say, "One other spelling we learned this week was for the /ae/ sound."
- Write /ae/ on the board. Say and write each of the following words on the board underneath the /ae/ heading: eight, sleigh, weightless, neighbor, freight.
- Point to each word on the board and have students read it aloud.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "The following words all have the /ae/ sound: bought, coil, loyally, lost. Give a thumbs-up if you agree and a thumbs-down if you disagree." (thumbs-down)

Language

Learning How English Works

Ask students to perform particular actions when they hear words with different sounds. For example, they may raise a hand if they hear a word with /oi/, stand up if they hear a word with /ou/, or nod their head if they hear a word with /ae/: heavyweight (nod head), around (stand up), avoid (raise hand), annoy (raise hand), howl (stand up), and eighteen (nod head).

Intermediate

Write heavyweight on the board. Have a volunteer approach the board and mark the letters that make the sound for /ae/. Repeat with other words taught during the week.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Name a sound (/oi/, /ou/, or /ae/) and ask students to say a word that contains that sound.

ELPS 1.C

TEKS 3.2.A.i Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en.

Lesson 24: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- ✦ Students will review reading words with vowel teams and quadgraphs. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- Students will review identifying and reading words with closed, open, VCe, and
- ✦ vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW WORDS WITH /OI/, /OU/, /AE/ (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Let’s continue to review the vowel team spellings we reviewed this week.”
- Say, “Let’s read these words with the /oi/ sound again.”
- Point to the words from the Warm-Up: appoint, boiling, destroy, enjoy, rejoin. Have students read them aloud with you.
- Ask, “What is another word with the /oi/ sound spelled with ‘oy’ or ‘oi’?”
- Have volunteers write one or two responses for each spelling on the board. Have students read the added words aloud with you.
- Say, “Now let’s read these words with the /ou/ sound again.”
- Point to the /ou/ words from the Warm-Up: shout, our, cow, shower, bough, drought. Have students read them aloud with you.
- Ask, “What is another word with the /ou/ sound spelled with ‘ou’, ‘ow’, or ‘ough’?”
- Have volunteers write one or two responses for each spelling on the board. Have students read the added words aloud with you.
- Say, “And now let’s read these words with the /ae/ sound spelled ‘eigh’.”
- Point to the ‘eigh’ words from the Warm-Up: eight, sleigh, weightless, neighbor, freight. Have students read them aloud with you.
- Ask, “What is another word with the /ae/ sound spelled with ‘eigh’?”

Support

Remind students that they can clap out syllables. Remind them that it can also be helpful to divide words into syllables using a slash. Demonstrate if needed.

Challenge

Have students generate their own list of /ae/, /ou/, and /oi/ words. Then have them write a paragraph using several of the words. Ask them to mark the sound spellings in the /ae/, /ou/, and /oi/ words. Have students share their work with a partner.

- ✦ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Have volunteers write responses on the board. Have students read the added words aloud with you.

READ CLOSED, OPEN, VCE, AND VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Let’s continue to review words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team syllables.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 24.1 and review the instructions.
- Have students read aloud the first few words, and write them on the board.
- Do a quick review of closed and open syllables by asking students to approach the board and circle the open syllables and underline the closed syllables.
- Circulate as students work, asking students to identify syllable types in the words they are sorting.
- Have students complete the activity page at home, if needed.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 24.1

Lesson 24: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review identifying the meaning of and use of words with the suffix -ous. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

IDENTIFY AND USE THE SUFFIX -OUS (6 MIN.)

- Say, “Let’s continue to review words with -ous.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 24.2. Review the instructions and complete the first item as a class.

Activity Page 24.2

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Have students work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work independently to complete the rest of the activity page in class. Circulate as students work, answering questions as needed. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 24: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Zoila’s Sleigh” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “ZOILA’S SLEIGH” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 23.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Zoila’s Sleigh” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Zoila’s Sleigh.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- Tell students that after they finish reading, they should work together to
  - underline three words with the /oi/ sound, such as joined and Troy;
  - draw a box around three words with the /ou/ sound, such as outweighed;
  - put a star by three words with the /ae/ sound spelled ‘eigh’, such as sleigh;
  - circle three words with -ous, such as marvelous.

TEKS 3.1.D work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Read grade-level text independently.

Challenge

Have students annotate other words in the text that contain vowel teams they have learned about, such as season and snow.

Activity Page 23.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with the /oi/, /ou/, and /ae/ sounds.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Observation: “Zoila’s Sleigh” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Zoila’s Sleigh,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 24: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /oi/ > ‘oy’ and ‘oi’; /ou/ > ‘ou’, ‘ow’, and ‘ough’, and /ae/ > ‘eigh’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain to students that they will be writing in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /oi/ > ‘oy’ and ‘oi’; /ou/ > ‘ou’, ‘ow’, and ‘ough’; and ‘ae’ > ‘eigh’ that they learned about this week.
- Say, “Remember, the /ou/ sound is usually spelled ‘ou’ when it comes at the beginning of the word or in the middle of the word. The /ou/ sound is usually spelled ‘ow’ when it comes at the end of the word or in the middle of the word before ‘er’, ‘el’, and ‘n.’”
- Say, “Remember, /oi/ is spelled two ways. Most of the time, ‘oy’ appears at the end of a syllable or word. Most of the time, ‘oi’ appears in the middle of a word or syllable.”
- Say, “Remember, the /ae/ sound is sometimes spelled with ‘eigh’. This spelling does not happen very often. We need to remember how to spell words with ‘eigh.’”
- Say the word weightless. Repeat it. Have students write it in their journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- |               |             |              |
|---------------|-------------|--------------|
| 1. weightless | 4. drought  | 7. joyous    |
| 2. cowboy     | 5. avoid    | 8. poisonous |
| 3. decoy      | 6. eighteen | 9. shout     |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                            |
|--------------------------------------------|
| 1. The power went out in the neighborhood. |
| 2. The mouse sits on a mound of soil.      |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

~~~~~
End Lesson
~~~~~

Lesson 24: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 24.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity.
- When students are done, ask pairs to share and check each other's work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Zoila’s Sleigh” on Activity Page TR 23.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

ENRICHMENT PASSAGE

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 24.2 for each student.
- Tell students they will be reading a short passage with some of the sound spellings and syllable types they have recently learned.
- Direct students to the passage “Tommy’s Big Dream.” Tell students that they may read the passage either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the passage again and
  - underline three words with oy, ou, ue, or oo, such as out;
  - put a box around two vowel team syllable words such as explains;
  - and highlight one VCe syllable word, such as enterprise.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions independently. If they do not complete the activity page in class, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, review student responses and engage students in a discussion when the opportunity arises. Encourage students to build on each other’s responses with the following sentence starters:
  - I agree with _____ because. . .
  - I have an additional perspective about. . .
  - That is a great point because. . .
  - Another example is. . .

REVIEW

Foundational Skills Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will review reading words with vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.A.i

Students will review identifying and reading words with closed, open, VCe, and

- vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review identifying the meaning of and using words with prefixes and

- suffixes. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will independently read “Giovanni’s Safety Lesson” and will answer questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will complete the dictation posttest for Unit 2. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 25.5

Unit 2 Dictation Posttest

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|-----------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                             |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                             |
| Word Baseball                                                                                  | 6 min.      |                             |
| Read Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words                                          | 3 min.      | ☐ Activity Page 25.1        |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                             |
| Review Prefixes and Suffixes                                                                   | 6 min.      | ☐ Activity Page 25.2        |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                             |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                             |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                             |
| Read “Giovanni’s Safety Lesson” Independently                                                  | 10 min.     | ☐ Activity Pages 25.3, 25.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                             |
| Unit 2 Dictation Posttest                                                                      | 5 min.      | ☐ Activity Page 25.5        |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics

- Draw a baseball diamond on the board (see illustration). Create your own list of words from the unit or use the following list of words during the Word Baseball game. You may also want to gather magnets to represent the “runners.”

|             |            |               |              |               |
|-------------|------------|---------------|--------------|---------------|
| 1. shelves  | 11. decide | 21. beach     | 31. oboe     | 41. doodle    |
| 2. grape    | 12. golf   | 22. indeed    | 32. phew     | 42. gluestick |
| 3. grain    | 13. cage   | 23. chief     | 33. continue | 43. shook     |
| 4. twine    | 14. shame  | 24. speeding  | 34. argue    | 44. woodshed  |
| 5. praise   | 15. dove   | 25. knight    | 35. chalk    | 45. appoint   |
| 6. slope    | 16. huge   | 26. tries     | 36. cause    | 46. oyster    |
| 7. mule     | 17. stripe | 27. highlight | 37. squawk   | 47. growl     |
| 8. cease    | 18. fail   | 28. supplies  | 38. ought    | 48. mouth     |
| 9. crust    | 19. away   | 29. boast     | 39. caught   | 49. eight     |
| 10. precise | 20. globe  | 30. throat    | 40. cough    | 50. cloud     |

Phonics

Make sure each student has a red, yellow, green, and blue colored pencil or crayon for the syllable activity.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students’ language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties’ Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program’s digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: mountain range, skateboard, shed, kneepads (for skateboard), subdivision, and oak tree.

Lesson 25: Review: Foundational Skills Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

- ✦ Students will review reading words with vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.A.i
- ✦ Students will review identifying and reading words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team syllables. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

WORD BASEBALL (6 MIN.)

- Say, “We’re going to play a game to review sound spellings we learned about in this unit.”
- Divide the class into two teams, having one team at a time line up at the board. (You may choose to have students stay seated and divide the class into teams by the manner in which they are seated.) Each team takes a turn “at bat.”
- Say, “I’m going to write a word on the board and you will all read the word in your head. The person at bat will read the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, your team will go to the next base. Then the next person on your team is at bat. When your team gets to home plate, you will get a point. We will continue until a word is misread.”
- Set a timer for six minutes. Say, “The team that has the most runs when the timer rings is the winning team.”
- Point out that accuracy is important, so students have to be careful reading the words you are going to display. At the same time, speed is also important, so they must pay close attention.
- Write a word from the list you prepared in advance. Ask the first student on the first team to read it aloud. If the word is read correctly, draw a line from home plate to first base, signifying a “hit.” This player then goes to the back of the team’s line, while the next player comes forward to read the next word. If the word is correctly read, draw a line from first to second base. Alternately you may use magnets to represent the “runners.”

Support

Have pairs work together. Have a student whisper the pronunciation of a word to a partner before saying it aloud. The partner may confirm the pronunciation or make a suggestion.

- ✦ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Play continues this way. If the fourth player reads the word correctly, draw a line from third base to home plate and mark “one run” for the team.
- Play continues for the team so long as no words are misread. When a word is misread, the next team takes its turn at bat.

READ CLOSED, OPEN, VCE, AND VOWEL TEAM SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Let’s continue to review words with closed, open, VCe, and vowel team syllables.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 25.1 and review the instructions. Complete the first item together.
- Consider having students work in pairs.
- Circulate as students work, answering questions as needed.
- Have students complete the activity page at home, if needed, and make sure students have the supplies they need.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 25.1

Lesson 25: Review: Foundational Skills Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review identifying the meaning of and using words with prefixes and suffixes.

TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW PREFIXES AND SUFFIXES (6 MIN.)

- Say, “Let’s review the prefixes and suffixes we learned about in this unit.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 25.2 and review the instructions.
- Read each of the base words aloud with students. Then complete the first item.

Activity Page 25.2

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Challenge

Have students create a list of words that have both a prefix and a suffix, such as unmeaningful or unluckily. Then have students define the words.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Ask students to raise their left hand if they hear a word with a prefix or their right hand if they hear a word with a suffix: actor (right), imperfect (left), joyous (right), incorrect (left), and subset (left).

Intermediate

Use the following frame to review prefixes and suffixes students have learned about: The (prefix/suffix) _____ means _____

Advanced/

Advanced High

Ask a question using a word with a prefix or suffix for students to answer. For example: "If people disagree, do they agree?" (no)

ELPS 1.C

- Have students work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. Circulate as students work, answering questions as needed. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "A prefix goes at the beginning of a word. A suffix goes at the end of a word. Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree." (thumbs-up)

Lesson 25: Review: Foundational Skills Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will independently read “Giovanni’s Safety Lesson” and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.5

READ “GIOVANNI’S SAFETY LESSON” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

- Tell students that they will be reading “Giovanni’s Safety Lesson” independently. Direct students to Activity Page 25.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: preplanned, terrain, unintentionally, wincing, gawk
  - phrases: “filled him with awe,” “prove to be a misstep”
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., certainly and precautions).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and
  - underline at least ten words with vowel teams, such as Tuesday and high;
  - circle at least five words with prefixes or suffixes, such as preplanned and thoughtfulness; and

Activity Pages
25.3, 25.4

Support

Before reading “Giovanni’s Safety Lesson”, show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Have students focus on one annotation at a time. For example, first have them read and underline words with vowel teams. On the next read, have them put a box around the words with prefixes or suffixes, and so on.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have students write the words from the passage on their own paper using columns to categorize the skills (e.g., Words with vowel teams).

Intermediate

Have students work with a partner to annotate the text.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students work independently to annotate the text and then compare their work with a partner's.

ELPS 4.A

Activity Page 25.5

- write one word for each of the following types of syllables: closed, open, VCe, and vowel team.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 25.4 independently. If they don't complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their annotation decisions.

Lesson 25: Review: Foundational Skills Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will complete the dictation posttest for Unit 2.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

UNIT 2 DICTATION POSTTEST

- Direct students to Activity Page 25.5. Review the instructions together.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with different sound-spellings that they learned about in Unit 2.
- Say the word cautious. Repeat it. Have students write it on Activity Page 25.5.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

|               |                |                |
|---------------|----------------|----------------|
| 1. cautious   | 4. undoubtedly | 7. preannounce |
| 2. invaluable | 5. rejoin      | 8. joyfully    |
| 3. powerful   | 6. disengage   | 9. weightless  |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. Her daughter and niece might be at the poolside.
2. May I borrow some large gloves?

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

~ End Lesson ~

Lesson 25: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 25.1 for each student.
- Direct students back to Activity Page 25.3.
- Have them reread “Giovanni’s Safety Lesson.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 25.1.
- Tell students they will use text evidence to write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences. Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.

- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Giovanni’s Safety Lesson” on Activity Page TR 25.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lesson 21 (doesn’t, designs, mountainous) and any additional Tricky Words that you reviewed this week. Write the following new words on index cards: eye, aren’t, and thoughtfulness.
- Use the cards with the new words. Say, “Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Display and point to the word aren’t and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘are’ is pronounced /ar/. The ‘n’ and ‘t’ are blended and pronounced /n/ /t/. The apostrophe is not pronounced.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”

- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /ar/ for these letters. We blend and say /n/ /t/ for these letters. We do not say anything for the apostrophe.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /ar/ /n/ /t/, aren’t. Say, “Aren’t! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘I’m just so thankful your injuries aren’t worse.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say aren’t. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, “It is helpful to remember another word that has the blended /n/ /t/ sound spelled ‘n’t.’” Write can’t on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lesson 21. Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let’s play a game. We’re going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let’s see how fast we can go. My turn first.”
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, “Do you think you can go faster than I did?”
- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.
- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.
- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.
- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the unit.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

(1) Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

(2) Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1-10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.
- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student's set of cards.

Teacher Resources

|         |          |
|---------|----------|
| Grade 3 | Skills 2 |
|---------|----------|

Teacher Guide

Teacher Resources

|                                                          |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Anecdotal Reading Record                                 | 307 |
| Discussion Questions Observation Record                  | 308 |
| Additional Support Activity Pages                        | 309 |
| Activity Book Answer Key                                 | 336 |
| Additional Support Activity Page Answer Key              | 364 |
| Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Correlation Chart   | 371 |
| English Language Proficiency Standards Correlation Chart | 377 |

ANECDOTAL READING RECORD—UNIT 2

Name:

Lesson:

Lesson:

Lesson:

Lesson:

Lesson:

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS OBSERVATION RECORD—UNIT 2

- CS✓ - Answered in a complete sentence
- L✓ - Answered a literal question correctly
- I✓ - Answered an inferential question correctly
- E✓ - Answered an evaluative question correctly
- CS✗ - Did not answer in a complete sentence
- L✗ - Answered a literal question incorrectly
- I✗ - Answered an inferential question incorrectly
- E✗ - Answered an evaluative question incorrectly

| Student | Lesson: | Lesson: | Lesson: | Lesson: | Subtotal |
|---------|---------|---------|---------|---------|----------|
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |
|         |         |         |         |         |          |

Additional Support Activity Pages

---

|         |          |
|---------|----------|
| Grade 3 | Skills 2 |
|---------|----------|

---

Teacher Guide

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 1.1

Reread “Fame on Stage.” In this story, Mike wants to become famous, but he needs help to do so. What characters in the story help Mike in his quest to become a famous actor? How do their actions help him achieve his dreams?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 2.1

Words with /ie/ > 'i_e'

Read the words below. Circle the words that become new words if you add 'e' to the end. Then write the new words.

|             |              |            |            |
|-------------|--------------|------------|------------|
| slid | fit   | rid | wit |
| twin | strip | fin | dim |

New Words

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 3.1

Reread "The Role of Code." What is the central idea in this text? What evidence does the author use to support the central idea?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 4.1

Sort Words with 'a_e', 'i_e', 'o_e', and 'u_e'

Read each word in the word bank. Complete the chart below with the words in the Word Bank.

Word Bank

|        |        |           |           |
|--------|--------|-----------|-----------|
| unlike | used   | sandstone | fate      |
| skate  | became | quite     | tightrope |
| nose   | glide  | cube      | perfume   |

| 'a_e' | 'i_e' | 'o_e' | 'u_e' |
|-------|-------|-------|-------|
|       |       |       |       |
|       |       |       |       |
|       |       |       |       |

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 5.1

Reread "Hope the Sculptor." What is the theme, or central message, about life in this story? What events in the story convey this theme?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 6.1

Reread “How to Sketch a Giraffe.” Follow the instructions outlined in the passage to draw a giraffe. Then identify the step or steps from the passage that you found most helpful and explain why.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 7.1

Sort Words with Hard 'g' > /g/ and Soft 'g' > /j/

Complete the chart with words from the Word Bank.

Word Bank

|         |        |       |       |
|---------|--------|-------|-------|
| goodbye | ginger | game  | magic |
| page    | gummy  | stage | brag  |

| /g/ | /j/ |
|-----|-----|
|     |     |
|     |     |
|     |     |
|     |     |

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 8.1

Reread “Dinosaurs.” What is the central idea of “Dinosaurs”? What are some details from the passage that help develop this central idea?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 9.1

Read Words with /ae/

Read the passage and circle words with the sound /ae/.

Sophia and Matt were best friends. They rode the bus together every day. They loved playing soccer. They jumped in puddles when it rained. They shared all the details of their lives. One morning Matt explained that his family was going to move away. Sophia did not know what to say. She felt sad. She was afraid that they would not be friends anymore. Matt told her that everything was going to be okay. They would send letters to each other in the mail. That way they would always be best friends.

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 10.1

Reread "Eve's Race." Think of a time when you faced a setback while you were working toward a goal. Use details from your life to compare how your experience compared to that of the character in the story.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 10.2

Read the passage. Underline three words with soft 'c' or 'g' (as in allegiance). Put a box around three words with hard 'c' or 'g' (as in flag). Highlight one word with the ay or ai vowel team.

The Pledge of Allegiance

The Pledge of Allegiance is an oath, or vow, that people in the United States recite before important events. It is a way for American citizens to say they are proud to be a part of the country and agree to work together for freedom and fairness.

The words to the Pledge of Allegiance are: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Comprehension Questions:

1. The word pledge means "to make a promise," and the word allegiance means "loyalty to a cause or person." What do you think it means to "pledge allegiance" to something?

---

---

---

2. The Pledge includes that the United States of America is "one nation" and "indivisible." Indivisible means "not able to be separated." Why is it important to call the United States "indivisible"? What word in "United States" also means "indivisible"?

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

3. What do you think “liberty and justice for all” means? What historical figures have we learned about who have fought for “liberty and justice” for people in the United States?

---

---

---

4. Why do you think people choose to recite the Pledge of Allegiance before important events?

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 11.1

Reread "Kailanie's Bees." A theme is a story's central message or lesson about life. Describe the theme of "Kailanie's Bees." Identify two pieces of evidence from the passage that helped you figure out the theme.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 12.1

Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /ie/ > 'igh', 'ie'

Listen to the words your teacher reads aloud. Determine whether each word is spelled with the 'igh' or 'ie' vowel team. Write the correct vowel team on the lines below.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

7. _____

8. _____

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 13.1

Reread “Boat Races: Fun on the Water.” In this text, the author describes what it takes to be a good member of a boat crew. What traits does the author identify as important for teamwork on a boat crew? Use details from your life to describe when you have used those traits to be a part of a team.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 14.1

Words with /ue/ > 'ew', 'ue'

Circle the misspelled words in the passage below. Then provide their correct spellings.

The students continewed to preview the article. The author chose to argu against eating barbecu. Fue students agreed with the author's vuepoint.

Later, the students reviewed the article. Even fuer saw vawew in the author's ideas.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____
9. _____

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 15.1

Reread “Snow Day.” The setting is when and where a story takes place. The plot is what happens in the story. Describe the setting of “Snow Day.” Use details from the passage to explain how the setting affects what happens in the story.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

Read the passage. Underline three words with the long e sound, spelled ea, ie, ee (field). Put a box around two words with ue or ay. Highlight one vowel team two-syllable word (features).

The United States Flag

The U.S. flag serves as a powerful symbol of patriotism and unity in the United States. It features fifty stars on a field of blue, each representing one of the states that together make up our nation, and thirteen alternating red and white stripes, representing the original colonies that declared independence. The flag evokes feelings of pride and respect, reminding us of the freedoms and rights that we cherish as Americans. When people sing the national anthem, “The Star-Spangled Banner,” they usually face the flag. Also displayed proudly during national holidays, in schools, and at public buildings, the flag stands as a reminder of the nation’s history, its sacrifices, and the enduring spirit of its people.

Comprehension Questions:

1. What do the fifty stars and thirteen stripes on the flag represent?

---

---

---

2. Who does the Preamble say is speaking? What part of the Preamble tells you so?

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 15.2

CONTINUED

3. What are some things the writers of the Preamble say they are writing the Constitution to do? If you need help, look at some of the words that are capitalized.

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 16.1

Reread “Chalk Art.” If you were a chalk artist, where would you make art? What would your art look like? Explain your thinking, and draw a sketch of your design.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 17.1

Words with /aw/

Read each sentence. Fill in the blank by adding the correct spelling for each /aw/ sound: 'augh', 'ough', 'aw', 'al', or 'au'. Read each completed sentence.

1. The diamond was fl_____less.
2. The cat c_____t the mouse.
3. The players gathered at the b_____lpark.
4. My little sister made a dr_____ing of a cat.
5. The lunchtime tea was for mothers and d_____ters.
6. My favorite shirt is in the l_____ndry.
7. You really_____t to remember my birthday.
8. Most students w_____k to school or take the bus.
9. The door closes _____tomatically.
10. I made a th_____tless mistake on the test.

NAME: _____

TR 18.1

DATE: _____

Reread "Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon." After visiting the zoo, Brooklyn realizes something important about herself: She wants to help animals. Use details from your life to describe a time when you discovered something important about yourself.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 19.1

Vowel Teams with /oo/ and /oo/

Read the passage. Circle the words with the vowel teams that make the sound /oo/ (as in book). Underline the words with the vowel teams that make the sound /oo/ (as in moon).

The Smith family moved into a house on Maple Avenue. On their first day, they took a walk around the neighborhood. They saw flowers blooming in the park. They met a woman walking a poodle. They shook hands and introduced themselves. Her name was Sue. She invited the Smiths to a cookout where they could meet more neighbors. It started at noon. The Smiths said, “See you soon!”

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 20.1

Vowel Team Cards

Cut out the vowel team cards. Distribute one to each student pair or group. Then have students write down all the words they can think of with that sound spelling in the time allotted.

ough

u_e

al

ue

aw

oo

au

augh

NAME: _____

TR 20.2

DATE: _____

Reread "To the Moon." Describe one scene you could clearly imagine in your mind while reading the story. Which words and phrases in the passage most helped you create your mental image?

Multiple horizontal lines provided for writing the response.

NAME: _____

TR 21.1

DATE: _____

Reread “Coins.” Identify the central, or main idea of the text. What evidence from the passage supports this as the central idea?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 22.1

Words with /ou/

Read each sentence. Complete each word by adding the correct spelling for the /ou/ sound: 'ow', 'ou', or 'ough'. Read each completed sentence.

1. The king has a cr_____n on his head.
2. I had to sh_____t so she could hear me.
3. A circle is r_____nd.
4. How many people live in the t_____n?
5. The player got a red card for a f_____l.
6. During the dr_____t, there was very little rain.
7. Listen for the cat's me_____.
8. The farmer fixed the pl_____.

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 23.1

Reread “Zoila’s Sleigh.” Use details from the passage to describe how the setting of the story, or where the story takes place, affects the plot, or what happens to the characters.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 24.1

Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words

Read each word. Look at the underlined syllable. Write whether the syllable is open, closed, VCe, or vowel team.

1. bookcase _____

2. driveway _____

3. snowflake _____

4. drawback _____

5. rebound _____

6. destroy _____

7. rejoin _____

8. soil _____

9. bayside _____

10. sprint _____

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

Read the passage. Underline three words with oy, ou, ue, or oo (out). Put a box around two vowel team syllable words (explains). Highlight one VCe syllable word (enterprise).

Tommy's Big Dream

Tommy is a third grader who loves America and has a big dream to start his own business someday. His favorite class is social studies, where he learns about "free enterprise." This means people in America can open businesses. Some of those business owners sell their own creations, which makes Tommy excited.

Every summer, Tommy runs a lemonade stand. He loves making lemonade and talking to his customers. Tommy feels proud when people enjoy his drink. His mom explains that this small stand is a business, where he can make money by selling something he made.

Tommy admires local shopkeepers who sell books, toys, or treats. They work hard and love making their customers happy. He wants to be like them, using creativity and hard work to succeed.

One day, he shares his dream with his teacher, who says, "In America, you can do anything you set your mind to." This makes Tommy feel proud to live in a place where dreams can come true with hard work.

Comprehension Questions:

1. What is Tommy's big dream?

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

2. What does Tommy do in the summer?

---

---

---

3. What did Tommy learn about in social studies?

---

---

---

4. Why does Tommy admire local shopkeepers?

---

---

---

5. What did Tommy's teacher tell him about dreaming in America?

---

---

---

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

TR 25.1

Reread “Giovanni’s Safety Lesson.” Describe the main problem in this story. Then, use the sequence of events from the passage as evidence to support your description of the main problem.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

ACTIVITY BOOK ANSWER KEY

NAME: _____ 1.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

Words with /ae/ > 'a_e'

Read each word in the word bank. Then, read each sentence. Write the correct word from the word bank to complete each sentence. Each word has the spelling pattern /ae/ > 'a_e'. Read each completed sentence.

Word Bank

|      |       |      |
|------|-------|------|
| gave | plane | late |
| cape | pale  | vane |

- The superhero always wears a cape.
- Her face went pale when she saw how tall the roller coaster was.
- The plane went faster and faster until it took off into the air.
- My grandmother's barn has a weather vane on the roof.
- She arrived late to the party after getting stuck in traffic.
- Jack gave the teddy bear to Emma.

NAME: _____ 1.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

Words with -or

Read each verb and definition in the chart. Make each verb into a noun that matches the definition by adding the suffix -or. Change the word's spelling as needed. The first one has been done for you.

| Verb     | Definition            | Noun              |
|----------|-----------------------|-------------------|
| sculpt   | someone who sculpts   | sculptor          |
| decorate | someone who decorates | decorator  |
| conduct  | someone who conducts  | conductor  |
| direct   | someone who directs   | director   |
| instruct | someone who instructs | instructor |
| act      | someone who acts      | actor      |
| invent   | someone who invents   | inventor   |
| visit    | someone who visits    | visitor    |

NAME: _____ 1.3 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.
When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with 'i_e'.
- Circle words that end in -ful.

Fame on Stage

Mike was a skillful actor. He had big plans to make a name for himself on stage, so he signed up for many auditions. Every night, he wished for fame and a fan base.

One day, Mike got a call from a play director, Mrs. Tate.

"We would like for you to audition for a part in our next play," Mrs. Tate said to Mike.

What an exciting offer! He was flattered and grateful but also quite nervous. Mike ran to tell his advisor, a successful actor named Jade. Jade was a wonderful guide and always gave Mike respectful and helpful advice.

"Be brave and be yourself," Jade told Mike.

Mike was careful in preparing for his audition. He spent all of his free time going over his lines. He wanted to give the performance of a lifetime. If he impressed the director, he would surely land the part!

When audition day came, Mike felt both hopeful and fearful. This was his shot. He took a breath and went to the side of the stage. He remembered Jade's advice and walked onto the stage with confidence. He gave a powerful performance. He made each line come to life!

When Mike finished his audition, the room full of visitors and spectators was silent. With a watchful gaze from the side, the director stood up, smiled, and began to clap.

"Bravo, Mike! That was wonderful," said Mrs. Tate.

Mike felt a wave of happiness wash over him. He had impressed the director! He was on cloud nine.

A few days later, Mike got another call from Mrs. Tate.

"Congrats, Mike. We would like to cast you as an actor in our play," she said.

He had gotten the part! He was both joyful and thankful. His dream of fame and growing his fan base would soon become a reality. Mike knew he had a long ride ahead of him, but he was ready for it.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

1.4 ACTIVITY PAGE

Unit 2 Dictation Pretest

Write each word that your teacher dictates.

1. cautious
2. invaluable
3. powerful
4. undoubtedly
5. rejoin
6. disengage
7. preannounce
8. joyfully
9. weightless

Write the entire sentence that your teacher dictates.

1. Her daughter and niece might be at the poolside.
_____
_____
2. May I borrow some large gloves?
_____
_____

Choose a word from the list above and use it to write your own sentence.

_____
_____
_____

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

2.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Words with /ie/ > 'i_e'

Read each word. Circle the words with /ie/ > 'i_e'.

- slime    rip    quit    time    strip
- pin    glide    pine    slip    kite
- ripe    fit    twine    grip    wide

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

2.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Words with -ful

Read the text "Pup" below. Read again and circle the words with the suffix -ful. Then, fill in the chart. Write the word you circled in the left column. Write the meaning of the root word and suffix in the middle column, and write the meaning in your own words in the right column. The first one has been done for you.

Pup

Pup is Sam's dog. She is playful. She loves to run. But Pup is also powerful. When Sam plays with Pup, he is careful. Pup runs fast. She can knock things over. Sam is thoughtful. He does not want Pup to break something when they play. He is respectful.

| Word with -ful | Meaning with -ful | In your own words. . .                    |
|-----------------------|--------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| playful               | full of play             | loving to play                            |
| powerful       | full of power     | Sample response:having a lot of power |
| careful        | full of care      | Sample response:showing care          |
| thoughtful     | full of thought   | Sample response:thinking carefully    |
| respectful     | full of respect   | Sample response:showing respect       |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

3.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Words with /oe/ > 'o_e'

Complete the following words with the letters 'o' and 'e'. Each word has the spelling pattern /oe/ > 'o_e'. Read the words with a partner.

1. postp. o n e
2. ringt. o n e
3. sm. o k e stack
4. sl. o p e
5. tromb. o n e
6. m. o p e
7. j. o k e
8. gl. o b e

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

3.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Words with un- and -ful

Read each root word. Create new words by adding the prefix un- to each root word. Then, read the new word. If the new word also contains a suffix, underline the suffix.

1. un true
2. un wind
3. un fruitful
4. un opened
5. un harmful
6. un helpful
7. un truthful
8. un lock
9. un happy

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

3.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with 'u_e'.
- Circle words with the prefix re-.

The Role of Code

Have you ever wanted to know how your phone or computer works? Let's decode some of this puzzle.

Do you know how people and computers communicate with each other? They use the language of code. Code is how computers understand human language. When you use a computer and tell it to do something, the computer receives that information in the form of code.

Code has a huge role in our world. There is no debate or dispute about that. Code is used in so many ways. When you play a game on your phone or game console, it is code that tells the game what steps to execute or do. When you type a text to a friend, a code helps send it. Want a new ringtone? Open your phone settings and code will help with that.

With code, we can rethink, revisit, and solve daily problems. For example, through code we can unlock a door without a key. We can lower the volume on or even mute a device without touching any of its buttons. We can be reminded to feed our cute pets. We can even have a device feed them for us! Code can also help us explore our huge globe from our own home! Code is so useful. The amount of things we can accomplish through code almost feels unreal.

Who writes the code for computers? Coders do! Coders are computer programmers who compose and write code. Sometimes, they write a code that is unable to do what the coders want it to do. Time to rethink it! They may need to rewrite it many times. Coders refuse to give up until the code is useful.

Learning to code can feel unfamiliar at first, but it can also be fun! You can create your own games or program your own apps. The number of things you can do is unbelievable! When trying to write code, you may feel confused at first. If a code you compose has a mistake, you can undo it. You can reset it or reopen it later and retry. If you are still unsure, save the code and reuse it for a different task. If you rewrite your codes and refuse to give up, you will get the hang of it.

So, the next time you use your phone or computer, think about the codes that make it work. Who knows? Maybe one day, you'll be an unstoppable coder too!

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

3.4 ACTIVITY PAGE

“The Role of Code” Comprehension Questions

- What is code?
Code is information that tells a computer what to do.
- What types of technologies use code?
Technologies that use code include computers, phones, apps, and game consoles.
- How does code improve people’s everyday lives? Give examples from the text.
Code can unlock doors, set reminders, and change the volume on devices.

- Why do coders sometimes need to rewrite code?
Sometimes code does not do what it is programmed to do.
- Why does the author say that code has a “huge role” in our world?
Sample Response: The author argues that code has a “huge role” in our world because it is used by a number of popular technologies.
- Do you think you would enjoy learning to write code? Why or why not?
Sample Response: I think I would enjoy learning to write code. Code is used to communicate with computers and phones. I like to know how technology works. By learning to write code, I could learn more about how these technologies do what they do.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

4.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Two-Syllable VCe Words

Read each word. Circle two-syllable words with a VCe syllable pattern. Read each word that you circled.

- lifelike    excuse    milestone    escape    sunshine smokestack    planned    perfume    mute    useful trapping    slop    conductor    undo    upgrade

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

4.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Words with re-

Read each clue and base word. Write the base word with the prefix re-. Then write the meaning of the new word. The first one has been done for you.

| Clue                                                    | Base Word | Word with prefix re- | New Word Meaning               |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-----------|----------------------|--------------------------------|
| to cause to happen                                      | do        | redo                 | to do again                    |
| to reflect on                                           | think     | rethink              | to think about something again |
| to look at and make meaning from text, or printed words | read      | reread               | to read again                  |
| to make an effort at                                    | try       | retry                | to try again                   |
| to put a thought into printed words                     | write     | rewrite              | to write again                 |
| to look at                                              | view      | review               | to view again                  |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

5.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Words with Prefixes and Suffixes

Think about the words you created using the word cards on Activity Page 5.1. Use five of the words you created in sentences below. Read your completed sentences.

1. Sample response: The governor signed the new law.
_____
2. _____
_____
3. _____
_____
4. _____
_____
5. _____
_____

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

5.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Read "Hope the Sculptor" once. Then reread the passage and mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with VCe spellings.
- Circle words with the prefixes un- and re-.
- Draw a box around words with the suffixes -ful and -or.

Hope the Sculptor

Hope was a skillful sculptor and creator. She was known for carving works of art into stone. She could take a single, lone stone and make it into a masterful work of art. For months now, Hope had been tirelessly working on a midsize floating limestone cube for her hometown art show. She had put quite a bit of time into this sculpture, which was not unusual for her.

Just five days before her hometown art show, Hope made a huge mistake on the cube. She sliced off an uneven corner chunk by accident.

"Oh, this must be a joke! This is just pitiful," she whined. "How can I be so unlucky? This is unfit for the show!"

Her anger made her want to explode. There was no way she could postpone the show. She felt unwell knowing she had to quickly redo almost all of it.

In a stressful haze of panic, she picked up her chisel and mallet and got to work. She stayed up way past her bedtime trying to reshape and resize the limestone cube. She didn't take a break until sunrise.

The next day, Hope got a visitor. It was her advisor James, another talented sculptor who came to check on her progress. He greeted her with a handshake. Her advisor was careful as he inspected the huge limestone cube that Hope had begun to redo.

"What do you think?" Hope asked in a dreadful tone. "Is it ruined?"

After a few moments, her advisor responded, "Let me provide you with a bit of helpful advice, Hope. It is unwise to be so unkind to and unsure of yourself. Be grateful for your mistakes as a creator. Mistakes can be beautiful too."

Hope thought about her advisor's words for awhile. As a smile began to grow on her face, she no longer felt unhappy. She was thankful for his advice. She decided there and then that her limestone cube was complete and wonderful mistakes and all.

By the time her hometown art show arrived, Hope felt peaceful. She was proud of her limestone cube. People lined up to see it. They loved it, just like she did. Hope felt grateful for James's helpful advice. She hoped to get the chance to return the favor one day.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

5.4 ACTIVITY PAGE

"Hope the Sculptor" Comprehension Questions

1. What kind of sculpture was Hope making?
Hope was sculpting a cube.
_____
_____
2. Why was Hope angry when the sculpture broke?
Hope was angry because the sculpture took a long time and the show was only five days away.
_____
_____
3. Why did Hope stay up until sunrise?
Hope stayed up until sunrise trying to fix her sculpture.
_____
_____

4. Who is James?

James is Hope's advisor.

_____
_____

5. Based on his actions, what are some of James's traits?

Sample Response: James showed Hope how her mistakes actually made the sculpture more beautiful. I think James is calm and wise.

6. How did people react to seeing Hope's sculpture?

People loved the sculpture.

_____
_____

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

6.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Words with Hard and Soft 'c'

Read the words in the word bank. Sort the words in the word bank according to whether they have a hard 'c' or soft 'c'. Read your list of hard 'c' words and then read your list of soft 'c' words.

Word Bank

|       |         |        |        |        |
|-------|---------|--------|--------|--------|
| cup   | cent    | castle | cease  | decide |
| place | coconut | pencil | cobweb | camper |

| Hard 'c' | Soft 'c' |
|----------|----------|
| cup      | place    |
| cobweb   | cent     |
| coconut  | cease    |
| castle   | pencil   |
| camper   | decide   |

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

6.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Prefixes: un-, re-

Read the words. Circle the prefix or prefixes, and underline the root words. If the word also has a suffix, be sure to underline just the root word. Read the root words.

1. unfold

2. redo

3. refill

4. unimportant

5. rename

6. unreviewed

7. unusual

8. rethink

9. unreturned

10. unlucky

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

6.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words that have a hard 'g'.
- Draw a box around words that have a soft 'g'.
- Circle words that use the prefix dis-.
- Highlight multisyllabic words that have VCe syllables.

How to Sketch a Giraffe

Sketching is an exciting activity. You don't need to be a master artist to do it! Here's how to sketch a gentle giant, a giraffe.

1. Prepare your things. Grab a pencil, an eraser, and a piece of paper.
2. Make sure you have a tidy surface to work on. Be aware that working in an unclean space is unwise because you might get distracted by the mess. But if you prefer it messy, that's OK too!
3. Preplan your image before you start to sketch. Preview photos of giraffes, and plan out the shape and size of your giraffe. This way you can make sure you'll have enough space on your paper to draw it.
4. At the top of your page, make a circle for the giraffe's head. Be gentle with how you use your pencil. This will prevent unwanted harsh lines and make it easier to erase when necessary. You can retrace your lines later to make them more defined.

5. Add two small circles for the eyes and a curved, uneven line for the mouth. You can also include two short lines on top of the giraffe's head for its hornlike bones. These are called ossicones.
  6. In the middle of your page, sketch a large oval for the body. Connect the giraffe's head to its body with a line for the giraffe's neck. Add four lines from the body for the legs. Give the giraffe a tail.
  7. Spruce up and refine your sketch with some details. Make small circles inside the giraffe's body for its spots. Add a landscape to your sketch to show where the giraffe might live. Maybe you can include a nice sunrise too.
  8. Review your work for any mistakes. Don't be disappointed if you made some! You don't have to discard your sketch. You can gently undo mistakes with your eraser. You can even redraw certain parts if you dislike them.
  9. Your giraffe sketch is now complete. Time to admire your work.
  10. Tidy up and rearrange your work surface. Dispose of unused paper and garbage.
- You sketched such a nice image. The more you practice, the better you'll get. So keep your pencil close by, and don't distrust your skills. Maybe next time you can sketch a cupcake, baseball, flagpole, or even a reptile!

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

7.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Multisyllabic VCe Words

Read each of the words below. Then draw a slash to separate each word into syllables.

1. pan/cake
2. camp/site
3. en/er/gize
4. grave/site
5. de/cide
6. en/tice
7. ci/ty/wide
8. cen/ti/pede

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

7.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Prefixes: un- and dis-

Read each sentence and root word. Fill in each blank by adding either un- or dis- to the root word. Read each sentence with the new word.

1. The dishonest boy told a lie.
(honest)
2. Sara felt unhappy when she lost her glove.
(happy)
3. Sometimes friends disagree with each other.
(agree)
4. Carla's frown showed her discomfort with the idea.
(comfort)
5. The dog was unable to reach the ball under the couch.
(able)
6. Please unfold your napkin and put it on your lap.
(fold)
7. The school has rules against being unkind.
(kind)
8. Jack felt disbelief when he realized he lost his homework.
(belief)

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

8.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

VCe Words That End in /v/ or /j/

Read each sentence. Then, use 'ive', 'age', or 'ave' to complete each VCe word. Each word will end in /v/ or /j/. Read the completed sentence.

1. The band performed onstage.
2. Children need to behave in school.
3. Photos help readers engage with the story.
4. The city needs to repave Main Street.
5. Please do not uncage the wild skunk!
6. The man asked the jeweler to engrave the ring.
7. Trees cannot talk or move, but they are alive.
8. Fresh paint can really revive a room.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

8.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Prefixes: pre-

Read each word in the word bank, and then read each sentence. Choose the correct word from the word bank to match each word with its definition.

Word Bank

|           |            |         |           |
|-----------|------------|---------|-----------|
| preselect | prehistory | preteen | predawn   |
| prejudge  | preheat    | premake | preseason |

- to warm something up before using preheat
- the time before sunrise predawn
- to choose earlier preselect
- the time before written records prehistory
- the time before a season starts preseason
- to form an idea before getting information prejudge
- the time before adolescence preteen
- to make before premake

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

8.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Draw a box around words with syllables that have the vowel team 'ai'.
- Underline words with syllables that have the vowel team 'ay'.
- Circle words with the prefixes dis- and pre-.

Dinosaurs

Many years ago, amazing beasts claimed our earth as their home. These beasts were known as dinosaurs. Let me give you more details about these creatures. You won't leave disappointed. I predict you will want to know more.

These prehistoric creatures came in a wide range of shapes and sizes. Some were as large as the cars on a train. Some were as small as a hummingbird. They could move in different ways, too. Some ran at runaway speeds. Others moved slowly. Some could sail high in the sky past a mountain ridge. Others could dive deeply into the bays and lakes.

Some dinosaurs were herbivores. They always ate plants. Herbivores munched mainly on an array of trees and grasses on the plains. Others were carnivores and ate meat. These carnivores would have to hunt to survive. Other dinosaurs were afraid of them.

Over time, the dinosaurs became extinct and disappeared. Scientists had many debates about how this happened. Although some might disagree, most of them maintain that the dinosaurs' disappearance happened after a huge asteroid fell from the sky. They say that when it hit the earth, it caused a massive change in the environment, and the dinosaurs could not survive what we now call the Ice Age.

Even though dinosaurs are no longer alive, what remains of their decayed bodies are bones. These are called fossils. Today, scientists work to find and preserve these fossils. The fossils help explain what happened to the dinosaurs and provide answers to questions like "How did dinosaurs live and move?" and "Why did they disappear?"

Today, we can visit museums to see dinosaur fossils on display. Prepare and do some prework before you head to the museum. Take a dive into books to preview some facts! This will train your brain to look for details before your visit. There is so much left to discover about the incredible age of dinosaurs!

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

8.4 ACTIVITY PAGE

"Dinosaurs" Comprehension Questions

- What did dinosaurs look like?
Dinosaurs came in a wide range of shapes and sizes.
- What did herbivores eat?
Herbivores ate trees and grasses.
- Why were some dinosaurs afraid of other dinosaurs who were carnivores?
Carnivores eat meat, so some dinosaurs were afraid they might be eaten by carnivores.

4. What do scientists think caused dinosaurs to become extinct?

Scientists think the environment changed after a huge asteroid hit Earth and dinosaurs could not survive the Ice Age.

5. How do people study dinosaurs today?

People study fossils, visit museums, and read books about dinosaurs.

6. Did reading this passage make you want to learn more about dinosaurs? Why or why not?

Yes, I want to learn more about the different types of dinosaurs and their day-to-day lives.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

9.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Long Vowel Teams: 'ai' and 'ay'

Read each sentence. Complete each word by choosing the correct vowel team 'ai' or 'ay'. Read each completed sentence.

1. We st_____ay_____ inside when it is cold.
2. The ch_____ai_____n on my necklace broke.
3. Trains rarely der_____ai_____, or fall off the track.
4. The football game is on Sund_____ay_____.
5. What is the m_____ai_____n idea of the text?
6. You wear a belt around your w_____ai_____st.
7. The store put up a new displ_____ay_____.
8. Please do not compl_____ai_____n about the heat.
9. The fans watched the repl_____ay_____ on the scoreboard.
10. The gr_____ay_____ socks are the warmest.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

9.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Prefixes: dis-, pre-

Read each root word and definition. Then make a new word to match the definition by adding the prefix dis- or pre- to the given root word.

1. root: qualify definition: to have early approval _____prequalify_____
2. root: taste definition: to have an early sample _____pretaste_____
3. root: place definition: to choose a location earlier _____preplace_____
4. root: taste definition: to not enjoy _____distaste_____
5. root: connect definition: to remove a link between two things _____disconnect_____
6. root: qualify definition: to rule that someone is unfit to compete _____disqualify_____
7. root: connect definition: to link together before _____preconnect_____

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

10.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Review Prefixes: un-, re-, dis-, pre-

Read each sentence and root. Fill in each blank by adding un-, re-, dis-, or pre- to the root word. Read each completed sentence.

1. Lana needed to _____reshape_____ the dough so it would fit in the pan.
(shape)
2. The new tablet came _____preloaded_____ with games.
(loaded)
3. Paul started to _____distrust_____ Steve after he cheated in tennis.
(trust)
4. Lea was _____uncertain_____ about which friends to invite to the party.
(certain)
5. Wearing shorts on a snowy day is an _____unusual_____ choice.
(usual)
6. Daisy was excited to attend a special _____preview_____ of the new movie.
(view)
7. Kayla _____reset_____ the game so they could play again.
(set)
8. Ray really _____disliked_____ broccoli.
(liked)

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

10.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Read "Eve's Race" once. Then reread the passage and mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with soft 'c' or 'g'.
- Put a box around words that end in /v/ or /f/.
- Circle words with prefixes.
- Highlight words with vowel team syllables.

Eve's Race

Eve loved running. Her aim was to gain a spot in this year's famed City Circuit race. Everyone told her it was a huge challenge. That never discouraged Eve. She knew that if she managed her time well and trained daily, she could someday compete in that giant race.

Eve decided that she had to prepare and follow a preset training plan. Every day, she would run down the streets of New York City. She ran places instead of using the subway. She would dodge traffic and brave the hot sun and cold rain without complaint. There were days when Eve felt unfit and was displeased with her speed. Despite it all, Eve returned to her training plan daily. She made a game of running circles around the park. She would sometimes find a trail mate to run with and help her train.

On race day, Eve felt giddy and excited waiting at the starting line. She wished she could predict the outcome. Eve reminded herself that she was prepared. Then she strained to hear the starting whistle. Once she did, she took off without delay.

Eve held a steady pace for a long distance. She felt unstoppable as she ran past the large crowds. The city was her stage. But just a few yards from the finish line, Eve began to feel an uncomfortable pain in her knee. The pain became so strong that Eve fell. As she sat up, a nurse on the sidelines rushed to gently check Eve's knee.

"Your knee is in bad shape. This is an unlucky incident, but it is not uncommon," said the nurse. "You will be unable to run the rest of the race today. But you should be able to walk."

Eve sat there in disbelief, plainly upset about her knee. But she did not complain. Her faith in herself was unshaken. She reentered the race and slowly limped to the finish line. Eve did not win the race, but she was not totally disappointed. She felt pride in how hard she had trained and prepared. That feeling was priceless. Her injury had been unfortunate but unavoidable. She could not have prevented it.

That night, Eve recommitted herself to running. "I have to try again because I really love running," she thought to herself. She vowed that once her knee had recovered and she regained her strength, she would train and try again for next year's race without delay. She couldn't wait to relive the unbelievable feeling of racing toward her dreams.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

10.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

"Eve's Race Comprehension Questions"

1. What event does Eve want to compete in?
Eve wants to compete in the annual City Circuit race.
_____
_____
2. What does Eve do to prepare for the event?
Eve follows a training plan.
_____
_____
3. How does Eve feel on the day of the event?
Eve feels giddy and excited to run in the race.
_____
_____

4. What happens during the event?
During the run, Eve hurts her knee and cannot continue running. Instead, she limps across the finish line.
_____
_____
5. Why doesn't Eve quit?
Eve worked hard to train for the race, and she did not want to miss out on her goal because of an injury.
_____
_____
6. What are some words or phrases you would use to describe Eve based on the events of the story?
Accept answers such as strong, brave, determined, hardworking.
_____
_____

NAME: _____ 11.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables

Read each word in the list. Divide each two-syllable word into syllables by placing a slash between the syllables. Then circle the vowel team. Read each word again to check your work.

1. lead/er
2. creek/side
3. in/deed
4. sea/side
5. pleas/ing
6. be/lief
7. pro/ceed
8. re/trieve
9. de/feat
10. in/crease

NAME: _____ 11.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Root Words and Prefixes: non-

Read the words in the word bank and the definitions below. Use the word bank to match each word with its definition.

Word Bank

|         |            |            |           |
|---------|------------|------------|-----------|
| unhappy | nonfiction | nondairy   | unfair    |
| nonstop | disagree   | disbelieve | nonliving |

1. to have different opinions _____ disagree
2. not alive _____ nonliving
3. without a pause or break _____ nonstop
4. containing no milk _____ nondairy
5. not honest or just _____ unfair
6. not cheerful, sad _____ unhappy
7. stories that are true _____ nonfiction
8. to think something is not true _____ disbelieve

NAME: _____ 11.3 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

- Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.
 When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:
- Put a box around words with vowel team syllables 'igh' or 'ie' that make the /ie/ sound.
  - Circle words with the prefix mis-.

Kailanie's Bees

Kailanie is a beekeeper. Make no mistake. Keeping bees is hard work. Kailanie sometimes works nonstop to keep her bees safe and happy. She oversees them in their creekside hives with care. The bees love the freedom of their open hives, and Kailanie feels at peace when she is with her honeybees.

Kailanie wakes from her nightly dreams with high hopes for another delightful day with her bees. She speeds across the field to the hives, always eager to greet her bees!

On one of her first fall mornings as a beekeeper, Kailanie cried out her daily greeting to the bees. "Hello, my sweet bees," she said. "It is daylight and time to take flight!"

But the bees did not react to the sunlight or to Kailanie. They were not speeding around the hives. Most remained flightless. Kailanie felt defeat and grief. It was her job to shield the bees from harm. She cleaned and dried the hives. She checked the extra food supplies. She tried everything to achieve the right match for their needs, but nothing seemed to work.

"What else can I do? I need to seek help right away," she sighed.

Kailanie read nonfiction books about beekeeping. She learned more about flowers as bee food.

"I think I need to make sure my bees have flowers in every season. But I believe I should seek out an expert," she thought. "I want to make sure I did not misread or misunderstand."

"You did not misunderstand at all, Kailanie. Flowers that bloom in all seasons will increase your supplies of all of the right foods," agreed the expert.

Kailanie was pleased that she had been right. She planted all kinds of flowers in mismatched pots to give her honeybees nonstop nectar. No more mistakes!

"Here you go, sweet bees," said Kailanie. "I believe you will feel better now."

In a brief time, Kailanie's bees did feel better. They took flight around the hives and filled the skies over the creek.

"I am so relieved!" Kailanie cried with delight. "My bees are happy and are making honey again. I can't wait to taste that sweet treat."

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

12.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Two-Syllable Words with Vowel Team Syllables

Read along as your teacher reads the syllables in the syllable bank. Then, read the sentences. Combine the syllables in the syllable bank to form two-syllable words that complete the sentences below. Read the completed sentences.

Syllable Bank

| First Syllables |        | Second Syllables |       |
|-----------------|--------|------------------|-------|
| high            | ap     | way              | light |
| might           | day    | y                | fried |
| up              | bright | hood             | plied |
| re              | knight | en               | right |

- The clown applied pink makeup to her cheeks.
- There is an accident on the highway.
- The new lamp will brighten the room.
- The tiger released a mighty roar.
- In the snow, the daylight can be blinding.
- Please hold the wood upright so I can apply the glue.

- Dani stirred the refried beans.
- In the story, the prince achieved knighthood.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

12.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Prefixes: mis-

Read each word below. Determine whether each word uses the prefix mis-. Circle yes if it does, or no if it does not.

- miss Yes/No  Yes
- misspoke Yes/No  Yes
- mistrust Yes/No  Yes
- mismatched Yes/No  Yes
- mission Yes/No  Yes
- mister Yes/No  Yes
- misuse Yes/No  Yes
- miserable Yes/No  Yes

Write the definitions of the words that use the prefix mis-.

misspoke: to speak incorrectly mistrust: to not trust

mismatched: not matched misuse: to use incorrectly

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

13.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /oe/ > 'oa', 'oe', 'ow', 'ough'

Complete the following words using the vowel teams in the vowel team bank. Read the words.

Vowel Team Bank

|    |    |    |      |
|----|----|----|------|
| oa | oe | ow | ough |
|----|----|----|------|

- h oe / how
- th ough
- steamb oa t
- unl oa d
- fell ow
- f oe
- wind ow less
- tipt oe
- f oa m
- pill ow

Root Words and Prefixes: im-, in-

The passage below uses the prefixes im- and in- incorrectly. Read the passage and circle the words that use the im- and in- prefixes incorrectly. Write the correct spelling of the words.

Incorrect uses of language can make a text impossible to read. Readers become impatient with their inability to understand the words. It takes incredible effort to finish the reading. Many readers leave the activity incomplete. What an impolite thing for a writer to do! Then again, everyone is imperfect. We can all be imprecise, or make mistakes.

1. incorrect _____
2. impossible _____
3. impatient _____
4. inability _____
5. incredible _____
6. incomplete _____
7. impolite _____
8. imperfect _____
9. imprecise _____

But it is not all about winning. It is also about fairness to the other boats. Safety and helpfulness is so important for boats on the water. Sometimes crews are even the heroes who slow down to rescue another boat crew that is in trouble. Good crew members are never impolite or impatient. They do not boast when they win.

Many people watch the races to see the boats! Some boats cost a lot of money, and few are inexpensive. Some races have speedboats. Those boats move with quickness and spew or throw out, foamy water behind them. Some races have tall sailboats. Those boats cast long shadows as they seem to float along the top of the water.

In some races, steamboats chug and groan their way along the water. A steamboat is moved by a big wheel that turns. It throws out water behind it as it goes along. In one popular type of race, long, skinny rowboats of different hues, or colors, speed by. Their crews row their oars with exactness. Imperfect strokes will slow them down. But this is true of most boats. All types of boats must move carefully and with quickness, straight as an arrow to the finish line.

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with the vowel team 'ue'.
- Draw a box around words with the vowel team 'ew'.
- Circle words with the suffix -ness.

Boat Races: Fun on the Water

Some people live near a river, an ocean, or a lake. These are a few of the incredible venues for boat races. Some people watch these races from the coastline or the roadside. Or they might view these races on their TV from their sofa. Boat racing is an interesting, growing sport.

Boat races can bring joy and happiness to boat lovers! Boats speed across the water as they follow an invisible road to the finish line. Echoes of the cheers from the crowd fill the air.

Boat crews are needed for many of these races. Each crew member undergoes training and has an independent job to do. But the crew values each other's roles. To meet their goals, they work together and do not argue. They watch for cues from each other to make the fewest mistakes.

Crews must work with alertness and readiness. Inflexible crew members can slow a boat's progress. Everyone must be able to adapt and make changes as needed. And crew members continue to help and coach each other as they approach and cross the finish line. Nothing is impossible if they face their boat racing foes, the other teams, with boldness and teamwork.

"Boat Races: Fun on the Water" Comprehension Questions

1. Where do boat races typically take place?
Boat races take place on rivers, oceans, and lakes.
 _____
 _____
2. How do crew members of a boat team avoid making mistakes?
Crew members look for cues from their fellow racers to avoid making mistakes.
 _____
 _____
3. How do boat crews sometimes help each other during a race?
They rescue boats that are in trouble.
 _____
 _____

4. Based on the text, what do you think the phrase "straight as an arrow" means?

"Straight as an arrow" means that something follows a very direct line like an arrow flying through the air.

5. What types of boats are mentioned in the text?

The text mentions speedboats, steamboats, sailboats, and rowboats.

6. Which type of boat would you enjoy sailing on? Why?

Sample Response: I would like to go on a speedboat because I think it would be fun to go fast.

NAME: _____

14.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /ue/> 'ew', 'ue'

Read the words. Sort the words in the word bank according to whether /ue/ is spelled 'u', 'u_e', 'ew', or 'ue'.

Word Bank

|         |        |        |        |
|---------|--------|--------|--------|
| perfume | curfew | unit   | fewest |
| music   | venue  | rescue | accuse |
| volume  | argue  | review | menu   |

|       |         |        |        |
|-------|---------|--------|--------|
| 'u'   | 'u_e'   | 'ew'   | 'ue'   |
| music | perfume | curfew | venue  |
| unit  | accuse  | fewest | rescue |
| menu  | volume  | review | argue  |

NAME: _____

14.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Root Words and Suffixes: -ness

Part I

Not all words that end with the letters 'ess' have the suffix -ness. Read each word. Circle only the words with the suffix -ness. Then read the root word.

- unless
- bitterness
- fondness
- recess
- greatness
- imagines
- illness
- politeness
- readiness
- success

Part II

Read the words in the word bank. Then read the sentences in the chart below it. Use the words in the word bank to show the quality described in each sentence. The first one has been done for you.

Word Bank

|            |           |           |
|------------|-----------|-----------|
| loneliness | thickness | sweetness |
| kindness   | emptiness | laziness  |

|                                           |            |
|-------------------------------------------|------------|
| The girl wants to nap instead of working. | laziness   |
| The cookies taste sugary.                 | sweetness  |
| The class gives food to people in need.   | kindness   |
| The dog spends its time alone.            | loneliness |
| There is nothing in the room.             | emptiness  |
| The coat has many warm layers.            | thickness  |

Review Long Vowel Teams

Read each word in the word bank. Sort the words according to the vowel sound on the table below. Read each column.

Word Bank

|        |          |         |        |          |
|--------|----------|---------|--------|----------|
| grain  | boastful | beneath | shield | continue |
| tiptoe | review   | bayside | untie  | mighty   |

|         |        |          |          |         |
|---------|--------|----------|----------|---------|
| /ee/    | /ie/   | /oe/     | /ue/     | /ae/    |
| beneath | mighty | boastful | continue | grain   |
| shield  | untie  | tiptoe   | review   | bayside |

Review Prefixes and Suffixes: non-, mis-, im-, in-, -ness

Read each word in the word bank. Then read each sentence. Complete each sentence with the correct word from the word bank. Read each completed sentence.

Word Bank

|          |             |           |           |               |
|----------|-------------|-----------|-----------|---------------|
| nonstick | seriousness | impatient | fairness  | incorrectness |
| mistrust | nondairy    | misspoke  | imbalance | readiness     |

- If someone lies to you, does it make you mistrust them?
- A nonstick pan is easy to clean.
- In an emergency, readiness is key.
- Oat milk does not come from cows, so it is nondairy.
- I misspoke when I called Annie by the wrong name.
- The line is moving slowly, and I am impatient.
- In a game, fairness is important.
- The opposite of seriousness is silliness.
- The incorrectness of the news story was a problem.
- Is there an imbalance between her screen time and sports time?

Read "Snow Day" once. Then reread the passage and mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with vowel teams that make the /ee/ or /ie/ sounds.
- Put a box around words with vowel teams that make the /oe/ or /ue/ sounds.
- Circle words with the prefixes non-, mis-, im-, in-, or -ness.

Snow Day

Tahoe and Jaylee woke up right at daylight one morning. The brother and sister tiptoed to the window and saw that snow was falling nonstop.

"It's a snow day!" they both screamed.

They knew going to school that day would be impossible, and they were eager and delighted to spend the day playing indoors.

As they were eating their eggs, Jaylee passed a piece of toast to her brother.

"We get so few snow days to do things on our own. What should we do?" she asked.

"I believe we should play board games," Tahoe responded.

Jaylee agreed with him, "Yes, let's do that!"

They selected a board game and set it up. Jaylee reviewed the rules and tried to explain them to Tahoe. But the rules seemed like nonsense to him. Tahoe made a few mistakes, like moving his boat piece to the incorrect place on the board. Jaylee, feeling a bit impatient, snapped at him.

"That's not right, Tahoe! You're mishandling the pieces!" she groaned at him.

Her words made Tahoe feel such sadness. He cried because he didn't like being treated harshly, and the two began to argue.

Seeing what had happened, Dad came to the rescue.

"Let's not fight over a board game," he said. "Jaylee, we need to show kindness. We are all imperfect in some way. And Tahoe, it's okay to make mistakes. That's how you get better."

Jaylee realized she had misunderstood the rules and had misspoken when she explained them to Tahoe. No wonder he was incredibly confused! She had been impolite and inconsiderate of his feelings.

"I'm sorry, Tahoe. Are you okay?" she asked.

Tahoe dried his tears.

"I'm okay. We are not enemies or foes. Let's continue to play," said Tahoe with forgiveness.

They both felt their moods lighten.

As the snow piled higher outside, the siblings continued to play with no missteps or misunderstandings. Tahoe played his oboe. He loved his new instrument. And Jaylee painted her toenails. They read nonfiction stories to each other and even had a sweet tea party. They giggled, smiled, and forgot the unhappy part of their day. The cold snow was blowing outside, but inside, it was bright and warm with happiness.

That night, they felt a sense of togetherness. They looked out the window at the street below that was still piled with snow. Tahoe and Jaylee knew they would remember this day, not for the snow, but for the fun they shared.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

15.4 ACTIVITY PAGE

“Snow Day” Comprehension Questions

- Why can't Tahoe and Jaylee go to school?
There is a snow storm.
- What is the first thing Tahoe and Jaylee decide to do on their snow day?
Tahoe and Jaylee play board games.
- Why does Jaylee feel impatient with Tahoe?
Tahoe makes some mistakes while playing a board game.

- What are other activities did Tahoe and Jaylee do?
Accept any combination of the following: play the oboe, paint toenails, read stories to each other, have a tea party
- Why do Tahoe and Jaylee feel a sense of togetherness at the end of the day?
Tahoe and Jaylee had a lot of fun playing together on their snow day.
- Think about all the activities Tahoe and Jaylee did on their snow day. Which activity would you most enjoy doing on a day off of school? Use details from the story to explain your choice.
I would enjoy playing board games. I like the challenge of learning the rules and playing with other people.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

16.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Read Words with /aw/ > 'au', 'aw', and 'al'

Read the words. Sort the words in the word bank according to whether /aw/ is spelled 'au', 'aw', or 'al'. Read each column.

Word Bank

|           |          |          |         |
|-----------|----------|----------|---------|
| withdrawn | chalk    | gnaw     | squawk  |
| smaller   | haunted  | audience | walker  |
| applause  | ballgame | because  | awkward |

| 'au'     | 'aw'      | 'al'     |
|----------|-----------|----------|
| haunted  | withdrawn | walker   |
| because  | awkward   | ballgame |
| audience | gnaw      | chalk    |
| applause | squawk    | smaller  |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

16.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Prefixes: sub-

Read each root word in the word bank. Then read each sentence. Fill in each blank in the sentences below by adding the prefix sub- to a root word from the word bank. Read each completed sentence.

Word Bank

|        |       |      |
|--------|-------|------|
| title  | plot  | way  |
| marine | group | zero |

- The submarine dives below the surface of the sea.
- A group of kids is cleaning the classroom. A subgroup of kids is cleaning the reading corner.
- People should wear heavy coats in subzero temperatures.
- Today the subway is very crowded.
- The title of the book is Dogs. The subtitle is Loyal Pets.
- The plot of the book is about two kids in the woods. There is also a subplot about a fox.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

16.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Draw a box around words with the vowel teams 'ough' or 'augh'.
- Circle words with the suffix -ly.

Chalk Art

Chalk can make really awesome art. Some artists skillfully use chalk to make interesting art. Many of them are self-taught! They are an incredible subgroup of artists.

These artists can be quite sought-after. Chalk artists can cleverly change a wall, chalkboard, or walkway with chalk. They are often brought in to create displays in diners, grocery stores, and coffee shops.

There are so many things chalk artists can draw. They can draw a lovely portrait of a mother and daughter. They can draw a submarine or a seesaw. They can also draw a tall beanstalk or an autumn scene. Chalk artists can draw it all! They can take any thought or idea and bring it to life with chalk.

A chalk artist must thoughtfully and carefully pick the right spot for their art. If they want to draw in the subway or on a sidewalk, they must be cautious. They need to make sure that they are allowed to actually draw in that spot.

Chalk artists may also want to pick a spot with an audience. This can be a park, under an awning, or along a busy walkway. With the right spot, people can walk by and see the art. They can pause and gawk at the flawless and freshly drawn art.

Some cities hold lively chalk art festivals. The city rapidly becomes like a huge art canvas. Artists may subdivide a wall to share space. City streets and blank walls of buildings are suddenly pieces of art. Jaw-dropping murals dot the landscape. Some make awesome optical illusion chalk murals. It's clearly amazing!

Sadly, chalk art does not last forever. Rain and foot traffic can quickly wear away the chalk. The sun can eventually make it fade too. It's awfully sad when the chalk art is gone, but it does not make the art any less awesome. Chalk art is truly incredible!

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

17.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Review Words with /aw/

Read the words. Circle the correct spelling of each word.

1. daughter    doughter
2. launch    lawnch
3. cawt    caught
4. small    smawl
5. tought    taught
6. bawlgame    ballgame
7. raw    raugh
8. squawk    squauk
9. brought    braut
10. cawtion    caution

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

17.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Root Words and Suffixes: -ly

Read each sentence and put a triangle around each adverb and a wiggly line under the word it describes. Then, draw an arrow from the adverb to the word it describes.

1. Joe neatly made the bed.
2. Miriam carefully wrapped the gift.
3. The car rapidly raced around the track.
4. Ryan selfishly ate all the snacks.
5. The dog excitedly wagged its tail.
6. The building was extremely tall.
7. The mouse silently slipped through the crack.
8. The cat suddenly jumped onto the bed.
9. George patiently waited for his turn.
10. The plan went terribly wrong.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

18.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Read /oo/ > 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', and 'ough'

Read the words in the word bank. Sort the words according to whether /oo/ is spelled 'oo', 'ue', 'u_e', or 'ough'. Read the words you placed in each column.

Word Bank

|         |       |              |         |
|---------|-------|--------------|---------|
| glued   | bloom | dude         | scooped |
| roomy   | Luke  | throughout   | bluer   |
| through | clue  | breakthrough | exclude |

| 'oo'    | 'ue'  | 'u_e'   | 'ough'       |
|---------|-------|---------|--------------|
| scooped | clue  | Luke    | throughout   |
| bloom   | bluer | dude    | breakthrough |
| roomy   | glued | exclude | through      |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

18.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Prefixes and Suffixes: sub-, -ly

Read the root words in the word bank. Then read each sentence. Fill in each blank in the sentences by adding either the prefix sub- or the suffix -ly to a root word from the word bank. Make sure to change the spelling as needed.

Word Bank

|        |         |           |       |
|--------|---------|-----------|-------|
| gentle | marine  | impatient | way   |
| set    | extreme | brave     | rapid |

- The canoe moved rapidly down the river.
- Hannah took the subway into New York City.
- Jameson bravely auditioned for the play.
- Eric loves roller coasters that go extremely fast.
- A shark swam alongside the submarine.
- Vowels are a subset of letters within the alphabet.
- Gia waited impatiently for the concert to begin.
- Jen nudged her grandfather gently to wake him up.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

18.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Draw a box around words with the vowel team 'oo'.
- Circle words with the affixes sub- and -ly.

Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon

Brooklyn loved to read in her blue bedroom in the suburbs. She would borrow books from the library to satisfy her curiosity about different subjects. But she'd often kept them past their due date.

Brooklyn read about subways, football, and submarines. She even liked cookbooks! But Brooklyn's favorite books were about animals, especially books about baboons. She would stay up reading by the moonlight, wishing to see a baboon in real life.

Her wish would come true sooner than expected.

"We are going on a school trip to the zoo next week," said her teacher, Mr. Woodrow.

"It is almost June. A cool school trip is way overdue! Do you think we will see baboons?" Brooklyn asked her schoolmate, Ooma, in the lunchroom.

"I would assume so," Ooma responded.

They both became extremely excited.

The next week, the class took the subway to Sixth Avenue. They got to the zoo around noon. Mr. Woodrow took Brooklyn and her schoolmates through the giraffe, elephant, and kangaroo exhibits. They talked about the subtypes of different animal groups.

Finally, they got to the baboons! Brooklyn was so excited that she could hardly contain herself. She jumped up and almost lost her footing! She didn't care if she looked a bit foolish.

"Did you know that baboons are a subgroup of primates?" she asked Mr. Woodrow brightly.

Suddenly, she saw a baby baboon named Sue. She looked truly scared. Brooklyn scooted closer to get a better look. Sue's foot was stuck under a branch. She couldn't get to her mother. Brooklyn wanted to help. She quickly pursued a zookeeper.

"Excuse me. The baby baboon needs help!" Brooklyn rapidly explained to the zookeeper.

He took one look and promptly called for help.

Brooklyn watched with relief as the zookeepers quickly responded to the issue. They used a long hook to remove the branch gently. Then Sue was reunited with her mother.

The zookeeper thanked Brooklyn.

"You have the true spirit of a zookeeper," he said.

Brooklyn smiled and said goodbye to Sue. She promised to visit again soon.

Back in her bedroom, Brooklyn wrote about her day in her notebook. She added a doodle of Sue. Then, Brooklyn had a breakthrough moment. She realized that she loved not only reading about animals but also helping them!

NAME: _____ 18.4 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

“Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon”
 Comprehension Questions

- What are Brooklyn’s favorite books about?
Her favorite books are about animals, especially baboons.
 _____
 _____
- Where does Brooklyn’s class go on their field trip?
They go to the zoo.
 _____
 _____
- What does Brooklyn discover about Sue? What does Brooklyn do?
Sue is stuck. Brooklyn gets a zookeeper to help.
 _____
 _____

- What does the zookeeper mean when he says that Brooklyn has “the true spirit of a zookeeper”?
He means that Brooklyn cares for and wants to help animals.
 _____
 _____

- What does Brooklyn do when she gets home from the zoo?
She writes about her day in her notebook.
 _____
 _____
- What does it mean to have a breakthrough moment?
It means you figure out something new or important.
 _____
 _____

NAME: _____ 19.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Words with /oo/ and /ou/

Read the words in the word bank. Sort the words according to whether the spelling ‘oo’ makes the /oo/ sound (as in book) or the /ou/ sound (as in moon). Read the words you placed in each column.

Word Bank

|       |          |           |        |         |
|-------|----------|-----------|--------|---------|
| spoon | spooky   | hooked    | broom  | trooper |
| stood | goodness | toothache | woolly | hoof    |

| /oo/     | /ou/      |
|----------|-----------|
| stood    | broom     |
| hooked   | toothache |
| woolly   | trooper   |
| goodness | spooky    |
| hoof     | spoon     |

NAME: _____ 19.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Compound Words with Vowel Team Syllables

Read each word. Draw a line to break each compound word into smaller words. Then write the smaller words on the lines, and circle the vowel team(s) that makes the /oo/ sound in each word.

- book/mark book / mark
- goodbye good / bye
- cookbook cook / book
- fishhook fish / hook
- woodpile wood / pile

NAME: _____ 19.3 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Root Words, Prefixes, and the Suffix -ly

Read each word in the word bank. Then read the definitions and sentences. Complete each sentence with a word from the word bank that matches the given definition. Read each completed sentence.

Word Bank

|               |             |            |
|---------------|-------------|------------|
| reactively    | mistakenly  | unclearly  |
| nonsensically | unselfishly | disorderly |

In a way that:

1. ...is based on an error or a mistake.

Some people mistakenly think that all dogs shed their fur, but some do not.

2. ...is a response to someone or something.

When the ball came toward me, I reactively covered my head with my hands.

3. ...does not make sense.

The children were speaking nonsensically with words they made up.

4. ...is not about putting yourself first.

She unselfishly gave her jacket to her friend who forgot his.

5. ...is messy or out of order.

Ken's desk was in a disorderly state, with piles of books and candy wrappers.

6. ...is confusing or unclear.

The pool rules were unclearly presented, so we weren't sure if toys were allowed in the pool.

NAME: _____ 20.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Review /aw/, /oo/, and /oo/

Read the words in the word bank. Sort the words according to whether the vowel team makes the /aw/, /oo/ (as in moon), or /oo/ (as in book) sound. Read the words you placed in each column.

Word Bank

|          |         |         |              |
|----------|---------|---------|--------------|
| chalk    | woolly  | roomy   | breakthrough |
| goodness | caught  | hooked  | stood        |
| awkward  | scooped | haunted | clue         |

| /aw/    | /oo/         | /oo/     |
|---------|--------------|----------|
| haunted | breakthrough | stood    |
| chalk   | scooped      | hooked   |
| awkward | clue         | woolly   |
| caught  | roomy        | goodness |

NAME: _____ 20.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Review Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words

Read the words. Draw a line to divide each word into syllables. Then identify each syllable type by writing closed, open, VCe, or vowel team.

- cupcake cup | cake closed, VCe
- walkway walk | way vowel team, vowel team
- retought re | tought open, vowel team
- spooky spook | y vowel team, open
- distraught dis | traught closed, vowel team
- cookbook cook | book vowel team, vowel team
- woodpile wood | pile vowel team, VCe
- hallway hall | way vowel team, vowel team

Review Prefixes and Suffixes: sub-, -ly

Read the words in the root word bank. Sort the root words according to whether you can create a new word by adding the prefix sub- or the suffix -ly. Write the new word. Make sure to change the spelling as needed. Read the words you created in each column.

Root Word Bank

|           |        |        |         |        |
|-----------|--------|--------|---------|--------|
| divide    | title  | sudden | urban   | marine |
| emotional | mighty | loud   | extreme | soil   |

| Adding sub- | Adding -ly |
|--------------------|-------------------|
| subdivide          | emotionally       |
| subtitle           | suddenly          |
| suburban           | mightily          |
| submarine          | loudly            |
| subsoil            | extremely         | spacecraft. They excitedly crawled inside. Each crew member took a nook and safely stored the personal items they had brought with them.

Next, the crew made sure everything was working properly. They slowly and cautiously checked the control system for flaws. They made sure not to overlook any system issues.

The countdown finally began.

"10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1... Lift off!"

The spacecraft launched rapidly into the blue sky with a boom. The astronauts felt a powerful force as they zoomed into the sky. They looked through the window and gawked at the town of Sunnybrook. It got smaller and smaller as they gained altitude.

The astronauts skillfully traveled through subfreezing outer space. They took caution to travel along their route. Finally reaching the moon, the astronauts stepped onto the moon's soil. The crew jointly paused and took in the sight. It filled them with awe.

The astronauts carefully scooped up soil samples. They made sure not to cause any undue harm to the moon. They left only their footprints on the moon.

"We ought to head back," one of them said. Their time to go home came way too soon.

The spacecraft returned steadily and safely to Earth. Large audiences lined the sidewalks of the viewing locations. They applauded the awesome astronauts. What a truly exciting mission! The crew eagerly looked forward to the next one.

Read "To the Moon" once. Then reread the passage and mark up the text as follows:

- Underline the words with the vowel teams that make the /aw/ sound.
- Put a box around the words with the vowel teams that make the /oo/ sound (as in moon).
- Circle the words with the affixes sub- and -ly.
- Highlight the words with the vowel team syllables that make the /oo/ sound (as in book).

To the Moon

In the small suburban town of Sunnybrook, a special subgroup of astronauts had been selected to launch into space and explore the moon. They had waited patiently since last August to pursue this overdue mission. It was now June.

The astronauts intensely prepared for the trip. They trained tirelessly to survive awful conditions. A mission like this could be fraught with, or full of, risks! They spent time submerged in pools to prepare for being in zero gravity. They worked in subzero temperatures. They were taught to keep cool in stressful situations, even if they felt distraught. They did not hesitate or balk. They took on every daunting task. This mission was for skilled astronauts, not rookies!

Launch day dawned fairly quickly. The astronauts felt fully prepared and whistled a happy tune. They gently hugged their sons, daughters, and other family members goodbye. Then, they caught up with each other and headed toward the walkway. The astronaut crew walked through a long tube to the

"To the Moon" Comprehension Questions

1. At the beginning of the story, what have the astronauts been chosen to do?
 The astronauts have been chosen to launch into space and explore the moon.
2. How do the astronauts train for the mission?
 The astronauts submerge in pools to prepare for zero gravity and work in subzero temperatures.
3. Why do astronauts train to stay calm in stressful situations?
 Astronauts have to keep calm so they can stay focused on their task and stay safe in dangerous conditions in space.

4. How do the astronauts feel on launch day?

The astronauts feel prepared, happy, and excited.

_____

_____

5. What do the astronauts do on their mission?

The astronauts take soil samples from the moon to study.

_____

_____

6. Would you like to be an astronaut? Use details from the story to explain why or why not.

Yes, I would like to be an astronaut so I could explore places like the moon and see awesome sights like the astronauts in the story did.

NAME: _____

21.1

ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Words with 'oi' and 'oy'

Read each sentence. Complete each word with 'oi' or 'oy'. Read each complete sentence.

- The b_oy_ played outside.
- "Don't annoy_oy_ your sister," Mom said.
- Please use a quiet v_oice_.
- The party is nois_oi_sy.
- After the light rain, the s_oi_l_ is m_oi_st_.
- They went on a v_oy_age across the sea.

NAME: _____

21.2

ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Words with -ous

Read the words in the "Noun" column. Create adjectives by adding the suffix -ous to each of the nouns in the chart. Then write the meaning of each adjective. Read the words you created in the "Adjective" column.

| Noun     | Adjective   | Meaning of Adjective |
|----------|-------------|----------------------|
| mountain | mountainous | Full of mountains    |
| danger   | dangerous   | Full of danger       |
| joy      | joyous      | Full of joy          |
| poison   | poisonous   | Full of poison       |
| marvel   | marvelous   | Full of marvel       |

NAME: _____

21.3

ACTIVITY PAGE

DATE: _____

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.

When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline words with 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough'.
- Circle words that end in -ous.
- Highlight words that have more than one syllable type.

Coins

Coins are small but wondrous pieces of metal. Coins are used as currency or money. Many people are curious about these round objects because the world of coins is astounding!

Money doesn't grow on trees, branches, or boughs. And coins don't sprout from the soil! They are made in a noisy factory called a mint. Most coins are made from a mixture of metals known as alloys. Loud and sometimes dangerous machines heat the mounds of alloy and press them into coins. They are made to last and be hard to destroy.

Coins are worth various amounts. In the United States, coins can be worth dollars or cents. In the United Kingdom, they can be worth pounds or pence.

Coins come in numerous shapes and sizes. Coins can be bronze, a type of brown metal. They can also be silver or gold. Most coins are round. But some coins can be square or have lots of edges.

Coins often have famous faces on them. These famous faces can be former presidents or other courageous public figures. Coins can have other interesting designs on them too. These can include towering buildings, majestic animals, or mountainous views. They also have symbols on them, like glamorous crowns that symbolize power and royalty.

Cashiers typically employ, or use, numerous coins to provide change when people pay in cash. Coins are useful when paying at parking meters and vending machines. Some people are cautious to avoid spending their coins and make the choice to save them in a piggy bank instead. The sound of shaking a full piggy bank makes them rejoice.

Adventurous people enjoy traveling to many places and towns to collect coins. They like to find coins with cool details. They also like finding rare coins that were produced during a coin shortage or "drought." These people enjoy looking for special coins to add to their wondrous collections.

Coins are much more than just round metal objects. They should be appreciated and not just tossed around.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

22.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Words with 'ou', 'ow', and 'ough'

Read the words in the word bank. Complete the chart with words from the word bank. Read the words in each column.

Word Bank

|       |         |       |       |
|-------|---------|-------|-------|
| bough | house   | growl | town  |
| mound | shout   | plow  | meow  |
| clown | drought | power | mouth |

| Words with 'ou' | Words with 'ow' | Words with 'ough' |
|-----------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| house           | clown           | bough             |
| mound           | growl           | drought           |
| mouth           | power           |                   |
| shout           | meow            |                   |
|                 | town            |                   |
|                 | plow            |                   |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

22.2 ACTIVITY PAGE

Sort Words with Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllables

Read the words in the word bank. Complete the chart with words from the word bank. If a word has more than one syllable type, write it in the correct columns. Read the words in each column.

Word Bank

|           |          |
|-----------|----------|
| spaceship | bathrobe |
| clownlike | downtown |
| pancake   | revive   |

| Closed    | Open   | VCe       | Vowel Team |
|-----------|--------|-----------|------------|
| pancake   | revive | clownlike | downtown   |
| bathrobe  |        | pancake   | clownlike  |
| spaceship |        | bathrobe  |            |
|           |        | revive    |            |
|           |        | spaceship |            |

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

22.3 ACTIVITY PAGE

Create Words with -ous

Read the words in the "Noun" column. Create adjectives by adding the suffix -ous to each of the nouns in the chart. Remember to change the spelling as needed. Then use your own words to write the meaning of each adjective. Read the words you created in the "Adjective" column.

Word Bank

| Noun   | Adjective | Meaning of Adjective                      |
|--------|-----------|-------------------------------------------|
| fury   | furious   | Full of fury; very angry                  |
| pore   | porous    | Full of pores; has lots of tiny holes     |
| nerve  | nervous   | Full of nerves; worried about something   |
| virtue | virtuous  | Having a lot of virtues or good qualities |
| space  | spacious  | Full of space; very big with lots of room |

NAME: _____ 23.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Words with /ae/

Read the words in the word bank. Complete the chart with words from the word bank. Read the words in each column.

Word Bank

|            |            |         |
|------------|------------|---------|
| face       | playground | aimless |
| weightless | fray       | eighth  |
| stray      | freight    | shame   |
| basecamp   | painter    | drain   |

| 'a_e'    | 'ai'    | 'ay'       | 'eigh'     |
|----------|---------|------------|------------|
| basecamp | painter | playground | weightless |
| face     | aimless | stray      | eighth     |
| shame    | drain   | fray       | freight    |

My sentence:

---

---

---

My sentence:

---

---

---

NAME: _____ 23.3 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Define Words with -ous

Read each word in the word bank. Then read the sentences below that contain definitions for the words. Complete each definition with one of the words from the word bank. Then write your own sentences using two of the words.

Word Bank

|            |           |            |
|------------|-----------|------------|
| anxious    | jealous   | fabulous   |
| outrageous | delicious | victorious |

1. If something is delicious, it tastes very good.
2. If someone is anxious, they are very worried.
3. If someone is jealous, they want something someone else has.
4. If something is fabulous, it is wonderful.
5. If something is outrageous, it is shocking.
6. If someone is victorious, they have won.

NAME: _____ 23.4 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Follow along as your teacher reads the passage.
 When you reread the passage with a partner, mark up the text as follows:

- Underline three words with the /oi/ sound.
- Draw a box around three words with the /ou/ sound.
- Put a star by three words with the /ae/ sound spelled 'eigh'.
- Circle three words that end in -ous.

Zoila's Sleigh

Zoila had just turned eight years old. She lived in a marvelous town with polite and courteous neighbors. Zoila's love for winter outweighed her love for any other season! She enjoyed spending time in the cold air. She loved being joined outside by her loyal hound dogs, Troy and Scout.

One winter day, after a long drought with no rain or snow, enough snow fell to cover the ground in Zoila's downtown neighborhood. All of a sudden, Zoila had a spontaneous idea. She wanted her hounds to pull her around in her fabulous, brown sleigh. Troy and Scout were powerful hounds. As a unit, they were able to jointly pull a serious amount of weight.

Zoila began working on getting the sleigh ready. Then, she used a snowplow to clear a tidy path on the ground. The hounds ran around behind her. Zoila's neighbors, LeRoy and Leighton, watched with curious stares from inside their home. She looked silly, but they wanted to take part in the fun.

Zoila saw her neighbors and waved. "Do you want to join me?" she shouted. LeRoy and Leighton nodded with joy. They ran out of their house and over to Zoila, their loud voices ringing through the air.

Zoila greeted her neighbors with a handshake. She hoisted them onto her sleigh. Then she tied one rope end to the sleigh and the other to Troy and Scout's harnesses. The hounds howled joyously. They were ready to power the sleigh around the town.

"Ready?" Zoila asked. The adventurous Leighton gave her a boisterous "Yes!" LeRoy just responded with an anxious thumbs-up. He was more cautious than Leighton. Zoila gave Troy and Scout a command to begin. The hounds started to pull the precious freight. They effortlessly handled the sleigh's weight. LeRoy and Leighton laughed and shouted with joy. Zoila ran behind them. The sound of their laughter was so loud it was heard all over town. They rode for more than eighteen minutes.

The neighbors hopped off the sleigh and thanked Troy and Scout with tasty treats. Zoila let the hounds rest and enjoy their treats. It was her turn next!

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

23.5 ACTIVITY PAGE

"Zoila's Sleigh" Comprehension Questions

1. What is Zoila's favorite season?

Zoila's favorite season is winter.

2. What pulls Zoila's sleigh?

Zoila's two dogs, Troy and Scout, pull her sleigh.

3. Why are Troy and Scout able to pull a sleigh with two boys in it?

Troy and Scout are powerful hounds.

4. Whom does Zoila invite to have a sleigh ride?

Zoila invites her neighbors, LeRoy and Leighton.

5. Where does the sleigh take the neighbors?

The sleigh takes the neighbors around the town.

6. Do you think Zoila is wise to put her neighbors in the sled?

Responses will vary. Students may say it is dangerous for the boys to be in the sled without Zoila steering it.

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

24.1 ACTIVITY PAGE

Sort Words by Number of Syllables

Read the words in the word bank. Complete the chart with words from the word bank. Read the words in each column.

Word Bank

|              |              |            |
|--------------|--------------|------------|
| joyful       | mountainside | downloaded |
| oily         | noiselessly  | sleigh     |
| heavyweight  | spoiler      | ounce      |
| moisten      | avoid        | rainfall   |
| cloudiness   | voice        | foul       |
| housekeeping | plow         | loud       |

| One Syllable | Two Syllables | Three Syllables |
|--------------|---------------|-----------------|
| voice        | joyful        | heavyweight     |
| plow         | oily          | cloudiness      |
| sleigh       | moisten       | housekeeping    |
| ounce        | spoiler       | mountainside    |
| loud         | avoid         | noiselessly     |
| foul         | rainfall      | downloaded      |

NAME: _____ 24.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Words with -ous

Part I

Add -ous to each of the words. Change the spelling if necessary. Write the new word on the line.

- fame famous
- glory glorious
- fury furious
- space spacious
- mystery mysterious

Part II

Complete each sentence with an -ous word from Part I. Read each completed sentence.

- If someone is famous, a lot of people know them.
- If someone is furious, they are very angry.
- Something spacious has a lot of room.
- Something mysterious is unknown, or full of mystery.
- Something glorious is beautiful or wonderful, or full of glory.

NAME: _____ 25.1 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Sort Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words

Read each word. Complete the chart by writing the syllables of each word. Then color in the syllable types using the key below.

Syllable Type Key

Closed – blue    Open – red
 VCe – green    Vowel Team – yellow

Word Bank

| Word       | First Syllable | Second Syllable | Third Syllable |
|------------|----------------|-----------------|----------------|
| cloudiness | cloud (yellow) | i (red)         | ness (blue)    |
| cookbook   | cook (yellow)  | book (yellow)   |                |
| continue   | con (blue)     | tin (blue)      | ue (yellow)    |
| driveway   | drive (green)  | way (yellow)    |                |
| refried    | re (red)       | fried (yellow)  |                |
| fifteen    | fif (blue)     | teen (yellow)   |                |

NAME: _____ 25.2 ACTIVITY PAGE
 DATE: _____

Review Prefixes and Suffixes

Read each base word. Then, read each definition. Add a prefix, a suffix, or both to one of the base words to form a word to match each definition below.

| Base Words | Prefixes | Suffixes |
|------------|----------|----------|
| view       | mis-     | -or      |
| make       | im-      | -ful     |
| direct     | in-      | -ness    |
| harm       | sub-     | -ly      |
| fear       | un-      | -ous     |
| stop       | re-      |          |
| polite     | dis-     |          |
| secure     | pre-     |          |
|            | non-     |          |

- To make again remake
- Not secure insecure
- To view before preview
- Full of harm harmful

- Without stopping nonstop
- Not full of fear; not afraid unfearful
- Someone who directs director
- Not polite impolite

NAME: _____ 25.3 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____ (CONTINUED)

Once the pain and discomfort disappeared, Giovanni gave his unfortunate accident some thought. He had certainly made a mistake by forgetting some of his safety gear. Despite his misadventure, Giovanni was not discouraged. He now understood the importance of taking safety precautions. It was the logical thing to do. His inattention and bad attitude toward safety were replaced with newfound seriousness. The idea of not being safe when skateboarding now just seemed like nonsense. The day had been imperfect, and he had made a mistake but also learned an important lesson.

Open Syllable Word: Samples responses: woke, up, one, and, dressed

Closed Syllable Word: Sample responses: up, in, and, sun, from, mountain, shed

VCe Syllable Word: woke, rose, take, skateboard, take, safety, bone

Vowel Team Syllable Word: high, few, drew, tree, How, woe

NAME: _____ 25.4 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

“Giovanni’s Safety Lesson” 15” Comprehension Questions

1. What does Giovanni do after he leaves his house?
Giovanni takes a joyride on his skateboard.
2. What gift did Giovanni receive from his neighbor?
Giovanni received a skateboard from his neighbor.
3. What safety gear does Giovanni forget to take?
Giovanni forgets his knee and elbow pads.

4. What surprises Giovanni?
Giovanni did not expect a rainstorm.
5. What part of Giovanni’s body gets hurt?
Giovanni hurts his knee.
6. Do you think Giovanni will remember the lesson he learned?
Yes, Giovanni will remember because he got hurt.

NAME: _____ 25.5 ACTIVITY PAGE
DATE: _____

Unit 2 Dictation Post-Test

Write each word that your teacher dictates.

1. cautious
2. invaluable
3. powerful
4. undoubtedly
5. rejoin
6. disengage
7. preannounce
8. joyfully
9. weightless

Write the entire sentence that your teacher dictates.

1. Her daughter and niece might be at the poolside.

---

---

---

2. May I borrow some large gloves?

---

---

---

Choose a word from the list above and use it to write your own sentence.

---

---

---

---

ADDITIONAL SUPPORT ACTIVITY PAGE ANSWER KEY

NAME: _____ DATE: _____ TR 1.1

Reread "Fame on Stage." In this story, Mike wants to become famous, but he needs help to do so. What characters in the story help Mike in his quest to become a famous actor? How do their actions help him achieve his dreams?

Sample response: The characters who help Mike are Jade and Mrs. Tate. Jade helps Mike by offering him advice. Mrs. Tate helps Mike by giving him a role in the play.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

310 Skills 2

NAME: _____ DATE: _____ TR 2.1

Words with /ie/ > 'i_e'

Read the words below. Circle the words that become new words if you add 'e' to the end. Then write the new words.

|       |        |      |      |
|-------|--------|------|------|
| slid  | fit    | rid  | wit  |
| twine | stripe | fine | dime |

New Words

1. slide
2. twine
3. stripe
4. ride
5. fine
6. dime

Teacher Resources 311

NAME: _____ DATE: _____ TR 3.1

Reread "The Role of Code." What is the central idea in this text? What evidence does the author use to support the central idea?

Sample response: The central idea of this text is that code plays a major role in our world. The author supports this idea by showing how code helps different technologies function. The author lists computers, mobile phones, automated doors, and game consoles as examples.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

312 Skills 2

NAME: _____ DATE: _____ TR 4.1

Sort Words with 'a_e', 'i_e', 'o_e', and 'u_e'

Read each word in the word bank. Complete the chart below with the words in the Word Bank.

Word Bank

|        |        |           |           |
|--------|--------|-----------|-----------|
| unlike | used   | sandstone | fate      |
| skate  | became | quite     | tightrope |
| nose   | glide  | cube      | perfume   |

| 'a_e'  | 'i_e'  | 'o_e'     | 'u_e'   |
|--------|--------|-----------|---------|
| skate  | unlike | sandstone | cube    |
| became | glide  | nose      | perfume |
| fate   | quite  | tightrope | used    |

Teacher Resources 313

NAME: _____ TR 5.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Hope the Sculptor." What is the theme, or central message, about life in this story? What events in the story convey this theme?

Sample response: The theme of "Hope the Sculptor" is that even mistakes can be meaningful and useful. The theme is conveyed when Hope sliced off a part of her cube. She assumed because it was a mistake that the sculpture was ruined. However, she learned that making mistakes can actually make something more beautiful.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

314

Skills 2

NAME: _____ TR 6.1
DATE: _____

Reread "How to Sketch a Giraffe." Follow the instructions outlined in the passage to draw a giraffe. Then identify the step or steps from the passage that you found most helpful and explain why.

Sample response: Drawings will vary but should show a giraffe.

I found step three to be the most helpful. Previewing photos of giraffes helped me get a good understanding of what giraffes look like and helped me plan my drawing.

---

---

---

---

Teacher Resources

315

NAME: _____ TR 7.1
DATE: _____

Sort Words with Hard 'g' > /g/ and Soft 'g' > /j/

Complete the chart with words from the Word Bank.

Word Bank

|         |        |       |       |
|---------|--------|-------|-------|
| goodbye | ginger | game  | magic |
| page    | gummy  | stage | brag  |

| /g/     | /j/    |
|---------|--------|
| goodbye | page   |
| gummy   | ginger |
| game    | stage  |
| brag    | magic  |

316

Skills 2

NAME: _____ TR 8.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Dinosaurs." What is the central idea of "Dinosaurs"? What are some details from the passage that help develop this central idea?

Sample response: The central idea in "Dinosaurs" is that dinosaurs were interesting creatures that lived a long time ago. Some important details were what dinosaurs looked like, what they ate, and how they became extinct.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Teacher Resources

317

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 9.1

Read Words with /ae/

Read the passage and circle words with the sound /ae/.

Sophia and Matt were best friends. They rode the bus together every day. They loved playing soccer. They jumped in puddles when it rained. They shared all the details of their lives. One morning Matt explained that his family was going to move away. Sophia did not know what to say. She felt sad. She was afraid that they would not be friends anymore. Matt told her that everything was going to be okay. They would send letters to each other in the mail. That way they would always be best friends.

318

Skills 2

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 10.1

Reread "Eve's Race." Think of a time when you faced a setback while you were working toward a goal. Use details from your life to compare how your experience compared to that of the character in the story.

Sample response: Last year, I fell from the monkey bars on the playground and broke my arm. I had been practicing all spring for my piano recital, but my arm didn't heal in time for me to be able to perform. Like Eve, I felt upset about my injury, but I rested and healed. This fall I will practice even harder and perform in the Winter Recital instead, like Eve plans to do in the story.

Teacher Resources

319

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 10.2

Read the passage. Underline three words with soft 'c' or 'g' (as in allegiance). Put a box around three words with hard 'c' or 'g' (as in flag). Highlight one word with the ay or ai vowel team.

The Pledge of Allegiance

The Pledge of Allegiance is an oath, or vow, that people in the United States recite before important events. It is a way for American citizens to say they are proud to be a part of the country and agree to work together for freedom and fairness.

The words to the Pledge of Allegiance are: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Comprehension Questions:

1. The word pledge means "to make a promise," and the word allegiance means "loyalty to a cause or person." What do you think it means to "pledge allegiance" to something?

To "pledge allegiance" means to promise to be loyal to something.

2. The Pledge includes that the United States of America is "one nation" and "indivisible." Indivisible means "not able to be separated." Why is it important to call the United States "indivisible"? What word in "United States" also means "indivisible"?

It is important to call the United States "indivisible" because it shows that we should stay together as one country. The word "United" also means "indivisible" because it means being joined together.

324

Skills 2

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

TR 10.2
CONTINUED

3. What do you think "liberty and justice for all" means? What historical figures have we learned about who have fought for "liberty and justice" for people in the United States?

"Liberty and justice for all" means everyone should be free and treated fairly. Students may note people like Martin Luther King, Jr. and Rosa Parks who have worked hard for these rights in the United States.

4. Why do you think people choose to recite the Pledge of Allegiance before important events?

People say the Pledge of Allegiance before big events to show love and respect for the country. It is a way to bring everyone together.

Teacher Resources

325

NAME: _____ TR 11.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Kailanie's Bees." A theme is a story's central message or lesson about life. Describe the theme of "Kailanie's Bees." Identify two pieces of evidence from the passage that helped you figure out the theme.

Sample response: The theme of "Kailanie's Bees" is that hard work pays off. The story says that "keeping bees is hard work" and tells about a problem Kailanie has with her bees. Kailanie works hard to solve the problem. At the end of the story, Kailanie's bees are well, and she feels relieved and happy.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

320

Skills 2

NAME: _____ TR 12.1
DATE: _____

Review Common Long Vowel Teams: /ie/ > 'igh', 'ie'

Listen to the words your teacher reads aloud. Determine whether each word is spelled with the 'igh' or 'ie' vowel team. Write the correct vowel team on the lines below.

1. _____ 'igh'
2. _____ 'ie'
3. _____ 'ie'
4. _____ 'igh'
5. _____ 'igh'
6. _____ 'ie'
7. _____ 'igh'
8. _____ 'igh'

Teacher Resources

321

NAME: _____ TR 13.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Boat Races: Fun on the Water." In this text, the author describes what it takes to be a good member of a boat crew. What traits does the author identify as important for teamwork on a boat crew? Use details from your life to describe when you have used those traits to be a part of a team.

Sample response: The author says that members of a boat crew should be fair, patient, and polite. I use these traits when I play for my basketball team. I use fairness by following the rules and respecting other players. I am patient with my teammates if they make a mistake. I am polite to my coaches.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

322

Skills 2

NAME: _____ TR 14.1
DATE: _____

Words with /ue/ > 'ew', 'ue'

Circle the misspelled words in the passage below. Then provide their correct spellings.

The students continewed to preveiw the article. The author chose to argu against eating barbecue. Fue students agreed with the author's vuepoint. Later, the students reuewed the article. Even fue saw ualew in the author's ideas.

1. _____ continued _____
2. _____ preview _____
3. _____ argue _____
4. _____ barbecue _____
5. _____ Few _____
6. _____ viewpoint _____
7. _____ reviewed _____
8. _____ fewer _____
9. _____ value _____

Teacher Resources

323

NAME: _____ TR 15.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Snow Day." The setting is when and where a story takes place. The plot is what happens in the story. Describe the setting of "Snow Day." Use details from the passage to explain how the setting affects what happens in the story.

Sample response: The setting of "Snow Day" is a cold winter day during a snowstorm. The setting affects what happens in the story because Tahoe and Jaylee cannot go to school. They have to find activities to do indoors instead, such as play board games.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

324

Skills 2

NAME: _____ TR 15.2
DATE: _____

Read the passage. Underline three words with the long e sound, spelled ea, ie, ee (field). Put a box around two words with ue or ay. Highlight one vowel team two-syllable word (features).

The United States Flag

The U.S. flag serves as a powerful symbol of patriotism and unity in the United States. It features fifty stars on a field of blue, each representing one of the states that together make up our nation, and thirteen alternating red and white stripes, representing the original colonies that declared independence. The flag evokes feelings of pride and respect, reminding us of the freedoms and rights that we cherish as Americans. When people sing the national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," they usually face the flag. Also displayed proudly during national holidays in schools, and at public buildings, the flag stands as a reminder of the nation's history, its sacrifices, and the enduring spirit of its people.

Comprehension Questions:

1. What do the fifty stars and thirteen stripes on the flag represent?
The fifty stars on the flag stand for the fifty states in the United States, and the thirteen stripes stand for the first thirteen colonies.
2. Who does the Preamble say is speaking? What part of the Preamble tells you so?
The flag symbolizes the history and spirit of America. It also symbolizes sacrifices made and the patriotism of its people.

Teacher Resources

331

NAME: _____ TR 15.2
DATE: _____ CONTINUED

3. What are some things the writers of the Preamble say they are writing the Constitution to do? If you need help, look at some of the words that are capitalized.

The U.S. flag is displayed at schools and public buildings to show pride and respect for our country and to remind us of our freedoms.

---

332

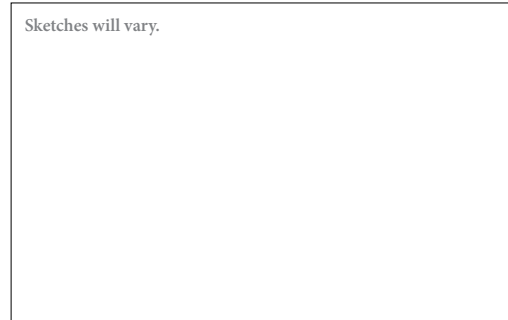

Skills 2

NAME: _____ TR 16.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Chalk Art." If you were a chalk artist, where would you make art? What would your art look like? Explain your thinking, and draw a sketch of your design.

Sample response: If I were a chalk artist, I would make a large mural on the side of the bank downtown. It faces the central train station, so everyone leaving the station would see it. My city is known for a long history of local music. I would create chalk art of some of our famous local musicians to honor them and celebrate our city.

Sketches will vary.

Teacher Resources

325

NAME: _____ TR 17.1
DATE: _____

Words with /aw/

Read each sentence. Fill in the blank by adding the correct spelling for each /aw/ sound: 'augh', 'ough', 'aw', 'al', or 'au'. Read each completed sentence.

1. The diamond was fl_ aw _less.
2. The cat c_ augh _t the mouse.
3. The players gathered at the b_ al _lpark.
4. My little sister made a dr_ aw _ing of a cat.
5. The lunchtime tea was for mothers and d_ augh _ters.
6. My favorite shirt is in the l_ au _ndry.
7. You really _ ough _t to remember my birthday.
8. Most students w_ al _k to school or take the bus.
9. The door closes _ au _tomatically.
10. I made a th_ ough _tless mistake on the test.

326

Skills 2

NAME: _____ TR 18.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Brooklyn and the Baby Baboon." After visiting the zoo, Brooklyn realizes something important about herself: She wants to help animals. Use details from your life to describe a time when you discovered something important about yourself.

Sample response: When my grandfather moved away, I started writing him long letters. At first I was writing because I wanted to share stories about my days. But then I realized that I really loved to write. I started writing stories on my own and keeping a daily journal.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Teacher Resources

327

NAME: _____ TR 19.1
DATE: _____

Vowel Teams with /oo/ and /ou/

Read the passage. Circle the words with the vowel teams that make the sound /oo/ (as in book). Underline the words with the vowel teams that make the sound /ou/ (as in moon).

The Smith family moved into a house on Maple Avenue. On their first day, they took a walk around the neighborhood. They saw flowers blooming in the park. They met a woman walking a poodle. They shook hands and introduced themselves. Her name was Sue. She invited the Smiths to a cookout where they could meet more neighbors. It started at noon. The Smiths said, "See you soon!"

328

Skills 2

NAME: _____ TR 20.2
DATE: _____

Reread "To the Moon." Describe one scene you could clearly imagine in your mind while reading the story. Which words and phrases in the passage most helped you create your mental image?

Sample response: I could clearly imagine the astronauts boarding the spacecraft and getting ready for the launch. The phrases that helped me create this mental image were "walked through a long tube," "crawled inside," and "took a nook and safely stored the personal items."

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

330

Skills 2

NAME: _____ TR 21.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Coins." Identify the central, or main idea of the text. What evidence from the passage supports this as the central idea?

Sample response: The central ideal of the passage is that while coins are small, they are interesting. The author supports the idea by describing coins and explaining how they are made. The author also explains what coins are used for and why some people collect them.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____ TR 22.1
DATE: _____

Words with /ou/

Read each sentence. Complete each word by adding the correct spelling for the /ou/ sound: 'ow', 'ou', or 'ough'. Read each completed sentence.

1. The king has a cr__ow__n on his head.
2. I had to sh__ou__t so she could hear me.
3. A circle is r__ou__nd.
4. How many people live in the t__ow__n?
5. The player got a red card for a f__ou__l.
6. During the dr__ough__t, there was very little rain.
7. Listen for the cat's me__ow__.
8. The farmer fixed the pl__ow__.

NAME: _____ TR 23.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Zoila's Sleigh." Use details from the passage to describe how the setting of the story, or where the story takes place, affects the plot, or what happens to the characters.

Sample response: The setting of the story is a snowy town in winter. The setting is where the events of the story take place. In the story, Zoila and her dogs pull a sled. This event can take place because the town is snowy.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

NAME: _____ TR 24.1
DATE: _____

Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words

Read each word. Look at the underlined syllable. Write whether the syllable is open, closed, VCe, or vowel team.

1. bookcase _____ vowel team
2. driveway _____ VCe
3. snowflake _____ VCe
4. drawback _____ closed
5. rebound _____ open
6. destroy _____ open
7. rejoin _____ vowel team
8. soil _____ vowel team
9. bayside _____ VCe
10. sprint _____ closed

NAME: _____ TR 23.1
 DATE: _____

Reread "Zoila's Sleigh." Use details from the passage to describe how the setting of the story, or where the story takes place, affects the plot, or what happens to the characters.

Sample response: The setting of the story is a snowy town in winter. The setting is where the events of the story take place. In the story, Zoila and her dogs pull a sled. This event can take place because the town is snowy.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

NAME: _____ TR 24.1
 DATE: _____

Closed, Open, VCe, and Vowel Team Syllable Words

Read each word. Look at the underlined syllable. Write whether the syllable is open, closed, VCe, or vowel team.

- bookcase vowel team
- driveway VCe
- snowflake VCe
- drawback closed
- rebound open
- destroy open
- rejoin vowel team
- soil vowel team
- bayside VCe
- sprint closed

NAME: _____ TR 24.2
 DATE: _____

Read the passage. Underline three words with oy, ou, ue, or oo (out). Put a box around two vowel team syllable words (explains). Highlight one VCe syllable word (enterprise).

Tommy's Big Dream

Tommy is a third grader who loves America and has a big dream to start his own business someday. His favorite class is social studies, where he learns about "free enterprise." This means people in America can open businesses. Some of those business owners sell their own creations, which makes Tommy excited.

Every summer, Tommy runs a lemonade stand. He loves making lemonade and talking to his customers. Tommy feels proud when people enjoy his drink. His mom explains that this small stand is a business, where he can make money by selling something he made.

Tommy admires local shopkeepers who sell books, toys, or treats. They work hard and love making their customers happy. He wants to be like them, using creativity and hard work to succeed.

One day, he shares his dream with his teacher, who says, "In America, you can do anything you set your mind to." This makes Tommy feel proud to live in a place where dreams can come true with hard work.

Comprehension Questions:

- What is Tommy's big dream?
Tommy's big dream is to start his own business someday.
- _____
- _____

NAME: _____ TR 24.2
 DATE: _____

CONTINUED

- What does Tommy do in the summer?
In the summer, Tommy runs a lemonade stand.
- _____
- _____
- What did Tommy learn about in social studies?
Tommy learned about "free enterprise" in social studies. This means people can open their own businesses in America.
- _____
- _____
- Why does Tommy admire local shopkeepers?
Tommy admires local shopkeepers because they work hard, love making their customers happy, and use creativity to succeed.
- _____
- _____
- What did Tommy's teacher tell him about dreaming in America?
Tommy's teacher told him, "In America, you can do anything you set your mind to."
- _____
- _____

NAME: _____ TR 25.1
DATE: _____

Reread "Giovanni's Safety Lesson." Describe the main problem in this story. Then, use the sequence of events from the passage as evidence to support your description of the main problem.

Sample response: Giovanni doesn't pack the equipment he needs to skateboard safely. He falls and hurts himself. If he had listened to his mother and worn kneepads, he would not have scraped his knee.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

Unit 2

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

(1) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, discussion, and thinking—oral language. The student develops oral language through listening, speaking, and discussion. The student is expected to:

|            |                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TEKS 3.1.A | listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments                                                                                    | U2: p. 7, U2: p. 14, U2: p. 68, U2: p. 75, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 136, U2: p. 186, U2: p. 193, U2: p. 249, U2: p. 256                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| TEKS 3.1.B | follow, restate, and give oral instructions that involve a series of related sequences of action                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| TEKS 3.1.C | speak coherently about the topic under discussion, employing eye contact, speaking rate, volume, enunciation, and the conventions of language to communicate ideas effectively |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| TEKS 3.1.D | work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols                                                                                          | U2: p. 7, U2: p. 14, U2: p. 20, p. 27, U2: p. 44, U2: p. 51, U2: p. 80, U2: p. 87, U2: p. 104, U2: p. 111, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 136, U2: p. 140, U2: p. 147, U2: p. 151, U2: p. 157, U2: p. 161, U2: p. 168, U2: p. 199, U2: p. 206, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 231, U2: p. 261, U2: p. 268, U2: p. 282, U2: p. 289 |
| TEKS 3.1.E | develop social communication such as conversing politely in all situations                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

(2) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking—beginning reading and writing. The student develops word structure knowledge through phonological awareness, print concepts, phonics, and morphology to communicate, decode, and spell. The student is expected to:

(A) demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by:

|                |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|----------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TEKS 3.2.A.i   | decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en                                                                                         | U2: p. 68, U2: p. 71, U2: p. 75, U2: p. 80, U2: p. 83, U2: p. 87, U2: p. 92, U2: p. 95, U2: p. 96, U2: p. 100, U2: p. 104, U2: p. 107, U2: p. 108, U2: p. 111, U2: p. 116, U2: p. 119, U2: p. 123, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 132, U2: p. 133, U2: p. 136, U2: p. 140, U2: p. 143, U2: p. 144, U2: p. 147, U2: p. 151, U2: p. 154, U2: p. 155, U2: p. 157, U2: p. 161, U2: p. 164, U2: p. 165, U2: p. 168, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 176, U2: p. 179, U2: p. 186, U2: p. 189, U2: p. 190, U2: p. 193, U2: p. 199, U2: p. 202, U2: p. 203, U2: p. 206, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 214, U2: p. 215, U2: p. 219, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 226, U2: p. 227, U2: p. 231, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 239, U2: p. 243, U2: p. 249, U2: p. 252, U2: p. 256, U2: p. 261, U2: p. 264, U2: p. 268, U2: p. 273, U2: p. 276, U2: p. 279, U2: p. 282, U2: p. 285, U2: p. 286, U2: p. 289, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 296, U2: p. 299                       |
| TEKS 3.2.A.ii  | decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables, vowel teams; including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables | U2: p. 7, U2: p. 10, U2: p. 20, U2: p. 23, U2: p. 27, U2: p. 32, U2: p. 35, U2: p. 39, U2: p. 44, U2: p. 47, U2: p. 51, U2: p. 56, U2: p. 59, U2: p. 62, U2: p. 68, U2: p. 71, U2: p. 75, U2: p. 80, U2: p. 83, U2: p. 87, U2: p. 92, U2: p. 96, U2: p. 100, U2: p. 104, U2: p. 108, U2: p. 111, U2: p. 116, U2: p. 119, U2: p. 123, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 133, U2: p. 136, U2: p. 140, U2: p. 144, U2: p. 147, U2: p. 151, U2: p. 155, U2: p. 157, U2: p. 161, U2: p. 165, U2: p. 168, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 176, U2: p. 179, U2: p. 186, U2: p. 190, U2: p. 193, U2: p. 199, U2: p. 203, U2: p. 206, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 215, U2: p. 219, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 227, U2: p. 231, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 239, U2: p. 243, U2: p. 249, U2: p. 252, U2: p. 256, U2: p. 261, U2: p. 264, U2: p. 268, U2: p. 273, U2: p. 276, U2: p. 279, U2: p. 282, U2: p. 286, U2: p. 289, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 296, U2: p. 299 |
| TEKS 3.2.A.iii | decoding compound words, contractions, and abbreviations                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| TEKS 3.2.A.iv  | decoding words using knowledge of syllable division patterns such as VCCV, VCV, and VCCCV with accent shifts                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

Unit 2

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

|                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|---------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TEKS 3.2.A.v                                            | decoding words using knowledge of prefixes                                                                                                                                            | U2: p. 32, U2: p. 37, U2: p. 44, U2: p. 49, U2: p. 51, U2: p. 56, U2: p. 60, U2: p. 62, U2: p. 68, U2: p. 73, U2: p. 75, U2: p. 80, U2: p. 85, U2: p. 87, U2: p. 92, U2: p. 98, U2: p. 100, U2: p. 104, U2: p. 109, U2: p. 111, U2: p. 116, U2: p. 121, U2: p. 123, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 134, U2: p. 140, U2: p. 145, U2: p. 151, U2: p. 156, U2: p. 157, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 177, U2: p. 179, U2: p. 186, U2: p. 191, U2: p. 193, U2: p. 206, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 217, U2: p. 219, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 229, U2: p. 231, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 241, U2: p. 243, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 297, U2: p. 299             |
| TEKS 3.2.A.vi                                           | decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants                               | U2: p. 7, U2: p. 12, U2: p. 20, U2: p. 25, U2: p. 27, U2: p. 56, U2: p. 60, U2: p. 62, U2: p. 161, U2: p. 166, U2: p. 168, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 177, U2: p. 179, U2: p. 199, U2: p. 204, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 217, U2: p. 219, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 229, U2: p. 231, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 241, U2: p. 243, U2: p. 249, U2: p. 254, U2: p. 256, U2: p. 261, U2: p. 266, U2: p. 268, U2: p. 273, U2: p. 278, U2: p. 279, U2: p. 282, U2: p. 287, U2: p. 289, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 297, U2: p. 299                                                                                                                  |
| TEKS 3.2.A.vii                                          | identifying and reading high-frequency words from a research-based list                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| (B) demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by: |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| TEKS 3.2.B.i                                            | spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables, open syllables, VCe syllables, vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs, r-controlled syllables, and final stable syllables | U2: p. 7, U2: p. 16, U2: p. 20, U2: p. 28, U2: p. 32, U2: p. 40, U2: p. 44, U2: p. 52, U2: p. 56, U2: p. 63, U2: p. 68, U2: p. 77, U2: p. 80, U2: p. 88, U2: p. 92, U2: p. 101, U2: p. 104, U2: p. 112, U2: p. 116, U2: p. 124, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 138, U2: p. 140, U2: p. 148, U2: p. 151, U2: p. 158, U2: p. 161, U2: p. 169, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 180, U2: p. 186, U2: p. 195, U2: p. 199, U2: p. 207, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 220, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 232, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 244, U2: p. 249, U2: p. 258, U2: p. 261, U2: p. 269, U2: p. 273, U2: p. 280, U2: p. 282, U2: p. 290, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 300 |
| TEKS 3.2.B.ii                                           | spelling homophones                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| TEKS 3.2.B.iii                                          | spelling compound words, contractions, and abbreviations                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| TEKS 3.2.B.iv                                           | spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns                                                                                                                    | U2: p. 7, U2: p. 16, U2: p. 20, U2: p. 28, U2: p. 68, U2: p. 77, U2: p. 80, U2: p. 88, U2: p. 92, U2: p. 101, U2: p. 112, U2: p. 116, U2: p. 124, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 138, U2: p. 140, U2: p. 148, U2: p. 151, U2: p. 158, U2: p. 161, U2: p. 169, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 180, U2: p. 186, U2: p. 195, U2: p. 199, U2: p. 207, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 220, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 232, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 244, U2: p. 249, U2: p. 258, U2: p. 261, U2: p. 269, U2: p. 273, U2: p. 280, U2: p. 282, U2: p. 290, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 300                                                                               |
| TEKS 3.2.B.v                                            | spelling words using knowledge of syllable division such as VCCV, VCV, and VCCCV                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| TEKS 3.2.B.vi                                           | spelling words using knowledge of prefixes                                                                                                                                            | U2: p. 32, U2: p. 37, U2: p. 44, U2: p. 49, U2: p. 56, U2: p. 60, U2: p. 68, U2: p. 73, U2: p. 80, U2: p. 85, U2: p. 92, U2: p. 98, U2: p. 104, U2: p. 109, U2: p. 116, U2: p. 121, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 134, U2: p. 140, U2: p. 145, U2: p. 151, U2: p. 156, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 177, U2: p. 186, U2: p. 191, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 217, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 229, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 241, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 297                                                                                                                                                                                             |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

Unit 2

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TEKS 3.2.B.vii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants                                   | U2: p. 7, U2: p. 12, U2: p. 20, U2: p. 28, U2: p. 56, U2: p. 60, U2: p. 161, U2: p. 166, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 177, U2: p. 199, U2: p. 204, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 217, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 229, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 241, U2: p. 249, U2: p. 254, U2: p. 261, U2: p. 266, U2: p. 273, U2: p. 278, U2: p. 282, U2: p. 287, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 297                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| TEKS 3.2.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | alphabetize a series of words to the third letter                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| TEKS 3.2.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | write complete words, thoughts, and answers legibly in cursive leaving appropriate spaces between words.                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| (3) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking—vocabulary. The student uses newly acquired vocabulary expressively. The student is expected to:                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| TEKS 3.3.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | use print or digital resources to determine meaning, syllabication, and pronunciation                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| TEKS 3.3.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | use context within and beyond a sentence to determine the meaning of unfamiliar words and multiple-meaning words                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| TEKS 3.3.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non- , dis- , in- (not, non), pre- , -ness , -y , and -ful | U2: p. 7, U2: p. 12, U2: p. 20, U2: p. 25, U2: p. 32, U2: p. 37, U2: p. 44, U2: p. 49, U2: p. 56, U2: p. 60, U2: p. 68, U2: p. 73, U2: p. 80, U2: p. 85, U2: p. 92, U2: p. 98, U2: p. 104, U2: p. 109, U2: p. 116, U2: p. 121, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 134, U2: p. 140, U2: p. 145, U2: p. 151, U2: p. 156, U2: p. 161, U2: p. 166, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 177, U2: p. 186, U2: p. 191, U2: p. 199, U2: p. 204, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 217, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 229, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 241, U2: p. 249, U2: p. 254, U2: p. 261, U2: p. 266, U2: p. 273, U2: p. 278, U2: p. 282, U2: p. 287, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 297 |
| TEKS 3.3.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | identify, use, and explain the meaning of antonyms, synonyms, idioms, homophones, and homographs in a text                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| (4) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking—fluency. The student reads grade-level text with fluency and comprehension. The student is expected to use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text. |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| TEKS 3.4                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text                                                                                                       | U2: p. 7, U2: p. 14, U2: p. 20, U2: p. 27, U2: p. 32, U2: p. 39, U2: p. 44, U2: p. 51, U2: p. 68, U2: p. 75, U2: p. 80, U2: p. 87, U2: p. 92, U2: p. 100, U2: p. 104, U2: p. 111, U2: p. 129, U2: p. 136, U2: p. 140, U2: p. 147, U2: p. 151, U2: p. 157, U2: p. 161, U2: p. 168, U2: p. 186, U2: p. 193, U2: p. 199, U2: p. 206, U2: p. 211, U2: p. 219, U2: p. 223, U2: p. 231, U2: p. 249, U2: p. 256, U2: p. 261, U2: p. 268, U2: p. 273, U2: p. 279, U2: p. 282, U2: p. 289                                                                                                                      |
| (5) Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking—self-sustained reading. The student reads grade-appropriate texts independently. The student is expected to self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.         |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| TEKS 3.5                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time                                                                                                                    | U2: p. 56, U2: p. 62, U2: p. 116, U2: p. 123, U2: p. 173, U2: p. 179, U2: p. 236, U2: p. 243, U2: p. 293, U2: p. 299                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| (6) Comprehension skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts. The student uses metacognitive skills to both develop and deepen comprehension of increasingly complex texts. The student is expected to:                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| TEKS 3.6.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | establish purpose for reading assigned and self-selected texts                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| TEKS 3.6.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | generate questions about text before, during, and after reading to deepen understanding and gain information                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| TEKS 3.6.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | make and correct or confirm predictions using text features, characteristics of genre, and structures                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

Unit 2

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                            |  |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|
| TEKS 3.6.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | create mental images to deepen understanding                                                                                                               |  |
| TEKS 3.6.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | make connections to personal experiences, ideas in other texts, and society                                                                                |  |
| TEKS 3.6.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | make inferences and use evidence to support understanding                                                                                                  |  |
| TEKS 3.6.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | evaluate details read to determine key ideas                                                                                                               |  |
| TEKS 3.6.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | synthesize information to create new understanding                                                                                                         |  |
| TEKS 3.6.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | monitor comprehension and make adjustments such as re-reading, using background knowledge, asking questions, and annotating when understanding breaks down |  |
| (7) Response skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts. The student responds to an increasingly challenging variety of sources that are read, heard, or viewed. The student is expected to:                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                            |  |
| TEKS 3.7.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | describe personal connections to a variety of sources including self-selected texts                                                                        |  |
| TEKS 3.7.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | write a response to a literary or informational text that demonstrates an understanding of a text                                                          |  |
| TEKS 3.7.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | use text evidence to support an appropriate response                                                                                                       |  |
| TEKS 3.7.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | retell and paraphrase texts in ways that maintain meaning and logical order                                                                                |  |
| TEKS 3.7.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | interact with sources in meaningful ways such as notetaking, annotating, freewriting, or illustrating                                                      |  |
| TEKS 3.7.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | respond using newly acquired vocabulary as appropriate                                                                                                     |  |
| TEKS 3.7.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | discuss specific ideas in the text that are important to the meaning                                                                                       |  |
| (8) Multiple genres: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts—literary elements. The student recognizes and analyzes literary elements within and across increasingly complex traditional, contemporary, classical, and diverse literary texts. The student is expected to:                    |                                                                                                                                                            |  |
| TEKS 3.8.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | infer the theme of a work, distinguishing theme from topic                                                                                                 |  |
| TEKS 3.8.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | explain the relationships among the major and minor characters                                                                                             |  |
| TEKS 3.8.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | analyze plot elements, including the sequence of events, the conflict, and the resolution                                                                  |  |
| TEKS 3.8.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | explain the influence of the setting on the plot                                                                                                           |  |
| (9) Multiple genres: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts—genres. The student recognizes and analyzes genre-specific characteristics, structures, and purposes within and across increasingly complex traditional, contemporary, classical, and diverse texts. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                            |  |
| TEKS 3.9.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | demonstrate knowledge of distinguishing characteristics of well-known children’s literature such as folktales, fables, fairy tales, legends, and myths     |  |
| TEKS 3.9.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | explain rhyme scheme, sound devices, and structural elements such as stanzas in a variety of poems                                                         |  |
| TEKS 3.9.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | discuss the elements in drama such as characters, dialogue, setting, and acts                                                                              |  |
| (D) recognize characteristics and structures of informational text, including:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                            |  |
| TEKS 3.9.D.i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | the central idea with supporting evidence                                                                                                                  |  |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

| Unit 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                   | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| TEKS 3.9.D.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | features such as sections, tables, graphs, timelines, bullets, numbers, bold and italicized font to support understanding                                         |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.D.iii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | organizational patterns such as cause and effect and problem and solution                                                                                         |                                    |
| (E) recognize characteristics and structures of argumentative text by:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.E.i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | identifying the claim                                                                                                                                             |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.E.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | distinguishing facts from opinion                                                                                                                                 |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.E.iii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | identifying the intended audience or reader                                                                                                                       |                                    |
| TEKS 3.9.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | recognize characteristics of multimodal and digital texts                                                                                                         |                                    |
| (10) Author’s purpose and craft: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts. The student uses critical inquiry to analyze the authors’ choices and how they influence and communicate meaning within a variety of texts. The student analyzes and applies author’s craft purposefully in order to develop his or her own products and performances. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | explain the author's purpose and message within a text                                                                                                            |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | explain how the use of text structure contributes to the author's purpose                                                                                         |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | explain the author's use of print and graphic features to achieve specific purposes                                                                               |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | describe how the author's use of imagery, literal and figurative language such as simile, and sound devices such as onomatopoeia achieves specific purposes       |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | identify the use of literary devices, including first- or third-person point of view                                                                              |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | discuss how the author's use of language contributes to voice                                                                                                     |                                    |
| TEKS 3.10.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | identify and explain the use of hyperbole                                                                                                                         |                                    |
| (11) Composition: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts—writing process. The student uses the writing process recursively to compose multiple texts that are legible and uses appropriate conventions. The student is expected to:                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | plan a first draft by selecting a genre for a particular topic, purpose, and audience using a range of strategies such as brainstorming, freewriting, and mapping |                                    |
| (B) develop drafts into a focused, structured, and coherent piece of writing by:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.B.i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | organizing with purposeful structure including an introduction and conclusion                                                                                     |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.B.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | developing an engaging idea with relevant details                                                                                                                 |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | revise drafts to improve sentence structure and word choice by adding, deleting, combining, and rearranging ideas for coherence and clarity                       |                                    |
| (D) edit drafts using standard English conventions, including:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                   |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | edit drafts using standard English conventions                                                                                                                    |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | complete simple and compound sentences with subject-verb agreement                                                                                                |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.ii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | past, present, and future verb tense                                                                                                                              |                                    |
| TEKS 3.11.D.iii                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | singular, plural, common, and proper nouns                                                                                                                        |                                    |

TEXAS ESSENTIAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS - GRADE 3

Unit 2

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                 |  |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|
| TEKS 3.11.D.iv                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | adjectives, including their comparative and superlative forms                                                                                                   |  |
| TEKS 3.11.D.v                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | adverbs that convey time and adverbs that convey manner                                                                                                         |  |
| TEKS 3.11.D.vi                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | prepositions and prepositional phrases                                                                                                                          |  |
| TEKS 3.11.D.vii                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | pronouns, including subjective, objective, and possessive cases                                                                                                 |  |
| TEKS 3.11.D.viii                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | coordinating conjunctions to form compound subjects, predicates, and sentences                                                                                  |  |
| TEKS 3.11.D.ix                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | capitalization of official titles of people, holidays, and geographical names and places                                                                        |  |
| TEKS 3.11.D.x                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | punctuation marks including apostrophes in contractions and possessives and commas in compound sentences and items in a series                                  |  |
| TEKS 3.11.D.xi                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | correct spelling of words with grade-appropriate orthographic patterns and rules and high-frequency words                                                       |  |
| TEKS 3.11.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | publish written work for appropriate audiences                                                                                                                  |  |
| (12) Composition: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts—genres. The student uses genre characteristics and craft to compose multiple texts that are meaningful. The student is expected to:               |                                                                                                                                                                 |  |
| TEKS 3.12.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | compose literary texts, including personal narratives and poetry, using genre characteristics and craft                                                         |  |
| TEKS 3.12.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | compose informational texts, including brief compositions that convey information about a topic, using a clear central idea and genre characteristics and craft |  |
| TEKS 3.12.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | compose argumentative texts, including opinion essays, using genre characteristics and craft                                                                    |  |
| TEKS 3.12.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | compose correspondence such as thank you notes or letters                                                                                                       |  |
| (13) Inquiry and research: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking using multiple texts. The student engages in both short-term and sustained recursive inquiry processes for a variety of purposes. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                 |  |
| TEKS 3.13.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | generate questions on a topic for formal and informal inquiry                                                                                                   |  |
| TEKS 3.13.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | develop and follow a research plan with adult assistance                                                                                                        |  |
| TEKS 3.13.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | identify and gather relevant information from a variety of sources                                                                                              |  |
| TEKS 3.13.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | identify primary and secondary sources                                                                                                                          |  |
| TEKS 3.13.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | demonstrate understanding of information gathered                                                                                                               |  |
| TEKS 3.13.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | recognize the difference between paraphrasing and plagiarism when using source materials                                                                        |  |
| TEKS 3.13.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | create a works cited page                                                                                                                                       |  |
| TEKS 3.13.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | use an appropriate mode of delivery, whether written, oral, or multimodal, to present results                                                                   |  |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 3

Unit 2

Correlation—Teacher’s Guide

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                         |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| (1) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/learning strategies. The ELL uses language learning strategies to develop an awareness of his or her own learning processes in all content areas. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. The student is expected to:                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                         |
| ELPS 1.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | use prior knowledge and experiences to understand meanings in English                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                         |
| ELPS 1.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | monitor oral and written language production and employ self-corrective techniques or other resources                                                                                                                          | U2: p. 110                                                                                              |
| ELPS 1.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | use strategic learning techniques such as concept mapping, drawing, memorizing, comparing, contrasting, and reviewing to acquire basic and grade-level vocabulary                                                              | U2: p. 278, U2: p. 285, U2: p. 298                                                                      |
| ELPS 1.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | speak using learning strategies such as requesting assistance, employing non-verbal cues, and using synonyms and circumlocution (conveying ideas by defining or describing when exact English words are not known)             |                                                                                                         |
| ELPS 1.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | internalize new basic and academic language by using and reusing it in meaningful ways in speaking and writing activities that build concept and language attainment                                                           | U2: p. 50, U2: p. 241                                                                                   |
| ELPS 1.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | use accessible language and learn new and essential language in the process                                                                                                                                                    | U2: p. 13, U2: p. 60, U2: p. 99, U2: p. 121, U2: p. 156, U2: p. 166, U2: p. 205, U2: p. 254, U2: p. 267 |
| ELPS 1.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | demonstrate an increasing ability to distinguish between formal and informal English and an increasing knowledge of when to use each one commensurate with grade-level learning expectations                                   |                                                                                                         |
| ELPS 1.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | develop and expand repertoire of learning strategies such as reasoning inductively or deductively, looking for patterns in language, and analyzing sayings and expressions commensurate with grade-level learning expectations |                                                                                                         |
| (2) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/listening. The ELL listens to a variety of speakers including teachers, peers, and electronic media to gain an increasing level of comprehension of newly acquired language in all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in listening. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                         |
| ELPS 2.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | distinguish sounds and intonation patterns of English with increasing ease                                                                                                                                                     | U2: p. 177, U2: p. 189, U2: p. 214, U2: p. 226                                                          |
| ELPS 2.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | recognize elements of the English sound system in newly acquired vocabulary such as long and short vowels, silent letters, and consonant clusters                                                                              | U2: p. 189, U2: p. 214, U2: p. 226                                                                      |
| ELPS 2.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | learn new language structures, expressions, and basic and academic vocabulary heard during classroom instruction and interactions                                                                                              | U2: p. 189, U2: p. 214, U2: p. 226                                                                      |
| ELPS 2.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | monitor understanding of spoken language during classroom instruction and interactions and seek clarification as needed                                                                                                        |                                                                                                         |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 3

| Unit 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide                         |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|
| ELPS 2.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | use visual, contextual, and linguistic support to enhance and confirm understanding of increasingly complex and elaborated spoken language                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                            |
| ELPS 2.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | listen to and derive meaning from a variety of media such as audio tape, video, DVD, and CD ROM to build and reinforce concept and language attainment                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                            |
| ELPS 2.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | understand the general meaning, main points, and important details of spoken language ranging from situations in which topics, language, and contexts are familiar to unfamiliar                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                            |
| ELPS 2.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | understand implicit ideas and information in increasingly complex spoken language commensurate with grade-level learning expectations                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                            |
| ELPS 2.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | demonstrate listening comprehension of increasingly complex spoken English by following directions, retelling or summarizing spoken messages, responding to questions and requests, collaborating with peers, and taking notes commensurate with content and grade-level needs                                                                   |                                                            |
| (3) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/speaking. The ELL speaks in a variety of modes for a variety of purposes with an awareness of different language registers (formal/informal) using vocabulary with increasing fluency and accuracy in language arts and all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in speaking. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                            |
| ELPS 3.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | practice producing sounds of newly acquired vocabulary such as long and short vowels, silent letters, and consonant clusters to pronounce English words in a manner that is increasingly comprehensible                                                                                                                                          | U2: p. 134, U2: p. 144, U2: p. 189, U2: p. 214, U2: p. 226 |
| ELPS 3.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | expand and internalize initial English vocabulary by learning and using high-frequency English words necessary for identifying and describing people, places, and objects, by retelling simple stories and basic information represented or supported by pictures, and by learning and using routine language needed for classroom communication |                                                            |
| ELPS 3.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | speak using a variety of grammatical structures, sentence lengths, sentence types, and connecting words with increasing accuracy and ease as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                            |
| ELPS 3.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | speak using grade-level content area vocabulary in context to internalize new English words and build academic language proficiency                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                            |
| ELPS 3.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | share information in cooperative learning interactions                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                            |
| ELPS 3.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ask and give information ranging from using a very limited bank of high-frequency, high-need, concrete vocabulary, including key words and expressions needed for basic communication in academic and social contexts, to using abstract and content-based vocabulary during extended speaking assignments                                       |                                                            |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 3

| Unit 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Correlation—Teacher’s Guide                                                                                                                          |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ELPS 3.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | express opinions, ideas, and feelings ranging from communicating single words and short phrases to participating in extended discussions on a variety of social and grade-appropriate academic topics                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 3.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | narrate, describe, and explain with increasing specificity and detail as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 3.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | adapt spoken language appropriately for formal and informal purposes                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 3.J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | respond orally to information presented in a wide variety of print, electronic, audio, and visual media to build and reinforce concept and language attainment                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                      |
| (4) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/reading. The ELL reads a variety of texts for a variety of purposes with an increasing level of comprehension in all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in reading. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student’s level of English language proficiency. For Kindergarten and grade 1, certain of these student expectations apply to text read aloud for students not yet at the stage of decoding written text. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 4.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | learn relationships between sounds and letters of the English language and decode (sound out) words using a combination of skills such as recognizing sound-letter relationships and identifying cognates, affixes, roots, and base words                                                        | U2: p. 28, U2: p. 51, U2: p. 63, U2: p. 71, U2: p. 83, U2: p. 87, U2: p. 112, U2: p. 124, U2: p. 207, U2: p. 232, U2: p. 268, U2: p. 289, U2: p. 300 |
| ELPS 4.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | recognize directionality of English reading such as left to right and top to bottom                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 4.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | develop basic sight vocabulary, derive meaning of environmental print, and comprehend English vocabulary and language structures used routinely in written classroom materials                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 4.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | use prereading supports such as graphic organizers, illustrations, and pretaught topic-related vocabulary and other prereading activities to enhance comprehension of written text                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 4.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | read linguistically accommodated content area material with a decreasing need for linguistic accommodations as more English is learned                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 4.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | use visual and contextual support and support from peers and teachers to read grade-appropriate content area text, enhance and confirm understanding, and develop vocabulary, grasp of language structures, and background knowledge needed to comprehend increasingly challenging language      |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 4.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | demonstrate comprehension of increasingly complex English by participating in shared reading, retelling or summarizing material, responding to questions, and taking notes commensurate with content area and grade level needs                                                                  | U2: p. 16, U2: p. 76, U2: p. 194, U2: p. 244, U2: p. 257                                                                                             |
| ELPS 4.H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | read silently with increasing ease and comprehension for longer periods                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                      |
| ELPS 4.I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | demonstrate English comprehension and expand reading skills by employing basic reading skills such as demonstrating understanding of supporting ideas and details in text and graphic sources, summarizing text, and distinguishing main ideas from details commensurate with content area needs | U2: p. 16, U2: p. 40, U2: p. 101, U2: p. 158, U2: p. 194, U2: p. 220, U2: p. 257, U2: p. 279                                                         |

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY STANDARDS - GRADE 3

Unit 2

Correlation—Teacher's Guide

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                  |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| ELPS 4.J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | demonstrate English comprehension and expand reading skills by employing inferential skills such as predicting, making connections between ideas, drawing inferences and conclusions from text and graphic sources, and finding supporting text evidence commensurate with content area needs        |                                  |
| ELPS 4.K                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | demonstrate English comprehension and expand reading skills by employing analytical skills such as evaluating written information and performing critical analyses commensurate with content area and grade-level needs                                                                              |                                  |
| (5) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/writing. The ELL writes in a variety of forms with increasing accuracy to effectively address a specific purpose and audience in all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in writing. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student's level of English language proficiency. For Kindergarten and grade 1, certain of these student expectations do not apply until the student has reached the stage of generating original written text using a standard writing system. The student is expected to: |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                  |
| ELPS 5.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | learn relationships between sounds and letters of the English language to represent sounds when writing in English                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                  |
| ELPS 5.B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | write using newly acquired basic vocabulary and content-based grade-level vocabulary                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                  |
| ELPS 5.C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | spell familiar English words with increasing accuracy, and employ English spelling patterns and rules with increasing accuracy as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                           |                                  |
| ELPS 5.D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | edit writing for standard grammar and usage, including subject-verb agreement, pronoun agreement, and appropriate verb tenses commensurate with grade-level expectations as more English is acquired                                                                                                 |                                  |
| ELPS 5.E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | employ increasingly complex grammatical structures in content area writing commensurate with grade level expectations such as (i) using correct verbs, tenses, and pronouns/antecedents; (ii) using possessive case (apostrophe -s) correctly; and, (iii) using negatives and contractions correctly |                                  |
| ELPS 5.F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | write using a variety of grade-appropriate sentence lengths, patterns, and connecting words to combine phrases, clauses, and sentences in increasingly accurate ways as more English is acquired                                                                                                     | U2: p. 26, U2: p. 38, U2: p. 205 |
| ELPS 5.G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | narrate, describe, and explain with increasing specificity and detail to fulfill content area writing needs as more English is acquired                                                                                                                                                              |                                  |

Credits

Every effort has been taken to trace and acknowledge copyrights. The editors tender their apologies for any accidental infringement where copyright has proved untraceable. They would be pleased to insert the appropriate acknowledgment in any subsequent edition of this publication. Trademarks and trade names are shown in this publication for illustrative purposes only and are the property of their respective owners. The references to trademarks and trade names given herein do not affect their validity.

All photographs are used under license from Shutterstock, Inc. unless otherwise noted.

Grade 3 | Skills 2 | Teacher Guide

ISBN 9798891808621

3

Grade 3

Skills 3 | Teacher Guide

Grade 3

---

Skills 3

---

Teacher Guide

© 2026 Amplify Education, Inc. and its licensors
www.amplify.com

© 2015 The Core Knowledge Foundation and its licensors
www.coreknowledge.org

ISBN 979-8-89180-863-8

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons
Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike
4.0 International License.

You are free:
to Share—to copy, distribute, and transmit the work
to Remix—to adapt the work

Under the following conditions:

Attribution—You must attribute any adaptations of the work in the following manner:

This work is based on original works of Amplify Education, Inc. (amplify.com) and the Core Knowledge Foundation (coreknowledge.org) made available under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License.

<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>

Noncommercial—You may not use this work for commercial purposes. Contact help@amplify.com for questions and permissions.

Share Alike—If you alter, transform, or build upon this work, you may distribute the resulting work only under the same or similar license to this one by including the attribution language above.

Trademarks and trade names are shown in this book strictly for illustrative and educational purposes and are the property of their respective owners. References herein should not be regarded as affecting the validity of said trademarks and trade names.

Printed in the USA
01 XXX 2024

Contents

Introduction 1

Lesson 1 Review: Words with /ar/ > ‘ar’ 5

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                              | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                    |                                                                                                             |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /ar/ &gt; ‘ar’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ar/ &gt; ‘ar’</li> <li>Read r-Controlled One-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Suffixes: -hood, -ment, -en</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Neighborhood Garden” with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Unit 3 Dictation Pretest</li> </ul> |

Lesson 2 Review: Words with /er/ > ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’ 18

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                              | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                    |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /er/ &gt; ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /er/ &gt; ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’</li> <li>Read r-Controlled One-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Suffixes: -hood, -ment, -en</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “Neighborhood Garden”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /er/ &lt; ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 3 Review: Words with /er/ > ‘or’ and ‘ar’ 28

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                              | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                             |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /er/ &gt; ‘or’ and ‘ar’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /er/ &gt; ‘or’ and ‘ar’</li> <li>Identify r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Suffixes: -hood, -ment, -en</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /er/ &gt; ‘or’ and ‘ar’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 4 Review: Words with /er/ > ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’ 40

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                   | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                       |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /er/ &gt; ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /er/ &gt; ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’</li> <li>Read r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: over-, under-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /er/ &gt; ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 5 Review: Mixed Review

52

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                              |                                                                                                    |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review r-Controlled Vowels</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with 'ar', 'ir', 'ur', 'er', 'or', 'ear', 'our', and 'urr'</li> <li>Review r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Prefixes and Suffixes: -hood, -ment, -en, under-, over-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "A Sweet Story" Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 6 Review: Words with /or/ > 'or'

65

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                   | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                              |                                                                                                                    |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /or/ &gt; 'or'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /or/ &gt; 'or'</li> <li>Identify r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: under-, over-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Jordan Scores" with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /or/ &gt; 'or'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 7 Review: Words with 'are' and 'air'

77

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                   | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                      |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'are', 'air'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'are', 'air'</li> <li>Identify r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: under-, over-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Jordan Scores"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'are', 'air'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 8 Review: Words with /or/ > 'our' and 'ore'

90

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                   | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                      |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'our', 'ore'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'our', 'ore'</li> <li>Identify r-Controlled Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: tele-, super-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Tele-Ameer the Superhero" Fluently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'our', 'ore'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 9 Review: Words with ‘ear’, ‘eer’, and ‘ure’

102

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                   | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                             |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: ‘ear’, ‘eer’, ‘ure’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: ‘ear’, ‘eer’, ‘ure’</li> <li>Identify r-Controlled Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: tele-, super-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “Tele-Ameer the Superhero”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: ‘ear’, ‘eer’, ‘ure’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 10 Review: Mixed Review

115

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                        | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                      |                                                                                                    |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review r-Controlled Vowels and Vowel Teams</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review r-Controlled Vowel Teams</li> <li>Review r-Controlled Multisyllabic Words</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Prefixes: under-, over-, tele-, super-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “Real-Life Superheroes” Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 11 Review: Words with /ə/ > ‘a’ and ‘e’

129

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                   | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                            |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Schwa /ə/ &gt; ‘a’ and ‘e’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ə/ &gt; ‘a’ and ‘e’</li> <li>Review Syllable Types</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: tele-, super-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read “A Trans-Galactic Dash” with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with Schwa &gt; ‘a’ and ‘e’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 12 Review: Words with /ə/ > ‘i’ and ‘o’

142

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                  | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                          |                                                                                                                            |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /ə/ &gt; ‘i’ and ‘o’</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ə/ &gt; ‘i’ and ‘o’</li> <li>Review Syllable Types</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: uni-, trans-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread “A Trans-Galactic Dash”</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with Schwa &gt; ‘i’ and ‘o’</li> </ul> |

Lesson 13 Review: Words with /ə/ + /l/ > 'le'

155

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                       | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                 |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words That End in /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'le'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'le'</li> <li>Read Multisyllabic Words with Final Stable Syllable 'le'</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Words with uni- and trans-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "On the Move: How Transportation Unites Our World"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words That End in 'le'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 14 Review: Words with /ə/ + /l/ > 'le'

168

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                  | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                 |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words That End in /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'le'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words That End in /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'le'</li> <li>Read Multisyllabic Words with Final Stable Syllable 'le'</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: uni-, trans-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "On the Move: How Transportation Unites Our World"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words That End in 'le'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 15 Review: Mixed Review

180

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                  |                                                                                                    |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /ə/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ə/</li> <li>Review Multisyllabic Words with Final Stable Syllable 'le'</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Prefixes and Suffixes: -hood, -ment, -en, under-, over-, tele-, super-, uni-, trans-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Maple Talent Show" Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 16 Review: Words with /ə/ + /l/ > 'al'

192

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'al'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'al'</li> <li>Identify Multisyllabic Words with Final Stable Syllable 'al'</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Prefixes and Suffixes: micro-, -ist</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Special Report: Coral Reefs" with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words That End in 'al'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 17 Review: Words with /ə/ + /l/ > 'el'

204

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                |                                                                                                                 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'el'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'el'</li> <li>Identify Multisyllabic Words with Final Stable Syllable 'el'</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Prefixes and Suffixes: micro-, -ist</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Special Report: Coral Reefs"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words That End in 'el'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 18 Review: Words with /ə/ + l > 'il'

217

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                              |                                                                                                                 |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'il'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words that End in /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'il'</li> <li>Identify Multisyllabic Words with Final Stable Syllable 'il'</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Prefixes and Suffixes: micro-, -ist</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Life Cycle of a Wild Gerbil"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words That End in 'il'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 19 Review: Words with /ə/ + l > 'ul'

228

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                 | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                |                                                                                                                 |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'ul'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words That End in /ə/ + /l/ &gt; 'ul'</li> <li>Identify Multisyllabic Words with Final Stable Syllable 'ul'</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: fore-, pro-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Life Cycle of a Wild Gerbil"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words That End in 'ul'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 20 Review: Mixed Review

240

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                  | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                       |                                                                                                    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /ə/ + /l/</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with 'le', 'el', 'al', 'il', and 'ul' Schwa Sounds</li> <li>Sort Words by Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Prefixes and Suffixes: micro-, -ist, fore-, pro-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Nigel's Magical Pencil" Independently</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 21 Review: Words with /h/ > 'wh'

253

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                      | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                   |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review /h/ &gt; 'wh'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /h/ &gt; 'wh'</li> <li>Sort Words by Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Words with fore- and pro-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "Visit France: A Travel Brochure" with Accuracy</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /h/ &gt; 'wh'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 22 Review: Words with /s/ > 'sc', 'st', 'ce', and 'se'

265

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                    | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                         |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Tricky Spellings of /s/: 'sc', 'st', 'ce', 'se'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /s/ &gt; 'sc', 'st', 'ce', and 'se'</li> <li>Create Words Using Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Root Words and Prefixes: intra-, inter-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "Visit France: A Travel Brochure"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /s/ &gt; 'sc', 'st', 'ce', and 'se'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 23 Review: Words with /sh/ > 'ss', 's', and 'ch'

276

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                     | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                   |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Tricky Spellings: /sh/ &gt; 'ss', 's', 'ch'</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with /sh/ &gt; 'ss', 's', and 'ch'</li> <li>Create Words Using Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Prefixes: intra-, inter-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read "A Quiche Creation"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Spell Words with /sh/ &gt; 'ss', 's', and 'ch'</li> </ul> |

Lesson 24 Review: Mixed Review

286

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                       | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                      |                                                                                                    |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Warm-Up(3 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds</li> </ul> | Phonics—Decoding(6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Read Words with r-Controlled Vowels</li> <li>Divide Words by Syllables</li> </ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Review Prefixes: fore-, pro-, intra-, inter-</li> </ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Reread "A Quiche Creation"</li> </ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Encoding Review</li> </ul> |

Lesson 25 Review: Foundational Skills Review

298

| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                           | Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                                                |                                                                                                              |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Phonics—Decoding (9 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Word Sort</li><li>• Read Words with Closed, Open, VCe, Vowel Team, r-Controlled, and Final Stable Syllables</li></ul> | Morphology (6 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Review Prefixes and Suffixes</li></ul> | Reading (10 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Read “Charlotte’s Art” Independently</li></ul> | Phonics—Encoding (5 min.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Unit 3 Dictation Posttest</li></ul> |

Teacher Resources

309

Introduction

UNIT 3 CONTENT

In Unit 3, students will review: (1) a number of spellings from Grade 2 with an emphasis on r-controlled vowels, words with /ə/, and alternative sound-spellings; (2) words with r-controlled syllables or final stable syllables; and (3) words with common prefixes and suffixes.

VOWEL SPELLINGS

In Unit 3, students review tricky vowel sounds and combinations of vowels and consonants. They examine how the consonant 'r' affects the sound of single vowels and vowel teams, making them r-controlled vowel sounds. They also begin to review that the /ə/ sound can be made by any vowel, including those in words with /ə/ + l.

The r-controlled single vowel spellings:

- /ar/ > 'ar' (arm)
- /er/ > 'ur' (curl), 'ir' (bird), 'er' (verb), 'or' (doctor), 'ar' (dollar)
- /or/ > 'or' (sort)

The r-controlled vowel team spellings:

- /er/ > 'ear' (earn), 'our' (journal), and 'urr' (purr)
- /or/ > 'our' (four) and 'ore' (more)
- /air/ > 'are' (care) and 'air' (chair)
- /eer/ > 'ear' (clear), 'eer' (deer), and 'ure' (lure)

The /ə/ spellings:

- /ə/ > 'a' (about)
- /ə/ > 'e' (event)
- /ə/ > 'i' (cousin)
- /ə/ > 'o' (button)

The /ə/ + l spellings:

- /ə/ + l > 'le' (apple)

- /ə/ + l > 'al' (final)
- /ə/ + l > 'el' (bagel)
- /ə/ + l > 'il' (pencil)
- /ə/ + l > 'ul' (joyful)

The vowel sound-spelling list for Unit 3 deepens students' understanding of vowel sounds. In Unit 1, students reviewed the long and short vowel sounds. In Unit 3, they learn how the consonant 'r' changes vowel sounds they have already reviewed. They review how 'r' affects the single vowels 'a', 'e', 'i', 'o', and 'u', as well as some vowel teams.

Unit 3 also furthers students' knowledge of tricky spellings. When a spelling can represent more than one sound, it is a tricky spelling. In Unit 3, students learn that any vowel can make the /ə/ sound, in addition to the short and long vowel sounds they have already reviewed. Tricky spellings often cause problems for students when they are reading. When they come upon an unfamiliar printed word with a vowel in it, they may need to try pronouncing it as a short vowel sound, a long vowel sound, and the /ə/ sound to correctly identify the word.

In this unit, students review many spellings of the /ə/ sound, but they are not asked to read and spell words that end in /shən/ or /shəl/. Instruction on alternative vowel sounds will continue in the next unit.

---

CONSONANT SPELLINGS

In Unit 3, the following spellings for consonant sounds are quickly reviewed:

- /h/ > 'wh' (whole)
- /s/ > 'sc' (science), 'st' (listen), 'ce' (bounce), and 'se' (house)
- /sh/ > 'ss' (issue), 's' (sure), and 'ch' (chef)

In Unit 3, students expand their knowledge of consonant sound-spellings from previous units. In Unit 1, students reviewed some spellings for the sounds /h/, /s/, and /sh/. In Unit 3, they focus on tricky spellings and digraph spellings for these sounds. For example, students reviewed in Unit 1 that 's' can stand for /s/ (sip). In Unit 3, they review that 's' can also be a tricky spelling that stands for /sh/ (sugar). They also review that the /s/ sound can be made by other spellings, such as 'st' (whistle) and 'ce' (prince). Similarly, students reviewed in Unit 1 that the 'w' is silent in the silent letter combination 'wr' (wren). In Unit 3, they learn that 'w' can also be silent in the combination 'wh' > /h/ (who).

An understanding of the sounds of the language and the similarities among them can also help you understand students' spelling. Sometimes even the strangest-looking "invented" spellings make sense if you understand which sounds are similar to other sounds. Students often misspell a word by choosing a spelling for a sound that is similar to the sound they are trying to spell. For example, a student who writes chump for jump has confused sounds made with the same mouth position. The 'ch' spelling can therefore be seen as closer to the correct spelling than we might initially assume.

For more information on the program's approach to how phonics is taught with the basic and advanced code, please visit the program's digital components site.

---

SYLLABICATION

One-, two-, and multisyllabic words are reviewed in Unit 3 lessons. Students identify the last two of the six major syllable types: r-controlled and final stable syllable. R-Controlled syllables have one vowel sound followed by the consonant 'r', such as in the words stair and barnyard. In these syllables, the 'r' controls the vowel sound. Final stable syllables end in the sound /ə/ + l, although the spelling can vary, such as in the words puzzle and national.

For more information on the program's approach to using chunking to decode multisyllabic words, please visit the program's digital components site and look for Appendix C in the Teacher Resources.

---

MORPHOLOGY

Unit 3 focuses on the prefixes under-, over-, tele-, super-, uni-, trans-, micro-, fore-, pro-, intra-, and inter- and the suffixes -hood, -ment, -en, and -ist. Students review how the affixes change the meaning and/or part of speech of the root word. They practice reading the words and using them in sentences. Students will identify spelling changes such as dropping a final 'e', changing 'y' to 'i', or doubling a final consonant before adding a suffix.

---

WRITING

Encoding

Students practice spelling and writing words and sentences with all of the target sound-spellings, morphemes, and syllable types covered in Unit 3. Dictation words include r-controlled vowel spellings; r-controlled vowel team spellings; schwa sound-spellings; /h/ > 'wh'; /s/ > 'sc', 'st', 'ce', 'se'; and /sh/ > 'ss', 's', 'ch'. In addition, students practice spelling multisyllabic words with the prefixes under-, over-, tele-, super-, uni-, trans-, micro-, fore-, pro-, intra-, and inter-, and the suffixes -hood, -ment, -en, and -ist.

Reading Comprehension Questions and Writing Extension

All fifteen reading passages include comprehension questions. Students get alternating opportunities to respond to these orally or as a written exercise in their Activity Book. Each reading passage also includes an optional writing prompt that allows students to write for 10 minutes.

These are great opportunities for students to practice their cursive writing, and for teachers to check students' letter formation, letter and word spacing, line quality, slant, and letter connections. In all instances that involve student writing, be sure that students write their responses legibly in cursive with complete words, thoughts, and answers, leaving appropriate spaces between words. Provide modeling when necessary.

---

HIGH FREQUENCY IRREGULAR WORDS (TRICKY WORDS)

The digital components site includes a list of high-frequency irregular words used in the Unit 3 passages. The list also indicates each word's correlation to other research-based lists (e.g., Dolch, Fry, and Zeno). Each Tricky Words lesson in the Additional Support section includes four to seven words from this list. Additional words from the Unit 3 Tricky Words list can be included or swapped out with the words in the lesson, if time allows and if students need practice with different words.

---

ASSESSMENTS

Dictation Pretest and Posttest

Unit 3 has an encoding pretest and a posttest. Both assessments use the same words so you can monitor students' mastery of the sound-spellings addressed in the unit.

Formative Assessments and Additional Support

Throughout this unit, formative assessments are clearly marked for monitoring individual student performance and progress in key skills. Quick "Checks for Understanding" to evaluate classroom performance as a whole are also designated in various lessons.

Careful attention to this information, collected on a daily basis, will enable you to quickly determine which students may benefit from reteaching and/or more practice in particular skills using the Additional Support activities found at the end of each lesson.

---

TEACHER RESOURCES

In this section at the end of the Teacher Guide, you will find forms and charts which may be useful, including the following:

- Anecdotal Reading Record—Unit 3
- Discussion Questions Observation Record—Unit 3
- Additional Support Activity Pages
- Activity Book Answer Key
- Additional Support Activity Page Answer Key
- Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills Correlation Chart
- English Language Proficiency Standards Correlation Chart

REVIEW

Words with /ar/ > 'ar'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will identify and blend words with /ar/. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /ar/ > 'ar'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- Students will read r-controlled one-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with suffixes.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Neighborhood Garden” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will take the dictation pretest for Unit 3. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 1.1 Sentences with 'ar' Words

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Observation Discussion Questions Observation Record

- TEKS 3.4

Activity Page 1.4 Unit 3 Dictation Pretest

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful;

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Review /ar/ > 'ar'                                                                             | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Read Words with /ar/ > 'ar'                                                                    | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.1 |
| Read r-Controlled One-Syllable Words                                                           | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Suffixes: -hood ,-ment , -en                           | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Read "Neighborhood Garden"with Accuracy                                                    | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Unit 3 Dictation Pretest                                                                       | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.4 |

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Prepare the Unit 3 Discussion Questions Observation Record found in the Teacher Resources for use with students as they read aloud. Over the course of each week, be sure to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer questions about characters, setting, and main event and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Phonics—Decoding

- Plan how you will pair students for the activity page.
- Partner options may include:
  - Have pairs complete each sentence together and then select volunteers to share their answers with the class.
  - Have partners complete the entirety of the activity page together and then form groups of four to compare their answers.

Phonics—Encoding

- The encoding activity in Lesson 1 is also the Unit 3 Pretest. Students will spell words with sound-spellings that are reviewed in this unit to provide a snapshot of their mastery of individual phonics skills. In Lesson 25, students will spell the same words again in the posttest to show growth and mastery of the sound-spellings reviewed in Unit 3.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: weaken and moisten.

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ar/ &gt; 'ar', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and blend words with /ar/.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Support

Give students more practice with the /ar/ sound by adding or taking away sounds. Explain that you are going to say some words and a definition and that they will change the words by adding or taking away a sound.

- Say “tar.” Then say, “Change it to a word for something bright in the sky.” (star)
- Say “park.” Then say, “Change it to a word for something that makes a fire.” (spark)
- Say “bar.” Then say, “Change it to a word for a building on a farm.” (barn)

REVIEW /AR/ &gt; 'AR' (3 MIN.)

- Say, “When a vowel is paired with ‘r’, it changes the vowel sound. We call these r-controlled vowels. The vowel and the ‘r’ are not pronounced separately. They go together to make one sound.”
- Write the word farm on the board. Underline ‘ar’. Say, “The word ‘farm’ has an r-controlled vowel in the middle: /ar/.”
- Say the word in a segmented fashion: /f/ /ar/ /m/. Then blend the sounds and say the word.
- Have students repeat after you.
- Say the following words in a segmented fashion and then blended: card, part, art, and sharp.
- Have students repeat the words.

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ar/ &gt; 'ar', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

✚ Students will read words with /ar/ > 'ar'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ Students will read r-controlled one-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH /AR/ &gt; 'AR' (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Remember, when a vowel is paired with ‘r’, it changes the vowel sound to an r-controlled vowel.”

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Write the word bark on the board.
- Say, “The word bark has an r-controlled vowel: /ar/. Say /ar/.” (/ar/)
- “The /ar/ sound is spelled ‘ar’, like in bark.” Underline the ‘ar’ and slowly blend the word as you read bark.
- Say, “The /r/ sound mixes with the /a/ sound to make /ar/. This sound is spelled almost exactly the way you would expect: ‘ar’.”
- Write the remaining words from the Warm-Up on the board: card, part, art, and sharp. Add the words car, chart, and tarp to the list. Underline the ‘ar’ in each word.
- Call on students to practice blending each word. Read the words aloud, and then have the class read them aloud.

READ R-CONTROLLED ONE-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, “When a word has an r-controlled vowel, the ‘r’ and the vowel are part of the same syllable. This is called an r-controlled syllable. All of the words that we just read are r-controlled syllables.”
- Write the following words on the board: smart, park, scar, yarn, yard, march, and harp.
- Say, “Each of these words has only one syllable. That syllable is an r-controlled syllable. Let’s read them together.” Read the words chorally.
- Direct students to Activity Page 1.1 and review the instructions. Have volunteers read aloud the words in the word bank.
- Have students work with partners to complete the sentences as you circulate and give feedback. With each sentence completion, have partners take turns reading the sentence aloud.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home. Adjust instructions, as necessary.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 1.1

Challenge

Challenge students to name and give examples of other syllable types they have learned about. (closed, open, VCe, vowel team)

Support

It might be helpful to define the following root words to help students understand how the affix changes their meaning: weak, moist, and fulfill.

Support

It might be helpful to define the following root words to help students understand how the affix changes their meaning: fulfill, state, achieve, and encourage.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you think this statement is correct and a thumbs-down if you don’t: ‘When a word has an r-controlled vowel, the “r” and the vowel are part of the same syllable.’” (thumbs-up)

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ar/ > ‘ar’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with suffixes.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND SUFFIXES: -HOOD, -MENT, -EN (6 MIN.)

- Say, “Today we’re going to learn more about the suffixes -hood, -ment, and -en. Remember, a suffix is a word part added to the end of a root word. A suffix can change the meaning and part of speech of the word.”
- Write the following sentences on the board and read each aloud: Samuel is a child. Most of Samuel’s childhood was spent in Texas.
- Circle the word child. Point out that it is a noun. Circle the word childhood. Point out that it is also a noun.
- Underline -hood in childhood. Say, “-hood is a suffix. It means ‘a condition or a state of being.’ So, childhood is the state of being a child. Your childhood is the time when you are a child: I liked to play games in my childhood.”
- Write the following sentences on the board and read each aloud: I enjoy eating ice cream. Dani gets enjoyment from making ice cream.
- Circle the word enjoy. Point out that it is a verb. Circle the word enjoyment. Point out that it is a noun.
- Underline -ment in enjoyment. Say, “-ment is a suffix that forms nouns. It means ‘the action or the state of doing something.’ So, enjoyment is the state of enjoying something: I get enjoyment from eating ice cream too.”

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Write the following sentences on the board and read each aloud: The sun is bright. The sunlight can brighten the room.
- Circle the word bright. Point out that it is an adjective. Circle the word brighten. Point out that it is a verb.
- Underline -en in brighten. Say, “-en is a suffix that forms a verb meaning ‘to become or make.’ So, to brighten is to make something bright: Sunlight can brighten a room.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 1.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 1.2

---

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

---

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Remind students, or reteach, the basic parts of speech in English.

- A noun is a person, place, thing, feeling, or idea.
- A verb is an action word.
- An adjective is a word that describes a noun.
- An adverb is a word that describes a verb, an adjective, or another adverb.

Intermediate

Provide sample sentences and have students identify which word is a noun and which is a verb.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Prompt students to give examples of nouns and verbs.

ELPS 1.F

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ar/ &gt; 'ar', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Neighborhood Garden” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

READ “NEIGHBORHOOD GARDEN” WITH ACCURACY (10 MIN.)

Activity Page 1.3

- Direct students to the text “Neighborhood Garden” on Activity Page 1.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: weaken, moisten, represented, fulfillment, former
  - phrases: “embark on a mission,” “burst with pride,” “left unattended for weeks”
- Have students follow along as you read “Neighborhood Garden.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a sentence or two from the story again, this time without awareness of phrasing and with a flat, expressionless voice. For example, “The rich colors of the flowers always seemed to brighten her day.”
- Ask students to explain how your voice was different and to identify which reading was the most enjoyable to listen to.
- Confirm that your reading didn’t sound conversational, you didn’t use appropriate phrasing of words, and your reading didn’t have the right rhythm.
- Say, “To read fluently, we have to read accurately and with expressive voices that sound the way the characters would talk. Listen as I reread the sentence: ‘The rich colors of the flowers always seemed to brighten her day.’”
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., community and movement).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the story once more as a choral read.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “Neighborhood Garden”

1. Literal. Why did Fern like the neighborhood garden?
  - » The bright colors of the flowers made her feel happy.
2. Literal. What did Fern call her plan to gather people from the neighborhood to repair and improve the garden?
  - » Fern called it “Operation Garden Survival.”
3. Literal. What was the purpose of the fundraiser?
  - » The fundraiser was to raise money for equipment and seeds.
4. Evaluative. Was “Operation Garden Survival” a success?
  - » Yes, Fern and her neighbors’ efforts made the garden healthier and better-looking.
5. Inferential. How did the garden become important to the neighborhood?
  - » It became a sign of their cooperation and hard work; it brought the neighborhood closer together

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you think I read this sentence with appropriate expression, and give a thumbs-down if you think I didn’t read it with appropriate expression.” Read the sentence in a monotone voice: “Help our neighborhood garden survive and thrive!” (thumbs-down)

Challenge

Ask volunteers to read some or part of the story aloud. After they read, point out any adjustments the student made to read with accuracy.

Support

Before reading “Neighborhood Garden,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Ask students yes/no questions using simple phrases to summarize the story: “Was the garden healthy? Did Fern fix the garden?”

Intermediate

Provide students with a specific sentence frame for summarizing and use temporal words: Fern saw that the garden was _____, so she _____. First, she _____ and then she _____.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to expand/or build on other students’ responses.

ELPS 4.G; ELPS 4.I

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

- Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students' performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.
- Turn and Talk: For the inferential question, have students share their thoughts with one another. Remind students to be sure to cite specifics from the passage to support their answer. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner's thinking with the group.

Lesson 1: Review: Words with /ar/ > 'ar', Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will take the dictation pretest for Unit 3.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

UNIT 3 DICTATION PRETEST (5 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 1.4. Review the instructions together.
- Tell students that they will spell words with different sound spellings that they will learn about in Unit 3.
- Say the word harden. Repeat it. Have students write it on Activity Page 1.4.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |                |                  |                  |
|----------------|------------------|------------------|
| 1. harden      | 4. declare       | 7. intrapersonal |
| 2. foreseeable | 5. microparticle | 8. international |
| 3. proactive   | 6. finalist      | 9. transport     |

- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

Activity Page 1.4

1. I was grateful that the pupil gave me a tissue.
2. Do not disturb the artist painting a castle.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 1: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 1.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 1.3.
- Have them reread “Neighborhood Garden.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 1.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: friends, heart, raised, buy, encouragement, and moisten.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word buy and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘uy’ is pronounced /ie/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /b/ for this letter. We say /ie/ for these letters” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /b/ /ie/, buy. Say, “Buy! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘The money raised would help buy new equipment.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say buy. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

2

REVIEW

Words with /er/ > ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will identify and say words with /er/. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /er/ > ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- Students will identify and read r-controlled one-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

- Students will identify the meaning of and use words with suffixes. TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

- Students will reread “Neighborhood Garden” with a partner and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /er/ > ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Neighborhood Garden” Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Review /er/ > 'ur', 'ir', and 'er'                                                             | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Read Words with /er/ > 'ur', 'ir', and 'er'                                                    | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Read r-Controlled One-Syllable Words                                                           | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 2.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                            |
| Root Words and Suffixes: -hood , -ment , -en                              | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 2.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Reread "Neighborhood Garden"                                                                   | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 1.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Spell Words with /er/ > 'ur', 'ir', and 'er'                                                   | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Create and display a three-column chart with the title /er/ and with 'er,' 'ir,' and 'ur' column headings for the Phonics activity. Keep this chart for the next two lessons.

Reading

- Prepare one copy of the blank Unit 3 Anecdotal Reading Record for every student in your class. Label each record with a student's name. Place all of these records in alphabetical order on a dedicated clipboard with a pen so they are ready for use when students read aloud.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: weaken and moisten.

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /er/ &gt; 'ur', 'ir', and 'er', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and say words with /er/.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW /ER/ > 'UR', 'IR', AND 'ER' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "I'm going to say some words. Raise your left hand if you hear the /ar/ sound. Raise your right hand if you heard the /er/ sound."
- Say the following words: hurt (right), carp (left), marsh (left), birth (right), girl (right), stark (left), herd (right), verb (right), starch (left).
- Say, "Remember when a vowel is paired with 'r', it changes the vowel sound. We call these r-controlled vowels. Listen while I say some words with the /er/ sound."
- Say the following words and have students repeat them: curl, hurt, church, burst, burden, survive, thirsty, birthday, circus, confirm, serve, answer, number, perfect, and nervous. Ask students to identify which syllable contains the /er/ sound in each word.

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /er/ &gt; 'ur', 'ir', and 'er', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

✚ Students will read words with /er/ > 'ur', 'ir', and 'er'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Students will identify and read r-controlled one-syllable

✚ words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH /ER/ > 'UR', 'IR', AND 'ER' (3 MIN.)

- Display the three-column chart with the headings 'er,' 'ir,' and 'ur' that you prepared in advance.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Say, “Today, we are going to read words with the r-controlled vowel /er/ spelled three ways: ‘er’ ‘ir,’ and ‘ur.’”
- Point to the ‘er’ heading and say the sound /er/.
- Say, “The r-controlled vowel /er/ in this word is spelled ‘er.’” Write the word clerk on the chart under the ‘er’ column. Underline ‘er’ and then have students read the word aloud with you.
- Repeat with germ, her, and swerve.
- Point to ‘ir’ and say the /er/ sound.
- Say, “Let’s read some words with the r-controlled vowel /er/ spelled ‘ir.’”
- Write the word bird on the chart under the ‘ir’ column. Underline ‘ir’ and then have students read the word aloud with you.
- Repeat with girl, chirp, and dirt.
- Point to ‘ur’ and say the /er/ sound.
- Say, “Now, let’s read some words with the r-controlled vowel /er/ spelled ‘ur.’”
- Write the word hurt on the chart under the ‘ur’ column. Underline ‘ur’ and have students read the word aloud with you.
- Repeat with nurse, slurp, and curl.
- Save the chart to use in Lessons 3 and 4.

Support

Support students in saying the /ar/ and /er/ sounds. Demonstrate that the mouth is wider for making the /ar/ sound and the lips are rounded, or more puckered, for making the /er/ sound.

Activity Page 2.1

READ R-CONTROLLED ONE-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Remember, when a word has an r-controlled vowel, the ‘r’ and the vowel are part of the same syllable. This is called an r-controlled syllable.”
- Have volunteers read a few of the words from the chart aloud, asking students to call out how many syllables are in each word. (one) Say, “These are all one syllable words with r-controlled syllables.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 2.1 and review the instructions.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Say, "I'm going to say some words. If you hear the /er/ sound, stand up. If you hear the /ar/ sound, stay in your seat." Say the following words: thirst (up), smart (down), barn (down), twirl (up), stern (up), farm (down), and curve (up).

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Ask yes/no questions about the first item on the activity page. (e.g., "Is sharp a describing word? Are adjectives words that describe?")

Intermediate

Provide students with specific sentence frames: The word sharp is an _____ because it is a word that _____. (adjective; describes)

Advanced/

Advanced High

Encourage each student to expand and/or build on other students' responses; for example, by adding their own knowledge. (e.g., "Adjectives describe nouns.")

ELPS 1.C

Activity Page 2.2

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /er/ > 'ur', 'ir', and 'er', Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with suffixes.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND SUFFIXES: -HOOD, -MENT, -EN (6 MIN.)

- Say, "We have been learning about the suffixes -hood, -ment, and -en. Remember, a suffix is a word part added to the end of a root word. A suffix can change the meaning and part of speech of the word."
- Direct students to Activity Page 2.2 and review the instructions.
- Complete the first item as a class.
- Then have students work with a partner to complete the activity page. Circulate as students work, clearing up misunderstandings.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Challenge

Have students identify other sound-spellings they learned about in Unit 2 in the text, such as VCe. Have students mark three sound-spellings in the text.

Activity Page 1.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with /ar/ and /er/ sounds.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /er/ > 'ur', 'ir', and 'er', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Neighborhood Garden” with a partner and will answer questions about key details in the text.

✚ TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.4

RERead “NEIGHBORHOOD GARDEN” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 1.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Neighborhood Garden” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Neighborhood Garden.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline words with ‘ar’, ‘er’, ‘ir’, or ‘ur’, such as smart, flowers, third, and church;
  - circle words with suffixes -hood, -ment, or -en, such as neighborhood, movement, and weaken; and
  - highlight one- syllable words with r-controlled vowels, such as church, her, and dark.

✚ TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Observation: “Neighborhood Garden” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Neighborhood Garden,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 2: Review: Words with /er/ > ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’, Part 2 Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /er/ > ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /ER/ > ‘UR’, ‘IR’, AND ‘ER’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will write in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will spell words with /er/ that you say aloud. Remind them that the /er/ sound can be spelled ‘ur’, ‘ir’, and ‘er’.
- Say the word blurry. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |             |            |              |
|-------------|------------|--------------|
| 1. blurry   | 4. clerk   | 7. bigger    |
| 2. church   | 5. surface | 8. whirlwind |
| 3. birthday | 6. firm    | 9. person    |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                       |
|---------------------------------------|
| 1. Fern is an expert checkers player. |
| 2. Do not disturb the furry animals.  |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 2: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Read the following words, one at a time. Have students raise their hand when they hear words with an r-controlled syllable. Words with r-controlled syllables are in bold.

|                 |                 |                  |                   |
|-----------------|-----------------|------------------|-------------------|
| 1. curve | 6. guard | 11. start | 16. twirl  |
| 2. turn  | 7. churn | 12. term  | 17. twist         |
| 3. race         | 8. gate         | 13. pet          | 18. thirst |
| 4. sand         | 9. merge | 14. perch | 19. sir    |
| 5. barge | 10. stat        | 15. large | 20. test          |

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Neighborhood Garden” on Activity Page TR 1.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter.

Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.

- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say buy and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, bie. Write the letters to spell buy on the board.
- Point to the word buy and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /ie/ sound is spelled ‘uy.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “We say /b/ for this letter. We say /ie/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /b/ /ie/, buy. Say, “Buy! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words friends, heart, raised, encouragement, and moisten. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

3

REVIEW

Words with /er/ > 'or' and 'ar'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will identify and say words with /er/. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /er/ > 'or' and 'ar'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- Students will identify r-controlled two-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with suffixes.

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /er/ > 'or' and 'ar'.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 3.2

Sort Words with Suffixes

- TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                                 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Review /er/ > 'or' and 'ar'                                                                    | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Read Words with /er/ > 'or' and 'ar'                                                           | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Identify r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words                                                       | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 3.1       |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                                  |
| Root Words and Suffixes: -hood, -ment, -en                                              | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 3.2       |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                                  |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Read "Exploring Different Jobs and Professions"                                                | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 3.3, 3.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Spell Words with /er/ > 'or' and 'ar'                                                          | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal       |

---

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Add columns to the chart you created in Lesson 2. The new headers should be 'or' and 'ar'.
- Students will use a crayon, colored pencil, or highlighter to complete Activity Page 3.1. The coloring tool may be any color, as long as printed text can be read after students have colored in boxes.

Morphology

- Create a three-column chart with the headers "Root Word," "Suffix," and "New Word" on the board or chart paper.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: scurry, mortar, journals (professional magazines), and oversee.

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /er/ &gt; 'or' and 'ar', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and say words with /er/.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW /ER/ > 'OR' AND 'AR' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "I'm going to say some words. Raise your left hand if you hear the /ar/ sound. Raise your right hand if you hear the /er/ sound."
- Say the following words: part (left), cedar (right), harp (left), error (right), sharp (left), major (right), and liar (right).
- Say, "Remember when a vowel is paired with 'r', it changes the vowel sound. We call these r-controlled vowels. Listen while I say some words with the /er/ sound."
- Say the following words and have students repeat them: dollar, burglar, collar, polar, actor, doctor, error, and scholar.

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /er/ &gt; 'or' and 'ar', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

✚ Students will read words with /er/ > 'or' and 'ar'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ Students will identify r-controlled two-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH /ER/ > 'OR' AND 'AR' (3 MIN.)

- Display the chart from Lesson 2.
- Say, "Remember, there are different ways to spell the /er/ sound. We learned about 'er', 'ir', and 'ur'. There are some trickier spellings of the /er/ sound, too."

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Write the words cart, charm, and artist on the board but not on the chart. Underline the 'ar' in each word. Say, "We have talked about 'ar' as a spelling for the /ar/ sound. The /ar/ sound in cart, charm, and artist is spelled 'ar.'" Have students read the words aloud with you.
- Say, "Today, we are going to read words with the r-controlled vowel sound /er/ spelled 'ar.'"
  - Point to the 'ar' and say the /er/ sound.
- Write the word polar on the chart under the 'ar' column. Say, "The r-controlled vowel sound /er/ in this word is spelled 'ar.'" Underline 'ar' and have students read the word aloud with you.
- Repeat with collar, dollar, and liar.
- Point to 'or' and say the /er/ sound.
- Say, "Now, let's read some words with the r-controlled vowel sound /er/ spelled 'or'"
  - Write the word actor on the chart under the 'or' column. Underline 'or' and have students read the word aloud with you.
  - Repeat with doctor, factor, and favor.
- Save the chart to use in Lesson 4.

IDENTIFY R-CONTROLLED TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, "Remember, when a word has an r-controlled vowel, the 'r' and the vowel are part of the same syllable. This is called an r-controlled syllable."
- Write the word dollar on the board, with the syllables marked with a slash: dol•lar.
- Underline 'o'. Say, "This vowel is part of a closed syllable." Pronounce the syllable /dol/.
- Underline 'ar'. Say, "In this word, 'ar' is an r-controlled vowel. It is part of this syllable." Circle -lar. Say, "This is an r-controlled syllable." Pronounce the syllable /ler/.
- Point to each syllable as you say the word aloud, and then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, "How many syllables are in dollar?" (two)
- Repeat the routine with su•gar and mir•ror.

Challenge

Ask volunteers for more 'ar' and 'or' words with the /er/ sound. Invite volunteers to come to the board and add words to the chart.

- Direct students to Activity Page 3.1 and review the instructions.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 3.1

Check for Understanding

Say, “I’m going to say some words. If you hear the /er/ sound, stand up. If you hear the /ar/ sound, stay in your seat.” Read the following words: minor (up), start (down), major (up), polar (up), yarn (down), and pillar (up).

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Ask yes/no questions. (e.g., “Do we double the final consonant when we add a suffix to some words?”)

Intermediate

Provide students with specific sentence frames. (e.g., When we add a _____ to some words, such as merriment or likelihood, we drop the final e and change y to i.)

Advanced/ Advanced High

Provide students with specific sentence frames. (e.g., When we add a _____ to some words, we drop the final e and change y to i. Examples of words include _____ and _____.)

ELPS 1.C

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /er/ > ‘or’ and ‘ar’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with suffixes.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND SUFFIXES: -HOOD, -MENT, -EN (6 MIN.)

- Display the three-column chart with the headers “Root Word,” “Suffix,” and “New Word” that you prepared in advance.
- Add flat under the “Root Word” column and say the word aloud. Say, “If we say that the road is flat, we are using this word as an adjective.”
- Add -en to the “Suffix” column in the same row. Add flatten to the final column of the row, demonstrating doubling the final consonant to create flatten. Say, “When we change the adjective flat to the verb flatten, we double the final consonant before adding the suffix -en. We might say that we flatten something to make it smooth.”
- Add merry under the “Root Word” column and say the word aloud.

TEKS 3.2.A.vi Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B.vii Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Activity Page 3.2

---

- Say, “When we add a suffix to some words, we drop the final e and change y to i.”
- Add -ment to the “Suffix” column in the same row. Add merriment to the final column of the row, demonstrating dropping the final e and changing y to i to create merriment.
- Repeat the routine with the following words: red/redden, awake/awaken, give/given, lively/livelihood, accompany/accompaniment, likely/likelihood.
- Be sure to define any root words or words with suffixes that are unfamiliar to students.
- Direct students to Activity Page 3.2 and review the instructions.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /er/ &gt; 'or' and 'ar', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.4

READ “EXPLORING DIFFERENT JOBS AND PROFESSIONS” (10 MIN.)

Note: This passage is an informational text about different jobs and professions. It contains domain-specific language which you may want to include in your introduction.

- Direct students to Activity Page 3.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: underestimated, scurry, mortar, journals (professional magazines), oversee
  - phrases: “states of worry or excitement,” “on the spot,” “deepen their knowledge”
- Have students follow along as you read “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., contractor, construction, and remodel.)
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently.

Activity Pages 3.3, 3.4

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Challenge

Have students write a brief summary of the text. Remind them that a summary should only include the main points.

Support

Before reading “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have a strong reader work with a struggling reader to complete the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns, and work together to complete the comprehension questions.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to share their responses to the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.1

- Then have them turn to Activity Page 3.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don't complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 3: Review: Words with /er/ > 'or' and 'ar', Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /er/ > 'or' and 'ar'.

✚ TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv; TEKS 3.2.B.vii

SPELL WORDS WITH /ER/ > 'OR' AND 'AR' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will write in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will spell words with /er/ that you say aloud. Remind them that the /er/ sound can be spelled 'or' and 'ar'.
- Say the word doctor. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

|           |             |           |
|-----------|-------------|-----------|
| 1. doctor | 4. workshop | 7. cedar  |
| 2. victor | 5. burglar  | 8. dollar |
| 3. major  | 6. collar   | 9. sugar  |

- Then tell students that you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. My tutor helps me with my grammar lessons.
2. Is the mirror in the cellar?

✚ TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 3: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 3.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 3.3.
- Have them reread “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 3.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: clothes, pair, rehearse, builders, and build.
- Say, "Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you've been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That's what makes them tricky."
- Display and point to the word build and say, "This word is tricky because the 'ui' is pronounced /i/."
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, "Let's sound out this word. My turn first."
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, "In this word, we say /b/ for this letter. We say /i/ for these letters. We blend and say /l/ /d/ for these letters." Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /b/ /i/ /l/ /d/, build. Say, "Build! It's a word we use all the time, like when we say 'These workers build and fix things.'"
- Say, "Now it's your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word." Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, "We say build. What's the word?"
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, "Now we're going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?" Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, "Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you've been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect."

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

4

REVIEW

Words with /er/ > ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will identify and say words with /er/. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /er/ > ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii
- Students will read r-controlled two-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes over- and

- under-*. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions” fluently with a

- partner. TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /er/ > ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’.

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Exploring Different Jobs and Professions”

Anecdotal Reading Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Review /er/ > 'ear', 'our', and 'urr'                                                          | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Read Words with /er/ > 'ear', 'our', and 'urr'                                                 | 3 min.      |                                            |
| Read r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words                                                           | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 4.1 |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                            |
| Root Words and Prefixes: over- , under-                                          | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 4.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                            |
| Reread “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions”                                              | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 3.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                            |
| Spell Words with /er/ > 'ear', 'our', and 'urr'                                                | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Add columns to the chart you created in Lesson 2. The new headers should be 'ear,' 'our,' and 'urr'.

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 3 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire story.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the story.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: scurry, mortar, journals (professional magazines), and oversee.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /er/ &gt; 'ear', 'our', and 'urr', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and say words with /er/.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW /ER/ > 'EAR', 'OUR', AND 'URR' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "I'm going to say some words. Stand up if you hear the /er/ sound."
- Say the following words: earth, fret, yearn, journey, and current. (earth, yearn, journey, current)
- Say, "Remember when a vowel is paired with 'r', it changes the vowel sound. We call these r-controlled vowels. Listen while I say some words with the /er/ sound."
- Say the following words and have students repeat them: learn, early, courage, journal, and flurry.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /er/ &gt; 'ear', 'our', and 'urr', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

✚ Students will read words with /er/ > 'ear', 'our', and 'urr'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ Students will read r-controlled two-syllable words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH /ER/ > 'EAR', 'OUR', AND 'URR' (3 MIN.)

- Display the chart you prepared in advance with the new columns for 'ear', 'our', and 'urr'.
- Say, "Remember, there are a few different ways to spell the /er/ sound. Let's review a few more."
- Point to 'ear' and say the /er/ sound.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Challenge

Have students work in pairs to identify the other syllable types in each of the words on Activity Page 4.1.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Emphasize that several spellings make the /er/ sound. Point to each spelling in the chart, and ask, “Can this spelling make the /er/ sound?” (yes)

Intermediate

Have volunteers approach the chart on the board, point to a heading, and complete this sentence frame: The ____ spelling makes the /er/ sound.

Advanced/

Advanced High

On a piece of scratch paper, have students list each of the spellings that make the /er/ sound.

ELPS 1.C

- Say, “Let’s read some words with the r-controlled vowel sound /er/ spelled ‘ear.’”
- Write the word earth on the chart beneath the ‘ear’ heading. Underline ‘ear’ and have students read the word aloud with you.
- Repeat with learn, pearl, and search.
- Point to ‘our’ and say the /er/ sound.
- Say, “Now, let’s read some words with the /er/ sound spelled ‘our.’”
- Write the word journal on the chart beneath the ‘our’ heading. Underline ‘our’ and have students read the word aloud with you.
- Repeat with journey, courage, and nourish.
- Point to ‘urr’ and say the /er/ sound.
- Say, “Now, let’s read some words with the /er/ sound spelled ‘urr.’”
- Write the word current on the chart beneath the ‘urr’ heading. Underline ‘urr’ and have students read the word aloud with you.
- Repeat with blurry, purr, and flurries.

READ R-CONTROLLED TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Remember, when a word has an r-controlled vowel, the ‘r’ and the vowel are part of the same syllable. This is called an r-controlled syllable.”
- Write the word earthly on the board with the syllables marked with a slash: earth•ly.
- Underline ‘ear’. Say, “In this word, ‘ear’ is an r-controlled vowel. It is part of an r-controlled syllable.” Pronounce the syllable /erth/.
- Underline ‘y’. Say, “This vowel is part of an open syllable.” Pronounce the syllable /lee/.
- Point to each syllable as you say the word aloud, and then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, “How many syllables are in earthly?” (two)
- Write the word nourish on the board with the syllables marked: nour•ish.
- Underline ‘our’. Say, “In this word, ‘our’ is an r-controlled vowel. It is part of an r-controlled syllable.” Pronounce the syllable /ner/.

- Underline 'i'. Say, "This vowel is part of a closed syllable." Pronounce the syllable /ish/.
- Point to each syllable as you say the word aloud, and then have students read the word aloud.
- Write the word blurry on the board with the syllables marked: blur•ry.
- Remind students that when we have a double consonant in the middle of a word, we usually separate the syllables between the double letters.
- Say the word aloud, and then have students read the word aloud.
- Direct students to Activity Page 4.1 and review the instructions.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 4.1

Check for Understanding

Say, "I'm going to say some words. If you hear the /er/ sound, raise your hand." Read the following words: drawl (no), discourage (yes), pet (no), purrs (yes), heat (no), and heard (yes).

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /er/ > 'ear', 'our', and 'urr', Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes over- and under-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: OVER-, UNDER- (6 MIN.)

- Say, "Remember, a prefix is a word part added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word."
- Say, "Let's focus on the prefix under-."

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Support

It might be helpful to define the following root words to help students understand how the affix changes their meaning: estimate, extend, and seasoned.

Activity Page 4.2

- Write the word ground on the board. Then add the prefix under-.
- Say, “The prefix under- often means ‘below.’ So, underground means ‘below the ground.’ For example, we might say: Potatoes grow underground.”
- Have students read the word aloud.
- Point out that the spelling of ground did not change when you added the prefix.
- Write the word ground on the board again. Then add the prefix over-.
- Say, “The prefix over- often means ‘above.’ So, overground means ‘above the ground.’ For example, we might say: The road goes overground.”
- Have students read the word aloud.
- Write the word pay on the board. Then add the prefix under-.
- Say, “The prefix under- also means ‘too little.’ So, underpay means ‘to pay too little.’ For example, we might say: Remember to bring enough money so you do not underpay.”
- Have students read the word aloud.
- Write the word pay on the board again. Then add the prefix over-.
- Say, “The prefix over- also means ‘too much.’ So, overpay means ‘to pay too much.’ For example, we might say: She added up the costs carefully to avoid overpaying.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 4.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /er/ &gt; 'ear', 'our', and 'urr', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

RERead “EXPLORING DIFFERENT JOBS AND PROFESSIONS” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s story with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the story.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 3.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline words with ‘ear’, ‘urr’, or ‘our’, such as rehearse, scurry, and journals;

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Support

Have students work on one annotation at a time. For example, first have them look for words with ‘ear’. Then have them look for words with ‘urr.’

Activity Page 3.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with two syllables and an r-controlled vowel.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

- circle words with the suffixes -hood, -ment, or -en, such as livelihood, judgments, and deepen; and
- highlight two-syllable words with r-controlled vowels, such as perform, actors, and research.

Observation: “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions”
Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in their Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 4: Review: Words with /er/ > ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /er/ > ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’.

TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /ER/ > ‘EAR’, ‘OUR’, AND ‘URR’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will write in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will spell words with /er/ > ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’ that you say aloud.
- Say the word scurry. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

|             |               |            |
|-------------|---------------|------------|
| 1. scurry   | 4. discourage | 7. earnest |
| 2. burrow   | 5. yourself   | 8. relearn |
| 3. flurries | 6. nourish    | 9. unheard |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. Let's research early human history.
2. I encourage you to enter the tournament.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 4: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 4.1 for each student.
- Gather pictures to represent the words in Activity Page TR 4.1: cat, chip, gem, and bun.
- Tell students they will write the word for each picture you show them. Then, they will add an 'r' to the word to create a new word.
- Direct students' attention to the first item. Then show or draw a picture of a cat (cart).
- Repeat with a picture of a chip (chirp), a gem (germ), and a bun (burn).
- When students are done, ask pairs to share and check each other's work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Exploring Different Jobs and Professions” on Activity Page TR 3.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say build and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, biiild. Write the letters to spell build on the board.
- Point to the word build and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /i/ sound is spelled with ‘ui.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.

- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /b/ for this letter. We say /i/ for these letters. We blend and say /l/ /d/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /b/ /i/ /l/ /d/, build. Say, “Build! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words clothes, pair, rehearse, and builders. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

5

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will identify and say words with /ar/ and /er/. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /ar/ and /er/. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Students will review reading words with r-controlled syllables.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will review using words with prefixes and suffixes.

- TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “A Sweet Story” independently and will answer questions about

- key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with /ar/ > ‘ar’ and /er/ > ‘ar’, ‘ir’, ‘ur’, ‘er’, ‘or’,

- ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Dictation Journal

Phonics/Encoding Dictation

- TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time | Materials                                 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Review r-Controlled Vowels                                                                     | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Review Words with 'ar', 'ir', 'ur', 'er', 'or', 'ear', 'our', and 'urr'                        | 3 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 5.1       |
| Review r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words                                                         | 3 min.      |                                                  |
| Morphology                                                                              |             |                                                  |
| Review Prefixes and Suffixes: -hood, -ment, -en, under-, over-                          | 6 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 5.2       |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |             |                                                  |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Reading                                                                                 |             |                                                  |
| Read "A Sweet Story" Independently                                                             | 10 min.     | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 5.3, 5.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |             |                                                  |
| Encoding Review                                                                                | 5 min.      | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal       |

---

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Prepare index cards for the Decoding game. Each index card should feature a consonant or a constant blend, such as bl-, cl-, fl-, gl-, pl-, sl-, br-, cr-, dr-, fr-, gr-, pr-, tr-, sc-, sk-, sm-, sn-, sp-, st-, sw-, tw-; -ld, -nt, -ft, -lk, -nd; and scr-, spl-, spr-, str-, and thr-.
- Students will need a red and blue crayon or highlighter to complete Activity Page 5.1.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: savors and flurry (of activity).

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and say words with /ar/ and /er/.

✦ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW R-CONTROLLED VOWELS (3 MIN.)

- Ask students to stand up. Tell them that you are going to say some words.
- Say, “If you hear a word with an /er/ sound, touch your toes. If you hear a word with an /ar/ sound, raise your hands in the air.”
- Say the words from the chart below.

| /ar/ sound (raise hands) | /er/ sound (touch toes) |
|--------------------------|-------------------------|
| archway                  | current                 |
| starch                   | rehearse                |
| army                     | survive                 |
| artist                   | merge                   |
| barnyard                 | verse                   |
| farmland                 | dirt                    |
| garden                   | workout                 |
| charge                   | victor                  |
| starlight                |                         |

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

✦ Students will read words with /ar/ and /er/. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Students will review reading words with r-controlled syllables.

✦ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✦ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

REVIEW WORDS WITH 'AR', 'IR', 'UR', 'ER', 'OR', 'EAR', 'OUR', AND 'URR' (3 MIN.)

- Write 'ar', 'ir', 'ur', 'er', 'or', 'ear', 'our', and 'urr' on the board.
- Show students the consonant and blend cards you created in advance.
- Say, "You are going to take turns picking a consonant card to place at the beginning or the end of one of the spellings on the board to form a word. You may add an additional consonant if you'd like. Then you will say the word aloud to the class."
- Demonstrate by picking the consonant card 'c' and putting it in front of 'ar'.
- Say, "I formed the word car. I can also add a 'd' at the end of the word to make the word card."
- Repeat the activity with 'ar' again but add the consonant cards 's', 'u', and 'g' before it to make the word sugar.
- Ask, "Does the 'ar' in my new word have the same sound that it did in car and card? (No) How should I read the word?" (sugar)
- Say, "That's right. The 'ar' in car makes the /ar/ sound, while the 'ar' in sugar makes the /er/ sound."
- Have a student volunteer select another consonant card to place at the beginning or end of one of the spellings. Have them add an optional additional consonant. Have another student read the word aloud.
- Repeat the process several times, encouraging students to pick different spellings.
- Direct students to Activity Page 5.1 and review the instructions.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Challenge

Challenge students to write questions to ask a partner using the words created during the Review Words with 'ar', 'ir', 'ur', 'er', 'or', 'ear', 'our', and 'urr' activity. Encourage partners to answer the questions using an /ar/ or /er/ word.

Activity Page 5.1

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “If you agree with the following statement show me a thumbs-up. If not, show me a thumbs-down: ‘The following spellings can all make the /er/ sound: “ear”, “ir”, and “ur.”’” (thumbs-up)

REVIEW R-CONTROLLED TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Say, “Remember, when a word has an r-controlled vowel, the ‘r’ and the vowel are part of the same syllable. This is called an r-controlled syllable.”
- Write the word farmland on the board with the syllables marked with a slash: farm•land.
- Have a volunteer approach the board and underline the syllable with the r-controlled vowel. (farm)
- Point to each syllable as you say the word aloud, and then have students read the word aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: re•hearse, wor•ker, pil•lar, ce•dar, ter•mite, cir•cus, ar•my, and gar•den.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will review using words with prefixes and suffixes.

TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.A.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.2.B.vii; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW PREFIXES AND SUFFIXES: -HOOD, -MENT, -EN, UNDER-, OVER- (6 MIN.)

- Write the following headings on the board: -hood, -ment, -en, under-, and over-.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; (vi) decoding words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (vi) spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; (vii) spelling words using knowledge of suffixes, including how they can change base words such as dropping e, changing y to i, and doubling final consonants; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

Support

It might be helpful to define the following root words to help students understand how the affix changes their meaning: likely.

Activity Page 5.2

---

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

---

Learning How English Works

Beginning

Review the meaning of the prefix over- with a demonstration. Act out accidentally dropping a pencil on the ground. Then respond dramatically by apologizing and making a big show of picking it up. Say, "I am overreacting. I am responding too much to dropping the pencil."

Intermediate

Ask students to act out a word with the prefix over-. For example, a student may pretend to overcook something.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students say a sentence using a word with over-.

ELPS 1.E

- Say, "We have learned about these affixes this week."
- Ask for a volunteer to approach the board and write a word with one of the prefixes or suffixes under the correct heading. For example: basement under the -ment heading.
- If students have trouble thinking of words, prompt them with the following: sisterhood, statement, tighten, oversleep, or underline.
- Then work as a class to create a sentence using the word.
- Write the sentence on the board and read it together as a class. For example: We store boxes in our basement.
- Repeat with as many words as time allows.
- Direct students to Activity Page 5.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “A Sweet Story” independently and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.5

READ “A SWEET STORY” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

Note: This passage provides information about the discovery and advancement of sugar.

- Tell students that they will be reading “A Sweet Story” independently. Direct students to Activity Page 5.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: likelihood, savors, underestimated, flurry
  - phrases: “journey of discovery,” “paved the way,” “master the art”
  - domain-specific language: sugar cane stalks, harvest, produce
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words: advancement and popular.
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and
  - underline words with r-controlled vowels, such as sugar, world, and early; and
  - circle words with -hood, -ment, -en, under-, and over-, such as childhood, advancement, and overcook.

Activity Pages
5.3 and 5.4

Support

Have students focus on one annotation at a time. For example, first have them read and underline words with ‘ar’, ‘ir’, ‘ur’, ‘er’, ‘or’, ‘ear’, ‘our’, or ‘urr’. On the next read, have them highlight words with -hood, -ment, -en, under-, and over-.

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

Support

Before reading “A Sweet Story,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Assist students in creating columns on their own paper for each category (e.g., r-controlled vowels). Provide them with or help them identify one example word from the passage for each category. Then have them find one additional example on their own or with a partner by focusing on one paragraph at a time.

Intermediate

Have students work with a partner to annotate the text.

Advanced/ Advanced High

After students have worked independently to annotate the text, ask them to share their work with a partner.

ELPS 4.A

- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 5.4 independently.
- If time allows, have students complete the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their annotation decisions.

Lesson 5: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /ar/ > ‘ar’ and /er/ > ‘ar’, ‘ir’, ‘ur’, ‘er’, ‘or’, ‘ear’, ‘our’, and ‘urr’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will write in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will spell words with the /er/ and /ar/ sound that you say aloud.
- Say the word sharpen. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |                  |               |             |
|------------------|---------------|-------------|
| 1. sharpen       | 4. undershirt | 7. girlhood |
| 2. sisterhood    | 5. overheard  | 8. argument |
| 3. encouragement | 6. blurry     | 9. overturn |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. Mice scurry in the cellar.
2. Termites are all over the barnyard.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- If time allows, go over student responses and offer general feedback. Otherwise, provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Dictation Journals: Phonics/Encoding Dictation

Collect students’ dictation journals to review and monitor student progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 5: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 5.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 5.3.
- Have them reread “A Sweet Story.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 5.1.
- Tell students they will write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.

- Students should
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “A Sweet Story” on Activity Page TR 5.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Gather Tricky Word index cards from Lessons 1 and 3 (friends, heart, raised, buy, encouragement, moisten, clothes, pair, rehearse, builders, build). Write the following new words on index cards: early, produce, children, and people.
- Use the cards with the new words. Say, “Today we will review some more Tricky Words together. You can sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

- Display and point to the word early and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘ear’ is pronounced /er/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /er/ for these letters. We say /l/ for this letter, and we say /ee/ for this letter.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /er/ /l/ /ee/, early. Say, “Early! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘Early farmers paved the way for us to have the sugar we use today.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say early. What’s the word?” Ask them to sound it out and then read it again. Say, “It is helpful to remember another word that has the /er/ sound spelled ‘ear.’” Write learn on the board, then blend and read the word aloud with students.
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining word(s), mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Add the Tricky Word cards from Lessons 1 and 3. Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all the new words we learned this week. Let’s play a game. We’re going to go through this stack of cards as fast as we can, reading the word on each card. Read the words carefully, because these are words that you have to sound out in a special way. Let’s see how fast we can go. My turn first.”
- Model taking the top card off the stack, showing it to students, and saying the Tricky Word after a pause. Continue through the stack.
- Say, “Do you think you can go faster than I did?”
- Assign students to small groups. As you show each card, have one group of students read through the stack of cards as quickly as they can.
- If a student says the wrong word for a card, model how to sound out the Tricky Word and then say the word. Ask the student to repeat your answer, and move on to the next card in the stack with the same small group until you go through all of the cards.
- Select the next small group, shuffle the stack of cards, and repeat until all groups have had a turn.
- Say, “Okay, now let’s go faster.” Shuffle the stack of cards and repeat at a faster pace so that each group has had two turns.

- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”
- Save the index cards to incorporate review of the Tricky Words throughout the unit.

Additional Activities to Review All Tricky Words from This Week

(1) Tricky Words Race

- Create a four-column chart. Fill it out with the Tricky Words you taught this week.
- Divide the class into two groups and have each group line up by the board.
- Explain how the game works. You will call out a Tricky Word. One student from each team will race to find the word on the chart and tap it. The first student to find and tap the word earns a point for the team.
- Repeat until all the words have been found or every student has had a turn.

Note: Consider playing this game in pairs to provide support for students who are still mastering these Tricky Words.

(2) Call, Flip, Read, Roll

- Gather ten index cards for each student.
- Give each student ten index cards, and have them number the cards 1-10.
- Display all Tricky Words that have been taught so far. Have each student pick ten Tricky Words from the list and write one word on the back of each index card. Their set of cards should now have a word to be read on one side and a number on the other side.
- Place students into pairs. Call out a number at random and have each student take turns finding a card with that number on it in their stack. The student then reads the word aloud. If the word is read correctly, the student may then roll a die and whatever number it lands on is the number of points they receive. The student with the most points is the winner.
- Save the index cards to use the next time students play this game. Students can reuse another student’s set of cards.

REVIEW

Words with /or/ > 'or'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

- Students will identify and blend words with /or/. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

- Students will read words with /or/ > 'or'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Students will identify r-controlled syllables in two-syllable words.

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes over- and

- under-*. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Jordan Scores” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer questions about key details in the text.

- TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

- Students will spell and write words with /or/ > 'or'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 6.1

Words with /ar/ and /or/

- TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Observation

Discussion Questions Observation Record

- TEKS 3.4

- TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Review /or/ > 'or'                                                                             | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Read Words with /or/ > 'or'                                                                    | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.1 |
| Identify r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words                                                       | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Prefixes: under- , over-                                          | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Read “Jordan Scores” with Accuracy                                                             | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Spell Words with /or/ > 'or'                                                                   | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Reading

- Ensure that you have the Unit 3 Discussion Questions Observation Record that you prepared in Lesson 1. Remember to ask each student to respond to at least one discussion question over the course of the week. Make notes regarding each student's ability to answer literal, inferential, and evaluative questions and to respond using complete sentences.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: formidable, moral support, and despair.

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Make sure students feel the difference in articulation between /or/, /ar/, and /er/. Practice saying the sounds together. Have students feel their mouths as they say the sounds. Talk about what their mouths are doing and how it feels different. Have students look in a mirror to see the difference as they say the sounds /or/, /ar/, and /er/. Students can also look at each other's mouths as they say the sounds. Talk about how their mouths look different when they say the sounds /or/, /ar/, and /er/.

ELPS 2.A; ELPS 2.B;

ELPS 2.C; ELPS 3.A

Challenge

Ask students to think of other words with /or/, /ar/, or /er/ sounds. Have individual students say their words to the class and ask which word has each sound.

Lesson 6: Review: Words with /or/ > 'or', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and blend words with /or/.

✦ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW /OR/ > 'OR' (3 MIN.)

- Tell students that today they will review the /or/ sound as in born.
- Have students say the /or/ sound several times, stretching it out.
- Say, "It can be hard to hear the difference between the /or/ sound and the /ar/ and /er/ sounds."
- Say, "Let's review the /ar/ sound."
- Say the following words with the /ar/ sound, and have students repeat: farm, dark, harp, and barnyard.
- Say, "Let's review the /er/ sound."
- Say the following words with the /er/ sound, and have students repeat: germ, perch, favor, and factor.
- Say, "Now let's review the /or/ sound again."
- Say the following words with the /or/ sound, and have students repeat: acorn, boring, glory, orange, thorn, and ordinary.

Lesson 6: Review: Words with /or/ > 'or', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

✦ Students will read words with /or/ > 'or'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Students will identify r-controlled syllables in two-syllable words.

✦ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✦ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ WORDS WITH /OR/ > 'OR' (3 MIN.)

- Write 'or' on the board or chart paper.
- Remind students that when 'r' is combined with a vowel, it creates a new sound. We call these r-controlled vowels.
- Say, "The /r/ sound mixes with the /o/ sound to make /or/."
- Explain to students that there are a few spellings for this sound, but the spelling we'll look at today is the simplest one: 'or'.
- Write the word fort on the chart under the /or/ heading. Underline 'or' as you say the word, and have students read the word aloud with you.
- Repeat with the words sort, forgot, porch, forest, and afford. As you write each word, underline 'or' and have students read the word aloud with you. Point out that the spelling occurs in different places in different words.
- Direct students to Activity Page 6.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

IDENTIFY R-CONTROLLED TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that when a word has an r-controlled vowel, the 'r' and the vowel are part of the same syllable. This is called an r-controlled syllable.
- Write the word order on the board, with the syllables marked with a slash: or•der.
- Underline 'or'. Say, "In this word, 'or' is an r-controlled vowel. It is part of an r-controlled syllable." Pronounce the syllable /or/.
- Underline 'er'. Say, "In this word, 'er' is also an r-controlled vowel. It is part of this syllable." Circle -der. Say, "This is an r-controlled syllable." Pronounce the syllable /der/.
- Point to each syllable as you say the word aloud, and have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, "How many syllables are in order?" (two)
- Write the word acorn on the board, with the syllables marked: a•corn.
- Point to each syllable as you say the word aloud, and have students read the word aloud.

Activity Page 6.1

- Ask, “How many syllables are in acorn?” (two)
- Ask, “Which syllable is the r-controlled syllable?” (the second syllable)
- Repeat with new•born, for•est, sup•port, and thor•ny.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the first syllable in the word forgot is an r-controlled syllable. (thumbs-up)”

Lesson 6: Review: Words with /or/ > ‘or’, Part 1

Morphology

Support

It might be helpful to define the following root words to help students understand how the affix changes their meaning: confidence and overwhelm. Model using a dictionary to better understand these words.

Point out that the word confidence comes from the Latin word fides, which means “trust.” The word overwhelm comes from the Middle English word whelmen, which means “to cover up.” Tell students that when they come across words that don’t have recognizable English root words, they will need to use a dictionary to define the word parts.

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes over- and under-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: UNDER-, OVER- (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word.
- Remind students that they have been learning that under and over can also function as prefixes.
- Write the prefix under- on the board, and remind students that the prefix under- means “too little” or “beneath.”
- Write the word underarm on the board.
- Say, “Let’s identify the meaning of this word by breaking it into its parts. I’m going to draw a line between the prefix and the root word. Where should I draw the line?” (after the prefix under-)
- Say, “If the prefix under- means ‘too little’ or ‘beneath,’ then what does the word underarm mean? (the area beneath one’s arm)”

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Repeat with the words underwater and underbake.
- Write the prefix over- on the board, and remind students that the prefix over- means “too much” or “above.”
- Write the word overcook on the board. Read the word aloud and have students repeat it.
- Say, “If the prefix over- means ‘too much’ or ‘above,’ then what does the word overcook mean? (to cook too much)
- Repeat with the words oversleep and overhang.
- Work with students to come up with sentences using the words underarm, underwater, underbake, overcook, oversleep, or overhang.
- Direct students to Activity Page 6.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Support

---

Remind students to consider the context of each sentence when choosing whether to add the prefix under- or over-.

Activity Page 6.2

---

Support

Before reading “Jordan Scores,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Lesson 6: Review: Words with /or/ &gt; ‘or’, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Jordan Scores” orally with appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) and will answer questions about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

READ “JORDAN SCORES” WITH ACCURACY (10 MIN.)

Activity Page 6.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Review questions and ask them in a yes/no format rather than an open-ended format.

Intermediate

Allow students to work with a partner to answer the discussion questions.

Advanced/*Advanced High

Provide minimal support as students work independently to answer the discussion questions.

ELPS 4.G

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as igh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

- Direct students to the text “Jordan Scores” on Activity Page 6.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: overwhelm, formidable, underestimate (use same definition as provided in previous lessons), overconfidence, despair
  - phrases: “moral support,” “absorbed the energy,” “could not afford”
- Have students follow along as you read “Jordan Scores.”
- Read the story once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately with appropriate prosody (expression).
- Read the first three or four paragraphs of the passage again, this time without awareness of phrasing and with a flat, expressionless voice. For example, “Never underestimate yourself, Jordan.”
- Ask students to explain how your voice was different and to identify which reading was the most enjoyable to listen to.
- Confirm that your reading didn’t sound conversational, you didn’t use appropriate phrasing of words, and your reading didn’t have the right rhythm.
- Say, “To read fluently, we have to read accurately and with expressive voices that sound the way the characters would talk. Listen as I reread the first sentence: ‘Never underestimate yourself, Jordan.’”
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., congratulated).

- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the story once more, having students read aloud with you. Encourage them to read with appropriate expression. Explain that they will be practicing reading with appropriate expression throughout the week.

Wrap-Up

Discussion Questions for “Jordan Scores”

1. Literal. Describe Jordan and Claire.
  - » Jordan likes sports and plays wheelchair basketball. Clair is stylish and supportive.
2. Literal. How did Jordan feel before the game?
  - » Jordan felt nervous.
3. Literal. What did Claire do to help Jordan?
  - » Claire gave Jordan moral support and told him to be confident.
4. Literal. What was the outcome of the game?
  - » Jordan scored the winning shot.
5. Inferential. What does this story say about the importance of the mind in sports?
  - » It shows that the way a person thinks can influence their ability in a sport.

Check for Understanding

Think-Pair-Share: Give students time to think about their answers to the discussion questions. Then have students turn and talk to a partner to share their responses. Remind students to be sure to cite specifics from the passage to support their answers. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share their partner’s thinking with the group.

Observation: Discussion Questions Observation Record

Call on a different student to answer each question. Note students’ performance in the Discussion Questions Observation Record.

Lesson 6: Review: Words with /or/ > 'or', Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with /or/ > 'or'.

 TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH /OR/ > 'OR' (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will write in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /or/ > 'or' that you say aloud.
- Say the word born. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

|           |           |             |
|-----------|-----------|-------------|
| 1. born   | 4. fort   | 7. thorny   |
| 2. porch  | 5. order  | 8. boring   |
| 3. forest | 6. export | 9. forklift |

- Then tell students that you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. The acorn fell from the tree.
2. Friends support each other.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

 TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

Lesson 6: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 6.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 6.3.
- Have them reread “Jordan Scores.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 6.1.
- Tell students they will use text evidence to write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following word on an index card: folks. Gather cards for some previously covered Tricky Words to review in this lesson.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”
- Display and point to the word folks and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘ol’ is pronounced /oe/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”

- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /f/ for this letter. We say /oe/ for these letters. We blend and say /k/ /s/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /f/ /oe/ /k/ /s/, folks. Say, “Folks! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘Some folks had small plastic horns that blared.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say folks. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

REVIEW

Words with ‘are’ and ‘air’

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will identify and blend words with ‘are’ and ‘air’.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

Students will read words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings:

✚ ‘are’, ‘air’. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Students will identify r-controlled syllables in two-syllable words.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes over- and

✚ under-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Jordan Scores” fluently with a partner.

✚ TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate

✚ spellings: ‘are’, ‘air’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Jordan Scores” Anecdotal Reading Record

✚ TEKS 3.4

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Review r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'are', 'air'                        | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Read r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'are', 'air'                          | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 7.1 |
| Identify r-Controlled Two-Syllable Words                                                       | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Prefixes: under- , over-                                          | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 7.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Reread "Jordan Scores"                                                                         | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 6.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Spell Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'are', 'air'              | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Prepare a T-chart with words with spellings 'are' and 'air'.

| 'are'  | 'air'  |
|--------|--------|
| care   | chair  |
| fare   | fair   |
| stare  | stair  |
| aware  | dairy  |
| barely | repair |

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 3 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire text.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the text.

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: formidable, moral support, and despair.

Lesson 7: Review: Words with 'are' and 'air', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and blend words with 'are' and 'air'.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW R-CONTROLLED VOWEL SOUNDS WITH ALTERNATE SPELLINGS: 'ARE', 'AIR' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "Vowel teams can also be influenced by the /r/ sound in words like share and pair."
- Write the words share and pair on the board.
- Point to share, and say the word aloud. Explain that the separated digraph 'a_e' usually makes the long /ae/ sound, as in shake, but because of the 'r', the word share has the /air/ sound.
- Say the word again, emphasizing the /air/ sound, and have students read it aloud.
- Point to pair, and say the word aloud. Explain that the vowel team 'ai' usually makes the long /ae/ sound, as in paint, but the 'r' changes the sound to /air/.
- Say the word again, emphasizing the /air/ sound, and have students read it aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: care, lair, dare, and chair.

Lesson 7: Review: Words with 'are' and 'air', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings:

✚ 'are', 'air'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Students will identify r-controlled syllables in two-syllable words.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ R-CONTROLLED VOWEL SOUNDS WITH ALTERNATE SPELLINGS: 'ARE', 'AIR' (3 MIN.)

- Display the two-column chart you prepared in advance with the headings 'are' and 'air', and the following words.

| 'are'         | 'air'         |
|---------------|---------------|
| care   | ch air |
| fare   | fair   |
| stare  | stair  |
| aware  | dairy  |
| barely | repair |

- Say, "Now, let's read some words with the spellings 'are' and 'air' for the sound /air/."
- Read each word and underline the spelling that makes the /air/ sound. Then have students read each word aloud.
- Point out the homophones fare/fair and stare/stair, and provide definitions as needed. Explain that each pair is made of two different words with different meanings and different spellings, but the words have the same sound /air/.
- Work with students to come up with simple sentences using the words from the chart.
- Direct students to Activity Page 7.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, "Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the following words both make the /air/ sound: care and hair." (thumbs-up)

Support

Provide students with the definitions of example words, as needed.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Language

Learning How English Works

Explain that homophones are sets of words that have the same pronunciation but different spellings and meanings. There are many homophones in English. In addition to fare/fair, stare/stair, and hare/hair. Other common homophones include two/to/too, there/their/they're, and you're/your. Explain that because each word in a set of homophones sounds the same, the meanings need to be memorized and practiced.

ELPS 2.C

Activity Page 7.1

Challenge

Challenge students to identify other syllable types within the words, such as open, closed, vowel team, and VCe syllables. Ask students to identify which syllables are unstressed and contain schwa (/u/) sounds.

IDENTIFY R-CONTROLLED TWO-SYLLABLE WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that when a word has an r-controlled vowel, the 'r' and the vowel are part of the same syllable. This is called an r-controlled syllable.
- Write the word compare on the board, with the syllables marked with a slash: com•pare.
- Underline 'o'. Say, "This vowel is part of a closed syllable." Pronounce the syllable /kom/.
- Underline 'are'. Say, "In this word, 'are' is an r-controlled vowel. It is part of this syllable." Circle -pare. Say, "This is an r-controlled syllable." Pronounce the syllable /pair/.
- Point to each syllable and say the word aloud. /kom/ /pair/. Say, "That doesn't sound right. Remember that closed syllables often make a short vowel sound, but in multisyllabic words, some syllables are stressed and others are unstressed. In unstressed open syllables, vowels make the /ə/ sound. Let me adjust the vowel sound to the schwa and try again." Read the word again, pronouncing the first syllable /kəm/. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, "How many syllables are in compare?" (two)
- Write the word airplane on the board, with the syllables marked with a slash: air•plane.
- Point to each syllable as you read the word aloud. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, "How many syllables are in airplane?" (two)
- Ask, "Which syllable is the r-controlled syllable?" (the first syllable)
- Underline 'air'.
- Repeat with the following words: bare•foot, care•free, fare•well, arm•chair, and hair•y.

Lesson 7: Review: Words with 'are' and 'air', Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes over- and under-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: UNDER-, OVER- (6 MIN.)

- Explain that students will continue to practice words with under and over as prefixes.
- Say, “Sometimes words with the prefixes under- or over- have clear, obvious meanings, such as underwater or overcook. Underwater means that something is ‘under the water.’ Overcook means ‘to cook something too much.’ Other times, the meanings of words with the prefixes under- or over- are less obvious.”
- Write the word underway on the board. Read the word aloud, and have students read it aloud.
- Say, “I’m going to draw a line between the prefix and the root word. Where should I draw the line?” (after the prefix under-)
- Tell students that underway does not mean “too little or under a way.”
- Say, “If we read the word underway in a sentence, we can use clues from the sentence to determine its meaning.”
- Write the sentence on the board: We entered the theater quietly because the play was already underway. Underline the word underway.
- Say, “In this sentence, I could replace the word underway with in progress or happening. I can make a reasonable guess that underway means ‘currently happening.’ I can check this definition with a dictionary.”
- Model using a dictionary to look up underway, read the definition, and verify that your meaning is correct.
- Write the word overtake on the board. Read the word aloud, and then have students read it aloud.

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Say, “I’m going to draw a line between the prefix and the root word. Where should I draw the line?” (after the prefix over-)
- Tell students that overtake does not mean “too much or above take.”
- Say, “If we read the word overtake in a sentence, we can use clues from the sentence to determine its meaning.”
- Write the sentence on the board: The runner overtakes the other runners to win the race. Underline the word overtakes and read the sentence aloud.
- Say, “In this sentence, I could replace the word overtakes with passes. I can make a reasonable guess that overtake means ‘to pass by an opponent or obstacle.’ I can check this definition with a dictionary.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 7.2 and review the instructions.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 7.2

---

Lesson 7: Review: Words with 'are' and 'air', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread “Jordan Scores” fluently with a partner.

TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

REREAD “JORDAN SCORES” (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today’s text with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the text.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 6.3. Tell students that today they will reread “Jordan Scores” with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about “Jordan Scores.”
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- After students read the passage, have them work together to
  - underline words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings ‘are’ and ‘air’, such as wheelchair and nightmare;
  - circle words with the prefixes over- or under-, such as Underdogs and overwhelm; and

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Activity Page 6.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with the prefixes under- and over-.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

- highlight two-syllable words with r-controlled syllables, such as supports and Scarecrows.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Observation: “Jordan Scores” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Jordan Scores,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 7: Review: Words with ‘are’ and ‘air’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings: ‘are’, ‘air’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH R-CONTROLLED VOWEL SOUNDS WITH ALTERNATE SPELLINGS: ‘ARE’, ‘AIR’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will write in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /air/ > ‘are’ or ‘air’ that you say aloud.
- Say the word chair. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |             |             |             |
|-------------|-------------|-------------|
| 1. chair    | 4. aware    | 7. farewell |
| 2. compare  | 5. hairy    | 8. repair   |
| 3. upstairs | 6. carefree | 9. barely   |

- Then tell students that you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

1. The airplane flew overhead.
2. They walked barefoot on the beach.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working or collect their dictation journals to review and monitor their spelling progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 7: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 7.1 for each student.
- Gather letters to use in the activity. The letters may be tiles from a word game, letter blocks, flash cards, letters on a spinner or wheel, etc. You may also choose specific letters ahead of time and create letter cards.
- Review the directions. Explain that you will pick a letter at random to show students. They will decide if it forms a word when combined with 'are', 'air', or both. They will write each new word they make.
- Tell students that if the letter makes a word with both 'are' and 'air', they should write a word in each column.
- Answer any questions students have, and then complete the activity.

- When students are finished writing, ask pairs to share their responses with a partner and check each other’s work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Jordan Scores” on Activity Page TR 6.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say folks and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, foeks. Write the letters to spell folks on the board.
- Point to the word folks and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /oe/ sound is spelled ‘oi!’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.

- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /f/ for this letter. We say /oe/ for these letters. We blend and say /k/ /s/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /f/ /oe/ /k/ /s/, folks. Say, “Folks! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the previously covered Tricky Words you reviewed in Lesson 6. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

8

REVIEW

Words with /or/ > 'our' and 'ore'

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will identify and blend words with 'our' and 'ore'.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

Students will read words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings:

✚ 'our', 'ore'. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ Students will identify r-controlled multisyllabic words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes tele- and

✚ super-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read "Tele-Ameer the Superhero" fluently and will answer questions

✚ about key details in the text. TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate

✚ spellings: 'our', 'ore'. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Activity Page 8.2

Root Words and Prefixes: tele-, super-

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

- ✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                        |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                                  |
| Review r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'our', 'ore'                        | 3 min.  |                                                  |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Read Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'our', 'ore'               | 3 min.  |                                                  |
| Identify r-Controlled Multisyllabic Words                                                      | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 8.1       |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                                  |
| Root Words and Prefixes: tele- , super-                                          | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 8.2       |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                                  |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                                  |
| Read "Tele-Ameer the Superhero" Fluently                                                       | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 8.3, 8.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                                  |
| Spell Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'our', 'ore'              | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal       |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Prepare a T-chart on the board or chart paper with words with /or/ spelled 'our' and 'ore'.

| 'our'    | 'ore'   |
|----------|---------|
| court    | shore   |
| four     | fore    |
| pour     | pore    |
| gourd    | adore   |
| resource | restore |

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: impact, restore, operator, and supervisor.

Lesson 8: Review: Words with /or/ &gt; 'our' and 'ore', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and blend words with 'our' and 'ore'.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW R-CONTROLLED VOWEL SOUNDS WITH ALTERNATE SPELLINGS: 'OUR', 'ORE' (3 MIN.)

- Say, "The /r/ sound can change vowel team sounds in words like course and explore."
- Write the words course and explore on the board.
- Point to course, and say the word aloud. Explain that the vowel team 'ou' usually makes the /oe/ sound, as in soul, or the /ou/ sound, as in out. But the 'r' changes the sound to /or/.
- Say the word again, emphasizing the /or/ sound, and have students read it aloud.
- Point to explore, and say the word aloud. Explain that the separated digraph 'o_e' usually makes the long /oe/ sound, like in rope, but because of the 'r', the word explore has the /or/ sound.
- Say the word again, emphasizing the /or/ sound, and have students read it aloud.
- Repeat with the following words: store, source, more, court.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills
Foundational Literacy Skills

Tell students that the /r/ sound does not always change the sound of vowel teams in words with 'our'. Provide the examples flour and hour. Then say the words sour and four and ask students whether each makes the /ou/ /er/ sounds or the /or/ sound. Repeat with tour, explaining that this spelling of 'our' makes the /oo/ /r/ sound. Explain that they will start to recognize the sound(s) used in words spelled with 'our' with practice.

ELPS 2.A

Lesson 8: Review: Words with /or/ &gt; 'our' and 'ore', Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings:

✚ 'our', 'ore' TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ Students will identify r-controlled multisyllabic words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

READ WORDS WITH R-CONTROLLED VOWEL SOUNDS WITH ALTERNATE SPELLINGS: 'OUR', 'ORE' (3 MIN.)

- Display the two-column chart that you prepared in advance with the headings 'our' and 'ore' and the following words.

| 'our'    | 'ore'   |
|----------|---------|
| court    | shore   |
| four     | fore    |
| pour     | pore    |
| gourd    | adore   |
| resource | restore |

- Now, let's read some words with the spellings 'our' and 'ore' for the sound /or/.
- Read each word as you underline the spelling that makes the /or/ sound. Then have students read each word aloud.
- Point out the homophones four/fore and pour/pore, and provide definitions as needed. Explain that each pair is made of two different words with different meanings and different spellings, but the words have the same /or/ sound .
- Work with students to come up with simple sentences using the words from the chart.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Write the word flour on the board. Ask students to give a thumbs-up if they agree or a thumbs-down if they disagree that the word flour has the /or/ sound. (thumbs-down)

IDENTIFY R-CONTROLLED MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that when a word has an r-controlled vowel, the 'r' and the vowel are part of the same syllable. This is called an r-controlled syllable.
- Write the word adore on the board, with the syllables marked: a•dore.
- Underline 'a'. Say, "This vowel is part of an open syllable." Pronounce the syllable /æ/.
- Underline 'ore'. Say, "In this word, 'ore' is an r-controlled vowel team. It is part of this syllable." Circle -dore. Say, "This is an r-controlled syllable." Pronounce the syllable /dor/.
- Point to each syllable as you say the word aloud. /æ/ /dor/. Say, "That doesn't make sense. Remember that open syllables often make a long vowel sound, but in multisyllabic words, some syllables are stressed and others are unstressed. In unstressed open syllables, vowels make the /ə/ sound. Let me adjust the vowel sound to the schwa and try again." Read the word again, pronouncing the first syllable /ə/. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, "How many syllables are in adore?" (two)
- Write the word courtyard on the board, with the syllables marked: court•yard.
- Underline 'our'. Say, "This vowel team is part of an r-controlled syllable." Circle court-. Say, "This is an r-controlled syllable." Pronounce the syllable /kort/.
- Underline 'ar'. Say, "In this word, 'ar' is an r-controlled vowel. It is part of this syllable." Circle -yard. Say, "This is an r-controlled syllable." Pronounce the syllable /yard/.
- Point to each syllable as you say the word aloud. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, "How many syllables are in courtyard?" (two)
- Repeat with the following words: a•ny•more, ig•nore, re•source•ful, fore•cast.
- Direct students to Activity Page 8.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Support

Remind students that they can clap syllables as they read to determine how many syllables a word has.

Activity Page 8.1

Lesson 8: Review: Words with /or/ > 'our' and 'ore', Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes tele- and super-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: TELE-, SUPER- (6 MIN.)

- Remind students that prefixes are word parts added to the beginning of a root word to change the meaning of the word. Point out that adding prefixes to root words does not change the root word's spelling.
- Write the prefix tele- on the board.
- Under the prefix, write the words television and telephone. Have students read each word aloud.
- Say, "The words television and telephone share a prefix."
- Draw a line between the prefix and root word in each example, and circle the prefix tele- in each word.
- Point to the word television. Say, "The prefix tele- is added to the root word vision to form this word."
- Read the word television aloud, and then have students read it aloud.
- Say, "A television lets people see images sent across a far distance."
- Point to the word telephone. Say, "The prefix tele- is added to the root word phone to form this word."
- Read the word telephone aloud, and have students read it aloud.
- Say, "A telephone lets people talk to each other across a far distance."
- Ask, "What do the meanings of television and telephone have in common?" (Both have to do with making connections across distances.)
- Write "distant or far" on the board next to tele-. Say, "The prefix tele- means 'distant' or 'far.'"

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Write the prefix super- on the board.
- Under the prefix, write the words supermarket and superpower. Have students read each word aloud.
- Say, “The words supermarket and superpower share a prefix.”
- Draw a line between the prefix and root word in each example, and circle the prefix super- in each word.
- Point to the word supermarket. Say, “The prefix super- is added to the root word market to form this word.”
- Read the word supermarket aloud, and have students read it aloud.
- Say, “A supermarket is a type of store that offers a wide variety of goods, beyond what an average small market might sell.”
- Point to the word superpower. Say, “The prefix super- is added to the root word power to form this word.”
- Read the word superpower aloud, and have students read it aloud.
- Say, “A superpower is an ability beyond what an average person can do.”
- Ask, “What do the meanings of supermarket and superpower have in common?” (Both have to do with something that is beyond average.)
- Write “above or beyond” on the board next to super-. Say, “The prefix super- means ‘above’ or ‘beyond.’”
- Direct students to Activity Page 8.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Challenge

---

Challenge students to extend the activity page by providing an additional example of a word with tele- or super-.

Activity Page 8.2

---

Support

---

It might be helpful to define the following root words to help students understand how the affix changes their meaning: telemarketer, telecommute, supersonic, supernova.

Lesson 8: Review: Words with /or/ &gt; 'our' and 'ore', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Tele-Ameer the Superhero” fluently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.1.A; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Activity Pages 8.3, 8.4

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Have a strong reader work with a struggling reader to complete the comprehension questions.

Intermediate

Have a small group read the first paragraph together, taking turns, and work together to complete the comprehension questions.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students read independently and then work with a partner to share their responses to the comprehension questions.

ELPS 4.1

READ “TELE-AMEER THE SUPERHERO” FLUENTLY (10 MIN.)

- Direct students to Activity Page 8.3.
- Define unfamiliar words and phrases for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: average, impact, restore, operator, supervisor
  - phrases: “sheer panic,” “shock grew in her eyes,” “lure her away”
- Have students follow along as you read “Tele-Ameer the Superhero.”
- Read the passage once without interruption, modeling how to read accurately. Read at a rate that is neither too slow nor too fast and allows you to read with appropriate expression.
- Read a few lines of the passage again, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words (e.g., average, telepathy, and telekinesis).
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Read the passage once more with the whole class as a choral read or have students read it independently.
- Then have them turn to Activity Page 8.4 and complete the comprehension questions. If they don’t complete the activity page, instruct them to work on it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

TEKS 3.1.A Listen actively, ask relevant questions to clarify information, and make pertinent comments; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their responses to the comprehension questions.

Support

Remind students to scan or reread the passage to look for key details as they complete the comprehension questions.

Before reading “Tele-Ameer the Superhero,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Lesson 8: Review: Words with /or/ > ‘our’ and ‘ore’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings: ‘our’, ‘ore’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH R-CONTROLLED VOWEL SOUNDS WITH ALTERNATE SPELLINGS: ‘OUR’, ‘ORE’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will write in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with /or/ > ‘our’ or ‘ore’ that you say aloud.
- Say the word explore. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |            |              |              |
|------------|--------------|--------------|
| 1. explore | 4. shore     | 7. therefore |
| 2. restore | 5. courtyard | 8. fourth    |
| 3. adore   | 6. ignore    | 9. resource  |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                   |
|-----------------------------------|
| 1. Wash your hands before dinner. |
| 2. The gourd grew in the garden.  |

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

End Lesson

Lesson 8: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 8.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 8.3.
- Have them reread “Tele-Ameer the Superhero.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 8.1.
- Tell students they will use text evidence to write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Tell students that they will have a chance to share their responses with the class.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Write the following words on index cards: machine, talk, notice, course, country, and mind.
- Say, “Today we will review some Tricky Words together. You can try to sound out these words, just like you’ve been doing. But some letters in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect. That’s what makes them tricky.”

- Display and point to the word mind and say, “This word is tricky because the ‘i’ is pronounced /ie/.”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds. Say, “Let’s sound out this word. My turn first.”
- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /m/ for this letter. We say /ie/ for this letter. We blend and say /n/ /d/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /m/ /ie/ /n/ /d/, mind. Say, “Mind! It’s a word we use all the time, like when we say ‘She could hear his voice so clearly in her mind.’”
- Say, “Now it’s your turn. When I touch the letters, you say the sounds and then read the word.” Touch the letters as you blend and read the word aloud with students. Correct any students who blend the sounded out word incorrectly. Say, “We say mind. What’s the word?”
- Repeat the steps when introducing the remaining words, mapping the correct sounds to the letters in the irregular word.
- Once each of the new Tricky Words have been introduced, tape the index cards on the board in a random arrangement.
- Say, “Now we’re going to practice reading all of the new words we just learned. Ready?” Point to words randomly, pausing on each for a few seconds. Call on individual students to read multiple words as you point to them.
- Say, “Remember, some words are tricky. You can sound them out, just like you’ve been doing. But some letter sounds in these words are pronounced differently than we would expect.”

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Have students take turns reading each Tricky Word to a partner.
- Say each Tricky Word aloud. Using a yardstick, have individual students point to the Tricky Word you say aloud.
- Use each Tricky Word aloud in a sentence. Call on students to come up and point to the correct Tricky Word when they hear it in the sentence you say aloud.
- Have students search the lesson passage to find the Tricky Words. Then have them read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears.

9

REVIEW

Words with ‘ear’, ‘eer’, and ‘ure’

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will identify and blend words with ‘ear’, ‘eer’, and ‘ure’.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

Students will read words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings:

✚ ‘ear’, ‘eer’, ‘ure’. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ Students will identify r-controlled multisyllabic words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes tele- and

✚ super-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will reread “Tele-Ameer the Superhero” fluently with a partner.

✚ TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate

✚ spellings: ‘ear’, ‘eer’, ‘ure’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Observation

“Tele-Ameer the Superhero” Anecdotal Reading Record

✚ TEKS 3.4

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-,

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Review r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'ear', 'eer', 'ure'                 | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Read Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'ear', 'eer', 'ure'        | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 9.1 |
| Identify r-Controlled Multisyllabic Words                                                      | 3 min.  |                                            |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                            |
| Root Words and Prefixes: tele- , super-                                          | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 9.2 |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                            |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                            |
| Reread "Tele-Ameer the Superhero"                                                              | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 8.3 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                            |
| Spell Words with r-Controlled Vowel Sounds with Alternate Spellings: 'ear', 'eer', 'ure'       | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal |

-ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Prepare a three-column chart on the board or chart paper with words with spellings 'ear', 'eer', and 'ure'.

| 'ear'   | 'eer'  | 'ure'     |
|---------|--------|-----------|
| near    | cheer  | pure      |
| gear    | steer  | sure      |
| shear   | sheer  | cure      |
| hearing | eerie  | injure    |
| appear  | career | structure |

Reading

- Ensure you have the Unit 3 Anecdotal Reading Record that you prepared in Lesson 2.
- Plan how you will pair students for partner reading.
- Partner reading options may include the following:
  - Have students take turns reading the entire text.
  - Have one student be the leader, reading a line at a time for the partner to echo.
  - Have students read chorally, keeping their voices together to read the text.
- To ensure all students have the opportunity to contribute during Turn and Talk and Think-Pair-Share exchanges, provide students with a signal such as a thumbs-up, putting both hands up, or folding their hands, to indicate when both partners have added to the conversation. This ready signal allows you to quickly scan the room and assess who is ready and who may need more assistance.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: impact, restore, operator, and supervisor.

Lesson 9: Review: Words with 'ear', 'eer', and 'ure', Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and blend words with 'ear', 'eer', and 'ure'.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW R-CONTROLLED VOWEL SOUNDS WITH ALTERNATE SPELLINGS: 'EAR', 'EER', 'URE' (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that the /r/ sound can change the sounds vowel teams make.
- Write the words earth, hear, deer, creature, and lure on the board.
- Point to earth, and say the word aloud. Explain that adding the /r/ to the vowel team 'ea' in this word makes the sound /er/.
- Say the word again, emphasizing the /er/ sound, and have students read it aloud.
- Point to hear, and say the word aloud. Explain that adding the /r/ to the vowel team 'ea' in this word makes the sounds /eer/.
- Say the word again, emphasizing the /eer/ sounds, and have students repeat.
- Point to deer, and say the word aloud. Explain that adding the /r/ to the vowel team 'ee' in this word makes the sounds /eer/.
- Say the word again, emphasizing the /eer/ sounds, and have students read it aloud.
- Point to creature, and say the word aloud.
- Say, "When we see the separated digraph 'u_e', we usually expect to hear the long /ue/ sound. But in this case, 'ure' makes the /er/ sound."
- Say the word again, emphasizing the /er/ sound, and have students read it aloud.
- Point to lure, and say the word aloud.
- Say, "Here is another case of the 'ure' spelling, but this time the letter makes the sound /oo/ /r/."

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Point out that the r-controlled vowel team 'ear' does not always make the same sound. Provide the additional examples heard and clear, and ask students whether each makes the /er/ sound or the /ee/ /er/ sound.

ELPS 2.A

- Say the word again, emphasizing the /oo/ /r/ sounds, and have students read it aloud.
- Explain that there is no reliable way to know how the /r/ sound will change the sounds some vowel teams make. Words will have to be memorized and practiced, but sometimes students may be able to use context clues to help them determine which sound the r-controlled vowel team will make.

Lesson 9: Review: Words with ‘ear’, ‘eer’, and ‘ure’, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will read words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings:

✚ ‘ear’, ‘eer’, ‘ure’. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

✚ Students will identify r-controlled multisyllabic words. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

READ WORDS WITH R-CONTROLLED VOWEL SOUNDS WITH ALTERNATE SPELLINGS: ‘EAR’, ‘EER’, ‘URE’ (3 MIN.)

- Display the three-column chart you prepared in advance with the headings ‘ear’, ‘eer’, and ‘ure’, and the following words.

| ‘ear’   | ‘eer’  | ‘ure’     |
|---------|--------|-----------|
| near    | cheer  | pure      |
| gear    | steer  | sure      |
| shear   | sheer  | cure      |
| hearing | eerie  | injure    |
| appear  | career | structure |

- Read each word and underline the spelling that makes the r-controlled vowel sound. Have students read each word aloud.
- Point out the homophones shear/sheer, and provide definitions as needed. Explain that each pair is made of two different words with different meanings and different spellings, but the words have the same sound /eer/.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

- Work with students to come up with simple sentences using some of the words from the chart.
- Direct students to Activity Page 9.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

IDENTIFY R-CONTROLLED MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Remind students that when a word has an r-controlled vowel or vowel team, the 'r' and the vowel are part of the same syllable. This is called an r-controlled syllable.
- Write the word adventure on the board, with the syllables marked: ad•ven•ture.
- Underline 'a'. Say, "This vowel is part of a closed syllable." Pronounce the syllable /ad/.
- Underline 'e'. Say, "This vowel is part of a closed syllable." Pronounce the syllable /ven/.
- Underline 'ure'. Say, "In this word, 'ure' is an r-controlled vowel team. It is part of this syllable." Circle -ture. Say, "This is an r-controlled syllable." Pronounce the syllable /cher/. Point out that the 't' works with the 'ure' to make the /ch/ sound.
- Point to each syllable as you read the word aloud. /ad/ /ven/ /cher/. Say, "That doesn't sound right. Remember that closed syllables often make a short vowel sound, but in multisyllabic words, some syllables are stressed and others are unstressed. In unstressed open syllables, vowels make the /ə/ sound. Let me adjust the vowel sound to the schwa and try again." Read the word again, pronouncing the first syllable /əd/. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, "How many syllables are in adventure?" (three)
- Repeat the routine with cheer•lead•er.
- Ask, "Which syllable is an r-controlled syllable with the spelling 'eer'?" (the first syllable)
- Underline 'eer.'

Activity Page 9.1

Challenge

Challenge pairs or small groups to brainstorm more multisyllabic words with 'ear', 'eer', 'ure' to add to the list.

- Ask, “Do you see any other r-controlled syllables? Which one?” (yes, the third syllable)
- Repeat with the following words: vo•lun•teer, clear•ance, de•par•ture, trea•sure, pi•o•neer, re•ap•pear.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that the first syllable in earbuds is an r-controlled syllable.” (thumbs-up)

Lesson 9: Review: Words with ‘ear’, ‘eer’, and ‘ure’, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with the prefixes tele- and super-. TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

ROOT WORDS AND PREFIXES: TELE-, SUPER- (6 MIN.)

- Write the prefixes tele- and super- on the board. Remind students that these are prefixes that can be added to the beginning of a word to change its meaning.
- Point to tele-. Say, “The prefix tele- means ‘distant’ or ‘far.’”
- Point to super-. Say, “The prefix super- means ‘beyond’ or ‘above.’”
- Write the word teleprompter on the board.
- Model for students how to decode the word by breaking the word into its root and affixes: tele-, prompt, and -er.
- Draw a line between the root word and its affixes. Say the word aloud, and have students read it aloud.

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Say, “A teleprompter is a device that shows people what to say when they are giving a speech or presentation.”
- Write the word supervisor on the board.
- Model for students how to decode the word by breaking the word into its root and affixes: super-, vis, and -or.
- Draw a line between the root word and its affixes. Say the word aloud, and have students read it aloud.
- Point out that breaking the word into its parts may not provide students with a full enough understanding of the word’s meaning.
- Say, “I know that super- can mean ‘above’ and I know that -or can mean ‘someone who does an action,’ but I don’t know what the part of the word vis means. That doesn’t seem like a word by itself in English. If I read the word in a sentence, I can use the other words in the sentence to gain clues about the meaning of supervisor. I can also look this word up in the dictionary to really understand it.”
- Model using a dictionary to look up the word. If possible, point out that vis comes from the Latin word for “see.”
- Say, “Now I understand that a supervisor is a person who watches over or is in charge of workers.”
- Repeat with the words telecast, telemarketer, superglued, superman.
- Direct students to Activity Page 9.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the new affix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner’s response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Activity Page 9.2

---

Support

Have students first look for words with the spelling 'ear', then the spelling 'eer', and then the spelling 'ure'.

Lesson 9: Review: Words with 'ear', 'eer', and 'ure', Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will reread "Tele-Ameer the Superhero" fluently with a partner. TEKS 3.1.D; TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.4

REREAD "TELE-AMEER THE SUPERHERO" (10 MIN.)

Note: Students will read today's text with a partner. You may wish to review the partner reading routines before they read the text.

- Direct students back to the passage on Activity Page 8.3. Tell students that today they will reread "Tele-Ameer the Superhero" with a partner.
- Take time to answer any questions that students may have about "Tele-Ameer the Superhero."
- Assign partners.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace. Explain that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Their reading should sound like conversation. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression. Explain that they should also read accurately, pausing to sound out unfamiliar words or rereading as needed.
- Have partners use one of the partner reading routines to read the text.
- Students may ask their partners questions about the text and discuss what they read.
- Remind students to listen carefully while their partner reads.
- Tell students that after they finish reading, they should work together to
  - underline words with the spellings 'ear', 'eer', and 'ure', such as clearing, deer, and creatures;
  - circle words with the prefixes tele- and super-, such as superpowers and teleportation; and

Activity Page 8.3

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Work with student pairs to identify a few words with the prefixes tele- and super-.

Intermediate

Have students share their annotations with another student.

Advanced/
Advanced High

Encourage students to read aloud the words they annotate to a partner.

ELPS 4.A

TEKS 3.1.D Work collaboratively with others by following agreed-upon rules, norms, and protocols; TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eight, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.4 Use appropriate fluency (rate, accuracy, and prosody) when reading grade-level text.

- highlight multisyllabic words with r-controlled syllables, such as nearly and adored.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

Check for Understanding

Think-Pair-Share: Give students one minute to review their annotations. Then have pairs of partners explain their annotations to each other. Tell students to signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation. Call on students to share one of their partner’s annotations with the group.

Observation: “Tele-Ameer the Superhero” Anecdotal Reading Record

As you listen to each student read “Tele-Ameer the Superhero,” make notes about the student’s reading, such as errors in fluency or prosody, in the Anecdotal Reading Record.

Lesson 9: Review: Words with ‘ear’, ‘eer’, and ‘ure’, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with r-controlled vowel sounds with alternate spellings: ‘ear’, ‘eer’, ‘ure’. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

SPELL WORDS WITH R-CONTROLLED VOWEL SOUNDS WITH ALTERNATE SPELLINGS: ‘EAR’, ‘EER’, ‘URE’ (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will write in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with ‘ear’, ‘eer’, or ‘ure’ that you say aloud.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- Say the word cheer. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

- |             |              |            |
|-------------|--------------|------------|
| 1. cheer    | 4. furniture | 7. eerie   |
| 2. pure     | 5. volunteer | 8. yearly  |
| 3. steering | 6. sure      | 9. hearing |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                            |
|--------------------------------------------|
| 1. The fishing gear is in the trunk.       |
| 2. The actor will appear on the talk show. |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

~~~~~
End Lesson
~~~~~

Lesson 9: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

PHONICS SUPPORT

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 9.1 for each student.
- Review the directions. Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to complete the activity. Assist students as needed to ensure they can recognize each word.
- When students are finished, ask pairs to share and check each other's work.

SHARING

- Pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Tele-Ameer the Superhero” on Activity Page TR 8.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
- Display the Response Starters in the chart below. Response Starters should be used consistently to provide targeted feedback that helps the writer note (a) where they used evidence correctly, (b) where their word choice was impactful, and (c) where they communicated their idea clearly.

Response Starters for Writing About Text

1. When you used the word(s) _____, it helped me understand _____.
2. When you used the evidence about _____, it convinced me that _____.
3. The idea that stood out to me was _____ because you wrote _____.

TRICKY WORDS REVIEW

- Tell students that they will be using their dictation journals to spell Tricky Words.
- Remind them that they can segment sounds to help spell the parts of the word that are not “tricky.”
- Say mind and use it in a sentence. Then elongate the sounds as you repeat the word slowly, miend. Write the letters to spell mind on the board.
- Point to the word mind and say, “Let’s sound out this word to check that I’ve spelled it correctly. This word is tricky because the /ie/ sound is spelled with ‘i.’”
- Show how the letters map to the sounds.

- Point to the letters as you say them. Say, “In this word, we say /m/ for this letter. We say /ie/ for these letters. We blend and say /n/ /d/ for these letters.” Point to the letters as you blend the sounds: /m/ /ie/ /n/ /d/, mind. Say, “Mind! It’s a word we use all the time.”
- Repeat with the words machine, talk, notice, course, and country. Say the word and use it in a sentence. Elongate the sounds as you repeat the word, and have students write it in their journals. Then have them read it quietly to themselves to check their work.
- After spelling and writing the Tricky Words in their journal, have students volunteer to choose a Tricky Word and spell it out for you to write on the board. Have a different student read the word aloud to check that the word is spelled correctly.

Additional Ways to Practice Tricky Words

- Assign partners. Tell student pairs that they will give each other a “spelling test” on today’s Tricky Words. Have one student say a Tricky Word aloud while the other student writes it down, taking turns and choosing a new word with each turn. Encourage students to sound out the word as they write it in their journals, paying attention to the tricky spellings in the words.
- Have one partner use each Tricky Word in a sentence. The other partner should listen for and write the Tricky Word they hear in the sentence. Partners should then work together to check the spelling of the word by spelling the word together aloud and comparing it to how it was written. Partners can then reverse roles.
- Have students pull the passage to read sentences that use the Tricky Words. One student can read the sentence in which the Tricky Word appears, and the partner can spell the Tricky Word. After they check for the correct spelling, partners can reverse roles.

REVIEW

Mixed Review

PRIMARY FOCUS OF LESSON

Warm-Up

Students will identify and blend words with r-controlled vowel teams.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Phonics—Decoding

Students will review reading words with r-controlled vowel teams.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Students will review identifying multisyllabic words with r-controlled syllables.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Morphology

Students will identify the meaning of and use words with prefixes.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

Reading

Students will read “Real-Life Superheroes” independently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.5

Phonics—Encoding

Students will spell and write words with r-controlled vowels and vowel teams.

✚ TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Dictation Journal

Phonics/Encoding Dictation

✚ TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time; TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

LESSON AT A GLANCE

|                                                                                                | Time    | Materials                                          |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|----------------------------------------------------|
| Part 1 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Warm-Up                                                                                 |         |                                                    |
| Review r-Controlled Vowels and Vowel Teams                                                     | 3 min.  |                                                    |
| Phonics—Decoding                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Review r-Controlled Vowel Teams                                                                | 3 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 10.1        |
| Review r-Controlled Multisyllabic Words                                                        | 3 min.  |                                                    |
| Morphology                                                                              |         |                                                    |
| Review Prefixes: under- , over- , tele- , super-                   | 6 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Page 10.2        |
| This is a good opportunity to take a break. Part 2 can be completed on a different day. |         |                                                    |
| Part 2 (15 min.)                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Reading                                                                                 |         |                                                    |
| Read “Real-Life Superheroes” Independently                                                     | 10 min. | <input type="checkbox"/> Activity Pages 10.3, 10.4 |
| Phonics—Encoding                                                                        |         |                                                    |
| Encoding Review                                                                                | 5 min.  | <input type="checkbox"/> dictation journal         |

ADVANCE PREPARATION

Phonics—Decoding

- Before the lesson, display signs or cards in each corner of the classroom with the following categories:
  - one-syllable words
  - two-syllable words
  - three-syllable words
  - four-syllable words

Phonics—Encoding

- To learn more about how your students' language varieties may affect their encoding skills, refer to the Language Varieties' Influence on Oral Reading Fluency and Accuracy document, available under the General English Learners resource in the program's digital components site.

Universal Access

- Gather pictures to represent the words in the Reading activity: "community resources," unforeseen, source, collaborate, peer.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Warm-Up

Primary Focus: Students will identify and blend words with r-controlled vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW R-CONTROLLED VOWELS AND VOWEL TEAMS (3 MIN.)
Support

Review the sounds each r-controlled vowel team can make: /or/ > 'or' (as in born), 'our' (as in course), 'ore' (as in explore); /air/ > 'are' (as in share) 'air' (as in pair); /eer/ > 'eer' (as in steer) 'ear' (as in hear).

- Write the headings /or/, /air/, and /ee/ /er/ on the board.
- Say, "We are going to review r-controlled vowels and vowel teams."
- Explain that you will say a word and a student volunteer will write it on the board under the correct heading.
- Model by saying the word care, and writing it under the /air/ column.
- Say, "I'm writing care under the /air/ heading because the r-controlled vowel team 'are' makes the /air/ sound."
- Have student volunteers take turns writing words on the board, and correct errors as needed.
- Keep the words on the board since they will be used in the next activity.

- |                        |                         |
|------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1. chair (/air/)       | 6. unfair (/air/)       |
| 2. gear (/ee/ /er/)    | 7. thorn (/or/)         |
| 3. acorn (/or/)        | 8. more (/or/)          |
| 4. scare (/air/)       | 9. cheerful (/ee/ /er/) |
| 5. earbuds (/ee/ /er/) | 10. chore (/or/)        |

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Phonics—Decoding

Primary Focus

Students will review reading words with r-controlled vowel teams.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

Students will review identifying multisyllabic words with r-controlled syllables.

✚ TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii

REVIEW R-CONTROLLED VOWEL TEAMS (3 MIN.)

- Point to the words from the Warm-Up. Say, “Now we are going to work together to create sentences using these words.”
- Record the sentences on the board as students generate them. Encourage students to vary the spellings they choose.
- Have student volunteers take turns underlining the targeted spelling in each word with an r-controlled vowel or vowel team.
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.1 and review the instructions. If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow’s lesson.

REVIEW R-CONTROLLED MULTISYLLABIC WORDS (3 MIN.)

- Direct students’ attention to the signs or cards in the corners of the classroom that you prepared in advance.
- Based on your class and classroom, have students follow one of the following instructions to play the game:
  - Say, “I am going to write a word. We will read the word together. Then you will walk calmly to the corner of the classroom that matches the word.”
  - Say, “I am going to write a word. We will read the word together. Then you will point to the corner of the classroom that matches the word.”

✚ TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables.

Challenge

Challenge students to use more than one word from the Warm-Up in a sentence.

Activity Page 10.1

- Say, “I am going to write a word. We will read the word together. Then you will turn and face the corner of the classroom that matches the word.”
- Write the word prairie on the board, and read it aloud. Then have students read the word aloud.
- Ask, “How many syllables does this word have?” (two)
- Have students move to the two-syllable corner of the classroom.
- Repeat with the following words: score, ignore, sport, unsupported, anymore, square, and barefoot.

Check for Understanding

Thumbs-Up/Thumbs-Down: Say, “Give a thumbs-up if you agree or a thumbs-down if you disagree that absorb has two syllables.” (thumbs-up)

Foundational Skills

Foundational Literacy Skills

Beginning

Simplify the activity page by giving students only the root words and appropriate prefix and having them form the new word.

Intermediate

Have students work on the activity page with a proficient reader who acts as a mentor.

Advanced/

Advanced High

Students can work on the activity page independently.

ELPS 1.F

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 1

Morphology

Primary Focus: Students will identify the meaning of and use words with prefixes.

TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.2.B.vi; TEKS 3.3.C

REVIEW PREFIXES: UNDER-, OVER-, TELE-, SUPER- (6 MIN.)

- Write the prefixes under-, over-, tele-, and super- on the board. Remind students that these are prefixes that can be added to the beginning of a word to change its meaning.
- Point to under-. Say, “The prefix under- means ‘too little’ or ‘beneath.’”
- Point to over-. Say, “The prefix over- means ‘too much’ or ‘above.’”
- Point to tele-. Say, “The prefix tele- means ‘distant’ or ‘far.’”
- Point to super-. Say, “The prefix super- means ‘beyond’ or ‘above.’”

TEKS 3.2.A.v Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.2.B.vi Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by spelling words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.3.C Identify the meaning of and use words with affixes such as im- (into), non-, dis-, in- (not, non), pre-, -ness, -y, and -ful.

- Ask student volunteers to provide one example of a word with each prefix. Record the examples on the board.
- Work with students to create a sentence using each example word.
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.2 and review the instructions.
- Have students pick one word from the activity page and work with a partner to discuss how the prefix changed the meaning of the word. Then, have students share their partner's response.
- If time allows, have students work on the activity page in class. If not, ask students to complete it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity Page 10.2

---

Support

Before reading “Real-Life Superheroes,” show the images you prepared in advance. Have students repeat the word after you as you show each image.

Challenge

Have students use a different color to highlight words with the different vowel teams ‘ear’, ‘eer’, or ‘ure’.

ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
LEARNERS

Reading

Reading Closely

Beginning

Form small groups and have students focus on one annotation at a time.

For example, first have them read and underline words with ‘or’, ‘our’, or ‘ore’. On the next read, have them circle words with prefixes, and so on.

Intermediate

Have students work with a partner to annotate the text.

Advanced/ Advanced High

Have students work independently to annotate the text and then share their work with a partner.

ELPS 4.A

Part 2

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Reading

Primary Focus: Students will read “Real-Life Superheroes” independently and will answer questions about key details in the text.

TEKS 3.2.A.i; TEKS 3.2.A.ii; TEKS 3.2.A.v; TEKS 3.5

READ “REAL-LIFE SUPERHEROES” INDEPENDENTLY (10 MIN.)

- Tell students they will be reading “Real-Life Superheroes.”
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.3.
- Define unfamiliar words, phrases, and domain-specific language, etc., for students. You may want to include the following:
  - words: unforeseen, source, collaborate, peer
  - phrases: “community resources,” “overcome villains,” “cannot be overstated”
- Read a few lines of the passage, modeling how to sound out unfamiliar words: emergencies, situations.
- Have students practice pronouncing the words with you.
- Before students begin reading, model reading the first paragraph with appropriate expression and at a comfortable pace.
- Remind students that they should try to read at an appropriate rate, not too fast and not too slow. Encourage them to pace their reading to show appropriate emphasis, inflection, and expression.
- Tell students that they may read the text either silently or softly to themselves.
- Then have them read the text again and
  - underline words with the r-controlled vowel ‘or’ and vowel teams ‘our’ and ‘ore’, such as order, before, and resources;
  - put a box around words with r-controlled vowel teams ‘are’ and ‘air’, such as care, share, and stairs;

TEKS 3.2.A Demonstrate and apply phonetic knowledge by (i) decoding multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns such as eigh, ough, and en; (ii) decoding multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (v) decoding words using knowledge of prefixes; TEKS 3.5 Self-select text and read independently for a sustained period of time.

- circle words with the prefixes under-, over-, tele-, and super-, such as underestimated, overcome, telephone, and superheroes; and
- highlight words with r-controlled vowel teams 'ear', 'eer', and 'ure', such as fearlessly, steer, and secure.
- After students have annotated the passage, have them complete the comprehension questions on Activity Page 10.4 independently. If they don't complete it, instruct them to work on it at home.
- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Activity
Pages 10.3, 10.4

Check for Understanding

Circulate as students are working, asking them to explain their annotation decisions.

Lesson 10: Review: Mixed Review, Part 2

Phonics—Encoding

Primary Focus: Students will spell and write words with r-controlled vowels and vowel teams. TEKS 3.2.B.i; TEKS 3.2.B.iv

ENCODING REVIEW (5 MIN.)

- Explain that students will write in their dictation journal.
- Tell students that they will be spelling words with r-controlled vowel sounds that you say aloud.
- Say the word departure. Repeat it. Have students write it in their dictation journal.
- Repeat with the remaining words.

TEKS 3.2.B Demonstrate and apply spelling knowledge by (i) spelling multisyllabic words with closed syllables; open syllables; VCe syllables; vowel teams, including digraphs and diphthongs; r-controlled syllables; and final stable syllables; (iv) spelling multisyllabic words with multiple sound-spelling patterns.

- |              |               |                  |
|--------------|---------------|------------------|
| 1. departure | 4. undercover | 7. superstore    |
| 2. resource  | 5. overhear   | 8. cheerlessness |
| 3. worryment | 6. teleport   | 9. fairness      |

- Then tell students you will say two sentences aloud for them to spell in their dictation journal.
- Say the following sentences aloud, pausing to provide students time to write.

- |                                 |
|---------------------------------|
| 1. I forgot my jacket upstairs. |
| 2. Explorers go on adventures.  |

- Finally, have students choose one of the words from the dictation activity and use it to write a sentence of their own.

Note: You may accept invented spellings for words with sound-spellings not yet reviewed in Grade 3, but the dictated spelling word should be spelled correctly.

- Go over student responses and offer general feedback or provide feedback at the beginning of tomorrow's lesson.

Dictation Journals: Phonics/Encoding Dictation

Collect students' dictation journals to review and monitor student progress.

End Lesson

Lesson 10: Foundational Skills

Additional Support

WRITING EXTENSION

- Make one copy of Activity Page TR 10.1 for each student.
- Direct students to Activity Page 10.3.

- Have them reread “Real-Life Superheroes.”
- Review the writing prompt on Activity Page TR 10.1.
- Tell students they will use text evidence to write for approximately 10 minutes in response to the passage, and that they should try to write at least 3–5 sentences.
- Students should:
  - use evidence from the text or from their lives to support the idea, claim, or description and
  - write using complete sentences.
- Answer any questions students have, and then ask students to respond to the prompt.
- Then, pair up students and have one person share the response they wrote about “Real-Life Superheroes” on Activity Page TR 10.1. Listeners should use the sentence starters to provide constructive feedback. Circulate and provide support and feedback to the student who is using the Response Starter. Have student pairs signal when both partners have contributed to the conversation.
- After all pairs have had a chance to share and respond to each other, call on two to three students to share their writing response with the group. Then have each student call on one to three listeners to comment, using the Response Starters to provide constructive feedback.
